CHIPPAWA PLANT NOW OPERATING NEAR CAPACITY

Hepburn Statement "Absolutely Incorrect," Declares Hon. J. R. Cooke.

"TALK IS RIDICULOUS."

Hydro Chairman Reticent in Throwing Huge Enterprise Into Politics.

TORONTO, Aug. 15—While Ontario Liberal Leader Mitchell F. Hepburn talks of "closing down the big Chippawa plant," Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission Chairman Hon. J. R. Cooke, discusses the trend of increasing power load, a return to prosperity and a reasonable quick absorption even of necessary Hydro power reserves—so far apart are the Liberal Leader and Hydro engineers in their size up of the Ontario power situation.

The Hydro Chairman was reticent about discussing Mr. Hepburn's rather startling declaration at London, Ont., that "the big Chippawa plant was not running at only 35 per cent. of its capacity," and, "by the time power contracts that have been entered into have been completed the plant will have to be closed down entirely." He first smiled broadly in response to the query, "How about it?" dropped a couple of devastating adjectives on Mr. Hepburn's analysis, voiced the declaration the Hydro must be kept out of politics, and then constened to give his own views.

Says Statement "Incorrect"

Mr. Hepburn's statement, said the Hydro Chairman, is "absolutely incorrect." Instead of operating at 35 per cent. of its capacity, as the Ontario Liberal Leader estimated, Hon. Mr. Cooke declared, "The Chippawa plant has this year been operating at approximately 100 per cent. more than 35 per cent. of its capacity." It was "ridiculous" to talk of closing down the Chippawa. "Its output," Hon. Mr. Cooke declared, with emphasis, "is required for the Niagara system in addition to the power purchased in order to supply this system."

NICE LUNGE

Mr. Harry Bradburn caught a fine-looking lunge of 18 pounds in weight, this morning, at his summer cottage on the Buckhorn Road, and proudly displayed it at the noon hour to various interested disciples of Izaak Walton.

First Tourist

NASSAU, The Bahamas, Aug. 15 (A.P.) — Gerardo Machado was hailed as the season's first tourist when he arrived here from Cuba, fleeing revolutionists.

"Good morning, General," he was greeted by the director of publicity on behalf of the tourist development board.

"I'm delighted to see you as the first of our tourists for the season. I hope you brought a large party with you."

The former Cuban president replied laughingly through an interpreter: "Not so many, thanks. Just as many as was convenient under the circumstances."

He is said to be looking for a house here.

20,000 GREET LIBERAL LEADER ON BIRTHDAY

Huge Crowd Overflows Liberal Leader's 600 Acre Farm.

TRAFFIC TIED UP.

Promises to End Present Mismanagement of Hydro in Ontario.

ST. THOMAS, August 15.—Postponements and delays failed to dampen the enthusiasm of friends and supporters of Mitchell F Hepburn, Leader of the Ontario Liberal Party, and last night between 18,000 and 20,000 people milled about on the Hepburn homestead, four miles south of the city, to celebrate his 37th birthday.

The gathering proved to be the greatest demonstration of the Liberal Leader's popularity in his own riding that has ever been witnessed.

The youthful host beamed good-naturedly from the verandah of his home as he expressed his gratitude for the tremendous show of friendship and confidence as expressed in the cheering crowd that jammed the grounds, trod down flowers and shrubs, and swelled into the barns and milk-houses.

A special detachment of Provincial Police was assigned to handle the crowd and assist dozens of friendly "officers" stationed along the concession road and in the 18-acre parking field directly across from the house. Traffic officers stood on duty where the autos wou'd leave the highway to pass down the Fourth Concession on which the 600 acres of Hepburn property are situated.

Four Thousand Cars.

At 7 o'clock a thousand cars had been parked in the field, and at 9 o'clock the number had increased to four thousand, with the roads for miles around still lined with autos unable yet to find a parking space. Fourteen trucks and two busses led the procession from St. Thomas. These were unable to accommodate all of the people who waited on the City Hall grounds for free transportation to the farm.

The Liberal Leader spoke for only 30 minutes. His remarks were a birthday message to the people of Ontario. He said that if he were asked to form a government, he would consider that he had a mandate to curtail drastically costs of administration, to investigate "the dissipation of our natural resources" resources," to embark on a policy of reforestation and to replenish our commercial fishing waters. He said he would end "the present mismanagement of Hydro," and make it an enterprise for the people and by the people, along the lines set down by the late Sir Adam Beck.

"I want the people of Ontario to understand," he said, "that the new government will first have to find a market for the huge surpuses of power at present under contract for 40 years, and to deal with the capital expenditures incurred in connection with the Madawaska Dominion Power, and Abitibi deals.

In more humorous vein, he pleaded guilty to being the cause for an influx of Conservative leaders into Elgin County, and more particularly for Premier Henry's coming visit to Port Stanley on Wednesday. He expressed the hope that Premier Henry would be "a little more frank" with the electors at the Port Stanley gathering, and tell them when they would have an opportunity to pass on the government's record of administration. Mr. Hepburn considered any effort to continue in power beyond the four years to be usurpation of power.

He spoke of the economic position of the country, the country's debt, and spoke of the cure as consisting of a revision of the system of taxation in the domestic field with a measure of monetary reform as an immediate expedient. Duplication in municipal, Provincial, and Federal services could not be maintained, he said.

Buckingham Contest Is Again Announced

A drive to collect the wrappers of Buckingham cigarette and tobacco packages and redeem them for toys for the needy children of the city next Christmas is being launched by the Red Patch Club of Peterborough. The Tuckett Tobacco Company has announced that the wrapper contest is staged last year will be held again this year on the same basis.

The Y's Men's Club sponsored last year's drive in the city. Competing against the largest cities in the Province, Peterborough took fifth place, securing more than 300 toys with nuts and candy for distribution in the poor homes in return for the wrapper collected. A Christmas tree is being planned for this Christmas by the Red Patch Club and every endeavor will be made to secure even a larger number of toys than last year.

Every citizen is being asked to assist. Ballot boxes for the wrappers are to be placed in stores and factores within the next few days, and contributors are asked to begin saving them immediately. Any who can place ballot boxes in their stores or offices are asked to communicate with members of the club executive: Bob Hendry, C. W. Wiggins or E. Mesley, or the Tuckett representative, Albert E. White, 298 Maitland Ave.

Ex-Premier Albania Assassin's Victim

VIENNA, August 15 (C.P.). — Reports reaching here to-day told of the assassination in Salonika, Greece, of Hassan Bey Pristina, a former Premier of Albania.

Ibrhim Tselo, a 25-year-old Albanian citizen, was said to have confessed to police upon his arrest that he fired seven revolver shots at Pristina yesterday because he wanted to avenge a brother and other relatives executed in Albania during Pristina's Premiership.

According to another version, the young man killed the Premier because the latter had proposed to kill King Zog of Albania.

had contracted diptheria while relieving Miss Price at the hospital for a half-day on Sunday afternoon. "She was so ill in the evening that Miss Price would not permit her to leave the hospital," he said. "Swabs of her throat were taken but the report is not back yet."

Miss Price reported that during the past month there were five patients in the hospital with scarlet fever and one diptheria carrier. At the present time there are two cases of suspected diptheria in the hospital.

Water Is Pure

Complaints that dyes and refuse from the Auburn Mill, flowing into the river were causing an infection and rash among children swimming at Inverlea Park were proven to be baseless today when a chemist's report on the water was received. In the words of Dr. Young, the report showed, "that there is absolutely nothing wrong with the water." It is the doctors opinion that any rash the children have is due to faulty diet and the extreme heat of the summer.

The Board ordered the installation of sanitary conveniences in several homes or the houses will be closed as unfit for habitation.

Platform Erected By Alderman Tuggey

Swimmers at the "Jacks", above the Quaker Oats dam are indebted to the community spirit of Alderman Fred Tuggey for a diving platform which was put into service yesterday.

The platform stands on the shore at the end of Dublin street. With lumber and concrete supplied by the Board of Works, Mr. Tuggey constructed it himself, supplying a need of many years. He commenced the work last week and completed it yesterday in time to win the unanimous approval of the nightly crowd of swimmers who gather at the Jacks to seek relief from the city's dust and heat.

A diving board is to be secured by Alderman Stocker of the Park's Committee and placed on the platform shortly.

"Gossip and Such"

JOHN McGRAW, the manager who won 10 pennants, if you remember, traded himself out of about as many more, it has long been an old saying in the National league.

The second guessers probably never will be able to say that about Clark Griffith, the Sly Fox of the Senators.

Griffith has traded away his share of good ball players. What manager or magnate long in the business hasn't.

However, Griffith has had the grand good fortune to trade at least two of them back onto the Senator roster again—and just when he needed them, too.

GOSLIN AND CROWDER broke into the American league with Washington, the Goose in 1921, and the General in 1926.

The Goose toiled for 10 years in the Washington vineyards, annoying the official American league baseball for averages ranging from .300 to .370, which is high-grade batting which ever way you look at it.

The General signed a Washington contract in the midsummer of 1926. He pitched half of that season and half of the next without showing much stuff. So Griffith traded Crowder to the St. Louis Browns for old Tom Zachary during the 1927 campaign.

Immediately Crowder caused Griffith to become very sad about the deal, for the General almost overnight blossomed into a star pitcher.

REALIZING HIS mistake Griffith was determined enough to admit it and, in order to get Crowder back, offered the Browns the then great Goose Goslin for Crowder and Heinie Manush.

Goslin, greatly annoyed at the change in his fortunes, for the Browns have been no bargain at any time, took out his anger on enemy pitchers and his batting average bloomed beautifully as a result.

Griffith's cup of happiness over again acquiring Crowder was slightly soured by the fact that the General had cost him Goslin. So—after the 1932 season Griffith got the Goose back, along with Pitcher Walter Stewart and Fred Schute for Outfielders Sam West and Carl Reynolds and Pitcher Lloyd Brown.

THE DEAL looked like an even break but it has proven a good one for the Senators.

The Goose is back in Washington, hitting .300 and aiding the Senators mightily in their quest for the pennant. The General is on the scene, too, hurling championship ball.

It may prove, when the votes are counted in October, that Clark Griffith, the Sly Fox of the Senators, traded himself right back into a pennant.

STUPENDOUS TASK FACES WEST INDIES

LONDON, Aug. 15—As forlorn a last hope as ever went to bat in an important cricket match, the West Indies this morning will send out three men for a desperate attempt.

The men, E. Achong and B. A. Martindale, the overnight not outs, and H. C. Griffith, were faced with the seemingly hopeless task of scoring 22 runs to bring the West Indies' two-inning's aggregate and then continue on either to play out time or to accumulate more runs than the English eleven can secure in its second innings.

Loses Wickets Cheaply

Standing of the game last night, after two day's play was: England, first innings, 312; West Indies, first innings, 100; second innings, 190, for the loss of eight wickets. The West Indies' first innings opened yesterday morning, but the batsmen, uncertain on a slippery wicket brought about by a drizzling rain which twice caused a temporary postponement, lost their wickets cheaply. The visitors were forced to follow-on, beginning their second innings immediately.

HAWAIIANS STRANDED

SUDBURY, Ont.—Appeal to Ottawa has been made by Dr. J. R. Hurtubise, M.P. for this district, on behalf of a theatrical troupe of Hawaiians, stranded here after customs officers and Royal Canadian Mounted Police seized their travelling bus. The visitors pleaded they were unable to return to the United States.

COGS' HURLER HOLDS C.G.E. TO THREE HITS

Rooke, Billingsley, Padgett and Mein Figure in Classy Defense Plays.

LOSERS BELOW FORM.

Smothering C.G.E. under a 13-0 landslide at the Exhibition Grounds last night, Lefty Billingsley pitched the Cogs to a three-hit shutout in the first game of the E.P.L. playoffs. A large crowd watched the Electrics' futile attempts to clout the slow, teasing southpaw slants of the Clubmen's twirler, while the Cogs hit two moundsmen hard to pile up the count. The game was called at the end of the eighth on account of darkness.

The losers were caught napping on the bases several times, did not field up to form and fell down both on pitching and hitting. Cogs on the other hand played excellent ball aside from some ragged shortstopping by Moore, who was unaccustomed to that position, early in the fray. They had first-rate pitching, smacked the ball all over the lot, played a heads-up game and flashed nice defensive work.

Favors Slow Bender

Billingsley used a slow bender that was almost impossible to hit fairly, and he crossed the opposition up time and again with a straight, fast ball when they were set for the lazy hook. The lanky portsider fanned eight, walked just one, issue three lone singles and completed a fine evening's performance by picking several runners off first with his deceptive motion.

Jack Barry started for C.G.E. but was a bit wild and had trouble keeping the other side from hitting his fast one. His support was not of the best and he retired late in the fourth with six runs in after fanning one an giving five hits. Harold Ralph took up the task, but was nicked for eleven bingles the rest of the way, some of the hits being scratchy.

Rooke, Billingsley, Padgett and Mein all figured in some classy defensive plays. Wood also pulling off a good foul catch. Mein and Padgett were the leading hitters with three apiece, while Cuthbertson, Rooke, Wood and Masterson got two each. For C.G.E. Dallin starred in the outfield, with Saunders and Corbett going good. Hickey pulled off a neat foul catch after a long run. Dallin got two hits in three for the losers, Saunders being the only other bingler.

Score Three in First

The Davismen started off with three markers in the opening stanza on two walks, three fielder's choices, which C.G.E. were slow to field and played wrong for safeties, and one hit by Masterson with an error being thrown in also. They shoved across another three in the fourth on a walk, Mein's single and doubles by Cuthbertson and Rooke. Two more were counted in the fifth on singles by Pagett, Mein and Billingsley, with Mastersons triple at the start.

The next big Cog splurge came in the seventh, three more counters being chalked up on an error, some dumb fielding, singles by Mein, Wilson and Cuthbertson, and Padgett's double. The tallied their last pair in the dusky eighth on a walk, Wood's single and Padgett's second two-base blow. Only in the first and third did a C.G.E. player reach third, fine hurling and steady fielding cutting them off regularly.

OSHAWA HERE ON WEDNESDAY

AT STEVENSON PARK.

Oshawa Juveniles will play the Peterborough Terriers in the second game of their semi-final O.B.A.A. series at Stevenson Park at 5.30 tomorrow (Wednesday) evening. The Terriers won the first and if they take this tilt here will enter the provincial finals. It promises to be a fast, clean and close game of baseball between two evenly-matched juvenile squads. A huge crowd should be on hand as the entertainment dished up is well worth it, and furthermore the local kids' team is away in debt and needs support, both vocal and financial.

Herb Ralph, without any backing, has been supporting the local team this year, claiming somebody has to run a team when so many good young players are available and ready to turn to softball unless organized. He is also anxious to bring the first juvenile championship of Ontario to Peterborough, this city having won its share in every minor series but the one for boys under eighteen. They have a fine chance of copping it this year.

Grant Clark, Basil Phelan or Lefty Lesurf will do the Terriers' pitching, with Eddie Starr catching. The infield consists of Thorburn, McKinley, Al Clark and Dunkley. In the outfield are Mowry, Galvin, Lebarr and one or two of the pitchers if necessary. This team has strong pitching, good fielding and some hard hitters, and they have been practising faithfully all summer under coaching of Herb Ralph and Knotty Lee, at times.

Oshawa also has a smart team and may quite easily upset the dope and trim the local lads right here. They have two fast-ball heavers in Normyle and Bradd, classy infielding and gardening and can also meet the ball hard with the willow. It will be the first minor-league baseball game dished up at Riverside this year for lovers of baseball, and between two classy team, both of which have a fair chance of going right through to grab off the Ontario finals, it is deserving of a crowd of five hundred or more—the number that attended the juvenile game in Oshawa last Friday.

ROYALS WIN 7-3.

(By Orlo Robertson, A. P. Sports Writer)

With Newark Bears "in," as far as the regular season is concerned, the only item of business remaining to be settled in the International League before the closing date, Sept. 10, is the other teams for the play-offs.

As the matter now stands, Baltimore Orioles will be the other representative from the Southern Division. Rochester Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs have the upper hand in the Northern Section, but which of the two will meet the Bears remains to be decided.

The Red Wings lost an opportunity to improve their position yesterday when they fell before the four-hit pitching of Ray Prim, losing to Albany 3-2 in the Senators final appearance of the season at Rochester. The Senators found Bill McAfee for six hits in the sixth inning to score four runs and win the ball game.

Leafs Lose to Birds

The Maple Leafs also tasted defeat when the Orioles eked out a 3-2 decision in the final game of the series. Jack Ogden, hurling eight innings before being forced to leave the game when hit in the stomach with a drive from Lou Blue's bat, received credit for the victory. The Leafs rallied off Ogden's successor, Harry Smythe, and with successive hits pushed a run across the plate. Smythe stopped the uprising, however, by fanning Howell and forcing Heving to hoist a fly to Solter.

Montreal Royals with the aid of their first triple play since joining the league in 1928, scored three runs in the eighth to break up a close game and defeat Jersey City 7-3. The triple killing came in the first inning, when with men on first and second Bud Clancy lined to Doc Gautreau. The Royals' second baseman threw to John Goldman to catch Merville off second and Goldman's whip to Oscar Roettger at first caught Benes before the could scamper back to the bag.

Bisons Win Night Game

Buffalo Bisons staged one more rally than Newark Bears and won a night game 8-5 to square a four-game series at two all. Timely hitting by Joe Brown and Fresco Thompson, who drove in five runs between them, helped three Buffalo hurlers, Gould getting credit for the victory and Johnny Murphy the defeat. Ollie Tucker hit his 24th homer with the bases empty.

JIMMY FOXX SETS RECORD IN AMERICAN

AS MACKS WIN 11-5.

(By Edward J. Bell, A.P. Sports Writer.)

There's a new brilliant shining to-day in the bonnet of pink-cheeked Jimmie Foxx, a new American League record of nine runs batted in one game added to the walloping achievments of the new king of baseball's sluggers.

As the old dynasty of Babe Ruth fades slowly, halting only for occasional outbursts such as last Fall's home run orgy in the World Series and the spectacular display of the All-Star game in Chicago, the wonder of Foxx, the easy-going farmer boy from Maryland's eastern shore steadily rises.

He hasn't the flair of Ruth, this 26-year-old barrel chested horsehide buster, home run baker, coaxed from the hind end of a plow and shipped to Connie Mack nine years ago as part payment on the debt of gratitude he felt toward the ancient pilot. He hasn't the instinct for publicity, the booming personality that somehow has clothed even the ordinary deeds of Ruth with a public awe and worship that has grown with the big Bambino through the years.

But never in all the Babe's 20 years of big league play has he loosed more devastation at the plate than Foxx unleashed yesterday as the Athletics slaughtered Walter Johnson's Cleveland Indians 11-5 in the first game of their Western invasion.

In the first inning Jimmie tripled with two on. In the second he hit his 35th home run of the season with the bases loaded. A double in the fourth chased home another run. A single scored two more in the sixth. And to add the perfect Ruthian touch, Jimmie fanned magnificently in his final try in the ninth.

The nine runs he drove across the plate broke the record of eight set by Topsy Hartzell of the Yankees, in 1911, and tied since by Harry Heilman, Lou Gehrig Carl Reynolds, and Earl Averill. He fell three shy of equalling the major league record set by Jim Bottomley of the Cards with an even dozen in 1924.

Rallying from an ordinary start this season, due to a soiled shin in the spring that healed slowly, Foxx's one man field day boosted his average to .362 for a neat lead over his old room mate, Al Simmons, his foremost hitting rival around the circuit. And again it focussed the spotlight on the sale of Simmons Jimmy Dykes and Mule Haas for $150,000 last fall.

Tigers Beat Sox.

Aside from the glamour of Foxx's achievement, the day in the majors was a typical blue Monday with Detroit beating Boston 6-5 in the only other game played. The National League's lone match between the Phillies and Giants was rained out.

Foxx's outburst led a 13-hit raid on Willis Hudlin and Belve Bean, and gave Roy Mahaffey a chance to coast to his fifth victory of the season behind a nine-run lead piled up in the first four innings. The Tigers bringed three Boston pitchers for four runs in the seventh to pile up a 6-5 margin.

CROLL CHECKING UP

GROCERS GIVE SMART DISPLAY PLAY-OFF GAME

RUSSELL HITS CIRCUIT.

Harrison's turned in a whirlwind, championship brand of ball at Central School grounds last evening to tie up the standing in the Men's Softball League finals by defeating the Sugar Bowl 8-4.

The winners on their evening's play were unbeatable. Not only did they pounce upon the offerings of Currie, on the mound of the Bowl, with telling effect in several frames to run up their string of counters, but along with that they turned in a sensational fielding display behind the steady pitching of Montgomery. All in all the Grocers had a perfect game, and the Bowl's determined rallies broke upon their matchless defensive barrier.

Starts Scoring

A walk paved the way for Ellis' run for Harrison's in the second. Harrison's broke forth with a great batting foray in the fourth, to hammer out seven hits to score five runs. Again in the seventh they staged a scoring punch to notch two more.

Sugar Bowl countered their quartet of runs in the fifth, when Russell hit a home run with the bases loaded. In all the other frames they obtained but one hit, and smothered by the finished fielding of the Grocers did not get a man on except in the second on Calladine's hit.

Star in Field

Wilshaw in centre and Chambers at second did the lion's share of Harrison's fielding work, the former making a particularly starry catch of Sturgeon's giant blow in the ninth. Dorrington also accepted five chances without a miss.

The Bowl also clicked well in the field, but Harrison's at times had the knack of driving them where they just weren't.

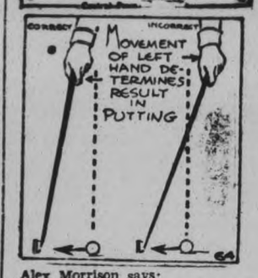
GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!

By ALEX. J. MORRISON



Alex Morrison says:

When it comes to the techniques used in putting it's supposed to be a case of every man for himself.

The rules that apply to the swings with other clubs can be set aside in making the putting stroke, so the player is told.

The small amount of skill needed to get fairly good results on the putting green where the main problem is to simply roll the ball a certain distance in a given direction, seems to support the arguments for an old technique.

But, there's one rule that must be observed! That is in connection with the movement of the left hand.

This hand must move with not against the club, in order to make a successful stroke.

PETHERICK'S TEAM WINS EASY VICTORY

BURNBRAE, Aug. 15.— (Examiner Correspondence.) — Pitching one hit ball, Grant Kerr hurled the Pethericks' team to an easy victory over Seymour West in Saturday evening's game. When the score was added, Pethericks were leading 17 to 3 and had won the Seymour League championship.

Without a regular catcher, the losers used Chadwick behind the plate and he caught a wonderful game for the first attempt at the position. Anderson pitched a nice game and given even fair support could have won any ordinary game. His infield was shaky, Russel being new at first, although he was as good as any. Hooper and Nicholas pulled some nice catches in the outer garden.

Only five Seymour West batters got on base during the seven innings, as Kerr struck out five and came pretty close to the pitcher's dream.

The Petherick's team are entitled to meet the winners of the Campbellford League for the Glover cup and as a winner will not be declared for nearly two weeks, a series will probably be arranged with the Springbrook team, winners of the Rawdon league.

Petherick's recently held the Hoard's team to a close score and they are counted as strong as Springbrook, having the edge in the play-offs, although they lost the series eventually. At any rate a Springbrook-Petherick's clash is bound to be interesting.

WOOD SATISFIED WITH NEW COURSE

SARNIA, Aug. 15 (C.P.)—Possibility the Harmsworth Trophy race, speedboat classic, would be held on the St. Clair River thirty miles from here instead of on the Detroit River at Belle Isle was seen to-day after Dr. James W. Inches, a member of the Harmsworth Committee, had addressed a number of local organizations yesterday.

Dr. Inches intimated the committee had definitely decided to change the course for the race, and that an official announcement to that effect would be made in the near future.

At present, Hubert Scott-Paine, British designer and racer is en route to New York with his fast little entry, and the plan to change the course will be presented to him on his arrival.

Gar Wood, the "Grey Fox of Algonac," is known to be quite satisfied with the proposed new course, which would be laid out in the vicinity of his home town. He travels many thousands of miles up and down the St. Clair experimenting with his boats, and is exceedingly familiar with every eddy and current.

LEGLESS SWIMMER GIVES UP ENGLISH CHANNEL SWIM

DOVER, England, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Charles Ziebelman, a legless American legless swimmer, abandoned his projected swim across the English channel early today because of a rising wind that caused a choppy sea. He had set out last evening from Shakespeare Rock, cheered on by a large holiday crowd.

He said he had suffered some discomfort at the start because he had been stung on the lip by a jellyfish, but when he was taken out of the water 12 hours later he was "feeling altogether fit."

His pilot, however, advised him progress would be impossible under the conditions. The weather was good at the start.

ENGLAND SCORES DECISIVE VICTORY

Winners By Innings and 17 Runs Over West Indies in Test Match.

LONDON, Aug. 15 (CP Cable). — England to-day scored a decisive victory over the British West Indies in the third and last cricket test match between the two teams, winning by an innings and 17 runs in a game that saw the visitors collapse badly beneath the trundling of the home forces.

Victory went to England in the first match, but the second was drawn when the time limit expired.

The West Indies were unable to master deliveries of the English bowlers, although in their second innings yesterday they got off to a good start when C. A. Roach, first on the batting order, got 56

England's total, not a large one for test cricket, came after a bad start when C. F. Walters was out for two, but A. H. Bakewell, his first wicket partner, put on 107 and C. Barnett, who was run out, had 52.

PEDALLING CARAVAN EXPECTS TO REACH KINGSTON TO-NIGHT

Indoor Track at Toronto Plays Havoc With Standings Last Night.

FIELD IS REDUCED.

Reach Kingston Tonight

The pedalling caravan expect to reach the Limestone City early this evening and after an over-night stop will proceed on to Montreal, where the race will conclude.

The indoor track played havoc with the field last night. Prior to entering the enclosure the cyclists made a 10-mile tour of the city. Shortly after they took the wooden saucer a series of spills, and punctures reduced the field to almost half, 15 of them dropping out and suffering a 30-minute penalty for their inability to keep up with the leaders.

Elliott completed the 100 miles shortly after one o'clock this morning, covering the distance in four hours, one minute and 30 seconds. One lap behind were Freddy Ottevaire, Detroit and Stonewall Jackson, Victoria. Ottevaire, who had clung to Peden's rear wheel during most of last week moved up in front of the coast redhead by five seconds. Peden finished last nights' race in 12th position, six laps behind the leader.

League Asks Deloro To Remain In Loop

One of the most amicable meetings ever held in the Peterborough and District Football Association took place last night, in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, with President William Anderson in the chair and a full attendance of executive board All clubs were represented.

The executive went on record to ask Deloro to re-consider their withdrawal from the soccer league. It was recorded that they had not received an official schedule from the secretary of that date. All the members desire that the Smelter executive will look at the matter from a sportsmanlike point of view and fulfill the remaining games in the league.

On Thursday night, Caleys play C.G.E. in Phelan Cup. Referee A. Frick.

Saturday night at 6 o'clock, the Caledonians and Canadian General meet in the final of the G.N. Gordon Cup. Referee A. McKinley. Linesmen, J. McMaster and W. Anderson.

In Lindsay, on Saturday, the C.P. and the Scugog eleven in the Phelan Cup. Kick-off at 3, standard time.

Next Wednesday, Callies vs. Lindsay.

Kirkwood Is Great Tournament Player

To-morrow afternoon, Gene Sarazan and Joe Kirkwood, noted U.S. pro golfers, will have their final tune-up match before entering the Canadian Open at the Royal York course Thursday morning. The tune-up match will be at the Peterborough Golf and Country Club, the two American stars playing Robert Abbott and William Fairweather, local players, about three in the afternoon. It will be followed by some trick shooting by Kirkwood.

The cocky Italian-American, Sarazen, Sunday, startled the golfing world by winning the United States Professional championship, after he had been called "all washed up" by Armour, the Black Scot. "All washed up, am I?" Gene grinned, "but still enough left to beat any of them." He was British and U.S. Open champion in 1932 and is undoubtedly at his peak now, and one of the best in the world. Kirkwood is a great tournament player, a headliner, and has an amazing repertoire of trick shots. They go from here to Toronto for the Canadian Open play.

Madison Garden As Set to Music

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(CP)—If you want to know how a sock on the jaw sounds musically, Ferde Grofe, the composer, is preparing to enlighten you.

Also what orchestral sounds go into a bike race, a hockey game, a track meet and other sports.

The composer of "Grand Canyon Suite" and "Tabloid" now is mapping his next composition, to be called "Madison Square Garden," 2, Track meet; 3, Hockey game; 4, Horse show; 5, Championship bout; 6, Circus.

The suite will be produced some time in the fall at a charity performance in Madison Square garden. An orchestra of 100 will interpret the music and the composer will direct.

BOWLING NOTES

(By Herb Martin)

By this time to-morrow the open tournament of 1933 will be well underway. Everything is now ready. The directors have done their part, the committees have done their part and the weather man has promised to do his part: it is now up to the bowlers in general to do their part.

Looking over the entry list we find all kinds of bowlers entered. Young bowlers and old bowlers, new bowlers and ancient bowlers, good bowlers and bad bowlers—in fact every known kind of bowler is going to be present. Anyway, it makes no difference what class you belong to, get a rink together and come on out and enjoy a good day of one of the few sports that has not become commercialized.

There will be no bowling to-night.

Down at Campbellford last night Bobbie Coleman of Peterborough, successfully skipped his juvenile rink to win their first twilight tournament. They played three tie games and then had to play off, winning every one of the ties. This is a record for bowling. Bobbie had as his helpers all new and young players and much credit is due them for their splendid showing—and then they say that bowling is an old man's game.

Last Night's Scores

Routley 14, Sedgewick 10; Gimblett 19, Wall 15; Freeman 21, Cullen 13; Coleman 13, Mayneord 13; Brown 16, Lang 10; Dunford 17, Goodfellow 13; Graham 20, Brown 14.

Thursday's Draw

Mayneord vs. Fitzpatrick; Oke vs. Hendry; Wood vs. Braund; Martin vs. Cairns; Routley vs. Chesler; Graham vs. Taylor; Seymour vs. Bennewith; Leslie vs. Nicolls; Roche vs. Hooper McMillan vs. Dr. Braund.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball—Softball—Lacrosse Soccer—Wrestling, and Others

(By C. J. P.)

You can sit down with a pencil and paper and start figuring out on form what team ought to beat what in baseball. Or you can go fishing, instead of getting a headache doing something useless. Baseball is a game that can't be figured out in advance. Too many breaks, and that's why it holds such a fascination. Who would have figured Cogs to beat C.G.E., 13 to 0, in the first E.P.L. playoff game last night? Why not very many would have bet any dough on Cogs to win by even one run. Yet when the returns were all in, there was that big jinx number up on the board opposite Cogs' name, and C.G.E. had a nice horse-collar to carry home. Quite an upset for the big gang of fans down there all right.

• • • • • • •

Lefty Billingsley was the big noise that deafened the Electrics last night. The elongated veteran southpaw slow-balled them to a standstill, giving just three miserable singles in the eight frames, fanning eight and making suckers out of nearly every runner that got as far as first with his trick motion to catch them flatfooted. Twice he did that and had the guy trapped cold when Moore who as a shorstop is a dandy centre-fielder—tossed the ball yards over the first baseman's head. It was a swell exhibition of slow-curve flinging by Billingsley.

• • • • • • •

C.G.E., besides falling down on pitching and hitting, didn't act very bright on the runways or in the field. Shocky Mein played them for saps twice, once stealing second while the pitcher, shortstop and second-sacker were pulling that "You take it, my dear Alphonse!" act over an infield hit. The other time he faked a throw to second and then calmly tagged the runner off third when the guy scrambled off the sack forgetting the bewhiskered adage of the diamond: "Keep your eye on the ball." Some foolish throwing to the wrong bases and some scratch hits they let by completed the showing of C.G.E. We know they can play far better and are likely to now that that mess is out of their systems.

• • • • • • •

Next game of the playoffs is Wednesday at the Exhibition Grounds at six—and why not start at six instead of twenty after? The playoffs will be three out of five unless the O.B.A.A. steps in at the end of the week and tells them they must have a winner to go into their first playdown round against the Deloro-Havelock winner. But if the E.P.L. is ordered to cut it short, they'll simply have to pare their playoffs down to two out of three games. Both teams know this and for that reason, tomorrow night's game is of prime importance as it may see the league champion declared. Watch C.G.E. come back battling in the way they've become noted for when backed up to a wall!

Abbie Rose, Petes' veteran utility man this season, is by far the oldest player on the local senior club. He was starring in fast company along about the time some of this year's crop of youthful Peterborough players were making poor old pop walk the floor nights with them. Yet Abbie is smacking the ball at a .325 clip, fourth highest of his teammates and doing some pretty fair fielding when out there. Of course, the oldtimer has slowed up somewhat, but he can still move around considerably, can fill in at almost any position—even pitching a good game, or part of one, if necessary. A brainy player, Rose is a good man to have in the field, at bat, on the bench or coaching when a young team is in the playoffs.

Behind grand pitching by Long Tom Montgomery, Harrison's evened up the softball play-offs at Central last eve by trouncing Sugar Bowl 8 to 4. It was a sweet softball game, with the Grocers looking like a million bucks in every department to get the nod. Their infielding and outfielding was perfect, they clouted Currie pretty hard, and had Al twirling from Monty. Russell got the Bowlmen's runs with a homer with the bases full. Another large crowd was on hand, but the collection was nothing to brag about. Next game is Wednesday at 6.30 up there.

• • • • • • •

An exhibition gals' softball game will be run off at the Bowl on Thursday at 6.45 for the benefit of St. John's Ambulance Corps. Two all-star teams, one handled by Pete McGillen and the other by Mike Latimer and Jim Matin, will do their stuff, and the proceeds raised will go to this Corps, which has always had a member on hand for first-aid work at girls' games. An exhibition game over there this evening at 6.45 will see the Westclox and Maple Leafs tangling.

• • • • • • •

We were shocked this morning to hear of the death of Vern Beavis, rightfielder on the Petes' senior team. It was not altogether unexpected, as he was in a very serious condition yesterday, but we found it hard to believe this young and lively athlete has had his name rubbed off life's line-up. Vern was one of the best outfielders this year in the Central Ontario League, a strong hitter and an excellent base-runner. In fact he was a very valuable player to the Petes and they missed him quite considerably the past week and a half he's been out. "Beaver" himself was a light-hearted, friendly fellow, popular with everyone, and his loss will be keenly felt both in sporting circles and otherwise. We extend our deepest sympathy to his bereaved family.

Oshawa and the local Terriers, juvenile O.B.A.A. semi-finalists, meet in their second series game at Stevenson Park to-morrow evening at 5.30 o'clock, Terriers having taken the first. It is almost sure to be a fine ball game by two good youngsters' teams, and the local one deserves a lot of support, Herb Ralph, manager and "angel" to this kids' team, works in a factory here and carries the team financially without any other help. Herb is still working toward his first million and has quite a distance to go yet—"even as you and I." The point is, fellows like this who dig down into their jeans just to keep minor-league baseball going here ought not be left holding the bag. Good sports and lovers of the game can help a lot by attending to-morrow's contest.

Dan McCorkindale to Get Chance At Title

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (CP)—If Madison Square Garden gives its consent, Dan McCorkindale, South African heavyweight, will get the first chance at the heavyweight championship recently acquired by giant Primo Carnera.

Negotiations were closed yesterday for a 15-round no-decision match between the men at Rome, Italy, on October 22, says the New York American. Previously Paulino Uzcuden, the Basque, had been considered as Carnera's opponent.

Col. John Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden, will speak the final word. The Garden has Carnera under exclusive contract and it is understood the corporation will attempt to block the match unless McCorkindale signs a similar option.

Although no decision will be rendered if the match goes 15 rounds, a knockout will win the championship for the South African.

For Wednesday, August 16

A rather lively and interesting day with much stirring in both business and private affairs is foretokened by the astral directions for the day. A particularly active and pleasant state of affairs may be looked for in social, domestic or romantic associations. There may be, indeed, a tendency to be lavish, indulgent or extravagant in these, so that finances may be jeopardized.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a fairly lively and interesting year in both business and private life. The latter is quite likely to be uppermost in the activities, with strong leanings to social, domestic or affectional engagements.

A child born on this day should be lively, versatile, proud, ambitious and sensitive, probably succeeding best with strangers.

Trent River

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Laughlin, of Toronto, and daughter, Mrs. Floyd Goodman, and daughters, Mary and Shirley, of Toronto, are holidaying at "Rockwyn" for August. Mr. Lloyd Goodman arrived Saturday to spend the remainder of the month.

Dr. and Mrs. E. V. Frederick, of Campbellford, were holiday guests with Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Watson.

"HAD CONSTIPATION SINCE BIRTH OF MY FIRST CHILD"

Then Mrs. King Discovered ALL-BRAN

We quote from her voluntary letter:

"I have suffered from terrible constipation since the birth of my first child — 9 years ago! I have tried everything and nothing had any lasting results. Very reluctantly I tried your 'ALL-BRAN' with no faith in it at all. Much to my surprise, I have not had to take any medicine since starting to use ALL-BRAN, 4 months ago."— Mrs. Doris Eyre King (address furnished upon request).

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN contains two things which overcome constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Certainly this is more natural than taking pills and drugs—often harmful. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Mrs. D. M. Stafford and son, David, of Cleveland, Ohio, are guests with the former's sister, Mrs. Dr. Watson.

Mr. N. Cecil Maynard, of Toronto, and Miss Gertrude Maynard, of Campbellford, were recent visitors with Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Watson.

Mrs. John Wright, Misses B. Wright and H. Wright have returned to Campbellford after spending two weeks here.

Mr. J. E. Wright has returned to Orland after holidaying at "Bon Air."

Mrs. J. B. Wright and Miss Millie, of Orland, were regatta day visitors at "Bon Air."

Miss Flora Jackson, R.N., of Toronto, is a guest at "Sunnyside."

Mrs. (Dr.) MacNeil, Mrs. Brown and Miss Sadie Brown, of Campbellford, were recent visitors at "Sunnyside."

Mrs. G. Tucker and son, John, of Campbellford, are visitors with Mrs. George Dickson.

Rev. Howard and Mrs. Seymour and daughter, Kathleen, Mr. and Mrs. Hazel, Mrs. Henson and Dorothy, of Campbellford, were regatta day visitors with Mrs. Tucker at Mrs. George Dickson's cottage.

Guests at Cedar Isle are Mr. Joe Raftry and friend, of Niles, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Clark and friend, of Toronto.

Mrs. Sam Doupe, former resident, of Norwood, was renewing acquaintances Friday and is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doupe.

Mrs. Dyer and children, who are spending the season at the Fairbrother summer home, returned on Saturday from a week at Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Goodman and Mr. and Mrs. Morris, of Toronto, are holidaying at the former's summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thain had as recent visitors: Mrs. Bartley and Dorothea Lott, of Trenton; Miss Bessie Jones, of Wooler; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thain and children, of Warkworth; Miss Jessie Haig, R.N., of Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. Annie Haig, daughter Frances and son Clinton, of Seymour East; Mrs. Reid, of Niagara Falls, and Mr. Don Bartley, of Oshawa.

For efficient daily service to the home, three milk bottles should be enough for each bottle of milk sold —one to deliver the milk, one empty en route to the dairy, and one at the dairy to be filled for the next delivery. Instead of this number, owing mainly to carelessness or discourtesy of housekeepers, many dairies require as many as eight for each bottle of milk delivered. GdK 5pE dCMzservice d-Bs,8nan

Slenderness Is Aim

By MME. LISBETH

SLENDER lines gently fitted at the waist are featured in the more dressy types of coat for fall and winter, 1933.

The one pictured is a good example of this. It buttons well to the side in wraparound style, and has a luxurious shawl collar and muff cuffs of beaver.

OLD-TIME MUSIC DELIGHTS CROWD

Close to Two Thousand Persons Attend Street Dance at Lakefield.

STREETS DECORATED.

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 15 (Examiner Correspondent). The biggest community event in the history of Lakefield was the occasion of the mammoth street dance last night by George Wade and his Cornhuskers. Close to two thousand persons attended, from the village, Peterborough and all over the district. As many as four hundred would be square-dancing at one time to the strains of the noted radio band.

They occupied the main street from Bridge to Reid streets and more than a dozen special police kept the huge crowd in order. The whole affair was marked with orderliness and jollity and lasted till after one o'clock in the morning. Modern dancing opened the affair but did not prove popular. But as soon as the oldtime music was heard dancers took their places in large numbers and the air was filled with the cries of the callers-off, laughter and the haunting strains of fiddles pouring their hearts out in oldtime country and mountain music.

A big platform was built for the orchestra and the music was heard plainly by everyone. Booths and stands lined the place doing a big business.

Harry Armstrong was manager of the street dance with A. G. Lawless president of the Board of Directors, and W. T. Morrison, secretary. Other members were J. A. Porter, G. W. Bailey, J. R. Hull, W. J. Charlton, D. H. Webster, D. H. Charlton, F. L. Erskine and A. W. Mackenzie. They did heroic work for several weeks past preparing for the event and last night were rewarded for their efforts by a highly-successful and much-appreciated community dance topping everything of this nature in the past. The special police did nobly in handling the dancers and onlookers so efficiently.

There is a possibility of another street dance featured the popular George Wade and his Cornhuskers will be put on in the future. They entertained too by step-dancing and singing.

McCormick And Pola Deny It

POLA NEGRI AND HAROLD McCORMICK

Although cables from France have announced the approaching marriage of Harold F. McCormick, Chicago millionaire, and Pola Negri of screen fame, both have denied the report. McCormick, former husband of the late Edith Rockfeller-McCormick and Ganna Walska, opera star, is in Chicago, while Miss Negri, now on the Riviera, sails for America early in September. Her manager admitted that McCormick sends her flowers and cablegrams.

Oversize

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(CP)—James H. Scott, 19, who is seven feet three inches tall and weighs 275 pounds, grew tired of his big brothers and sisters picking on him, so he left home and joined the United States Civilian Conservation Corps.

Captain W. E. Corkill, commanding the Conservation camp at Marion, N.C., in a report said an application came for a pair of 17½ triple "E" shoes, trousers 44 by 44 and an 8½ sized hat.

Corkill reported that Scott required two coats for sleeping, one from the waist up and one from the waist down.

PERMIT RESIDENTS TO PURCHASE WOOD

Regular Monthly Meeting of North Monaghan Council Held in Court House.

The regular meeting of the North Monaghan Council was held at the Court House, Peterborough, recently, with all the members of the council present.

The following relief accounts were passed for payment: H. Davidson, provisions, $68.27; Wm. Lunn, $72.70; E. G. Johnson, $21.80; F. Gosselin, $12.20; J. A. Lewis, 24 cents; E. Cookman, $8; A. E. Saunders, $26.25; C. Coombe, $14.40; T. J. Hunter & Son, $3.30; A. Pearson, $2.80; J. H. Shield, milk, $25.70; Carmen Deck, milk, $35.70; Frank Peters, provisions, $18.30; Dr. J. A. Morgan, medical relief account, $70.50; Dr. J. A. Morgan, charity account, $24.50; Dr. H. M. Young, medical relief account, $3; E. L. Payne, drugs, $1.01.

J. D. McIntosh, Ford avenue, came before the council and complained that Mr. Waterman, the assessor for 1931 had assessed him for four dogs and only left him two tags. Mr. McIntosh stated that it was an error in the assessment; that he only had two dogs and that there was no doubt but that Mr. Waterman had made a mistake, by only leaving him the two dog tags. Mr. McIntosh was relieved of the tax on two dogs.

A resolution was passed that the ratepayers of the Township of North Monaghan have the privilege of buying wood at $5 per cord delivered, the money to be paid to the Township Clerk who will issue an order to the delivery man to deliver the same.

The following accounts were passed for payment: Municipal World, supplies, $4.44; E. Elliott and C. Bowen, $2.20; Peterborough Business College, 2; Mrs. E. Youth Gets 10 Years For Slaying Mother

FLINT, Mich., August 15. — Balfe MacDonald, 17, was sentenced yesterday to serve 10 to 15 years in prison for beating his wealthy mother to death with a bookend.

MacDonald, heir to one-third of his mother's $500,000 estate, had pleaded guilty to the charge of manslaughter. Three physicians pronounced him sane.

The youth disappeared last May 27. A few hours later, servants found Mrs. MacDonald's body in bed and the bookends in the room.

Two weeks later, Balfe and a companion, William Terwilliger, were arrested in Nashville, Tenn. The youth told officials he struck his mother after a quarrel, but did not know for several days that he had killed her.

Sense and Nonsense

Having signed in Adolphe Menjou, an actor with 30 suits and 500 major items in his wardrobe, Warner Brothers are actively in the market for sophisticated stories. One of the early vehicles they plan for Adolphe is "Bedside," the adventures of a theatrical doctor.

Adolphe Menjou

In this original by Manny Seff and Harvey Thew, the dapper actor will have opportunity for sartorial splendor as well as for knowing humor and deft lovemaking.

The picture will be Menjou's second under his new contract, "Convention City," already announced, being the first.

For one of the feminine leads in the story of the Broadway doctor, Adolphe will have the pulchritudinous Clair Dodd.

Meanwhile, on Monday next, the star's romance with Kathryn Carver is scheduled to be dissolved via the divorce court.

Just after dawn the other morning, some meanie tossed a stench-bomb through the window of one of Hollywood's swankiest restaurants. The maitre-d was busy all day making up alibis to the customers.

Sally Eilers, Hoot Gibson and Harry Joe Brown sat in a Paramount projection-room recently and watched the airplane crash which almost cost Hoot his life. The cowboy-star had the strange experience of seeing himself removed from the wrecked plane and carried away in an ambulance. No, Sally and Hoot are not going around together again. She just drove him over to the studio.

Reared by lions in the wilds of Africa to be later tamed by the arms of a beautiful woman, that is the story of "King of the Jungle," opener on the double feature program at Capitol theatre Wednesday and Thursday. Beginning in the African jungle where the Lion Man rules supreme among his lions, the film moves from one exciting anti-climax to another, culminating in a circus fire during which the maddened animals break loose and stalk through a city's streets, leaving behind them a trail of blood and ruin.

It is the story of the romance between a beautiful stage star and the private detective assigned by a jealous "sugar daddy" to guard her. It is a story of backstage intrigue and footlight frolics.

Writing from Ketchikan, Alaska, John Barrymore tells of landing a 7-foot king salmon on a trout rod. For the unbelieving, he encloses a photograph. From Ketchikan, the Barrymore yacht "Infanta," will steam to Juneau and then, after a brief stay, will return to British Columbia. The actor probably will be back at the Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer studio within two weeks.

One of the fatter contracts signed recently is that under which Bing Crosby has promised to make three pictures for Paramount in 1935. His three labors will net the crooning star $250,000 for that year. Bing also has one picture to make at Paramount in December and three in 1934.

NOTICE

All Citizens are requested not to place Leaves, Lawn Clippings and other Refuse on the City Streets, except in proper Containers and on Garbage Collection Days.

Rubbish loose on the Streets and Pavements makes them look very uncared for, and in case of rain is apt to block the Catch Basin Tops.

Observance of the above request will be greatly appreciated.

By Order,
R. H. PARSONS,
City Engineer.

1200 PERSONS ATTEND DANCE AT MILLBROOK

VILLAGE DECORATED

MILLBROOK, Aug. 15.—(Examiner Correspondence)—A crowd of well over twelve hundred people assembled on King street, Millbrook, for the street dance on Friday evening, sponsored by the Agricultural Society and postponed from the preceding week owing to unfavorable weather, though a preliminary "hop" had been held in the Armouries with satisfactory financial results.

Jack Thynne and his seven-piece Clover Huller orchestra, of Brussels, Ontario, who were heard locally in their initial appearance one week ago, again won popular approval with their selections for old-time and modern dancing, especially as their voices blend harmoniously in the singing accompaniment for many of the well-known numbers played.

Preceding the dance, which began at nine o'clock, there was a full hour of entertainment for the rapidly gathering crowd when anyone in the audience might call for any selection desired, which was promptly played and sung either by the "Kansas Farmer" himself, who plays as only an old-time fiddler can and possesses a voice that is strong and pleasing in quality, or by some other member of his orchestra. Jack Thynne is a host in himself and added to the general enjoyment of the evening with one or two recitations and some good, well told stories, his appearance being that of a typical farmer wearing big straw hat, checked shirt, overalls and high boots.

Two loud speakers were installed within the fenced-off area of King street, enabling everyone to hear clearly up and down the section enclosed for dancing, the calling off of Frank Ballantyne being a feature all by itself in contributing to the success of the "big party."

Village Decorated.

Local merchants had made their store windows particularly well lighted and attractive for the night of the dance, and strings of colored lights over the dance area and festooned in front of the several booths added to the gala appearance for the occasion. Blankets and sides of bacon were the prizes offered in the booths where the wheels of fortune tempted many to try their luck, G. E. Burnham, B. B. Dawson, R. Stone and D. Sheppard operating these in the two stands, one in front of the Armouries and the other in the Town Hall square. The demand for hot dogs kept a staff of four constantly "on the jump," C. B. Sutton, W. E. Ball, Lloyd Byam and I. W. Larmer looking after this section, while at the lunch counter, with Mrs. Harrington as convenor, the assistants were Mrs. P. Stinson, Mrs. J. W. Hamilton, Mrs. H. A. Fallis and Mrs. C. Thorndyke. The remaining booth was in charge of R. Scott, V. R. Hunter and R. I. Fallis.

Collecting and selling tickets at either end of the enclosed area were E. H. Barnes and J. H. Paul, G. F. Harrington and R. J. McKnight, and having a general supervision of the various booths was the chairman, P. I. Bentley. Unfortunately, about eleven o'clock a fairly heavy rain, accompanied by thunder and lightning, eventually stopped the dancing on the street, making adjournment to the Armouries necessary, a long counter being hastily improvised for the continued sale of "eats," soft drinks, etc., those who were not dancing apparently hurrying for their cars and leaving for home. Receipts at the booths were naturally lessened by this untoward happening on the part of the "weatherman."

Approximately seven hundred dollars was the sum taken between the two nights, including receipts from gate and booths, the expense sheet being not yet completely totalled up. The Agricultural Society will, it is expected, have a tidy amount clear toward reducing the note held against it by the bank.

SIX PETERBORO RINKS ADVANCE TO 2ND ROUND

First Round Competition For Stratton Cup Commences This Morning.

IDEAL BOWLING WEATHER.

Quartets From Cobourg, Port Hope, Oshawa, Toronto, Hastings and Whitby.

The annual open tournament of Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club, was launched into action this morning, being formally opened by President Andy Brown in the presence of a record number of contestants.

It was the largest entry in the history of the Bowling Club, the president announced, and was a source of gratification to all who had worked so hard on the preliminary arrangements for the event. After remarking upon the auspicious weather conditions, Mr. Brown called upon Alderman J. A. McNabb to tender a civic welcome to the visitors, on behalf of His Worship Mayor Denne.

Alderman McNabb stated that the citizens and council were proud of the efforts of the members of the Lawn Bowling Club in providing such a fine club to add to the attractions of the city. "When the clouds have lifted" he intimated, "it is to be hoped that the city will be in a position to lend financial aid to the club in the completion of their ambitious plans."

Robert Hendry outlined the regulations governing the contest, which is being held under Dominion Lawn Bowling Association rules.

Visiting Rinks

With visiting rinks from Cobourg, Port Hope, Oshawa, Whitby, Toronto, Hastings, and Belleville, to say nothing of the numerous local entries, the tournament is an elimination contest for three silver trophies and six valuable sets of individual prizes.

The major trophy is the Stratton $400 Silver Cup, which was presented for annual competition by the late Hon. J. R. Stratton in the year 1911, and which is at present held by Skip G. Stenhouse of Oshawa for the year 1932. Fourteen ends are to be played in each game for the Stratton Cup. Six local rinks had advanced to the second round at time of going to press.

As the various rinks are eliminated from the Stratton contest, they proceed into play for the Canadian Deparment Stores' trophy for which twelve end games are to be played. The C.D.S. Trophy,

WILL CUT COST OF AUTO PLATES

Practice Of Other Years Will Start On September First.

GAS TAX REVENUE UP.

TORONTO, Aug. 16—Commencing September 1 — in accordance with the custom of other years—all 1933 marker permits for passenger cars, motor trucks, trailers and dealers' use will be cut by the department of highways, to one-half their present cost.

No notification of the reductions have been sent out by the department. License issuers will be expected to bear the practice of other years in mind.

J. P. Bickell, registrar of motor vehicles, stated last night that considering the depression the sale of markers this year had been "quite satisfactory." Up to August 1, he said, registrations for passenger vehicles had decreased only 3 per cent from last year's registrations, and motor truck registrations were off but a bare 5 per cent.

Unofficial reports around Queen's Park are to the effect that despite the decreased registrations revenue from the gasoline tax is up slightly.

Gets Coveted Role

Screen stars from the United States and Europe vied for the honor of playing the leading role in Noel Coward's "Bitter-Sweet," but it remained for Anna Neagle, a comparatively unknown English film-player, to snatch the lead. Even Evelyn Laye, the star of the piece, during its stage presentation, wanted the part. Anna Neagle, two years ago a chorus girl, gets the coveted role in this British and Dominions production.

CALGARY CITY MARKSMAN WINS SILVER MEDAL

99 OUT OF POSSIBLE 100.

CONNAUGHT RANGES, Aug. 16

One of the greatest honors of the big annual meeting of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association was taken to the West to-day when Sgt. C. E. Iddiols of Calgary, won the Macdonald Brier Match, getting first prize of $100 and the D.R.A.'s silver medal.

Iddiols, who has shot for Canada at the Empire meeting at Bisley, posted a perfect score of 50 at the long 800-yard range and slipped only to 49 at 300 yards for a total of 99 points out of a possible 100, to take the award in the match, which ranks second only to the Governor-General's Match itself, where first prize is $200.

Affects Conditions

A broiling sun brought a difficult mirage to the targets as the big match was fired at mid-day and in early afternoon. Only one score of 98 was posted, and that brought the bronze medal and $75 to Cpl. R. D. McLeod of Saint John.

Five 97's were next in order, with Pte. B. Olsen of Three Rivers ranking third to get $50, and Sgt. I. M. Grant of Vancouver getting fourth money of $20. The three other 97's, each $15, were Sgt. C. W. Foam of Montreal, and Lt.-Col. F. W. Utton and Capt. A. C. Lucas of Toronto.

LAWYER ADMITS HE GAVE POISON FAMILY OF FOUR

Pending Arrest of One Of Victims For Stealing Papers from Him is Blamed.

ASKS LENIENCY.

Husband Wife and 2 Sons Found Dead and Dying in Ditched Car.

HOT SRINGS,P Ark., Aug. 16 (A.P.)—A confession that he poisoned four members of a family was signed to-day by Mark H. Shank, an attorney at Akron, Ohio, and Police advanced as a motive the imminent arrest of one of the victims for getting papers for Shank from the prosecuting attorney's office in Akron in a forgery case against a client of Shank.

The police said they found a letter from Shank in the clothing of one of the victims, Mrs. Ethel Colley, advising her and her husband, Alvin, to "keep eyes open, mouth shut" and he would soon join them and "you will all be rich."

Colley and his wife and two sons, seven and 11 years of age, were found dead and dying of poison on a highway near Malvern late yesterday after their car had crashed into a fence and Shank had fled into the woods.

Shank confessed, authorities announced, in the following brief statement which he said he would amplify after he had some sleep.

"I am guilty of the murder of the four persons at Malvern by poison and I only ask that you officers recommend to the courts that they grant me all the leniency possible."

Colley was sought by Wayne County, authorities on a warrant charging him with stealing receipts and other evidence from the office of the prosecuting attorney Lyman R. Chritchfield, Jr., which were intended for prosecution of Clarence Braucher of Barberton, O., on a forgery charge. Shank was attorney for Braucher.

GIRL GIVES LIFE FOR HER FRIEND

Plunges Into Water at Crysler Ontario, As Chum Calls For Help.

BOTH GO DOWN.

CHRYSLER, Ont., Aug. 16.—(CP)—In a double drowning tragedy last night, Marjorie Armstrong, 17, and Nora Marcellus, 16, Crysler girls, lost their lives in the Nation river.

Seized with cramps some distance from the shore, Miss Armstrong called for help. Her high school girl friend, Miss Marcellus, was on the river bank and at once plunged into the river in response. In the dusk, the two girls were seen struggling in the water side by side. Then they disappeared. Resuscitating methods failed to revive them when their bodies were recovered an hour later. Both girls were good swimmers.

Professor Prepares Fine Bird Shot For "Chicken Lifters" at Summer Camp

ORILLIA, Ont., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Night prowlers who venture on the premises of the summer home of Professor Stephen Leacock, of McGill University, will be met by a shower of bird shot, if the noted economist and humorist carries out a threat made today.

Prof. Leacock informed police that 40 Rhode Island Red chickens and 20 Plymouth Rocks had been abducted from his Brewery Bay home. He also complained of turkey thefts in the past. He offered a reward of $25 to anyone giving information leading to the conviction of the pullet pilferer.

Professor Leacock, feeling uneasy for the safety of his remaining poultry has written letters to Premier George S. Henry and the Deputy Attorney General of the Province, asking for police protection.

The letter to the Deputy Attorney-General says in part:

"If I, (or anybody in my employ, acting for me come upon any person who has obviously and evidently broken into closed premises and obviously and evidently stealing or about to steal, am I, (or my agent) entitled to open fire upon such a person with a small shot aimed at the legs; or must I first challenge the person, and ask him if he has revolver, and how many others are with him, and would he care for a wrestle on the grass?"

Police Chief Louis does not see the matter altogether in the humorous vein. There is a slight suggestion in the letter he thinks, that the Orillia police are not giving the professor sufficient protection. If the provincial police are called in, on the other hand, the town will be forced to pay the cost of their investigation.

Spectacular Fire Sweeps Silver Mine

Nothing but the smouldering ruins of what were once four large silver mining buildings remain after fire swept the Nipissing Mine's property on Cobalt Lake, Ontario. The mine, widely known throughout Canada, will not be rebuilt. Damage to the extent of half a million dollars was done, but was covered by insurance. ABOVE is shown the low grade mill, a prey to the unquenchable flames. The mine had suspended operation last year because of the low price of silver and because it had exhausted its high grade silver quantity.

POLICE RUSHED INTO WISCONSIN ON GANG'S TRAIL

Desperadoes Believed Same Who Eluded 300 Chicago Officers Tuesday.

SECRET MOBILIZATION.

Bugs Moran and Touby Outfits Hideout Known to be in Region.

CHICAGO, August 16 (C.P.). — Fifty police with machine guns and rifles were rushed from Chicago into Southern Wisconsin to-day in an attempt to corral a band of suspected kidnappers.

Police said the desperadoes sought probably were members of the same gang as the two fugitives who eluded 300 officers after a gun battle on Chicago's western outskirts yesterday.

The exact destination of the mobilization of police was secret, but it was known to be in the Wisconsin summer resort region.

The notorious Touhy gang, four members of which have been named as the $100,000 kidnappers of William Hamm, Jr., St. Paul brewer, are known to make their headquarters in the region.

George "Bugs" Moran, gang leader dethroned by the killing of seven followers in the St. Valentine's Day massacre, also has operated there.

The police mobilization into the nearby state was led by Lieut. Andrew Barry, in charge of the Kidnap Division of the Chicago Police Department. Authority for the expedition was given by the Federal Government.

URGE INSURANCE AGAINST DROUTH

MacKenzie King Would See System Cover Hail, Pests, Rust, Etc.

STATE PLAY PART.

(By Ray Brown, C.P. Staff Writer)

ASSINIBOIA, Sask., Aug. 16 (CP)—A declaration in favor of establishing a system of insurance to protect the farmer against such calamities as drouth, hail, insect pests, rust, etc., featured the speech here of Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

Speaking in a district which has been devastated by douth and grasshoppers, the Liberal leader last night said he felt the State should co-operate with communities and individuals to provide some such protection.

He was not going to promise that it would be done for nothing, but provision might be made in good times for the bad years. And the State should do its share.

Forced Sleep

WILMINGTON, Del., Aug 16. (CP)—Truck drivers are snoozing along Delaware's highways to-day, but it is due neither to the depression nor the recovery program.

State police are stopping trucks and, whenever they find the drivers or helpers have been working more than 16 hours, the troopers compel them to sleep. Confiscation of drivers' licenses for eight hours assures compliance.

The action comes as a result of three fatalities within an hour recently, each blamed on a dozing driver.

ADD 1,000 FEET TO GRANDSTAND

Extra Seating For 650 Fans Being Provided at East City Bowl.

CUTTING DOWN HILL.

One thousand feet additional seating space, which will accomodate about 650 more fans, will be provided by the addition to the grand stand at the Bowl, which is being erected now by the employees of the Board of Works, City Engineer Parsons, said to-day. The work started yesterday, but it was doubtful if it will be completed in less than two weeks.

Work of repairing the furnace of the incinerator is about completed, Mr. Parsons said. The laying of the foundation for the new smoke stack to be erected at the incinerator has started.

Employees of the department are also engaged in improving the road intersection at Park Hill Road and Aylmer Streets. About four feet just north on the intersection on Aylmer Street will be cut down, taking away a dangerous knoll. A foot will also be removed on Park Hill west of the intersection and the whole of the hill properly graded. A permanent road of crushed stone and oil rolled down hard, such as was laiad on Burnham Street last year, will be put down.

$2,000,000 Jamaica Storm Kills 40

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 16 (AP)—Forty persons were killed in an electric storm which flooded Kingston and St. Andrew last night, causing damage estimated at $2,000,000.

The storm was described as the worst in years. Communication with the eastern end of the island was cut off.

Extensive damage to property was reported.

Aim to Curb Inroads On Railway Revenues Unify Truckers' Laws

Manion Announces Conference of Dominion and Pronounced Representatives For Ottawa This Fall But Sets No Date.

OTTAWA TO URGE FAIR COMPETITION WITH HIGHER RATE OF TAX FOR TRUCKS

OTTAWA, Aug. 16. —(CP)— A nation-wide tariff of highway truck taxes will be drafted here this fall at a conference of Dominion and Provincial representatives, Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways said today, its purpose will be to curb the inroads made by trucks in railway revenues and establish uniform laws for truckers.

No definite date has been set for the conference for which preliminary plans were laid several months ago. Following last year's Dominion - Provincial conference, questionnaires were sent to each Provincial Government, requesting schedules of truck licenses, road and gasoline taxes. Replies have been received from all but one Provincial Government.

Present System Unfair

Railways maintain their own tracks, often costing $75,000 and $100,000 a mile to build and the Dominion considers it unfair for trucks to use Provincial Highways and pay practically nothing for their use. At the conference, the Dominion will press for some fair basis of competition for trucks and railways, establishing a higher schedule of taxation for trucks and more rigid supervision.

FIRE SWEEPING HAMLET IN N. B.

Garage, Public Hall, Grocery Store Already Mass of Flames.

OTHER TOWNS SEND AID.

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Aug. 16.—(CP)—Responding to frantic calls for assistance—calls put in just a minute or two before telephone lines were put out of commission — the fire department of Newcastle, N.B., was speeding toward the fire swept village of Blackville, Northumberland county, 33 miles away, early this morning.

Reports received here were to the effect that destruction of the entire village, or a large part of it, was feared. It was impossible, owing to destruction of telephone cables, to get further definite word from Blackville. The fire, starting in the grocery store of Simon Bean, left that building a mass of smouldering ruins within half an hour flames, shooting high into the air, had spread to a large garage, the public hall of the village and a church parsonage, all of them were in flames according to latest reports available. Further disastrous spread of the flames through the thickly settled portion of the village was feared.

NEW OIL DRILLING

FORREST, Ont.—Oil drilling operations which made this district famous many years ago may flourish again. Preliminary work is now under way for the spudding in of a deep well on a Plympton Township farm.

English capital is invested in the new undertaking, and the field under development is said to give great promise of commercial production of both oil and gas.

INSANE ESKIMO TERROR OF TRIBE SLAIN IN NORTH

TRAGEDY UNFOLDED.

Man Man Had Threatened To Wipe Out Entire Settlement.

By A. PHILIP NORTON
Central Press Canadian Writer

ABOARD S.S. NASCOPLE, en route to Chariton Island, Aug. 6.—There was trouble in the little tribe, and Hullingo, the head man, was terribly worried. All the men, and the women and children were afraid. A black terror engulfed them by night — a stark dread gripped them by day.

Maj. D. L. McKeland

They were on lonely Mansell Island far from white man's protection, and about 75 miles southwest of Wolstenholme, the nearest trading post, just where Hudson Bay empties into the Hudson Straits.

Ordinarily, the hunters and their families would have been busy and happy. They had their winter's hunting and trapping to do, and after the season was over, they would return to the trading post, and exchange the pelts they had captured, and the walrus tusks, cleverly carved into toys, for food and other treasures.

But the tribe of Hullingo was afraid of the thing they did not understand. Ooshoakjuke had a devil in his heart, and they feared Ooshoakjuke greatly. He was going mad, and in the time of greatest terror for his fellow tribesmen, he would stagger crazily about the village, a horrible look in his black eyes, telling them all that he was going to kill them all.

It was in September last year, that Ooshoakjuke first went mad. He told Hullingo, and he told Selukie, his wife, that he had killed a man, at Cape Dorset, many years

Council Vetoes Plea Orillia Chief Put Tapeline on Bathing Costumes

ORILLIA, Ont., August 16 (C.P.). — Charging costumes seen on Orillia streets are "indecent and immoral," Mayor John Good has attempted to have the Town Council do something about it, but has failed. He revealed to-day that at Monday's closed meeting of the Council he strongly urged passage of a by-law to enable police to prosecute all who appeared in public improperly clad. Only two members of the Council supported him.

"It seems there is no Provincial statute to govern such things, and I thought it was high time the town did something about it," Mayor Good said. "The men are as bad as the women."

Reeve Hugh S. Tudhope opposed Mayor Good's suggestion.

"Alderman Tom Brow nand myself said we were sorry we were so busy we were missing all that was going on," the Reeve said today. "But we did volunteer to go out and inspect these people any time we were not busy, and pass judgment on their clothing. He had also opposed the suggestion that the Police Chief be provided with a tapeline for measuring bathing suits."

PLANE DROPS INTO B. C. LAKE THREE KILLED

Pilot and One Other Seriously ... Hurt, Sixth Escapes ... More Lightly.

WRECKAGE SINKS.

One Body Thrown Clear, Remains of Man and Wife Unfounded.

VANCOUVER August 16 (CP).—Three persons were killed, two others were seriously injured and a sixth suffered lesser injuries late last night when a Fairchild seaplane, owned by the Wells Transport Company, crashed into the deep waters of Anderson Lake near Bridge River, 150 miles north of Vancouver.

The dead:

E. A. Dean, former employee of the Pioneer Mine, who later operated a brokerage office near the mine settlement, and his wife; W. J. Butt, proprietor of McGillivray Falls Lodge, located near Bridge River.

The injured:

Pilot Gordon Mackenzie, serious.

Olie Besner, Prince Rupert, serious.

A. C. Parker, Vancouver.

The three injured are now in the hospital in Vancouver.

Crashes at Dusk.

The machine left here last night for Bridge River and crashed into the lake about 8 p.m., just as the evening shadows deepened between the mountains hemming in the lake.

It sank immediately and the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Dean were held in the wreckage of the craft as it disappeared in deep water. The body of Butt was recovered, having been thrown clear. The survivors managed to struggle ashore and summon aid.

The seaplane was on its last lap of the 105-mile journey and was first noticed to be in trouble as it passed over Darcy Station on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. At that time the engine was missing and the machine barely cleared the tree tops as it struggled for altitude. As it started across the open lake it sank lower, and some 400 feet from the shore hit the water.

The injured were brought to Squamish, where an airplane was waiting to take them to Vancouver.

DEVILS ISLAND EASY TO ESCAPE

Over 100 Convicts Disappear In Year. Secret Syndicate Believed Involved.

FLEE TO VENEZUELA.

LA ROCHELLE, France, Aug. 16. —(A.P.).—Wholesale escapes of desperate convicts from the dreaded Devils Island and other prison camps in French Guiana were reported to-day by French authorities in this deportation base.

Eighteen men recently escaped, officials said, bringing to more than 100 the total of prisoners who singly or in groups have fled the convict colonies within a year.

It is supposed, the escapes have been made through the connivance of a secret syndicate which has aided criminals to flee through jungles or across the Caribbean.

Many protests have been received by the Minister of Colonies. In the last three months of 1932, 44 took to flight and the total for last year was 79, with the high mark, 266, set in 1931.

French residents at Garupano, enezuelan port where many of the fugitives are rounded up before being returned to French authorities declared the Venezuelan Government outlaws as a measure of self protection was forced to capture the fugitives.

DIES OF BROKEN HEART

PITTSBURGH — Two years ago Fire Captain Gilbert S. Westphal dropped through a burning floor in a box factory blaze. His wife, herself ill, nursed him back to comfort, if not complete recovery, from injuries. Death came to Mrs. Westphal, and less than 24 hours after her burial, Westphal died. His son says a broken heart was the cause.

POLICE AMBUSH ENRICHES GANG $50,000 IN CASH

Seven Crooks Walk Into Trap Surrounded by 30 Officers And Escape.

FURIOUS GUN BATTLE.

Two Hikers, 5 Saloon Haunters Only Captives. Delayed Ransom Is Bait.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16. —(AP)— A gang of wily kidnap suspects last night apparently had slipped through one of the most elaborate police traps ever devised, enriched by a package of decoy ransom money, the amount of which was undisclosed, but which was reported to approximate $50,000.

Ironically, the money was paid over to the mobsmen, suspected of implication in the abductions of Charles Urschel, millionaire Oklahoma oil man, and John Factor, Chicago speculator, by a policeman. The officer was disguised as a messenger boy as part of the police strategy to apprehend the suspects "with the evidence."

The money was understood to have been part of a sum Factor promised to pay his abductors after his release several weeks ago.

Huge Police Ambush

Instead, he informed authorities of the demands and, at the appointed time yesterday, more than 300 police and federal authorities concealed themselves about the rendezvous near suburban La Grange.

The officer with the ransom package arrived in a taxicab accompanied by another detective dressed as a driver.

Approached by the extortionists, he handed over the money, and at the same time signalled his companions waiting in ambush.

The gangmen, about seven in number, occupying two automobiles, answered a command to halt with pistol fire, and careened away under a barrage from a police submachine gun manned from the taxicab.

About 700 shots were exchanged and in the general excitement the band disappeared into a nearby woods, abandoning one small sedan. One of the men was believed to have been wounded.

The big dragnet closed in on the woods, directed by wireless messages from three army airplanes overhead attempting to trace the

JURORS ACQUIT MRS. COSTELLO

Refuse To Believe She Poisoned Husband For Insurance And Another Man's Love.

MAY GO ON STAGE.

COURTHOUSE, Salem, Mass. Aug. 16—A jury which had sat through a month-long trial yesterday acquitted Mrs. Jessie Burnett Costello of a charge that she murdered her husband with poison for life insurance and love of another man. The jury was out only one hour and 52 minutes.

Less than half an hour after she had heard, with tear-filled eyes, the verdict which meant her freedom, the attractive 31-year-old widow was back with her three children in the Peabody cottage home where Fire Captain William J. Costello died of a mysteriously administered dose of potassium cyanide just six months ago Thursday.

The jury refused to accept the government's hypothesis that Mrs. Costello, lured by the love of Edward J. McMahon, young married policeman, and $5,000 life insurance, fed her husband a cyanide-filled capsule under the pretense of giving him a sleeping powder.

They preferred to believe, as an elaborate array of defence counsel contended, that Captain Costello, broken in health both mentally and physically, committed suicide; or that he accidentally inhaled or swallowed some of the cyanide which his wife bought a few hours earlier "to clean a copper boiler."

Francis E. Rafter, defence counsel, said Mrs. Costello would rest for a few hours and then confer with him regarding contracts for a vaudeville tour and newspaper articles. She is considering one vaudeville offer of $750 a week.

GANDHI BEGINS FAST TO DEATH IN POONA JAIL

Only Alternative Is That He be Given Comparative Freedom of State Prisoner.

AND OTHER PRIVILEGES.

New Threat Due To Suppression Of His Usual Weekly Articles.

POONA, India, Aug. 16 (AP)—M. K. Gandhi began at noon to-day what he said would be a fast until death.

The little Nationalist, arrested August 1 at the outset of a new disobedience campaign and committed to Yeroda Jail here for a year because he refused to obey a command to cease political activities threatened to start the fast unless given full rights as a state or political prisoner.

At present he is treated as an ordinary prisoner, and certain privileges have been denied him. He had written the inspector general of jails, asking for rights he enjoyed previously.

Thus he would be enabled, Gandhi indicated, to conduct a campaign for the regeneration of the Untouchables, as he did while imprisoned up to May 8, when he started a three-weeks' fast in protest against "Untouchability."

The Bombay Government will communicate with the Indian Government and the Secretary of State for India in London regarding the request.

Gandhi is now serving a one-year sentence as an ordinary political prisoner. Previously he was given certain privileges and comparative freedom.

It was believed the new threat was due to the fact that he has been unable to supply his usual articles to the press this week.

On Monday of last week a representative of his Untouchability campaign was summoned to Yeroda Jail and given an article by Gandhi which was published. This week, however, there was no summons to the newspaperman, and it was presumed that jail authorities refused the Mahatma's request to be allowed to see the journalist.

SARNIA NURSES ARE DISCHARGED THEN REENGAGED

Hospital Commission Alters Stand After Talk With Doctors.

PROBE IS ORDERED.

Class of 32 Let Go for Defying Refusing Apology To Superintendent.

SARNIA, Aug. 16. —(CP)— The entire 1933 nurses training class of the Sarnia General Hospital, consisting of 32 students and Miss Dorothy Patterson, dietitian, were discharged and reinstated last night.

The commission had passed a resolution discharging the class for insubordination and refusal to apologize to the superintendent, Miss Minnie Lee, when members of the medical staff went into consultation with the commissioners, and the outcome was the dispatch of a telegram to Toronto asking that Miss A. Munn, inspector of training schools for nurses, come to Sarnia to investigate the whole situation between the superintendent and the nursing school.

Girls In Tears

The nurses, who had prepared to pack up and leave, many of them in tears, again returned to duty pending Miss Munn's arrival.

This was the second meeting of the commission, and when the nurses' committee, stating that they represented the whole class, said their position was the same as on Sunday when 22 of the 32 quit duty, the commission passed the resolution discharging the entire class.

It is believed that an interview between the commission and Doctors W. B. Carruthers and R. MacKinlay caused the commission to rescind its first action. Several of the members of the class are within a short time of graduation. Reporters had been called before the commission and the resolution of dismissal read out to them, but when the doctors were admitted the press was excluded.

The trouble arose when eight of the student nurses were reprimanded Sunday morning for overstaying leave Saturday night, and the whole class left duty for a few minutes at noon on Sunday.

TORCH MURDER LAID TO WOMAN

Divorced Husband Dies of Burns After He is Drenched With Gas.

SET ABLAZE IN CAR.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 16. (AP)—A penny box of matches, a porcelin wash basin, and a quart of gasoline supposedly used to burn Earl Hanson to death brought his divorced wife, May, 38, to a jail cell yesterday, although she declared her innocence of any crime.

Authorities said someone apparently had thrown the gasoline from the basin on Hanson as he sat in his automobile, ignited the fuel with a single match from the box, and then fled as the flames leaped over the victim's body.

Hansons body and his automobile burst into flames a few moments after he had returned his daughter, June to her mother's home six miles north of here.

Mrs. Hanson agreed with authorities that her husband probably had been murdered, and said she believed someone holding a grudge against her was the killer.

Mrs. Hanson said she purchased the matches last Thursday, that she bought the gasoline Sunday three hours before her husband's death for use in starting an automobile, and that the basin was one she used to water chickens.

Mrs. Hanson's hair and eyebrows were badly singed. She told State's tAtorney Robert Nash that she "got too close to the fire" in looking into the automobile to see if her daughter's body was there.

Nash said he would present the evidence to the October grand jury.

MARMORA LAD STRUCK BY CAR

Albert Leonard Has Leg Broken as He Steps From Behind Buggy.

A CLOSE CALL.

MARMORA, August 16 (Examiner Correspondence). — What might have proved to have been a more serious accident occurred at 11.30 a.m. on Tuesday on the No 7 Highway, about 2½ miles west of Marmora Village, when Albert 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Leonard of Marmora Township, fell in the path of a car proceeding east while he and his parents were proceeding in the opposite direction homeward-bound.

Albert had been riding in the rear of the buggy, but it is thought that he might have alighted from his seat just before the accident occurred. The car, which was driven by Miss E. Wood of Orillia broke over a knoll as the lad was seen to come from behind the buggy and take the road in the path of the oncoming car.

Miss Wood applied her brakes and stopped her car within a short distance, but was unable to avoid hitting the lad. She immediately conveyed the injured boy and his mother to the office of Dr. H Crawford, where it was discovered that he had sustained a broken right leg just above the ankle and other abrasions about the body and head. After receiving treatment he was taken to his home.

Provincial Constable Percy Gray investigated the accident.

FIND FOUR DEAD SITTING IN AUTO SUSPECT POISON

ONE OF 3 CHILDREN LIVES.

MALVERN, Ark., Aug. 16—An automobile bearing four dead persons and a live child ran wild along the Little Rock highway nine miles north of here yesterday. Passing tourists made the gruesome discovery after the machine left the road and crashed into a fence.

A man, a woman and two children sat upright in the seats, all dead. Authorities reported that a bottle half-full of whiskey was found in the car. Doctors said the four persons appeared to have been poisoned with strychnine.

The motorists said a man jumped from the automobile and ran into nearby woods when they approached the machine.

The surviving child, a boy of about four years, said his name was Cline Smith. Officers could get no further information from him.

The man who fled from the automobile was captured by possemen, who ran him down in the woods. Officers hurriedly brought him to town and took him to the city jail for secret questioning. Police said the man gave his identity as Mark H. Shank, an attorney of Akron, Ohio. Names of the four dead persons were not divulged.

Sheriff's officers left town with Shank last night, and said they were headed for a place about nine miles north, where the four persons had eaten dinner yesterday.

No doubt the majority of you readers have grown corn in your own vegetable garden and have gone out to it an hour or so before dinner and pulled the ears, just ready for the picking.

• • • • • •

And no doubt you have watched the silk turning brown and signalling you that it was ready to offer you its fine, sweet kernels.

• • • • • •

If you haven't had this experience perhaps it is just as well as the corn you get in the city here will taste better to you without the comparison.

• • • • • •

Next to growing and picking your own corn is the pleasure of going into the garden with some one else and watching your dinner supply being picked. You go home just as fast as you can with this and cook it as quickly as possible and then you know how corn on the cob should taste.

• • • • • •

Perhaps instead you are tempted to buy it from roadside stands at the edge of the farm. Sometimes you are not disappointed.

• • • • • •

Sometimes one finds at the grocers corn which does not seem to have suffered too bitterly in the time which has elapsed since it was taken from the field.

• • • • • •

In cooking corn on the cob, be sure to scant the time. Don't put it in the kettle of boiling water until five or eight minutes before a dinner is to be served.

• • • • • •

Take it out of the water as soon as it is done and cover it with a folded towel. Never let it soak in the water. Steaming is a good method of cooking, but takes about twice as long as boiling.

• • • • • •

Before serving, the ear should be broken in pieces which will be easy to handle. You see, it is taken for granted that you like to eat corn from the cob, in that fashion which some consider too messy and vulgar.

• • • • • •

Perhaps it is—but most of us are willing to have both adjectives applied to us for the sake of the product. If you are not, just cut the kernels from the cob with a sharp knife.

• • • • • •

Cut corn, boiled or fried, makes a very good stuffing for baked tomatoes or peppers. It is also good, although seldom seen, in a mixed vegetable salad or mixed with mayonnaise and minced green peppers for stuffing a chilled tomato for salad.

• • • • • •

There is almost no end to interesting recipes for the use of the green corn now in season.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Yesterday we considered the mystery of laughter. Even more inexplicable is the related mystery of tears.

Although no explanation is satisfactory, it is possible to dredge up a philosophical reason for laughter. The smile, for instance, has been explained as the outcome of the primitive bestial habit of baring the teeth as a form of warning. The wolf shows its fangs to let the enemy know it can rend and bite. The human smiles to show the world that while disposed to be friendly, he has weapons of defense if he should be aroused. The smile is a badge of superiority. "Let there be no trouble between us," the smiler says, "because if there is I know you: I am superior to you; you merely amuse me." All fighters are smilers, including the president of the United States.

Laughter is merely exaggerated smiling. That succession of shouts is to show the enemy who has fallen into difficulties that you are not a person to be trifled with. You have energy and power—and teeth.

But how can one explain tears? Why, because of someone's death, should fluid containing salt and traces of potassium, exude from your lachrymal glands?

Crying and laughing are in the center of the emotions. "I was so angry I cried," you say, or, "she wept from unhappiness." "He laughed until he cried." It is possible that certain spots in the brain are centers for laughing and crying. Those studies quoted yesterday which revealed that certain brain lesions caused the victim to laugh incessantly, are paralleled in the case of weeping. When destruction of the central nervous system occurs in special ways or areas, the victims are subject to fits of uncontrollable weeping.

An interesting sidelight on the subject is the support these studies give to the Lange-James theory of the emotions. This theory supposes that emotional states follow the appropriate muscular actions rather than precede them. You are not frightened and then run away. You run, and as you run you become frightened. You do not feel jolly and then laugh. You laugh and that makes you feel jolly.

There is at least this much to the Lange-James theory, that the continuation of the appropriate muscular actions certainly intensifies the emotion. To that extent, certainly, the studies with which I have been dealing lend it support. There is the report of a young patient with a brain disease following influenza, who frequently broke into tears for no apparent reason. A sudden brief attack of this sort made no difference in his mental condition, but repeated bouts had the effect of saddening him, and bringing on tears legitimately motivated by the thought of the affliction under which he suffered.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

Nell O'Day, a young screen lass, who is fast making a name for herself in the cinema world, has been adjudged the possessor of the loveliest legs in Hollywood. In that mecca of beautiful limbs, it's difficult to pick out one pair that can be said to surpass all others. But Nell's underpinnings certainly are shapely. And whats more, they are clear-skinned, smooth and velvety in texture.

Gladys Glad

As I told you yesterday, hairy legs are anything but attractive. And any girl who wants to look nobby in her bathing suit simply cannot afford to cavort about on the beach without first taking the necessary steps to keep her legs free from hair.

However, even if a girl's legs do pass muster in that respect, they can't be considered in perfect condition for display unless they are clear-skinned and smooth. Legs that are rough, horny and covered with gooseflesh will never take any prizes for attractiveness. And knees that are harsh in texture, dark and discolored are enough to destroy the loveliness of even the shapeliest of limbs.

If you intend patronizing beaches this summer, be sure that you first inspect the condition of your legs, before you don your snappy one-piece and saunter down to the briny. If your knees have the above-mentioned defects, being corrective treatments at once. Before retiring at night, scrub your knees briskly with a bland soap, tepid water and a small flesh brush. Then after the scrubbing, apply peroxide or lemon juice to each knee, and permit it to dry. This will help to bleach the skin and remove any discolorations. After the bleaching, massage a generous amount of cold cream or pure olive oil into the skin of each knee and permit the lubricant to remain on all night. This will help to soften the skin, and remove any harshness.

If your legs are afflicted with gooseflesh, you must take steps to correct this, also. Gooseflesh, you know, is an accumulation of the horny cells of the epidermis. When taking your nightly bath, scrub your legs with a bland soap, tepid water and a small flesh brush. Then rinse and dry your legs, and massage them thoroughly with a good, rich cream. This will alleviate the gooseflesh condition, and will make the skin of your legs attractively soft, smooth and velvety.

EXTRAORDINARY DEFENSE

Neither side was vulnerable when the following hand was dealt. Bidding went: South, 1-Spade; North, 2-No Trumps, which was a pretty stiff bid for what he held; South, 3-Spades, precisely the contract he could have fulfilled, losing two diamond tricks, one trump trick and one heart trick; North, 3-No Trumps, which was a distinct overbid, but he held the contract.

	♠A K 9 8 7 3 ♥A J 7 ♦8 6 2 ♣A

The opening lead was the 5 of clubs, which went to dummy's lone Ace. The declarer led a small spade from dummy towards his own J. West's Q won the trick. If West had led his K of clubs nothing could have prevented North from going game, as he would have won three club tricks, five spade tricks and one heart trick, or nine tricks total, regardless of subsequent procedure by East and West.

Suppose West, instead of laying down his top club, had led back his 3 of clubs, the declarer's J would have won the trick, assuring his side two club tricks, five spade tricks and one heart trick, requiring only an added trick for game. What would West do when a low diamond was led through him from dummy? If he failed to win that trick game must result. If West won the diamond trick he would have to lead something which could not fail to give the declarer a game.

Instead of doing any of these things that must give the declarer a certain game, West led his 10 of diamonds, after he had won his spade trick. The declarer's J won the trick, but there was no way in which he could fulfill his contract. West always could make three diamond tricks and one club trick, in addition to the one spade trick already won. This meant that West's return lead of a diamond could not fail to hold the declarer down to 2-odd, no matter what he did.

The declarer saw his danger without being able to overcome it. He tried his only hope of going game. North led a low heart from his own hand towards dummy and finessed the J. If that had worked the declarer would have made one club trick, one diamond trick, two heart tricks and five spade tricks. When the J of hearts lost to West's K, West ran off three diamond tricks. North's gamble of game or going down two tricks was perfectly legitimate and preferable strategy to deliberately going down a single trick by taking his eight tricks and giving his opponents the balance. The defense was extraordinarily good.

"I like Muffets"

"Haul in your shopping nets, me hearties! A Muffet's a real catch. It costs less than a cent but one for breakfast will set you up for a real day's fishing."

"All the girls in my 'dorm' are simply crazy about Muffets. They have a gorgeous flavour and our science 'prof' says Muffets are irradiated for Sunshine Vitamin D."

"Chief Taste-Um-Swell, Chief Yum-Yum Breakfast, Chief Whole-Wheat Cereal, all big chiefs think white man's Muffet good eating."

Everybody likes Muffets

A new improved "WHEAT RIBBON"

Muffets are ribbons of all-Canadian whole wheat . . . wound round and round . . . then toasted to a rich-flavoured crispness. A new process has made possible these new improved wheat ribbons that crumble easily . . . break readily.

An extra Muffets feature

Muffets are the only whole wheat biscuits irradiated for Sunshine Vitamin "D" (Patent No. 291,138). Sufficient quantities of this vitamin are essential to health. Ask your doctor.

CANADIAN JAPANESE ATHLETES.

The racial elements comprising the population of Canada are bound to be represented on our fields of sport.

In the East we have long been accustomed to Indian lacrosse teams, French-Canadian hockey teams, English cricket and Scottish soccer teams, but how many of us have heard of a Japanese baseball nine?

It came as a surprise to us in glancing over the sports page of the Vancouver Sun to read the account of a baseball game in the city's Terminal League in which the Ashais won a game from the Meralomas, a team including familiar Canadian names as Walker, Gerard, Kay, O'Leary and so on down the line-up.

The box score indicated that "Mickey" Maikawa, the Vancouver Japanese pitcher, held his white opponents to three hits, allowing only one hit up to the eight inning. That these boys of Oriental origin are adepts at the game is related in this comment: "Asahis played startling baseball in the last three frames to shove over five more runs and take the game by 9 runs to 6."

This baseball team reflects the numerical strength of the Japanese group in our Pacific coast and is another reminder of the diversity of our population. It also suggests the extent of our problem of securing national unity.

WHEAT MARKET CONFUSED.

In fixing a minimum price for grain futures, the Winnipeg exchange yesterday promptly adopted a protective expedient against what are known in market terms as bear raiders in New York and Boston. This action was designed to check the selling of Canadian wheat and the resultant weakening effect on future prices. The quotations were fixed at Monday's closing figures, fractionally more than 70 cents for October delivery, 71 for December and 76 for May.

The wheat market has been exceptionally uncertain and confused all season since dropping to new low prices last winter. Apparently the granaries of the world are bulging with a surplus that is regarded as a serious threat to the price gains of recent months. A news despatch from Winnipeg explains that since last Friday the market has been overburdened with sales orders from Chicago traders. "Being unable to hedge or sell in their own market because of restrictions on price movement, they used the Winnipeg exchange for protection of their trades. In three days this selling depressed wheat 12 cents a bushel, lowering the price to the Canadian farmer at a time when he was harvesting and marketing his new crop."

A brief survey of the cereal scene must take note of Russian reports that their harvest will be the largest in the last thirty-five years. This is a Soviet announcement, claiming success for their collective farms and ample food for the people and fodder and grain for cattle.

Washington estimates that this year's carry-over of approximately 385,881,000 bushels as of July 1 will be the largest in the history of the United States. An official statement by the Secretary of Agriculture indicates that the world surplus exceeds 650,000,000 bushels.

Both in Canada and United States this year's crop is considerably less than the harvest of 1932.

Visions of dollar wheat this fall are dimmed for the present. Meanwhile Uncle Sam is proceeding with his campaign to reduce next year's sowing by about 20 per cent. under the current crop in return for benefit payments of $130,000,000 by the Government.

"We worry because we shall have 360,000,000 bushels of wheat too many and do not know what to do with it. Farmers will be told by the Government to plant less wheat and, to make up for money they might have made, the Government will give them from public funds up to $130,000,000. That will puzzle Russia, paying farmers not to produce. It may also puzzle the angels above, considering how many on earth are hungry."

MANCHESTER DISSATISFIED.

A year's results of the Ottawa Conference leave no doubt that Canada secured the best of its trade bargain with Great Britain. Government records show that the balance is substantially in our favor, supporting the assertions of Government leaders that Canada was well served by Premier Bennett in the agreement he helped to draft a year ago. Further endorsation of this highly satisfactory fact transpires in British press opinion.

Recently an editorial from the London Star was quoted in three columns complaining that by means of the gain Canada was "dumping" in the British market. A similar discordant note is sounded by the Daily Despatch, published in Manchester. Apparently Old Country opinion is realizing that when Premier Bennett promised his people that he would blast a way into foreign markets he did not intend to exclude Britain from his heroic methods of approach.

Premier Bennett would have no dealing with Russia under any conditions, but with that emphatic exception he frankly set out to seek the trade advantages he had promised in his election campaign. The agreement with Great Britain is one of his achievements. If its effects are beginning to kindle critical and adverse sentiment overseas, reaction of that kind is probably to be expected of the party that gets the worst of the bargain.

Our previous experience with New Zealand and Australia demonstrated that trade agreements within the Empire are not so easily adjusted and balanced as we may have expected. When the advantage swings to us we are more than content; when it runs against us we demand release. The present bargain with Britain was signed for five years.

Many Canadians will probably be doubtful of the eventual benefits to this country of a pact that is creating dissatisfaction in the Motherland. It conflicts with their concept and ideal of the finer relations of mutual trust and confidence which should exist and be sustained between Great Britain and Canada. Any agreement which disturbs or strains that family sentiment will in time receive general disapproval, if it breeds the resentment against Canadian business and exports that is expressed in the following quotation from the Manchester Despatch editorial:

"Mr. C. W. Stokes, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, told the advertising convention yesterday that 'there is, of course, a lot of sentimental flap-doodle talked about the Empire.' It has been the aim of the Daily Despatch for many years to counteract this silly and dangerous talk, especially by too trustful politicians. The need for this is now becoming generally apparent, though Lancashire has long realized it. We have especially denounced the unsatisfactory tariff attitude in most of the Dominions, and we have pointed out that, to all intents and purposes, the Ottawa agreements have so far been very one-sided in effect.

"Full confirmation of this was forthcoming in both the House of Lords and the House of Commons. It is not difficult, reading between the lines of the statements by Government spokesmen, to realize that considerable dissatisfaction exists, and that, unless the present state of affairs is remedied, steps will have to be taken by the Mother Country. Mr. Stevens, the Canadian Minister of Trade and Commerce, has once again been boasting to his countrymen of the satisfactory results accruing to Canadian export trade from the Ottawa agreements. The returns show that last month Canadian exports to Great Britain were 58 per cent. above the value for June, 1932.

"It may amuse the House of Commons to hear the Dominions Secretary boast that he knows of no atmosphere more genial than when he is present, but the atmosphere in the manufacturing area is anything but genial when it is seen that certain goods made by English men and women cannot be sold in the Dominions because those Dominions raise insurmountable tariff barriers against them. Neither is it any more genial in agricultural areas, where the English farmer finds his home market swamped with butter and cheese dumped there from the Dominions."

ENEMIES TO PEACE.

According to a recent survey by two professors in Teachers' College, children between the ages of 10 and 15 reveal an "amazing desire" to glorify everything associated with war. That weakness is not peculiar to children. Many of their elders have the same blind spot on their mental retinas. Men all over the world, some of whom fought in the Great War, are mumbling with child-like ignorance that we need another war to settle world problems. "The next war" is already discussed as a certainty in many offices, grocery stores, street corners, club lounges and smoking cars where men idle the time away with loose-thinking and muddle-headed conversation. While statesmen are bargaining together for armament reduction and peace treaties men who ought to know better are reasoning logicaly from ignorance and drugging themselves into a helpless frame of mind. The homespun citizen who flounders about among big subjects is as much an enemy to peace as imperialistic governments.

Any one with the capacity for orderly thinking knows that instead of settling the problems of the world another war would very nearly blast the civilized world out of existence. The last war very nearly did that. Although the dead have been buried, the living have inherited the suffering that never ceases. Nationalism has spread like an infectious disease. The economic affairs of the world have become so fiercely entangled that only the most heroic planning and enterprise can loosen the knotted threads. There is not a single aspect of human life, either artistic or economic, that has yet thrown off the poison which the last war spattered around the world.

After a protracted period of anxiety and foreboding, like the present one, the mind begins to numb. It is paralysed by the burden of worry it has to carry. Especially to the man who is out of work and whose lot becomes more wretched month by month war begins to look like something of a personal refuge. He can remember the time when the Government fed him army rations and clothed him and took the responsibility for his home, and when the nation saluted him as a hero. In those days of comradeship he was as good as the next man. He had something to do. The dangers of his mission he could comprehend; they were tangible and real. Now he is living in the midst of alarms that are elusive and unfathomable and that disintegrate pride of spirit.

Muddled as it may be, it is a real source of danger to the peace of the world. It partly undermines whatever fragile agreements statesmen are able to make. For no nation is much wiser than its average citizen. Although his power may lack direction, it is strong when it is fused by smoldering emotion. If peace is to be preserved, men must be convinced that peace is the foundation of everything the world requires.—New York Times.

THE TUTTS By Crawford Young

JILTED

INSTALMENT 30.

It was like a queer, thin dream to Helen, repeating this picnic trip she had made so often with Tommy, on this late February day in leafless woods, and feeling nothing at all.

They reached the little glade, with its nearby outdoor oven. The day was mild. Tommy's luck. He spread a motor rug down and built a fire, and they began to open the cans he had brought, while he talked steadily on.

"You know, Helen," he said, settling down by her with his own paper plate, "after you other girls haven't much flavor. The devoted ones aren't amusing and the amusing ones are darn upstage. That's really"—he eyed her as he spoke—"why I gave Kay the air. Always had to bring your own kneeling cushion when you went after Kay."

"Do you think you did right to break off with her?" Helen asked coolly.

"Oh, love, since you force me to the admission, she was painfully willing! You take little affairs of the heart too hard and fast, Helen. At our age one drifts to and fro a lot—as we have. And then we come back to our first loves. Also as we have."

He looked full at her, with his queer green-gray eyes, lashed like a woman's. He was consciously exerting his spell on her. "Love me, Helen?" he demanded softly.

"No, Tommy, not a bit. I felt pretty badly when you threw me over before everybody in Kingsway. I had loved you, though it was kid's love. If we had been married then I think I'd have always loved. I'm fond of you in a way now, just because I was crazy over you once. That was it—" She pondered. "I was crazy over you. I'm not crazy now, I'm sane."

Helen, I know I did you a dirty trick, but you shouldn't have taken it so hard, for one thing. You should have known"—Tommy actually sounded injured—"that I'd have come back to you if you'd just hung on. But, no, you just took it! And anyway you make too much fuss over little things."

He reached out an arm to pull her close, as he had always done in the old days, but she shook her head, and rose, standing over him, to avoid him.

"Tommy, don't promises mean one thing on earth to you?" she demanded, staring at him.

"As I see it, I fell down on you a little, as any man would with his mother hounding him once a day by letter, and the best-looking girl in a new place doing her bit. And you seem to have had the prayers of the congregation. Everybody, I find, either thought you'd thrown me, or else I was a deep-dyed villain—which wasn't fair, for I'm a decent sort of chap, if I am impulsive," said Tommy with gentle reproach. "But now you've fallen down on me, playing round with Kingsway, as I see it. We're quits. I vote we bucket over to the county seat in a nice quiet way and get tied up, tomorrow, say!"

"Tommy, you are incredible," was all she could find to say.

"Nearly but not quite," he said blithely. "Most real and devoted, my love. And father will be thrilled —you always liked Dad."

He waited, smiling, nearly certain.

"You're talking nonsense," she said briefly, beginning to clear things away and wrap up the debris preparatory to burning it.

"Well, at least you came with me, which proves quite a lot. You wouldn't if you were really so mad over Kingsway," he said conclusively.

She shivered. . . . No, she was not going to marry Kingsway . . .

They drove home, earlier than Tommy had planned.

"I'll call you up after dinner. By that time you'll be over your little tantrum," he told her obstinately as she stepped out of his car.

She smiled and faced about. "Not all the king's horses," she repeated.

And then, inside the Nottingham lace of Mrs. Birch's parlor curtains, she saw the outline of a man.

She knew who it was. Only Ethan had that tall grace. Ethan, whom she had lost, Ethan who would always think her bravery shallowness: who had demanded faith and love and loyalty; who had taught her a high code and then refused to believe her capable of following it. . . . It was dreadful—it was unendurable — she must do something.

"Very well," she said desperately to Tommy. "Call. You may hear of something to your advantage."

She managed even to smile and wave her hand to him as she went in. She heard his triumphant voice floating back from the runabout—Ethen could have heard it too—

"I knew you'd give in! See you later and always!"

She made herself walk into the room. Ethan stood there, waiting for her. . . . She shivered, and pulled herself together to face him.

"Helen," he said, "I have come to ask you to forgive me."

"Don't you know where I've been? Where you thought, before. I've been off all day with Tommy. Don't you understand? Tommy Delamater. He wants me to marry him again. He wants me to marry him tomorrow. I —I shall marry Tommy."

She stopped talking and stood facing him, and waited for what he would say.

"I don't care," he was saying, "where you've been. I don't care what you've done or what you've promised. I believe in you entirely and absolutely, as you deserve. And you are going to marry me and nobody else, unless you can tell me honestly that you love him better than you do me." He came close to her and put his hands on her shoulders.

"Oh, Ethan ——" How long could she stand this? "Don't go through all this again. Haven't I told you, it doesn't matter how much you love me if you don't trust me?"

"I do trust you. Always, entirely. I ask you again to forgive me for distrusting for even a little while."

"You aren't just saying this? Not to get me back?"

"I wouldn't say it, even to get you back—I couldn't—if it weren't true. Didn't you get my note?"

"No, I went off this morning before the mail came. It was later than usual," she said mechanically.

"I wrote to you last night, thank heaven, before I'd been told anything by Ronny," he said.

"Ronny's told you ——"

He came close and took her in his arms.

"I'll explain everything, but, oh, Helen, I want you in my arms again first, mine ——"

They were in each other's arms suddenly, blessedly, as if it had been years since they were parted.

"Oh, is it real?" Helen thought; and heard Ethan say softly:

Suddenly she laughed and spoke.

"Oh, I forgot. I can't marry anybody tomorrow. Not even if more inquiries come."

"Any special engagement?"

"It's been a hard week for the Heather girls. My little sister's in trouble again, real trouble, poor baby, and I have to go down and see what I can do to straighten it out."

He put his arm around her again.

"You don't have to straighten out anybody's troubles, dear. I saw them both, and I straightened it all out. Your little sister wired me to break it to you, before she wrote you. They are both very much in love, and it wasn't hard."

"And what about Lester?"

"He was desperate, poor young fellow. But they are starting all over again down there. Jessica is to have a little house—it's quiet in the country —and the babies can play on the grass, and the shopping district is twelve miles off. So is Lester's business. So you mustn't have them on your mind any more."

There came a thud on the door, followed by the crash of its opening, and on top of that, Patricia. She made one leap, in her rainbow finery, on Helen. Patricia caught her breath once, and then demanded:

"Is it all right? Helen, are you going to marry him? . . . But you are. You're friends. . . . Oh, Helen, I'm so glad, even if I do owe Ethan six weeks' allowance! It was worth it."

Helen hugged the child close.

"And you'll come back tomorrow morning and stay with me?" Patricia persisted.

"Of course."

"All right then. And I forgot cousin Ada said wouldn't you please come to dinner if it was all right."

It had occurred to them, at the Kingsways, to straighten out the affair of Patricia and the note.

"But didn't she give you anything?" Helen demanded. "I said, 'Take this to Ethan,' and she said she would. It wasn't like Patricia ——"

"Wait," he said. "I remember now. She did give me—a paper-weight!"

"A paper-weight?"

"Why, yes. I thought it was one of her games, you know what mysterious things she has a way of expecting you to share ——"

"No—wait— I know! I weighed down the letter. Let me see:

She ran to the table.

"Here's your letter, Ethan!"

He dropped it into the bed of coals smoldering between the brass firedogs.

"So we both told the truth," she said triumphantly.

"And incidentally, I forgot to tell you that today while I was going mad with impatience I took the edge off some of it," he told her, "by breaking Doris' marriage to her father and aunt."

"Mr. Milliken may, probably will, take Ronald into business with him, if the boy likes."

"And now, Helen, I don't want to be insistent. But I'm afraid of losing you. What about next week, instead of tomorrow?"

"And what about my wedding, that your mother is planning so carefully?"

"Two weeks, then."

"Oh, I suppose I'll do it, Ethen! It's like the motto on your ring, you know. . . ."

"I've always 'gone the King's Waie!'"

They were quiet for a long moment. Then he kissed her once more.

"Not many more times, then, I shall take you home!" he said happily. "This will be your home, Helen."

"But you must take me home, now! . . ."

(The End.)

Voice of the People

THE GOLDEN BOOK.

The following letter has been received from William B. Hoskins, a Toronto lawyer who is now touring England and a former resident of Peterborough and Campbellford. Mr. Horkins is a nephew of W. A. Horkins, 178 Aylmer street:

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Feeling in a particularly appreciative frame of mind, may I thank you sincerely for the kind remarks and the photograph of me that appeared in The Examiner some weeks ago.

Since then I have travelled far and seen much. The beautiful banks of the river Clyde; the green, green fields of Ireland; old London town, and all it offers, including the "King's horses and the King's men," the British House of Commons and the House of Lords, Temple Bar and Old Bailey. I have had the honor of attending the Royal garden party at Buckingham Palace, and being one of a number to greet Their Majesties on this occasion.

I have visited the battlefields of France and Flanders where such men as ex Mayor Doxsee, of Campbelford, Dr. Stanley Armour and my brother, Dick Horkins, are buried. All these incidents, in turn, were impressive and thrilling, but none of the circumstances of my trip have equalled the experience of to-day.

As I was strolling through Westminster Abbey and meditating on the history of years ago, I noticed at the immediate right of the Unknown Warrior's grave an exceedingly beautiful stained glass window, under which was inscribed: "To the memory of the Royal Army Medical Corps, the names of whom you will find enrolled in the Golden Book, which is placed in the Chapter House." I immediately went into the Chapter House, and in haste, started to proceed within. I was stopped by an attendant, who told me that to enter there I must don special shoes which should cover my own, because the floor over which I must go was seven hundred years old and the greatest care must be taken to preserve it. This done, I was led to a glass case which was duly unlocked and I must say with the greatest diffidence and trepidation I asked the attendant to turn the pages, and then to my awe and surprise I found my brother's name: "Captain R. E. Horkins, born at Campbellford, Ontario; killed in action September 27th, 1916"; and then on another page Captain Stanley Armour. The pages of this book were turned by the aid of an ivory spatula,—they were made of the finest parchment, and each page was embossed with the finest leaf gold and at the top a picture portraying some of the incidents in the life of the Good Samaritan. This book has taken three years to compile and at a cost of $25,000.

To find the names of these boys —boys from the small town of Campbellford, three thousand miles away, and to find their names honored as the Kings and the greatest statesmen of the world have been honored—has filled me so with emotion and appreciation that I felt I must share the knowledge of this distinction with all at home.

Other stories I can pass on of great interest and comfort to those parents whose boys lie over here.

Most sincerely yours,

WM. B. HORKINS.

Quotations For To-Day

A bodily disease which we look upon as whole and entire within itself, may, after all, be but a symptom of some ailment in the spiritual part.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

THE CAPTURE OF DETROIT

On this date, in 1812, the British, under General Isaac Brock, captured Detroit. It was, considering the conditions of travel and warfare at that time, a most remarkable event. War had been declared by the United States on June 18th, 1812. A month later, General Hull, with 2,500 men, crossed from Detroit to Sandwich with the intention of making a triumphal march through Upper Canada and eventually join with another army from the south which was to attack York. But the hardy militia of the frontier had to be reckoned with. Three times the invaders attempted to cross the Riviere aux Canards; three times they were repulsed. General Brock left York on August 5 for the western frontier, but when the news of his coming reached Hull, that general decided that Detroit was a better 'ole than the marshes of Essex, so he promptly retired to that city.

Brock, having crossed Lake Erie in open boats, with 300 men, and having joined forces at Ahmerstburg with that great Indian warrior, Tecumseh, arrived at Detroit on August 16th and at once made a demand of surrender upon the American commander. Probably to his surprise, the capitulation was agreed to, and Hull surrendered not only the town but all his material of war. It was a great bag! Not only did Brock obtain possession of Detroit, but he also secured the Brig of war "Adams," 33 cannon, a large quantity of stores, the military chest, and, most valuable of all, 2,500 stand of arms. In addition he had 2,500 prisoners.

Hull seems to have been a primitive sort of chap. He was court-martialled at Albany for his surrender of Detroit, and in Adams' History of the United States we are told that "He unconsciously filled his mouth with tobacco, putting in quid after quid, more than he generally did; the spittle, colored with tobacco juice ran from his mouth on his neckcloth, beard, cravat and vest."

Brock soon left Detroit in charge of General Proctor and made his way to Fort George, there to take command of the operations on the Niagara front. He, arriving there on August 24. Nine weeks later, on October 13, he was killed at the Battle of Queenston Heights, whilst leading his men in a charge up the Heights. He died Sir Isaac, having been made a Knight Commander of the Bath in reward for the capture of Detroit; but he never knew of the royal honor and went to his death, in his own mind, just plain Isaac Brock, the beloved leader of the Canadian forces, who gave his life for his country and whose monument stands for ever on the Niagara frontier a tribute to a brave Britisher, who died for King and Country.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyst for the Readers of The Examiner.

Harry Northey,
Lakefield, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis reflects a versatile nature. You change as quickly as you feel inclined without the slightest warning. You are secretive and reticent. You like to do things in your own way and in your own time. You do not wish to be rushed into anything. Yet if you want to hurry or rush of your own accord that is quite alright as far as you are concerned. A position where you could make good use of your quick thinking brain should interest you, but it would not be well for you to enter into work where routine and detail are essential. You detest routine. You could apply yourself to a business where good taste and intelligence were essential.

Lorraine Smith,
Norwood, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis portrays a vivid personality. You are actually what one might term alive with ideas. You are individual in taste and manner. You appear to be instantaneous in thought, energetic, diplomatic and most intelligent. Designing ability is noted in the manner in which you cross your 't' bars with such deliberation. There is also a noteworthy artistic tendency which should lend intrigue to your already charming personality. The formations of your small letters in the signature significantly express the right which you hold as typically your's, to withdraw your opinion at any time, on any subject, if you feel that a better idea presents itself. You are quite conservative in your methods and in your thoughtful consideration of others. Your power of discernment is keen, and your imagination is well developed. You are persistent and persevering, secretive as regards personal affairs, polite, agreeable and well poised.

Frances Sanderson,
Peterborough, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis describes you as a determined person, yet you are not unkind in your determination. Your will power as expressed by the heavy crossing to your 't' bars, suggest excellent ability to mind your own business, and not interfere with that of others. Your disposition is not always the same though you are by no means ill tempered. You see, you are only subject to change according to circumstances and certain types of people. That is to say: People who 'get on your nerves.' Any soft toned color should appeal to you, and you will feel at your best if dressed in the color which appeals to you most when you are going out for the evening and you wish to enjoy yourself. The long lower loop attendant to your letter 'y' shows that if you had your way, you would be quite fond of out of door sports.

Eva Ostram,
198 Edinburgh St., City.

The handwriting as indicated on your sample for analysis shows that you are pleasing and friendly. You are not as physically strong as you might wish to be but you are not actually sick. However, your writing depicts a placid disposition and it reflects a certain amount of ambition. You are not one to give up very easily once your mind is set upon something and you usually manage to obtain what you desire, though in a quiet manner. Your capital letters suggest a romantic turn of mind and I think you are somewhat of an idealist. You should appreciate music and enjoy cultivating flowers. Your type should derive much benefit from the pleasure of all out of doors nature study and should not be shut up in an office. Your temperament is generally about the same and, therefore, your friends know what to expect from you.

Mrs. B. Thomas,
14 Cambridge Ave., Hamilton, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis depicts you as a person with a good deal of introspection. You are capable of planning definitely and of seeing that the plans materialize with the utmost circumspectness. You are keen minded and understand the idiosyncrasies of life. You do not expect the impossible to happen. You realize that one must endeavour to assist one's self with the brains with which nature endowed humans, and so there must be no shrinking. You are energetic and thoughtful. You conduct yourself with the utmost integrity at all times. You carry yourself with an air of freedom which marks you as distinguished and pleasing. You are adaptable and enthusiastic, but you do not rave or gush over anything. If you really like anything or anyone, you say so, honestly, and do not find it necessary to make a lot of fuss. Your capital letters bespeak generosity but it is a sensible characteristic.

Verna Gardner,
436 Driscoll Terrace, City.

Your handwriting depicts you as an individual who is never quite satisfied with a day's work. You always wish you could have done just a little more. There are times when you let yourself worry a great deal over occurences which really ought not to worry you at all. You are thrifty and utterly abhor debt of any kind. You are gifted with a noteworthy sense of proportion, and have an ardent love of family pride. You observe your friends from a standpoint of their hereditary background. The characteristics in your handwriting lend an air of refinement to you. Many, many times you are disillusioned and tired. You feel that life is not worth very much after all, but just as you reach the depths of inertia, something inspires you. You see, and remember some beautiful bright spot in your life, and encouragement flows back into your veins, then you lift up your head and carry on.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

TORONTO EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, Aug. 16. —(C.P.). — stocks ran into a realizing period to-day on the Toronto Stock Exchange, the result apparently of a weak lead from Wall Street and the usual leaders took losses on the day. There appeared to be more buying orders in the market than for several days and such stocks as Nickel, Ford of Canada, Brazilian and Imperial Oil found the drop fairly well cushioned.

At the close Nickel was off 40 cents, Ford "A" ¾, and C. P. R. ⅛. Brazilian closed unchanged at 13½. Selling was more insistent in the distillery issues and at one time Walkers common was down four points. It closed 2½ points down.

STANDARD EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, Aug. 16.—(C.P.). — A moderate selling drive stirred the mining market up to-day at the cost of a general shading of prices. Weakness in the New York market, induced apparently by another severe slump in wheat prices gave mining stocks an unsteady tone volume was fair for a summer session.

Dome and McIntyre were the chief weak spots in the senior gold group, each losing about a dollar. Lake Shore was quiet and unchanged and Hargreaves dropped about 15 cents.

In the base metals Nickel took a loss of 25 cents, Noranda 40 cents, Coast Copper 10, Hudson Bay 35 and Sherr . 8 to 1.30.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Aug. 16. (AP) — The stock market was jarred from its calm by a brief but vigorous selling flurry at the end of the second hour to-day. It quickly regained its complacency, however, and losses of 1 to 5 points were reduced substantially in late dealings.

Declines of 1 to 3 points were shown by United States Steel, American Chemical, United States Industrial Alcohol, General Motors, United States Smelting and Western Union. Transfers approximated 1,700,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 16 (AP)—With the removal of pegged minimum prices for grain on the Board of Trade to-day, all cereals dropped the extreme limits permitted at the opening.

While pegging was withdrawn, the daily price restrictions of five cents for wheat, rye and barley; four cents for corn; and three cents for oats remained in effect, and prices promptly sank the limit.

Some of the opening prices were September wheat, 87⅛, September corn 45⅝, September oats, 33¾, and September rye, 63 cents.

Trading in Chicago for the past several days had been in the doldrums, the market merely going through the routine. Opening prices had been at the pegged figures and remained stationary throughout the session with few transactions recorded.

Most of the interest had been centered on the Winnipeg quotations. The directors of the big Canadian Exchange to-day put into effect pegged minimum prices there.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 16.— (C.P.). — Weakness at Liverpool together with the maximum five-cent downturn in the Chicago market led prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to lower levels to-day, and at mid-season all values had receded to their pegged prices.

Unable to descend any further October stood at 70⅛, December at 71⅝ and May at 76⅝ cents. At the start some selling was credited to elevator interest, while Chicago houses were in on both sides of the market.

Trading generally was slow and pegged prices were touched shortly after the opening. Operations from the time on were at a standstill. Liverpool wheat closed 1⅛d to 1 ⅝d lower.

Mining Items

McWatters

According to Northern advice McWatters Gold Mines is working in high grade ore in the drift on main vein on the 150 foot level, with much visible gold across a width of 6 feet. Drifts on the lower levels also are said to be in ore running high grade. The total vein width is around 20 feet. Work is being pushed with the object of bringing the property into production as speedily as possible.

Read Authier

Read Authier Mines is proceeding with a large program of exploration work on its property in Northwestern Quebec. According to advice the main showing has been opened up for a distance of 220 feet. In one place between 5 and 6 feet of quartz is showing on surface. Samples have been taken from this find and assays will be available in the near future. Present work consists of trencning and test pitting. All five trenches have been put down over distances of 400 feet. Test pits were put down to a depth of 8 feet. A second showing has been located near the west boundary of the claims and comprises two small veins of which the largest is about 3 inches in width. A third showing has been found near the Larmarque boundary where it dips into the latter ground.

Kirkland Gold Belt

Kirkland Gold Belt Mines has good possibilities of making producer in the eastern section of the Kirkland Lake Gold field. According to George W. Morris, President the Company has kept its shaft sinking for the present and will proceed with a large program of lateral work on the four levels down to 500 feet depth.

Great Bear Lake Mines.

J. J. Bryne, manager of Bear Lake Mines has returned from the property in the Great Bear Lake district reports good progress in exploration work and important additions to mineral zones. Most of the work has been done on the Rad group which adjoins Eldorado Gold Mines at LaBine Point.

Quebec Cons. Mines.

Quebec Consolidated Mines is making good progress on it's property, according to a report from A. J. T. Wende, President. Considerable trenching has been done on the main vein and one trenching 186 feet returned good values in gold. The new find made recently abouth 75 feet south of the No. 1 vein has been traced for distance of 300 feet and shows a width of 6 feet. The new vein consists of well mineralized phrites and chalcopyrites and will widen the shear zone from 200 to 250 feet.

INSANE ESKIMO TERROR OF TRIBE

ago, and that he was going to kill all of them. He told Solomonie, Pugvik, Toomasie, Quilaweena, and all the other hunters, that he was going to kill them.

"Why are you going to kill?" his wife, Selukie, tremulously asked him.

"I am going to kill all the men, because they do not answer me right," he returned, glowering sullenly.

Then, one day in late September, he became angry with his wife, and seized his rifle, and fired a shot at her. He missed, and before he could fire again, the mood passed, and he dropped the rifle, which was taken from him.

But the hunting had to go on. They could not leave the island in the winter, as it was impossible to cross the treacherous broken ice, and they could not communicate with anyone.

February came. A cold, bitter month in the dead of the northern winter. And Ooshoakjuke had a worse spell of madness than ever before. The tribe was terrorized.

Then, one morning, Ooshoakjuke sent a little boy to tell the people that he was going to kill them all. The boy told Kudliuke, a hunter, what Oooshoakjuke had said. Kudliuke hurried through the village, warning the men, and Solomonie, Toomasie, Pugvik and Quilaweena, were the only ones who were not afraid to come out of their huts.

The four Innooet, whom the white men call Eskimos, came together, within sight of the door of Ooshoakjuke's igloo. They talked about the crisis that had befallen them, and as they talked, the mad hunter came out of his hut. He had no rifle, but they suspected and believed that he had his keen-edged knife.

Quilaweena, the oldest of the four men spoke to Ooshoakjuke, and told him to behave himself, and not to do anything evil. But Ooshoakjuke did not answer, but came to his feet and stared about him with the light of insanity in his eyes.

Quilaweena tried again to pacify him and to reason with him, while the three younger men, sensing impending tragedy, returned to their igloos and picked up their rifles. When they came back, Quilaweena spoke to them:

"Kill Ooshoakjuke," he said, urgently, "kill him, before he kills the rest of us, and our women and children!"

Solomonie and Toomasie awaited no further urging. They fired at Ooshoakjuke, who fell, wounded. But he staggered to his feet again, so the pair fired again, and Pugvik also shot him. The madman was no more.

Hastily the word was spread through the village; the mad hunter was dead. The villagers timidly ventured out of their igloos, and Hallingo, the head man, came to the spot where Ooshoakjuke lay, and stood for a moment gazing down upon the body of his tribesman.

"He might have killed us all," he said, simply, gazing about at the rest of his tribe."

Five months later, Hallingo said again: "He might have killed us all."

This time, he spoke to an interpreter, although his words and his face were directed towards Inspector T. V. Sandys-Wunsch, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who was acting as prosecutor in a court of inquiry into the killing, convened by the officer in charge, Major D. L. McKeand, justice of the peace for the Northwest Territories.

The inquiry was held in the post of the Hudson's Bay Company, at Wolstenholme, where there is no police detachment.

Major D. L. McKeand, justice of the peace, and representative of the Department of the Interior, in charge of the government expedition on board the Hudson's Bay Company patrol boat S.S. Nascopie, which brought the officials and the police into the north on their annual tour of the trading and police posts, all the way from Cartwright, Newfoundland, Labrador, and Charlton Island, James Bay, to Craig Harbor, the farthest north outpost in Canada, justified the faith placed in the government by the Eskimos.

"You must not kill men," he told them. "The white man has a law for both white man and Innuk, and if any white man or Innuk hurts an Innuk, the police will come, and if the man is guilty, he will be punished. If anyone says he will hurt you, tell the police, and they will come and take that man away. Do not shoot any other man or woman; no one likes to be shot, and no one may do it."

Stating that he would refer the matter to the proper authorities at Ottawa for disposal, Major McKeand concluded: "I cannot tell you now, what the government will say, but I will tell the Big Chief, and you will wait here to be told what he says."

The Innooet promised not to kill another man again, and to tell the police if anyone threatened them, and with the official warning and reprimand ringing in their ears, left the court, happy that their consciences were clear, having told the white man how they had fulfilled their simple, strong code of self-preservation.

Shipping On Pacific Round Table Topic

Chief subject of debate in yesterday's session was shipping on the Pacific and its relation to the development of merchant marine. Governments were found to be seeking a lower cost of transportation in order to secure markets and shipping.

Textiles were discussed at another round-table. It was stated Japanese spinners had reduced their cost of production by half and the industry was better organised in that country than in Great Britain. Incidentally, it was stated the Japanese had lately taken to wearing woollen clothes.

It was reported there is a growing consumption of wheat in Asia. High protein value is wanted and it was therefore intimated Canada has a good chance of increasing exports to that part of the world.

FORT ERIE SELECTIONS

First Race—
Imadud
Ville Crest
Sweep Trap

Second Race—
By The Sea
Granite Rock
Manotacks

Third Race—
Jere
Hereward
Charles J.

Fourth Race—
Boscobel
Devout
Hell Diver

Fifth Race—
Redress
Flying Sailor
Higher

Sixth Race—
Lommern
Fair Dawn
Poets Dream

Seventh Race—
Good Guess
Omareen
Polyp.

AS PREDICTED in this column the powerful Whitney stable are winning their share of purses at Fore Erie. Redress won on Tuesday and Banderlog on Monday. We also notice Guy Bedwell put Vaccillate over at Thistledown after giving him a few openers in Canada. Black Diamond won his third consecutive purse on Tuesday and it seems like he is back in his old time form. He was a handicapper performer a year or so ago.

• • •

YOUNG KITTY broke with the leaders her last start and according to the official racing chart she had all the early speed. About the next time out she will show them early, late and several other kinds of speed, as they are just racing her into condition. The double at Fort Erie paid off in noble figures yesterday. Pewter Crest and Marveline returning five hundred and twenty - three smackers for two bucks. Connaught paid the next highest on the day with $37.00 for $2.

• • •

IT WAS at Fort Erie about seven years ago that Guy Bedwell was campaigning a large string of horses and Willie Grump acted as his jockey. Grump was one of the best riders on the circuit at that time and on this particular day Bedwell had three horses entered in three different races and was very anxious to win all of them. Just before post time it was discovered that Grump was among the missing and a hurryup call was sent to his hotel in Buffalo where it was found he had checked out that morning.

• • •

BEDWELL WAS nearly frantic and finally decided to give the little stable exercise boy named Willie Cannon a chance for a mount and ride them he did. He won all three races and rode like a veteran. It was the start of a great riding career for Cannon who afterwards became one of the leading jockeys in Canadian and American turfdom. Nothing was heard of Grump for a long time and finally he bobbed up as a trainer and this year had the famous Head Play in his stable and sold him on the eve of the Kentucky Derby for thirty-five grand. Grump has never straddled a mount since the day he left Buffalo and gave as his reason that he felt he could no longer keep his weight down without impairing his health and he decided to take a run out. But he has certainly developed into a smart trainer and no later than yesterday saddled a winner named Cherry Time at Dade Park.

CABINET COUNCIL TO CONSIDER REFINING OF U.S. ALASKAN GOLD

Ore Be Smelted in Northern Ontario and Trail, B.C., if Canada Permits Entry.

HIGHER PRICE FOR OWNERS

OTTAWA, Aug. 16.—(CP).—Cabinet Council is expected to give early consideration to the request of United States and Alaska gold mine operators to ship their ore and concentrates into Canada for smelting and refining. At the present time, the applications are in the hands of the Department of Finance; and while the question awaits official decision, there is a tendency to view favorably the proposal.

The ore and concentrates, if Canada permits entry, would be smelted at Northern Ontario smelters and at Trail, B.C. Refining into pure gold would afterwards be carried out at the Canadian Mint in this city.

With the possibilities of official sanction, prospects loomed that the greater part of the $40,000,000 annual gold production of the republic, ranking next in output to South Africa and Canada, would be smelted and refined in Canada in the near future. By this procedure United States owners could obtain world market prices for gold averaging $29.50 per ounce in place of the fixed American Mint price of $20.57.

Any obstacle in their country to the shipment of concentrates and unsmelted ore, as well as in unretorted amalgam and cyanide forms was removed for United States gold mine operators by a week-end ruling of the Treasury Department at Washington amending the gold prohibition regulation.

The Canadian embargo against shipment of gold from this country, except by license, which became effective in October, 1931, when the Canadian dollar was on the decline on the New York market, still is in effect. Gold mine operators of this country receive a premium on all shipments to the Canadian Mint as they receive prevailing market prices.

Millbrook

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Finlayson, of California, were guests last week of Mrs. Z. Seaton. Mrs. Finlayson was a former Millbrook girl, Jennie Hillyer, and many friends were glad to greet her during her stay in the village. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Finlayson motored to Canada, and have left on their return trip, visiting at a number of points on their way back to their southern home.

RAILWAY GROUP BALKS AT CUT

10 P.C. SLASH IN BALANCE.

MONTREAL, Aug. 16.—(CP).—The Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, a national organization of clerical workers and general employees on the Canadian National Railways, allied with the All-Canadian Congress of Labor, announced here to-day that their membership of 15,000 had turned down the demand of the company for a further 10 per cent. reduction in wages.

This group, which is not connected with the international unions figuring so far in the wage dispute between railroad labor and the Canadian railroads, reached the decision to refuse the decrease after tabulation of a referendum taken from coast to coast during the past few weeks.

The result of the vote was announced by James Maguire, general chairman, after a conference with W. L. McGregor, of Winnipeg, system chairman, and W. C. Smith, of Halifax, general chairman for the Atlantic region.

Employees affected include clerical workers, freight handlers, roundhouse and car department employees, stationary engineers and firemen, classified and unclassified laborers, storage department employees, passenger station employees, ferry crews and wharf employees at Halifax.

The three executives will leave to-night for Ottawa to confer with their president, A. R. Mosher, as to what further steps shall be taken in opposing the wage cut.

F. Curzon Dobell, of Montreal, has been named by the company as their representative on a proposed board of conciliation, but the men have not made their choice as yet.

Hardwood Lamber Is Being Bought Up

Big Increase Is Noted In Pulpwood Shipments from District.

Buyers are going through the northern parts of Peterboro, Victoria and Haliburton Counties purchasing all the hardwood lumber available, according to information secured at the Crown Timber office here. The buyers represent Keenan Brothers, of Owen Sound, and the lumber is being used in the large mines in Northern Ontario. These extensive purchases have much improved the lumbering industry generally, it is said.

More pulpwood was shipped out of the same district during July than for the rest of the year. It represents four times the amount shipped in July last year. All this pulpwood, recorded in the local office, is exported to United States and good prices are being obtained for it since was contracted for in 1930 and 1931 and at prices prevailing at that time. Some of this pulpwood is used in the publishing of leading periodicals in the States, including the Saturday Evening Post.

THIRD REUNION RUNNELS FAMILY

Annual Event Held Second Sunday in August at Chard's Bridge.

RUSH POINT, August 16 (Examiner Correspondence). — On Sunday, August 13, Mrs. F. D. Barton and son Carl of Rush Point attended the Runnels picnic at Chard's Bridge. This re-union has been held the second Sunday in August for the past three years. It originated in 1931, when relatives gathered for a re-union in honor of Mrs. Benson from Manitoba, who was spending a short holiday with her mother, Mrs. John Higgle of Stirling. Mrs. Higgle, who is one of the two surviving members of the older generation of Runnels, is an aunt of Mrs. F. D. Barton and also of Mrs. Charlie Barton. In 1932 the gathering did honor to a visit from Mrs. McCormick of Chicago—a daughter of the late Mr. Ed. Runnels of Stirling. The relatives have decided to make the Runnels re-union an annual event to take place each second Sunday in August. Mr. John Runnels, the other surviving member of the older generation of Runnels, was unable to be present this year.

The first year saw some eighty relatives present, with seventy the second year. This year, however the heavy rain on Sunday morning prevented quite a number of the more distant parties from attending.

An interesting feature this year was the presence of four generations—Mrs. John Higgle, her daughter Flossie, Mrs. Art. Morrison of Stirling, her granddaughter Luella, Mrs. Andrews, and a four-year-old great-grandson from Bonarlaw.

Most of the picnic party gathered in the morning, spending the day and having dinner and supper at the tables on the lovely picnic grounds. Boating and bathing filled the happy hours for the younger members, while the older relatives chatted gaily of old times and former re-unions.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson and daughter Doreen of Campbellford, with Miss Viola Menzies. Mr. Clifford Bonner of Blairton, Mr. and Mrs. James McMullen and children Bessie and Malcolm of Campbellford. Mr. and Mrs. Delbert McMullen, with their son and daughter, from Stirling. Mr. and Mrs. Art. Morrison with their children John, Gerald, and Lucy, of Stirling. Mr. and Mrs. Abe Runnels and son William from Harold, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Payne and children Junior and Ruth of Harold, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heath from Springbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barton and daughter Pearl of Havelock, Mr. Clifford Sharpe with his three sons and daughter from Wellman Corners, and Mr. Peaks and a party of friends from Springbrook.

DR. H. B. LONGMORE IS CLUB SPEAKER

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 16 (Examiner Staff Correspondent). — The fact that the speaker at the Rotary luncheon at St. Lawrence Hotel this week, was drawn from among the membership of the club, only enhanced the interest with which the address was received.

The speaker was Dr. H. B. Longmore, who chose to tell his fellow members something of a trip he had taken to Europe ten years ago. He provided a delightful description of Paris and Lucerne, and expressed the opinion that the latter place was one of the most beautiful cities he had ever visited. The speaker remarked upon the well-kept places in Lucerne. The humblest cottage, he said, had as good an appearance comparatively, as the most pretentious residence.

On to Vienna, the doctor said he was royally entertained by a fellow traveller he had previously met on the journey. A dinner provided by his host cost 477,000 Kronen, which he hastened to explain, figured out at $7.15 in Canadian funds according to the rate of exchange at that particular time.

He spoke of Vienna from its standpoint as a famous medical centre, and also touched upon state medicine and the system of hospitals in that city.

Dr. Longmore was tendered a vote of thanks by President C. B. Williams, on behalf of the entire club.

flight of the other car and the path of the fugitives.

Traffic, clogged by incoming Worlds Fair visitors, was snarled for miles as the police blocked off the area of the search. An entire square mile of underbrush was combed. The result was the arrest of two men who claimed they were out for a hike. They were taken to headquarters for questioning.

Car Recovered

Meanwhile, detectives came upon the abandoned sedan and traced its license to the proprietor of a west side saloon. Police sent there arrested five men and took them to the detective bureau for questioning.

The identity of four of the quarry sought was given in police reports as Richard (Yuma) Phillips, known here as an underworld "fixer"; Vernon Miller, one of the notorious Harvey Bailey gang; Tommy Toughy, brother of Roger, held for the kidnapping of William Hamm, Jr., St. Paul brewer, and George Kelly, said by authorities to be wanted in the Urschel case.

The missing automobile carrying other suspects bore a Texas license plate which authorities said had been issued to Mrs. Ora L. Shannon, of Paradise, Texas. It was at Paradise that Bailey, four members of the Shannon family and another person were arrested in connection with the Urschel case.

State police kept close watch over highways leading out into the state as darkness fell, and the posse continued to tramp the woods where the suspects were last seen. But the fugitives, as one police official put it, apparently "evaporated in thin air."

BANK ACCOUNTS MAY BE SEIZED

All Suspected of Profiting in Machado Regime Involved.

PRESIDENT "WELL FIXED."

By JOHN P. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Staff Writer

HAVANA, Aug. 16 — Bank accounts and properties of the deposed President Gerardo Machado and his followers were investigated with a view to requisition by their successors to-day.

Secretary of the Treasury Joaquin Martinez Saenz, a leader in the A.B.C. Secret Society, began the probe as provincial President Carlos Manuel De Cespedes' administration weeded out persons suspected of profiting by the Machado regime.

It was reliably reported that embargoes are planned on fortunes and property of the Machadistas.

The newspaper Diario maintained Machado two months ago, when the revolution culminating in his overthrow last week was gathering force, sent Mrs. Isobel Caliger, private secretary to the chief of the palace household, to Germany to buy a home for him there.

Reports from the Bahamas said the erstwhile president planned to rent a place near Nassau. Where he did his banking was a matter of conjecture, but he is believed to have substantial accounts aboard.

Welles' Part

It was indicated that Sumner Welles, United States ambassador, who helped obtain safe conduct in Machado's flight Saturday and for General Alberto Herrera Monday, is willing to intervene as a friend in cases where it is demonstrated life is actually endangered but will not act in cases where accused persons seek to evade responsibilities under the law.

The wave of violence, in which 35 have been killed and which swept the country after Machado's fall, carried almost all provincial and municipal officers out of their posts. The A.B.C. and O.C.R.R. societies—reported to-day they had established sections for taking over governmental functions provisionally until the vacant positions are filled.

The new president, who is making his entrance into politics, has had trouble filling some of the posts, particularly in the Havana district.

Among his other difficulties is the general strike which, while practically settled in Havana, continued in parts of Camaguey and Oriente provinces, where the consolidated and northern Cuban railways were still affected and a continuing walkout tied up ports on the northern coast.

Roofing Work Meets Approval

Mr. F. Carpenter Thoroughly Familiar With This Line.

The reliability and dependability of the work done by The New Method Roofing Co., of 210 Hunter Street West, is meeting with approval everywhere. Their work stands out as that of excellent craftsmen and their famous roofing materials have proven to be one of the best on the market to-day. These materials may be had in several different styles, tone and color. There are several kinds in these classes ranging in price from the lowest to the highest, thereby suiting homes or businesses in every station of life.

This company also has a time payment plan. Call them at Peterborough 178 for estimates. They fully understand the merits of the different materials and will aid you in the selection of that which is best suited to your individual need. No matter whether you are roofing a new house, or re-roofing an old building, you will find it to your interest to consult this establishment. They realize that the roof is the most conspicuous part of the building and will give you a roof of individuality and beauty without sacrificing in any measure the protective qualities of its mission.

They realize in the beginning that there are four things to be considered. First, how will your roof look. Next, will it wear, will it be waterproof, and lastly, what will it cost. This concern is prepared to furnish you with a roof of distinctive beauty that will last a lifetime, guaranteed to be waterproof and at a cost to suit the individual. Drop in and let them show you samples.

Mr. F. Carpenter, the manager of this establishment, has had many years of experience in the roofing business and will be glad to aid you in the judicious selection of materials and will personally superintend the work. Also these leading roofers will expertly repair or replace any roof, no matter what difficulties may present themselves. We desire to compliment this concern upon the excellent service which they have given the people of Peterborough and surrounding territory. Do you know three buildings in this section that bear evidence of the superior work of this firm?

Obituary

MRS. HENRY AKEY

Many friends and relatives attended when the late Mrs. Angeline Akey, widow of the late Henry Akey, was borne to her grave in Little Lake Cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral proceeded from the home of a daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Akey, 319 Dalhousie street, to the cemetery at 3.30 o'clock, Canon R. C. Blagrave officiating.

Mrs. Akey was born in Sherbrooke, Quebec. She was in her eighty-third year. Noted for many acts of charity, she was a life-long worker of the Anglican church. She was a life member of the Women's Auxiliary in her church.

Surviving are four sons, Joseph of Hamilton, Charles and Walter of Detroit and William and one daughter, Mrs. Harry Ross of Mac Tier. Her four sons acted as pallbearers.

Central Organization Urged At Bank Probe

VANCOUVER, Aug. 16 (CP)—A central organization, corresponding to a central bank to-day had been suggested to the Royal Commission on Banking by Professor W. A. Carrothers, a member of the University of British Columbia Department of Economics. Under the chairmanship of Lord Macmillan, the commission resumed public hearings to-day.

The central organization would be the sole medium for export and import of capital and would control currency issue, rediscount bills, Dominion and foreign; legal reserve, carrying of public accounts and carrying of balances abroad.

Loans to the Dominion, Provinces, municipalities and other public bodies would be made solely from the point of view of public welfare, and without regard to profit, Prof. Carrothers explained. He said he had no quarrel with the commercial aspects of the preesnt banking system.

COTTLE—McELHINEY

The Salvation Army Temple, packed to the doors, with a capacity of seven hundred, was the scene last evening at eight o'clock of a very interesting wedding, when Gwendolyn Newell McElhiney, second daughter of Major and Mrs. J. A. McElhiney of Quebec City, formerly of Peterborough, Toronto and Ottawa, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony, to Mr. Reginald Gilbert Cottle of Ottawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cottle of that city. Major McElhiney officiated.

The ceremony was impressive and striking. Massed on the large platform were the members of the Salvation Army Senior Band, with the choir opposite. On the wall at the rear was the large emblazoned banner of the Army, and behind the bridal party, as they stood to exchange vows, were placed two tall standards, with white ribbons tied beneath the large silver "S" at their peaks.

Guests present from out of town included a large number from Toronto, also from Ottawa, Quebec City, Belleville, Bridgenorth and Chemong Park.

Major and Mrs. McElhiney, the bride and her attendants, and the bridegroom, who is Deputy Bandmaster of the Ottawa No. 3 Corps Band, were in Army uniform. The bride wore a white sash which crossed from the right shoulder to knot at the left waistline, and carried a bouquet of pink roses, lily of the valley and gypsophila, tied with pink tulle. Crimson roses tied with white, were carried by the maid of honor, Miss Elsbeth McElhiney, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaid, Miss Winnifred Cottle of Ottawa, sister of the bridergoom.

The best man was Mr. Jack McElhiney of Quebec City, while three brothers of the bride: Cyril and Wilfred of Toronto and Gerald of Belleville, and a brother-in-law, Adjutant T. Herbert Martin of Chicago, acted as ushers.

The bride entered the Temple on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march played by her sister, Mrs. Martin of Chicago, and proceeded to the platform with her attendants, where her father conducted the service, opening with a hymn, "We Pray Thee, Lord, Thy Blessing Send," accompanied by the Band, directed by Gerald Routly. Major Wollcott of the local Corps offered prayer, and the Lord's Prayer was recited in unison, and the Songsters' Brigade, with Ben Smith leading, and organ accompaniment, played by Mrs. Stanley Richardson, sang "Trust in the Lord" the soprano solo being taken by Mrs. Ivy Shadgett.

After a brief Gospel reading, the Articles of Marriage were recited by Major McElhiney and then the bride and bridegroom, in turn, repeated after him the lengthy nuptial vows, in which the interests of the Salvation Army are paramount, each promising, in the event of death, to continue with the work of salvation in the ranks of the soldiers of the Lord. The word 'obey' is omitted from the bride's covenant.

After the marriage ceremony was completed, Mr. Jack McElhiney read a number of messages from friends and adherents of the Temple, Major and Mrs. McElhiney spoke briefly, and Miss Elsbeth McElhiney, with her sister, Mrs. Martin, playing the piano, sang a pretty soprano solo, "My Prayer." The Doxology was recited, and the Band played as a finale.

In the Young People's Assembly Hall referred to by Major McElhiney as "Little Jerusalem" the familiar old name of the Army gathering place, light refreshments were served to about one hundred and fifty guests, the bridal party receiving with Major and Mrs. McElhiney and Mr. and Mrs. Cottle of Ottawa. The bride's table, with a pure white cloth, was centered by the wedding cake and arranged with vases of gladioli, phlox and cream iris lilies. White and pink streamers and bells decorated the hall, with red and green lights.

Ladies in charge of the service of refreshments were Mrs. H. Hedge, Mrs. J. T. Braund and Mrs. George Thomas. During the evening, songs were given by the bride's brothers: Jack, Wilfred, Gerald and Cyril.

Later, Mr. Cottle and his bride left by motor for Toronto and Niagara Falls, where the honeymoon will be spent, with a possible trip to Chicago before they return to reside in Ottawa, where the bridegroom is an accountant with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

SUMMER FAIR BIG SUCCESS

New Church In Ashburnham Rapidly Nearing Completion.

HOT SUPPER SERVED.

The Summer Fair of the Immaculate Conception Church was a pleasant and very successful event of yesterday afternoon and evening. Several hundred people were in attendance, for the excellent hot supper served at long tables and for the evening hours, when a social time, with games, was enjoyed, and the Country Store, with its brisk sale of useful and fancy articles, was a drawing card. Long overhead strings of electric lights illuminated the grounds.

Clergymen from the district and other points were present and members of the three city parishes. The new church engaged the attention of the friends of the parish. It has already assumed proportions sufficient to give a splendid idea of the completed edifice. Work was commenced on the 19th of March, feast day of St. Joseph; yesterday, which was the feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary into heaven, saw the completion of the stonework and the erection of the cross at the summit of the front; and it is hoped to open the new church on December 8, which is the feast of the Immaculate Conception, the name day of the parish.

The arrangements for supper last evening were in charge of an energetic committee of ladies headed by Mrs. J. Flynn. Mrs. D. Hummell, Mrs. A. Madden, Mrs. G. Hynes, and Mrs. M. Murphy.

The Sodality had charge of the booth where ice-cream and candy were sold, with the president, Miss Isabel Malane, in charge. Vincent Butler and Frank Kearney supervised the sale of soft drinks, Jim Hoolihan and P. J. Devlin had the "little Horses" game, Jim Moher was in charge of the "scoop" game, and the prize booth or Country Store was in charge of Mrs. Robert Allen and Mrs. William Dolan. Joseph Jacque was at the wheel.

Mrs. W. McAuliffe sold tickets for a breakfast room suite, which was drawn for later in the evening, and was won by Mrs. Cornelius Driscoll of Stanley Avenue.

The drawing for other prizes will take place within a fortnight.

"COMMANDER" O. E. BECKER

Wearing a swastika on his shirt sleeve and a button (shown below) depicting President Hindenburg over his heart, Commander O. E. Becker of Kitchener, Ontario, caused quite a stir when it was alleged that he was endeavouring to start a Nazi organization in Canada. Becker, however, has asked for and received deportation papers. The button is said to show his connection with the German Nazi party. Becker is seen here in the typical Nazi brown shirt. A demonstration was scheduled to be held in Kitchener for the purpose of organizing the new party.

RAILWAYS ASK MEN TO ACCEPT CUT IN WAGES

Employees May Expect Fair Dealing, It is Claimed.

JOINT STATEMENT.

Deductions To Be Lowered When Conditions Warrant.

MONTREAL, Aug. 16 (CP)—"The employees may have every confidence that, as in the past, they will be dealt with fairly," says a statement issued last night asking employees of both the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways to "accept wage deductions in a spirit of co-operation with the management."

Issued by Both Railways

The statement was issued by Grant Hall, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and S. J. Hungerford, Acting President of the Canadian National Railways.

Addressed to "all employees on the two railways employed as locomotive engineers, locomotive firemen, hostlers, conductors, trainmen, yardmen, train despatchers, telegraphers, assistant agents, linemen and levermen," the statement reviews the whole situation in connection with the dispute between the railways and their employees. A second 10 per cent wage-cut brings total wage reductions effected during the past two years to 20 per cent.

Afte reviewing economic difficulties confronting both roads, the statement goes on to say: Prospects are disturbingly uncertain and the railways must deal with actualities.

Conditions in U. S.

Under such conditions the railways cannot reasonably be expected to payq 90 per cent. of the wage rates established practically at the peak of railway and general prosperity. . . . It is not possible for them to undertake to adjust wages of Canadian railway employees on the basis of conditions existing in the United States.".

Only in 1916 were railway revenues as low as they were in 1932, the statement continues. Despite the fact the Canadian cost of living is now below that of 1916, railway employees' "per hour rates of compensation, even after the application of the second decrease of ten per cent, have increased on the average 68 per cent over the rates of pay in 1916. . . . It should be remembered that, in so far as a comparison may be made with other employees in Canada, railway employees have fared favorably."

Concluding, the statement says: The railways are seeking in the wage reductions to meet existing conditions, and the basic rates for calculating pay are being preserved so that consideration may be given to a lowering of the present rate of deduction as soon as sonditions warrant. The managements are not without hope that the employees will recognize the facts of the situation and will accord the companies the co-operation they so gravely need."

The complete statement follows:

"The existing situation in respect to the adjustment of wages calls for a statement from the railways to the employees concerned. We trust that the employees, after reviewing all the circumstances affecting the situation, will accept the wage deductions in a spirit of co-operation with the managements. The employees may have every confidence that, as in the past, they will be dealt with fairly.

"The Board of Conciliation and Investigation, appointed under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, made its report on April 25, 1933, dealing with the wages of engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and telegraphers, and its majority recommendation was as follows:

"'We beg to recommend that, according to the merits and substantial justice of the case, the proposal of the companies should be approved, to be put into effect from May 1 next, namely, the 10 percent. deduction provided in the agreement of Feb. 4, 1932, to continue, and for wages earned after May 1, 1933, an additional deduction be made of 10 per cent., thus making a total of 20 per cent. on the wages earned subsequent to May 1, 1933.

Difficult Financial Situation

"The decline in traffic has placed the railways in a financial situation the seriousness of which it would be difficult to over-emphasize. The gross revenues of the railways have shrunk to less than 50 per cent. of the 1929 levels.

"Compared even with the extremely low figures of 1932 the gross revenues of the railways have shown serious declines in the present year, the gross receipts for the first six months of 1933 being 15.1 per cent. under the corresponding period of 1932, and 52.5 per cent. below the figures for the corresponding period of 1929. Net revenues have also shown severe declines.

IN MEMORIAM

CORRIGAN—In loving memory of our dear mother, Margaret Corrigan, who died one year ago today, August 16th, 1932.
None knew her but to love her,
None knew her but in praise.
—Sadly missed by Minnie and Jim.

BULLOCK—In loving memory of our darling Maureen, who passed away August 15, 1932, age 14 months.
God needed one more angel around his shining throne,
So he bent a loving hand and took our darling home.

To think we could not say goodbye will always bring regret;
But the ones who loved you so dearly, Maureen,
Are the ones who never forget.

Birkofer Hurls His 16th Win for Toronto Leafs

SENATORS RETAIN AMERICAN LEAGUE LEAD OVER YANKEES

BRAVES TRIUMPH 2-1.

While American League baseball fans had their eyes turned toward St. Louis and Lou Gehrig's game record the others who follow the National League were watching Boston Braves to-day.

Gehrig played his 1,306th consecutive game with New York Yankees and set the batting pace with three hits as they beat the Browns 8-5 yesterday.

The Braves started their home stand against the third place Chicago Cubs in a manner which reminded fans of their famous 1926 feat when they bumped all four western clubs in succession and practically took charge of the pennant race although they finished in seventh place.

2-1 Win for Braves

Yesterday their stunt was to make five hits off Guy Bush good for 2-1 win over the Cubs, first of three western pennant contenders who visit Braves' field before moving on to New York to tackle the league-leading Giants in their current tour.

Every one of Boston's hits counted in scoring while Ben Cantwell managed to hold Chicago to a single unearned run for his 16th victory of the year although he gave 10 blows.

This result dropped the Cubs a full game behind the idle Pittsburgh Pirates and kept the Braves close behind the fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals, who won the only other game on the National League program. With Bill Hallahan pitching 6-hit ball the Cards trimmed the Phillie 5-1.

Yankees Win

The Yankee victory, gained largely through a five-run rally in the fourth that drove Jack Knott to cover and aided by Herb Pennock's relief pitching when Johnny Allen weakened. Trailing Chicago White Sox in the early innings, the Senators whaled Sam Jones for four hits and three runs in the sixth and went on to win 5-1. Al Crowder helped himself to his 19th victory of the season by starting the two Washington rallies.

A prospective mound duel between Lefty Grove and right handed Wes Ferrell turned out to be a slugging match as Philadelphia Athletics beat out Cleveland Indians 8-7. Ferrell yielded 14 hits while the Indians inserted six extra base blows among their nine off Grove. Boston Red Sox evened their series with Detroit by a 5-3 victory as they rapped Fred Marberry for three doubles in the eighth to tally three runs after the big flinger had started the inning with a walk.

ALEX MORRISON says:

It probably has never occurred to you, but it is a fact that the act of watching another player's swing has a decided effect upon your own swing.

Let me explain. Standing on the tee, waiting for your playing partner to hit, it is natural that your eyes turn toward him. Subconsciously you absorb any fault he may have in his swing. You may recognize it as a fault and determine not to do it yourself.

But you may be sure that if he lunges at the ball, you, unconsciously, will do the same thing. If he has a stiff, jerky, awkward swing you are almost certain to copy him in some part of your own swing.

Of course, this business of watching other players may work the other way. Studying the expert players will tend to help you. But when playing in "duffer" company it is best to let your partners swing at the ball unobserved—by you.

WESTCLOX GIRLS WIN EXHIBITION

Clockmakers Take 15 to 8 Victory From Maple Leaf Gang.

The Westclox Girls ironed a few of the holiday kinks out of their arms last night at the Bowl when they took on the Maple Leafs in an exhibition tussle before a good crowd and pounded out a 15 to 8 victory.

Leafs were strengthened by the two Sturgeon Sisters, Irene at first and Agnes at short, of the Linton Carpet team, and these two played heads-up ball all of the way. Lois Darling started on the rubber for the losers and progressed nicely until the seventh when the Clockers got to her for nine runs. Genevieve Mann took over the pitching at that stage and finished the game pitching smart ball. Mildred Mortimer went the whole game for the winners, fanning six and allowing only nine hits.

Laura Chartren at third handled a flock of chances for the winners, while her team-mate Marie Ferguson at short hammered the horsehide for the only homer of the game. Mildred Mortimer secured a triple and her sister Gladys had three singles in six trips.

The teams:

Bonarlaw Girls Nine Beats Visitors 19-5

BONARLAW, Aug. 16.—(Examiner Correspondence).—In a return game of softball on the Bonarlaw diamond last Friday the Bonarlaw girls softball team defeated the Evergreen girls softball team in a three innings game, the score being 19 to 5. The game was interesting despite the fact that the score was so heavy and was called at the end of the third frame on account of darkness.

Evergreen: H. McMullen, c; L. Stapley, rf; R. Stapley, p; M. Stapley, 2b; M. Heath, ss; M. Banford, 3b; D McMullen, lf; P. Stapley, cf.

BOWLMEN OUT TO BREAK TIE

Hook-up With Harrison's Tonight in Third Game of Men's Playoffs.

WINNER WEETS LINDSAY.

Sugar Bowl and Harrison's hook up in the third game of the men's City Softball League finals tonight at 6.30 at Central. Both teams have pulled smart wins and with the series tied up, this evening's setto should be a memorable one. The first game saw the Bowlmen grab it off with a very superior look, but the night before last it was all Harrison, and the Grocers looked invincible. It's a three-out-of-five series and still much in the air.

Lefty Sturgeon will likely be sent back after winning his game in this series for the Dormer crew, while either Price or Elliott is slated to do the Harrison hurling. Fans have been flocking to these contests in large numbers and getting more than their money's worth. Tonight should be no exception. The ultimate city winner tackles the Lindsay champions in the first round of the O.A.S.A.

HOWLEY OUTFIT TRIUMPHS OVER NEWARK 8 TO 2

REDWINGS WIN 9-5.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr. A. P. Sports Writer)

A large share of the credit for keeping Toronto Maple Leafs in the first division of the International League appears to belong to Ralph Birkofer, the southpaw who came to the Leafs as a "farm hand" from Pittsburgh Pirates.

Birkofer has chalked up 16 victories in minor league competition against some tough teams, and helped Toronto hold its Northern Division play-off position. He held the league-leading Newark Bears to six hits yesterday and came within one out of blanking them. The only Newark runs came with two out in the sixth when Red Rolfe smacked a double after a single and a pass. The final count was 8-2—Toronto smacked Pete Jablonowski around in the early innings and tossed in homers by Lu Blue and John Heving to make it certain.

The defeat slashed Newark's lead over Rochester to the still big margin of 9½ games as the Red Wings landed on Jersey City in the sixth inning, wiped out a Skeeter lead with seven runs against Joe Cascarella and Joe Bloomer and went on to win 9-5.

Wallop Royal 10-1

Albany Senators played an important part in tangling things up a bit more in the second division by walloping Montreal Royals 10-1 in a floodlight game as Whitey Campbell set the home team down with four hits and Albany pounded Babe Phelps out in the eighth to score seven runs in the last two innings.

Buffalo split even with Baltimore in a night doubleheader and lost a chance to slip into fifth place. A crowd of 3,663 saw the Bisons take the first game 8-7, then drop the second 14-11 as Solters ran wild in a mad scramble of a game, batting in six runs, three of them with his second homer in the ninth. Clabaugh hit a homer, triple and two singles.

18 QUARTETS COMPETE CAMPBELLFORD GREENS

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 16 (Examiner Staff Correspondent) — Eighteen district rinks competed here Monday in a friendly twilight lawn bowling tourney. Skips Coleman of Peterborough and Sheppard of Campbellford were tied with 30 points each at the end of the three-round elimination contest, although first place was won by the Peterborough visitors in a deciding end. Skip Smith of Warkworth took third prize.

Organized by the officers of Campbellford Lawn Bowling Club, the event was so successful, that it is possible a similar contest will be staged in the near future.

Warkworth sent the largest representation with four rinks. The entries were as follows: Warkworth, Allan, Smaill, Smith, Baker; Peterborough, Coleman; Belleville, McLean, Scopis; Cobourg, Wilson; Brighton, Maybee; Stirling, Whitty, Solmes, Wright; Hastings, Wellman; Norwood, Gunston, Charlton; Campbellford, Glover, Archer, Sheppard.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Canadian Press)

Alvin Crowder, Senators — Pitched and batted Senators to victory over White Sox.

Randy Moore, Braves—Doubled in ninth to drive in run that beat Cubs, 2-1.

Henry Johnson, Red Sox—Scattered Detroit hits and fanned seven for 5-3 victory.

Bill Hallanhan, Cardinals—Limited Phillies to six hits.

ELECTRICS HAVE BACKS TO WALL

GAME STARTS AT 6.

C.G.E., with their backs to the wall and facing elimination in the E.P.L. playoffs, will tackle Cogs tonight fighting furiously. The Electrics, thought to have the best chance of copping the flag again, received the biggest jolt of the year Monday when the Clubmen swamped them 13 to 0, three- hit pitching by Billingsley being largely responsible. But C.G.E. are noted for fighting back and they will be in there when the two teams meet at six tonight with both feet and are confident of completely reversing the decision. It should be a swell old battle.

Lefty Dunkerley is the main hope of Manager Frank Barrie to pitch, and Percy Vannest is the likely starter for Cogs. Another large flock of fans will likely be on deck to see if Cogs can repeat or fall before the battling Electrics. The series may end in a two-out-of-three set of games, possibly tonight, if Cogs win. It depends upon whether or not the O.B.A.A. orders a winner declared this week. If not, then it will be three out of five, and C.G.E. will have a better chance, after dropping that first game.

Omemee In Tie Game With Black Hawks

(Examiner Correspondence.)

OMEMEE, August 16. — Omemee's Intermediate Softball Team played the return game at the Athletic grounds here with the Black Hawks of Lindsay, and after eight innings of real good ball the teams were deadlocked at 5 runs each.

Good fielding by both teams featured the game and both pitchers turned in good games. Omemee collected 6 hits and 3 bases on balls, and made 2 errors, while Lindsay had 5 hits, 4 bases on balls and made 2 errors.

The line-ups:

Score by innings:

Omemee .. .. .10110200—5
Lindsay .. ..01021001—5

150 GOLFERS START TODAY IN OPEN PLAY

Battle Plans All Set For Canada's Major Golf Classic.

ON ROYAL YORK COURSE.

TORONTO, August 16 (C.P.).—One more day of preliminary conditioning and the select field of 150 aspiring club wielders will set out in quest of Canada's major golf classic, the open championship over the punishing, but beautiful Royal York Course. The opening shots of the battle for the title will be fired on Thursday over a route of 18 holes, with a similar test on Friday and a wind-up of 36 holes on Saturday.

Sharpshooters from all parts of the United States and Eastern Canada have already brought their war clubs into play to test the ground, with such great money players as Gene Sarazen, U.S. professional champion, Leo Deigel four times winner of the Canadian open crown, Ralph Guldahl, runner-up in the U.S. open, and a host of others in action yesterday. All were agreed that the course was one to test the greatest skill of the field, as the Royal York is studded with 112 well placed traps and two water hazards in addition to narrow fairways and troublesome rough.

Good Scores in Workout.

While the competitors were not extending themselves in their workouts yesterday, several sparkling scores were carded, including an approximate 72 by Deigel and 73 for Sarazen.

Guldahl, the debonair St. Louis professional, also indicated he was at the peak of his form with a score of 73. He has been on the course since Sunday, longer than any of the other aspirants for the crown now worn by "Lighthorse" Harry Cooper, of Chicago. "I wouldn't be here if I didn't have serious designs on that crown," Guldahl remarked after his round.

The defending champion was due to make his appearance to-day along with such other aces as Johnny Farrell, Tommy Armour, Al Watrous, George Von Elm, in addition to Ross Somerville the London, Ont., holder of the U.S. amateur title and most of the Montreal contingent.

Out ..... 443 443 435 —34
In ..... 454 344 355—37—71

TERRIERS HOLD ONE GAME LEAD

Lefty Lesurf Will Likely Pitch To-night for Locals in O.B.A.A. Game.

AGAINST OSHAWA.

Lefty Lesurf, Terriers' ace southpaw, will probably pitch tonight at Stevenson Park against the Oshawa team in their second O.B.A.A. semi-final series game. Terriers won the first behind star twirling and fine hitting by their portsider and his teammates. If they win tonight, they will go into the Ontario finals, but if they lose a third game on neutral grounds must be played to settle it.

The contest this evening starts at 5.30 and promises to be a fine minor league fixture. A huge crowd is expected to see the classy youngsters in action. They both play good ball and the issue will likely depend on hurling. Lesurf had a big edge on flinging when they met last week in the Motor City stadium before a large crowd of five hundred home fans. He shows every indication of becoming another Frank Whitehouse, being one of the best looking lefthanders to come up in recent years. Eddie Starr, a great receiver and one who has been to the Ontario finals several times, will do the catching, and the whole squad will be on deck and ready for a battle. Herb Ralph, local manager, expects a close contest.

Clerks Take 16-11 Victory From Saints

CAMPBELLFORD, August 16 (Examiner Staff Correspondence.)—Old-time rivals, the Clerks and the Saints locked horns on the softball diamond here last evening, the former winning with a 16-11 decision, in a well-played game.

Four runs, including a homer in the seventh, were contributed to the Clerks' score by E. Bush. Holmes was on the mound, and twirled high class ball.

St. Andrew's were eleven runs behind their opponents, when they went in to bat in the final innings, and despite the rapidly gathering twilight which made it difficult to see the ball, they added another six runs to the five already standing to their credit. Dr. Stuart with a hard slug to outfield, with two men on bases, aided materially in reducing the Clerks' lead.

The score by innings:

Clerks	202 202 35x—16
Saints	031 001 006—11

The line-ups were as follows:

Clerks—Hendy, lf; E. Bush, 2b; Campeny, ss; MacArthur, c; Holmes, p; Reynolds, rf; Gillespie, 1b; Upton, cf; Atkinson, lf.

Saints — Meyers, 1b; Cowell c; DeCarrol, 3b; Hopping, ss; Dr. Stuart, 2b; McComb, p; Little, lf; Keating, cf; T. Owens, rf.

LONG LOST ARTICLES FOUND WHEN RIVER BED IS DRAINED

REPAIRS TO WALL.

CAMPBELLFORD, August 16 (Examiner Staff Correspondence).—For the first time in over seven years, the bed of the Trent River between the upper and lower locks was laid bare last week-end.

The water was run off by the Trent Canal staff on the section of the river within the town boundaries, in order to facilitate repairs to the core wall and to the cement intake pipe into the Campbellford Cloth Company's mill. Drained early on Sunday morning, the water level was back to normal on the evening of the same day.

In the brief period that the water was out of the river, plenty of fun was provided for anyone who desired it. According to report several fish were caught as they floundered around in the mud, while the river bed also yielded many surprises in the way of "salvage."

Don MacArthur, one of the many young men who waded into the mud in search of fish, grabbed a 17-pound maskinonge, and landed it without the aid of hook or line but not without getting bitten on the hand.

Robert Morrison caught a ling—a fish which is a cross between a mudcat and an eel, and which is rarely seen in local waters.

Find Brace and Bit.

Among the more unusual finds was a brace and bit—a little rusty but otherwise in a good state of preservation, which was retrieved from the mud by Bob Poulton. It is surmised that it was dropped overboard at some time from one of the many pleasure cruisers that pass up and down the waterway.

Equally curious was the discovery of twenty coppers by Llewelyn Reynolds. They were all in a neat little heap. It is presumed that the coppers comprised the loot of two miscreants who held up a small store at Hoard's over two years ago. It is recalled that two petty thieves visited the store, escaped with the meagre contents of a till, and were afterwards chased by police. They eluded capture, even though two shots were fired after them by taking to the river at Campbellford. The coppers were perhaps dumped into the river, as a means of getting rid of the evidence if capture should have been effected.

On Saturday evening Thomas Pope was walking along the core wall past the Baptist Church when he had the misfortune to drop his eye-glasses into the river. He heard that the river had been drained on the day following, and went down to look for the lost spectacles. Curiously though he found the case, but what had happened to the eyeglasses that were inside, remains a mystery—they were gone.

The King Races

APSLEY

St. George's A.Y.P.A. met with a flattering reception at Wilberforce on Friday evening when they performed their three-act mystery drama "The Mystery of the Third Gable" before a full house in the Orange Hall. A number of people attended from Tory Hill, fourteen miles distant, and several tourists were among the audience. The play was followed with intense interest, the performers receiving quite an ovation at the end of each act. Orville Peters, who was absent at the last production at Glenalda was back again in his role of Judge Sherwood and Mrs. G. Kilborn took the double role of Sally Sherwood and Janet Morgan. A heavy thunderstorm at the conclusion of the performance delayed the company's return journey and it was four o'clock a.m. when they started on the thirty mile ride to Apsley. The door receipts amounted to nearly twenty-two dollars.

Four young men evangelists of the Toronto Bible Society have been conducting a very successful mission for the past two weeks at the United Church in Apsley, attracting large congregations, both at the church and at their open air meetings. They are remaining here for another week.

BOONE IS TWO POINTS BELOW ORIOLE PLAYER

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

(By Canadian Press.)

A revamped International League Big Six appears to-day following the biggest upheaval among the batting leaders for some time. Yesterday, Julius Solters of Baltimore went on a hitting rampage and regained the leadership at the expense of Ike Boone of Toronto, with whom he has been battling for first place for the past two months. Solters went up to .365, while Boone eased a point to .363.

BELLEVILLE JUNIORS WIN FROM FOXBORO NINE 8-4

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 16—Crystalac Juniors defeated the league leading Foxboro nine of the South Hastings League last night in an exhibition tilt by the score of 8-4. Both teams used the game as a warm-up in preparation for the coming playoffs. The winners used four pitchers, Langman, Hammett, Hall and Lee, all of whom were far superior to the Foxboro batters, whiffing a total of nine in five frames. Gray, with three safeties, led the hitters. Foxboro gathered only four hits. Score:

Foxboro	002 02—4	4	2

Batteries: Langman, Hammett, Hall, and Thomas; Ashley, Ketcheson and Stewart.

Cubs And Kiwanis Battle To 6-6 Tie

Cubs and Kiwanis bantams played to a 6-6 seven-inning baseball tie last night. It was a fine ball game with excellent pitching and good fielding. Phelan for the Cubs held the Clubmen to three lone hits and fanned seventeen in the seven stanzas, while Gardino on the other hilltop struck out twelve and was touched for seven hits. The next game between these teams will be played Thursday at six at the Sacred Heart Grounds. The teams:

75 Cents Per Night Is Pay For Wrestler

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 16. (CP)—The groan and grunt boys of wrestling matches here get from 75 cents to $1.50 for their contortions, Frank Marcus, one of them testified in a judgment suit. A janitor sought to collect $2 a night for setting up chairs in the hall but Judge T. J. Pruss ruled that setting up chairs was not as hard as wrestling so he dismissed the action.

"I think I'll send Lefty Lesurf right back at them," Manager Herb Ralph of the Terrier Juveniles informed us when asked which of his twirlers would be used against Oshawa here this evening. Lefty stood them on their ears in the Motor City stadium before five hundred fans to give the local juveniles the first game of the O.B.A.A. semi-finals, and we hope he can repeat tonight. These two classy young outfits meet at 5.30 in Stevenson Park, and that's one game we don't want to miss seeing. Should be a dandy kids' battle with plenty at stake and a large crowd ought to be on hand.

• • • • • • •

Two local playoff games are also booked here this e'en, C.G.E. and Cogs tangling in the second E.P.L. series game at 6.00 down at the Ex., and Sugar Bowl tying into Harrison's at 6.30 in the third men's softball final at Central. Both promise to be good battles, and we wouldn't hazard a guess as to the winner in either case. C.G.E. lost the first E.P.L. game by a staggering score to Cogs, it being a real upset. The men softball finalists have each copped a playoff tilt to date.

• • • • • • •

No senior game in Kingston tonight. The local executive informed the Limestone officials that they would not play owing to the death of their former star right-fielder, Vern Beavis. And the Ponies agreed to the postponement. Next game will be staged here Saturday and the fourth game in Kingston the following week, a fifth, if necessary, being played a few days later on neutral grounds. The C.O.B.L. winner is supposed to meet the Oshawa-New Toronto winner by August 26th, a week from this Saturday.

• • • • • • •

Here's a telegram we received from F. C. Beaudry, sportswriter of the Kingston Whig-Standard: "Please convey to family of late Vern Beavis sincerest sympathy. A gentleman and a sportsman, death of Beavis will be keenly felt here." Yes, a gentleman and a sportsman—that about sums it up. It was a sad bunch of players with their coach and executive officers who gathered at Stevenson Park last night and went to the Beavis home to pay tribute to a teammate and pal who is no more. There wasn't a fellow as popular on the Petes' team as Vern—that's the kind of fellow he was.

• • • • • • •

Ken Colling of Belleville, who writes sports when he isn't umpiring, or is it vice-versa?, didn't think we should go out of the C.O.B.L. for umpires in this playoff series. He thinks by paying extra money for two outside men, C.O.B.L. umps may be hard to satisfy next season, and says that we get just what we pay for. His parting shot is to the effect that in days gone by, C.O.B.L. umps were good enough for playoffs with never a squawk—oh, Kenneth, what a memory!—because they were baseball players then and not umpire-baiters. No, we shouldn't have much trouble getting umps again next year, and a good official is a good one regardless of how much he's paid. And by getting Sheppard and Oswin for the playoffs, the loop got its money's worth no matter what they cost—this pair being real arbiters. And no umpire-baiters in the old days?—that must be a hearty chuckle to the oldtimers!

• • • • • • •

Frank Scully, Petes' secondbaseman this season, although only in six games during the schedule, hit .357 and proved to be the steadiest infielder on the locals' lineup. Out with a fractured skull early in the season, he was missed a great deal at the keystone sack where he covers a lot of ground and takes everything. Since his return he has been hitting and fielding in oldtime style—except for an off-day here Saturday when he slipped up on three. However, Frank is just about the most valuable player in his position in the loop and will doubtless be much in evidence before the series is over. Had he been in the lineup all summer, the Petes would likely have finished ahead of Kingston.

• • • • • • •

Pete McGillen has lined up a real classy all-star gals' softball team—which he calls the "Aces"—for the exhibition game at 6.45 in the Bowl Thursday. His team plays Mike Latimer's All-Stars for the benefit of St. John's Ambulance Corps. This is the bunch Pete has: Dot Gainor, catcher; Mary McCarthy, pitcher; Irene Short, first; Grace Hawkes, second; Helen Nelson, short; Marie Ferguson, third; and Rose Drimmie, Verna Dixon and Amelia Edwards in the outfield. The other team's battery will be Genevieve Mann and Dot Millar.

• • • • • • •

Work has begun over at the Ashburnham Bowl on the grandstand at the north end and is due to be finished for the play-offs to help seat the hundreds of fans who flock there for the finals. First playoff game is here Saturday at 6.30, second one being in Keene Tuesday at the same hour, with Keene and Westclox coming back to the Bowl Thursday. It's best three out of five for the loop title and the Percy Bond cup, now held by Keene. The Alarm Maidens won their game from Maple Leafs last night but must play better ball than they showed there to wallop the classy Keenesters—else we'll give up predicting and start reminiscing like a lot of old ducks on the "good old days".

Picking 'em off the grape-vine: Senior baseball players, coach and officers will attend the funeral of the late Vern Beavis at 2.30 tomorrow . . . . Pall-bearers will be Hollingsworth, Rose, Foley, Whatley, Kitchen and Ash . . . . Cobourg in Port Hope to-night, and Millbrook vs. Dintys Inn Friday is the way Inter-County lacrosse games are scheduled the rest of the week . . . . It's Ordes and Brintons in a City gutted-stick fixture on Thursday . . . . Phelan fanned seventeen and issued just three hits for Cub bantams 'gainst Kiwanis here last night in seven innings! . . . . Lesurf and Starr of the local juveniles who play to-night at Riverside make up as smart a looking battery as we've seen in years.

Pedalling Caravan Will Finish To-day

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 16 (CP) With more than a dozen of the remaining 37 riders still in a contending position, Willie Spencer's cycling caravan left here to-day on the last leg of their two-week endurance test. The riders will complete their grind by circling the track in the baseball Stadium when they reach Montreal late to-day.

For the second time in two days the leadership—which had remained in possession of Torchy Peden for more than a week—changed hands when Joe Laporte of Montreal picked up enough time in yesterday's Toronto-Kingston lap to go to the front.

Ewald Wissel of Germany finished first in yesterday's race, riding his rivals into the ground with a steady pace for the last 50 miles. Frankie Elliott of Vancouver, by virtue of his victory in the 100-mile indoor race at Toronto had usurped Peden's position at the head of the parade, faltered and dropped back into second place.

HAMBLETONIAN STAKES FOR $40,000 TO-DAY

GOSHEN, N.Y., Aug. 16 (AP)—The little town of Goshen to-day Paid homage to the member of its equine "first citizen," Hambletonian 10th, with the seventh renewal of the Hambletonian Stake, a $40,000 race that is considered the "Kentucky Derby" of light harness racing.

Hambletonian 10th, an ancestor of about 95 per cent. of the trotters and pacers who compete in the Grand Circuite races here and all over the country, was born near Goshen and now lies not far from the village with an imposing monument to mark his resting place. Because of this fact, Goshen and William H. Cane, the Hackensack, N.Y., contractor, who sponsors harness racing at Good Time Park, annually outbid all other towns for the great race of the year and see 30 000 or more horse lovers pour into a town of perhaps a tenth that size.

TENNIS QUEEN STILL FAVORED TO HOLD TITLE

Competitors Have Easy Time as Tournament Passes Into Early Stages.

DOROTHY ROUND FALTERS.

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Aug 16 (CP)—Two more days of easy sailing faced women tennis aces of Great Britain and the United States to-day, as the United States Women's Tennis Championships proceeded through the early stages. There was no major upset yesterday.

But the early rounds have convinced observers that the chances of Mrs. Helen Wills Moody winning her eighth American title are still very good. "It's sheer stupidity to try to beat her from the back court," said one prominent player while watching Queen Helen sweep Dr. Esther Bartosh of Los Angeles in her opening match yesterday.

Mrs. Moody's chances, however, also were strengthened when Dorothy Round, the English girl who gave her such a hard battle at Wimbledon, failed to play impressively against Eugenie Sampson, an unseeded player from Illinois. It was Miss Round, who at Wimbledon, rushed in constantly, keeping Mrs. Moody stooping for low, crosscourt volleys, and came nearer defeating the champion than has any woman in many a year.

Against Miss Sampson yesterday, the English Sunday school teacher played uncertainly and dropped the first set 4-6. She rallied to take the next two, 6-1, 6-2. Other English girls, such as Freida James, Mary Heeley, Margaret Scriven and Betty Nuthall, came through easily. Miss James defeated the only Canadian entrant, Jean Burritt of Toronto, 6-3, 6-3.

Frederic March

At the request of the studio, foremost scientific authorities of the nation some time ago made predictions as to what life may be like in the future.

Various studio writers tried to weave these replies into a story. Now Thompson Burtis has done one for Claudette Colbert and possibly for Frederic March.

In it you'll see a world where: Automobiles will derive their power from electrified roads; stratosphere planes, carrying from 1,000 to 3,000 passengers, will hurtle back and forth from Europe at 600 miles an hour; the country from New York to Boston will be a solid city, possibly domed over; people will live in glass-like houses constructed so that, by polarization of light, the inmates may look street can't see in; cocktails will street cant see in; cocktails will be replaced by perfumed gas wafted through the room (what if you're on the wagon?); only qualified people will be allowed to marry and have children; the life span will be increased 10 years and health will be maintained up until just before death.

How would you like that?

Vina del Mar wrote this story especially for the star. On the set last year, she asked Joan what kind of a part she'd like to do. "A sort of feminine James Dunn, as he was in 'Bad Girl,'" said Joan. The answer was "Pretty Sadie McKee."

Word goes around Hollywood that the screen's newest sensation as a child actor may be Harry Shar Low, 4-year-old Chinese boy, now playing his third role in the last few months.

Born in New York, this almond-eyed youngster speaks both English and Chinese, the latter with an American accent. He comes by his acting talents naturally as both parents have played on the American stage. Their last appearance was in "The Honorable Mr. Wu."

The young actor's first part was that of a newsboy in "International House." Fox snapped him up for "Shanghai Madness" and later for "Charlie Chan's Greatest Case."

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, August 17

According to the mutual aspects of the planets of social, artistic, romantic and domestic affairs, this is likely to be a day of most pleasant and happy memories. In the realm of friendship, courtship or marriage most gracious and propitious stars hold away, these tending to increase happiness, advance the position as well as substantially increase the fortunes and prestige, either by high social, artistic or romantic affiliations or by the favor of those in high places. A secret enmity may be dragged into the open and disposed of.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a very happy, progressive and profitable year, with the private affiliations enhancing the position, prestige and fortunes. Friendship, courtship and social popularity all combine to further the interests and bring personal happiness and gratification. A secret enemy is disposed of.

A child born on this day should be friendly, gracious, noble, popular and ambitious to shine socially or in artistic or fashionable life. It should be respected and powerful therein and in artistic realms.

THE BEST INTENTIONS IN THE WORLD

I've learned something.

It's taken me a long time, but I think I have learned my lesson at last....After many a disturbing, regretful experience.

I've learned to suspect my motives when I decide to do something with the Best Intentions in the World.

It may sound silly, but I think I'm right about this. Though I may be wronger than usual.

• • •

But, looking backward, remembering the mistakes that make me wince, make me flush with embarrassment and annoyance that my memory should be so persistent, I am reminded that nearly always when I got into trouble it was because I interfered with the Best Intentions in the World.

I thought I was helping somebody. I though something was my DUTY. I was sure that if I didn't do this, nobody else would; so I moved in on somebody's life and messed things up....I gave advice when it was not requested. I helped where no help was needed, I hurt somebody's pride and covered myself with confusion. And my regret over those episodes is greater than my regret, I think, for my failures on other occasions to do what I SHOULD have done. And my excuse, always, was that I was acting with the Best Intentions in the World.

But it's no decent excuse at all, really. It's just a defense, a bit of soft soap for the injured self-esteem.

• • •

I remember a story that Irvin Cobb wrote It was about a young banker and a woman who lived in the Other Part of Town....

He helped her with her investments, and built up a considerable fortune for her. He was the only man she knew who gave her any disinterested advice or help. So she liked him, and didn't forget....

He became wealthy and eventually was asked to accept the nomination for United States senator and if he entered the race was assured of victory....

But just as he was about to accept, this somewhat notorious woman died, and when they opened her will they found that she had given all of her money to the banker.... It ruined him. There was no explanation, and he was surrounded by snickers and sly winks, as he went down the street....

Just as you, perhaps, and I—of course—have done.

Interesting Program At Thomasburg Meet

(Examiner Correspondence.)

THOMASBURG, August 16. — The Aubust meeting of the Women's Missionary Society, was held at the home of Mrs. Wesley Moynes on Tuesday afternoon when the roll call was answered by a verse of Scripture. Twenty-eight members were present.

Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. Raymond Oliver were appointed a committee to pack the bale for the needy—the bale to be sent to Toronto.

Mrs. G. Sherry led in prayer and Mrs. George Jones gave a temperance reading. Mrs. J. Chappelle contributed a reading, "The Church of the Kingdom of God Movement." Mrs. Lucy Fox followed with a reading on Christian Stewardship. A duet was sung by Mrs. H. B. Herrington and daughter Lucille. Mrs. J. Brown read a chapter of the Study Book, and Mrs. J. Jones read the history of the Auxiliary. During the program, Mrs. Margaret Embry, who has been a member for forty years, was presented with a lovely bouquet of flowers.

Alkali soils are characteristic of arid or semi-arid districts only and these in Canada may be said to be restricted to certain areas of British Columbia, Southern Alberta, and, in a limited degree, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

HEARST MAYOR ALLOWED BAIL

Appeals 3 Month Sentence for Driving Car While Intoxicated.

CHIEF IS REINSTATED.

HEARST, Ont., August 16 (C.P.). —Tangled civic affairs of Hearst to-day found Chief of Police J. Des Groseillers back on the job after a brief suspension and Mayor Vital Brisson out on $1,000 bail with an appeal entered against conviction and sentence of three months for operating an automobile while intoxicated.

Following the Mayor Brisson's conviction, Chief Des Groseillers in his capacity as town foreman was charged with improperly doing gravel work on the street that should have been done on another. Mayor Brisson ordered the Chief of Police suspended.

Stirred by this action, it was reported, the town firemen threatened to resign, but a subsequent meeting called by the Mayor to confirm the Chief's suspension, rescinded the order.

When the matter came to a ballot the majority of the councillors voted against the Mayor, and today Chief Des Groseillers is back on the job, while Mayor Brisson awaits hearing of his appeal.

Police Court

Police are active in trying to curb the practice among boys and young men of carrying a passenger on their bicycles. A youth was charged in Police Court with the offence and pleaded guilty. He was let off without payment of a fine, and was severely warned. It is the first time in the memory of Inspector Reid that a person has been charged here for the offence but more charges will be laid and fines levied, he said, if the dangerous practice is continued.

A local man, who said he had never been in court before, pleaded guilty to intoxication. He was fined $10.00, but the J.P.'s considerately did not levy any costs upon him.

Pickets Continuing On East City Home

In last evening's Examiner it was stated that the pickets had been withdrawn from the home of Albert Cooper, 612A Armour Road, by the Unemployed Committee. The committee states this is not entirely the fact, that while the big body of men picketing the home has been withdrawn five men are still on the job and will continue to remain until the matter is satisfactorily adjusted. Despite what has been suggested in articles in out-of-town papers the members of the committee make the statement that they are not "bluffing" regarding their actions in connection with evictions.

Ready For Hop

General Francesco de Pinedo, ABOVE, Italian air ace, twice the conqueror of the Atlantic, was forced to postpone his transatlantic flight due to bad weather. The airman is now due to take off any moment from Floyd Bennett field in an effort to break the non-stop distance flight mark recently set by Codos and Rossi, French airmen. His destination is Karachi, India.

Justified

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 16. — (CP)—Disposing of a marital proceeding today, Vice-Chancellor Malcolm G. Buchanan said a husband was "perfectly justified" in slapping his wife if she called him "bad names."

Commenting on the evidence the vice-chancellor said:

"She admits she has called him bad names and says he slapped her in the mouth for doing so. He was perfectly justified in slapping her in the mouth under the circumstances and his doing so can in no way justify her leaving. She has left her husband utterly without justification because she wants to."

Will Probe Combines Is Promise of King

ASSINIBOIA, Sask., Aug. 16. — (C.P.). — Passage of an economic investigation act to probe existence of combines and the setting up of a national commission to handle unemployment would be the first acts of the Liberal party, if returned to power, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, told a large audience here.

Combines, the Liberal leader said operate in defiance of the public good and he believed much could be accomplished by shedding the light of publicity upon them. "If we were dealing with unemployment we would not do it in the present haphazard way, he continued. We would set up a national commission which would utilize societies such as the Red Cross and Salvation Army.

KILLED IN FALL

TORONTO—Injuries received in a 20-foot fall from a sunroom window at the rear of his house proved fatal to Constable John Moore early to-day. Constable Moore returned home last night, complaining of being unwell. He went to the sunroom window to raise it when he collapsed and pitched out head first, landing on a milk bottle in the yard below. The bottle pierced his skull.

$125 COLLECTED SPECIAL PRIZES

Plans Are Discussed For Fall Fair at Seymour Society Meeting.

COMMUNICATIONS READ.

(Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 16.—Two meetings were being held simultaneously in town last evening. One was the adjourned meeting of the Town Council held in the Town Clerk's office, and which was to deal with the tax sale lists, while the other meeting was that of the directorate of Seymour Agricultural Society in the library basement.

Robert Innis, president of the Seymour Agricultural Society presided at the latter meeting where plans were discussed for the Fall Exhibition to be held at the latter part of September.

The directors of the Fair were encouraged to note that already $125 had been collected in cash and goods for the special prizes. It was confidently anticipated that the sum would be increased to $200, by the time that various other supporters of the event, had added their contribution to assure its continued success.

Allottment of the special prizes, is to be left in the hands of the Finance Committee, in accordance with the policy that was successfully adopted last year.

George Kingston, secretary of the Board read a sheaf of communications respecting judges for the various classes at the show, and also from entertainment specialists, submitting prices and offers to bring their specialties on to the midway

8 MARRIAGE LICENSES ARE ISSUED FOR JULY

(Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 16. — Eight marriage licenses—a record for any one month, were issued by Town Clerk John F. McGregor in June.

It was this unprecedented rush for licenses that placed the clerk in the unhappy position, the other day, of having to ask a local young couple to call back at the office later. He found he had run clean out of license forms.

The blushing pair promised to return. They did not do so. But as they are married now, it is presumed that they not only obtained their license elsewhere, but that they also got an out of town parson to tie the nuptial knot.

Only one license has been issued this month, so far, despite the fact that the clerk now has a new batch of license blanks on hand.

DURING BABY'S TEETHING TIME

The Bowels Become Loose

Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps, manifest themselves; the gums become swollen, and cankers form in the mouth. This is the time when the mother should use and perhaps save the baby's life.

On the market for 88 years.

Price, 50c. a bottle at all druggists or dealers.

The chemical compounds known collectively as alkali comprise chiefly sodium sulphate (Glauber's salts); sodium carbonate (washing soda); sodium chloride (common salt); magnesium sulphate (Epsom salts); and occasionally the chlorides of calcium and magnesium.

NO DEPRESSION

LONDON, Ont.—Canadian National Expressmen here are sure the depression is all washed up. For they have a brand new tractor to haul trucks around the station, something they lacked even in the good old days before 1929.

Why go thru the misery of

HAY FEVER

or Summer Asthma this year? There's no need.

Mr. Abe High, So. Cayuga, Ont., used to suffer with Hay Fever from spring to fall. Had splitting headaches and a continually running nose. Thoroughly miserable. For many years he could hardly do any work in July and August. "RAZ-MAH is just like magic with me," he writes. "Half an hour after I take a dose the whole trouble is absolutely gone. I don't think I take two $1 boxes a year." Try RAZ-MAH. Clean CAPSULES. No sprays, smokes or serums. No harmful drugs or bad after effects. Guaranteed relief from a $1 box or your money back. At all drug stores.

DON'T LET HAY FEVER OR SUMMER ASTHMA START. USE

CAVERS—BRETHEN.

NORWOOD, Aug. 16.—(Examiner Correspondence).—On Saturday, August 12, at 6 p.m., in the Norwood United Church, a social event of more than local interest took place in the marriage of Reta Knox Brethen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Brethen, of Norwood, and Clare H. Cavers, eldest son of Mrs. Cavers, of Brantford, and the late Rev. C. A. Cavers, the Rev. C. A. Brethen, B.A., of Grace Church, Trenton, cousin of the bride officiating.

The fine old stone church was beautifully decorated with pink gladioli and ferns by well-wishers of the bride and filled with the many friends of the contracting parties, made a very pretty setting for the consummation of this happy event. The bride was given in marriage by her father, G. A. Brethen, ex-M.P. for East Peterborough. The wedding music was played very expressively throughout by Martin B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O., organist of St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. During the signing of the register, Miss Jessie Pattison, also of St. Paul's Church, delighted the many present with a sympathetic rendering of that beautiful number, "Because."

The bridal gown was a full length model of white suede lace over taffeta on slender lines, flaring gracefully at the knees, with a jacket of same material, the sleeves skirted at the elbow and caught tightly at the wrist. The veil was of embroidered net in cape shape, caught with orange blossoms at the back, worn by the bride's mother at her wedding. Her flowers were Butterfly roses with gypsophilla, and her only ornament a beautiful white gold wrist watch, the gift of the groom.

Miss Anna Brethen, of the Ontario Hospital staff, Whitby, sister of the bride, made an attractive maid of honor, wearing a jacket frock of pink Mousseline de Soie with godets in the skirt. Her hat was of the same material, as was her muff, and each was trimmed with hand-made flowers in green and pink. Miss Margaret Brethen, younger sister of the bride, the braidesmaid, was dressed in seafoam green organdie, with pink taffeta sash and slip, and carried an old-fashioned nosegay.

J. Ross Cavers, B.S.A., of St. Paul, Minn. brother of the groom, was best man, while Hector L. Ford, B.S.A., Peterborough, and Victor N. Thomas, of Toronto, were the ushers, the groom presenting each of the attendants with a suitable gift commemorative of the occasion.

Mrs. G. A. Brethen, mother of the bride, was gowned in flowered chiffon of the pastel shades, with blue felt hat and satin shoes to match. She wore a corsage bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. Ada Carvers, mother of the groom, wore a gown of triple sheer material in guardsman blue, with matching French felt hat, and wore a corsage of roses.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at "Hillcrest," the home of the bride, six girl friends from Eglington United Church, Toronto, assisting.

In addition to the many local friends of the contracting parties, guests were present from Ottawa, Picton, Peterborough, Toronto, Guelph, Brantford and Buffalo, all bespeaking by word and beautiful gift their esteem and best wishes for the bride and groom.

After the reception, the happy young couple left amid showers of confetti, etc., by motor for points east and south, and upon their return will take up residence at 49 Acadia road, Toronto.

Fish Tows Canoe

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 16—(Examiner Starr Correspondent).—Unaware they had hooked a fish, until it began to take their frail craft in tow, Bob Linton and Jay Anderson, had an experience recently, that places them on a par with other fishermen of the town, years their senior.

The two lads were out trolling in a canoe up the river, when a 10-pound lunge took a bite at the choice-looking double spoon Buffalo bait—and found he was hooked "good and plenty." He struggled to get free and started to swim off with the bait, dragging the canoe in tow.

It was then the two lads realized they had a fish on the end of the line, that would just make the other boys around town gasp with envy. They battled the lunge and won the decision hands down.

CAVAN

The Misses Margaret and Lazelle Lang, Toronto, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. J. W. Perrin.

Miss Preston, Lakefield, is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. C. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Staples visited Janetville friends on Sunday.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAIN

TORONTO, Aug. 16. — Ontario grain, approximate prices track shipping point—Wheat, 65c to 66c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Aug. 16—Wholesale butter prices on the Montreal Dairy and Produce Market were slightly easier during yesterday's trading. The butter market was quoted at 18¼ to 18½ cents per pound of No. 1 grade in carlots or less, as against 18½ cents a pound Monday. Receipts totalled only 217 boxes.

The cheese market was firmer at 10 to 10¼ cents a pound for Ontarios, and 9½ to 9¾ cents for Quebec's. Arrivals were 7,407 boxes. It was announced here yesterday that the weekly auction of butter and cheese would not be held to-day due to the present unsettled condition of the markets.

Egg prices were slightly better yesterday. Graded shipments in carlots or less of extras brought 19 to 20 cents a dozen, firsts 15½ to 16 cents a dozen, and seconds 12½ to 13 cents a dozen. A total of 1,271 cases was offered for sale.

The potato market continued to hold unchanged. Old stock from the Maritimes were generally quoted at $1.25 to $1.30 per 80-pound bag, while new Quebecs brought 80 to 90 cents for similar quantities

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, August 16. — Remaining in force until further notice, minimum prices prevailed on the Grain Exchange yesterday, and this, coupled with an export business estimated at 1,000,000 bushels, restored confidence to the grain trade, and sent prices upward to close 1⅜ cents to 1¾ cents above the previous finish.

Top levels were not held for long but the market retained gains of about a cent all morning. October closed at 71½c, December at 73¼c, and May at 78¼c. Opening quotations were 4¾ cents to 1½ cents higher as export buying entered the pit, but under liquidation at the high points values reacted a little.

The new regulations, set yesterday at an emergency meeting of Exchange members, imposed Monday's close as the minimum to which wheat and coarse grain futures may descend, and had the desired effect of drying up offerings.

Considerably better demand for the various grades of cash grains was in evidence with No. 2 Northern and No. 2 Durum in the best demand. Trading in coarse grains for the greater part of the day was draggy.

HOWDEN BEATS COLEMAN 11-10 FOR C. D. S. CUP

Seymour Pilots Rink to 9-7 Win in Warne Consolation Play.

RECORD ENTRY.

Major honors in the annual open elimination tournament of Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club, were taken by Skip J. Skitch of Cobourg.

A Peterborough rink skipped by J. J. Howden won the Canadian Department Store Challenge Trophy by defeating the Coleman rink composed of father and three sons, all members of the local club, by the narrow margin of one shot. The score was 11-10.

The Warne Consolation Trophy was also won by a Peterborough crew, Skip C. Seymour piloting his rink to a 9-7 win in the finals, against another local squad skipped by J. Penrose, and which was made up of father, two sons, and a grandson.

Attracting the largest entry in the history of the club, the tourney, favored with ideal weather conditions, opened yesterday morning, and concluded in the early hours of this morning.

It was well after midnight, when President Andrew Brown made the presentation of the Stratton Trophy to Skip Skitch, along with four handsome leather club bags for each member of the rink.

Past President Alderman J. D. Fitzpatrick presented Kenwood blankets to each of the four runners-up of the High Park outfit, and the Toronto skip took the opportunity of congratulating their opponents on their victory.

Winners of the C.D.S. Trophy also received club bags, while their opponents in the finals were awarded handsome bridge lamps.

An electric clock for each of the winners of the Warne Trophy was also presented by Alex Fitzpatrick while the Penrose rink received silver and cut glass flower stands.

Railroad Revenues Increase in Britain

(By George Hambleton, CP Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Aug. 17 (CP Cable).—Prospects of British railways show signs of brightening and traffic returns for Bank Holiday week, made public to-day, were considerably higher than during the corresponding week last year. All four systems showed substantial improvement.

Freight returns on the London Northeastern and Southern Railways showed an increase, while losses on the Great Western and London, Midland and Scottish were less than expected, in view of the fact the week had one working day less than last year. Over the fortnight including the holiday the four companies together increased their takings by £190,000 over figures for 1932.

Young Man Asks Two J.P.'s on Bench In Police Court for One Year in Jail

Harold Brady, aged 27, of this city, walked into police court today and asked two Justices of the Peace to give him a year in jail. About two years ago Brady received a legacy of $2,300 cash. He told the court that he was penniless now. "I spent the money on cars and having a good time and what I didn't spend I was swindled out of," he said.

Vincent Eastwood, J.P., told Brady that he could not expect to loaf continuously in jail at the municipality's expense and that he had better be prepared to fend for himself.

Brady said that he considered that he earned his keep at the jail, cutting wood and doing other odd jobs about the place. "They work you up there all right, he stated.

He pleaded guilty to vagrancy and was given 30 days.

MRS. R. CADEAU IS COMMITTED, MURDER COUNT

Son of Slain Farmer, With Tears in Eyes, Tells of Shooting.

COURT PACKED.

PENETANGUISHENE, Ont., Aug. 17.—(C.P.)— Mrs. Rose Cadeau of Montreal, owner of a farm in the Elmvale district, was committed for trial to-day on a charge of murdering her tenant, Harvey Barnes, 44, last August 8. She appeared in police court before Magistrate Copeland here after being brought from the county jail in Barrie.

The woman, a summer resident in the Elmvale district, was committed after hearing evidence from the constable who made the arrest, and Rodney Barnes, 13 year old son of the slain man, shot as he emerged from his barn.

With tears glistening in his eyes the boy told of how his father and he had just come from milking the cows when a shot rang out and the father fell. The boy said he turned and saw Mrs. Cadeau turning to go down the road.

The dying man had asked her, the boy said, why she had fired and she replied:

"That will learn you."

The officer told of being called to the farm and talking with the wounded man.

He aslo told of finding in the woman's baggage at Barrie jail shotgun shells similar to the one found near the scene of the shooting.

The little court room was crowded with interested spectators, many of whom had come many miles to hear evidence of the case that startled the quiet community.

HITCH-HIKERS ADMIT THEFTS

Pair Arrested Near Hamilton Are Remanded to Face Charges in Kitchener.

ROBBED CLOTHING STORE.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 17. (CP) James Simpson and Gilbert Haggerty, arrested by Hamilton detectives on the Galt highway yesterday, to-day pleaded guilty to charges of theft of clothing from stores in Hamilton Both men will be taken to Kitchener to face further charges there. They were remanded eight days for sentence.

Simpson, when questioned by police, denied having received money stolen from a Toronto bank holdup last February 8.

Simpson was arrested by Detective Thompson when he, along with a companion, hailed the officer for "a lift" on the highway.

Recognizing the man as one wanted in connection with thefts of clothing from stores in Hamilton, Woodstock and Kitchener, the detective leaped from the car and seized the "hitch-hiker." As he had no hand-cuffs he was forced to bind the prisoner's hands with his necktie. The companion fled.

Simpson was taken to police headquarters and Thompson, accompanied by another officer, set out to search for the other man.

He was captured after a cross-country chase, identified as Gilbert Haggerty, and charged along with Simpson.

GANGSTER SLAIN SURPRISE RAID

HUNT NEW RENDEZVOUS.

BENTONVILLE, Ark., Aug. 17 (AP) — Gene Johnson, said by Sheriff G. L. Maples to be a confederate of the Wilbur Underhill gang of Kansas, was slain and his wife seriously injured in a battle with officers near here early today.

Sheriff Maples and officers from Oklahoma and Kansas surprised what they said was the gang of Underhill confederates near Springtown, 115 miles southwest of here at 2 a.m., to-day and a battle followed in which machine guns were used on both sides.

Sherriff Maples, who went back with the posse after bringing Johnson's wife here, said he believed some deep woods near Springtown was the hiding place of the Underhill gang. Evidence the gang was there, Sheriff Maples said, had been received by him several days ago and after he had made reasonably certain the reports were authentic, notified Oklahoma and Kansas officers, and the forces from the three States met at a point near Springtown late last night.

It was two hours before the officers were able to locate the rendezvous. Closing in on the gang the officers called upon its members to surrender, and the fight began.

Cubans Hunt Down Hated Secret Police

HAVANA, Aug. 17. (AP)—The hunt for hated members of the Porra, ousted President Machado's secret police organization, continued to-day with the capture after a gun fight of Jose Del Valle.

After an exchange of shots with soldiers, some of whom he wounded, Del Valle attempted to escape over the roofs of buildings near the house in which he was found.

There was particular interest in his capture in view of the fact that he is a brother-in-law of A. B. Ainciart, who was chief of police under the Machado regime. The whereabouts of Ainciart have not been determined since the collapse of the Machado administration last week.

CLAIMS HOLLAND EVICTED FAMILY FROM HIS HOUSE

"UNDESIRABLE" TENANT.

That Charles Holland, president of the Unemployed Workers' Fraternity, in the role of landlord, had evicted Wesley Lawford, his wife and three children from the room they occupied in Holland's house at 85 Hunter street west, was the statement made to The Examiner yesterday by Lawford, who charged Holland with having taken the very action that he and the fraternity were now trying to deny to other landlords.

Lawford alleged that Holland had evicted him and his family in June and secured the assistance in making the eviction of the same bailiff, O. A. Moore, that Holland and the fraternity had forestalled this week from making a seizure of an Ashburnham tenant's goods and chattels by picketing the place.

Holland, interviewed by The Examiner, said that Lawford had been an "undesirable" tenant in his house. He said, "I did not put Lawford out of the house. I gave him notice back in the winter and he did not act upon it. Then in June I just got the bailiff to send him notice to vacate. I was out of the city the day Lawford got out of the house.

Get Into Hot Water

"If Lawford starts making statements to reporters, he will only get himself into worse hot water," Holland warned. He stressed the fact that the Lawfords had been "undesirable."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lawford stated that Holland had put them out

VERNON BEAVIS IS LAID TO REST

Six Members of Senior Baseball Team Acted as Pallbearers.

Hundreds Attend Funeral.

The funeral of the late Vernon Beavis, 184 Rubidge Street, was held this afternoon to Little Lake Cemetery. The long cortege of cars, the eighty pieces of floral tributes, the great gathering of relatives, friends and acquaintances —all spoke eloquently of the high esteem and popularity of the deceased. All the time the body lay in the home of his parents, many hundreds who had known and admired Vernon came in a steady stream, morning, afternoon and night. And hundreds were present this afternoon when the remains were carried out by six former baseball teammates.

Pall-bearers were Fred Ash, Russel Kitchen, Harold Hollingsworth, Cyril Whatley, Abbie Rose and Tommy Foley. Immediately behind were more than five dozen flower-bearers—remainder of the Peterborough baseball team, upon which Vernon was a star player, the executive officers, fellow-employees, chums and cousins. More than two cars were required to hold the wreaths and floral tributes, besides those that covered the coffin.

Reverend William McDonald spoke briefly of the character, popularity, and great loss of this youth, in the simple funeral ceremony. Deceased is survived by his parents, a brother, Gordon, and a sister, Betty.

Planes and Troops Advance in India

SIMLA, India, Aug. 17 (AP) — British artillery and airplanes were employed yesterday to support troops advancing from Ghalanai who encountered hostile tribesmen north of Katsai.

The tribesmen subjected the bombing planes to the fire of a light machine gun, but there were no casualties among the fliers. The bombing was reported to have been effective. Subsequently the troops retired unpursued to the Ghalanai camp.

British Speedboat Arrives in Quebec

QUEBEC, Aug. 17 (CP)—The speedboat Hubert Scott-Paine will lift the famous Harmsworth Trophy from Gar Wood, United States speedboat king, at Detroit next month, arrived here to-day aboard the liner Empress of Britain.

The British-built speedboat of unconventional design weighs only a ton and a half compared to Gar Wood's seven-ton monster. Scott-Paine's single-engined challenger musters only 1,375 horsepower compared to the 8,000 horsepower available from the twin engines of the United States boat.

The trim little British boat, a toy beside the United States defender, will be carefully transferred to a railway car for shipment to the scene of the races September 2, 4 and 5. The British boat is reported to have done 100 miles per hour at 2-3 throttle test.

OTHER SIDE TOLD TO GANDHI STORY

Started Fast Because Visitors Cut to 2 Daily and Press Articles Limited.

NO PRESS INTERVIEWS.

SIMLA, Aug. 17. (AP) — The government of India issued a formal statement to-day setting forth its verson of the conflict with Mohandas K. Gandhi, the Nationalist leader.

On being imprisoned at the beginning of August the communique said, Gandhi requested permission to do Untouchability work, and in connection with that work to see visitors freely and to receive and send correspondence as he had been permitted to do when he was a state prisoner.

The matter was the subject of correspondence between the governments of Bombay and India and the Secretary of State. Yesterday the communique said, Gandhi was informed that strictly for his anti-Untouchability work the following facilities had been granted him:

First, he might receive newspapers and periodicals, but he was not allowed interviews for publication in the press, whether with press correspondents or others.

Second, he was not to see more than two visitors daily.

Third, he might send instructions and contributions to the editor of the Harijan Journal thrice weekly and a limited number of letters to other correspondents.

Fourth, he might have at his disposal a convict typist and books and newspapers needed for his Harijan work.

The communique concluded with the statement: "It is understood that Mr. Gandhi is dissatisfied with this decision and has started a fast."

FACTOR UNDER HEAVY GUARD

Millionaire Asks Protection Following a Telephoned Death Threat.

HUNT GOES ON.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17. —(AP)— A guard protected John Factor, millionaire market plunger, today from gang vengeance for his involuntary part in the police effort to entrap his kidnappers—which failed.

Meanwhile, 60 selected Chicago officers, armed with federal commissions to make their search an interstate affair, scoured the northern Wisconsin resort region — haunt of the Touhy gangsters — for trace of the extortionists who slipped out of their mass dragnet near suburban La Grange Tuesday.

A death threat telephoned the speculator, who already reportedly has yielded more than $100,000 to kidnappers who seized first his son Jerome and then himself, brought the police detail to his door.

While Factor, palpably frightened in his hotel apartment by the turn of events after the failure of 300 officers aided by aeroplanes and elaborate planning to nab his kidnappers, protested police "horned in" on the final pay-off, the Wisconsin search proceeded without aid from local authorities.

YOUNG FARMER LOST HIS LIFE IN CROW LAKE

WOMAN IS RESCUED.

Man Was Watching Wife and Sister Bathe From the Shore.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, August 17.—Bravely plunging into the water to rescue his wife who was in difficulty, John White, 28-year-old farmer in Belmont Township, was drowned in Blairton Bay, Crow Lake, last night. An hour later his body was discovered in twenty-five feet of water and brought to shore.

Poor Swimmer

White had been sitting on the bank watching his wife wading with his sister-in-law, Mabel Tuck, in shallow water. Noticing that his wife, who was just learning to swim, had in some way gotten into deep water and was struggling to keep afloat, he plunged in but disappeared below the surface before he reached his wife's side.

Horace King, piloting a motor launch nearby, rushed to the spot in response to the cries of Mrs. White and her sister. He managed to grasp Mrs. White and save her from the deep water but could find no immediate trace of White.

Resuscitation efforts were made when the body was finally located but proved fruitless. Coroner J. Holdcroft was summoned and, after an investigation into the circumstances, he released the body for burial.

The dead man had been employed in Toronto up until three months ago when he came to operate his farm in Belmont. He is survived by two children as well as his widow, Mabel Tuck was on a visit to the White home from North Bay, Ontario.

GIVEN 3 MONTHS FOR KILLING PAL

German Sentence Not to Take Effect Till September 30, 1936.

ACCIDENT ON SHIP.

BREMERHAVEN, Germany, Aug. 17.—(A.P.)—Charles Manger of Los Angeles, to-day was sentenced to three months' imprisonment on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of his friend, Karl Werner Heve, 3rd, of New York, aboard the liner Bremen July 30.

The sentence, pronounced by a jury which heard the State's Attorney ask for a mild verdict because Manger "proved himself an upstanding man," will not take effect until September 30, 1936 if he pays a fine of 3,000 marks ($1,000) immediately.

The wording of the sentence was taken to mean that Manger, a university student, will not be imprisoned at all unless he returns to Germany.

Manger's attorney, Dr. Hirschfield, pleaded that his client completely forgot he had loaded the revolver more than three years ago at Honolulu.

Manger already had suffered most severely because of the accident, Dr. Hirhchfield maintained, and a cloud would hang over his entire life.

The defendant, in a brief plea to the jury, declared he had no intention of killing his friend. When the Judge showed him a photograph of Heye, Manger burst into tears.

The entire trip will be made by plane.

On The Warpath

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 17 (CP)—Responding to an alarm that farmers near Grimsby Highway No. 20 were being terrorized by a man wielding an iron bar, Provincial Constable Robbie found a man sitting in the ditch with a big bar in his hand. The officer was told he had held a whole posse of citizens at bay.

The stranger was questioned as to his identity, and the officer was startled by the reply.

The man with the bar told the officer he was the "Kaiser" and had flown over from Germany in a red airplane. The plane, he said, was in the Presbyterian Church.

"Well, come with me," replied the officer, "we'll go and look for it."

The man complied and was returned to the Ontario Hospital in Hamilton.

COUZENS STAND ON DAWES LOAN, HOOVER REQUEST

Asked to Approve $90,000,000 Transaction for "Political Purposes."

LOAN SHOCKED NATION.

Admits Party Out of Power "Played Politics" and Capitalized On It.

DETROIT, Aug. 17 (A.P.)—Senator James Couzens, testifying before the Detroit bank investigation jury to-day, said he had been asked by then President Hoover during the last political campaign to issue "for political purposes," a statement approving of the loan of $90,000,000 to the Chicago Bank of which Charles G. Dawes was head.

Mr. Hoover, the senator said, wanted the statement "for political purposes." The request, he said, came in a telephone call from the White House.

"I said I would be glad to do so if he got an opinion from his attorney general that I wouldn't be violating the law," said Couzens. "All loans had been confidential until about July 15, when a law was passed requiring the reconstruction finance corp. report to Congress on all loans made in secrecy."

The Michigan senator said that while his statement of approval was not formally issued, he did approve the Dawes loan.

Nation Astounded

"The nation was shocked when it leaked out from some source unknown to me that Dawes, former president of the R.F.C., had got a loan from the R.F.C. of $90,000,000," Couzens said.

"Of course, the party that was out of power capitalized on that." Couzens assented to a remark of prosecutor Harry S. Toy, his questioner to the effect that "That is what is called politics, is it not?" and said:

"Frankly, that scared the R.F.C. and made it more cautious. I asked the senate to appoint a committee of five to investigate all loans made in secrecy. You must remember Dawes got his loan in June for a new bank. He was not going to put $90,000,000 in an old bank and have the wise ones withdraw their money, but was going to give all depositors an equal chance to withdraw their money."

PIG ON WAY TO MARKET RUNS LOOSE IN CITY

There was one pig that didn't go to market to-day—not directly, anyway.

A livestock truck with a load of pigs on board was proceeding down Aylmer street shortly after one o'clock this afternoon, when the back gate of the truck became unhooked. One of the truck's huskier passengers fell to the roadway near the Brock street interesection. Unaware of a passenger overboard, the truck driver continued on his way and the animal limped about the street for some time in a dazed condition until it was finally collared and held until the owner could be located.

MAN BELIEVED LOST IN LAKE REPORTED SEEN

SEARCH CONTINUES.

Party Sets Out to Visit Freeburn's Cottage in North of County.

KAWARTHA PARK, Aug. 17 — Although an intensive search for the body of James Freeburn, 25-year-old farmer of the Young's Point district who is thought to have been drowned in Clear Lake last Friday, is continuing, a number of reports that he has been seen at several different points in the Young's Point region are deepening the mystery of his disappearance.

As the result of one rumour, a party of three set out yesterday on the old Oregon Trail the other side of Burleigh Falls to go to a cabin which Freeburn owns about twenty-five miles to the north. It is thought possible that he may have gone up to the cabin without telling anyone of the trip. The search party are expected to return and report their success to-day.

Seen Near South Beach

On Tuesday evening a young man employed at the South Beach hotel reported that he had seen Freeburn lurking in the bush near the hotel. A search party of twenty-five persons was organized within an hour of the report, and, although the area was covered thoroughly, no trace was found.

Provincial Constable David Silvester this morning discounted a similar rumour which cropped up Monday night. Four farmers from about Young's Point claimed to have seen Freeburn on the road between Young's Point and Lakefield. They were driving along the road in a car about dusk they reported, and when they reached the point where they had seen him, he ran off the roadway into the woods. They said they searchel the woods

IRAQ SITUATION GROWS SERIOUS

Premier MacDonald to Discuss Assyrians' Case With Cabinet.

HUNDREDS SLAIN.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald interrupted his vacation at Lossiemouth today to come to Downing street for conferences with governmental leaders.

Captain Anthony Eden, Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and Robert G. Vansittart, assistant clerk of the Foreign Office, visited him. It was believed that among the matters brought before the Prime Minister was the present position of Assyrians in Iraq.

The Daily Herald today reported that more than 300 Assyrian Christians had been massacred in a village in Northern Iraq within two miles of an Iraq army camp.

The commander of Iraq troops, who was said to have used Kurds to attack the Assyrians as they were returning from French Syria after recent border outbreaks, was blamed for the killings.

Early this month more than 100 persons were reported killed after the Assyrians crossed into Syria from the territory in Iraq. They were said to have been dissatisfied with arrangements made when the British mandate over Iraq was ended.

Bagdad despatches said resentment had been aroused by the allegations that Assyrian Christians had burned bodies of Iraq soldiers killed in border fighting.

HIGH SCHOOL AT LAKEFIELD TO ADD FIFTH FORM ON TRIAL FOR ONE YEAR BOARD DECIDES Reeve Tanner Assures Council's Support—Means Boosting School Status.

WARM DEBATE.

Extra Male Teacher to be Hired—Cost Largely Taken Care Of.

LAKEFIELD, August 17 (Examiner Correspondence). — Lakefield will have a Fifth Form in the High School during the coming school year as a result of a meeting of the High School Board on Tuesday night, to which the ratepayers were invited. The attendance of ratepayers, while not large was the largest ever seen there in the recollection of Chairman J. W. Ridpath, veteran member of the Board. Reeve Tanner was present and voiced the opinion of the Council re financing for the remainder of the year.

The School Board is taking another step upward in regard to the status of the school, which has grown in the past ten years from a Continuation School to a High School, and now with Upper School work will take a still higher rating. Mr. Ridpath asked Dr J. C. Smith to outline the proposition. When the present High School was organized about ten years ago it was possible to go to University with junior matriculation or Normal entrance Now for either medicine or dentistry the student must have honor matriculation to enter, and after next year the same standing is required for pharmacy or Normal School. The Board received one hundred per cent. value for this improvement for the pupils who take up Fifth Form work are real students and can get full value for a Fifth Form.

Financial End.

There is the financial side. Last year twelve pupils from this school attended school in Peterborough and at the end of the year the village will get a bill for half the cost of tuition, which will amount to about $720, which will have to be

RUMOR GIGANTIC POOL TO SAVE FALLING WHEAT FUTURES MART

$50,000,000 INVOLVED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. (C.P.) As United States government officials kept a weather eye on the wheat situation to-day reports flew about the country of the formation of pools to bolser the declining wheat future market.

One report reaching here had it private interests at New York were consilering action of the distress the market some of the distress wheat.

Grain interests at Chicago and Kansas City have discussed the possibility of forming a gigantic pool with financial backing of more than $50,00,000 to bolster the market, it was learned. These interests believed this summ would be more than sufficient to handle the purchase of the distress wheat now hanging over the market.

The pool would, it is understood, consist of large professional traders, elevator interests and others connected with the American grain trade.

Hearing on Bounties

Meanwhile preparations went forward at Portland, Ore., for a hearing, starting Monday, to consider paying bounties to stimulate export of the Pacific Northwest's huge wheat surplus.

According to The Spokane Chronicle, the hearing, "opening the same day as does the London World Wheat Conference, is regarded as the American administration's threat to the wheat nations of the world to reach an agreement or face wholesale dumping of United States surplus stocks of wheat."

To-day messages continued to pour into the Agricultural Department urging Government action to "peg" grain prices. Department officials, however, have indicated they will disregard them and leave marketing regulations entirely to the grain exchanges at present.

RELIEF COSTS SLIDING DOWN

Officials Hope 25 P.C. Drop in Ontario May be Permanent Improvement.

NEW JOBS INCREASE.

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—A substantial drop in unemployment relief costs throughout Canada in the last two months is giving governments, national, provincial and municipal, grounds for hope that the load is being more than seasonally lightened and that a gradual tapering off in expenditure may be expected.

Figures gathered by the Canadian Press in Ontario and the western provinces reveal a considerable flow from relief columns to regular payrolls as industry stirs here and there into new life. In Ontario where relief expenditure reached a total of $17,000,000 in the eight months between Nov. 1 last and July 1 this year, the feeling persist, that the 25 per cent drop in direct relief costs in May and June reflect permanent improvement.

This is the view of officials handling relief for the provincial government, expressed to the Canadian Press this week. The easing down of the demands for aid certainly appears to be more than seasonal and is very encouraging," said the spokesman for the Ontario department. He added that the direct relief figures might not reflect fully the recent increase of new jobs.

QUICK PRINTING SERVICE Modern Plant

Starting Young

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 17 (A.P.)—A two-boy nudist colony is flourishing here, and if city authorities' attitudes are unchanged, it may not be suppressed until snow flies.

Inspector A. C. White of the health department found the youngsters aged seven and eight, had been playing undraped all summer.

He passed the case to public safety commissioner A. C. Colburn, who said:

"I've got more important business than running after naked kids. Looks to me like a job for the health department."

Health Commissioner Ralph Hendricks investigated. Said he: "I've never seen a healthier pair. It's out of my jurisdiction."

GIRL WRESTLES WITH OCTOPUS

Stages Battle in Tank While Father Tests New Periscope Camera.

ANXIOUS MOMENTS.

MENLO PARK, Calif., Aug. 17 (AP)—A girl has to have the proper scientific spirit—or maybe just plain spunk—to dive into a tank with an octopus and stage a wrestling match for a periscope underwater movie camera.

But Florence Douglass, 17, did just that for her father, Leon Douglass, inventor of a periscope camera and enthusiast about deep sea science.

Douglass decided a spectacular reel would be one of a "death" struggle with an octopus. He got the octopus—stretching 12 feet from arm to arm—from some fishermen.

But who would do the wrestling act?

It was an anxious moment when the girl dived into the tank, and the tentacles of the ocean monster wrapped around her.

Douglass ground his camera as long as he dared, then signalled "the actors" it was time to stop. But the devil-fish was unused to stage directions, and kept right on. Men stationed about the edge of the pool dived in ,and it took the combined strength of several to extricate Florence.

VICTIMS OF TRUCK.

HAYWARD, Cal. — While L. M. Phillips, 62, carpenter, and Arthur C. Phillips, 35, his son, were working underneath their stalled automobile beside a highway near here, a truck ran over their protruding legs.

Police expressed belief the truck driver, who did not stop, may have been unaware of the accident. Both legs of both men were broken.

In monkeys and apes the number of pairs or ribs varies from eleven in some species to fifteen in others.

No More Piles

How to End Painful Piles Without Salves or Cutting.

It takes only one bottle of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt's prescription — HEMROID, to prove how easy it is to end itching, bleeding, or protruding piles. This internal remedy acts quickly, even in old, stubborn cases. HEMROID succeeds because it heals and restores the affected parts and drives out the thick, impure blood in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only an internal medicine can do this. That's why salves and suppositories fail. McDermid & Jury and Bond's Drug Store and druggists everywhere sell HEM-ROID Tablets with guarantee of money back if they do not end all pile misery.

Fast Work

DENVER, Aug. 17 (C.P.) — Handcuffed and chained to a bed, H. B. Graham, a prisoner from Oregon enroute to Texas to face robbery charges, broke a heavy iron bar and escaped while his guard was out to lunch.

Graham was handcuffed so that his left leg projected between his arms. The leg was attached to the bed and an iron chain around Graham's ankle. The hotel room door was locked.

His guard was gone only 15 minutes. When he returned Graham had disappeared, the door still was locked but the iron bed bar to which Graham had been chained was broken. It was an inch in diameter.

HYDRO LOOKING AT POWER SITES

URGED BY MINES.

TORONTO, Aug. 17.— Ontario's great public ownership power system, which is whirling this Province's industrial wheels at approximately one-quarter the costs under private ownership in Quebec and the United States, is likely soon to effect important extension into Northern Ontario in aid of a fast-growing mining industry.

So far, Ontario Hydro Commission officials are disinclined to discuss details and names, but it is known that Hydro has been approached by mining interests to undertake developments of the Albany River. The mining interests are located in the Crow River district and country adjacent thereto.

The Henry Government has authorized expenditure of sufficient funds to enable Hydro engineers to visit the Albany, survey the various favorable power sites, and prepare a report for the Government and Commission. There are understood to be two or three different sites on the Albany at which hydro-electric power could be developed very cheaply for the mining interests.

The proposition under consideration is understood to be a distinct Hydro venture, and not an arrangement such as prevails at the Abitibi, where the Government is owner and the Hydro merely operating under guarantees.

50,000 DROWN FLOOD VICTIMS CENTRAL CHINA

To Add to Misfortunes Bandits Plunder Inundated Towns and Villages.

CROPS RUINED.

Famine, Heat Cholera Affect 100,000,000 in 12 of 18 Provinces.

HANKOW, Hupeh Province, Central China, Aug. 17 (CP)—Widespread floods of the Yellow River in Northern China were said to-day to have caused 50,000 deaths in the last few days.

Officials of the Kinkow-Hankow Railway, in giving this estimate, said that many more undoubtedly had perished since dikes began breaking over a wide area early this months, but that the complete total will never be known.

To add to the misfortunes of the destitute population bandits have appeared in the submerged areas in Honan province north of here and are plundering towns and villages, robbing the victims of everything valuable that can be carried away.

Konan provincial authorities have sent an armored train as far north as possible and troops have been despatched along the southern edges of the district with orders to shoot anyone caught looting.

In Honan the river, called "China's sorrow," was reported as having ceased rising, but in Shantung Province, farther to the northeast, the waters continued to rise.

The China Famine Relief Commission in Peiping said the loss of life was heavy, but that the estimate of 50,000 deaths might be too large.

All crops in an area 50 miles long and 20 wide in Western Shantung were destroyed and great hardship was consequently visited upon inhabitants, missionaries from Tsaochowfu reported.

1,000 Die in Few Minutes.

Near Kaifeng, a city of 175,000 in Honan Province, 1,000 peasants were drowned in a few minutes when dikes broke and impounded waters rushed over a large district. Danger to the city was diminishing to-day, however, as the river receded from its highest level, 27 feet above the city, which normally is seven feet below the river's average stage.

Reports reaching here to-day did not mention apprehensions that the stream, one of the largest in the world, might return to its old channel, seeking its old mouth several hundred miles south of the point where it now flows into the Yellow Sea.

The flood is considered the worst of several scourges in Central and Northern China this summer Earlier this month 10,000 persons drowned in floods of the Chiang River in north central areas. Two hundred villages were destroyed.

Famine, floods, heat, cholera, rats, locusts, and other natural forces, said officials of the Nanking Government, afflicted 12 of the 18 provinces of China proper, with 100,000,000 affected.

Besides natural catastrophes, Bandits and Communists were said by officials to be harassing the people.

A spider is not an insect. Spiders belong to the class Arachnida, which also includes scorpions, mites and ticks.

Hard to Find

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 17 (C.P.) — Cupid's arrows have just about shot to pieces a beauty contest to find a "Miss Philadelphia," who under the rules must be single.

First Florence Weiner,' 24-year - old hairdresser, was awarded the title, but the judges discovered she was a divorcee, and gave the diadem to Catherine Craig, 18, a waitress, who was runner-up.

To-day the judges discovered that Catherine eloped more than a year ago, and disqualified her, too.

Then they decided to start the beauty contest all over again.

Visits Canada

Viscount St. Vincent was among distinguished British visitors who disembarked this week from the Cunard liner Ausonia. He has been engaged in farming all his life and owns about 4,500 acres in Britain. He farmed for seven years out west in the eighteen-eighties, in the days when Winnipeg had only one street and the railway went no further west. Viscount St. Vincent is visiting his daughter in Ontario. He is a sixth Viscount and was formerly captain in the 3rd Battalion of the Northumberland Fusiliers.

Scientific Remedies Are Now Offered

W. J. Charlton Carries Complete Line of Feeds and Fuels.

A few years ago practically all fowls and animals were fed the food that was raised or happened to be plentiful in that particular locality. If it was a good corn year, they got corn, and so on down the line.

To-day as much thought and attention is given to the proper feeding of fowls and animals as is given to any other line of business. Because we have learned that properly fed, housed and handled, all fowls and animals thrive practically as well during one part of the year as another. As much milk, meat or as many eggs can be produced as therefore was possible only under ideal weather conditions. Scientific remedies are now given either as or with food and keep the producers absolutely fit, therefore efficient.

W. J. Charlton has made a thorough study of the requirements and has on hand or can secure all that is required to keep fowls or animals in the best possible condition. This information and service is at your disposal and he will gladly confer with you and give you the best information obtainable. His prices are right and his stock is not only always fresh but absolutely the highest grade that can be purchased. It has ever been the aim of Mr. Charlton to make and sell honest feeds at honest prices and through the savings affected in their manufacturing and distributing costs he is able to offer you these famous feeds at very moderate prices. These feeds are made from the very best materials and they maintain the same uniform formula and quality always. The fact that this firm is located here in your midst is another important fact toward helping it maintain high-grade quality at moderate prices. By using carefully balanced rations, you will assure absolutely profitable results.

Mr. Charlton also supplies Lakefield and environs with the best of fuel and Canadian cokes. He does a large volume of business and is yearly building a more substantial establishment. He demands a specific from the miner and aims toward the perfect fuel. Fuel with few ashes or clinkers and maximum heat units at the lowest prices in years.

You will be more than pleased with the results of the feed purchased here. Consult these expert feed men if you are having difficulty with your livestock by calling Lakefield 33. You will know just what is needed. Mr. W. J. Charlton, the owner of this business, is a man who is altogether conversant with this business and who aids in the progress and development of the community. Do you know what brands of feeds are handled by this firm?

SCORES INJURED SWASTIKA RIOT TORONTO PARK

POLICE RESERVES OUT.

Fights Renewed, Other Parts of City—Mayor Promises Immediate Probe.

TORONTO, August 17 (C. P.). — Five young men were in hospital to-day with injuries received when hundreds of Jewish and Gentile youths clashed last night at Willowvale Park after a large swastika emblem was displayed at a softball game. Numerous others suffered less serious injuries as fist fights and free-for-alls raged all over the park.

Mayor W. J. Stewart when informed of the rioting declared "The repeated and systematic disturbances in which the Swastika emblem figures provocatively, must be investigated and dealt with firmly. I shall call upon Chief Draper to report fully to me upon the circumstances and the police organization used to cope with the trouble, and if it appears necessary to convene the Police Commission to deal with the situation I shall instruct the secretary to ascertain if here is a quorum available in town and then call the meeting if essential to the public interest."

Reserves Called Out

Police reserves were called out as rioting began when four youths displayed the emblem and a group of more than 100 Jewish chased angrily after them. A mob of 3,000 surged across the park towards the emblem. The Jewish youths overtook the boys with the emblem and beat them and tried to tear the flag away.

Hostilities broke out in several quarters after the park riot. Police stretchel a cordon around the park when it was learned some truckloads of Jewish youths had set out for the park again.

Baseball bats, lead pipes and sticks were used by the combatants.

The injured were: Louis Klick, 17, David Fischer, 21, Al Eckler, 21 Joe Brown, 22; and Joe Goldstein 17 who suffered abrasions cuts and lacerations.

Great Decrease Is Noted In Number Of Land-Owning Farmers In Canada

By JAMES MONTAGNES
Central Press Canadian Writer.

A gradual shifting from land ownership toward tenancy is taking place in all provinces of Canada, except Quebec, according to a report of the economics branch of the department of agriculture. In Quebec there is a slight increase in land ownership. The shifting to tenancy is particularly noticeable in the western provinces, where for example 90.74 per cent. of the total number of farmers in the provinces of Saskatchewan were in the land owner class in 1911, while in 1931 there were only 68.45 per cent., a decrease of nearly one-quarter in 20 years.

During the last two decades there has been an increase of 46,336 farms in Canada. In the five eastern provinces there was a total decrease of 51,703 farms, while there was an increase of 97,997 farms in the four western provinces.

The shift to tenancy may be partly explained, says the report, by the fact that grain growing is better adapted to farm tenancy than some other types of farming, and partly because many farmers with small capital can use it to better adapted to farm tenancy tal. The more important reason given is that between these two census periods a new generation of prospective farmers was created. The older operators being desirous of shifting their responsibilities were able to do so since farming was a relatively satisfactory vocation during most of this period and since young men were willing to start in the business. The latter being short of capital have in many instances begun as tenants. The experience of recent years is expected to be followed by many young peo willing to farm, but whose insufficient capital will start them off as renters of farm land.

TIME NOT RIPE FOR AN ELECTION HENRY STATES

Suggests Hepburn Has Many Questions Yet to Ask—Not Fair to People.

5 YEAR TERM IN RIGHTS.

Denies Allegations Ontario on Verge of Bankruptcy—Quotes Figures.

PORT STANLEY, Ont., Aug. 17 (C.P.) — Allegations that Ontario was on the verge of bankruptcy were answered to-day by Premier George S. Henry, with figures purporting to show that more than half of the province's total debt of $570,000,000 is invested in realizable assets.

"Ontario has a funded debt of $490,000,000 and an unfunded one of $80,000,000 a total of $570,000,000," Premier Henry stated during the course of an address before a large audience of western Ontario Conservatives at a picnic here yesterday. The greater part of the funded debt is in sound investments. Nearly $300,000,000 is in Hydro; $30,000,000 in the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway; $44,000,000 in farm loans; $9,000,000 in housing loans and this means that practically $300,000,000 of the debt is invested in realizable assets."

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce also addressed the gathering. Mr. Stevens urged his hearers to ignore the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, adoption of whose policy would be felt, be a "dangerous expeeriment, a testing of the constitutional liberty of Canada."

The federal minister took exception to statements on employment reported to have been made by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King during his western tour. A disturbed economic condition and unemployment existed when the Conservatives came into power, he said.

More Questions.

Because Mitchell F. Hepburn had not put all his questions, Ontario was not yet "ripe" for an election, stated Premier Henry replying to the Liberal Leader's demand that he make public the date the Province would go to the polls.

"It wouldn't be fair to call an election without the people having more light thrown on all the questions he asks," he explained.

The Premier denied his Government was usurping power in extending its term of office from four to five years. His Government was simply following the constitutional lead of seven other Canadian provinces, he said.

He defended the Madawaska purchase and the findings of the Royal Commissioners in the Hydro probe.

The Madawaska transaction had brought back power rights alienated from the Crown years before, and was worth all the province had spent on it, he said.

Appointment of Justices W. R. Riddell and H. Sedgewick as Royal Commissioners had met with the approval of Liberal newspapers, he declared. Referring to Mr. Hepburn's criticism of their findings the Premier said: "Is it possible one man is a better judge of facts than the Hydro Commission, its engineers, its staff, the Government, or a Judicial Commission?"

GETS PLEASURE OUT OF GAME, SAYS SARAZEN

Always Experiments With Clubs and Trying Out New Shots.

PLAYS EVERY DAY.

"Sure I get pleasure out of golf!"

This was the answer of Gene Sarazen to an interviewer's question as he warmed up for his exhibition match with Joe Kirkwood against Bob Abbott and Bill Fairweather at the Peterborough Golf and Country Club yesterday afternoon.

"Sure I get pleasure out of golf! Golf is my business and I play it nearly every day of the year but if I didn't enjoy the game I wouldn't be practicing and experimenting all the time as I am now."

As he spoke, the heavy-set little Italian-American, sun-tanned the shade of light walnut, drove one ball after another high and true into the air aiming at a tree far across the course. He was experimenting with a set of clubs just completed for him in accordance with his own specifications, which he hopes to use during the Canadian open tournament which starts at Toronto to-day.

"I get pleasure in working to make the game easier—in designing and experimenting with clubs and in figuring out and trying new technique in shots," he continued. "The game isn't anything to what it will be. It is just the other side of a bunch of new theories that are going to revolutionize it."

Reminder Grip

Illustrating what he meant by "theories," he picked up one of the new clubs he had been shooting with. Pointing to a flat face on the right hand side of the club's grip he said that it has not been until very recently that anything other than the conventional round grip has been considered. The new flat-faced grip, called the "reminder grip" may be the means of improving the average golfer's game a hundred per cent, he asserted. Taking a few more shots at the tree, he demonstrated his assertion by landing four out of five within ten feet of the target.

Another improvement following upon one of the new golf theories, he pointed to the revolutionary shapes of several of his new irons. The heads had been designed to meet the theory that the sole of a club should never touch the ground and yet it should be parallel with the ground at the moment of impact with the ball, he explained.

"The game must go ahead," he declared. "There would be no spirit in it if it just stood still. I like to experiment and practice and improve the game as much as possible. Golf will be a much different game a few years from now."

Sarazen was born in Palm, New York. He became interested in golf when he took a job as caddy at the Brooklorne Country Club in Bridgeport, Connecticut, at 14 years of age. His rise to the present throne on which he sits in the golf world was won by diligent practice and patience year by year.

Golf Buddy

"It is a delightful surprise to discover that I am to play with an old golf buddy," he said, referring to one of his opponents of the afternoon, Bob Abbott. Abbott was a member of the Brooklorne Club in Bridgeport, and, incidentally, champion of the club, at the time that Sarazen held a post of assistant-pro there. A humorous streak in Sarazen's character showed itself, when, in the course of gossip of old times and old friends in Bridgeport, Abbott showed him an old wooden putter he had been using ever since the Bridgeport days. Looking it over, Sarazen commented, "That's almost as old as Walter Hagen."

Likes American Ball

Asked for a comment on the new and larger golf ball being used in the United States as compared with the old ball still in use in Canada, Sarazen proved decidedly reticent. "There has been plenty of controversy on the subject already and I don't want to get into any argument," he said. "There isn't much difference between the two balls but personally I prefer the American ball. It isn't so lively around the greens and it sets itself up."

In answer to a question with regard to his plans for the future, he was emphatic. "I'm going to stick to the game for a while yet. I've still got five more years." He expressed the opinion that thirty-seven years of age is the limit for championship golf. A golfer starts on the down path after that, he said.

He declined hastily to name the five best comers in the golf world at the present time.

VAN PAASSEN OFF ON TRIP TO FAR EAST

LEAVES PARIS.

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

LONDON, Aug. 1. — (Central Press).—When a Parisian chauffeur is told to proceed to one of the railway stations it seems that something of the indomitable spirit of the Marne begins to stir in his breast. The Marne battle was won, of course, by the taxicab drivers of Paris. The mention of the word "station" makes the chauffeur twice as reckless as usual and with that utterly disdainful of death. His lips curl into a sneer expressing supreme contempt when he approaches a traffic signal. He shrugs his shoulders with a gesture of unutterable superiority at the whistle-blowing and gesticulating policemen on the boulevards. Accompanying these actions with a crackling flow of picturesque expletive, he seems fully determined to prove to his passenger the veracity of that old French adage which says that taking one's departure is a little like dying.

We skirted death a hundred times on the last furious dash through Paris, which was also the beginning of a journey that is to terminate somewhere in the vague and nebulous distances of Vladivostok and Chinese Turkestan.

A sweltering heat had turned the Parisian atmosphere into an approximation of cooking-stove temperature. Thousands of citizens were vainly seeking relief in liberal libations of aperitif and fizzling syrop drinks in the endless rows of sidewalk cafes. Your average Frenchman namely is not prone to seek escape into the broad open spaces when a heat-wave strikes the town. He proceeds from the notion that the less you stir around the better you feel. Consequently there they were sitting; smoking and performing what is to them an almost mechanical gesture; lifting glasses with gayly-colored contents to their lips.

It was the evening rush-hour when I drove to the North Station to take the train for Dunkirk on the Channel. The huge depot with its fantastic medley of color and light and dirt and noise, with its mixed, acrid smells of coal-smoke, fuel-oil, wine fumes and roasting seemed endowed with a temperature most appropriate to the sweat-room in a Turkish bath. The heat was of the clammy kind which makes humans gasp in the peculiar inane manner of gold-fish in a bowl that has been placed in an overheated room.

And then suddenly, a shrill blast, a flurry of waving white handkerchiefs, a vision of endearing embraces on the station-platform, shouts, last calls of farewell, slamming compartment doors, and with a grinding and screeching of brakes and couplings the train was under way.

For a quarter of an hour followed the bewildering kaleidoscope of the Parisian suburb: grey roofs and chimney - pots, backyards, grimy factories, huge, black gas-reservoirs, monotonous rows of tenement houses—all of them steaming brick ovens, inhabited by thousands in cramped apartments without breathing space, tossing restlessly through the sultry white nights of summer, shivering in winter, breeding holes of tuberculosis, where men have almost forgotten to dream—and finally the first fresh breezes of the open spaces.

It was nine o'clock in the evening, but the peasants were still in the fields, scraping up the hay, bending over, straining, setting up the sheaves of grain. They didn't even look up at the passage of the train. What time had they started work in the morning? At five, at six the latest. "But how can they possibly stand it? asked an English lady in my compartment. It is indeed somewhat of a puzzle until you take into account that we city dwellers are ruining ourselves and the physical stamina of coming generations by the drab greyness of those prisons with mountainous walls in which we have chosen to entomb our lives. Our lungs can accomodate but small puffs of the soot—and monoxyde-laden air. Our eyes have grown unaccustomed to distance and have become blurred. Half of humanity is wearing glasses. We destroy our kidneys with our sedentary existence. We have distented stomachs, yes, and half of us suffer from temperamental distemper in the bargain.

The city—the enemy!

I did not see any of the ships that are supposed to pass in the night. I sat below decks listening to a thunderstorm roar over the Channel while Baron Konstantin von Neurath, Foreign Minister in the Hitler Cabinet, in plain and undiplomatic language, was kind enough to give me an expose of the present situation in the Reich and in the world. It was not an interview. It was a series of disastrous prophecies.

Dawn broken with the familiar speech of English stevedores and porters floating over the wharf at Folkestone. One of those gentlemen, with whom I exchanged confidences while transferring baggage from boat to train, assured me that we are living "in historious days." An expressive term which I deemed worth a glass of ale.

We pulled into Victoria Station with crowds of suburban commuters, freshly shaven and pink, trousers creased, equipped with briefcases and umbrellas, their pipes filling the air with such aromatic delights as to cause me to make a beeline for the nearest tobacconist and forget the detestable weed they sell you in France.

And so after a shave, off to beard the Soviet consul-general in his den for a long-overdue debate on the subject of visums and passports.

The budding of roses is much like the budding of fruits, and anyone who is at all skilful with the hands can do it successfully. The time for budding varies somewhat in different parts of Canada, but from the latter part of July until September the stocks should be in condition in some part of the Dominion.

C.C.F. IN TORONTO.

One reason for discounting those Toronto newspaper headlines featuring reporters' stories of disturbances in the parks by local radicals, Communist or otherwise, is the difficulty of imagining any extensive political irregularity in Toronto.

In fact, the few signs of insurgence which we have observed have surprised us. We are willing to believe statements, assurances if you wish, that the so-called "Reds" are numerically negligible. Appropriation by the police of this word "Red" doesn't frighten us in the least. It serves to convince us of Toronto's normal calm, and of police sensitiveness to the first sign of even a mere handful of the citizenry falling out of step, and especially out of line.

When on several occasions visiting speakers at Peterborough meetings sympathetic to the C.C.F. were announced as coming from Toronto there must have been some speculation as to where they had been keeping themselves all these years, they and the hundreds of others whom they reported as rallying to the C.C.F. standard in Toronto. Had they come from Winnipeg as consistent disciples of Mr. Woodsworth in his pioneering years their ardor could have been more readily understood. As advocates of the proposed new order their present allegiance must be regarded as genuine, but in some quarters there may be curiosity as to their former affiliations, for impressions of Toronto political results are vague recollections of huge regular majorities overwhelming opposition candidates. Naturally one such quarter will not be the C.C.F. But elsewhere there may be a lifting of eyebrows at avowals from Toronto sources of suddenly articulate zeal for "turning to the left."

A STRIKE OF LONG AGO.

The Roosevelt experiment in reducing the working week as a means of distributing employment and thereby wages and buying power will be closely followed by those who believe the President of the United States is pointing the way the world of labor will have to follow.

Some of the trade codes under the National Industrial Recovery Act have agreed upon working weeks of only thirty-six and forty hours, restrictions which should cause even the most ardent labor men to rub their eyes in unbelief of what they read. To them the shorter day is inevitable. It is another advance step from the eight-hour day to which many industries had assented. In this progression it was recently recalled by the Philadelphia Public Ledger that it is just 142 years since the journeymen carpenters of that city, unable to obtain shorter days by negotiation, went on strike. They won a great victory by forcing the concession that "in the future a day's work among us shall be deemed to commence at 6 in the morning and terminate at 6 o'clock in the evening of each day." The Philadelphia carpenters were the pioneers in the movement for shorter hours in industry.

In successive stages the twelve-hour, the ten-hour and the eight-hour day have been achieved by the force of public sentiment, by governmental action and in some notable cases by the voluntary action of employers.

One of the obstructions to the wider effect of the eight-hour day on employment has been the resort to overtime in many industries. And even to-day this practice is quite frequently reported in spite of the thousands who are still in the ranks of the unemployed.

DISTRICT UNITY LACKING.

Lindsay's Municipal Council has refused to make a grant to the treasury of the Trent Waterways Development Association. Its neighbors will regret this decision, but will consider themselves disarmed, of cause for complaint. Lindsay believes that its location is outside the Kawartha Lakes district, that it receives no direct benefit from tourist traffic, and finally that it is capable of planning its own advertising enterprises.

In referring to Lindsay's attitude, the purpose is not to dwell upon the work and scope of the Trent Waterways Development Association, but to point out the need of closer co-operation by the cities and towns of Central Ontario. It seems strange that we can find community of political and social or fraternal interests, but that in our business outlook we remain individualists.

The Central Ontario Hydro Association flourished for a few years until the constituent municipalities concluded that they obtained from it all the benefits it had to offer. Then, as if by common consent, it folded up. Lindsay was one of the last towns in the district to be persuaded into acceptance of the Hydro plan, and at the present time it is protesting to the Hydro-Electric Commission against an increase in its power rates.

Central Ontario municipalities have common needs, desires and problems, questions of power costs, highway, rail and water transportation, freight rates, and so on; but they permit their efforts to be scattered instead of co-ordinated and united.

Service clubs of the district can develop common ground for action, Conservative and Liberal associations are organized, but in the field of business Chambers of Commerce pursue their separate ways singly and on that account ineffectually compared with the force they could muster by co-operation.

A Belleville news item this week compares railway freight rates from Montreal to Toronto with the rates to intermediate points. From Montreal the rates are as follows: to Belleville, $1.70; Napanee, $1.75; Picton, $1.90; Trenton, $1.70; and Toronto, $1.50; Hamilton, $1.70. The Belleville story dealing with freight rates on coal is not concerned with the advantage to Toronto and Hamilton. It proceeds to show that rail rates on United States coal from Buffalo to Belleville is $1.65 for anthracite and $1.50 a ton for soft coal the whole year round. Whereas the rates from Montreal are subject to an increase of twenty per cent. on December 1. Belleville business men ask the pertinent question, "Is this the right way to develop imperial trade?"

These rates affect the inland communities of Central Ontario. If they could speak in unison through a district organization they could raise a voice that would be heard. But there is no evidence of a disposition to unite in these matters, no conviction that in unity there is strength.

QUEBEC'S WINE AND BEER.

In view of Premier Henry's depreciation of wine and beer licenses for Ontario there should be no suspicion of political motive in referring to an article written by Arthur Kent, who was formerly associated with the Canadian Social Hygiene Council.

Mr. Kent asserts that Ontario's strict system of liquor control encourages the drinking of hard liquor, drinking in the home, bootlegging and petty "blind pigs." Quebec's plan makes it easier to get beer and wine, and tends to discourage the use of liquors. Leaving out the dry areas, Mr. Kent writes, Quebec's per capita consumption of beer is about four times Ontario's, while her consumption of hard liquors is only one-ninth as great.

"Ontario has 32 per cent. of the population of Canada and consumes 54 per cent. of all the spirits used in the entire country.

"And because beer is no easier to get in Ontario than liquor, Ontario has 146,890 of Canada's 193,218 registered home-brewers."

However, predominant sentiment in this province seems to be satisfied with our own temperance experiment. We quote Mr. Kent's statement merely as an opinion recently published in the Chicago Herald and Examiner.

UNFAIR CONTRASTS.

Miss Agnes MacPhail, M.P., who never hesitates to decry Conservative policies and politicians and who is frequently heard lauding foreign policies and leaders, on the principle, no doubt, that anything or anybody is preferable to home production, especially if it should come from the enemy's camp, recently made a wisecraek to the effect that President Roosevelt would go down in history as Canada's best Prime Minister. Nor is Miss MacPhail the first critic of Conservative Governments to hold up the United States President as a paragon of wisdom, enterprise and industry, far overshadowing any of the Conservative leaders in Canada. There can be no doubt that President Roosevelt has done much to put the United States back on its feet. His many policies are having a far-reaching effect, and while it remains for time to prove whether the results will be lasting, it is generally recognized that he has given a decided impetus to the industrial and commercial life of the American nation.

But do the detractors of Bennett and Henry and the glorifiers of Roosevelt ever stop talking long enough to ascertain the real source of the American President's accomplishments? If they did, they would ascertain that it was largely traceable to the practically unlimited power which Congress has placed in his hands. Bennett's critics flay him because of his alleged dictatorial powers and at the same time they extol the worth of Roosevelt, who is one of the greatest dictators the world has ever seen. Hardly consistent, but, of course, it's politics.

How many of those who are praising the work accomplished by the United States chief executive under his practically unlimited powers would be willing to give the same power to Bennett or to Henry? Probably not one. When Bennett asked for a free hand in dealing with unemployment and with those who would disrupt the constitution, those who are so loudly criticizing him now were the most vociferous in opposing his request. If those who have been so busy seeking to dwarf Bennett and Henry by comparing them with Roosevelt were to cease talking long enough to examine their souls they would have to admit that were either to ask for a hundredth part of the power that the President has they would protest to the last ditch, with the probability that some of them would talk themselves to death. Of course, it's hardly playing the game to laud one person for accomplishing something under a power which they would withhold from those they criticize. But, then, fairness is a rare jewel among certain politicians.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

ACTING WITHOUT FEE.

A small item in Monday's papers, dealing with the British members of the Governments Royal Commission on banking, deserves wider notice. The item said:

> Both Lord MacMillan and Sir Charles Addis are acting without fee, the Government paying only their expenses. Lord MacMillan sacrificed his annual summer holiday to assume the chairmanship, and Sir Charles Addis, who is vice-president of the Bank of International Settlements, made the trip at considerable personal inconvenience. During the week before he sailed he made a journey by air to the continent to put his International Bank responsibilities in shape, arrived back in London in time to spend one day at a long-planned family reunion, the first in many years, and to attend the wedding of a daughter. Then he caught the steamer for Canada.

To those who seem to think that most public men take office for "what they can get out of it," and to all cynics and scoffers, particularly those smart young sophisticates, we commend the above. For what it shows is that this mixing of public office with private gain is as false as it is foolish, one of the many cases where the scoffers reveal only their ignorance. The truth—it is the one thing that sustains and is the boast of democracy—is that there are many men who do put public service before private gain, or their personal ambitions, or their convenience or health or capacity to enjoy life. True, many of us are indifferent, or careless, or recreant to our responsibilities as citizens, but there are and always have been magnificent exceptions. It is not something that is monopolized by one party or by one class; it is something that is found among all parties, and, generally speaking, it is the thing which, in British countries, makes democracy work.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The "soap-box" industry must be picking up.

Rugby practices have started in Belleville. The long school holiday will soon be over.

Alderman Tuggey's work at the Goose Pond bathing place deserves public appreciation. A week's personal labor is a praiseworthy contribution to the community.

THE TUTTS By Crawford Young

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyst for the Readers of The Examiner.

Mrs. O. H. Sugden,
191 Antrim St., City.

Your handwriting shows that you are very determined in your likes and dislikes. It also shows unusual force and vitality. The thickness of your down strokes denotes positiveness and rather strong material taste. Your tall capital letters indicate independence and dignity, poise and a graceful carriage. You are generous and lovable, magnetic and influential. Your talents run in the organizing field. Your capacity to sift facts from fables enables you to create original ideas. You are fond of expensive clothing and prefer one really good dress in preference to two of poorer quality. You are honest with yourself and know and admit all your own shortcomings. About the home you are fastidious, and delight in delicate china and the most exquisite of drapery. You are fond of reading and like very much to solve your own problems.

Mrs. D. E. Robertshaw,
Lakefield, Ont.

Your handwriting with it's pointed letter formation, tells me that you are a person who simply cannot settle down and give yourself enough rest. You appear to want to be awake and occupied every minute of the day. You speak and think very very quickly. Sometimes you make mistakes for which you are sorry. It is because you are excitable. You have the disposition of one who wishes to give the best possible to each daily task, no matter what the task may be. You wish always to wear a smart hat, because when you know your head is well dressed you feel that you can hold your head up and face the world with a smile. You are particular about hair and finger nails. You dress modestly and in good taste and adore colors in drapery. Yours is a favorable character.

Dorothy E. Shitch,
579 Aylmer St., City.

Your handwriting shows that you are a deep, quick thinker but rather given to jump at conclusions. Your remarks are pointed and concise. You waste no time on idle thoughts or, idle people. You are a 'go-getter' and never give yourself time in which to be lazy. You sometimes rush in (to use the idiom) 'where angels fear to tread,' because you possess that irresistible urge to do things. You estimate your friends at their own value, therefore, if they fail you, you feel no loss. You know that you can make new ones. There is a considerbale amount of leadership about you, but not the domineering type. You have a noteworthy literary talent which could fathom the depths of those tumultous thoughts of yours and create an outlet for the talents which now lay dormant through conscientiousness.

Harry Hill,
Hall's Bridge, Ont.

Your handwriting shows that you have a changeable disposition. You would like to have your own way a great deal more than you do, but you are sensible enough to concede a point to the other fellow for the sake of peace and quietness. Yours are the hands best suited to grapple with machinery. I will not specify any one line, but might suggest electrical or air. You are careful, kind and thoughtful, a hard worker, and drive yourself to the limit of your endurance. You mingle well in company after you have become acquainted, but during the period before you really know people well, you are a little afraid of what they think of you. Be yourself, steady, agreeable, thoughtful and you will not lack for friends.

Ruth Fanning,
210 Stewart St., City.

Your handwriting depicts you to be refined, distinctive, poised, yet retiring. You hide your true feelings and often long to speak in terms of endearment, and just as you are about to do so, you close up like a clam and say only commonplace things. Your feelings are easily hurt, and you are very sensitive. You can guard a secret so well that no one can 'pry it from you.' You are supersensitive about your clothing. If you do not feel properly and perfectly attired, you do not feel well. It seems to even rob you of your mental health. People would do well to listen to you, and not question you so much, because when you have something to say it is most intelligent and carries weight. You are at your best when you work alone. You need quiet, in order to concentrate upon your thoughts. People do not quite understand you. This is because nature gave you many different outlooks on life. For instance: You would do well as an actress, due to your ability to successfully mask your feelings. Then you are a little scientific, a little religious, and you are inclined to believe in the occult. You are fond of nature, and the work you make the biggest success of is that which is guided by your inner urge.

Miss Dorys V. McCuff,
Peterborough, Ont.

Your handwriting indicates a keen, quick mind, a propensity to indulge in sudden moods, easily irritated, and perhaps a little too sensitive. You are gifted with very clever and keen perceptions, and seem quite secretive, especially where your own affairs are concerned. There is a noted capacity demonstrated in the minute formations of your writing, which exhibits the alluring characteristic of one who can, as a rule turn a situation, no matter how serious, to one's own advantage and generally humor is created in so doing. You can be very biting in your remarks when the necessity arises, but because of a natural born, inherent sensitiveness on your own part, this does not occur very often. You are analytical, critical and shrewd. Your mind has a gift of penetration which usually sees below the surface, therefore you are easily aware of good or bad, in others and can readily disseminate truth from falsehood. You possess exceptionally good taste and create an atmosphere of confidence. You work best when not under supervision, because you do not require a 'boss.' You do your own thinking.

SUPPORTS SECTION 98

To the Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir—I clipped the following letter from the Evening Telegram, Toronto, and would be glad if you would insert same in The Examiner.

Yours truly,
Unemployed Worker.

Editor, Telegram:

Sir—"Toronto's way is not Britain's way," says the Toronto Daily Star, a paper that never shows any love for anything British. It says so because of the way Toronto police have been dealing with the Communists. I would advise the Star and its friends who prate about "free speech" to learn some of the foreign languages and then they will understand what a lot of these Communists are talking about. Then they will see the reason for Section 98 and will start a campaign against the Communists.

We should be very thankful for our laws and the way our courts and police deal with the Communists. We are proud that thus far we have not had to face a Communist revolution. Keep Section 98 where it is, and we will not have to worry about those people who would organize a revolution and destroy everything worth while that we possess.

The C.C.F. is just about the same as Communism. It is of the 3rd International, and it came from Moscow. Can Mr. Woodsworth deny that last year, at a West Toronto meeting, he told a Communist leader that the Communists could openly profess to be enemies of his party, but when the time came they should support him, as that was the only way Canada could be made like Soviet Russia.

Shame on you, Star, and all who support or encourage Communism!
W. I., UKRAINIAN.

Editor, Examiner:

Sir,—It has been stated on different occasions in your paper that C.C.F. leaders apparently had no definite formula to offer for carrying out of their policies. In a recent editorial you state that the Peterborough Examiner is only one of many newspapers, including the Border Cities Star, which is unable to follow Mr. Woodsworth and his associates in the line of reasoning they are placing before the people of Canada. One of the most striking weaknesses of the C.C.F. movement, the Peterborough paper says, is the vagueness of the plans by which its leaders hope to bring about a transformation in national conditions. If their plans are vague and cannot be interpreted by the average citizen all the more credit is due to your editorial "Socialization of Health Services" which state in detail the administration of such services under the C.C.F. regime. You claim its appeal lies in the average man's fear of the costs of sickness. Even in the best of times his savings may be greatly depleted or entirely wiped out by illness that strikes himself or members of the family. The fact of delay in trying to avoid the cost, the patient in many instances is beyond medical aid either in being relieved of their suffering or the saving of their life with such a service in existence there would be in the larger centres experts who would be able to diagnose diseases in which the average physician lacks experience. This would not only be beneficial to the patient but also to its adviser.

WHY FIGHT?

The other fellow doesn't think as you do. His ideas are different, his actions are different.

• • •

You like a crowd; he likes to be alone.

• • •

He likes to read a book; you like to play baseball.

• • •

You join organizations and get much joy out of their activities; he doesn't.

• • •

He thinks the theory of evolution is the truth; you aren't at home with the idea that the human race is descended from a cousin of the apes.

• • •

You like hunting; he thinks that hunting in an unprovoked murder of creatures that have as much right to live as you have.

• • •

He is interested in politics; you are indifferent.

• • •

Your idea is to make as much money as you can and then live an easy, enjoyable life; his idea is that if you spend too much time thinking about money and how to make it, you'll lose many pleasant moments and waste the best years of your life.

• • •

He believes in a personal god who is interested in your little life; you doubt that.

• • •

You worry; he doesn't.

• • •

He is proud of his ancestors; you never think of them.

• • •

You're right and so is he. You have your side, and he has a side of his own, too. And what he thinks is no affront to you, and what you think is no reason for him to break up your friendship....His way of living is no criticism of you, nor is yours of his. You are two people, and two people, living on the same street in the same town, can be as different as a caveman from Einstein....But it's a big world despite the airplanes and the radio, and there's really nothing to fight about.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

THE FIRST GOLD RUN IN YUKON

On this date, in 1896, gold was first discovered in Yukon. For years there was a belief that the first finding of gold in the north was Robert Henderson, a Nova Scotian, but this was contested by the friends of J. W. Carmack, a Dominion Lands Surveyor; but Archbishop Stringer of Rupert's Land, who spent many years in Yukon, states definitely that gold was first found by an Indian "Skookum Jim." The archbishop says: "It was the Indian Skookum Jim (baptised James Mason by Bishop Bompas) who happened upon a find of gold in Gold Creek, which led to the staking of this wealthiest piece of ground in Yukon. Skookum Jim was one of a party, consisting of George Carmack, Mrs. Carmack (Jim's sister) and another man. Having dined too well on fresh moose meat the party sat down to permit it to digest. But Skookum Jim could never sit long. He was soon up and about. In a very few minutes he was back with the news that he had found color. Carmack rushed to the rock, tested it and declared the substance to be gold. He and Skookum staked out claims and rushed to Forty Mile where they told of their luck and so induced the rush to Yukon from all over the world.

"It is an irony to say that 'Bob' Henderson made the find, for Carmack promised to tell him of any luck he had, but failed to do so because he and 'Bob' had quarrelled over the manner in which Carmack's relatives by marriage should be treated. It was only through this difference of opinion that Carmac and Skookum Jim cleaned a hundred thousand dollars as their share of the find and Henderson, though deserving credit as one of the pioneers of Yukon, never really struck it rich."

Bishop Stringer, knowing the Indian character and the certainty that Skookum Jim would retain his wealth, persuaded him to place $20,000 in a trust fund for his daughter, Grace, when she came of age. The Bishop was named one of the trustees and he has the satisfaction of knowing that of all the millions in gold that were taken out of Yukon this is the only amount that will find its way back there, for, following the death of Grace Mason, the fund was consecrated to the relief of need in Yukon. By careful management the original $20,000 has increased to $33,000.

Both George Carmack and Skookum Jim are long since dead, but their memories are kept alive at Dawson, especially on the annual celebration of Discovery Day on August 17th, when the dwindling ranks of the Yukon Pioneers' parade. Not long since oldtimers at Dawson were interested by being told that two boy singers in San Francisco, whose voices they heard over the radio, were the grandsons of Carmack by a second marriage, that time to a white woman.

CAR OWNERS GIVEN A MODERN SERVICE

Public Garage of Lakefield Render All Types of Auto Repair.

Realizing that not the first cost but the service charges make an automobile an extravagance, the Public Garage have gained their popularity because they keep the service charges for automobile owners in this section at the lowest minimum.

"Let us keep your car in repair and it ceases to be an extravagance," would be a proper slogan for this modern repair station.

The Public Garage maintain a free examination department where a car is looked over free of charge and the owner is told if any repair is needed. This may save much in the long run and does not place one under obligation to have this firm do the repairing, it is simply a part of the policy of the management of this garage to serve the public in any way it can, believing that a business is most soundly established in this way.

If your car is in need of repair, the Public Garage has every detail of equipment and the finest workmen to give the car whatever attention it requires. This service includes everything from making the smallest repair to completely overhauling and rebuilding the car. They are prepared to do washing, greasing, simonizing as well as offering a 24-hour towing service. Call them at any time at phone Lakefield 161-w and a man will be there immediately.

Clarence Foster, the owner and manager, and all of his service men are thoroughly familiar with all matters pertaining to automobile service. He belongs to that class of Lakefield business men who believe that the way to make a business successful is to please the public at all cost. Courteous service, adequate accommodations, and the lowest cost consistent with work of the highest quality are necessary attributes of such a policy, and we are certain that the public is glad to respond to such a policy.

Do you know their prices for lubricating a car?

Market Closing On All Exchanges

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Aug. 17 (CP)—Mining stocks regained confidence after a slow opening to-day and staged a strong forward movement holding the big end of the gains at the close. All sections of the board participated in the movement and volume was the heaviest the market has had in three weeks.

Base metal shares were led by Nickel in the advance and Eldorado starred for the silver group, advancing sharply on resumption of buying. It jumped from a low of 3.20 and closed at 3.75 for a net gain of 53 cents.

Buying of Nickel was active all day and at the close attained a net gain of 1.65. Noranda gained 25 cents; Hudson Bay, 50; and Sherritt regained an early loss of 9 and added a few cents.

TORONTO EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, August 17 (C.P.).—Metal and distillery stocks boiled to-day and inflation rumors spread and wheat jumped in Chicago and Winnipeg. The whole market moved ahead led by International Nickel and Walkers Common. Nickel chalked up a gain of 1.70, closing at $21, and Walkers Common shot up about 6 points.

All the interlisted shares moved up with buying active in Brazilian and Ford of Canada. Brazilian gained ½, Ford ¾, and C.P.R. ½. Smelters gained a point.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—(A.P.) — The stock market to-day reversed its tactics of the previous session. Strength in commodities set off a vigorous recovery in the second hour that carried prices 1 to 4 points higher. The activity soon quieted but higher quotations were firmly supported into the late dealings and farm implement shares. Alcohols and specialties pushed higher. Case and National Distillers soared 7 points each while American Commercial Alcohol and Industrial Rayon were close behind.

Stocks up 2 or more included American Telephone, Celanese, Auburn, Chrysler, United States' Industrial Alcohol, Deere, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward and Allied Chemical. Transfers approximated 1,900,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—The wheat market exacted its pound of flesh to-day and then apparently settled back to await developments.

Wheat dropped the five-cent maximum allowed under revised trading regulations, restricting daily fluctuations to five cents, either up or down from closing prices of the previous session, in wheat, barley and rye, four cents in corn and three cents in oats.

Germans Practice War While "Playing Games"

German troops elude provisions of Versailles treaty limiting war drills by including barbed-wire jumping races in full military equipment as part of athletic contests held during annual manoeuvres of army. One of the "sports" contests at Kassel, Germany, is shown.

Toronto Puts Its Foot Upon Swastika, Prosecution For Any Displaying Sign

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—(CP)—Warning that any citizen displaying the swastika would in future be liable to prosecution was issued by Mayor W. J. Stewart today following a special meeting of the police commission.

The mayor's warning was contained in a statement which was supported by a number of Jewish citizens who have joined in an appeal to their people to restrain themselves should they see the swastika emblem displayed and not resort to use of force.

The special meeting of the police commission today was called to deal with widespread disorders which occurred throughout Toronto last night when groups of Jews and Gentiles clashed and came to blows.

Affairs of the Swastik organization were thoroughly dealt with by the commissioners and Chief Constable D. C. Draper. The board was informed that the Dominion, Provincial and city police have the matter well in hand and are in possession of information as to the activities of kindred organizations.

Chief Draper stated he was informed yesterday of the proposed demonstration by the parks department; but did not anticipate the disorders which developed.

Mayor Stewart expressed surprise that the groups numbering 100 persons who clashed on one of the city streets had not been intercepted by police.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, Aug. 17 (CP)—Bologna bulls were the only cattle selling in the trading on the Toronto Livestock Market to-day. The rest of the market was at a standstill. There were 500 head of cattle left over from yesterday, consisting mainly of common killers and store cattle.

SEES INFLATED CURRENCY.

BANFF, Alta., August 17 (C.P.).—Belief the United States would have to inflate its currency if the Industrial Recovery Act was to function successfully was expressed by Professor E. Q. Gregory, of the University of London, a member of the British group attending the fifth biennial Convention of the Institute of Pacific Relations here.

Blackbird Pie

BURLINGTON, Ont., Aug. 17 "Sing a song of six pence," hummed an unidentified man as he walked off with two dozen blackbirds—part of the bag of 200 killed by a firing party of six under the direction of Constable Burt Dunham. The man said he wanted them for a pie.

HARRY COOPER SHOOTS TWO UNDER PAR TO-DAY

ROYAL YORK GOLF CLUB, Toronto, Aug. 17. (CP) — Harry Cooper defending titleholder from Chicago, crashed into the lead of the field in the first round of the Canadian open golf championship to-day with a blistering 70, two under par.

Through his spectacular round Cooper displayed the youthful Bobby Alston of Ottawa, whose pace-setting earlier in the morning had withstood the challenge of many of the country's wizards.

DROWNING VICTIMS FOUND.

WINNIPEG. — Bodies of four victims of a naval whaleboat disaster in Lake Winnipeg had been recovered to-day. Washed up on the shores of the Brokenhead River, six miles east of Grand Marais, the searchers last night found the body of Frank Collingwood. Nearby earlier in the day, Indians found the body of John Burch. The bodies of Michael Gould and William Burt were found earlier in the week. The four men, members of the Royal Canadian Volunteer Naval Reserve, were drowned when their boat capsized during a storm on August 6.

THOMPSON CADILLAC

Thompon Cadillac Mines is said to have completed new financial arrangements which will enable it to carry out a large program of development on its property Cadillac district of Quebec. Under earlier work a shaft was put down to a depth of 600 feet with about 4,000 feet of lateral work completed. Present plans call for development work on the present levels to include lateral diamond drilling to pick up parallel veins. It is stated that the company has sufficient funds assured to go several hundred feet deeper and also to install a pilot mill on the property.

SUN BEAR

Sun Bear Mines has started diamond drilling on its property in the Great Bear Lake district, according to official word received from the property yesterday. The No. 1 hole has been completed and at depth of 266, 296 intersected 11 feet of heavy mineralization. Cores will be forwarded immediately for assay. The drill has been set up at the 2nd hole located at the north end of the property adjacent to Eldorado and Cons. Smelters' holdings. Results from the 2nd hole are expected within a few days. Sun Bear has ordered a second and smaller drill which will be used for drilling the rougher sections of the property.

Ireland Takes Spotlight On Stage

With the Cuban situation more or less settled, Ireland feels once again that it is entitled to a place in the spotlight. General Owen O'Duffey (RIGHT), leader of the Irish National Guards, Blue Shirts, Fascists or what have you, is understood to be the factor in forcing De Valera to bring about another election, which, if it takes the form of previous elections, will be violent. DeValera (LEFT), president of the Irish Free State, is being urged by a radical group within his party to hasten with his plan to form a republic. Meanwhile, Cosgrave, leader of the parliamentary opposition, sits back and harshly criticizes De Valera's every move through his various newsaper channels.

MAN BELIEVED LOST IN LAKE

thoroughly but could not locate him.

Constable Silvester expressed the opinion that, although the men are apparently reliable, they were mistaken in the identity of the man they saw. He believes that there can be little doubt that Freeburn was drowned somewhere in Clear Lake while crossing from the Kawartha Park shore to the east side of the lake Friday.

Dragging Lake

Fifty farmers and cottagers from Clear Lake and vicinity were taking part in the search yesterday with grappling irons secured from the Fire Department in Peterborough and a number of improvised sets of books. Every mode of craft from a punt to a motor boat was in use. More than a hundred contributed their assistance in the search on Tuesday.

Although Freeburn's upturned canoe and a paddle he had been using were found on the eastern shore of the lake, the bottom over a large area on both sides is being combed. A stiff wind was blowing on the afternoon he was last seen and would have served to drive the canoe far from the scene of an upset.

No discovery of clues other than the upturned canoe and the paddle have been made.

NEW STAMPS START BOOM.

NIRA, Ia. — Industry boomed in the ramshackle post office of Nira to-day with first official sales here of the Nira stamp, emblem of the United States industrial recovery program.

In homage to its name, Nira was first after Washington to sell the new three-cent stamp. And the population of 20, five families, was ready for the occasion.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 17 (CP)—Signs of life were evident in the Winnipeg Wheat Pit to-day as futures prices shook off their lethargy and climbed for maximum gains of 2⅞ to 3⅜ cents above their pegged lows. Aids to boosting values were word of fair export business and a firm performance at Liverpool.

Slight reaction carried wheat down 1 cent from its extreme gains soon after the opening but October delivery held at 72, December at 73¾ and May at 78¾. Closing figures of Aug. 14, set by the Exchange as the pegged minimum for wheat futures, were 70¼ for October, 71¾ for December, and 76⅝ for May.

SPORT OF KINGS

By ART MURRAY
(Special to Examiner.)

FORT ERIE was certainly in the limelight yesterday. Dark Altos started the long shot boys off on the right foot at over one hundred smackers for two in the first race. Then along came one called Centermarch in the third who paid off at fifty for the deuce. Coupled with this was the record payoff for the daily double, Dark Altos and Fire Reel handing a Buffalo turf follower the sum of $2,967 for a lone two spot.

* * *

THE LAST DAY of a race meet is usually the long shot day but in the case of yesterday it seems to have moved up to the middle of the week. This same horse Centermarch has a habit of paying large dividends as two years ago at Blue Bonnets in Montreal it paid one hundred and eighty-five for a deuce investment. This is usually the time of year that the sleepers come to life.

* * *

AND AT THIS time we want to mention about the great work of Jockey Westrope these last few days at Chicago. This lad rode his first winner last winter at Havanna and since then he has climbed to the leadership of all the jockeys in America. On Monday of this week he rode five winners and on Tuesday four more and if he keeps up anywhere near this work, he will soon pass Johnnie Gilbert who has held top place among the riding lads for several years. He is light and a real judge of pace and all horsemen claim he has a great pair of hands.

* * *

It WON'T be long now until the nags are back in Toronto with the first track opening being Thorncliffe where the turnstiles will begin to click September 9th followed by Woodbine, Long Branch and last but not least Dufferin. Of course Stamford has one more meeting at Niagara Falls and Devonshire and Kenilworth each have one at Windsor and then the Canadian racing season will be a thing of the past.

* * *

BEFORE THEY ring down the curtain here are a few we would like to call to your attention: Fair Bill has not won a race in Canada yet this year and he sure will before the close. Princeton has only won one and he will probably at least win one more if not more. Fire Brigade and Princely Attention are two that always come to life at the Fall meetings. Bold Bendigo is another sleeper that will come up with a bang. He has been running below form all year. All Forlorn is ust waiting around for a suitable spot and then he will earn a set of brackets.

* * *

ED. SEAGRAM is gradually gathering together a real stable and it won't be long until the popular yellow and black silks so long familar to Canadian racing fans will again occupy their former high place. They are giving Broadway Lights a real rest and this good performer will be all set for a successful fall and winter season. Conny Smythe has not been getting many purses lately but this is only the calm before the storm as one of these days his stable will break out in a rash and win three or four like they did at the first meeting at Hamilton this year. The J. E. Smallman string are also coming into their own. Huraway won on Tuesday at Fort Erie and Golden Fate is all ready for a winning effort.

* * *

ACCORDING TO late news dispatches today Leon J. Haffler of Kenmore, New York has engaged a legal firm to take action against the Niagara Racing Association at Fort Erie to obtain from the $2,967, allegedly due plaintiff on the ground he was the only ticket holder in the 'daily double" on yesterday's program. Haffler claims he bought the ticket and then lost it and immediately warned the cashier not to cash it should anyone else present it. One man did attempt to cash it but the cashier refused and the customer left. Judge Carpenter granted an order to restrain the Association from paying the money to any other person.

HUGE LANDSLIDE NEVADA CANYON

Train is Trapped, Lives of Hundreds of Motorists Are Endangered.

PAPER MILLS DAMAGED.

RENO, Nev., Aug. 17—A cloudburst and giant landslide in the narrow Truckee River canyon of the Sierras late yesterday was reported to have damaged the Crown-Willamette Paper Company's mills at Floriston, Cal., trapped a Southern Pacific eastbound train and possibly endangered the lives of several motorists.

Communication lines were down here.

The spot where the landslide was reported to have occurred is on a narrow curve in the California-Nevada highway, high above the narrow gorge of the river.

Meagre reports received here said the cloudburst swept down the Floriston Canyon shortly after 5 p.m. The landslide followed.

80 RICHMOND ST. WEST LIMITED

NOTICE OF MEETING OF HOLDERS OF FIRST MORTGAGE (CLOSED) TWENTY YEAR SINKING FUND BONDS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That The Royal Trust Company (hereinafter called the "Trustee") as Trustee for the Holders of the First Mortgage (Closed) Twenty Year Sinking Fund Bonds issued under Mortgage Deed of Trust dated as of May 1st, 1929, made between 80 Richmond Street West Limited (hereinafter called the "Company") and The Royal Trust Company, has called a Meeting of the Holders of the said Bonds to be held at Dining Room No. 10, Royal York Hotel, Toronto, on Wednesday, the 13th Day of September, 1933, at the hour of 11 o'clock in the Forenoon, for the purpose of considering and if deemed advisable passing an extraordinary resolution or resolutions:

(a) To confirm and ratify generally actions theretofore taken by the Trustee and in particular the action of the Trustee in negotiating an option to buy in all mechanics' liens against the Mortgaged Premises for a total purchase price of $25,000.00 as of June 30th, 1933, plus interest on such amount at the rate of Six per cent. per annum from that date up to the date of exercise of the option;

(b) To consider and if thought fit to sanction the payment by the Trustee of the sum of $912.62 to the agent who negotiated the said option for expenses incurred and services rendered in the obtaining of such option, such payment to be made only out of the proceeds of any sale of the Mortgaged Premises but irrespective of whether or not the option is exercised;

(c) To consider and if thought fit to sanction the payment by the Trustee of a further commission of $7,500.00 to the said agent for his services in securing the same, such commission to be payable only out of the proceeds of the sale of the Mortgaged Premises and then only in the event of the exercise by the Trustee of such option;

(d) To consider any offers to purchase the Mortgaged Premises received by the Trustee and if thought fit to authorize the Trustee to accept any of such offers;

(e) To authorize the Trustee to enter into an agreement with the Company to give effect to the modification of the Trust Deed proposed by the Company whereby the provisions as to giving notice of Meetings of Bondholders by advertisement are altered so as to require publication of such notice once only in a daily newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Toronto;

(f) Generally to instruct the Trustee with regard to its further actions in the premises.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN, That pursuant to the powers contained in the said Mortgage Deed of Trust, the following regulations have been made for the purpose of enabling the holders of Bearer Bonds to be present and vote at the Meeting, without producing their Bonds and enabling them to be present and vote by proxy:

A holder of Bearer Bonds desiring to be present and vote without production of such Bonds shall first deposit such Bonds with any Trust Company or Chartered Bank or Department of a Provincial or the Dominion Government or any other depositary satisfactory to the Trustee, and a certificate of such deposit, signed by the Depositary and stating the amount and distinguishing numbers of the Bonds and that the same will remain so deposited during two calendar months ensuing from the date of such certificate or until the final adjournment of the said Meeting whichever shall be longer shall be produced at the Meeting by a holder of Bearer Bonds desiring to vote in person without production of such Bonds at the Meeting, or be attached to or produced with any proxy executed by the holder of Bearer Bonds. Any such certificate shall be satisfactory evidence for the purpose of action by the Trustee on the faith thereof.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN, That the said Mortgage Deed of Trust provides in substance as follows:

That holders of registered Bonds may, by instrument in writing under their hands, and stating the numbers of the Bonds regarding which they are entitled to vote, appoint any person as their proxy to vote at the Meeting for them, and that save as aforesaid and as provided by the above regulations, the only persons who shall be recognized at the Meeting as the holders of Bonds or as entitled to vote or be present at the Meeting in respect thereof, shall be the persons who produce unregistered Bonds at the Meeting and the registered Bondholders.

Bondholders are requested to make every effort to attend the Meeting in person or by proxy as the questions to be considered thereat are of great importance to the Bondholders, and it is necessary that Bonds to the face value of Two Hundred and Seventy-Three Thousand Five Hundred Dollars be represented thereat in order to constitute a quorum.

DATED at Toronto the 14th Day of August, 1933.

THE ROYAL TRUST COMPANY,
Trustee for the Bondholders.

Suitable forms of proxy and certificates of deposit may be obtained at the office of The Royal Trust Company at Toronto. The Royal Trust Company cannot undertake to act as proxy, and proxies should not, therefore, be executed in its favour.

Duke's Second Duchess Leaves

CONSUELO VANDERBILT THE DUKE GLADYS MARIE DEACON

American wives just do not seem to be able to reside permanently in the castle of the Duke of Marlborough, former under-secretary of state for colonies and one of England's largest land owners. The first Duchess of Marlborough, the former Consuelo Vanderbilt of New York, left him, and now, according to reports, her successor, the former Gladys Marie Deacon of Boston, has done likewise. Gossip has it that the second duchess moved out after three private detectives had entered and taken possession of the house and gas, electricity and telephone servics had been discontinued.

BOWLING NOTES

(By Herb Martin)

A complete report of the bowling tournament appears in another column of this issue. Below are just a few of the "main events" as seen by yours truly from the "Caledonian Bench.":

It sure was a great day for it.

The Coleman family was out in full force—father, mother, sister and three brothers, closely followed by the Penrose clan, father, two sons and grandson.

Some of the skips got more advice than they did support.

The greens were fast—and so was some of the bowling.

Judging by the number of elevens and sevens handed in, one might think it was a crap game.

About all that some of the bowlers got out of the tournament was a badge.

Jack Sedgewick's rink broke two records yesterday—the first local rink to enter in the tournament and the first one out of it.

The women certainly did their part nobly and well.

So taking it all around it was just about the best yet.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

GARMENT PLANT TIED BY STRIKE

Walkout is First of Major Proportions Since the N.R.A.

ASK HIGHER WAGES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (CP)—The first major industrial strike in the metropolitan area since creation of the N.R.A.—a walkout of 60,000 garment workers—was only a few hours old yesterday when the government stepped in to mediate.

Former Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen, chairman of the city committee of the N.R.A., was authorized by the National Labor Board at Washington to negotiate a settlement. He said he had perfected plans to end the dispute and would confer with leaders of the workers at a hotel to-day at noon.

The strike, which has as its object higher wages and the end of the sweatshop, according to labor leads, affected garment workers in New York, New Jersey, parts of Eastern Pennsylvania and Connecticut.

of the house because Lawford "objected several times to minding Holland's children in the evenings while he was attending meetings of the fraternity." Holland declared this a mis-statement.

The Lawfords also alleged that when they first sub-let a part of Holland's home they paid eight dollars a month rent. Then, in January, they got on relief, and Holland secured seven dollars a month in relief vouchers for the Lawfords' rent and charged them a dollar besides this for rent. Mrs. Lawford said, "I had to borrow money three months to pay that extra dollar, and I am still in debt for it."

Holland said, "I told Mr. Metherall that I was going to do that; that I wouldn't rent it for seven dollars a month. The room is vacant now and I'm still holding out for seven dollars a month and payment for light and water."

Relief Rent Vouchers

At the city relief office The Examiner was informed that Holland had secured $35, seven dollars a months, through relief vouchers made out in his favor as payment for Lawford's rent.

Mr. Moore, bailiff, stated, "I put Lawfords out of Holland's house at Holland's request." He said he had not charged Holland for the service, but had informed Holland that it could be taken as his subscription to the fraternity.

Lawford showed The Examiner a letter which he received from Holland giving him three days' notice to vacate. A complete copy of the letter is as follows:

85 Hunter St., West,
City,
June 13, 1933

To Wesley and Mary Lawford,
Roomers of 85 Hunter St., W.,
Peterborough.

Sir and Madam,—Doubtless you are aware that at a recent meeting of the Unemployed Workers' Fraternity, it was unanimously resolved and it went on record as saying, the aforesaid fraternity would not interfere in any way, or obstruct, those landlords whom in the exercise of their prerogative were forced to remove undesirable tenants from their properties.

Therefore, in exercising my legal rights and privileges, and in the interests of my wife and children, specifically the latter, I hereby give you three days' clear notice to vacate and deliver up possession of room, which you now hold of me under the term or title of roomer, and be it further understood that the said notice shall be effective as from the 13th day of June, 1933, and shall expire on the 15th day of June, 1933, thereafter legal machinery will be put into operation, if you have failed to deliver up the room as above requested. And further take notice, that I shall demand indemnification against any loss or damage my goods, chattels or property may have suffered during the time you have been privileged to use the same.

Signed this 13th day of June, 1933.

Chas. Wm. Holland.

Soccer Notes

To-night, on King Edward Park, the Caledonians meet the Canadian General in the semi-final of the Father Phealen trophy. Individual executive linesmen have been chosen. A Frick will handle the match. All the finances are turned over to charity in the city.

No official communication has been received from Deloro whether they will continue in the league. Every fan trusts that they will reconsider their decision.

All C.G.E. and Caley players are requested to be at the pavilion no later than six o'clock.

Bluenose Skipper Sued For $5,000

Captain Angus Walters, skipper of Nova Scotia's famous Bluenose, queen of the Atlantic fishing fleet, has been sued by Addison Stillwell (inset), wealthy Chicago lumberman, after the latter had chartered the Bluenose for a cruise. Stillwell charges that Walters and the Bluenose crew made things so uncomfortable that he was forced to stop the trip. Walters retorts that he felt that Stillwell should have been put in irons, and treats the whole matter as a joke. Walters is shown above a the helm of his schooner.

CANADIANS WIN SCHOLARSHIPS

Three Out of Seven Offered by Guild Come to Canada.

TIED FOR FIRST.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—Three university scholarships out of seven offered by the Fisher Body Craftsmen's Guild to boys who built the best miniature model Napoleonic coaches in North America, go to Canadians.

Last night before one hundred and fourteen state and provincial winners attending the Century of Progress Exposition, the Guild announced that Joseph Olafson of Leslie, Saskatchewan, and David Tennent of London, Ontario, had tied for the first senior scholarship and because of the dead heat a last minute decision was made to award both boys the $5,000 that will give them college education. The third Canadian scholarship winner and another London boy, Richard H. Guthrie, was ranked first among the juniors.

Guthrie who is sixteen years old, was easily first in his class, but the other Ontario boy and his Saskatchewan competitor were so close for the senior award that the judges appealed to Guild officers who generously decided to award two senior scholarships.

The three fortunate young candidates were presented with their scholarships certificated by R. S. McLaughlin, president of General Motors of Canada Limited, and president of the Canadian section of the Guild and were warmly congratulated for the beautiful model coaches they submitted in the competition. All three winning Canadian boys expended thousands of hours of work on their models and they are among the finest yet submitted by Guild members. Olafsen and Tennent were district winners last year and attended the international convention in Detroit. Guthrie was junior second in Ontario district last year.

Obituary

MRS. GEORGE J. EDWARDS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

NORWOOD, August 17. — Following an illness of six months duration Clarisa Clysdale, wife of Geo. J. Edwards, passed away at her home, lot 1, concession 8, Dummer, on Friday, August 11th.

Mrs. Edwards, who was in her 64th year, was born in Dummer township, the daughter of the late Eliza Jane Fenlay and John Clydsdale.

The pall-bearers were the deceased's six nephews: Messrs. Wesley Bell, Stewart Lang, Arvyl and Beryl Clydesdale, Hayden and Arnold Jones.

The funeral was held on Monday August 14th from the family residence, with interment in the Norwood cemetery. Rev. A. C. Reeves, B.A., of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, officiated at the services.

HIGH SCHOOL AT LAKEFIELD TO ADD FIFTH FORM ON TRIAL

paid to the county. It costs $120 per pupil to attend the Peterborough Collegiate, while the cost here is about $110, and for every outside pupil attending the school here the county pays half the cost and this revenue will help to pay the salary of the extra teacher. It will draw more pupils from the county by reason of its higher standard. At present the weakness of the school is in mathematics and it is recommended that a male teacher be engaged who can teach mathematics in the High School and in the Upper School.

Reeve Tanner said that in putting in the Fifth Form they are only maintaining the standard of say five years ago; if they fail to add this the status will dwindle. Owing to a regulation recently passed by the County Council county pupils will attend the school nearest, and each outside pupil reduces the cost of the local school. Peterborough Collegiate is not a county school in the financial sense.

Mr. Dench — Has the inspector been asked?

Mr. Ridpath—No.

Dr. Smith—When the staff was increased from two to three teachers, the inspector was not consulted.

Re the housing of the Fifth Form, it was intended to use the science room for the present.

Mr. Dench—Will the use of the science room affect the health of the pupils?

Mr. Wagar—There is good ventilation and an electric fan, and in his own home school this system was in vogue and all are alive and well.

Mr. Dench and Dr. Gibson were strongly of the opinion that the ratepayers were opposed with the possible exception of a few interested people.

Reeve in Favor.

Reeve Tanner spoke strongly in favor of the proposition which is only following the demand of the provincial authorities. If it is found to be too expensive it can be cut out.

Dr. Gibson felt that it would necessitate an increased tax rate and he also warned his colleagues that the Department might demand that we build a school here if we were to run a High School.

Dr. Smith suggested that the matter be tried for one year as an experiment.

G. H. Spence—Do the opponents understand the financial advantages?

Mr. Ridpath outlined the history of the movement, which was introduced two months ago, and it was shelved for a month to allow time to get full information re the financial aspect. At the next meeting there was not one figure, the member who was appointed to get the information had none, and the only figures were those given by Mr. Harvey, who was present at the meeting. There was no quorum. Trustees Gibson and Dench sat with the chairman till after nine o'clock, and it was felt it was too late to establish the Fifth Form this year; a teacher must be engaged and equipment provided. The estimates were made for the year and a leeway of only $50 allowed, and the amount necessary could not be raised, but the day after the meeting, in an interview with Reeve Tanner, it was suggested that the Council would help in this regard and at the meeting $600 was voted unanimously, and the Council are prepared to go further.

Mr. Ridpath assured the meeting of his desire to see the Fifth Form established, but felt they should not rush in in a haphazard way, but should call a public meeting of the ratepayers to discuss the matter.

Mr. Burrows suggested that as notice was given this was the public meeting and the ratepayers were represented.

Dr. Gibson spoke of the numbers of unemployed in Lakefield who cannot pay their taxes.

Reeve Tanner said the village had already reduced the taxes two mills and if the school tax is higher the Canada Cement Company pay a big share of that, and Lakefield is sitting on top of the world in education.

The Motion

After this discussion Dr. Smith brought in a motion:

"That, as the addition of a Fifth Form is distinctly advantageous to the village of Lakefield, that for one year at least it be tried; that a male teacher, who will teach mathematics and physical training in the whole school, and can handle Upper School work, be engaged; and that twenty seats and desks be ordered to furnish the science room."

Mr. Burrows seconded the motion.

The Fifth Form will be practically all old pupils, and there will be less trouble in organizing it than the First Form. The biggest work falls on the principal. Mr. Harvey and he has expressed his willingness to assume it.

A. H. Clark, one of the citizens present, expressed his interest but did not feel that delay for a ratepayers' meeting would further the matter materially. He recalled that when the chairman of the school rose at the nomination meeting to read the financial report of the Board, all but a corporal's guard left the room, which did not indicate great interest of the ratepayers. If the figures were available could not six men elected as the School Board take the responsibility."

A Citizen—That's what they were elected for.

Reeve Tanner—The Council vote was unanimous, and the entire Council, J. W. Botterill, W. J. Webster, J. R. Hill and J. R. Hall were present and could hardly be termed as prejudiced in favor for personal reasons.

Mr. Dench—I can't see why making improvements won't increase the cost.

Dr. Smith—Would you rather see the money go to Lakefield or to Peterborough?

Mr. Dench—Douro.

Dr. Smith—If Douro had a High School that would be all right.

W. J. Charlton expressed approval of the move. It is a costly matter to send pupils to Peterborough, not only their tuition but transportation in all kinds of weather, and if this can be avoided it will be worth while.

Mr. Connell and Mrs. W. M. Graham also spoke in favor of the move as one which would be almost self-sustaining if not quite, and an upward step.

The vote taken showed: For the motion, Trustees Dr. Smith, A. B. Burrows and H. R. Wagar; against the motion, Trustees Dr. Gibson and B. G. Dench.

The motion was declared carried.

P. Spence rose to urge the Board to co-operate. If the Board pull together, success is assured.

WARD WRIGHT LEADS IN POINTS AT ANNUAL LAKEFIELD REGATTA

BIG CROWD ATTENDS.

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 17. (Examiner Correspondence.)—The weather man played fair with the Lakefield regatta committee and an ideal afternoon helped to make the second annual regatta held under the auspices of the Lakefield Pavilion, a great success. The water front was packed with people, and cars were parked in every available space. People were present from Kawartha Park, Stoney Lake, Chemong, Sturgeon Point, Peterborough, Wallace's Point and Hiawatha.

Lakefield has an excellent regatta course, well sheltered and with lots of space for spectators and the hundreds who thronged the dock were rewarded by one of the best aquatic events of the season. The entry list was especially large and several events were run off in heats. Not an accident marred the proceedings and the verdict was unanimous that this event may continue each year, growing bigger and better.

There was no points prize in the regatta but as a matter of interest the committee figured up the standing and Ward Wright had the greatest number of points in the regatta. Ward, who is still in the sixteen year old class was the outstanding junior in several other regattas also and his performance was quite outstanding. Frank Jopling, champion of Juniper Island was a close second and Charlie Cawker of Bowmanville third. Flossie Howard of Hiawatha was high lady.

Silver cups were donated by Messrs. E. Wright, D. M. Bissell, Fred Jopling, Capitol Theatre, Dick Cooke and the Lakefield Pavilion and other prizes were particularly good.

The judges were Messrs. G. G. Connell, F. Jopling and E. Wright, the starters were J. W. Ridpath and F. L. Erskine. The announcer was James White. General convenors, D. McFadden and Cyril Tuck.

The Results

Ladies' tandem canoe, six entries—Flossie Howard and Mrs. Madden Howard; Lilian and Patricia McClellan.

Gunwale race, 13 entries— Ward Wright; Nelson Stanger.

Ladies' single canoe, 7 entries — Flossie Howard; Mrs. Madden Howard.

Mixed tandem canoe, 12 entries, 2 heats—Madge and Frank Jopling; Madeline Blade and Hector MacLead.

Helen Cole was the only girl to finish. This event attracted a tremendous amount of interest and the swimming was particularly good, with no one suffering from exhaustion or cramp.

Men's swim — Charlie Cawker; Tom Dunlop.

During the afternoon Harold Paul's Orchestra furnished a delightful program of dance music and a good crowd enjoyed dancing on the matchless floor with the up-to-date dance music with intervals of watching the races. As an afternoon of varied amusement it has few equals and people were delighted with the success of the program which was well organized and no detail omitted to make a full afternoon of real pleasure. As one of the last of the series of the district regattas, Lakefield will take a place at the top of the list of successful aquatic events.

DIGNITY TO EVERY FUNERAL SERVICE

Webster Bros. Maintain Up-to-Date Establishment.

For many years the firm of Webster Bros. has been identified with the profession of funeral directing. During this time they have promoted such ideals of service that they are numbered among the foremost in this profession in this section.

The personnel of this organization is composed of highly skilled men who receive with great pride the unfailing commendation of the bereaved families whom they have served. The aid and assistance given at these times are not merely mat ters of perfunctory courtesy, but of real sincerity and sympathy.

Webster Bros. maintain a modern funeral home and chapel for those whose living quarters are too small for the occasion. Many take advantage of this service, rather preferring to have all details taken care of there than in their own residence.

D. H. & Lorne Webster, the owners and managers of this establishment, relieve one of all worry and responsibility and by sympathetic co-operation bring comfort to the family. Their services supply the consoling consciousness that the final tribute has been both fitting and beautiful.

They have a natural fitness for this profession, as those to whom they have given service will testify. They have given this profession the closest study, and their one idea is to give the distinctive services that would merit the reputation they have acquired.

Their professional work is not known in Lakefield alone, but throughout all this region, and peope of Lakefield may well point with pride to this modern, up-to-the-minute establishment. Acquaint yourself with them.

Do you know how long Webster Bros. have served this section?

Addition Is Made Brock Street Band

Mose Yokom Has Popular Band of First Class Young Musicians.

The orchestra playing at the Brock Street Summer Gardens, under the leadership of Mose Yokom has already become very popular with the dancing public in the city and surrounding district, and with the object in view of still further doing everything possible to satisfy the demand for good dance music. A second trumpet has been added to the organization in the person of Bill Stuart, who will appear with the band Friday and Saturday nights when the feature will be a trumpet trio, composed of "Tap" Thirnbeck, Bill Stuart and Harold MacFarlane.

Most Yokom, who is leader of the band has had valuable experience with a number of good musical organizations. He has been on Loew's Circuit with the Mason and Dixie Band, has had summer engagements at Port Manley, Crystal Beach, Port Dover and Sarnia. Came to Chemong Park in 1927 with the Buffalo Columbians. Was leader of the Regent Theatre Orchestra for two years and last summer played at the Chateau Laurier during the Imperial Conference.

The other members of the orchestra are Harold MacFarlane, tenor sax; Gord Robertson, 1st alto sax; Al Pfeffer, 3rd alto sax; "Tap" Thirnbeck, 1st trumpet; Bill Stuart, 2nd trumpet; Andy Rutter, bass violin; Bus Whaley, drums; Patsy Connell, marimba; George Gatfield, 1st violin; Ross Gillespie, 2nd violin; Curly Gibson, vocalist.

They are all young musicians, enthusiastic and eager to make a name for the band. Two new instruments have been purchased this week and the addition of the second trumpet tomorrow and Saturday nights should put the band over better than ever.

The orchestra will appear under a new setting which is now being built which will give even a better effect to the music than the old sitting. —(adv.)

SUN BOTHERS MARKSMEN AT OTTAWA MEET

CAMERON CORPS WIN.

(By Harry Eccles, C.P. Staff Writer)

CONNAUGHT RANGES, Ottawa, August 17 (C.P.). — The best military shots in Canada started firing to-day in the Dominion's service rifle classic, the Governor-General's match, and when they retired in the early afternoon after completing two-thirds of the first stage only a few had been able to gain perfect scores under a burning sun and against a difficu't mirage. They included Sergt. J. F. Sampson of Ottawa and Pte. Martinson of La Tuque, Que.

Several others, however, got a perfect score at either the opening 200 yard distance or the 500 yard range to post 69's before entering the final distance 600 yards in the first stage, which will decide the 150 competitors left in Saturday's final.

The Cameron Cadet Corps of Winnipeg scored another win, their third of the week, in the inter-corps team match, aggregating 374 points out of a possible 400 to take one of the most important awards in the miniature rifle meeting being conducted along with the great annual meeting of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association. Longueuil and Montreal South's cadet team was second, and St. John's Cadet Corps third.

ASK RETRACTION OF PICKET STORY

Threats of Tarring and Feathering Correspondent Heard at Meeting.

DISCUSS INQUIRY.

Threats to "tar and feather" the Toronto Telegram's local correspondent, were voiced at a meeting of the Unemployed Workers' Federation held under the chairmanship of Charles Holland last evening.

This drastic action, which was not endorsed by the meeting, was suggested as a reprisal for the publishing by The Telegram recently, of a report of unemployed picketing of an East City home, which was considered by the Federation, to be of a misleading and false nature.

Modification of the suggestion was contained in a resolution carried by the meeting to the effect, that The Telegram is to be asked to retract the report in question, failing which, the letter of apology which is to be forwarded to The Telegram, will be sent to the other Toronto papers.

The meeting also went on record requesting that The Star give coverage to the weekly meetings of the Federation.

J. Brown was appointed to deal with the matter in accordance with the resolution.

In conversation with The Examiner this morning, Holland intimated that the Federation was instituting action against "The Worker," a labor journal published in Toronto, for a recent article, which he claimed was libellous, and which had reference to the activities of the U.W.F. of Peterborough.

Discuss Inquiry

Considerable discussion centered around a demand by the members of the Federation for a governmental inquiry into the relief finances of Peterborough, according to Holland. The matter was finally shelved for further consideration at the next meeting.

Asked on what grounds the U.W.F. were seeking for an inquiry into relief administration, Holland replied, "I don't think it wise to say anything further at the moment. Forewarned is forearmed."

Speaking of the threatened unemployed evictions, Holland stated that three of the seven cases that were being dealt with this week, still remained in an unsettled condition. Four landlords, he said, were apparently taking another viewpoint of the situation, and were allowing their tenants to stay.

Already, he continued, the U.W.F. which has a membership of 650 in the city and 100 in North Monaghan Township has dealt with or is dealing with the cases of 75 of their members who have received notice to quit and surrender possession of their homes.

While the Federation is out "to keep a roof over the heads of the unemployed" Holland stated "it is also out with the full desire to co-operate with the landlords to the fullest extent."

He claimed that J. T. O'Connell, a property owner, was being forced by the city to install plumbing in one or more of his houses. That was a move on the part of the civic authorities, he contended, to force the thirteen unemployed tenants of this landlord out on the street.

"O'Connell is receiving relief vouchers as rent for thirteen of his tenants," Holland stated, "and is of the opinion that he is doing his full share without being asked to go to the expense of installing conveniences. If he is forced to do so," said Holland, "he will have no alternative but to give those tenants notice to quit."

OTTAWA GOLFER LEADS IN OPEN

CORRIGAN NEAR TOP.

ROYAL YORK GOLF CLUB, Toronto, Aug. 17 (CP).—A young Ottawa professional, Alston, of Rivermead, as a result of an international field to shoot when he cruised over the Royal York in 71 strokes to-day in the first stage of the Canadian open golf championship. Alston, who started like a whirlwind on the Canadian Professional Tournament last week, but bowed to the wizardry of Willie Lamb, played sensational golf to post his sub-par mark.

Another young Canadian threatened United States supremacy that has held for 14 years in the national title event when Frank Corrigan, an amateur from the Chaudiere Club of Ottawa, scored 73, a mark equalled among the early finishers by Jess Noble of Galt, Ont.

Alston gave no promise of his super score on the first three holes. He played the first in par, but was one over with a five on the second, and two over on the third with another five. He stuck to par figures for the rest of the first nine except on the seventh where he knocked a birdie three.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Dr. Clendenina

We can explain some of the most complicated processes in the working of your body—processes so obscure that you do not even know that you perform them. But no man on earth can explain the mystery of laughter—an act so universal and common that life begins with it, and it is shared by emperor and clown.

Why should the contortion of the muscles of the face, and the emission of a series of noises due to the spasmodic contraction of the diaphragm, indicate joy?

Recent studies by Kinnear Wilson on pathologic laughing only deepen the mystery. Pathologic laughing may be defined as "laughter without cause."

There is an ironic touch in the account of some of the patients. A man of 66 used to walk around the hospital with his eyes glued to the ground; if he so much as raised them to meet anyone's gaze he was immediately overcome by uncontrolable laughter, which sometimes lasted half an hour and left him weak to the verge of exhaustion. His figure might serve as the apotheosis of cynicism; the world is so ridiculous that he cannot bear to look at it But as a matter of record he had a hemorrhage into a small area of his brain.

How superficial the mechanism of our emotions is may be learned from the cases of destruction of the facial nerve on both sides. The facial nerve innervates the muscles of the face—those which are moved in laughing and smiling. Charles Bell, who discovered its properties long ago, wrote that possibly the "influence of passions such as those of laughing and crying might be lost in consequence of affections which destroy the entire power of the nerve." And sure enough, we have a case in which the facial nerves on both sides were paralyzed, and not only did the patient never laugh, but felt no desire to laugh at anything. Her sense of merriment was destroyed when the muscle fibers which made grimaces were paralyzed.

A somewhat contrary situation is reported by another physician who had a patient similarly affected—with facial diplegia due to a disease of the brain. The face bore a serious character contrasting forcibly with his frame of mind. He retained his good humor and sometimes laughed heartily—as if behind a mask, because the face was grave and motionless while the sound of laughter prevailed. And that, he said, was the hardest part of his lot to bear—that his laughter was of necessity solemn.

INDIAN PICKLES

Peel nine onions

Select medium sized ones and take 2 dozen ripe tomatoes, 6 large apples, ¼ lb. ground white spice, 1 qt. vinegar, 1 lb. raisins and salt to taste. Having boiled them all together for 1½ hours, strain them and add 1 lb. brown sugar, ¼ cup of Keen's Mustard and 1 teaspoon of cayenne pepper. Now boil the entire mixture for ½ hour and your Indian Pickles are ready for bottling.

And what pickles they are! Tasty enough to satisfy an epicure. More spicy and flavourful than you ever thought a pickle could be. By all means prepare some Indian Pickles and remember how very important is that ¼ cup of Keen's Mustard.

AIDS DIGESTION

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

Over in Europe, it seems, the beach sirens who desire to make a hit are extremely careful about their leg make-up. On what side of the big pond, the newest vogue at present, is to have bands of color resembling anklets, and arrows resembling the clocks on stockings, painted or drawn on the bare legs. And the boys do seem to go for the fad in a big way.

Personnaly, I don't think it's because of the anklets, or arrows that the male of the specie is so attracted. My guess is that it's because those European women know how to keep their legs in perfect condition. And there's no denying that they do!

Any girl knows that a hairy leg is unbecoming for a female to display to the public. And yet, you'd be surprised at the number of femmes who are careless about this point. And it really is surprising, because superfluous hair can be removed so easily from the legs.

Shaving, of course, is one method. It certainly removes those undesirable hairs satisfactorily. But the trouble is that this process is inclined to coarsen and stiffen the hairs. Bleaching the hairs is an effective method of rendering them unnoticeable, too, especially if the hair growth is a light, downy one. A really excellent bleach for this purpose is outlined in my 'New Figure' booklet.

If the hair growth on the legs, however, is a really heavy one, complete removal is best. There are numerous depilatories on the market for this purpose. And the really good ones are neither unpleasantly odorous, nor inclined to make the regrowth of hair thicker and coarser.

Pumice stone can also be used to remove superfluous hair from the legs. Of course, if this is employed, only the very fine variety should be used. For the coarser kind might tend to irritate the skin. When using pumice stone on the legs, all that is required is that the stone be moistened a bit, and then rubbed briskly but not too roughly over the legs. The resultant friction tends to break off and wear down the hairs, and a smooth, hairless surface remains. But, regardless of what method you use, to remove the superfluous hair from your legs, be sure that it is safe and effective one.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Waving Fluid

Ruth: Boil a tablespoon of quince seeds in a quart of water. Strain the mixture and add a few drops of alcohol to preserve it. If you think the solution is too thick, dilute it with water before you use it.

Skin Feel

Mildred B., Jean and Meg: If you are contemplating having your skin peeled, be sure that you have the work done by an expert. Do not attempt to do the peeling yourself. You may injure your skin.

Standard Weight

R. M. C. and A Reader: I think that a girl 17 and five feet nine inches tall should weigh about 140 pounds. A girl 16 years of age and five feet seven and one-half inches tall should weigh about 132 pouuds.

PICNIC DINNER

Beefsteak and Bacon Clubs
Potato Chips or Roasted Potatoes
Whole Tomatoes, Quartered
Buttered Buns Jelly or Jam
Fresh Fruit
Assorted Cup Cakes Coffee

The coffee may be made at home and carried in thermos bottles, or made while the meat is being grilled. Inexpensive cotton napkins—one housewife makes them of sugar bags—are more practical than paper, although the latter can be burned after the picnic, which saves washing. Another suggestion which is well worth following is to take a pint jar of soapy water for washing fingers, after the picnic meal.

Today's Recipes

Beefsteak and Bacon Clubs—Cut steak in one-inch pieces. Season well, and alternate, on a skewer pieces of steak with squares of lean bacon cut thicker than usual. Place the skewers on a grill over the open fire and cook, turning frequently. A skewer for each person is the usual allotment. The meat clubs may be seasoned with meat sauce, if desired.

Assorted Cup Cakes—One cup sugar, one-half cup butter, two eggs, one-half cup milk, one and one-half cups flour, two and one-half teaspoons baking powder. Mix as any ordinary cake, then divide the batter. Season one-half with vanilla, and the other half with one-half teaspoon nutmeg and one-half teaspoon cinnamon. Bake in patty tins. Make confectioners' sugar frosting. To part of it add strawberry jam, to some a little coco and the rest plain. Be sure and leave some of the cakes plain, too.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Bonnes Bouches

These are tiny little cakes that closely resemble bon-bons. Use a good white cake or a butter sponge recipe for cake. Bake in a flat, shallow pan; when cold cut in fingers, triangles, circles, squares, etc. Dip in tinted icing and top with little silver candies, nutmeats, candied cherries, violets, rose petals or with icing pressed through a pastry tube in various dotes, lines, ribbon borders and the like. The white cake batter may be divided into several parts and tinted pink, green or chocolate. The icing may also be tinted and flavored variously. It is fascinating work to make these dainty cakes and allows much scope for the imagination. These are dainty sweets to serve at a bridge tea.

Economy Shelf

"My husband built a folding shelf beside the refrigerator," says a housewife. "On it I keep a tray for assembling all food materials from refrigerator for a given meal, and use the tray again to return food to refrigerator, thus keeping refrigerator open a minimum of time. The shelf folds against the wall when not in use."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

HOW MANY TRICKS AT SPADES FOR NORTH?

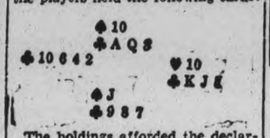
There are few players better than C. S. Lochridge, but how many can he win at spades against an opening lead of the J of hearts?

Bidding went: South, 1-No Trump; North (C. S. Lochridge), 3-Spades; South, 4-Spades; North, 6-Spades.

The opening lead was the J of hearts. Dummy's Ace won. Three rounds of trumps pulled all opposing spades, leaving the 10 in declarer's hand, and the J in dummy. Upon the third round of trumps East discarded his 2 of diamonds.

Both opponents followed suit upon the three rounds of winning diamonds next run off by the declarer. The last step in the hand stripping process followed was to take the two remaining heart tricks belonging to the declaring side, leaving dummy in the lead.

Having won nine straight tricks the players held the following cards:



The holdings afforded the declarer an excellent end play problem, with South in the lead, and the declaring side obligated to win three of the four remaining tricks. How many can be won against the best possible defense of East and West?

If you at once lead a club and finesse the declarers Q. East's K must win the trick, and later on either East's J or West's 10 must win another trick, defeating the small slam contract by one trick.

If you first take a round of trumps to force discards, you are no better off, as East will let go his lowest club, retaining his K-J of clubs and his good heart, so that the contract must go down one trick.

To win three of the four last tricks play as follows, as Mr. Lochridge did: Lead dummy's 9 of clubs. If the 10 covers play declarer's Q. and lose to East's K. If the 10 does not cover let it run and lose to East's J. Either way East will win the tenth trick, and he must lead, and his side cannot win another trick. If a club is led back it will be up to a tenace which must win both remaining club tricks. If East leads his heart, dummy will ruff and the declarer will let go his last loser in clubs. As played North could not fail on his small slam.

STARTLING

"My! What a difference there is in cleansers! Now I can see why Old Dutch goes further and costs less to use."

"You're quite right. It is startling, isn't it, how different Old Dutch Cleanser is. As you see, its particles are flaky and flat-shaped. Because of that, they cover more surface and remove dirt quickly, easily and without scratching. Gritty particles, on the other hand, are irregular chunky shapes and merely scratch the surface with their hard, sharp points."

Get your money's worth. Use Old Dutch Cleanser. Ounce for ounce, it does more square yards of cleaning than anything else. In addition, it protects beautiful surfaces because it doesn't scratch; is kind to the hands; doesn't clog drains; is odorless and removes odors. Old Dutch is unsurpassed for all cleaning from porcelain and enamel to kitchen utensils, floors and woodwork. It's the only cleanser you need in your home.

Employees and their families of the Silverwoods Peterborough Dairy, to the number of more than a hundred, yesterday enjoyed a delightful picnic at Wallace's Point. The picnickers motored to the Point in the afternoon and enjoyed a great program of sports and games for the children and men and women. All joined whole-heartedly in the events, and competition was keen. Two ball games were played, the Plant Employees playing the Drivers in one contest. Lunch baskets were opened under the trees. G. A. Gillespie said to-day that the picnic had been such a success yesterday that it will be made an annual event for the employees of the big dairy.

Fashion's rage for jumper dresses is leaving its cachet on small daughters clothes, besides those of mother's and grown-up sister's.

This cunning dress just pretends a jumper through its contrasting brief yoked bodice and puffed sleeves.

Style No. 3404 is designed for sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Size 4 requires 1¼ yards of 35-inch material with ⅝ yard of 35-inch contrasting.

Yellow pique with white dimity with tiny yellow dots is another cute idea.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Since the human body must be fed with food as an engine has to be stoked with fuel, in order to work efficiently and satisfactorily, and since the intervals between meals are comparatively short, it is not surprising that so much attention is paid to menus.

• • • • • • •

Also it is easy to understand why a homemaker is gratified when she finds dishes which require a short time to prepare and which lose none of their nutrition thereby.

• • • • • • •

The varied diet is the one most highly advised. Through change of foods the balance of vitamins is sustained according to their requirements, for one food contains certain vitamins non-existent in another.

• • • • • • •

The homemaker, therefore, can supply the correct balance most easily by providing foods of difference for her family. It is also important for the family to learn to eat all sorts of dishes and not pass those by for which they have no natural liking.

• • • • • • •

When any dish proves not suited to an individual's constitution, it should not be indulged in though it may be tempting. After an interim of omission the food may be tried again, when it might prove easily digested.

• • • • • • •

Then the dish can be included in the menu as long as it does agree. It is not unusual to have different foods agree with a person better at one time than another.

• • • • • • •

While the homemaker should serve a varied diet to her family, it can be done within certain limits. It is foolish, for instance, to prepare dishes which she knows are not agreeable to the palates of her family.

• • • • • • •

A certain degree of food preferences must be expected in normal appetites. In the matter of vegetables one kind can be selected for an example, namely potatoes. These are so universally liked that few menus do not include them.

• • • • • • •

The number of uncooked foods which can be included in the varied menus are found to be far more than at one time.

• • • • • • •

Carrots and cabbage are notable among these. Here are easy foods to prepare and each with its special vitamin value.

• • • • • • •

Fruits are used in greater variety and in more ways than ever before, new kinds even having been propagated. The simplicity of supplying the up-to-date varied food menus is a boon to homemakers.

Hiawatha

If you want a vacation that's really worth while,
Free from all fussing with dress or with style,
There's a place you can visit, I know, I've been there,
Hiawatha's the spot, with which none can compare.

For real solid comfort, they just take the cake,
Their screened in verandahs are spacious and wide
With nothing the beauty of nature to hide.

There are kitchen utensils, a stove that cooks right,
And beds with soft mattress to rest you each night;
They've dishes and cups and cutlery nice,
And an ice box that's filled up each day with fresh ice.

Your woodpile with hardwood's continually filled,
'Tis part of their service—no extra you're billed—
The lawns are trimmed smoothly, with flower beds decked,
You've every convenience that one could expect.

If fishing's your hobby, there's fish there galore,
They've boats and canoes there right down on the shore,
There are guides real efficient to show you just where
The big fish are hiding, so you'll catch your share.

You'll bathe in the lake by the light of the moon
You'll find your vacation will end all too soon,
And when the sad day comes, when your trunk you must pack
You'll wish for next Summer so you can go back.

The epaulets which seem to dominate the landscape these days are made of Persian lamb in this instance, and are used for trimming on this 1933 autumn coat.

The coat sleeves are full from shoulder to elbow, in the approved leg o'mutton fashion.

HOLLYWOOD

Sense and Nonsense

Hollywood's enthusiasm for the picturesque nineties grows rather than diminishes.

Following the popular trend, Carl Laemmle, Jr. is rushing a writer to work on a ZaSu - Patsy - Slim Summerville comedy to take place in the era made famous by Mae West in "She Done Him Wrong."

Ed Wynn

The picture will be the next co-starring vehicle of Universal's favorite team and will start in six weeks.

Meanwhile Metro - Goldwyn-Mayer is to present Ed Wynn in a story of the nineties, Twentieth Century Productions is shooting "The Bowery," Paramount has just finished "One Sunday Afternoon" and almost every other studio will dramatize the period in one or more pictures.

During the theatrical season just closed, 14 Canadian-made sound-films were produced and successfully distributed in theatres throughout the Dominion, and for the first time in the history of the cinema in this country, a regular Canadian program involving continuous production and release of all-Canadian entertainment has been scheduled and carried out.

Eight of these featurettes were included in the "Canadian Cameo" series and six in the "Sport Chats." Technically speaking, they were produced in the Montreal studios of Associated Screen News, but the production involved the shooting of special sequences across the entire Dominion from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

A full production of Canadian-made films has been scheduled for the coming season because of the initial success of steady Canadian film production. The work is being undertaken quietly, with absolute lack of patriotic ballyhoo. Nevertheless, these Canadian films are meeting with success not only in Canada but in South Africa, Australia and New Zealand as well as the British Isles.

• • •

It is an axiom of Hollywood film-directing that all exterior and interior sequences are shot according to set without thought of continuity, this being remedied in the cutting or editing room. It has remained for Herbert Wilcox, the noted English director, to introduce a new technique which, for want of a better term, means the production of a picture "cut in the camera," this indicating that the editing of the completed picture was more a matter of assembly than of editing. In the main, therefore, "Bitter-Sweet" followed the script minutely during the filming, a cinematic approach which the American directors have not to date attempted.

Something, however, must be said for Noel Coward's script. So well-balanced in this that it is possible to shoot the action in long sequences, provided the artists are willing and competent enough to shoulder this additional responsibility. In "Bitter-Sweet," the members of the cast have carried out this procedure with fluent results.

• • •

When Ruby Keeler of Dartmouth, Nova Scotia, scored a sensational success in "42nd Street," her first film, and clinched this with "Gold Diggers of 1933," the Canadian lass started a cycleof cinematic music-comedies that shows no sign of abating. Close on the heels of this success, Miss Keeler has started work on "Footlight Parade," another musical picture, and Busby Berkeley will again direct the singing and dancing as he did in the two previously-named flickers. Among the "old guard" who will be with the Canadian hoofer in "Footlight Parade" are Joan Blondell, Stanley Smith, Guy Kibbee, James Gagney, Paul Porcasi, Frank McHugh and Claire Dodd.

FORTUNE ON DISPLAY

CHICAGO.—A fortune of $500,000 was on display in Probate Court yesterday. It belonged to Walter H. Strom who became 21 that day and the bonds and mortgages representing his inheritance were brought to court for his and the judge's final inspection and approval. Then they went back to the bank vault under guard.

Terriers Defeat Oshawa 9-5 In Second Game

RALPH OUTFIT GAINS O.B.A.A. FINAL SERIES

Visitors' Ninth-inning Rally Falls Short of Overcoming Terriers' Lead.

LESURF ALLOWS 11 HITS.

G. Clarke, Galvin and Dunkley Play Good Defensive Game in Winners' Garden.

Peterborough Terriers entered the Ontario juvenile baseball finals by defeating Oshawa, 9 to 5, at Stevenson Park last night for their second straight semi-final series victory. A good-sized crowd saw and interesting battle, the visitors' ninth-inning rally falling short after the Ralph crew had piled up a substantial lead. The locals won the first game, 7-0, in Oshawa last week.

Lefty Lesurf, Terriers' twirler, was hit harder this second contest, giving eleven safe bingles, but he threw good ball to fan nine, his support being shaky in spots. Normyle went good on the Oshawa mound but was taken out rather hastily in the fifth after walking two. He had allowed but two hits, and his successor, Dalton, was nicked for nine while striking out four. Their support was not too good, the game as a whole being below the calibre of the first fixture.

G. Clark, Galvin and Dunkley went good afield for the winners, though the latter had two bad pegs to first. Dalton, Fair and Hobbs were the best of the losers defensively. Their leading hitter was Cornish with three in four times, Fair, Kennedy and Barnes getting two apiece. Starr got three for the locals, two of them scratchy, while Kingdon, Thorburn and A. Clark rapped out two safe ones each.

Two bad throws by Dunkley, an error in the outfield and Barnes' single gave Oshawa two soft ones in the first frame, and they were blanked then till the ninth on good hurling by Lesurf and some nice fielding by the others. The homesters got one run in the third, Kingdon doubling and going all the way in on an error. Two more were chalked up in the fifth on two walks, wild pitch, error and Starr's single to left.

Run Wild In Eighth

Terriers pushed across two again in the sixth on Thorburn's single, a mighty triple to right by Dunkley and a wild pitch. They ran wild to score four in the eighth on hits by Kingdon, G. Clark, A. Clark, Starr and Thorburn, with two errors and a couple of pilfered sacks thrown in.

Oshawa threatened in the second but a fine peg by Galvin to the plate cut the run off. Again in the third, Kennedy led off with a triple, but two fanned and one grounded out. A double-play in the eighth aided considerably as they again threatened. The visitors finally broke through for three in the ninth to wind it up on a walk, error and hits by Walker, Fair and Barnes.

BRIDGENORTH WINS FIRST GAME 28-11

Large Crowd Sees Opener in Harvey Softball Cup Series.

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 17 (Examiner Correspondence).—Bridgenorth won the first game in the final series for the Harvey Softball Cup, against Central Garage, 28-11, in a seven innings' fixture which drew a large crowd. The battle was close for the three innings, when Bridgenorth pulled ahead with a fair lead. The Central Garage tightened up in the fifth and held down the game, but the seventh was a merry-go-round for Bridgenorth. While the lopsided score does not indicate much of a game, Bridgenorth worked hard for six innings and the big lead piled up in the seventh. Bridgenorth was in top-notch form, while the Central Garage was not in their best form, but practice will make the second game on Tuesday next a real one.

Home runs were made by Ernie Connors, Frank Jopling, and Don Jopling for the winners, and by Frank Payne, Robert Chittick and Ben Kennedy for the Garage. The umpires were Peterborough men who handled the game satisfactorily: R. Batley at the plate and H. Weir at bases. The score by innings was:
Bridgenorth .....010 706 14—28
Central Garage .....012 021 5—11

The line-up was:
Bridgenorth.—E. Connors, c; L. Forsyth, p; J. Hardill, 1b; R. Clarke, 2b; F. Jopling, 3b; R. Jopling, ss; J. Jopling, rf; B. Jopling, lf; D. Jopling, cf.
Central Garage.—F. Payne, c; W. Garbutt, p; R. Chittick, 1b; K. Junkin, 2b; S. Price, 3b; H. Jewell, ss and p; P. Payne, rf; A. Kingdon, lf; B. Kennedy, cf.

Forsyth had 14 strikeouts and 4 walks. Garbutt had 4 strikeouts and 4 walks. Jewell had 4 strikes and five walks.

The second game will be played at 5.30 E.S.T. on Tuesday, August 22, on the Lakefield playing field.

If Newark Bears hadn't started their final northern trip of the International League season with an almost unsurmountable lead, it might be just one painful memory after another for them.

Since starting their invasion of the north, Bears managed only to get an even break in a dozen games and have dropped their last four straight to the comparatively lowly Buffalo Bisons and Toronto Maple Leafs.

They had, however, the satisfaction of knocking off their nearest rivals, the Rochester Red Wings, in four out of five games to give them a safe margin to start their losing streak.

Leafs Take Double

Toronto, in fourth place, wiped up the ground with the league leaders in both games of a doubleheader yesterday winning by the painfully one sided scores of 14-0 and 6-1. In the two games the Bears got only 13 hits off Luke Hamlin and Buck Marrow while the Leafs rapped four flingers for 28 blows. Hamlin was credited with his 18th victory of the season in the opener.

The only bad news for the Leafs came in the second game when first baseman Lu Blue was forced out of action. He twisted a knee sliding into second base.

Orioles Keep Pace

Baltimore Orioles kept up their pursuit of the pace setters by pasting two Buffalo pitchers, George Milstead and Jim Brewer for 15 hits and a 12-5 victory as Harry Smythe hung up his 18th triumph.

Albany Senators moved into sixth place ahead of Baltimore by beating Montreal Royals for the second time, 6-4. The victory left them only a half-game behind Montreal. Rochester held second place safe from the Orioles' threats and clipped Newark's lead to a mere eight games by winning a night game from Jersey City 6-2.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By the Canadian Press)

Pinkey Whitney, Braves — Rapped Cubs pitching for three hits.

Earl Whitehill, Senators — Held White Sox to seven hits, fanned six.

Danny Taylor, Dodgers, and Earl Grace, Pirates—Taylor hit two homers to win opener 2-1; Grace knocked in five runs in nightcap.

Earl Averill, Indians—Knocked in run in ninth to beat Athletics 5-4.

Jim Collins, Cardinals, and Cy Moore, Phillies — Former won first game with homer in 12th, latter pitched seven hit shutout in second.

Irving Burns, Browns — Hit two doubles and two singles against Yankees.

YANKEES LOSE AS LOU GEHRIG EQUALS RECORD

St. Louis Browns Hit Three New York Pitchers for 13-3 Victory.

INDIANS-TIGERS WIN.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., A.P. Sports Writer.)

Lou Gehrig was ready to-day to tuck away the toughtest of all major league baseball records in his hip pocket and go on playing baseball. But his club, New York Yankees, faced the painful knowledge that they were 6½ games behind the league-leading Washington Senators and all but out of the pennant race.

For the stolid, sturdy Lou, it was just a matter of going out there and playing another game and taking the honors that went with his record achievement as much in his stride as he has the 1,307 games that have gone before. Yesterday he played his 1,307th consecutive game since he broke into the Yankee lineup way back in 1925. That equalled the record set before Lou's string started by Everett Scott, with Boston Red Sox and the Yankees. To-day Gehrig was due to establish a new mark, to receive a silver cup from President Will Harridge of the American League and a lot of homage from the fans in honor of the occasion.

Gehrig led all the Yankee hitters yesterday, but at that he got only two hits off his former teammate, "Satchelfoot" Ed Wells, while St. Louis Browns hammered young Charley Devens, Danny MacFayden and George Uhle for 8 hits and a 13-3 victory. That, coupled with Washington's 5-1 victory over Chicago White Sox, left the Yanks 6½ games away from first place.

Down where the race is closer, Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers came through with a pair of shaky victories and remained tied for fourth place. The Indians edged out Philadelphia Athletics 5-4 in a ninth inning run. Detroit beat Boston Red Sox, 6-5.

According to records received, 29 manufacturers were engaged in making mixed fertilizers in Canada, while 31 manufactured fertilizer materials; 14 firms made both.

CLUBMEN HOLD ONE GAME LEAD E. P. L. PLAYOFFS

RETIRES 11 ON STRIKES.

Cogs boosted their stock in the East Peterborough League playoffs by playing C.G.E. to a 2-2 tie at Exhibition Park last evening. The clubmen have a leg up on the championship because of the 13-0 pasting they gave the Electricians in the first game.

However, it was a much different and far greater C.G.E. team that faced Manager Davis' charges last evening, and if it had not been for the stellar pitching of "Casey" Masterson they would certainly have sewed up the series with a win. Although Masterson's support was shaky all through, he never faltered and turned in a brilliant effort. His fast ball had the C.G.E. popeyed. He retired eleven on strikes and permitted but five hits. He showed his best form when the opposition loomed dangerous and in the face of muffs by his teammates.

Given Good Support

"Letty" Dunkerley, on the rubber for the Electricians, had a much easier time than did Masterson. He was tendered smart support throughout, his teammates giving a finished fielding display that repeatedly gained them the plaudits of a fair-sized crowd.

Up until the fourth frame Masterson had not permitted C.G.E. any safeties. But in that innings with two out Hatton singled and stole second. He scored on Padget's double error, the second sacker not only muffing Johnson's grounder but also throwing wild to the plate in his effort to get Hatton there.

The Electricians secured their other run in the sixth. Hickey doubled, and then with two out Saunders singled to score him.

Cogs Score In 6th

Cogs did all their run-getting in the sixth. With one down Moore singled and Padget followed suit. Hope dropped Cuthbertson's fly, Moore scoring but Padget was out at first, when he pulled a boner by not running on the error. Wood walked. Masterson singled to score Cuthbertson, and then Mein raised a fly to Hope.

C.G.E. opened another opportunity in the seventh when both Hickey and Johnson singled with none out, but Masterson put on pressure and the runners were stranded.

HAVELOCK TIES TRENT SERIES

Railway Village Gang Takes 5-3 Victory From Deloro on Wednesday.

THIRD GAME IN TWEED.

MARMORA, Aug. 17 (Examiner Correspondence)—A third game to be played possibly at Tweed is necessary to decide the winner of the Trent Valley League championship consequent upon Havelock's win at Deloro on Wednesday afternoon by the score of 5-3. The game was witnessed by the largest home crowd of the season and it provided many interesting bits of play.

William Sexsmith was on the mound for the winners while Deloro relied upon Fred Callery. Both pitched a fair brand of ball with Callery having slightly the edge over his rival.

A collection of singles gave the visitors two runs in the first, L. Hooper and McLaughlin registering. In their half Deloro were held scoreless. In the second, Havelock increased their lead, two sacrifice hits resulting in Kennedy scoring. Deloro had hard lines in not scoring in their half F. Callery getting a nice triple but later being tagged at home plate. The third innings passed without score or feature. After Havelock had been retired scoreless in the fourth, Deloro made further good hitting count for a score when M. Callery's three bagger sent McInroy home with no men down. The other batters left him stranded at third. The fifth left the score unchanged. In the sixth, Deloro scored again. M. Callery connected for a double and reached home on sacrifices by Auger and F. Callery. V. Callery also reached third but was left as Hewitt fanned.

Kennedy raised the cheers of the Havelock fans in the seventh by scoring a home run. Deloro in their half responded when with two men down, McInroy's neat double between centre and right field sent Stewart in. The last run of the game was obtained in the eighth. McLaughlin singled, stole second and was brought home on J. Hooper's hit as the ball was deflected off V. Callery's knee.

Deloro made a plucky last innings effort to avert defeat but lost a good game by the score of 5-3. The fans are looking for a real thriller as the third game is played.

LEO DIEGEL FAVORED TO WIN CANADIAN OPEN GOLF HONORS

Canadian Sharpshooters Have Good Chance to Bring Title Across Border.

A BRILLIANT FIELD.

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—(CP)— The crash of woods and irons resounded over the fairways of Royal York Golf course this morning as some of the continent's leading professionals and amateurs blazed away for low score on the first round of the Canadian Open Golf championship.

Scores turned in by some of the noted money players from the United States and the aces of the home forces in practice rounds served warning to "Lighthorse" Harry Cooper, the defending title holder from Chicago, he will have to be at the peak of his game to retain his crown.

Hope For Canadians

Brilliant play by a coterie of Canadian sharpshooters has materially boosted hopes that the title will be brought back to Canada after a sojourn across the border for years. It was Karl Keffer, Ottawa professional who had the distinction of last wearing the coveted crown and that was back in 1914. Championship play was interrupted during the war years to be resumed in 1919, when J. Douglas Edgar, Atlanta, Ga., emerged victor. Since then the invading stars have maintained an unbroken string of triumphs, with Leo Diegel, of Agua Caliente, Mexico, leading the parade with four conquests.

Leo Diegel Favored

Many are calling Diegel to come through with his fifth triumph, twice he has toured the trick championship layout in practise, posting a 72 and 73, a total of only one strokeover perfect figures.

Others, however, will have something to say about the ultimate winner for any field that has to shoot against such noted master as Gene Sarazen, the U. S. Professional Golfer's Association champion, Johnny Farrell, Mamaroneck, N. Y., ace, Ross "Sandy" Somerville the Canadian holder of the U. S. Amateur title and Harry Cooper, will have to produce some phenomenal scores to take the pot of gold.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

ALEX. MORRISON says:

Most players are more afraid of short putts than they are of the long ones.

Even the best of players have been known to miss putts of less than eighteen inches when fear gripped them. Many a title has changed hands through the missing of two or three-foot putts.

Yet, few golfers ever practice this close to the hole. Their minds are set on holing the long ones.

Some players expect to make putts of over ten feet with some regularity. There is considerable luck connected with the holing of any putt of more than four feet.

Instead of trying so hard for the long ones, make sure that you'll never "three putt" any green by concentrating on the short ones.

PRO GOLFERS ARE WINNERS IN EXHIBITION

Sarazen Tours Course in 71, While Kirkwood Has 72 Score.

BOB ABBOTT IN 79.

Gene Sarazen and Joe Kirkwood defeated Bob Abbott and William Fairweather five up and three to play in eighteen holes, in one of the finest exhibitions of golf Peterborough has been privileged to witness at the Peterborough Golf and Country Club yesterday afternoon. Sarazen went around in 71, two over the course par; Kirkwood in 72; Fairweather in 74, and Abbott in 79.

A crowd of two hundred followed the match around, approving with applause the fine showing of the local men: Abbott, club champion, and Fairweather, club pro., against the two world-famous golfers. Sarazen won the professional golf championship of the United States for the third time last Sunday, at Milwaukee; has been twice the holder of the American open championship, and once the British open golf champion. Kirkwood has been several times a runner-up in British and American opens and is known widely for his trick shots.

Sarazen and Kirkwood piled up their advantage on the first nine holes, reaching the halfway mark five up. The two had counts of 34, compared with Abbott's 37 and Fairweather's 38. On the last nine holes Fairweather led the foursome in with a score of 36, one over par for the nine holes, but he failed to save the match. Sarazen returned with a score of 37; Kirkwood, 38; and Abbott, 42.

Among the highlights of the match was Sarazen's shooting of the fifth hole in three, against a par four. He placed a beautiful 120-yard approach shot within twelve feet of the pin, then sank the putt. On the ninth hole the gallery gasped to see Sarazen drive 265 yards uphill to the green, missing his putt for a two. He scored a birdie against a par four. Coming home, he missed par with one over on the fourteenth and one over on the seventeenth, running into difficulties in the rough.

Amazing Shots

On the 170-yard sixth hole, Kirkwood's tee shot was fifteen feet from the cup. He sank the putt for a two. In two amazing driver and brassie shots on the 620-yard tenth hole, the longest hole on the course, Kirkwood placed his ball scarcely thirty feet short of the green and reached the cup easily for a birdie four. He provided the gallery with an unusual exhibition of skill when teeing up for the thirteenth hole. A youngster among the spectators tossed him an apple to eat. He placed it on the ground, teed his ball on it, drove 220 yards down the course, and picked the apple up undamaged.

Abott, who was American inter-collegiate champion in 1905 and open champion of Connecticutt in 1911, played a good game going out. On the first hole, 610 yards, he was just short of the green in two shots. Coming in, however, he lacked control. Fairweather suffered from nervousness early in the match, going one over par on each of the first four holes, but held par from then until the end of the game with the exception of one over on the sixteenth hole. His game was not spectacular, but steady. Several missed putts contributed to his five over par score of 74.

GIANTS TAKE 20TH SHUTOUT

Pittsburg Pirates Break Even in Doubleheader With Brooklyn.

BRAVES DROP CUBS.

New York Giants increased their National League lead a bit by ringing up their 20th shutout victory of the season at the expense of Cincinnati Reds, while Pittsburgh got only an even break in a doubleheader with Brooklyn, and Boston knocked off Chicago for the second time.

Hall Schumacher delivered the Giants their victory by a 5-0 score, blanking the Reds with five hits and rapping three himself. Danny Taylor and Van Mungo kept Pittsburgh from winning two games as Mungo held them to seven hits and one run in the 11-inning opener and Taylor smacked two homers to gain a 6-1 decision for Brooklyn. The Bucs lost little time in smacking Ownie Carroll and two successors for an 11-7 victory in the second clash.

Fred Frankhouse of Boston and Bud Tinning of Chicago waged a scoreless duel for seven innings, then the Braves cut loose and scored runs in the eighth to win 6-1.

The Phillies and Cards waged a pair of exciting struggles; St. Louis winning the first 7-6 in 12 innings when Jimmy Collins smacked a homer to break up the battle. The Phils took the second 2-0, as Austin (Cy) Moore got the better of Dizzy Dean in a mound duel.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball—Softball—Lacrosse Soccer—Wrestling, and Others

(By C. J. P.)

The kids drew a pretty fair crowd, at least three hundred we'd say, over to Stevenson Park last night, and the local Terriers advanced into the finals by trouncing Oshawa, 9 to 5. A good game, though hardly as classy as the first one in Oshawa. Both sides pulled a few bad errors, and the pitching wasn't as classy either. Still, Lesurf hopped 'em in in good style to push the pill by nine batters and cop his second O.B.A. playdown win in as many starts.

• • • • • •

Some future baseball stars are on the Terriers' lineup, and those who took in the tilt will agree. They can hit and field, and in Lesurf and Starr, Manager Herb Ralph has a nifty young battery that may upset the other finalists when they clash in September. The boys play heads-up ball and if they'll just keep practising the next couple of weeks, and don't get over-confident, Peterborough may win its first juvenile Ontario title. We imagine it might have been closer last night if Oshawa hadn't switched pitchers. Many good supporters of minor league baseball in the city were in the stands.

• • • • • •

Knotty Lee is figuring on sending young Bill Calladine back at Kingston here Saturday, and the slim righthand flinger ought to stop them again as he did in the Limestone hangout last week. The Petes sure can't afford to toss this affair over their shoulders and they have no intentions of doing so at this writing. If they do lose, chances are against them grabbing off that Central League flag this season, while if they win, they shouldn't have too much trouble cashing in on one of the remaining two contests away from home. If the weather is even passably fair, fans will no doubt be sardined into the ball park numbering close to two thousand.

• • • • • •

Ken Graham, Petes' utility outfielder who will likely play Saturday, is the newcomer of the team, having just been squeesed in in time to qualify for the playoffs. He has yet to prove his worth, but if the husky Ken, who resembles Babe Ruth when he starts swinging those broad shoulders of his at the plate, chases flies and wallops the onions in senior company as he did in the E.P.L., he will be a valuable addition and may round into a regular right fielder. He's young, good-natured and very anxious to make good.

• • • • • •

Dinty's Inn play their last Inter-County Lacrosse League game at the Bowl rink Friday at 6.15 p.m. against Millbrook. The whole local squad should be on deck and we'd like to see plenty of rooters on hand, but not the kind with one-way pockets. This team is considerably in the red and deserves support. If they lick Millbrook, Ken Sine's youngsters—yeah, he's the manager—enter the playoffs against the fast-stepping Cobourg crew, now leading the parade at a lively pace.

• • • • • •

Sugar Bowl softballers jumped on Montgomery early to take the third men's softball final game over Harrison's last night, 12 to 6. They got a good crowd and dished up another smart tussle, but fans are not kicking in on that silver collection as they should. Do they think the games are free, just because there is no gate-charge? And don't they realize that the winner must do a lot of travelling and buying of meals, etc. in the O.A.S.A. playdowns? Next game is tonight at 6.30 at Central, as the teams must finish it up in a few days. If the Bowlmen win tonight, it's all over, but we imagine the Grocers will put up a real scrap tonight to keep in the running.

• • • • • •

Casey Masterson hopped his pepper-ball by eleven C.G.E. batters and allowed just five hits, but received poor support, as Cogs and the Electrics tied their E.P.L. playoff game last night, 2-2. Dunkerley pitched good ball for Barrie's boys but had much more help from his teammates. At any rate, it was a better all-around game than the first play-off one that saw Cogs easily victorious. The fighting C.G.E. crew came back strong and the fans were treated to a close old ball game. They'll play again down there Friday evening at six bells.

• • • • • •

Some two hundred spectators took in the exhibition yesterday at the Peterborough Golf and Country Club. And they saw some excellent playing in that big four some, finishing like this: Sarazen 71, Abbott 79, Kirkwood 72 and Fairweather 74. The crowd let the dinner hour pass to stand around and watch Joe Kirkwood do some truly amazing things in the way of trick shooting. Joe makes golf look like an infant's game, being a regular Blackstone or Thurston of the links. And his line of patter is good enough for vaudeville, too. Sarazen is a sweet golfer. Abbott has shot better, and Fairweather turned in a dandy card.

Spencer Pedallists Are Ready For Final

MONTREAL, Aug. 17 (C.P.) — With a 23-second lead over his rivals for first place in the International bicycle race which failed to cross international boundary Joe Laporte, Montreal is ready for the final grind here to-night. The riders will stage a 100-kilometre race around the Montreal Baseball Stadium to finish the event which carried them north and west to Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

As the riders, weather-beaten, tired and bedraggled, pushed their way into Montreal last night the veteran Laporte was in the lead, closely followed by Harry Horan of Newark and Torchy Peden of Victoria.

"Willie" Calladine Will Pitch Saturday

Bill Calladine, youthful righthander who beat the Ponies the first playoff game in Kingston last week, is expected to twirl in Saturday's fixture here. Knotty Lee stated that it was his turn and he ought to be able to subdue the Kingston clouters once again. This is the third game of the C.O.B.I. finals in Stevenson Park at three Saturday, both teams having taken one victory. Next one will be in Kingston about the middle of next week.

An even larger crowd than the one that packed the park last week is expected Saturday as the battling Petes tackle the tough Limestone outfit again. It is just possible that it will be their last appearance this season in Peterborough, and at any rate the Ponies will not play here again in '33. Both clubs are so evenly-matched that it is something of a toss-up, and the rivalry between them as they see the pennant in sight is intense.

Ken Graham will likely hold down the rightfield position, and the whole squad will be in there scrapping every minute for the win. It shapes up as the biggest "natural" local ball fans will see here this year.

SILVER CUPS ARE AWARDED TO 4 WINNERS

Many Close and Keenly Contested Finishes in Water Events.

COLORFUL GATHERING.

"The biggest and best yet" was the unanimous verdict of the committee in charge of arrangements for the Children's Regatta which was held yesterday afternoon at Chemong Park, in front of the cottage of the chairman, Dr. A. W. McPherson, who, with J. K. Hughes, chairman of the Senior Regatta committee, looked after affairs generally.

A warm afternoon with a fluttering breeze that riffled the surface of the blue lake, made an admirable atmospheric setting for the Regatta which is a high light in the summer season of the juniors at the popular summer resort. There was a large gallery for the events, which totalled thirty-one in number, with two extras sandwiched in the regular program of the day. Men in summer outfits, women in summer frocks, wearing around their heads the light ribbon bandeaux which are modish at the moment, and children in bright bathing suits, to say nothing of the dogs which added their presence to the gay scene, lined the banks of the lake, watching the water sports and the races which were run off on land under supervision of Dr. G. Ray Scott, the committee provided ice cream cones, soft drinks and cholocate bars for the children taking part, and there was a long list of prizes, the major four being the two silver cups donated by Roy Dixon and Dr. Ray Scott to the boy and girl obtaining the most points, and the two silver cups donated by J. F. Strickland, K.C., M.P.P., and Fred L. Roy, to the boy and girl of ten years and under who obtained the most points.

Lead Point Scorers

The cups for the most points went to 'Mike' Wood, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Wood of Ottawa and Chemong, formerly of Peterborough, and to Jean Macfarlane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Macfarlane of Toronto, summer residents at the Park. It was only on the last lap of the Regatta that Jean Macfarlane finally nosed out a close competitor, Mary McPherson, daugher of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. McPherson.

The cups for the most points obtained by a boy and girl of ten years and under, were captured by Mary Overend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Overend, and Gordon Matthews, Junior ('Spike') son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon S. Matthews.

No 'Crabbing'

An outstanding attribute of the entire program was the manner in which the children entered into the sports with keen and continued enthusiasm and the prevailing atmosphere of good sportsmanship with which they accepted victory or defeat. The whole program, lengthy as it was, was run off quickly and capably in a little over four hours' time, with judges in senior and junior members: G. S. Matthews, Alex Darling, J. F. Strickland, K.C., M.P.P., W. J. Thompson, Dr. D. W. Clark, Bill McPherson, Angus Macdonald, Ralph Clark and John Weddell.

F. Hills was announcer and J. McClenaghan acted as starter.

The races and sports, contested over a fairly difficult course of about seventy-five yards in length, were run off for two prizes in each event, and many of the youngsters repeated as major and minor winners. There were many closely and keenly-contested finishes, with the final winners edging out their opponents by a narrow margin. In the canoe events, this was quite apparent.

The gunwale races, with the paddlers occupying a precarious position athwart the canoe; in the mixed pie-plate race, with four energetic workers churning up the waves in each canoe, using pie-plates as propellors; in the pillow fights, when several David and Goliath encounters often resulted in victory for the smaller contestant, and in the tilting events, with padded, unwieldy poles used to circumvent the opponent, fun was paramount, among spectators and competitors alike, but skill and energy and endurance figured prominently in the other sports. The juniors proved themselves fully as quick-witted and keen in these, as the majority of their seniors. Girls, as well as boys, had a part in all the events.

Two dark-skinned boys from the Curve Lake Reserve competed ineffectually in several of the canoe specialties. Plying their paddles in conventional Indian style, with a rolling shoulder, a free arm swing and a capacity for endurance that stands them well in long drives, they were not able, using the heavier canoe, to conquer their quicker opponents in the short, quick efforts embodied in the races.

Winners in Events

The prize-winners were as follows: Boys' single canoe (14 years and under), with six entries—1st, Jack Jopling; 2nd, Allen Park. Girls' single canoe (14 years and under), with six entries—1st, Jean Macfarlane of Toronto; 2nd, Mary McPherson. Boys' tandem canoe (12 years and under), with 6 entries—1st, Don McPherson and Ted Cragg; 2nd, 'Mike' Wood and Jack Forsythe. Girls' gunwale race (14 years and under) with 6 entries—1st, Mary McPherson; 2nd, Olga Westbye. Girls' single canoe race (8 years and under), with 3 entries—1st, Beulah Milburn; 2nd, Anne Overend. Mixed tandem canoe (12 years and under), with 9 entries, run off in two furiously-contested heats—1st, Betty Petersen and 'Mike' Wood; 2nd, Barbara Scott and Ted Cragg. Boys' swimming (12 years and under) with 5 entries—1st, 'Mike' Wood and Art Forler (tied); 3rd, Ted Elkins. Later, a short swim was staged, to break the tie, with 1st place going to Art Forler and 2nd to 'Mike' Wood. Boys' swimming race (8 years and under), with 5 entries—1st, Gordon Matthews, Jr.; 2nd, Murray Dewart. Same race for girls, with 4 entries—1st, Beulah Milburn; 2nd, Betty Darling. Boys' swimming race (10 years and under), with 4 entries—1st, Harold Mathews; 2nd, Bob Parnell. Extra mixed gunwale race—1st, Mary MhPherson and Ross Pulkinghorn; 2nd, Olga Westbre and John Weddell.

Mixed pie-plate race, four in canoe (12 years and under), with 8 entries and run off in two heats—1st, Ted Cragg, Don McPherson, Mary Overend and Helen Mathias; 2nd, 'Mike' Wood, Jack Forsythe, Betty Petersen and Mary Moore.

Boys' gunwale race (12 years and under) with 14 entries and run off in two heats—1st, Ted Cragg; 2nd, 'Mike' Wood.

Tilting (16 years and under)—1st, Douglas McPherson and Ross Pulkinghorn; 2nd, Mary McPherson and Jack Gemmell. Tilting (14 years and under)—1st, Jean Macfarlane and Jack Jopling; 2nd Ted Cragg and Bill Moser.

Pillow fight (12 years and under)—1st, Don McPherson; 2nd, 'Mike' Wood. Pillow fight (10 years and under)—1st, Gordon Matthews, Jr.; 2nd, Alex Edwards.

The final schedule event of the afternoon, a canoe sailing race for 16 years and under, was postponed until Sunday morning next.

Prizes for the Regatta, numbering over eighty, were presented to the winners last evening by Mrs. J. K. Hughes, when the affair closed officially with a program of games and a bonfire.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, August 18

A day of tumult and confusion, with devastating and disintegrating forces at work, according to the lunar transits, and yet much constructive accomplishment is also presaged. If restraint, calm judgment and wise counsel are brought to bear upon complications. Strife violent, impulsive and reckless acts or words, especially in contacts with strange persons or places, are factors for control and profitable direction.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared to cope with a year in which disruptive and devastating forces are at work, complicated by a tendency to rash, impulsive and tumultous conduct. These under restraint, and the stimulated energies directed ifito constructive channels, may be sure of the friendly aid of employers or those in position of power and authority.

A child born on this day may be energetic, forceful, tempestuous and wayward, but adventurous and ambitious; in the end successful and respected.

INSTITUTE MEETS AT J. L. BYAM HOME

Mount Pleasant Branch Members Are Guests at Millbrook Meeting

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, August 16. — Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Byam, for the second time within one week, extended the hospitality of the large grounds surrounding their home on Bank street, for a picnic, over one hundred and thirty people being present on Monday evening when the local branch of the Women's Institute held its annual out-of-doors gathering. The Mount Pleasant Branch of the Institute were guests.

Mrs. Byam took the chair for the opening sing-song from the W. I. song sheets, welcoming the visitors, and particularly the guests of honor Mrs. Garnet Shield, the president of the East Durham Women's Institute, Mrs. T. A. Skitch, of Bailleboro, ex-president of the district and at present holding the office of vice-president; and Mrs. J. R. Eakins, district secretary-treasurer. Each of the visiting officers spoke briefly, expressing the pleasure at being present, Mrs. Shields making reference to pioneers in the W. I. movement, declaring that the "women have lighted a candle that has developed into wonderful searchlight which is shining in homes here and in countless other homes across the seas." Mrs. Skitch gave an appropriate reading, "Down on the Farm."

Mrs. Ira Lowe, president of the Mount Pleasant Branch, took the chair for the program, which included a paper on "Income Earning for Girls," by Mrs. Thomas Graham, who later also gave a recitation, "I Wonder What She Meant."

Mrs. E. Windrim's reading, "The Best Home Convenience," and "An Old Maid's Prayer," were well received, as was also Mrs. H. Sisson's selection, "Farmer Grunt at the Women's Institute Meeting," and Mrs. Robert Gardiner's "No Gold Door Knobs There." Mrs. Shield's number, "When the Kiddies and the mother start to sing," was followed by the sports' events, beginning with a singing contest of the Institute Ode Volunteers facing the audience and 'performing' unaccompanied, Mrs. Windrim and Mrs. Gardiner winning the two handsome china pitchers given as prizes.

Writing Contest

A writing contest came next, the participants having to write the alphabet in capital letters in the space of one minute; Mrs. Alex. Harkness won this event and was presented with a dainty china cream and sugar set on china tray. Snap shots were taken of the entire picnic party and of the officers separately. In the tiny tots' race Donald Harkness and Barbara Harkness came first, all the kiddies receiving candy as a prize.

Boys, 10 to 15: Fred Brown (pen and pencil); Herbert Duvall (candy.)

Oldest lady present: Mrs. (Dr.) E. L. Burnham (embroidered bath towel.)

Finding the "Mystery Lady" was an interesting event, the thirteenth person to shake hands with this unknown individual winning a handsome dressing table mirror, Miss Betty Doxsee having this prize; Mrs. J. W. Hamilton was the lady whom all were seeking in a general handshaking.

The picnic tea with its abundant menu, was served on the east lawn, a general exodus taking place soon after healthy appetites had all been fully satisfied. The vote of thanks for the hospitality extended was moved by Mrs. T. Graham, and seconded by Mrs. H. Gardiner.

The Sports' Committee included Mrs. Wesley Brown and Mrs. H. J. Armstrong, and the Supper Committee Miss Grandy and Mrs. T. C. Ingram.

NORMAN, WOODIN, McADOO SPOTTED IN MAINE TOWN.

Visits of Leading International Financier Stirs Speculation

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 17 (A. P.)—Simultaneous visits of three leading figures in international finance gave rise to speculation to-day as to whether a conference on international monetary problems may have taken place here.

The three were Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England; William H. Woodin, secretary of the United States treasury, and Senator William McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury in the Wilson administration.

Norman arrived here several days ago with Mrs. Norman to be the guest of Mrs. John Markoe, whom he has visited frequently in the past.

MacAdoo dropped in while he was in Maine on a yachting trip with Robert G. Elbert of Washington, member of the industrial recovery board. He left yesterday.

Woodin was recognized on the streets here Sunday. Whether he was still in Bar Harbor to-day could not be determined, and whether the three were together at any time likewise was a matter of doubt.

THE MARKETS

ONTARIO GRAIN.

Approximate prices track shipping point—Wheat, 62c to 65c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

No great change in prices was recorded on the Montreal Dairy and Produce Market yesterday. On the butter market prices were steady at 18¼ to 19c a pound for No. 1 grade butter in carlots or less. Receipts totalled only 21 boxes. Dealers here stated yesterday that Canada cannot share in the rise in prices in the British market, because no butter is being exported from here as yet. The English market is quoting butter at 92s per hundredweight.

Firmness was displayed by the egg market, particularly extras, which sold at 20c per dozen for graded shipments in carlots. Firsts brought 15½ to 16c and seconds 12½ to 13c. Receipts were 421 cases.

The cheese market eased slightly, with Ontario bringing 10c to 10¼c a pound and Quebec ½c less. Arrivals amounted to 131 boxes.

Old Maritime potatoes are becoming scarce on the potato market and dealers are having a hard time getting rid of this line. New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Green Mountains in 80-pound bags were generally quoted at $1.25 to $1.30, with new Quebecs steady at 80c to 90c per 80-pound bag.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Before trading was one minute old yesterday, prices of all grains underwent a new maximum collapse, and later failed to recover in the slightest degree.

Accumulated selling orders, which had piled up during the last three days while the market had been chained to an artificial continuous limit of price fluctuations, were more than sufficient to overcome any immediate stimulus from altered rules of trading. The substitute rules lifted every ban on what the market might do, except that changes in values during any one day keep within 5c limit up or down from the previous day's latest quotations.

Pit observers said mob psychology in the shape of unreasoning fear, was chiefly to blame for yesterday's market action, and that public sentiment regarding grains was likely now at any time to make a sudden right-about-face.

Wheat closed nominal at the day's bottom figures 5c down from the average of Tuesday's finish; corn 4c off, oats showing 3c decline, and provisions at a setback of 50c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, August 17. — Trading came to a standstill on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday as futures prices, under the influence of Chicago selling, slipped down to "pegged" levels shortly after the opening. Tuesday's advance was erased, and the market closed 1⅝c to 1¾c lower at its minimum figure.

October option was the first to hit its minimum of 70¾c, and was quickly followed down by December and May deliveries, which settled at 71⅝c and 76¼c respectively. The pit became deserted until near the close, although a dozen trades or so were made at the minimum levels as scattered buying orders trickled in.

Export buying estimated at several hundred thousand bushels featured opening activity and Chicago interests were credited with most of the selling pressure. Liverpool was a weakening factor, with prices 1¼d to 1⅞d lower at the close.

Despite inability to trade in the Winnipeg pit at or above minimum price levels, farmers as far as can be ascertained are getting cash for their grain if they want to sell, some arrangement having been made by elevator companies to take care of "hedges" in the futures. Wheat taken in at country points on Tuesday totalled more than 1,000,000 bushels for the first time during the new crop movement.

Spreads in cash grain were unchanged at the close and sales were very restricted. Trading in all the coarse grains futures was extremely dull during the entire session. The values shortly after the opening fell to the pegged price and trading remained in the doldrums.

Tender, Aching, Swollen Feet

In Just Five Minutes Those Sore, Tender, Aching Feet Get Amazing Relief.

You probably feel like a lot of other people that about all you can do is dust some powder in your shoes or give your feet a special foot bath and let it go at that, but don't be foolish. Make up your mind to-day that you are going to give your feet a real chance to get well.

Go to Bond's Drug Store or any other good druggists to-day and get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil.

The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your foot troubles will be a thing of the past.

One bottle we know will show you beyond all question that you have at last discovered the way to solid foot comfort.

Remember that Moone's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue, and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded.

ONTARIO SUFFERS IN TERRIFIC STORM

COUZENS LASHES AT BANK DEALS DEMANDS ACTION

Says Guardian Trust Took Deposits 20 Days After Officials Knew It Insolvent.

CRIMINAL OFFENSE.

DETROIT, Aug. 18 (AP)—Senator James Couzens (R., Mich.), unleashed bitter criticism of Detroit banking methods preceding the Michigan Bank Holiday to-day, demanded an investigation of one bank transaction with a view to criminal proceedings, and charged in another statement that "poor judgment of Federal bank examiners" will cause a loss of many millions in loans made by the closed First National Bank, Detroit.

Testifying for the second day before the one-man grand jury investigating the closing of the First National and the Guardian National Bank of Commerce, the Canadian-born Senator declared that while the condition of Detroit banks may have been known to the Government, it was considered a question of judgment by Federal officials whether to "wait for prosperity to return or insist on the letter of the law and close the banks." That, he said, was "not an easy question to answer."

"At hearings before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee the Comptroller himself testified that he had not enforced the law because he was waiting, hoping there would be a recovery," said Couzens.

Orgy of Pyramiding

Lashing out at banking methods in Detroit, the Senator flatly asserted that "I know of no other city in the whole world where there was such an orgy of pyramiding of corporations and the fixing of fictitious values and earnings."

He charged the Union Guardian Trust Co., the impending closing of which has been given as the reason for the declaration of Michigan's banking holiday, February 14, had "jockeyed the Children's Fund of Michigan out of $200,000," and asked Prosecutor Harry S. Toy to investi-

TWO MEN SHOT IN LOVE AFFAIR

Woman Wounded in Leg as She Tries to Protect Both Rivals.

ONE MAY DIE.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—One man was believed dying and another man and a woman were in a hospital with bullet wounds today as a result of a shooting last night which followed a quarrel over the woman

The dying man, Mandel Nagorsky, 46, accused Stanley Swierkowski, 26, of shooting him twice in the chest during a quarrel over Mrs. Leona Dittner, 40, a rooming house proprietress Mrs. Dittner, who was shot in the leg, and Swierkowski, also wounded in the chest, told police a different version of the quarrel, saying Nagorsky did the shooting and then turned the weapon on himself in an attempt to commit suicide

In their statements to police both men said Mrs. Dittner was wounded as she tried to protect the other man

HOLLAND DENIES MOORE'S STORY

Bailiff Declares He Gave Holland's Notice to Mrs. Lawford.

OFFER $10 TO BAILIFF.

The following letter was received by The Examiner to-day:

"I notice in last night's Examiner a statement from Mr. Moore, bailiff, to the effect that he put Lawfords out of my home, where he and his family had been living for some months. The fraternity has $10 in its treasury that it will pay over to Mr. Moore if he can and will prove that he put them out."

Yours truly,
Signed (Charles Holland).

On receipt of this letter The Examiner immediately interviewed O. A. Moore, bailiff, to explain further his statement. "I put Lawfords out of Holland's house at Holland's request," made yesterday to The Examiner.

Mr. Moore said, "Holland came to me and asked me to put Lawford's out of his house. I told him he would have to give me a written notice. He gave me that notice, which was the letter from Holland to Mr. and Mrs. Lawford, dated June 13, 1933, published in The Examiner yesterday. I took this notice, or letter, to Mrs. Lawford. I gave it to her saying that she would have to get out of the house within the time limit stated. There was nothing of the furniture worth anything, so I did not consider seizing if they did not evict the house. Mrs. Lawford sai dthat she could not move on Saturday but would get out on Monday and I said that Monday would be all right."

Mr. Moore said, "Let Holland deposit his $10 in the hands of Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C. and I will certainly prove that I put Lawfords out of Holland's house at Holland's request."

Mr. Moore also explained how it came about that he told Holland that his service to him in getting Lawford's out of his house could be considered his subscription to the Unemployed Workers' Fraternity, which he said was at that time making some kind of a drive for funds.

It Worked

NEW YORK, August 18 (C. P.). — Jesse Belcourt's friend Juano Silva, bought a truck for $25.00.

"Bet she won't run," said Jesse, climbing in. . . . . .

He pressed the starter. The truck ran—right into the East River, with Jesse screaming: "Where's the brakes?"

He swam to shore and got a summons for driving without a license.

Leeward, Windward Isles, May Become New British Caribbean Island Colony

LONDON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The constitution of a new colony, consisting of the Leeward and Windward Islands, under one governor is proposed in a report dealing with the West Indies issued today by the closer Union Commission.

The name suggested for the new colony is the British Caribbean Islands, with St. Lucia as the most suitable headquarters.

Bringing the leeward and windward islands into one group, it is stated, "would make a political unit of a large number of islands at present divided into two separate governments, and the psychological effect alone would, we think be considerable and would help encourage the conception of a united West Indies, so far at least as the colonies South of Jamaica are concerned."

JOHN NUGENT PASSES AWAY IN 85TH YEAR

PIONEER Druggist of This City Dead After Lengthy Illness.

BORN IN OPS.

John Nugent, known widely as one of the first druggists to establish in Peterborough, died in Nicholls Hospital this morning at the age of 84. He had been in poor health for some time but his passing was somewhat unexpected.

Mr. Nugent was born in Ops township, near Lindsay, but spent the greater portion of his life here, coming in 1885. His father, the late Thomas Nugent, was the first governor of the Victoria-Peterborough counties jail.

When a young man, Mr. Nugent served his druggist apprenticeship with the Lindsay firm of Coulter and Chambers. After seven years in Penelon Falls, he came to Peterborough and opened the fifth local drug store here. Despite pessimistic predictions of his failure as the result of an over-crowded field, his business located in the Lynch block, flourished, and , in the next few years, several of the druggists now in business served their apprenticeship with him.

Retired 26 Years Ago

Twenty-six years ago, he sold out his business and retired.

Although well known through his business, Mr. Nugent was also widely known through his association with the Oddfellows and the Canadian Order of Foresters. He was with one exception, the oldest Oddfellow in the city. A member of Otonabee Lodge No. 13, he bore distinction as past district deputy grand master in his order. Joining in 1885, he maintained his connection with the Foresters continuously as a member of Court Peterborough No. 29.

DISPLACES KERRIGAN.

Latter Had Equalled Royal York Course Record Early To-day With a 69.

ROYAL YORK GOLF COURSE, Toronto, Aug. 18 (CP)—Joe Kirkwood, the trick shot master, came in with a 72 to-day, matched it with his 71 yesterday and went into the lead in the Canadian Open golf championship with a 36-hole total of 143.

Kirkwood displaced Tom Kerrigan, of Mount Vernon, N.Y., who equalled the course record to-day with a 69 to give him a total of 146 strokes.

The strong wind which blew up shortly after noon played havoc with the chances of Johnny Ferrell, of Mamaronck, N.Y., in his bid to unseat the leader. He cruised around in 75, which coupled with his 71 of yesterday, gave him a total of 146, well within the first group.

FATAL SLEEP

NORTH VERNON, Ind., Aug. 18. —(CP)—Carl Olds, 35, Newcastle, Ind., is dead because he went to sleep while hunting squirrels.

Before his death in a Seymour hospital, he said he lost his way in the woods as darkness fell, lay down to rest, and fell asleep. Daylight waked him. He stretched his legs. A foot struck his shotgun, sending a charge into his shoulder and arm.

Bolt Hit Block House At Old Fort Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Aug. 18 (C.P.)—The old northeast block house at Old Fort Niagara was struck by lightning early to-day and fire which followed seriously damaged the historic building. Military officials at the fort said the damage would reach $4,000, partly covered by insurance.

The block house was built in 1770 and 1771 by British troops. The top deck, floors and walls are of the original building but the roof was reproduced during the recent restoration of the old fort.

The flames swept through the upper section of the building and were fought by the Fort Niagara and Youngstown fire brigades assisted by 38th Infantry troops. The fort is on United States territory near the border.

There are more general stores in rural Western Canada than any other class.

Man, His Wife And Three Children Found Sleeping In Victoria Park By Police

A man, his wife, and three children were found sleeping in Victoria Park last night by police. The two older children were sent to the Shelter for the night while the two parents and the baby in a carriage were made as comfortable as possible in the Police Court Room.

Relief authorities were busy today trying to find accommodation for the family. They explained that the family had known six weeks ago that they must vacate the premises, but that the husband had neglected to find another place despite the fact that he was given the addresses of several landlords who had vacant houses and rooms and who were accepting rent relief vouchers.

WAVE OF CRIME SWEEPS OVER U S SCORE ARE DEAD

Women Involved in Every Case—Many Are Victims.

POISON PLAYS PART.

Majority of Tragedies Are Shooting—One is "Torch Murder."

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. —(CP)—Clatter of machine-guns, fatal potions in grape juice and jelly, and sharp reports of rifles and pistols have figured in numerous killings and clashes between criminals and United States authorities during the last few days.

Police are striking swiftly to bring to justice those involved in an astonishing series of slayings and clashes between crime and the law in various parts of the country.

In the silence of the Spokane night there sounded the voice of a woman—the report of shots swiftly fired—the whir of a motorcar, its headlights dark, racing away; and on the ground, bleeding from three bullet wounds, lay a dying man.

Who killed Dr. James I. Gaines?

Silent, too, was the Virginia countryside near Grundy; silent until there came the scream of a woman—the sound of five shots fired in quick succession. Then silent once more—with three dead men in an automobile.

Who killed them?

Three Women Victims

And there is a thicket near Dover, N. J.; and in that thicket was found the body of a woman who had been murdered. And woods in New Hampsire—and the body of a woman who, too, had been murdered. And a penthouse in Pasadena, with a woman dead there—murdered, like the others.

A doctor of Cleveland, Miss., died. He said a woman put poison in his whisky and watched him as he drank death. They hold her today in a cell.

It was grape juice that carried poison death to four persons in Arkansas. Jelly was the medium a Detroit mother used to poison her two children, but they did not die because when they became ill she could not bear to see them suffer, so she called a doctor.

But two children in Chelsea, Vt., died from poison, and the mother who is blamed for their death still suffers—though she is expected to recover—from the same potion.

A man was burned to death in an automobile at Rockford, Ill., and the wife from whom he was separated, is held. "Torch slaying" again is heard.

HUNDREDS TREES DOWN, LAKE SHORE AREA DOZEN BARNS BURN, POWER LINES BROKEN

Sudden and violent, a summer rainstorm raged throughout Ontario to-day, raking the north shores of Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, and causing damage approaching $500,000. Reports of lightning-set fires, shattered orchards, and wrecked power and communication lines came from points between St. Thomas in Western Ontario and Cornwall in Eastern Ontario.

At Cornwall, the storm reached cyclonic intensity, and the Howard Smith Paper Mills were reported the heaviest losers. Three or four hours after the sudden squall had passed over Western Ontario points, the blow at Cornwall ripped 40 feet of roof from the paper mills' machine rooms, tore the roof off a house, uprooted trees, and pushed two box cars 150 feet down a siding into a parked car.

Damage was placed at near $100 000.

It was the second major disaster to strike Cornwall in two weeks On Civic Holiday, one of the main business blocks of the city was swept by fire, the damage being estimated close to $1,000,000.

As the storm swept through Cornwall, angling off to the north hail battered down field crops, causing heavy damage. East of the city, the storm also struck, blocking roads in the Lancaster-Bainsville district with fallen trees.

Orchards Suffer.

In the Niagara Peninsula orchards suffered minor damage from the rain and hail that came at dawn or shortly afterward Lightning struck the sub-station of the Dominion Power and Transmission Company at Welland and started a fire that completely destroyed the building in a spectacular blaze The loss was expected to mount to many thousands of dollars.

Roof of the Chantler Coal Company at London was destroyed by fire when the building was struck by lightning in the midst of one of a dozen squalls during the night. Coal yards of William Baron at Belmont were destroyed. Losses of half-a-dozen farmers in the district whose barns were burned were expected to exceed $25,000.

MILK MARKETING SCHEME TOTTERS

British Farmers Sign Pool Plan Slowly, Collapse Means Heavy Loss.

TOO BUSY HARVESTING

By GEORGE HAMBLETON (C. P. Staff Writer)

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 18. (C.P. Cable).—Threat of a failure to-day faced the government in its milk marketing scheme as registrations of producers which close to-morrow were reported coming in too slowly. Authorities blamed apathy of farmers and preoccupation with harvesting operations. Major Walter Elliott, Minister of Agriculture, and others urged haste in radio apeals broadcast throughout the nation.

At the same time the National Farmers Union revealed it was making a final roundup of its members, seeking to bring them in line with the scheme. In a circular the Union said "If the scheme does not come into operation, collapse of wholesale and retail prices would seem to be inevitable. It has been estimated that should such a collapse occur the capital loss to dairy and farming interests, including producers and retailers, would be little short of £75,000,000 and distributive and manufacturing interests would also be heavily hit."

Of 250,000 farmers and small holders of land, it was said, only a few thousand have registered as voters in the plan, and only those who have registered may vote on the poll which the government and the National Farmers' Union still hope to make the scheme effective.

The milk plan calls for creation of regional pools through which farmers may sell their milk. The pools will divide their profits among participants according to the amount of milk each delivers.

Canada leads the way in wheat exports to Switzerland, Canada's contribution for the first half of this year being 56 per cent of the total amount imported. Germany, Holland, Roumania, Russia, the United States and the Argentine are Canada's competitors.

MISSING MAN IS HIDING IN BUSH BROTHER SAYS

James Freeburn Believed Drowned is Seen by His Brother.

MAY LOST MEMORY.

When Brother Called Man Fled Back Into the Woods.

KAWARTHA PARK, Aug. 18 (By Staff Reporter).—Missing from his home since last Friday and believed drowned in Clear Lake following the finding of his canoe half-filled with water, James Freeburn, aged 24, of the Young's Point district, was seen yesterday noon by his younger brother, Robert.

Robert Freeburn was working in the fields a short distance from his fathers' house, when he said his missing brother approached from a small woods. He called to him, "Hello, James, where have you been?"

Turned and Fled

Immediately, James raised his head, looked at his brother and then turned and fled back to the woods. He jumped a rail fence in his flight and disappeared into the woods.

Robert Freeburn told Provincial Constable David Silvester that there was no further doubt that his brother had not been drowned but was hiding in the woods. He said that he was positive that it was his brother that he saw yesterday, that there was no mistaking his identity.

It has been rumored about the Young's Point district for some days that Freeburn was not drowned but was skulking in the woods. One man stated that he saw a man on a road near South Beach on Monday. The man ran away on his approach. He said he thought it was Freeburn, but he was not certain. Another report suggested that Freeburn was seen Tuesday near Young's Point, but again there was no certainty that the man who fled to the woods as a party of motorists approached, was the missing young man for whose body a large group of men had been dragging Clear Lake for days.

Suspicions Borne Out

Provincial Constable D. Silvester said to-day that his suspicions that Freeburn had not been drowned were not definitely borne out by Robert Freeburn's statement that he had seen his brother.

After the missing young man had raced back to the woods following his brother's call to him, Robert

DE VALERA ADDS TO CIVIC GUARD

Decides to Maintain New Section Fully Armed, With Rapid Transport.

READY FOR TROUBLE.

DUBLIN, Aug. 18. (AP)—President Eamon De Valera announced to-day that the government has decided to maintain the new section of the civic guard, which was recruited last week, as a special reserve, fully armed and equipped and provided with rapid transport.

In the announcement, made through the President's newspaper, the Irish Press, Mr. De Valera said the section would be kept ready to cope with a domestic situation he described as insecure.

Free State politics have been complicated recently by a controversy between the government and the Blue Shirt National Guard organization led by General Eoin O'Duffy.

"Confronted with the situation of last week, a situation which I am so optimistic as to believe is yet secure, the government became convinced that the depleted force could not supply sufficient reserves to cope with the demands likely to be made upon it."

He added the government was bound not to take any risk, as it was its duty to see that order and peace were maintained.

The President concluded by asserting that the hopes of 'certain men' that chronic disorder would pave the way to dictatorship would be disappointed.

Countering this statement, General O'Duffy published a further declaration that his organization was non-partisan, unarmed and opposed to dictatorship.

BEAUTIFUL GIRL IS OFFICER ON STRANGE RUSSIAN VESSEL

Crew Lecture on Marxism While Notable Passengers Hold Debate.

CANADIAN ABOARD

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

ON BOARD S.S. SMOLNY. Bound for Leningrad, Aug. 2.—This is the strangest ship I have ever travelled on. There is a woman at the helm this very moment. The captain, a giant Russian in a Ukrainian blouse, delivered a lecture on Marxist economies last night. One of the waitresses in third class gave an excellent expose on the folkloristic theatre in the Soviet Union. She did rather better with the lecture, I am afraid, than she does habitually in handing around the plates of soup in the dining-room.

There are more books on this ship than on all the combined Atlantic liners on which I ever crossed and I have crossed more than a dozen times. I am not exaggerating; this ship is nothing less than a floating library, and by and through the nature of the set of passengers we have on board, it has also been turned into a floating debating society. The debates go on till far into the night and they are resumed again with undiminished vigor at breakfast time.

Distinguished Passengers.

We have with us, first and foremost: Henri Barbusse, the famous French writer now the world-leader of the anti-Fascist movement; two British members of Parliament,

ONTARIO DROPS DIRECT RELIEF SCHEME

Readopt 1931 Plan With New Cost Split Open Road Camps

Dominion, Province and Municipalities to Share Burden Equally, The Latter for Materials, Dr. Monteith States at Essex Rally.

HENRY CONFIRMS DETAILS—RATE OF PAY 60 CENTS DAY TRANSCANADA ROAD WORK

ESSEX, Ont., Aug. 18.—(CP)—A return to the former system of municipal works as relief measures, and the discarding of the direct relief plan in Ontario, was forecast yesterday by Hon. J. D. Monteith, Ontario Minister of Labor, in an address here.

The plan, he said, was not perfected, but he expected that an agreement between Federal and Provincial Governments as to their financial participation would be signed next week.

"The plan," he said "will be in essentials the same as was effective up to two years ago, except that instead of the Federal and Provincial Governments paying one-half the labor cost, each will assume one-third and the municipalities one-third, instead of half as formerly. The municipalities will pay for materials.

"Streets, sewers, water mains, grading, sidewalks and sewage plans will come under the plan, and I expect very shortly, may be next week, the municipalities will be asked to specify what works they anticipate can be undertaken."

Dr. Monteith said the trans-Canada highway camps were to be reopened and plans of work extended, but since this comes under the Lands and Forests Department he did not deal with details other than to say that secondary or settlers' roads would be undertaken, in addition to main highway work.

While no definite decision has been made, it is expected that all works there will be cash pay, with federal contribution on a basis of per-manday.

Expressing appreciation of the co-operation of municipalities in relief work, Dr. Monteith said so far as he knew, no deserving family in the province was going hungry, cold or unclothed, and added, "When the time comes, prosperity will arrive regardless of government."

Questioned later about an election, he said it would be held "in the not very distant future, and you can figure that anyway you want to."

Henry Confirms It

Premier Henry last night confirmed the details of the new Dominion-Ontario relief agreement as forecast by Hon. Dr. Joseph D. Monteith.

In addition, he explained that the Queen's Park Recommends Restaurant Keepers Be Prosecuted.

SIGNS MISLEADING.

TORONTO, Aug. 18.—In a definite move to check the restaurant practice in some sections of the province of advertising misleading prices for meals, and generally speaking, inflicting overcharges on tourist patrons, the Attorney-General's Department has advised all Crown Attorneys that where facts are clear, all such offences should be prosecuted under the Criminal Code.

Over the signature of Edward Bayly, K.C., Deputy Attorney-General, the following form letter has gone out from Queen's Park:

"Complaints have been received by this Department that chicken dinners are advertised at a certain price, and that some restaurateurs make charges for extras, so that the total bill greatly exceeds the sum mentioned.

"This is a practice which should be thoroughly discountenanced, and I have come to the conclusion that it is covered by Section 406 (2) of the Criminal Code. If complaints are made to you, please bear this section in mind.

"In my mind, if there is any doubt, it should be resolved, where the facts are clear, in favor of a prosecution, because this sort of thing, especially from visiting tourists, brings great discredit on the province.

"The Provincial Police are being similarly instructed."

Trader Gets 500 Pounds of Salmon and Trout on Short Trip.

PROFITABLE BUSINESS.

MOOSONEE, Aug. 19 (CP)—An experiment carried out by Jack Pamquist, James Bay fur trader, has led to the belief that commercial fishing may develop into a prosperous industry for this northern town.

Pamquist arrived here yesterday with a cargo of 500 pounds of white salmon and trout in the hold of his ship "Venture." The fish had been caught about the vicinity of Cape Jones and averaged in weight between 10 and 25 pounds. The fishing had been done as an experiment and it proved highly successful. Pamquist was accompanied on his trip by two fishermen.

"I could not stay away any longer on account of my fur trading," Pamquist said when he arrived here, "but I just wanted to show fishermen that there were tons of fish."

EDWARD TAPP AGED 96, DEAD

Pioneer Farmer of North Hastings Passes Away at Glenmire.

BORN IN ENGLAND.

MARMORA, August 18 (Examiner Correspondent)—Pioneer farmer of North Hastings, Edward (Ned) Tapp passed away on Thursday afternoon at the residence of his brother-in-law William Dalton of Glenmire, at the advanced age of 96 years. He was born on May 29, 1837.

Greatly esteemed throughout the district, the late Mr. Tapp had farmed for seventy-three years on the original farm land granted to him by the Crown, and which he settled when coming to Canada in 1860.

Mr. Tapp was born in London, England, a son of the late Edward Tapp and Ann Curtis. He lived later in Gloucester, England, before coming to this country during the great gold rush into North Hastings.

A fact, which was always a great source of pride to Mr. Tapp, was that the year of his birth coincided with that in which Queen Victoria ascended the throne of England.

Endowed with remarkable strength, Mr. Tap had enjoyed good health up to the past few weeks, since which he had suffered two slight strokes.

In 1867, Mr. Tapp married Mary Ann Gordon, the daughter of a British Army officer. To them was born one son, who died in infancy. Mrs. Tapp died in 1927.

The old gentleman was a heavy smoker, having enjoyed his pipe ever since the tender age of ten years.

The funeral is to be held on Saturday afternoon, with services conducted by the incumbent of Bannockburn, the Rev. C. Brasil. Interment will be made at St. Margaret's cemetery, Glenmire.

SWASTIKA RIOTS FAIL TO BREAK TORONTO PARKS

Heavy Police Patrols Keep Throngs After Trouble, Moving.

NEW SOCIETY FORMED.

Several Minor Clashes—Reds and Jobless Break Up C.C.F. Meeting.

TORONTO, Aug. 18. (CP). Mayor W. J. Stewart's warning that wearing of the Swastika emblem would leave the wearer open to prosecution appeared to-day to have had the desired effect. Despite the fact that thousands of people thronged the city's parks last night in anticipation of further clashes between the warring factions, outbreaks of only a trivial nature were reported.

Each park had a squad of police on duty while reserves were held in readiness at strategic points. The main work of the police, however, was to keep the excitement seekers on the move, a task accomplished without incident.

A Jewish boy was attacked by a band of youths as he left the tennis courts at Willowvale Park, the scene of the previous night's disorders. He was mauled but not seriously hurt. An automobile, believed to have contained two Jewish men, was subjected to a fusilade of iron bars and other missiles in another part of the city. Occupants, however, sped away before any damage resulted.

Reds Break Up Meeting

At Trinity Park almost directly south of Willowvale police found it necessary to intervene when alleged members of the Toronto Council of Unemployed and Young Communists League combined to spoil a Co-operative Commonwealth Federation meeting.

In the east end of the city a new organization was formed to take the place of Toronto's original Swastika Club. In the presence of police some 500 residents of that section of the city met and after a lengthy discussion decided to form the Beaches Protective Association. Two Jews were among the speakers at this gathering, while three others of the same race were named to act on the executive committee.

CUBAN STRIKE NEARING CLOSE

Officials Worried as Harbor Tie-up Causes Immense Loss of Business.

MAJORITY DEMANDS MET.

(By John P. McKnight, A.P. Staff Writer.)

HAVANA, August 18. — Settlement of a paralyzing harbor strike and the consequent solution of a major labor problem confronting the new Cuban Government were expected to-day by Joaquin Martinel Saenz, Secretary of the Treasury.

Shippers and strikers after a meeting announced that dock laborers and launch operators would end their strike this morning, but longshoremen and stevedores decided to hold out for recognition of their union.

Shipping interests maintain the union is directed by Communists but the youthful treasury head thought the need for patriotic support for the new regime and the influence of his A B C opposition organization would bring the strikers around.

For more than two weeks the strikes, a continuation of the general trade paralysis that preceded the overthrow of Prestdent Machado, have played havoc with shipping. Several large liners have been forced to cancel scheduled stops, with hundreds of tourists at the Havana docks. Imports and customs collections have fallen sharply, and food prices have risen.

Most of the workers seem anxious to return to their duties. Their major demands have been met—that the weight of sugar bags they carry be reduced, that ferries be abolished, and that all ships anchor in midstream instead of docking. The daily wage will be $4, with double pay for overtime.

Three questions remain: A 44-hour week, rotation of labor, and recognition of their unions.

Shipping interests claim that if all demands are granted, harbor costs for incoming merchandise will be raised 60 per cent., thus forcing smaller companies out of business, and paving the way for the growth of Communism among laborers.

Young Husband Is Buried In Marmora

MARMORA, August 18 (Examiner Correspondence). — Almost the entire community were present to-day at the funeral of John White, 28-year-old victim of the Blairton Bay drowning tragedy, which was held from his farm home, in Belmont Township at 2 p.m. (E.S.T.). Services were conducted by Rural Dean Rev. A. B. Caldwell, with interment at Marmora Cemetery.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. (CP)—Sidney Franklin, the Brooklyn boy who made good in the bull rinks of Madrid, objects to being called a "bull thrower."

He voiced his objection today in an affidavit fyled in Supreme Court in a suit in which he seeks $100,000 damages and an injunction restraining Columbia Pictures, Inc., from distributing a film in which Franklin appears.

Franklin said he displayed his skill as a matador in the picture, only to have the narrator describe him as a "bull thrower' 'and refer to him in a "jeering, jocular and undignified manner."

TROUBLE BREWS IRAQ FRONTIER

King Feisals' Troops Slay 500 Assyrian Christians for Revenge.

KILLINGS CONTINUE.

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 18. (AP) Reports from Bagdad, Iraq, that 500 Assyrian Christians were killed in a clash with Iraq soldiers caused uneasiness in official circles here to-day.

(Upon urgent representations of the British charge d'affaires, said a despatch from Bagdad, King Feisal postponed his departure for a vacation in Switerland.)

Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald came from his vacation home in Scotland and conferred with Sir Francis Humphrys, the ambassador to Iraq, who also interrupted his holidays in Norway.

Strong representations have been made by British authorities to King Feisal for an investigation of the conduct of Kurdish irregulars and Iraq troops under Bekir Sidki Bey, commanding the northern administration of the Arab Kingdom.

The Daily Mail reported the massacre was in retaliation for an armed incursion of 1,300 Assyrians who killed a number of Iraq troops in August and that many internal incidents caused anxiety as well. King Feisal had promised to prevent a recurrence, but the killings continued, said the Daily Mail.

Told System to Sweep Country—Excellent Nude Aesthetic Dances.

By H. ALLEN SMITH
U.P. Staff Correspondent

HIGHLAND, N.Y., Aug. 18 — All arguments to the contrary, it is very embarrassing to have a young lady walk up to you stark naked and tell you that nudism is going to sweep the nation.

The shed-your-pants apostles at this particular nudist camp are serious about it. They apear to feel nudism will do wonders for this world.

This is your correspondent's first visit to a nudist camp and this one, operated by Miss Jan Gray, who apparently cuts her own hair, is a little dandy.

There is a man here known only as Button-Button—short German fellow who gives the impression of a bushel basket full of hickory nuts when viewed from the side. He is bald and on top of his head is a wen, about the size of a ping pong ball and a half. Because of this wen, the nudists call him Button-Button. And whenever he approaches in complete undress, they all begin singing: "When the moon comes over the mountain."

Button-Button, however is a serious sort of fellow. He doesn't resent the jibes.

"I figure," he told the United Press, "that if they have fun making the joke with me, it is their own business and I am not one to interfere with other people's business.

BELLEVILLE MOTORBIKE RIDERS THRILL CAMPBELLFORD CROWD

Daring Program Includes Trick and Novelty and Formation Stunts.

UNDER S.A.S. AUSPICES.

(Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 18.—Although yesterday was early closing and a few people remained in town, a fair sized crowd attended the motorcycle races, presented at the Exhibition track under the auspices of Seymour Agricultural Society by a groupe of dare devil riders from Belleville.

The riders five in all, mounted on British machines, were members of Belleville Motor Cycle Racing Club. Bert Frink, who described himself as manager of the club, explained to The Examiner, that the club was organized as a commercial project by a group of Belleville young men, who have found themselves temporarily out of employment. The program was being held at Campbellford, he said, primarily as an exhibition, in the expectation of the club being able to secure an engagement at Campbellford Fall Fair.

George Pepper, riding an Ariel, captured the record for the afternoon completing a half mile lap from a flying start, in 38 seconds, as against the slowest time of 44 3-4ths. seconds made by Douglas Frink on a 2 3-4ths. h.p. single cylinder Frances Barnett. Bert Frink astride a Norton made second best time for the lap of 38 3-4ths. seconds, with Raymond Hay, on a Matchless in third place at 39¼ seconds; and Gordon Chalmers riding a Rudge in fourth place at 44¼ seconds.

Daring Program

The program included trick and novelty riding and formation stunts, the riders performing daring feats such as standing in the saddle while tearing at breackneck speed down the track; lying prone on the saddle with hands free of the handlebars; and also undertaking risky chances by changing riding positions while tearing along with throttles wide open.

Raymond Hay took the only spill of the afternoon, wrenching one of his knees slightly and doing minor damage to his machine. That he was the only casualty, may be considered a tribute to the riding skill of the quintette of speedsters. Cornering at high speeds, the riders and machines careened over to dangerous angles, and were continually smothered in blinding, choking, clouds of dust whirled up by the machines from the dry dirt track.

The starter for the events was Cedric Smith, with Jack Embrey announcing. Both are members of the Belleville Club. H. McQuigg of Campbellford was official timekeeper.

GAME ASSOCIATION PLANS FIELD DAY

Francis Ruttan is Appointed Manager of Trent River Ball Team.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TRENT RIVER, August 17. — A meeting of the Fish and Game Protective Association was held on Tuesday night at 'Cedar Isle Point' with eleven members in attendance. The chief business was regarding the settlement of Regatta Day Accounts, and discussing improving the athletic grounds. It was decided to hold a field day of sports on Labor Day; Messrs. Ted Chaplin, Clifford Chaplin and Percy Tyler were appointed as advertising committee.

Mr. Fred Cook resigned as the manager of the local ball team. Francis Ruttan was appointed in his place, with Bill McLaughlin as captain.

COMMITTEES ELECTED FREE METHODIST CHURCH

VERONA, Ont., Aug. 18.—(CP).—The Eastern Ontario annual conference of the Free Methodist Church is in session here to-day and will continue over the week-end, with business sessions in the morning and afternoon and evangelistic services at night.

At the opening session Wednesday a stationary committee was formed. Committee members elected were Rev. W. H. Gregory, Kingston; Rev. F. A. Dawe, Uxbridge; Rev. A. S. Ball, Campbellford; D. J. Zurbrigg, Kingston; Harry Vansickle, Marmora; and Joseph Arksey, Toronto.

Members elected to the committee on public worship were Bishop A. D. Zahniser, of Pittsburgh; Rev. W. H. Gregory and Miss Sarah Gregory, M.A.

The four districts represented at the conference are Muskoka, Toronto, Peterborough and Kingston. There are 150 delegates attending.

Dominion's contribution to Trans-Canada highway construction would in future, be at the rate of 60 cents per working day per man. Under past agreements the two governments have split the cost of such construction equally. On all other road building projects the Dominion's contribution will be 50c per day per man.

Mr. Henry pointed out that the reason there had been no formal Queen's Park announcement up to now concerning the new agreement was that Ottawa still had to sign it.

CAMPBELLFORD HAS "JUNGLE"

Transients Becoming Bolder in Requests from "Hand-outs" Off Townfolk.

HOUSE PEDDLING.

CAMPBELLFORD, August 18.—(Examiner Staff Correspondent).—With the town policed by one officer, pending appointment of a successor to Chief C. G. Bromley, who recently accepted another appointment at Smiths Falls, Campbellford is coming to be regarded by transients, as a place of "easy pickings."

Such would seem to be the natural inference according to the ever increasing number of requests for "hand outs" being received daily by merchants and householders.

There are about ten permanent residents in the "hobo jungle" on the river bank in the south end, who make frequent excursions to stores and houses, with bold requests for food, tobacco or clothing.

Some of the transients are said to be "tough looking" and do not hesitate to walk boldly up to a storekeeper and demand a package of tobacco. More often than not the average merchant is afraid of refusing such demands, despite the prevalence of "bumming", which he feels should be stopped.

Other men described as being "decent sort of fellows" though probably equally as troublesome, do not brazenly cadge, but seek assistance by peddling small articles. One of the transients, is said, to be canvassing from house to house selling artificial flowers which he has fashioned in the "jungle" from crepe paper bought on "credit" at a local drug store.

Constable G. Hardy of the Town Police has not received any complaints regarding the conduct of transients, from any of the townspeople, he said. He was aware of the fact that the "jungle" was regularly inhabited, and was keeping an eye on the "boys."

Weddings

RASHOTTE—HAMELIN

(Examiner Correspondence)

TWEED, Aug. 18.—The marriage was celebrated in St. Christopher's R. C. church, Montreal on Tuesday morning, Aug. 15 of Laurette Hamelin of Montreal to Wilfred J. Rashotte, Montreal, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rashotte, Tweed. Rev. Fr. A. Derome performed the ceremony. Miss Jeanne Dagenais acted as bridesmaid while Mr. Henri Brabant was groomsman.

A reception was held following the wedding. The young couple are spending part of their honeymoon in Tweed with the groom's parents. Mr. Rashotte is a member of the Montreal Island Power Company, having been a resident of that city for some time.

DESHANE—DONALDSON

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at Sugar Island on Tuesday when Eva I. Donaldson, Millbridge, was united in marriage to Joseph Deshane of Marlbank. Mr. and Mrs. Cloreth Sedore acted as attendants. Rev. A. D. Waite, who is camping at the Sugar Island was the officiating clergyman.

The couple left after the ceremony for Marlbank where a reception was held. They will reside in that place.

HUNTER—LA CHAPPELLE

A wedding of considerable interest took place at The Blessed Sacrament church, Ottawa, on Thursday morning when Bernice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chappelle of Tweed became the bride of Samuel Hunter of Ottawa. Rev. Fr. Daley assisted by Rev. Fr. La Rose performed the ceremony.

The bride looked charming in white satin with hat and gloves to match. Miss Alice La Chappelle, sister of the bride acted as bridesmaid and was attiired in shell pink lace with white gloves and hat. Mr. Hermon Hunter, brother of the groom was groomsman.

Following a dainty wedding breakfast the happy couple left on a honeymoon to Eastern Canada. They will reside on 498 Booth Street, Ottawa.

ROCKCROFT.

Miss Ollie Cochrane is visiting with Mrs. Charles Jones, of Buckhorn.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Milton have returned to their home in Toronto after an enjoyable vacation at Glen Oaks.

Mr. and Mrs. Skinner, of Windsor, and Mr. and Mrs. Banks, of Toronto, have been guests for the past week at Glen Oaks. Week-end guests were: Pat Ross, Yonkers, N. Y.; Wayne Burt, Youngstown, O.; Mary S. Savage, Pittsburg, Pa.; Joan Orner, Akron, O.; Jay Nasmith, Margaret Allan, Jane Allan, Billy Allan and John Copp, of Toronto.

A very enjoyable birthday party was held on Friday afternoon when Marguerite Hall entertained a number of her friends at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. E. Windover, Glen Oaks, in honor of her thirteenth birthday. The girls had an enjoyable day, playing games, swimming, etc. Those present were Helen Windover, of Detroit; Leona Shearer, Muriel Bennett, Audrey McCaffrey, Dorothy and Glenn Hall, all of Buckhorn.

Mr. Bond has employed men to underbrush and clear his island in Missauga Lake.

Miss Hazel and Violet Neil have returned to their homes in Toronto after spending a few days with their aunt, Mrs. E. Windover.

Obituary

WARRINGTON SCOTT

WOOLER, Aug. 18 (Examiner Correspondence).—A sadness passed over this community in the death of Warrington Scott at the age of seventy, a resident of this place since his birth, the son of the late Warren Scott and Samantha Comstalk. He leaves to mourn: a sorrowing wife (Etta Herrington); three sons, Ervon at home, Arthur in the village, Clayton of Toronto; and one daughter, Mrs. Fred Peister of Codrington; one brother, P. C. Scott of Port Francis; five sisters, Mrs. Gunter, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Herrington of Trenton, Mrs. Free of Frankford, Mrs. Preston of Saskatchewan. The funeral service was conducted at his late residence on Thursday afternoon by Rev. A. Poulter.

DENNIS COURNEYEA.

TWEED, Aug. 18. — (Examiner Correspondence.)— The funeral of the late Dennis Courneyea took place on Wednesday morning from the home of his son Theodore to St. Carthagh's church, where requiem mass was said by Very Rev. Dean O'Riordan. The bearers were six sons, with interment in St. Carthaugh's cemetery. Surviving are his widow to whom he was married 52 years ago, eight sons and three daughters and one brother.

PRESS BLUSHES WORK OVERTIME

paperman gets in and convinces them he is on a liver and carrots diet, they can be congenial. In fact they can pester you to death.

Firmly intending to spend two days in their midst, this correspondent was not in the camp ten minutes before he had stripped. It all seemed perfectly natural—walking back and forth in front of the dining hall without so much as a pair of shorts on.

Then came Miss Gronlin. She came around a corner, very blonde and very handsome. And she didn't even have shoes on. Your correspondent, a bird-lover, became intensely interested in a thrush which was going into a power dive over Bear Mountain.

She didn't go on about her business, this Miss Gronlin. She came right up, and said: "Are you Mr. Smith?"

Your correspondent never tells a lie.

"I am Miss Gronlin," she said, and she laid a hand on my arm. "Please come and go swimming. The lake is wonderful."

"Miss Gronlin," your correspondent told her firmly. "I am not used to this business."

"Oh, that's all right," she burst forth, "the water isn't so deep in places."

Nudism to Sweep the Country.

Well, the swim was great fun, and we rowed a boat, and asked after the fish in the lake, and found out that nudism is going to sweep the country and that vegetables are very good for one, and that really there ain't no reason why people should object to nudism, what with Germany and all, and that the sloping, grassy hill over there to the west is a swell place to take off your clothes and gallop like a horse and that sometimes some nutty people stray into this camp.

There were perhaps ten other men and women engaged in aquatic sports sans culottes. Button-Button was there on the pier, unwilling to enter the water because he said he had the stomach ache from eating too many sliced tomatoes for lunch.

"Sliced tomatoes," said Button-Button, "and me don't get along."

A Miss Emery, who has charge of the dining-room, came down to the pier and ripped off what little clothing she wore. She stretched her arms, yawned, and started off on a classical dance—one of those here-we-go-gathering-nuts-in-May dances. It was very remarkabe After completing it, Miss Emery d'd a sort of Immelman roll into the water, and your correspondent, fearing for her life, swam rapidly toward her. She seemed, however, perfectly capable of swimming in deep water and was exceptionally good at floating on her back.

Standing on the dock, Miss Emery still as naked as the day she was born (as was your correspondent) explained that the idea of this nudist camp is health. The sun she said, is good for one, so is exercise, such as bending and touching the ground without any clothes on and reading Maxwell Bodenheim's books And so, said Miss Emery, are vegetables good for one.

WARM BATTLE IN NOVA SCOTIA

VOTE ON AUGUST 22.

HALIFAX, Aug. 18 (CP)—Heavy artillery hah swung into action in Nova Scotia's election battle with polling day only four days off. Interest heightens with the fast approach of balloting date—August 22. Large crowds are turning out to hear Government and Opposition spokesmen.

Premier Gordon S. Harrington last night spoke in the steel town of New Glasgow, and brought word of an order for 2,000 tons of steel to be produced at New Glasgow and Amherst. The Premier said his Conservative Government and the Federal administration had concluded negotiations for immediate construction of sheds for Pier "B" of the Halifax ocean terminals, and that the steel would be used for this purpose.

The Premier announced also negotiations were proceeding "with every prospect of early success" towards heavy expenditures in permanent highways. A percentage of the cost, he said, would be borne by the Federal Government.

In his home constituency of Amherst, Hon. Percy C. Black, Minister of Highways, went into greater detail concerning the proposed road work. Expenditure would total $1,000,000, the minister said, and the money would be directed to provide the greatest possible amount of employment in the Fall months.

Opposition Active

While the Premier and Minister of Highways were speaking in industrial centres, Liberal Leader Angus L. Macdonald was presenting the Opposition's case before fruit-growers of the Annapolis Valley. He addressed meetings at Berwick and late at Wolfville.

The Opposition Leader was troubled by a throat disability brought on by much speaking and his addresses were brief. In each, he outlined the points of his platform, pledging his party to effect large savings in administering the government, particularly in the Departments of Agriculture and Highways.

He criticised "appalling expenditures" of the present administration, and said he proposed to fulfill his policies with respect to Old Age Pensions, Mothers' Allowances and relief measures without increasing taxation.

BUY THEM NOW.

There are several things about the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition that should be borne in mind at this time.

In the first place, it is only a matter of three weeks away; and secondly, the period for buying strip tickets which provide for a 25c admission charge is rapidly drawing to a close, so that those who have not yet provided themselves with these tickets should lose no time in doing so, for the offer expires on the first of September.

Buying these advance tickets serves the double purpose of providing the Exhibition Board with funds at a time when they are needed and of ensuring a cheaper admission price than will be charged those who wait until the big fair opens its doors.

With the famous Scots Guards Band as a feature and a large number of other attractions booked, Peterborough's Industrial Exhibition promises to be full of color and interest, and wise people will make sure of securing their tickets in advance and thus take advantage of an opportunity that will be denied those who wait until next month.

ALD. TUGGEY TO THE RESCUE.

The numerous bathers who have been accustomed to swim at the foot of Dublin street, the favorite spot long known as "The Jacks," are under a deep debt of gratitude to Ald. Fred Tuggey for the great improvement he has made at this point.

For many years a pier was located at the foot of Dublin street and was the rendezvous of scores of swimmers, but the structure gradually disappeared until hardly a trace of it remained—yet bathers still clung affectionately to the old swimming hole despite the conditions.

It was proposed several times that the City Council should undertake to build a diving wharf to replace the old pier, but fearing legal responsibility in the case of accident and being unable to provide supervision at this point, the municipal government declined to act.

Ald. Tuggey, whose home is nearby and who has always taken a keen interest in the welfare of "The Jacks" swimming fraternity, has, however, gone to the rescue, and securing materials from the Board of Works and doing the work himself, has provided the bathers with a splendid platform, approach to which is to be had by neat concrete steps, and the result is a splendid recreational asset, established at practically no expense to the city and one that will be a source of pleasure and healthful exercise to hundreds of citizens, young and old.

Ald. Tuggey's community spirit will be appreciated by them and by the whole city.

ADVERTISING IN THE DEPRESSION.

The value of newspaper advertising to retail business has been proved anew. This is the tribute of one phase of the power of the press expressed this week at the convention of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishing Dealers meeting in Chicago.

The consensus of its members was, briefly, that newspaper advertising proved "the most effective and productive medium for sales appeal during the past three depression years."

One of the speakers, Salem N. Baskin, summarized the philosophy or the practice of advertising so cogently that his experience and advice is worth passing on to other merchants.

"When merchants quit thinkink of advertising in terms of individual ads., and take the larger view of an advertising program stretching over a season, a year, and a period of years, they will begin to see its possibilities in business, Mr. Baskin said.

After having builded with advertising patiently, painstakingly and consistently over a period of years, they will have accumulated enough goodwill momentum to carry them comfortably through periods of depression.

Formulate a set of rules that will govern your advertising and hew to that code. This does not mean that you must appear in the newspaper every day, but it means that your advertising campaigns must be well timed and concentrated, not sporadic and whimsical.

MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC POWER.

Two news items relating to electric power generated in this district, one from Fenelon Falls and the other from Campbellford, illustrate the advantages of public ownership.

The town of Fenelon Falls owns a power site and plant within the municipality. At a recent meeting of the managing commission, a grant of $3,000 was diverted from the earnings of the power service to the town treasury, a contribution that directly assists the ratepayer in addition to the low rates they pay for the power used in their homes.

Campbellford is in the same position, but its present problem is to find a market for a surplus of 1,000 horse power which until recently had been purchased by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission. A deputation from the town interviewed the commission in Toronto a few days ago requesting that the old contract be renewed, and the considered reply has been forwarded by Hon. J. R. Cooke to George Kingston, editor of the Campbellford Herald.

The Hydro chairman explains that by the purchase of Gatineau power for the Central Ontario system the commission itself has a surplus, and has no present demand for the supply formerly bought from Campbellford.

It may seem strange to the Trent town that its power at $11.50 per h.p. goes begging for consumers in its own area when the Hydro makes a contract for Ottawa River power at a price of $13.86.

Hon. Mr. Cooke explains that a large block of electric energy was needed for the Central Ontario system, and it was not available from Trent sources. The following excerpt from Mr. Cooke's letter recalls the Gatineau deal:

"On December 28, 1927, to meet the growing power requirements of the eastern system, the commission entered into an agreement with the Gatineau Power Company for a supply of 60,000 h.p. at an average rate of $13.80 per h.p. per year, ...riod of 40 years. This power to be taken in blocks of 6,000 h.p. each year for a period of 10 years. The power supplied under this agreement is commercially continuous, firm, base power, the maximum amount supplied under the terms of the contract being available at all times during the term of the agreement, and under the agreement the commission is permitted to take 88 kilowatt hours per week for each horsepower of demand."

It will be a disappointment to Campbellford that their block of cheap power cannot find a customer, and that the Hydro is buying so much power from the Gatineau it does not need the Trent supply. If the town appropriated a certain amount of its revenue from power every year for advertising its cheapness it might attract some new industries, and in nomal times increase local employment, thereby retaining at home all the benefits of its own power plant.

"THE BEST PEOPLE."

Joseph M. Schenck, president of United Artists of Hollywood, is on his way to New York and Washington, where he will meet with other motion picture men to work out a code governing the hours per week and rates of pay, etc.

Arriving in Omaha, Mr. Schenck gave an interview to a reporter in which he spoke about the number of divorces in the moving picture world. In brief his view was this: "Divorce has long since ceased to be a disgrace. Some of the best people in the country are setting an example."

So there again we have use made of that phrase, "the best people in the country." Who says they are the best people in the country? By what process is that decision arrived at.

It is a loose phrase at best, and is apt to be applied where it has no significance. Those who have social position, or those who have money are apt to come under the meaning of that term, "the best people." That is popular usage, but it is also popular error.

We hesitate to believe that the best people in United States are those who head for the divorce courts.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

SEEING MORE OF CANADA.

According to the statisticians, who keep an eye on everything, fewer Canadians are going abroad this year. We should like to think that, staying at home, they would try to see more of Canada. For the seeing is worth while.

We have not in this country the things and places which, made sacred almost by antiquity, so appeal to the traveller. We have, however, our own shrines of a storied past, and we have a native scenery which in its beauty and variety is all but incomparable. There are few spots in all the world where nature is seen in more awesome mood than in our own Rockies, few areas with a more spacious sweep than our prairies with their far horizons.

Nor is it only in British Columbia and the West that nature has been generous. In Ontario and in old Quebec there are spots of great beauty, lush valleys and noble lakes and a rolling countryside of pastoral contentment that is good to look upon.

Last, but not least, there are the Maritimes: the great rivers of New Brunswick, with their romantic names like the Miramichi; the lakes of Nova Scotia, as lovely as those of Scotland and Ireland; the storied island of Cape Breton. In all of these places—and we are not including the bold headlands of Gaspe—there are thousands of miles of epic scenery. It is not as bold as that of the Rockies, not as vast as that of the plains, but it is tenderer, more kindly, its sternness tempered by a smile.

To journey through this country, lingering by its lakes or in the valleys between its mountains, or where the mist comes in from the sea to make richer its hillsides, enjoying its simple, kindly people, is an unforgettable experience. In days like these, indeed, it is more than that. It makes one wholesomely contemptuous of the notion that this old world is going to the devil.—Ottawa Journal.

LOVE OF WEALTH.

Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior at Washington, rebukes his compatriots for their love of wealth. He tells them they have sacrificed much to a passion for material things, in the belief that riches covered a multitude of sins, including the sin of ignorance. He puts it this way: "I wonder if it isn't a fair statement that while we have indulged ourselves liberally in education, we have not done this so much for the sake of education itself, or to add to the culture and graciousness of life, but because of the general belief that by educating ourselves and our children we have been making it more possible to win in the race for the acquisition of wealth."

It would not have been in good taste to this criticize our neighbors from this side of the line, and, moreover, there would have been hypocrisy in so doing; for Americans are not the only people who are madly seeking wealth. To make money the supreme aim of life is tragic folly; yet there is no virtue in poverty. The parable of the talents encourages thrift and enterprise. It is the undue love of money that corrupts and shuts out the finer things of life.—Brantford Expositor.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

At least Dr. Withrow's articles on the Kingston Penitentiary are not likely to inspire any young fellows with a desire to observe the conditions for themselves.

The income tax returns for the first four months of the present year showed a decline of over five million dollars. The trend should indicate to the C.C.F. that the revenue that can be obtained from this source will not last forever.

According to the hobo king of America, Canada has only 500 genuine hoboes. The others, it is presumed, are merely amateurs, out to see Canada first.

Motor vehicle licenses are selling at half-price for the balance of the year, but radio licenses remain at the old level, it should not be forgotten.

Mr. Ferguson is to spend most of his holiday in Canada fishing, we are told, but the stories do not make it clear whether it is to be done in the political pool.

THE TUTTS By Crawford Young

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyst for the Readers of The Examiner.

Mrs. Edythe Hopkins,
52 St. James St., City.

The handwriting as depicted on your sample for analysis with it's flowing forward formations, expresses an affectionate nature. You always want to do more than your share for others, but really should not undertake anything too strenuous for your rather nervous constitution. You are romantically inclined and like to build castles in the air, yet you feel very much upset when the plans fail to materialize. There is a natural desire for self expression, which could be developed along dramatic or humorous lines, if you do so desire. Or, it might be more beneficial in a material sense if brought to the surface as a hobby in an artistic measure, such as making gifts 'for sale.' However, you would discover that you would need a great deal of patience and will power in order to reap the reward you would merit in these 'times of economy.' Your kindness brings you many friends.

Miss Rosie Chandler,
367 Reid St., City.

The handwriting as inscribed on your sample for analysis demonstrates a changeable disposition. You love things and you hate them, but you don't know why. You are temperamental and shed tears because you are unhappy many times, when the fault is your own. If you had only been a little more careful or thoughtful, the pain in your heart would not have occurred. You seem to have constantly put things off. Always waiting for a better and more opportune time, then you dash frantically at them at the last possible minute and endeavour to make up for lost time. Apart from these characteristics, you are affectionate and intelligent. There is no reason why happiness should not enter your heart to remain there for ever.

C. Barton,
206 Edinburgh St., City.

The large flamboyant 'B' in your signature with it's exaggerated curves and strokes criticize you as one who must be head. You refuse to be placed in the background, and you are born to express your emotions through the medium of words. At meetings where conciseness and clarity of opinions were essential, you could make your power keenly appreciated if you cultivate a stronger memory, to enable you to 'hold the floor' for any length of time. You possess the faculty of speech but your thoughts become jumbled. The flourish at the termination of your letter 'B' is conclusive evidence that you absolutely must have self expression, and ... you are by nature, quite jolly.

ALL OF US

By MARSHALL MARLIN

FORGIVENESS

There is a flame that warms a man but does not burn. It is called, if you would give it a name, forgiveness.

And there are two sides, as there are to all things, to this treasure of life. There is the forgiveness that is in the forgiver, and the forgiveness in the heart of the forgiven, of the man who has faltered and offended and who has been living for a dreary while in dark places, but who is lifted up and taken to the heart and made one of the dear circle of men again. It is the warm flame in HIS heart of which I am thinking.

Much has been written of forgiving. Balzac said that when women love us they forgive everything. Sterne thought that the brave only know how to forgive. It has been said by someone whose name I no longer remember that when you half forgive your enemy, it is like leaving a bag of rusty nails between him and you. And Lavater said that he who has not forgiven an enemy has never yet tasted one of the most sublime enjoyments of life.

Very well, but there's a danger there if a man thinks of forgiving injuries only in a proud spirit, as if it were a pleasure, a jewel, a debauch of spiritual superiority.... The richest harvest of forgiveness is in the heart of the man who has come home again to tenderness and understanding and blessed companionship. There's nothing sweeter, no more lovely experience than that.

A man does many foolish things as he lives along. Too often he is weak, reckless, intemperate, false to his dream of how he should be living....Despite himself he offends those he loves and tramples their picture of him in the mud. He hurts them and shuts them away. And sometimes he thinks his own acts have banished him from their hearts forever....But they come to him and forgive. By a glance of the eye friendly and comforting. By a touch of the hand. By some dear inclusion of him in their lives they bring him shoulder to shoulder—and it's then the good flame leaps up in him once more and he is glad he is truly alive again and feels himself once more a man, the equal of any, and profoundly cleansed.

ARE WE FLY SHY?

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir.—Notwithstanding the depression, Canada has developed passenger and freight flying fairly well. But we are not in it with the U.S.A. one of the six great air companies flew 50 millions of miles with over half a million passengers and great quantities of air mail and freight.. Are we a "back country" yet.

READER.

BUILDING TRADES.

Editor of Examiner.

Dear Sir.—I was very much interested in your editorial of August 15 on "Assistance for Building Trades." There have been so many visionary schemes put forward by the building trade journals, architects and professional builders that a really reasoned statement of the difficulties confronting the building industry is refreshing.

Even builders fail to realize that the building industry is more a product of prosperity than any other business unless it be in the extreme luxury class, and the basic reason for this is that a family must have food and clothing before they indulge in better housing.

While the prosperity of the farmer and the workingman is the basis for nearly all business, it is especially the foundation for the building trade, and naturally this industry will be one of the slowest to recover.

The working man and mechanic must be assured that his investment in a home is a safe undertaking.

Our city's first concern after essential direct relief must be protection and encouragement to the bonafide small home-owner. Certainly piling up a high interest rate against his arrears of taxes is not the way to restore confidence and beget the laudable ambition to own a home.

The growing child, no matter how well fed and clothed, is still underprivileged unless its feet touch Mother Earth in its own home yard. The apartment can only be a comfortable stopping place for adults.

The English Government's building scheme would not apply to a city like Peterborough; we have a few scattered houses that ought to be torn down, but no slum district. The nearest approach to such is the inconvenient, overcrowded apartments over the stores. Dire necessity compels many people to accept these accommodations, who if times were normal would be investing in a real home.

Activity in the building trades is very desirable, because such a large percentage of the outlay is distributed in manual labor to the various trades, but it is an industry that cannot be artifically boosted. Like a house, it must have a sure foundation, and the greatest factor in its prosperity is the prosperity and security of the average workingman.

London Barristers Find Going Rough

(CP Staff Writer)

LONDON, Aug. 18.—(CP Cable).—Impoverished condition of many London barristers was made known to-day by a Westminster police magistrate who reproached a wealthy man charged with drunkenness by telling him "I know a barrister who has had only one meal since last Friday."

Those familiar with the inner life of that historic home of the law called "The Temple" say they know of other instances of hardship which show the rough road many barristers are following, especially now when practically all advocacy is suspended during the long vacation.

Barristers and solicitors in England are classes apart, and an increasing tendency to substitute arbitration for litigation renders necessary the services of solicitors only.

Areas set aside for the protection and conservation of wild life are variously designated game preserves, reserves, sanctuaries, reservations and refuges.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

FIRST STEAMSHIP

On this date one hundred years ago there steamed out of the harbor of Pictou, N.S., the wooden paddle steamer Royal William, which lives in history as the first vessel to cross the Atlantic entirely under steam.

Built at Quebec, she was launched in April, 1831, and towed to Montreal to be fitted with engines developing 200 h.p. Her cost when ready for sea was $75,000. She was originally intended to ply between Montreal and Quebec and Nova Scotia, and the enterprise of her building was carried out by a group of Quebec and Halifax merchants, assisted by a grant of $15,000 from the government of Lower Canada. Among the shareholders appear the names of three Cunard brothers, one of whom later founded the present Cunard Line.

After three moderately successful voyages in 1831 to Halifax and intermediate ports she laid up for the winter. In 1832, owing to a cholera epidemic, she made only one voyage, and her owners became bankrupt.

In the spring of 1833 a new company was formed, which purchased the vessel and, for a time, used her for towing and local excursions. Then in June she sailed on a trip to Boston, where she was enthusiastically received as being the first steamship flying the Union Jack to enter a United States port.

On her return to Quebec her owners decided to send her to England for sale. It was on this voyage that she made history, demonstrating to the world the feasibility of navigating the oceans by means of steam-propelled vessels, notwithstanding the declaration of a certain Doctor Lardner that "they might as wel ltalk of making a voyage from Quebec to the moon."

Early in August she left Quebec for Pictou, in the Northumberland Strait, where she remained a few days coaling, storing, repairing engines, and awaiting passengers. Her dimensions were: Length over all, 176 feet; depth of hold, 18 feet; breadth over paddle-boxes, 44 feet.

Eventually, on August 18, she steamed out of Pictou harbor to pit her puny engines against the mighty Atlantic rollers. Her clearance papers from the Pictou Customs read:

Royal William—33 tons. Master, John McDougall. Whitherbound, London. Goods exported, 254 chaldrons of coal (648 tons). A box of stuffed birds. Ships' spars (produce of the province). One box, one trunk. Household furniture. A harp. Seven passengers, all British.

Within a few days she encountered a tremendous storm off the banks of Newfoundland, during which the starboard engine was disabled, and though straining heavily, she started leaking. The chief engineer came up and reported to the captain that the ship was sinking, but McDougall ordered the pumps to be started and held on the course.

They steamed for a week on one engine and then effected repairs, but several stops had to be made owing to leaky boilers. Eventually, after 25 days of trials and tribulations they reached Gravesend. Ten days later the vessel was sold for $50,000 and chartered to the Portuguese government as a troopship. Captain McDougall retained command and took her out to Lisbon, where she was unsuccessfully offered for sale to the Portuguese.

In 1834 the ship was bought by the Spaniards, went to Gravesend to be converted into a "war-steamer," and was renamed the Ysabel Segunda. Later she returned to the Spanish coast, and on May 5, 1836, in the bay of San Sebastian, she earned the distinction of being the first steamer of war to fire a hostile shot. In 1840 she was sent to Bordeaux for repairs, but her timbers were found to be hopelessly rotten and she was converted into a hulk. Her engines were transferred to a new ship of the same name, which ultimately sank off the Algerian coast during a violent storm in 1860.

In honor of the men by whose enterprise, courage and skill the "Royal William," the first vessel to cross the Atlantic by steam power, was wholly constructed in Canada and navigated to England in 1833. The pioneer of those mighty fleets of ocean steamers by which passengers and merchandise of all nations are now conveyed on every sea throughout the world.

This tablet was unveiled during the first intercolonial conference at Ottawa in 1894 and was originally in the passage between the Parliament Building and the Library; but after the fire of 1916, in which it was smoke-scarred but otherwise uninjured, it was removed for safety to the Archives.

C.G.E. Flower Show Is Set For Saturday

Arrangements for the fourth annual Canadian General Electric Flower Show to be held in the Canadian Legion Hall on Saturday are now being completed. One of the finest shows of the series is promised.

Ten valuable door prizes are being given away to visitors to the show by the sponsors, the horticultural section of the C.G.E. Social and Athletic Club. Nine of the prizes will be valuable C.G.E. products and the tenth will be a handsome cedar hope chest.

The sponsors are making special efforts to secure generous support for the show as the proceeds, after expenses have been met, will be turned over to the Canadian Legion. An unusually fine array of flowers is expected. Prizes are now on display in the window of Grant & Loucks Company, Limited.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (A.P.)—A late selling wave to-day rocked the list rather vigorously before subsiding. Rails and utilities rested well, but numerous industrials sagged 1 to 4 points before recovering portions of their losses. Trading again turned dull as soon as the selling had spent itself, but declines of around 1 to 3 points were suffered by Western Union, United States Industrial Alcohol, Case, Deer, United States Steel, American Telephone, Dupont and American Can. Transfers aproximated 3,100,000 shares.

STANDARD EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, Aug. 18.— (C.P.) — Stocks churned about vigorously today on the standard exchange as a falling U.S. dollar and fairly firm wheat market played against active unloading in the New York market. Strong in the morning session the close was unsteady and down from the day's best levels.

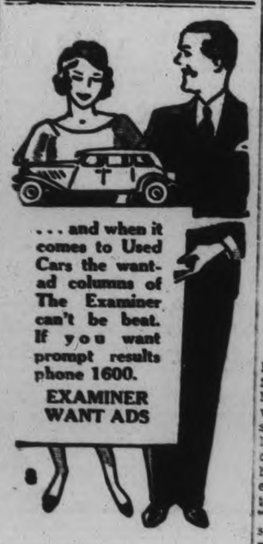
Losses in the gold shares on the day ranged from 5 cents to $1. Dome dropped 50, Pioneer about $1. and Teck Hughes and Hargreaves were off about 10.

Profit taking cut Nickel down to 30.50 in the afternoon, from which point it firmed to 30.75 to show a loss of 40 cents on the day. Noranda dropped about 25 cents.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Aug. 18 (C.P.)—The Toronto stock market ran into a selling wave late in the afternoon session to-day and early gains were not only lost but some of yesterday's gains as well. In the last half hour however the drive eased off and prices firmed to close in the majority of cases, still under Thursday's final level.

Nickel touched 21.50 in the morning session and later fell to 20.45. The close at 20.80 was off 45 cents for the day. Smelters dropped 2 points while Brazilian, Ford of Canada and C.P.R. all had fractional declines.



LAWN BOWLERS MEETING HERE IN SEMI-FINAL

Provincial Lawn Bowling Association Holds Meet in City.

SIX CLUBS ENTERED.

Port Perry and Deseronto Only Two Clubs in Rinks Competition.

Semi-final Games of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association's play-offs began at one o'clock this afternoon on the greens of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Association, with six clubs represented, Ottawa, Oshawa, Campbellford, Kew Beach (Toronto), Port Perry and Deseronto. The finals will be played at Ottawa September 1st for the provincial championships in the three groups, singles, doubles and rinks.

Port Perry and Deseronto were the only entries in the rinks competition; Otawa, Oshawa and Campbellford were represented in the doubles and also in the singles.

The Peterborough Club's greens were selected for the provincial semi-finals because of their splendid condition and club accommodation, and also for the reason that Peterborough was regarded as a convenietnly central place for the competing bowlers.

The personenl of the only two rinks in the draw was:

Port Perry—W. Graham, A. MacFarlane, J. Murray and D. Carnegie, skip.

Deseronto—A. Rendell, C. Rendell, R. Miller and Joe Taman, skip.

The Doubles Group.

Tommy Johns and Eddie Goodman, of Oshawa were drawn against Gibb Taylor and W. E. Minton of Oshawa in the first game of the doubles, and the winner will play Walter Wiggins and Archie Meyers of Campbellford.

Campbellford will then wind up against the loser of the first game, decision to be on the points basis.

Four in the Singles.

The singles draw pitted C. V. Pye of Ottawa, against Charlie Peacock of Oshawa; and C. P. Shepherd of Campbellford, against F. C. Higgins, of Kew Beach.

Kew Beach fours and Ottawa fours defaulted, also Kew Beach doubles.

J. W. Mayneord of Peterborough, was appointed umpire by the Provincial Association.

ROBBED IN BEER GARDEN

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y.—Four men were robbed early to-day in a beer garden by three bandits, two of whom were masked and armed. The bandits escaped in an automobile after taking $235 from their victims.

Albert Nudo, proprietor of the beer garden, lost $150.

During the year ended June 30, 1932, the Inspectors of the Dominion Seed Branch under the Fertilizers Act found on the market some 333 different branches of registered fertiliser, and 1,085 official samples were taken and analysed.

Ready To Start

ANNA STEN

For 15 months Anna Sten, the Russian actress who was imported for American screen productions, has been under contract in Hollywood, though she hasn't made a scene. She has been studying English, learning how to act before a camera, reducing her weight and has been carefully coached in American customs. Now she is ready to start work on her first picture, "Nana." Anna is shown above as she emerged from her solitary months of preparation.

ROMANCE OF NATION BUILDING IS DISCUSSED BY MRS. FALLIS

Kiwanis Club Hears Splendid Address From Lady Speaker.

EVOLUTION OF CURRENCY.

Mrs. Howard Fallis, past president of the Womens' Liberal-Conservative Association tactfully refrained from the discussion of politics, when she found herself seated next to stalwarts of the Liberal Association, as guest speaker at the local Kiwanis luncheon at Empress Hotel to-day.

Instead, she provided a delightfully interesting and informative talk, which she termed, "The Romance of Nation Building," in which she touched upon the evolution of Canada's currency system of the present day, and also provided fleeting sketches of romantic episodes from the lives of Champlain and Frontenac.

The introduction of Mrs. Fallis—a formality which was remarked upon as superfluous, in view of her wide reputation as a public speaker—was capably undertaken by Dr. J. J. Craig. The concluding vote of thanks was entrusted to Isaac P. McNabb, whose political views also run counter to those of the guest speaker.

J. A. O'Brien, president of the club, presided, and called upon Robert Haddow to introduce Miss Marion Rawlston, guest soloist, and her accompanist, Miss Olive Prest.

Mrs. Fallis considered it a privilege to address the Kiwanis Club—an organization that was engaged in citizenship building. While she would like to have discussed politics, she remarked, "one has to be guided by circumstances." She accordingly announced her intention of touching upon a lighter topic that had to do with the "Romance of National Building."

In her address, the speaker dealt with the early currency of Canada at the time it was under French rule, and known as Upper and Lower Canada. The first real currency emergency arose, she said, when France neglected to honor bills of exchange for her colony here. An emergency issue of paper money was decided upon, but a shortage of paper in the colony was found to exist.

Packs of playing cards were obtained from the garrison, and the pasteboards were cut into quarters and converted into paper money, redeemable when the money should arrive from France.

Change in Currency

With the substitution of the Union Jack for the Fleur de Lis, the currency of Canada underwent a great change, although curiously enough even under British rule Spanish currency was used extensively. The Spanish dollar was at that time the mightiest form of currency in the world, and even then the rise and fall of sterling was of great moment, as it is at the present time.

The first silver coins were struck by the government of Upper and Lower Canada, in 1839. The trading companies had a currency of their own, based on beaver skins, while British Columbia as was to be expected, used gold currency.

It was in 1853 that the session of the Legislature of Upper and Lower Canada provided legislation that gave Canada her present system of currency.

Even more interesting Mrs. Fallis believed was the romance of the people of Canada. Champlain and Frontenac, she said, were always thought of as being battle scarred warriors and explorers. Neither of their lives was devoid of real romance. At the age of forty Champlain married beautiful Helene, 12-year-old daughter of a French merchant. She came to be dearly beloved by the people of Canada, and St. Helen's Island at Montreal was named after her.

Frontenac's dying wish, was that his heart should be sent to the wife, from whom he was estranged in France. She refused to accept the silver casket containing her husband's heart, and it was sent back over the Atlantic to rest in a church in Quebec City.

Canada's Strangest Island

Mrs. Fallis also spoke of Magdalene Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence as being inhabited by a section of the people, "who seem to have skipped the twentieth century." There were no automobiles on the island, she said, and no movie theatres, while the greater percentage of the people had never visited Canada's great ports of St. John, Montreal or Quebec, which were within a day's sailing distance. She termed Magdalene Island as "Canada's strangest island."

The speaker also touched upon the romance of the pioneers of Canada — particularly the Ontario pioneers. There could be no greater mistake, she thought, than for people to run away with the idea that Canada's institutions were fixed and unalterable. "We are a new nation," she said, "and anything can happen."

"But so long as the hearts of the people are in the right place," Mrs. Fallis contended, "the nation is safe."

She termed the Kiwanis organization as being the essence of good citizenship, concluding with the remark, "we may well say with the poet, 'Lord take us up to the heights and show us the vision of Empire'."

signed with a diamond-studded "50" to mark a half-century membership in the order.

Member of Old 45th

A creditable record of service in the old 45th Battalion was a pride to Mr. Nugent. He enlisted two years after the Fenian Raid of 1866 and after serving nine years, retired with the rank of ensign. He was always a worker for good causes, lending his services to the Red Cross, the Y.M.C.A. and the hospitals on different occasions.

Mr. Nugent resided for some years past at 555 Water street. His wife, formerly Minnie McBurney, predeceased him in 1919.

The funeral will be held from George Street United Church, of which he was long a member, to Little Lake cemetery on Monday at 2.30 o'clock. Rev. J. E. J. Millyard, assisted by Rev. J. A. Sutcliffe, will conduct the services.

MERGER ONLY RUMOR.

LONDON.—Officers of the White Star line here to-day disclaimed knowledge of any developments regarding a reported merger of the White Star and Cunard Steamship lines, talk of which has been in the air for several years.

The view was expressed that the report was a revival of a month-old story that such a merger was imminent. No developments have occurred since then, as far as is known, it was said.

A GOOD COW TO OWN

WALKERVILLE.—An even ton of milk in July is the record of a 5-year-old Holstein, owned by Walker Farms Limited. The cow has just concluded a twice-a-day milking test extending over the past year. An average of 3.56 p.m. fat and production of 15,573 pounds of milk is the result shown.

COMPANY GETS DECISION

OTTAWA.—A board of conciliation has reported to the Dominion Department of Labor on the wage dispute between the Winnipeg Electric Company and its employees. In a majority report, it found the company unable to continue paying existing rates of wages.

Scotland imports three times as much Canadian flour as does the rest of Great Britain.

Freeburn ran back to his father's house. The news of James Freeburn's definite presence in the district brought forth a large posse of men who formed a semi-circle about the wood into which he had raced. Carefully they searched through the whole wood, but failed to find Freeburn.

However, Constable Silvester said that the search party did come across several small campfires which it is believed that Freeburn used in cooking food.

That the young man would have returned to his father's house where his wife awaits him, if the large posse who went out to track him down had not frightened him away, was the opinion of Constable Silvester.

Freeburn was in his usual good health and spirits when he left his home on Friday morning, it was learned. It is suspected that he may have suffered a sunstroke, or suffered a temporary loss of memory, which is causing him to act strangely and hide himself in the woods.

Attic Bird	The Tout
Whitby Lad	Watergap
Old Fashioned	Indian Dance
Third Race—	Fourth Race—
Circulet	Exhibition
Canny Age	Trigling
Bald Crest	Kieva
Fifth Race—	Sixth Race—
Khorasan	Boscobel
Golden Fate	Wrigley Field
Redress	White hTorn

Seventh Race—
Galahad
Yellow Metal
Good Guess

THE BIG SHOW at Fort Erie is nearing a close and long shot winners still prevail. It would not do to let the Fort Erie meet pass without telling the story of the young man who went over to this track from Toronto with just ten dollars in his pocket and after paying his expenses arrived at the mutuel window with five smackers to spare. He bet this fin on a player called Jimmy Brown in the first race and won, the five dollar ticket being boosted up to two hundred and fifty simoleons. His next chance was a little heavier and it won and to make a long story short he bet the winning horse in the whole seven races and increased his role each time until at the end of the day he had run his lone banknote up to twenty-three hundred.

• • •

HE WENT across to Buffalo that evening and stayed there a few days. Finally he purchased a gasoline station in the Border City and today is one of the most successful business men of Buffalo. Sounds like a fairy story but it has always been said that truth is stranger than fiction. At present he owns a nice stable of horses and is still able to pick a few winners in his spare time.

• • •

THE STRING that C. V. Whitney shipped to Canada, originally consisting of seventeen head has now been reduced to ten, due to seven being claimed by other owners. He is shipping what he has left to Devonshire this week-end. Good Guess which won the last race on Thursday was claimed from him at the recent Hamilton meeting.

• • •

HAYFIRE, the former Seagramite is just rounding into form and you can climb aboard anytime now. He is good at any distance from six furlongs to a mile and a quarter. We notice where Sir Byron was claimed again. This hide is one of the most consistent platers in training. He can also sprint or go a distance. We see where Higher was scratched again on Thursday, they are sure waiting for a killing with this one. Altsheb will be peaches and cream one of these days.

CORNWALL DEALT A SECOND BLOW

Kingston reported hundreds of trees blown down by the high winds that carried the brief but heavy fall of rain. Traffic was delayed in both towns, a street fair was cancelled at Brockville and linemen of telephone, telegraph and power companies went to work to repair widespread if minor damage.

Four boys camping at Brockville escaped death or injury by half a minute when the two tents in which they had slept were demolished by the crash of a towering black walnut weakened by the wind.

The storm was the second violent blow to hit Ontario within two months but damage was not expected to reach the high mark of the storm in mid-June.

You will find many things in the Classified Ads of The Examiner.

RAILWAY UNIONS TO OPEN BATTLE

Decide on Legal Action—Probably Be Started in West.

WANTS OLD SCALE.

OTTAWA, Aug. 18 (CP)—Railway union men are preparing to fight for wages which they claim are due to them.

The employees of Canadian railways are of the opinion that they are entitled to the basic wage rates from February 1 last. Moving in the direction of battle, they have decided that legal action should be instituted "at distant points"; and the intimation has been given that proceedings will not be started in Ontario or Quebec. The likelihood favors one of the Western provinces as the scene of initial proceedings as against the Maritimes.

Canadian railway employees claim they are entitled to the basic rate wage since January 31 last, on which date the 1932 agreement for a 10 per cent decrease applied. The 10 per cent reduction has continued since February 1 and an additional 10 per cent cut has been brought into effect against the employees contrary to the basic rate agreement, the men declare.

BROOKLYN PILOT SUSPENDED

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. (AP) — Manager Max Carey and Catcher Al. Lopez of Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday were suspended for three days by President John Heydler of the National Baseball League for their run-in with Umpire Ted McGrew in the second game of the doubleheader with Pittsburg Pirates at Ebbets Field Wednesday. Carey was also fined $50.

PREFERS ENGLAND U.S. MILLIONAIRE BECOMES CITIZEN

Renounces U.S. Citizenship to Become British Subject—Was Friend of Ex-President.

ALFRED CHESTER BEATTY
Likes England better than U.S.

By CHARLES A. SMITH
Central Press Canadian Writer

LONDON, Aug. 18. — Reversing the usual order of things, Alfred Chester Beatty, millionaire New York mining magnate, art connoisseur and close friend of ex-President Herbert Hoover, has decided to become a British subject.

By way of explaining this unusual step Beatty says he has lived mainly in England for the past 25 years, that most of his friends and business associates are this side of the Atlantic, and that his son was educated in England and has married an English girl.

"I know it is rather rare for an American to become an Englishman, but I have taken root here," Beatty said. "I am very happy in England and I think I'll lay my old bones to rest here.

"I shall maintain my interest in America. I shall retain all my company directorships there, but I have been 25 years in England, and I really have grown to love the place. Perhaps my conversion might have been easier to understand before prohibition was repealed, but that has nothing to do with it."

Beatty who maintains palatial houses in London, in Kent county, England, and in Cairo, Egypt, has a business office on Broadway, New York. At his Kent county home Beatty has a famous collection of oriental and western manuscripts, some of which brought in $150,000 when sold recently. In addition he and his wife collect paintings, snuff boxes and other art objects.

Police Court

A local man made a lengthy speech in Police Court to-day to explain how it was that he could not possibly have been intoxicated early this morning outside a home in Ashburnham, as charged. He stated that his woman friend had left him and gone to the house over the river. Some hours later he went to the house and demanded that she return to him. It was then that the man of the house hit him "a sock on the head." It wasn't liquor; it was the blow that made him groggy, he said. He pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Police explained that the accused was creating a loud disturbance about the house, banging on windows and doors and shouting. Witnesses were not in court, so the accused was remanded until Monday.

Stability

A watchword that has brought 86 years of progress to the CANADA LIFE

Stability in a life assurance company is a result of a far sighted investment policy. This demands a balanced distribution of assets. The list below shows how successfully the Canada Life has applied this vital principle.

Friends of the Family

LOOK at the packages on your pantry and bathroom shelves, and see what a multitude of brand names you recognize. Some of them have been familiar for years. You may have made the acquaintance of others only a few weeks ago. But even these are not suspected strangers. You have bought them confidently because they were advertised. And it is the same with your sheets and towels, your shoes and clothes, your electric appliances, the car in your garage—nearly everything you use.

Advertised products have a standing that commands respect. They are not nameless, but vouched for by responsible firms. The fact that they are advertised is in itself an indication that their standards of quality are strictly maintained, that they represent honest value

As science and discovery go on, newly developed products are constantly being advertised—ready to help you save money and improve your standard of living. Every advertisement of such a product you read in your daily paper is a letter of introduction to a new and possibly useful friend.

It will pay you to read the advertisements in this paper every day. By so doing you will meet many choice products—worthy to become friends of the family.

gate with a view to criminal proceedings. The Children's Fund, established in 1928 by the Senator, has an endowment of $10,000,000, the income of which is to be spent solely for crippled children of the State.

The Trust Company, said the Senator, sold the fund $300,000 worth of "participation certificates" based on real estate mortgages, but pleaded a temporary stringency of funds when payment became due and asked the Fund management to take "certificates of deposit" instead.

He said the certificates had no collateral security behind them and only $100 000 was cashed by the Fund. The remainder, he said, was obtained before the Trust Company closed and he said he counted the $200,000 "as practically a total loss."

Criminal Offense

"Why," exclaimed the Senator, "the Union Guardian Trust Co. accepted deposits for 20 days after its officials knew it was insolvent. It is my understanding that that is a criminal offense."

Turning to the First National Bank, Detroit, Couzens read from a memo which he said had been taken from the bank's books, and declared on the day the bank closed its books showed more than $6,000,000 loaned directly to directors; loans of more than $2,500,000 on which directors had signed as endorsers; loans totalling more than $1,400,000 to employees, and loans totalling more than $11,400,000 to corporations in which directors of the bank were interested.

"The total of these loans—$22,190,000—will be lost to a very great extent due to the poor judgment of Federal bank examiners" he said.

Professor Worley of Auckland University College, New Zealand, in discussing the disastrous effects of forests on clearing the land for agriculture, pointed out that in many cases the resulting soil had a surprisingly low fertility, considering the luxuriant growth it supported. The fertility of a forest soil, as such, is little or no indication of its value for agricultural purposes, he said.

In the inspection of this year's Ontario apple crop for export, the Dominion and the Provincial Fruit Branches and the Dominion Entomological Branch are working in co-operation.

being questioned in the inquiry into the slaying of Dr. Gaines. She told police she was with the wealthy sportsman and painless practitioner all but 10 minutes of the last two hours of his life. A few hours earlier he had been with another woman on a boating trip, another woman on a boating trip.

Found By His Wife

It was a third woman, however who, awakened by shots, found him dying. That was his wife.

A woman, too, is involved in the triple murder mystery of Grundry, Va. Officers said she admitted having been in the car when the men were shot.

Fear of a woman has been given by Mark H. Shank as the reason for the murder of four members of a family near Malvern, Ark. The woman, Shank said, had been "running around" with Alvin Colley, and had demanded a sum of money under threat of telling Akron, O., authorities some things Shank didn't want them to know. So, he confessed, he figured to kill Colley to keep the woman from talking. Colley, his wife and two Colley children died from the poisoned grape juice.

DIES UNDER TRAIN

TORONTO — Believed to have slipped as he attempted to board a Canadian National Railway freight at the Don station early today an unidentified transient was killed when the wheels of the cars passed over his body. The first inkling of the tragedy was a shout which attracted the attention of Bruce Richardson of Allandale, riding in the caboose. He signalled for a stop and investigation revealed the body, terribly mangled, beneath the train.

Specialist tells what to do

Any woman can now prevent her skin from looking shiny and glistening by simply blending a teaspoonful of Mousse of Cream in her favourite face powder. In Poudre Tokalon the Mousse of Cream is scientifically blended with fine, soft, air-floated powder, by patented process. It stays on four times as long as ordinary face powder.

Thus, Poudre Tokalon will enable any woman to keep her complexion fresh and lovely—without the slightest trace of shine—all through a whole evening while dancing in the hottest ballroom, or while exposed to windy or rainy weather. Apply Poudre Tokalon to-day and worry no more about those 3 places where skin usually shines.

Tokalon for sale at Drug and Dept. Stores. NEW REDUCED PRICES—Rose Skinfood 35¢, White Skinfood 30¢, Vanishing Cream 25¢, Powder 35¢.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Renewal of confidence of buyers asserted itself in giant fashion on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday, and whirled all grain values skyward.

In excited dealings, wheat ran wildly through almost the entire 10-cent range of prices permitted for a single day, and just before trading was ended reached an apex 9¾c up from early bottom figures. Corn, oats, rye and barley advances went to the full extent allowed under emergency rules, and established net gains of 3c to 5c a bushel.

Removal of all grain trade restrictions except a maximum 5-cent line, up or down from the previous day's close appeared to be the spark which set the grain markets afire. Complete reversal of sentiment among traders developed first in the corn crowd, but spread quickly to other grains, wheat last of all.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, August 18. — Bolstered by a renewal of export buying and a spectacular upswing at Chicago, wheat prices climbed out of the rut on the Grain Exchange yesterday. Shaking off the shackles of "pegged" prices, values closed 2¾c to 3½c above Wednesday's close.

Further strengthened by strong Liverpool cables, prices were firm all morning, to close at 72⅞c for the October option, December at 74⅝c and May delivery at 79¾c. All options shared in the trading which was on a good scale for the first hour or so. At the high points the market was 4c up.

Russia cleared her first wheat shipments of the season totalling 248,000 bushels from Black Sea ports. Argentine wheat shipments for this week are expected to total 3,307,000 bushels, compared with 4,860,000 last week.

Top grades of cash grains were in better demand, and spreads were improved about ¼c. All coarse grains rose under buying that appeared to be entirely of a speculative nature, the bulk of which was credited to houses with Southern connections.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, August 18. — With the exception of the egg market, which advanced substantially, prices on the Montreal Dairy and Produce Markets were unchanged from Wednesday's final quotations yesterday. Graded shipments in carlots or less of extra eggs sold for 20c to 21c a dozen, firsts for 16c to 17c, and seconds for 13c to 14. Receipts continued light, only 654 cases being received.

Wholesale butter prices remained steady at 18½c to 18¾c a pound for No. 1 grade in carlots or less. Arrivals amounted to only 13 boxes.

On the cheese market, Ontario white and colored held firm at 10c to 10¼c a pound, with Quebec white and colored at the usual ¼c less. Receipts were 1,258 boxes.

New Quebec potatoes sold for 80c to 90c per 80-pound bag. Old potatoes were practically off the market.

W. I. SEWING CIRCLE PROVING POPULAR

Over 24 Members Have Enrolled Under Instructress at Millbrook.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, August 18 — The sewing class sponsored by the Women's Institute, conducted with marked success last week, under the direction of Miss Petty of Toronto, who is the instructress sent out by the Department of Agriculture.

Over twenty members have been enrolled, and the classes which begin at nine a.m. and close at four p.m., are held in the concert room of the town hall, visitors being welcome particularly members of the W.I. Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, of the Millbrook branch, has had charge of the arrangements for the class, and is present practically every day, while the president, Mrs. J. L. Byam has also shown her interest by being in attendance when possible.

Miss Petty not only gives the girls individual help with patterns, cutting out, making of dresses, etc., each providing her own materials, and the pattern chosen for the garment, but also demonstrates button-hole making, the proper way of putting a collar on a dress, and many other details necessary for the skilled seamstress to know.

Those taking the course include: Mrs. R. Guthrie, Mrs. J. W. Hilton, Mrs. Mervan Kinsman, Mrs. Austin Sutton, Mrs. George Pallis, Mrs. Lawrence Olan, Misses Mary Ball, Muriel and Ruth Ball, Vera Armstrong, Vera Olan, Bernice Smith, Phyllis Armstrong, Margaret Smith, May Challice, Marian Belch, Marjorie Bristow, Marian O'Brian, Ruby Pallis, Verna Pallis, Jean and Ethel Belch, and Mrs. Melville Ball.

Miss Petty and her class were among the guests specially invited to the Institute picnic held at the home of Mrs. Byam on Monday afternoon, and the local branch will look after some particular feature to mark the closing on Friday when the class is finally dismissed.

Obituary

MRS. LEONARD C. McNEIL.

MILLBROOK, Aug. 18.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral of Mrs. Leonard Charles McNeil took place from the family homestead, Eighth line, Cavan, on Monday, at 2 p.m., and was one of the most largely attended ever seen in the township.

Deceased was born on the homestead, Ida, thirty-six years ago and was the daughter of Joseph F. Staples, now of Springville, and the late Mrs. Staples, whose maiden name was Margaret Howden. Nine years ago Luella Pearl Staples and Leonard Charles McNeil were united in marriage, the wedding, which took place in the United Church at Fairmount, marking the union of members of two pioneer families of Cavan, whose names have been well known and intimately connected with the history of the township over a long period of years.

Brought up in the former Methodist Church, Mrs. McNeil, since her marriage, had joined her husband as a member of St. John's Anglican Church, Ida, and was as active in the Women's Auxiliary and other organizations as health would permit. For some time she had not been in good health, and in spite of all that careful attention from relatives and skilled medical and nursing care could do, death ensued somewhat suddenly on Saturday, August 12, in the early morning.

The immediate surviving relatives include, besides her father, the bereaved husband, one daughter, Margaret, who is in her fifth year, one sister, Miss Helen Staples, of Peterborough, and one brother, S. S. Staples, ex-M.P.P. of Cavan. Two sisters were previously deceased, Mildred, who died at the age of nine years, and a baby of ten months, Margaret Josephine.

The Rev. William Simpson, B.A., rector of the parish of Cavan, conducted the funeral service, the attendance being representative of the wide connection of the Staples and McNeil families from Toronto and many intervening points, as well as neighbors and friends of the entire countryside. The pallbearers were eight in number and included Russell Earle, Lloyd and Cecil Sutton, Merton Story, of Oshawa; Leonard McNeil, of Janetville; Jack Armstrong, Charlie McNeil, of Janetville, and L. W. Smith, Millbrook.

Among the many beautiful floral tributes were wreaths from the W. A. of St. John's Church, Ida; the Cavan branch of the Women's Institute, and the Canadian Girls in Training group of Springville, of which Miss Helen Staples is the leader. During the funeral service Mrs. (Prof.) Mars Westington, of Chicago, sang very beautifully, "Lead Kindly Light." Interment was in the family burial plot at the St. John's Church cemetery.

Liberals both of them; half a dozen journalists, English, Spanish and American; a famous Dutch motion picture director; two Soviet diplomats returning from the London conference; two German Communist members of the Reichstag; a Japanese doctor who has travelled around the world to enter the Soviet Union from the European side as direct entry from Japan into the U.S.S.R. is forbidden, and furthermore a number of British pedagogs, social workers, trade union officials and a couple of American millionaires with their wives, ladies who glitter with diamonds at dinner time and who must feel like fish out of water among all these proletarians.

The Canadian contingent to this international medley is made up of four workers from Vancouver and one musician from Hamilton. The Smolny carries full passenger list as well as a load of electrical machinery manufactured by Metropolitan-Vickers, the firm which recently had the trouble with its engineers in the U.S.S.R.

Mate is Beautiful Girl.

There are three classes of travel, first, tourist and third. But the salons, smoking-room, library and music-room are open to all. The crew is clothed in uniforms without marks of rank. The mate is a beautiful blonde girl, who wears a becoming blue jacket. She is an unusual but highly picturesque ornament of the bridge. We have become fast friends, the mate and I, and I have learned from her how girls are trained as well as boys in the naval academy of Leningrad. Incidentally she speaks the language of every country on the Baltic Sea plus English.

It goes without saying where a gathering of Russians is concerned we have a lot of dancing and singing going on board. There is a fine balalaika orchestra composed of members of the crew and even Barbusse, who is a most discriminating aesthete and critic, sits enraptured as the Russian girls execute those dances of amazing agility and graceful beauty.

A strange ship—a university almost! One of the stewards is running a class in Russian for passengers who wish to brush up on that language before entering the Soviet Union. A strange ship this Smolny, but a ship that is surely well-named. For it was in the Smolny Institute of old Petrograd, a boarding school for the daughters of the nobility, that the first Soviet congress assembled at the moment when the streets of the city resounded with the thunder of cannon and the rattle of machine guns. In Smolny the soldiers and peasant delegates talked, they sweated, they debated for days and nights, they wrestled with the staggering problems confronting the young Soviet republic. They talked, it is said, till the steam of their bodies arose like a cloud before the speaker's rostrum.

Many Arguments.

We on the good ship Smolny don't steam yet, fortunately, but we are running the historic Smolny a close race for talking. The steam is lacking, but the sparks are flying in cascades all right. A debate between the two British members of Parliament and the chief of the Soviet state export trust on questions such as dumping by Japan, the U.S.A., Canada and the U.S.S.R. waxed rather hot and furious at some moments. I think the Britons retired morally convinced that they had proved, to their own satisfaction that is, that Soviet Russia is as much a capitalist country as all the others. They may change their opinion a few days hence in Russia. Time does wonders and travel does broaden the mind.

There was some anxiety among the German passengers whether the Nazi maritime authorities at the entrance of the Kiel Canal would demand inspection of the list of passengers with the object of taking German subjects off the boat, since travel by Germans to the Soviet Union is forbidden as well as the reading of books describing conditions in Russia. Nothing happened, however. The pilot came on board and there was no other contact with the German land. The Nazis are cooling down a bit, it seems in their anti-foreign zeal, especially in the case of Russians, that is to say with people who take 80 per cent. of the total German foreign export.

Yet one incident might be recorded here. We passed through the Kiel Canal during the morning hours. Thousands of German workmen had assembled along the water-side to see the Leningrad liner pass by. They were quite close to us on the lower deck, within easy speaking distance in fact. I am told that this assembling on the quays has become a regular custom in German ports when a Soviet ship docks or passes through.

As the Smolny finished the international canal and passed into the open sea, the red flag slowly climbed into the mast and from the shore came like a clap of thunder the massed voices of all those unemployed stevedores: "Rot Front!" (Red Front). I tell you the Nazi officials looked quite uncomfortable that moment.

Active, energetic children . . . forever on the go. They agree on Kellogg's PEP Bran Flakes. Always crisp and full of flavor. Delicious with healthful milk or cream.

The flavor of Pep is famous. Toasted wheat is easy to digest. Nourishing. Plus enough bran to be mildly laxative.

Buy these better bran flakes from your grocer. Enjoy PEP often. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Weddings

LEAHY—MURRAY.

DOWNEYVILLE, Aug. 18.—(Examiner Correspondence).—On Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Luke's Church, Downeyville, by Rev. Father McFadden, when Anna Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bern Murray, of Lindsay, formerly of Downeyville, was united in marriage to Mr. Martin Leahy, of Douro, son of the late John Leahy and Mrs. Leahy, of Douro. The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a gown of maize triple-sheer georgette with a white picture hat of transparent mohair, white shoes and gloves, and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and baby's breath. Miss Kathleen Lucas, R.N., of Rochester, N. Y., was her cousin's bridesmaid, and wore a dress of flowered chiffon, with white hat and shoes, and carried butterfly roses. The groom was ably assisted by his cousin, Mr. Patrick Shine, of Downeyville. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful three-strand pearl necklace; to the bridesmaid, a pearl bar-pin, and to the best man, white gold cuff-links.

After the ceremony a dinner was served at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Fergus Murray, where about forty friends and relatives spent a very enjoyable day. Rev. Father McFadden, parish priest; Father McCarney, of Lindsay, and Father Scully, of Cleveland, Ohio, were among the guests present.

Mr. Leahy and his bride left on the 3.15 train for Toronto and points west, the bride travelling in a smart ensemble of poudre blue, with elbow trimming of grey fur, a grey felt hat, grey purse, gloves and shoes. On their return they will reside in Douro.

DEAD HOMING PIGEON.

Run over by a car, a dead homing pigeon, was found by two small boys on Monaghan Road yesterday afternoon. The boys, Tom McDonald and Bobby Frances, brought the leg rings into The Examiner Office to-day. The markings on the rings were as follows: Ottawa R. P.C.-E. 3073—'33 (aluminum ring); K-225, on outside of rubber band, and the numerals 136, on the inner side.

FLOATING ISLANDS

The floating island in Loch Lomond, may be the pride of the Scotsman, but summer residents at Chemong have their own floating islands.

A number of these "floating islands" (huge chunks of marshland that have become detached from the mainland at some point up the lakes), floated down into Chemong Lake yesterday afternoon and piled up at the floating bridge.

The government tug 'The Bessie Butler' manned by members of the Trent Canal staff had to be called out to clear the debris. The long trip from the "Bessie Butler's" base to Chemong Lake was made by way of Curve Lake.

CAUGHT 'LUNGE SECURELY

A summer resident at Chemong, Moore was fishing in Chemong Lake recently, when he caught a 6-pound maskinonge which was hooked in three places besides having the line tightly wound around its neck—if that part of the fish's head which adjoins the body can be termed a neck. One of the plug hooks was caught in the mouth of the fish, another hook was clamped into an eye, and the third hook was deeply embedded in one of the gills.

Obituary

HENRY LAIDLEY

OMEMEE, Aug. 18. (Examiner Correspondence)—The death occurred on Thursday, August 17th, of one of the oldest citizens of this village in the person of Henry Laidley.

The funeral service will be held at his residence, Sturgeon Point, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 19th.

Interment to be made in Emily cemetery.

MRS. F. HECTOR STENTON

The death of Mrs. F. Hector Stenton of London, Ontario, occurred after a short illness in the city yesterday. She was here on a visit with a sister-in-law, Mrs. Alex Long, 107 Gladstone avenue.

Mrs. Stenton was formerly Mary Bell Carley, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Carley, Smith Falls. Her husband was a former resident of Peterborough. She had resided in London 23 years.

Her husband and one daughter, Phyllis Maureen Stenton, living at home in London, survive. One brother, Horace Carley, Brockville, and two sisters, Mrs. H. T. Smith, Ottawa, and Mrs. H. Y. Knox, Winnipeg, also remain.

Interment will take place in Little Lake Cemetery. The funeral will be conducted from the funeral home of A. Comstock and Sons Saturday at 2 p.m.; Rev. William McDonald of Knox United Church officiating.

ROBERT DANIEL TAYLOR.

The death of Robert Daniel Taylor, 13 years of age, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Taylor, 225 George street, occurred in St. Joseph's Hospital this morning. He had been ill for about six months.

He was a pupil at the Prince of Wales School and a member of the Salvation Army, serving in the Salvation Army Band. He was also a member of the local juvenile lodge of the Orange Order.

The funeral will be held from the family residence to Little Lake Cemetery at 2.30 p.m. next Monday afternoon. Major Woolcott and Rev. J. D. Patterson will officiate at the services.

Elora Barn Is Burned Following Explosion

ELORA, Ont., Oug. 18 (CP)—An explosion, believed from a bomb, to-day destroyed the barns, crops and farm implements of Joseph Cavazin, Italian farmer in the east end of Elora.

One man is being sought by police following reports from neighbors that a man was seen running toward the railway station immediately after the blast.

Falling rain prevented the flames, which followed the explosion, from spreading to the home and other farm buildings.

As a rule in protesting roses during the winter, the roots do not get enough shelter from the soil. The roots should be well earthed up.

Will Release Gandhi If He Quit Campaign

POONA, India, August 18 (C.P.)—As Mohandas K. Gandhi entered the third day of his "fast until death," the Government of India announced to-day it was prepared to liberate him if he abandoned civil disobedience.

The little Nationalist began to show signs of weakness, although his voice remained strong. Reports from Yeroda Jail, where he is serving one year for his disobedeince campaign, were that he had started saving his strength by staying in bed, attended only by his secretary.

A Government communique said the administration was satisfied that the facilities alowed the Nationalist leader were ample to enable him to conduct such work in behalf of the untouchables as was reasonable under the circumstances.

Your Health

by DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Everyone who goes in bathing—in ocean, lake or river—this summer, should be to some extent his own life guard. To the extent, at least, that he knows the proper procedure to resuscitate a drowned or partially drowned person.

Dr. Clendenins

Death from drowning is not due, as is widely supposed, to getting water in the lungs. Death is due to reflex paralysis of the respiratory center of the central nervous system, due to the shock of water entering the lungs. A very little water may do this under some circumstances—as when the water is very cold. And under other circumstances a great deal of water may enter the lungs without causing death, or even unconsciousness.

The important thing is not to try to get the water out of a drowned person by rolling on a barrel or some similar procedure. If there is water in the lungs or stomach, it will either be absorbed or evacuated by the procedure about to be described.

To resuscitate a drowned person, the first step is to begin artificial respiration and to do it quickly. Don't wait to loosen the clothes or to get the victim to a grassy spot, or to make any attempts at drying. Start getting air in and out of the lungs immediately, and keep it up.

The only good way to perform artificial respiration is the so-called prone-pressure method. Most people, when called on to do artificial respiration, still instinctively put the patient on the back and begin to pump the arms up and down. But it is a poor method. The greatest disadvantage of this method for drowned persons is that with the patient on the back there is little chance to drain out the water. Another and greater objection is that the maximum income and outgo of air is not obtained.

The prone pressure method of artificial respiration is performed as follows:

The patient is put upon the ground, face downward, i.e., in the prone position. A folded garment is adjusted below his epigastric region in such a way that this part of the body is slightly elevated upon a firm basis. The operator then assumes the knee position at the side of the patient, facing his head, and places the palms of his hands against the lower regions of the chest. The arms are held rather straight. At a given moment the operator permits the weight of his body to rest gently upon his arms, thereby exerting a certain pressure upon the thorax of the subject. After two seconds he again assumes a more erect position and permits the thorax to expand by elastic recoil. This procedure is repeated 15 to 18 times to the minute. It has been proved by means of the recording spirometer, that even a very moderate compression of the chest moves at least 500 cc of air; hence, the required quantity of air can readily be supplied by about 15 compressions per minute.

AUTUMN FASHIONS REACH THEIR PEAK IN MILADY'S CHAPEAUX

Hats Achieve New Highs in Newest Paris Models

(By Mme Lisbeth)

You've heard of the very peak of fashion? Well, the new hats have it or have reached it—as you choose.

In this they have joined the shoulder brigade, which is wholly on the square and inclines to pointed remarks—a frequent combination in square shooters, at least as depicted in novels and on the stage.

The newest in headdresses are inspired by China, Roman gladiators, Mexico, coxcombs, and various other people, things and places. They also still have a tendency to sit down in front, covering one eye, and apparently about to land on your nose. But they seem to be designed more to stay put on the head, especially behind, where they fit snugly over the hair.

For the last of the summer season as well as for the first autumn days, satin is a good choice for a chapeau.

The beret—which, like Banquo's ghost, will not down—is shown in many new forms this season. At the left a new beret of stitched black satin is pictured, showing the exaggerated point over the right eye. The chic roll of the brim and the perky ends, are all part of the latest style picture.

Inset below is a favorite type of turban for both maid and matron. It also is black satin, elaborately embroidered in black satin rat-tail braid. These charming little hats are appropriate for so many different occasions and always becoming.

Grandmother's afghan, with its crocheted design of many colored field flowers, furnishes the motif for the appealing ensemble of hat, cape and gloves, worn by Marion Davies, center. You realize of course, by this time, that it's ultra smart to add a touch of quaintness to your costume.

Twisted satin cords spiraled on a net foundation make the dinner turban, next. A veil adds to the alluring effect of this model.

The inset below is a felt, braided with satin rat-tail braid in tricorne shape. No getting away from the popular tricorne in the hat styles. And this season the tricorne illustrates again the favor in which pointed effects are held.

Somewhat reminiscent of a jockey's cap is the final model, at the extreme right. It exposes the forehead, and yet manages almost to conceal the good right eye with its rakish point. It is worn with a black satin frock which is distinguished by a clever version of the sailor collar. The beret may be either of velvet or satin.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

REMEMBER THE LAW

Here is a good law to remember: When the assisting hand has equally good support for each of two declarations shown by partner, unless the declarer shows a preference for one of the makes, the same number of tricks will be won at the two.

Bidding went: West, 1-No Trump; East, 2-Hearts; West, 3-Hearts, there was no sense in jumping the bid, he wanted the full picture of his partner's hand; East, 4-Diamonds, to show that his hearts contained only 4 cards; West, knowing that the same number of tricks should be made at either make, bid 4-Hearts, ending bidding.

The opening lead was the 9 of clubs. Dummy won and the declarer had to guess whether he should lead high from dummy, and then finesse his J in case the Q failed to appear, or should lead low from dummy and finesse when he came back to dummy. Fortunately he led high from dummy, so that the Q appeared on the second lead of trumps. A third lead of trumps cleaned out opponents, leaving a single trump each side of the table.

Four rounds of winning diamonds followed. There was nothing of consequence left to the hand. Dummy took its good club. The declarer ruffed dummy's last club. At that point the declaring side had to give opponents 2 spade tricks. Dummy trumped the third lead of spades, giving the declarer 5-odd. The chief point of interest about the hand is that 5-odd would have been made at diamonds, had that suit become the trump, and provided hearts were played in the same way, so as to capture the missing Q. Five-odd at hearts scored 150 points, while 5-odd at diamonds would have yielded 50 points less.

Youthful Fall Coat

By MME. LISBETH

Youthful lines are what milady likes in her everyday or sports clothes.

This belted travel coat of brown and beige check tweed has 'em. The Peter Pan collar tied in front with a bow of the coat material, is beaver, and so are the large cuffs.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

A young musical comedy star who is considered as versatile as she is lovely, told me the other day that she doesn't ever dare to let her skin become tanned. This lass is convinced that she'd look simply ghastly with dark skin, so she does everything she can to keep her skin its natural creamy-white hue. She protects her skin carefully from the sun's rays always. And in addition she uses a good skin bleach frequently, in order to remove any slight discolorations.

There are many girls who desire to keep fair of face during the summer time, without foregoing the delights of the summer sports. And while most of them are wise enough to employ protective measures, some find that their skins become darker despite this fact.

The best course for any girl who wishes to retain her fair complexion throughout the summer season, is to follow the example of the star of whom I spoke above. In other words, in addition to employing protective measures, she should administer bleaching treatments to her skin, in order to remove any slight tanning effects that the sun's rays might have.

You have to be careful, however, about using bleaches during the summer months. The skin is inclined to be tender and easily irritated during this season. Most bleaches, because of the nature of their ingredients, tend to dry the skin, and remove the natural oil from it. And consequently, it is usually advisable to apply a bit of cold cream to the skin after the use of a bleach.

Recently, however, I've learned of a new way of utilizing peroxide for bleaching the skin. The peroxide is incorporated with lubricating substances, and therefore does not dry the skin excessively. To make this bleach, mix 30 grams of lanolin with 10 grams of sweet almond oil. Then combine one part of borax, 15 parts of glycerine and 15 parts of hydrogen peroxide, and slowly blend this mixture in with the lanolin and sweet almond oil. Blend the ingredients together thoroughly, and stir the mixture until it is of a smooth, creamy consistency. This bleach is especially effective for use on delicate, sensitive skin, and on dry skin that does not react satisfactorily to the ordinary stronger bleaches.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Skin Peeling

Rachel: Correct cleansing methods, the use of the astringent, and frequent egg packs will eventually remedy those skin blemishes. Skin peeling is done by skin specialists. Prices vary.

Face

Miss D. and Ruth R.: You may try the solution you refer to on your face, but if it proves the least bit irritating, stop using it. The frequent use of astringents should correct the condition you complain of.

Cosmetics

Tess: I think that a soft peach shade of powder, soft orange rouge and light lipstick would blend harmoniously with your coloring.

PEPPER RELISH

2 cups (14 oz.) prepared pepper.
6½ cups (2¾ lbs.) sugar.
1½ cups cider vinegar.
1 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare peppers, cut open about 1 dozen medium size peppers and discard seeds. For best color, use equal amounts green and red sweet peppers. Put through food chopper twice, using finest knife. Drain pulp in sieve.

Measure vinegar into large kettle. Add prepared pepper, packing it solidly into cup until juice comes to top. Mix well and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 2 minutes. Remove from fire and stir in pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just five minutes to cool slightly to preevnt floating pulp. Pour quickly and seal at once with paraffin. Makes 9 eight ounce jars.

BEET RELISH

2 cups (14 oz.) prepared beets.
6½ cups (2¾ lbs.) sugar).
1½ cups cider vinegar.
1 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare beets, cook about 1¾ pounds beets, slip off the skins, and grind. Follow directions as for pepper relish given above.

Fast of 48 Hours Tells On Gandhi

POONA, India, August 18 (C.P.).—After 48 hours of his threatened fast until death, Mohandas K. Gandhi to-day began to show signs of weakness, although his voice was still strong.

Reports from Yeroda Jail, wherein the Radical is serving a one-year sentence in connection with a disobedience campaign, said he has already started conserving his energies by remaining in bed, attended only by his secretary.

The Governments of India and Bombay and the British Secretary of State for India, meanwhile continued efforts to get him to break the fast, although it was considered improbable that the Bombay administration would extend privileges already offered to Gandhi.

The Legislative Council was told today that Gandhi was still fasting. A spokesman said he had no knowledge of any suggestion that forcible feeding was to be employed.

Garden Scallop—Six small onions, two cups cooked diced carrots, two cups cooked string beans, one cup cooked celery, two cups cream sauce, grated cheese, bread crumbs. Cook onions in boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Put with remaining vegetables into a greased baking dish. Pour white sauce over the vegetables, sprinkle thickly with bread crumbs and grated cheese. Dot butter over the top and bake in a moderate oven, 375 degrees Fahrenheit until brown.

Vanilla Ice Cream—Two-thirds cup condensed milk, one-half cup water, one and one-half teaspoons vanilla, one cup whipping cream. Combine condensed milk, water and vanilla, mixing them thoroughly. Chill. Whip cream to custard-like consistency and fold into chilled mixture. Pour into freezing pans and freeze to a stiff mush, one to two hours. Remove from refrigerator, scrape mixture from the bottom and sides of the pan. Beat two minutes. Smooth out and return to freezing unit to complete freezing. This amount serves six

Sense and Nonsense

Seventeen-year-old Rochelle Hudson appears before a Los Angeles judge today and asks him to approve the second long-term contract she has won in her brief career.

Rochelle Hudson

Signing now with Fox after RKO failed to take up her option, Rochelle proves once more that failure at one studio needn't discourage any young player.

At RKO, for instance, Rochelle played only ingenue leads. Her first assignment under her new contract, and this shows the measure of her success, will be a full-fledged feminine lead in 'Odd Thursdays." And she gets to play opposite Fox's romantic ace, Warner Baxter.

Of course, she didn't just step right into this. Fox tried her out as an ingenue in Will Rogers' picture, "Doctor Bull." Then they gave her a sophisticated role in "Walls of Gold." It was the rushes from this picture that brought the long-term offer.

Walter Ramsey, the fan magazine writer, tells the one about the two old maids who were knitting in the sunny garden of a New York asylum.

Suddenly one of them threw down her work. "Heavens!" she exclaimed. "I wish some handsome man like James Cagney would rush in here, throw his arms around me and kiss me!"

Knitting away, her companion said: "Now you're talking sense. In six months you'll be out of here."

Cedric Hardwicke, celebrated English actor and screen star who played the part of Captain Dreyfus in Columbia's sensational melodrama, "The Dreyfus Case", has been engaged for a featured role in "The Lady is Willing", which the company is making in England under the personal supervision of Harry Cohn, president of Columbia. Leslie Howard has the male lead, with Binnie Barnes, one of the most popular stage and screen actresses in England, playing opposite him. Gilbert Miller, New York and London theatrical producer is directing.

Described by George Bernard Shaw as one of England's three finest actors, Cedric Hardwicke has gained international fame for his wonderful characterizations. Among his great portrayals was as Edward Moulton-Barrett in "The Barrets of Wimpole Street' acclaimed by critics as one of the finest character studies ever seen on the English language stage.

Slim Summerville and ZaSu Pitts are back in town. This delightful comedy pair play Friday and Saturday at the Capitol Theatre in "Her First Mate, their latest co-starring vehicle.

Summerville and Miss Pitts are presented as a married couple living in a 'hick' town on the shore of Long Island Sound, with the husband dreaming of a career as captain of an ocean-going freighter—and working in a menial position on an Albany River night boat. The fun begins in real earnest when his wife, in an attempt to satisfy his longing, secretly spends their entire joint savings to buy for him the little ferry boat which operates out of their town, notwithstanding the fact that the ambitious Slim regards the ram shackle tub with lofty contempt.

Vacation season is visiting season, since there is time permitted to be away from business without interfering with its right progress.

* * * * * * *

Families have the opportunity to gather their friends about them, a visitor or two at a time, and enjoy their companionship, and take up the dropped threads of common interest which distance severs.

* * * * * * *

The guests are even more fortunate since to them the pleasure is minus the extra work which must be involved to some extent, however short their stay. It is the renewal of the warm bonds of sympathetic companionship in each instance which is the joy.

* * * * * * *

But there must be a reciprocity in tactful actions to promote comfort.

* * * * * * *

The family who would have its guests feel at ease should beware of having disputes, or heated arguments among its members. It is most distressing to be present when these things happen.

* * * * * *

It may be that the family is so strong that the members can argue things out in a heated way without interfering in the least with the permanent happiness.

* * * * * * *

* * * * * * *

It is almost as disturbing to have veiled references made to past events which were unpleasant. A certain hush greets such remarks, or an angry expression sweeps the face of someone, and harmless as the remark may be in itself, there is an awkward moment for the guest.

* * * * * * *

The conversation should be kept pleasant, and impersonal, except when the visitor also knows the people mentioned, and is glad to have some news of them.

* * * * * * *

It is the part of a guest to absent himself or herself when trouble seems to be brewing, and surely when heated arguments are thoroughly launched.

* * * * * * *

Usually it is not difficult to slip out of the room, for those who are in the midst of a disagreement are apt to be unaware of what is going on. Both are too busy trying to impress the others and their own correctness and accurate memories to note unobtrusive actions of others.

* * * * * * *

If it is impossible to absent herself, a guest should avoid entering into the debates. She will be sure to rouse indignation against herself, without smoothing the troubled waters.

* * * * * * *

Her tact will not fail to be appreciated, if she remains silent, and especially if she appears disinterested. It will be even more appreciated if she succeeds in slipping out, and refrains from mentioning the occurrence.

* * * * * * *

Both visitors and guests can promote mutual comfort and pleasure if they will exert just a little care in these matters.

2 Barns Are Razed During London Storm

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 18 (C.P.)—Two barns on farms in McGillivray and West Nissouri townships were in ruins to-day—mute evidence of a severe electric storm which descended upon this district last night. Farmers in South Huron and North Middlesex countries also suffered loss of buildings as lightning, accompanied by heavy rain and hail, struck that area.

Interruptions in Hydro and telephone service were experienced around the Parkhill and Ailsa Craig districts, burned out switches and transformers causing the inconvenience.

Two barns on a London township farm were also fired, but threshing operations and not the storm were blamed for the damage.

BIRTH CONTROL IS NO SOLUTION JAPAN'S POPULATION PROBLEM

Nippon Professor Points Out Working Class of Next 20 Years Already Born.

MUST FIND WORK.

BANFF, Alta., Aug. 18 (CP) — Japan's population problem cannot be solved by decreases in the birth rate or by birth control, according to information presented to-day before the Institute of Pacific Relations, in a paper by Professor Teijiro Uyeda, of the Tokyo University of Commerce.

Merely considering the constitution of the present population of Japan, Prof. Uyeda declared, the groups constituting the working population will expand rapidly during the next 20 years. "The number of the working population in 1950 will be larger than that of 1930 by 10,000,000.

Additional employment must be provided for at least half the number of this increase or 200,000 persons every year. Birth control will not solve this problem because the future working population of the next 20 years is already born."

Gravity of the problem facing Japan and the world after the next 20 years can hardly be over-estimated, said the professor. "Social unrest which has come to play such an important role in Japan is mainly due to this disparity between population and gainful employment. To bottle up a growing nation, such as the Japanese, in narrow islands is not only unreasonable, but also courts danger for the world."

Professor Uyeda, however, sees a distinct easing of the situation. He established the point that the main population problem in Japan is not one of the total increase but one of the increase in the numbers in the age groups from 18 to 40. These able-bodied young men and women obviously must find useful employment and once this task is accomplished, voluntary restriction will solve the problem as it has in Great Britain and America.

Solitary bees occasionally cut holes in the canes of roses, lay an egg with some honey, and seal it up. The only control is to find the nest and destroy it.

SOVIET IS ANXIOUS TO SELL RAILWAY TO JAPANESE STATE

Would Dispose of Chinese Eastern Railway—Hundreds of Workers Killed by Bandits.

By LINTON WELLS
Central Press Canadian Writer

MOSCOW, Aug. 18 — Japanese, Manchukuan and Soviet conferees are squabbling vigorously in Tokio in an attempt to reach an agreement regarding the sale of Russia's share in the once efficiently operated and profitable Chinese eastern railway.

China, extremely annoyed, has asserted vociferously that the impending sale will constitute violation of treaty rights and agreements, and therefore will never be recognized by her. She insists upon observance of her prior rights to purchase the railway.

These protests the U.S.S. has calmly ignored: First, because China hasn't the money to buy Russia's joint interest in the road; second, because its sale to China would stir up a mare's nest and add to the Soviet's far eastern troubles; and third, because the railway has become a white elephant insofar as the U.S.S.R. is concerned.

What with the Soviet deficit mounting monthly, the wise men in Moscow can see little reason for holding a piece of property which is losing money daily, deteriorating rapidly, and unlikely ever to be permitted efficient operation while its Russian shares are owned by other than Japanese or Manchukuo interests. And, besides, there is agreeable prospect of obtaining much needed "valuta" (foreign currency) in exchange for an unprofitable railway.

And what probably motivated the U.S.S.R. to accept with alacrity the Japanese offer to negotiate sale of the railway to Manchukuo was the report of the Soviet manager of the road, M. Roudy, just made public, which paints an illuminating picture of the deplorable state of affairs in Manchukuo.

After citing numerous instances of wrecked trackage and derailed trains, bandit raids, murders and kidnappings of railway employees, which he says are "increasing daily," M. Roudy predicts that "catastrophe is approaching." His report continues:

"During 1932 and up to June 5, 1933, the Chinese eastern suffered the following losses: 56 employees killed; 825 wounded and otherwise physically disabled; 595 kidnapped and held prisoner; more than 1,000 robbed of their property.

"During the same period there were wrecked 50 locomotives, 968 passenger coaches and 855 freight cars. Trackage was torn up at 53 places for a distance of more than 4,000 meters, while 124 buildings were totally demolished.

"Communication was interrupted 775 times covering 1,636 train-running days."

Sugar Bowl Wins Men's Softball Honors

BOWLMEN BEAT GROCERS 22-15 IN FINAL GAME

Veteran Moundsman, Bill Simmons, Pitches Great Ball in Relief Role.

HEAVY SLUGGING.

Both Teams Click in Neat Double Plays—Winners Overcome Harrison's Lead.

Sugar Bowl won the Men's City Softball League championship last night by taking the fourth playoff game from Harrison's, 22 to 15, at Central before some six hundred noisy fans. After spotting the Grocers a substantial lead early in the fray, the battling Bowlmen brought their bludgeons into action with a vengeance and pounded the pellet all over the grounds to gradually forge ahead, while the veteran Bill Simmons, in a relief role, was blanking the northenders.

Five pitchers were used, three by the winners. Neither Sturgeon nor Currie could stem the Harrison tide but the 69-year-old Simmons went in in the fourth and held them to three scattered hits and no runs the rest of the fixture by fine twirling and good support. Price hurled good ball for Harrison's till the sixth when he retired with a sore hand in favor of Elliott who was laced hard the rest of the way. Their support was a little shaky in spots.

Wild and Woolly Struggle

The game itself was a wild and woolly one with the outfielders being run ragged by the heavy hitting on both sides. Included in the thirty-eight bingles were five homers, three triples and six doubles. Smith and Sturgeon were the big Bowl fence-busters with five hits each in six appearances, Weir getting three. Poley and Dorrington led the losers with the willow, smashing out three safeties each. Both teams pulled neat double-plays. Crary starred for Harrison's in centre, while Price, Chambers and Dorrington went good also. For the Dormer crew, Smith, H. Dormer, Russell and Weese all handled some nifty ones.

Dormer's single, an error and Sturgeon's double sent in two for the Bowl in the first; but Harrison's shoved in four in their half on a walk, Ellis' single, doubles by Montgomery and Wilshaw, and a homer by Dorrington. They added five in the second on singles by Starr, Crary, Poley, Price, two walks and Chambers' two-baser. The Bowl got two in the third, a walk, error and singles by Smith and Sturgeon doing the trick. Two miscues, a walk, wild pitch and hits by Weese and Calladine gave them three more in the fourth.

Grocers Take Early Lead

Harrison's made it 15-7 in their half on two free bases, singles by Starr and Dorrington, and homers by Foley and Chambers. They did not get another run the rest of the game. A walk and hits by Weese, Smith and Weir gave the champs two in the fifth. They tied it up in the next on two walks, a balk, Playford's single, triples by Sturgeon and Weir, with Smith's mighty homer with the sacks loaded. Four more were chalked up in the seventh, a walk, singles by Smith, Sturgeon and Russell, and Dormer's double accounting for them. The last three came in the eighth, Calladine hoisting a homer to centre, Sturgeon tripling, and Weir and Russell coming through with singles.

Washington Deal For Gray Called

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (C.P.)—Sam Gray, veteran right-handed pitcher with St. Louis Browns, technically was a member of the league-leading Washington Senators for a few hours Thursday, but as far as the Senators were concerned he was again a member of the Browns today.

Clark Griffith, president of the Washington club, who is here with the team for the series with the White Sox, claimed Gray on waivers yesterday when he had been notified that all other clubs in the league, with prior call, had waived on the veteran.

Griffith said manager Joe Cronin of the Senators, when informed of the deal, reached Gray in St. Louis by telephone and discovered that he has been suffering from a sore arm.

Washington immediately cancelled the deal.

ALL-STAR "ACES" WIN EASILY 27-6

Five Keene Girls Form Nucleus of Winning Team in Exhibition.

Mike Latimer's All-Stars ran into tough opposition last night at the Bowl when they tangled with the "Aces", another pickup team which showed decided superiority in almost every department, to win by the one-sided count of 27 to 6.

The losers were at a disadvantage in so much as most of the girls were playing in positions where they had not performed before while the Aces with one exception were in their regular places. Five Keene girls formed the nucelus of the winning team which was rounded out by the addition of Rose Drimmie and Amelia Edwards from Sixth Line together with Marie Ferguson and Grace Hawks of the Westclox. The latter player played a sparkling game at second while Dot Gainor behind the bat snared every fly ball that was hit near her as well as nabbing several players who attempted to steal.

Mary McCarthy pitched the first four frames for the winners, showing speed and an improvement in control. She allowed three runs. Rose Drimmie took over the duties in the fifth and finished the game, dishing up a brand of ball that had the opposition guessing. She was nicked for three counters also.

Agnes Sturgeon started on the slab for the winners, tossing in a slow ball that baffled the aces during the early stages of the game but they soon got to her pushing eleven counters over in the third. Genevieve Mann finished the game, and except in two frames had the opposition under control. Dot Millar behind the bat made base stealing a risky practise, teaming up with her sister Mildred at second who had a flock of putouts.

The teams:

Gainor, c; R. Drimmie, cf, p; H. Nelson, ss; G. Hawkes, 2b; I. Aces — Marie Ferguson, 3b; D. Shortt, 1b; A. Edwards, rf, lf; V. Dixon, lf, rf; M. McCarthy, p, rf. All-Stars—G. Mortimer, 1b; D. TWO THOUSAND FANS EXPECTED TO SEE GAME WITH KINGSTON Calladine and Yammy Jamieson Will be Opposing Twirlers for Contest.

SHOULD BE GREAT BATTLE.

Arrangements have been made at Stevenson Park to handle the biggest baseball crowd in years tomorrow (Saturday), and close to two thousand city and district fans are expected, with smaller parties from Belleville and Kingston. It is the third game of the C.O.B.L. play-offs between Kingston and the Petes, and starts at three o'clock. Both teams have taken one victory to date. Next game is in Kingston on Wednesday, a fifth being played, if necessary, on Thursday or Friday on neutral territory.

Bill Calladine and Yammy Jamieson will be the opposing twirlers for this crucial contest, the same as the opening game. Bill outpitched Jamieson, who was replaced in the first game and the Petes easily copped it. However, Jamieson came right back to even the series in Peterborough, beating Knotty Lee's outfit handily. To-morrow's engagement is just a toss-up, much depending on the twirling.

The Petes will be in there fighting furiously, and the old rivalry existing between the two clubs will be at fever-pitch. Messrs. Compeau, Smith, Stone & Company will not go down without a battle, and fans are bound to see the scrappiest game of the year. It may be the last one here this season, and will be the last local appearance of the Ponies.

DARKNESS ENDS TORONTO GAME

Play is Called at End of Ninth With Leafs and Bears Tied 2 to 2.

WINGS TAKE DOUBLE.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer.)

A bit too late to do them much good, except perhaps to assure them of one of the major roles in the International League play-offs, Rochester Red Wings have begun one of their best winning streaks of the season.

The Red Wings, since the end of a disastrous series against league-leading Newark Bears a week ago, have ripped off seven victories in their last nine games to take a secure hold on second place and cut Newark's lead to seven games.

Wings Take Two.

With Tony Kaufman and Bill McAfee pitching good ball, the Wings took two games from last place Jersey City Skeeters yesterday, 5-4 and 5-0, while Newark fought a no decision battle in a twilight game at Toronto. Darkness halted the contest with the score tied 2-2 at the end of the ninth inning.

Jimmy Deshong and Orlin Collier took the leading roles in the Newark-Toronto duel, Deshong gave eight hits but was tight in all but two of the pinches. A wild pitch by him figured in each Leaf score. Collier gave only four hits before he was lifted for a pinch hitter, Bob Smith, who helped bring in the tying run. Then Ervin Brame finished, giving only one more safety.

Senators Climbing.

Albany Senators climbed to fifth place in the standings, a half game ahead of Montreal and Buffalo, by downing the Royals 8-3 in their final meeting of the season. Relief Pitcher George Miner held Montreal to two hits in the last five minutes while the Senators turned a small lead into a big one by smacking Johnny Pomorski out with a four run rally in the sixth.

Buffalo gained a sixth-place deadlock with Montreal with a 9-3 victory over Baltimore in their final floodlight meeting.

Big Six Averages

(By The Canadian Press)

Ike Boone to-day has undisputed possession of first place in the International League Big Six. Boone got one hit in four tries yesterday to keep his average steady at .368 while JuJius Solters went hitless in four times up and fell three points behind.

GEHRIG PLAYS 1,308TH GAME YANKEES LOSE

New Yorkers Suffer 7-6 Setback by Browns in 10-frame Battle.

SENATORS WIN 14-1.

Giants Lengthen Lead By Taking 7-2 Decision From Cincinnati.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., A.P. Sports Writer.)

While New York Yankees were finding that Lou Gehrig's brand new major league endurance record, established yesterday when "Buster Lou" played his 1,308th consecutive game with a maximum of ceremony, was about the only bright spot they have seen on their current western trip, Washington's Senators were equalling a record of sorts and at the same time learning that Monte Weaves can be of great assistance to them in their pennant drive.

Weaver Holds Sox

Weaver, who was rendered inactive during the large part of the season by a sore arm, let Chicago White Sox down with four hits to win his third straight victory since he got back into service by a 14-1 score. It was the ninth in a row for the Senators, equalling the season's long-run mark, made by the Yankees.

The fact that Gehrig became the official major league "Iron Man" by surpassing the record set by Everett Scott, former Yankee shortstop, before Lou broke into the big league and Babe Ruth's celebration of the end of his two-day vacation by busting his 27th homer of the season, still couldn't save the Yankees from a 7-6, 10-inning defeat by St. Louis Browns that left them 7½ games behind Washington.

Cleveland Indians continued to make life miserable for Philadelphia Athletics by plastering out 19 hits for 33 bases off George Earnshaw and three throwers who followed him to win the series final, 15-4. The victory gave them exclusive possession of fourth place as the combination of Bob Welland's five-hit hurling and Eldon Auker's wildness gave Boston Red Sox a 6-2 victory over Detroit.

Giants Lengthen Lead

New York Giants continued to improve their position in the National League, taking another game from Cincinnati by a 7-2 count, while the weather kept their leading rivals inactive.

Second-place Pittsburgh Pirates and third-place Chicago Cubs were rained out at Brooklyn and Boston respectively, giving the Giants a 4½-game lead over the Buccaneers. Boston's idleness enabled St. Louis Cardinals to gain a tie for fourth place by walloping the Phillies 9-5.

CRICKET

The following players will represent the Peterborough Club in their game with the Combined Woollens on Saturday at the Nicholls Oval at 2 p.m.: Dyer (Capt.), Lawrence, Mawhood, Rhodes, Stuart, Langhorne, Binks, Rev. E. Worrall, Coleman, Immings, A. N. Other.

There will be no practice on Friday evening.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

ALEX MORRISON SAYS:

There's a great difference between "knowing" that you can make a shot and just "thinking" you can make it.

"Knowing" is to have a feeling of absolute sureness—a feeling which generally produces a successful swing.

"Thinking" that you can do a certain thing on a golf course means that you simply hope you can do it.

And, if you'd think long enough you'd realize that there is some doubt in your mind as to whether or not you really can do what you are attempting. This lack of sureness in your mind to begin with prevents any chance of your making a successful swing.

Stick to what you're sure of on the course.

Bowling Tournament Is Held At Madoc

MADOC, August 18 (Examiner Correspondence).—The annual lawn bowling tournament of the Madoc Bowling Club was one of the most successful in the history of the club. Ideal weather conditions, and beautifully kept greens both contributed their part to the success of the day, and fifteen teams of bowlers made an animated group of energetic men who certainly made the most of their holiday. Wednesday, August 16th, saw teams from Stirling (1), Campbellford (1), Tweed (1); Deseronto (1), Hastings (2); Kingston (2); Belleville (3); and Madoc (4).

With Hugh Kellar's team (Madoc) as runners-up, both in the Primary Class and in the Consolation Awards, Madoc's teams failed to be among the winners, but all enjoyed the splendid opposition offered.

Mr. Palliser's team from Campbellford were awarded the first prizes in the Primaries, being given heavy white wool sweater coats, and Mr. Huycke's team from Hastings received second prizes of travellettes.

In the Consolation games, Kingston received electric grillettes, and Whitty's team from Stirling won the Hard Luck prizes of camp jugs.

Hot coffee and sandwiches were served by the ladies at the close of the game, and in the wee sma' hours the last hard-worked team said "good-bye" after the final game of the evening.

C. G. E. DEFEATS CALEYS 6 TO 1 IN TROPHY PLAY

Winners' Combination Perfect Against Losers' Individual Efforts.

GORDON SEMI-FINAL.

The Canadian General made certain that they would be in the final of the Father Phalen Charity Cup, last night, when they beat the Caledonians, six goals to one, before a good attendance. The winners now meet Lindsay-Packers survivors. Ben. McMaster, C.G.E. pivot man, had a night on when he registered five goals himself to be in the running for the prize—100 cigarettes—to the player scoring the most goals in the cup series. The losers were right off their game.

Opening Fast

The spin of the coin fell in favour of the C.G.E. and they decided to play with the sun at their backs. The Caley forwards went straight for Bolton's charge to find him clearing upfield. Jones trapped the ball from the air to slip it through to Clark who tested out Curtis. His clearance went back at him to find the C.G.E. forwards buzzing around the goal where McMaster snipped a lightning drive past Curtis. The Scots retaliated with individual efforts that only brought them excitemen as Bolton picked or kicked clear while the opposition missed many openings. At the other end, Mitchell rattled the crossbar with a terrific drive and from the two flag kicks nothing happened. Exchanges continued even for a while with the Scots missing passes that travelled right across the goal mouth. Jones, at centre half, for C.G.E. was conspicuous by his offensive as well as defensive tactics and from a well placed kick in between the Scots' full backs, McMaster hustled them to get his foot on the ball to make it two, from the ten yard range. A little later he registered his third counter after he had beaten the defense on a clever feint move in front of goal. The Scots went back to pepper the C.G.E. goal but all they received was a counter that was adjudged illegal. Canadian General 3, Caledonians 0.

Two Goals in Two Minutes

Within five minutes after the customary respite, Leggett, at outside right for the Scots, sent a low grounder in the net. From the kick off, the C.G.E. pivot man accepted a nice opening from the foot of Mitchell to connect at the opportune moment. As a team, the winners were well nigh unbeatable through their perfect understanding of each other's play that was backed up by fast and clever combination. After all the forwards had touched the ball from wing to wing, the C.G.E. centre man touched the ball out to Mitchell who bulged the net for the fifth tally. McMaster scored another counter to make the score read: Canadian General 6, Caledonians 1.

Goal scorers—McMaster 5, and Mitchell.

C.G.E.—J. Bolton, goal; J. Mitchell and G. Blowers, full backs; S. Clark, E. Jones and W. Bolam, halves; J. Quinn, H. Hotston, B. McMaster, A. Mitchell and A. Burgess, forwards.

Caledonians—W. Curtis, goal; E Agnew and E. Deneseu, full backs; E. Whatman T. Craig and R. Dickson, halves; R. Leggett, F. Dyer, W. Rankin, T. McPhate and E. Adkinson, forwards.

Referee—W. Harrington.

Linesmen—W. Anderson and J. McMaster.

PACK FOLLOWS CLOSE ON HEELS OF GOLF LEADER

Seven Players Only Two Strokes Behind "Lighthorse" Harry Cooper.

AMATEURS WELL UP.

(By A. E. Fulford, C.P. Staff Writer)

ROYAL YORK GOLF CLUB, Toronto, Aug. 17 (CP)—Seeking the crown for a native, young Canadians hammered at the portals of the Canadian Open golf throne today as invading stars sought to fight off the challenge.

For the first time in years enough Canadians were within striking distance of the title to make it a strong possibility one of them may come through to win the crown that has been held in the United States since 1919.

"Lighthorse" Harry Cooper, bespectacled defending champion, went out to-day to improve a score of 70 that gave him the lead over a field of 138 after 18 holes of the 72-hole competition had been played. Right on his heels, within seven strokes of the methodical Chicagoan, were 51 players, 32 playing from Canadian clubs.

Cooper One Better

Cooper yesterday took up the championship fight right where he left off last July at the Ottawa Hunt Club. After Bobby Alston, slim young professional from the Ottawa Rivermead Club had posted at 71 that withstood the onslaught of several score of the game's greats, Cooper matched an outgoing 36 with a 34 to assume an advantage he held until the last putt had been holed.

Two stars equalled Alston's mark, coming within a stroke of Cooper. Johnny Farrell, United States professional tournament semi-finalist, and Joe Kirkwood, famed trick-shot artist, used every trick in their bags to pull up on even terms with the comparatively unknown Ottawan.

Close Competition

So closely was the field packed behind the defender to-day thata the "Lighthorse" will have to call on all the wizardry his years of tournament competition have given him to maintain his slim lead. Only two strokes behind were seven players, any of them capable of getting "hot" enough to wipe out the former Hamilton boy's one stroke.

Willie Goggin, of San Francisco, whom Gene Sarazen found such a handful in the P.G.A.; George Von Elm, Detroit "businessman golfer," and Leo Diegel, four times winner of the Canadian title, were in the 72 group with four Canadians, Willie Lamb, Canadian pro. champion; Jack Armitage of Dundas, Ont.; R. H. Green, of Kingston, Ont., and Tom Crossart, of Toronto.

Amateurs Not Far Behind

While Canadian professionals carried the native standard, the amateurs were not far behind. Leading the Simon Pures were "Sandy" Somerville, of London, Ont., United States amateur champion, and young Frank Corrigan, of the Chaudiere Club, Ottawa, both with 73's.

VERN BEAVIS WAS POPULAR ATHLETE

Former Petes' Outfielder Well Thought of in Central Ontario Circuit.

Vern Beavis, popular star rightfielder of the Peterborough senior baseball team, was buried yesterday. Hundreds of local ball players, present and former teammates, officers and friends, were in the long funeral procession. His loss is a great one. And the Petes, fairly into the league playoffs, will be sadly handicapped by the absence of Vern. He was hitting .350 and was one of the best all-around outfielders in the league this year.

Some idea of how well he was known and admired throughout Central Ontario may be gleaned from the following clippings of other town sports columns: The Oshawa writer says: "The news of the death of Vern Beavis, Peterborough's snappy rightfielder, comes as a decided shock to local sport fans and especially the members of the Dukes' team. We can only express our sincere sympathy to the members of the family and the Peterborough sporting fraternity in their loss."

Kingston Standard.

The Kingston item is: "The death of Vern Beavis, smart rightfielder of the Peterborough team, has cast a gloom over the entire C.O.B.L. Beavis was one of the best outergardeners in the league and this season had been hitting the ball at a terrific clip. The Petes will not be the same without him."

Belleville Intelligencer.

A more lengthy one comes from Belleville: "It was with regret we read of the death of Vern Beavis of Peterborough yesterday. We have been personally acquainted with Vern ever since he started playing junior baseball in the Lift Lock City and always found him to be a gentleman of the first school, both on and off the diamond. Vern, who cavorted about in right field for the Petes, had fast developed into one of the best fly-catchers in the Central loop and will be sadly missed by all who knew him. It is players the calibre of Vern Beavis who keep the baseball game clean and a pastime for real sportsmen to participate in. Undoubtedly his untimely death will mitigate the efforts of the Petes to a considerable degree in the C.O.B.L. playoffs."

The above articles form a glorious concluding chapter of Vern Beavis as a sportsman, and this tribute cannot fail to be a source of consolation and pride to his bereaved people and his many saddened friends.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball—Softball—Lacrosse Soccer—Wrestling, and Others

(By C. J. P.)

Tonight's big game is the third E.P.L. playoff at six down at the Exhibition Grounds. While it's the third game, it only counts as the second since C.G.E. and Cogs went to a 2-all draw in their second meeting, after the Clubmen copped the first. If the weather's oke, they should draw a huge crowd as the Electrics will be throwing off sparks in this meeting, or we're badly mistaken. After losing the first tilt by a big count, they came back to fight themselves into a nifty tie. Barry or Ralph for C.G.E., and Vannest or Billingsley for Cogs—that's the pitching choices. Should be a real old ball game.

• • • • • • •

And need we remind you of that senior squabble over at Stevenson Park tomorrow? Hardly, with Kingston and the Petes in the throes of a tight old series for the league championship! They meet at three bells and fans who don't come early shouldn't kick if both grand stands are packed. It'll be a mammoth crowd all right and no doubt a memorable playoff game. Both teams have won one. We might point out that there is no extra charge for these games—knockers always being ready with the hammer, but forgetting to boost a club when it gives them a break.

• • • • • •

Every baseball coach has a righthand man, or a lieutenant if you wish, and Knotty Lee is no exception. He has Angus Macdonald. An accident a year ago didn't help Angus' throwing any, although he can fling 'em in in southpaw style pretty good yet in hitting practise. But Angus' chief value to the Petes this year is in filling in any place, coaching, and in warming up the players before a game. A fine type of sport, with lots of baseball knowledge—some of it gained under Smokey Joe Wood at Yale—he is one of the most valuable members of the team. We hope "Mac" has the forkside flipper back to normal by next summer and can take his turn on the mound with the other local gunners.

• • • • • • •

Work is going right ahead on the gals' new grandstand at the Bowl and ought to be about ready for use by the second playoff game here Thursday. Last night, the Aces walloped the All-Stars just like rolling off a couple of logs. St. John's Ambulance Corps profited by the "take" to the extent of $6.20. Saturday e'en at 6.30 the gal finalists go to town, Keene and Westclox meeting in the first of their five-game playoff series. Galbraith and Frick will umpire, and a cop will be on hand to keep order.

• • • • • • •

The big guns of the Sugar Bowl artillery were brought into play at Central last night and they succeeded in shelling Harrison's right out of the men's softball playoffs. The Grocers laid down a barrage of their own in the early part of the conflict and the grounds up there—no man's land—should have been shell-torn like a ploughed field and the casualties heavy when the smoke of that weird 22-15 affair lifted. The Bowlmen won the game, the city title for the fourth year in a row, the Taylor Trophy and the right to represent this town in the O.A.S.A. playdowns next week.

• • • • • • •

That doesn't leave much for Harrison's, does it However, they have the satisfaction of having made it a good series, of having got into the playoffs again this season (the city ones), and of having dished up some classy softball throughout the schedule. They can't both win, and the smart Dormer machine still hasn't reached the rusted stage. To Bill Simmons, grand old man of the game in Ontario, again goes a lot of credit. He stepped in in the fourth to stop the slugging Grocers cold, with no runs and just three hits the rest of the fixture while his teammates came from behind to pound out the victory. Bill is in the immediate vicinity of that three-score-and-ten mark!

• • • • • •

Something like six hundred excited followers of the game were handed a slugging exhibition par excellence. Five giant homers were slammed out, three by the losers and two coming in one inning with two on bases in each case. Smith whipped out a million-dollar one in the sixth when the sacks were all cluttered up with traffic. Outside of Simmons, none of the five pitchers could do a thing but toss the oversized ball in with a brief prayer that it wouldn't go clean out of the park. Some good fielding was dished up by both squads, each side pulling a double-play which is some shucks in softball.

• • • • • • •

Playoffs are coming thick and fast here these days, but another week will find a lot of gaps between games. Teams are starting to fall off with the first autumn leaves and the losing players are beginning to hang up their spikes and equipment for the year. We're told a couple of Harrison's—and the odd player on other teams, also — didn't wait till they were beaten but quit first, apparently being sore because they weren't being used regularly. We have small sympathy for a player that quits, leaving his teammates in the lurch, unless he has a better excuse than that. They really may have taken childish offence ("if I don't play, I'll take my ball home!") at being benched occasionally, or they may have seen defeat for the team in the offing and didn't care to be in at the death. It's poor policy at any rate.

Nicholls Provides Upset In Singles

Some close and classy games marked yesterday's preliminary and first round tennis matches at the Peterborough Open Tournament. A real upset was provided in the preliminary men's singles when George Nicholls defeated Herb Wilson, 6-1 and 6-4. J. Patte took a hard-fought one from Ben Swartz, 6-4, 4-6, and 7-5. In the first round of mens' doubles, Jones and Vincent nosed out Richmond and Swartz, 7-5, 3-6 and 8-6. Shields and Cruthers won from Elmslie and Child, 6-4, 6-8 and 6-4.

The preliminary of the ladies' singles saw Mrs. Dewart win from Kay Benson, 6-1 and 6-1; and Betsy Scott defeat Eleanor Stacey 6-4 and 9-7. NUTHALL-ROUND IN.

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Aug. 18 (CP)—Eight of the world's finest women tennis players, three from England and five Americans, met in four quarter-final matches of the United States women's championship at Forest Hills to-day.

And when the fray is over, observers believe the semi-final brackets will be Mrs. Helen Wills Moody versus Betty Nuthall, and Helen Jacobs, defending champion, versus Dorothy Round.

Few would predict the defeat today of Mrs. Moody, fighting for her eighth United States title at the hands of the plucky little English girl, Mary Heeley. Miss Heeley is ranked No. 1 in England on the basis of her play last year, but this season she has not been going so well.

Betty Nuthall, the popular British player who won the title in 1930 was conceded a decided edge over Alice Marble of California. The fair-haired girl from the Pacific, however, has been playing excellent tennis and a close duel is anticipated.

Dorothy Round, the English Sunday school teacher, who won a set from Mrs. Moody at Wimbledon, appeared to have her work cut out for her against Sarah Palfrey of Boston. In the other quarter-final the defending champion, Miss Jacobs, meets Josephine Cruickshank.

RACING DRIVERS INSIST ON Firestone HIGH SPEED TIRES

THEIR LIVES DEPEND ON THEM!

"The fact that I had no tire trouble enabled me to set the new speed record. I want to express my appreciation to Firestone for building tires that stand up under such terrible punishment".

—Louis Meyer, winner of the 1933 Indianapolis Speedway Race

FOR fourteen consecutive years Firestone tires have been on the winning cars in the 500-mile Indianapolis Speedway Race . . . the world's most grueling endurance test.

A tire must be good to have this enviable record and be the first choice of race drivers . . . men who know tires. Profit by their knowledge and experience . . . equip your car with Firestone, the only tire that can give you all these advantages:

3 NON-SKID SAFETY TREAD gives 25% more non-skid wear.

5 GUARANTEED 12 MONTHS against blow-outs, cuts, bruises and all other road hazards except punctures.

Millbrook

Some of the homemaker's problems of marketing to the best advantage for her family were discussed in a practical manner at an Institute branch meeting recently, following the constructive talk on the proper way to feed the family, by an experienced dietitian visiting in the home of one of the members.

"The first thing I want to tell you is to lay emphasis upon the fact that it is the little saved here and there on your household budgetting that will enable you to begin, or add to, a neat savings' account; so at the end of the year you may possibly indulge your longing for some particular luxury you might never otherwise possess. It is the small differences on the price of groceries that will add up the most, as what is saved on clothing does not amount so rapidly since the family wardrobe is replenished less frequently."

"So it pays to study where you can save a few cents on a pound of butter, or whether you will not save much more by buying in larger quantities—it depends on the size of your family, and also on what facilities you have for keeping such perishable supplies. Then there are sugar, eggs, bread and meat, on which you may assuredly save a little if you watch the various advertisements, and shop where you find the best offer, provided there is no lessening of quality in the goods offered for the lower price. Remember food is bought every day and ten cents a day saved means $3 a month, and $30 by the end of the year."

"Not every housewife keeps in mind that the most expensive cuts of meat, or the highest priced foods of any sort, are of the most nutritive value. For instance, usually a high market price means that a particular food is rare, difficult to ship and be received in good condition, that it is out of season, or of unusually attractive appearance. Consequently you may keep a well-supplied table, with attractive and wholesome food, without these 'rich and rare' goods, if you will just take time to study and plan your meals and marketing. First and foremost keep an account of what you spend for each kind of food—meats, milk, bread, etc. — comparing from month to month and seeing where you might have given your family good wholesome meals, and yet saved money at the same time. But do not save at the expense of health — fine furniture, or a vacuum cleaner, or a car even, will never pay for lack of nutrition in the daily diet, and these are things I find many women longing for as I go about the country with these talks."

"Try the plan of food budgetting for at least one year before you make definite decision whether you like it, or will have firmness enough of character to keep on with it. I am convinced you will find it fascinating, once you have really tried it out, and that 'marketing for thrift' will mean a healthier family, and that nice little savings' account considerably swelled, as we noted at the outset of this address."

"I would like to speak here of the necessity of patronizing the stores that are the cleanest—foods covered so they are free from flies and dust; or from prying fingers for even grown up folk are not altogether free of that bad habit of poking into things unnecessarily that are exposed for sale, though we think 'pryng fingers' belong only to childhood. My experience has been that the comparatively small store, with somewhat limited stock, is usually better in this regard than the larger one though it has costly counters, and a fine window display."

"Also I would like to notice that food spoiled is usually evidence of poor housekeeping, unwise buying, or just plain carelessness in meal planning. It may not always be possible to have ice, but if it is even at some inconvenience it will pay for itself in the food saved. Failing this, a good cellar, with careful marketing and planning, though it surely means more work and trouble than for the fortunate homemaker who has her frigidaire in her kitchen, will eliminate waste from spoiled foods."

"Going personally to the store to make selection, particularly of fresh meats, fruits and vegetables will certainly mean better selection, save the pennies especially if food is being bought in cans and the size of the containers is noted, and provide a nicer meal for the family. This is one of the finest ways to learn to know and compare prices and varied makes of goods, and to pick up any really good bargains offered. Some of us, I am convinced, would be better off without the telephones in our homes which make ordering so easy, and yet often we are actually appalled at the accounts we have run up through the 'easy phone habit.' Then buy your staple foods in as large quantities as you can, and see what you save thereby; country women, with their large homes and abundance of pantry space, are far ahead of their city sisters in this regard. And whatever you do, don't neglect the leftovers, combining with other foods if necessary."

ARMS USELESS ON A WET DAY

Rheumatism Made Work a Torture

BUT KRUSCHEN PUT HIM RIGHT

Here is a remarkable instance of the manner in which damp weather can affect the joints of one who is subject to rheumatism.

"I had been suffering from rheumatism very badly," a man writes, "and had had such pains in my joints that I could hardly bear it. It used to be terrible on a wet day. I did not know how to use my arms, and when I was at work it was real torture. I tried two different remedies for rheumatism, but I was still as bad after the treatment.

"Then I was told to try Kruschen Salts, and after using one jar I found relief. So of course I have kept on with it, and am now thoroughly better and have never felt so fit for years. I used to feel so miserable and sluggish, but now it is a pleasure to be able to work, instead of a dread.%—S. B.

A rheumatic person's system produces that dangerous body-poison known as uric acid. If you could see the knife-edged crystals of uric acid under the microscope, you would readily understand why they cause those cutting pains. And if you could see how Kruschen dulls the sharp edges of these crystals, then dissolves them away altogether, you would agree that this scientific treatment must bring relief from rheumatic agony.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c. and 75c. per bottle.

ELECTRICS RESUME BATTLE THIS EVEN'

Meet Cogs in Third Game of East Peterborough Play-offs.

Cogs and C.G.E. resume their battle for the East Peterborough Baseball League title and the Tip Top Tailors' Trophy at six o'clock to-night at the Exhibition Grounds, meeting in their third game. Cogs won the first and the second was tied—not counting. The series was originally scheduled to go to best three out of five games, but may be shortened to a two-out-of-three set if the O.B.A.A. so orders it. For this reason, the game to-night may see Cogs crowned champions should they win. C.G.E. will make it a mighty struggle and have a good chance of evening the series. The biggest crowd of the year is expected.

Jack Barry or Harold Ralph are the likely starters for the Electricians while Cogs may send back Lefty Billingsley, though Percy Vannest is the logical choice. The lanky southpaw held C.G.E. in complete subjection in the first tilt, while the second one saw Masterson and Dunkerley battle to a great 2-all draw. Both squads will be at full strength and fighting hard for the decision this evening, and everything points to one of the most interesting and important fixtures seen at the Exhibition Grounds this season.

BOWLING NOTES

(By Herb Martin)

Weather permitting, there will be the usual Friday night tournament to-night. The prizes will be fruit. The season is getting on, and if you boys want to cash in on the Friday night attendance competition, be sure to be out to-night and be on time.

Mrs. J. Coursey of Peterborough successfully skipped her rink at Port Hope yesterday to land in the charmed circle. Twenty-six rinks in all took part in the annual tournament of the ladies' section of the Port Hope Lawn Bowling Club, seven being entered from Peterborough. This is the fifth time in six tournaments that Mrs. Coursey has been in the prize money. The members of her rink each received a beautiful silver-plated macaroon dish: Mrs. R. Dyer, Mrs. A. McIlmoyle, Mrs. A. Heckman, Mrs. J. Coursey, skip.

80 RICHMOND ST. WEST LIMITED

NOTICE OF MEETING OF HOLDERS OF FIRST MORTGAGE (CLOSED) TWENTY YEAR SINKING FUND BONDS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That The Royal Trust Company (hereinafter called the "Trustee") as Trustee for the Holders of the First Mortgage (Closed) Twenty Year Sinking Fund Bonds issued under Mortgage Deed of Trust dated as of May 1st, 1929, made between 80 Richmond Street West Limited (hereinafter called the "Company") and The Royal Trust Company, has called a Meeting of the Holders of the said Bonds to be held in the Dining Room No. 10, Royal York Hotel, Toronto, on Wednesday, the 13th Day of September, 1933, at the hour of 11 o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of considering and if deemed advisable passing an extraordinary resolution or resolutions:

(a) To confirm and ratify generally actions theretofore taken by the Trustee and in particular the action of the Trustee in negotiating an option to buy in all mechanics' liens against the Mortgaged Premises for a total purchase price of $25,000.00 as of June 29th, 1933, plus interest on such amount at the rate of Six per cent. per annum from that date up to the date of exercise of the option;

(b) To consider and if thought fit to sanction the payment by the Trustee of the sum of $912.62 to the agent who negotiated the said option for expenses incurred and services rendered in the obtaining of such option, such payment to be made only out of the proceeds of any sale of the Mortgaged Premises but irrespective of whether or not the option is exercised;

(c) To consider and if thought fit to sanction the payment by the Trustee of a further commission of $7,500.00 to the said agent for his services in securing the same, such commission to be payable only out of the proceeds of any sale of the Mortgaged Premises, and then only in the event of the exercise by the Trustee of such option;

(d) To consider any offers to purchase the Mortgaged Premises received by the Trustee and if thought fit to authorize the Trustee to accept any of such offers;

(e) To authorize the Trustee to enter into an agreement with the Company to give effect to the modification of the Trust Deed proposed by the Company whereby the provisions as to giving notice of Meetings of Bondholders by advertisement are altered so as to require publication of such notice once only in a daily newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Toronto;

(f) Generally to instruct the Trustee with regard to its further actions in the premises.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN, That pursuant to the powers contained in the said Mortgage Deed of Trust, the following regulations have been made for the purpose of enabling the holders of Bearer Bonds to be represent and vote at the Meeting, without producing their Bonds and enabling them to be present and vote by proxy:

A holder of Bearer Bonds desiring to be present and vote without production of such Bonds shall first deposit such Bonds with any Trust Company or Chartered Bank or Department of a Provincial or the Dominion Government or any other depositary satisfactory to the Trustee, and a certificate of such deposit, signed by the Depositary and stating the amount and distinguishing numbers of the Bonds and that the same will remain so deposited during two calendar months ensuing from the date of such certificate or until the final adjournment of the said Meeting whichever shall be longer shall be produced at the Meeting by a holder of Bearer Bonds desiring to vote in person without production of such Bonds at the Meeting, or be attached to or produced with any proxy executed by the holder of Bearer Bonds. Any such certificate shall be satisfactory evidence for the purpose of action by the Trustee on the faith thereof.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN, That the said Mortgage Deed of Trust provides in substance as follows:

That holders of registered Bonds may, by instrument in writing under their hands, and stating the numbers of the Bonds regarding which they are entitled to vote, appoint any person as their proxy to vote at the Meeting for them, and that save as aforesaid and as provided by the above regulations, the only persons who shall be recognized at the Meeting as the holders of Bonds or as entitled to vote or be present at the Meeting in respect thereof, shall be the persons who produce unregistered Bonds at the Meeting and the registered Bondholders.

Bondholders are requested to make every effort to attend the Meeting in person or by proxy as the questions to be considered thereat are of great importance to the Bondholders, and it is necessary that Bonds to the face value of Two Hundred and Seventy-Three Thousand Five Hundred Dollars be represented thereat in order to constitute a quorum.

DATED at Toronto the 14th Day of August, 1933.

THE ROYAL TRUST COMPANY,
Trustee for the Bondholders.

Suitable forms of proxy and certificates of deposit may be obtained at the office of The Royal Trust Company at Toronto. The Royal Trust Company cannot undertake to act as proxy, and proxies should not, therefore, be executed in its favour.

C.C.F. PRESENTS BANKING PLANS

Would Socialize, Finance, Financial Machinery, Currency, Credit, Insurance.

URGE NEW TAX POLICY.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 18.—(CP).—Plans of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation in respect to ranking and opinions from three spokesmen from municipalities today had been placed before the Royal Commission on Banking.

Concluding a two-day session here, the commission is enroute today to Calgary where it will hold an open session to-morrow, later it will proceed to Edmonton.

Submission of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation's plans for socialization of finance and the hearing of the municipal spokesmen concluded lengthy sessions yesterday. Another witness, G. G. McGeer, K.C., urged public management of public finance. The rights of banks to issue money, Mr. McGeer contended, violated the rights of the nation.

W. A. Pritchard, former reeve of the municipality of Burnaby, fyled with the commission the plans of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation. These included socialization of finance, all financial machinery, currency and credit and insurance. A new taxation policy designed to lessen the tax burden and eliminate inequalities was urged as well as provision of funds for social services and socialization of industry.

Provincial Banks.

After Mr. Pritchard had contended provinces should be permitted to enter the banking business if they desired, Premier Brownlee of Alberta, a member of the commission, said he knew of nothing to prevent a provincial government from setting up a bank to operate within the regulations of the Bank Act.

"Farmers have not a very good opinion of banks," said S. H. Ford, reeve of the municipality of Pitt Meadows. In good times it was easy to borrow money, said Mr. Ford, who added a bank manager had wanted to lend him $5,000 when he asked for $1,000. Later, during depressed conditions, he had been refused a loan of $100 to pay taxes when he offered security of unencumbered property worth $10,000.

Premier Brownlee asked if the commission were to understand Mr. Ford could not get $100 on his personal note or on his unencumbered land, and the witness replied "Yes."

Millbrook

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Eakins and daughter Mary, with their guest, Miss Laura Clarke, B.A., of the Collegiate Institute staff, Weyburn, Sask., motored to Orillia on Sunday and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Armstrong at their summer cottage at Lake Couchiching.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas of Toronto were recent guests of their daughter, Mrs. Wright, and Dr. J. W. Wright, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy of Toronto, have been visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bonneville, and daughter, of Montreal, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bonneville.

Misses Jean Stinson and Margaret Simpson have returned after a pleasant motor trip to Huntsville, where they were the guests of the former's cousin.

The local school board met on Monday evening and decided to motor to Toronto on Thursday of this week when they have an appointment to meet Premier Henry in his capacity as Minister of Education, to discuss matters vitally affecting the Continuation School here. Reeve P. Elinson and ex-Warden W. T. Wood will be spokesmen for the request the local board has to make; ex-Warden Milton Elliott of Bowmanville, will also accompany the deputation. The school board will convene again on Friday evening to complete its requisition for the year.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wood of Simcoe and their little son, Graham who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wentworth Gray, left for home on Monday, the trip being made by motor. Mrs. Wood is a former Millbrook girl, her maiden name being Birdie Williamson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Williamson, their home on Main street while living in the village, is now resided in by Mr. T. Robinson.

Motorists will not likely be troubled with cattle feeding along the side of the highway, as has been the case in recent weeks, since Traffic Officer E. Hornick, lately impounded a number of cattle belonging to J. Willis, east of Millbrook, as a menace to safe driving. Ten dollars is the amount it is said to have cost the owner to redeem his property. Apparently it has been the want of pasture that has led farmers to allow their cattle to browse along the roadside, the hot dry weather being responsible for the shortage of feed.

Mrs. W. S. Given, of Shreveport, Louisana, and formerly of Millbrook, spent a few days in the village last week, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Armstrong, and calling upon many former friends while here.

Miss Mary Brown, who at one time taught in the primary room of the local public school, and now of Fort William, was the guest of Miss Mary O'Brian, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Eakins, over the week-end. Miss Brown's mother and sister of Cannington, motored to Millbrook on Sunday, when she returned home with them for the remainder of the summer holidays before going back to Fort William.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Pickup, and family, and her brother, Douglas Fitzgerald, of Montreal, recently visited their aunt and uncle, Councillor J. R. and Mrs. Eakins.

Mrs. Allan Gray and little son, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lancashire, Mr. and Mrs. Gray are leaving Peterborough the beginning of September to reside in Hamilton, the former having been in that city now for a brief time.

Ex-Warden Milton J. Elliott and Mrs. Elliott of Bowmanville, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Eakins.

Miss Alice Armstrong is holidaying for two weeks with Peterborough and Toronto friends.

Miss Helen Crealock, who has been with Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Jordan at Orr Lake, near Midland, for the summer holidays, was in town last Friday, and attended the street dance that evening.

Bridgenorth

Mrs. Cavanagh and daughter of Norwood, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Kidd of Smith.

Mr. Bryer Carpenter of Warden, Alberta, spent the past two weeks visiting his sons in Peterborough, and Billie, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Young of Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolton of Douro, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Millage on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fontaine and daughter Marie, of Coboconk spent Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Mann of Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mann, who have spent the past three weeks holidaying in this district, have returned to their home in Detroit

Rev. Mr. Edgar of Chesley, who is visiting his daughter, Mrs. E. Wigg of Peterborough, preached in Gilmour Baptist church on Sunday where his many friends were glad to visit with him again.

Col. Bryer and Mrs. Pendry, and nephew, David White of Brooklyn, N. Y., were guests at the home of Mrs. James Young recently.

CHICAGO IMPRISONS FORTY CRIMINALS

THREE ARRESTED DIRECT SEQUEL SWASTIKA RIOTS

Twenty-two Other Youths Subjected to Questioning By Toronto Police.

CITY WIDE PROBE.

Patrols Kept at Parks—Jewish Gang Activities to be Investigated.

TORONTO, Aug. 19. — Three were arrested last night on charges of unlawful assembly, arising out of Wednesday night's rioting at Willowvale Park. They are:

Charles Bousstead, 18 years old of Sydenham Street.

Jack Pippy, 17, of Crawford Street.

Earl Perrin, 21, of Sterling Road.

They were alleged to be the ones who flaunted the white quilt, on which a black swastika was emblazoned, from a knoll in the park—the act which precipitated the disturbances and fanned into flame the spark of national feeling.

The arrests were made after 22 youths had been questioned at Ossington Avenue police station yesterday afternoon and evening.

Inspector Herbert Little of Ossington Avenue station personally supervised the investigation and was aided by Detectives Lou Williams and Jack McArthur.

Inspector Little stated last night that, in making the arrests, he believed the police had struck at the root of the trouble.

Investigation Continues

The investigation has not been closed, Inspector Little stated, and it is expected that the part played in the rioting by gangs of Jewish youths may come under examination.

Following announcement of the arrests, the police stated that Bousstead was the one who had provided the quilt for the demonstration. The swastika had been painted on in Pippy's garage. Perrin, it is alleged, had carried it to the park.

All yesterday afternoon and evening the two detectives and the inspector were questioning youths and young men identified with the disturbances.

The three arrested are alleged to have admitted carrying it to the top of the knoll, known as the "camel's hump," in the park, and displaying it in full view of the mixed Jewish and Gentile crowd at the softball game. The emblem was shown from the northwest side of the knoll.

Police Vigilant

Despite a relaxed feeling among the crowds at Willowvale and other parks, police maintained extra vigilance. Motorcycle and mounted men were held in reserve at Ossington Avenue station, and at other stations which had seen trouble in nearby parks during recent weeks.

Detective-Sergeant William Nursey and members of the radical squad spent most of the evening around Willowvale Park.

At one time crowds gathered and trouble seemed to threaten. A call was relayed to Ossington Avenue station and the reserves sped to the scene, but nothing developed.

No truckloads of Jews made their appearance, and except for the crowds walking along streets skirting the parks, peace reigned.

Crowds Gathered

Later in the evening the crowds from Willowvale Park congregated along the streets for several blocks on either side, apparently waiting for something to happen. There was little noise. A score of uniformed constables patrolled the vicinity. The division inspector was on the scene. Sedans packed with plain-clothesmen passed and repassed the park vicinity.

Prayerful Insect Really A Cannibal

Henry LaPlante of 178 Lansdowne street found a strange yellow insect on the inside of one of his screen doors this morning, and brought it to The Examiner office, unaware that he had been entertaining in his home one of the most peculiar of voracious bugs. It is described in the dictionary as a mantis religiosa, or praying mantis, because its long, slender front feet are often united in a prayerful gesture. The common American species is known as M. Carolina.

Ft. Carolina is a nasty creature. Though her prayerful aspect she is [illegible] at heart, for she habitually eats her husband and devours her children.

FARMERS CAN'T FEED PIGS; JOBLESS TO GET PORK CHOPS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. — Pork chops, bacon and cracklin's for the jobless.

That has been approved by President Roosevelt.

The hogs will be among the 5,000,000 slaughtered under the Agriculture Department's proposal to let farmers kill the porkers they can't feed, thus increasing the value of those that are left.

The federal relief administration is making arrangements for distribution of the meat.

Finally, the farmers will be paid sums yet to be announced for the hogs they slaughter, the money to be raised by a subsequent tax paid by those who turn live swine into marketable pork.

PROVINCIAL BOY SCOUTS TO KEEP "BADGE" HIDDEN

Thanks Badge of Organization Has Form of Swastika Emblem.

GOOD LUCK SIGN.

Action From Toronto Taken to Avoid Further Clashes Between Factions.

Boy Scouts in Peterborough possessing Boy Scout "Thanks Badge" which has the form of the swastika emblem, have been ordered with other Boy Scouts in the province to keep the badge under cover for the next few weeks. The order was issued yesterday from the Ontario Boy Scout Headquarters in Toronto.

Although the Thanks Badge is a metal pendant in the form of the swastika emblem embraced as the emblem of the Nazis by Hitler, the wearing of the swastika by the Scouts has no symbolic connection with Hitlerism whatever. Boy Scouts in the city stated to-day. The swastika emblem is of ancient origin and its general significance lies in the historic belief that the sign is one of good luck. The Thanks Badge has been awarded for a number of years past by the Scout organizations merely as a reward for distinguished service.

The order was issued as a result of the recent clashes of Gentiles and Jews in Toronto inspired by the swastika emblem. The Thanks Badge will be kept out of sight until the present swastika troubles blow over in order to avoid any possible antagonism of the Jews. A large number of Boy Scouts in the city are reported to possess the badge.

DEAN O.' TORONTO WEDS.

TORONTO.—The wedding of Helen Bernice, daughter of Mrs. George A. Labey and the late Dr. Labey, of renton, to Martin Perrin Dean, of Trenton, to Martin Perrin Dean, chapel of St. Paul's Cathedral here to-day. The couple will reside in Toronto.

Oshawa Objects To Power Prices

OSHAWA, Aug. 19 (CP)—Objecting to the Hydro-Electric Commission raising the cost of power to this city by $3 per horsepower along with a recommendation that rates to consumers remain the same, Frank L. Mason, chairman of the Oshawa Public Utilities Commission, declared he would propose to make the Ontario Commission wait for its money until after all other accounts are paid.

TRAIN HITS CAR FOUR ARE KILLED

Watchman at Crossing Claims Driver Ignored His Signals.

2 CRITICALLY HURT.

PORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 19. (AP)—Four persons were killed and two others critically injured here early to-day when an automobile was struck by a Wabash passenger train at a street crossing.

The dead: James R. Gray, 39, Toledo, O.; Mrs. Gray; Nettie Blanche Gray, aged 8, a daughter; Mrs. Ella Thomas, age about 38, of Princeton Ky.

The accident occurred about 3.30 a.m. The watchman at the crossing said the occupants of the car apparently failed to heed his signals and drove directly into the path of the train.

CRASH SETS CAR ABLAZE TWO MEN DIE OF BURNS

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Aug. 19. (CP)—One man succumbed in the flaming wreckage of an automobile to-day and another died in hospital several hours later.

James McGuire, 23, ball player of Geneseo, the driver, died in the wreckage while his companion, William Dietsche, 27, also of Geneseo, succumbed in hospital.

McGuire's automobile struck a truck 14 miles south of here. It overturned and caught fire.

RUSSIA WILL STOP EXPORTS IF GRANTED CREDIT TO BUY

Present Soviet Trade is Only 3 Per Cent. of World Total.

JAPAN THREATENS

[By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN]

ON BOARD S.S SMOLNY, Aug. 3.—Admitted that the Soviet government has no unemployment problem to cope with and that it will take a long time, at least 25 years, before the home market begins to reach the saturation point, what guarantee is there that Russia will not then inaugurate a ruthless system of dumping with the object of wrecking the economic system under which other countries live? This was one of the questions which the chief of the Soviet trade delegation in London, Mr. Arthur Ginzburg, was asked in the course of to-day's debate on board ship. The questioner was Mr. H. W. Howard, a Liberal party executive in the west of England, who is proceeding to Russia on behalf of Mr. Lloyd George. The Welsh wizard is namely contemplating a visit himself either late this year or early next spring.

Ginzburg readily admitted that the Soviet government was dumping at the present moment, and the English Liberal from his side admitted equally readily that the British dominions, America and Japan are pursuing the same policy. But in view of the fact that Soviet commerce constitutes but three percent. of the total interna-

One on Paine

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (CP)—Hubert Scott-Paine may be a fine speed-boat driver, but his wife says he is no canoeman.

At a civic breakfast here to-day, Mrs Scott-Paine, despite protestations of her red-faced husband, told how the man who hopes to take the Harmsworth Trophy back to England sat on the gunwale of a canoe one day and tried to pry the craft away from a dock.

The racer, blushing said, "Let me tell you I had this wrist watch on and I came up the other side without getting it wet."

Cuban Exiles Return Others At New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 (CP)—Two leaders of the defunct Machado regime in Cuba arrived to-day in exile while a party of anti-Machado leaders was preparing to end its exile and sail for Cuba later in the day.

The arrivals were Oscar B. Cintas, Cuban Ambassador to Washington under Machado, and Ramiro Guerra, former Secretary of the deposed Cuban President. They landed from the liner Morro Castle, on which the anti-Machado party is booked to sail.

FRENCH SPEED MOROCCO DRIVE WITH END NEAR

25,000 Legionaires and Native Troops Surround Last Stronghold.

HEAVY CASUALTIES.

Wild Rebels Resist to Last. Raid Camps and Ambush Columns.

RABAT, Morocco, August 19. — Sniped at continually by desperate Berber tribesmen, 25,000 French native troops and Foreign Legionnaires methodically mopped up yesterday around Djebel Badou, last stronghold of the wild Berbers.

Heavy fighting with severe losses on both sides were reported in the latest despatches as the French, determined to clean up the Atlas region before winter, pressed on against the Berber dissidents.

Djebel Badou was surrounded and the surrender of the last rebels there was expected shortly. Meanwhile the mountain peak Koucher was slipping from the rebels' grip. The noted Cherif Moulay Abselmen, a dissident against French rule since 1912, surrendered with his followers.

Although only the cornered remnants of six die-hard tribes were still fighting, recent battles have seen the severest in France's 23-year campaign to pacify Morocco.

About 250 French troops were reported killed in the past week. Four converging columns of French troops from Marrakech, Tadla, Meknes, and Eastern Morocco, encircled the last of the dissidents of the slopes and in the ravines of the high Atas chain, 175 miles southeast of Rabat.

Toil Up Tortuous Trails.

Foreign Legionnaires, infantrymen, cavalry, artillery, and native riflemen toil up tortuous trails under the terrific sun by day and the bitter cold of night. The famous French 75-guns were laboriously hauled up for combat, while airplanes reconoitered overhead.

As the rebels were slowly caught between the French lines, advancing at times over a front of 30 miles long, audacious raiding parties were sent back to harass the French and even to pillage the conquered camps of fellow-tribesmen.

A dozen or twenty hooded Berbers, headed by a chieftain chosen for his luck and daring, then rode all night, rifles in hand, leather pouches containing cartridges and

DRUG CHAIN HEAD IS HEART VICTIM

Gordon Tamblyn Succumbs While Playing Game of Golf.

METEORIC CAREER.

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (CP)—Founder and head of one of Ontario's largest chain of retail drug stores, Gordon Tamblyn, president of the concern bearing that name, is dead here to-day at the age of 55.

In apparent good health, Mr. Tamblyn was stricken suddenly during the course of a golf game yesterday, and lived for only 15 minutes afterwards. Heart trouble was given as the cause of his death.

Starting with a single store in Toronto in 1904, his business grew rapidly until to-day throughout Ontario there are 39 stores bearing his name. He was born in Bellwood, Ont., and received his education in the schools and colleges of the province.

Surviving are his widow; two sons, Robert and William, and two daughters, Ruth and Joan, all of Toronto.

Funeral will take place Monday afternoon.

Divorcee Shoots Self, Calls Ex-Husband Remarries Him in Hospital, Dies Happy

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—(CP)—Lying on a hospital bed, gasping with pain, Mrs. Alice Covelli was remarried today to the man over whom she shot herself.

She had been "insanely jealous" she said, over his attentions to another woman.

Daniel Covelli, an attorney, rushed to the marriage license bureau.

"I want to remarry Alice," he told the chief clerk. "It may save her life. There has never been another woman in my life, but she thinks there was."

Four nurses, three internes and a physician witnessed the exchange of vows.

Rev. Father Kelly pronounced the bans. Mrs. Covelli managed a wan smile and murmured:

"I'm happy now. I want to live. I love you Dan."

Covelli tip-toed from the room. A few minutes later word was brought to him that his wife was dead.

One Number Out

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19 (C.P.)—Someone put his finger in the wrong hole of a telephone dial.

Here's $15 worth of bets," he told the person who answered.

"What number you calling?"

The caller gave the number and was advised he was one figure off.

Then Police Lieut. John Mahaffey, the "wrong number," put his finger on the right one. The alleged proprietor of a gambling house and $1,500 in cash were seized after police sawed through an iron grill.

THEATRE GUILD STAGES DRAMAS IN NUDIST CAMP

Group Indulges in Horseshoe Pitching and Crawling on Floor for Exercise.

FIRST EXPERIENCES.

Six Foot Swede, Owner of Farm, holds Out Against Undress.

By H. ALLEN SMITH.
U.P. Staff Correspondent

HIGHLAND, N.Y., Aug. 19—Amateur theatricals, horseshoe-pitching, swinging in hammocks and crawling on the floor for the purpose of straightening the spine—all done strictly in complete undress—are among the diversions at the big nudist camp outside Highland.

The camp was once a dairy and poultry farm. There are about eight or ten buildings scattered over the hillside, overlooking the lake. The main barn bears a crudely-printed sign, "Theatre Guild." Here on Saturday nights the nudists stage their little naked dramas, usually written by someone in the camp.

The nude actors are on a platform on one side of the barn and the naked audiences sit in the hay on the other.

What used to be the pigeon roost is now the kindergarten for half a dozen children. The duck house has been converted into a dormitory, in which both men and women sleep on cots, placed in two long rows. The basement of the duck house is called the incubator room, and still has its incubators, though not functioning.

One Man Clothed

C. A. Timmer, a six-foot Swede in overalls, owns the farm. He is known affectionately to the nudists as "Timmy." He has not yet been talked into disrobing, and goes about placidly with hammer and saw, repairing what needs to be repaired.

While "Timmy" doesn't go in for much talking, the nudists themselves will satisfy any conversational desires the visitor may have. One young man approached this correspondent, identified himself as a Cornell medical student, and said:

"Have you heard about our haemoglobin experiments? We are

TOO MUCH TO EXPECT.

The clerk in a shop in Scotland wrapped up the customer's parcel and deftly handed it to him.

"There you are, sir," he said, "and if the goods are not just to your liking we will cheerfuly refund the cash."

Farmer Giles sniffed.

"Don't ye tell me such a yarn, young man," he replied.

"Eh? What?" exclaimed the assistant, momentarily taken off his guard.

"Ye might gie me my money back," said the farmer, "but 'tain't human nature to be cheerful about doing it."

UNITED STATES EXTENDS DRIVE AGAINST CRIME

Five Wounded in Bank Robbery at Grand Haven, Mich.

$2,000 RECOVERED.

Crazed Tennessee Farmer Slays Three—Shoots Himself.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19. — (CP) — The United States went on today trying to crowd crime into a corner for a lethal blow—and crime fought back frantically.

The latest of several recent battles between criminals and the law spread itself on the records of the unending war between good and evil.

Four robbers held up a bank in Grand Haven, Mich. late yesterday. As they ran out with $2,000, a bank employee sounded a burglar alarm. Citizens rushed to the bank and there—in the street—battle flamed.

Five Are Wounded

Two bank employees, two bystanders and one robber were wounded. The robber was captured; his companions fled, but pursuit forced them to abandon their motor car and most of the $2,000.

Chicago sought to strike terror into criminals by sentencing 40 to prison yesterday.

Posses with bloodhounds and machine guns searched parts of Oklahoma Kansas and Arkansas for Leroy Wright, who is wanted in the Urschel kidnapping.

Approved By President

President Roosevelt gave approval to a "crusade against crime" under the direction of the United States Flag Association.

Shots in a churchyard wrote a strange finish to a Tennesse mountain tradegy that cost four lives. Clem Wright, crazed farmer, shot his father to death near Murfreesboro, slew two neighbors, wounded his brother and a companion and then, cornered in the churchyard, killed himself.

Chicago police identified two ex-convicts—Charles Connors and Basil Banghart—as the men who slipped away from 300 police Tuesday when a trap for the kidnappers of John (Jake the barber) Factor was sprung futilely.

Reunion

CHICAGO, Aug. 19. —(CP)— "Four and twenty blackbirds baked in a pie."

Joseph Johnson got an idea from the old nursery rhyme.

To his wife, Dorothy, in jail for possessing narcotics, Johnson brought a cherry pie. Inside, officers found a quantity of narcotics.

The cherry pie, that traditional strengthener of martial bonds, brought Mr. and Mrs. Johnson together today— in the custody of federal narcotic authorities.

KING'S MEDAL IS WON BY BURKE A SECOND TIME

Remarkable Score Under Service Condtions at Canadian Bisley.

KEEPS FIRST MONEY.

Medal Passes to Lieut. Coulter—Second by One Point.

OTTAWA, Aug. 19—(CP)—Lieut. Desmond Burke of Ottawa, former winner of the King's Prize, put on a remarkable score of 177 out of a possible 200 today to take first money in the King's Medal match, the most severe competition of the week at the Canadian Bisley.

Burke however has won the coveted gold medal, for the best shot in the army in Canada, before, so it went to Lieut. A. B. Coulter, also of the Governor-General's Foot Guards, Ottawa, who scored 172 and won $12. Capt. J. A. Betts of Halifax finished third with 169 to win $20.

The match was fired under service conditions, deliberate fire, rapid fire, snapshooting and firing with movement—with open sight service rifles and regular field uniform, and was completed just before 130 qualifiers went out to do battle for the Governor-General's prize, the classic of the meeting of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association, which will be completed this afternoon.

ABSENT-MINDED

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—(CP)— His wife, Alida, 27, charged Charles Dobner with being the champion absent minded husband in obtaining a divorce decree.

"He even forgot I was his wife and criticized me for trying to flirt with him on the street," she added.

MIDDLETON JUDGMENT APPEALED BY MATHER AND HOWSON

Case Involving Otonabee Farmers is Taken to Another Court.

PURCHASE OF STOCK.

Herbert C. Howson and Mervyn P. Mather of Otonabee have served W. H. Anderson with notice of appeal from the judgment of Mr. Justice Middleton delivered on June 6 last; reserving the decision of the local Master of the Supreme Court who found that the appellants were entitled to receive certain monies from Mr. Anderson. The action arose out of purchasers of stock several years ago.

The basis of the present appeal is set forth as follows.

1.—The learned Judge erred in finding that the Master took the account directed upon the basis that anything that was made belonged to the plaintiffs and that all losses belonged to the wrong doing of the defendant and the learned Judge should have found that the account taken by the Master was taken on the footing directed by the judgment pronounced at the trial of this action.

2.—In any event the learned Judge should have found that the defendant, by his conduct, estopped himself from charging the plaintiffs with any transactions except those as to which the defendant, at or about the time thereof, gave notice to the plaintiffs.

3.—That in the event that the learned Judge was right in finding that the account taken by the local Master was not the account directed by the judgment pronounced herein, that the learned Judge should have adopted the alternative account set out by the Master in the reasons for his report at page 46 thereof and subsequently or in the alternative should have referred the matter back to the Local Master for further findings, the defendant having in such event recovered to his own use the moneys and stocks of the plaintiffs.

That the findings of the learned Judge are contrary to the law and evidence and the weight of evidence.

77-Mile Swim

PADUCAH, Ky., Aug. 19.—(C.P.)—Clad in bathing suits, equiped with inner tubes and carrying sandwiches in fruit jars, Louis Lund, 20, and W. B. Bruce, 17, both of Paris, Tenn., scrambled ashore here after swiming from Danville, Tenn., 77½ miles up the Tennessee river.

They said they had left the water only twice en route—once when driftwood punctured their inner tubes, requiring patching, and again to buy candy. There were in the water 48 hours.

The only reason for their marathon swim was that friends had told them it couldn't be done.

MISSING MAN IS UNABLE TO TALK ON RETURN HOME

Disappearance For Week Still Remains a Complete Mystery to Family.

UNDER DOCTOR'S CARE.

Father Calls Off Extended Search By Friends on Thursday Night.

KAWARTHA PARK, August 19 (By Staff Reporter).—James Freeburn, aged 24, who has been hiding in the woods about the Young's Point district ever since his strange disappearance a week ago yesterday, returned home at 10.30 last night. But his disappearance still remains a complete mystery.

The young man seems to have lost his power of speech, and could not speak to his father, wife, and brothers when he walked into his anxious home circle last night. The Examiner was informed. Doctors will be called to the house to examine him.

At his father's request made on Thursday night all search for the missing young man was discontinued yesterday. The father thought that the searching and chasing of his son was but adding to his wild fright which has kept him hiding in the woods for the past seven days.

James Freeburn was seen several times, but like a wild thing took fright when anyone approached him and hid himself deep in the woods. The stopping of the search is believed to have made it possible for the young man to return to his home as he did last night.

2 TRUCKS CRASH SIX ARE KILLED

Passengers in One Returning From Chicago Fair, Are Strewn Over Road.

TEN HURT, MANY BADLY.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. August 19 (C.P.). — Six persons were killed and 10 others injured, several perhaps fatally, early to-day when a truck converted into a motorbus in which they were returning from an outing at the Chicago World's Fair was sideswiped and wrecked by another truck near here.

One side was torn off the makeshift bus, which careened wildly down the road, strewing its passengers, dead and injured, for a distance of several hundred feet before it went into a ditch.

The list of dead:

Mrs. Mary Whisler, 28; Gerald Messmor, 17; Kenneth Lechletener, 16; Wayne Pippinger, 14; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Berkey, both in their twenties.

All of the dead were from Kokomo, Ind., except Messmor, whose home was in Leesburg, Ind.

Twenty-eight young people had spent all day of Friday at the Century of Progress Exposition, and were laughing and singing when a heavy truck lumbering along from the opposite direction sideswiped their bus. Stopping only a moment after the collision, the other truck speeded on when it was apparent the bus had been badly damaged.

As the dead and injured were being removed, Sheriff Walter I. Ferguson, of St. Joseph County, and a score of deputies, South Bend policemen, and motorists who volunteered their services, took up the pursuit of the fleeing truck, which was Chicago-bound.

At Epworth Hospital here where the injured were brought, it was said the death list probably would be increased by one or two as the condition of several of the victims was critical.

TROPICAL GALES COST 44 LIVES

Storms Continue Menacing Trinidad, Jamaica, Where $3,000,000 Damage Done.

MANY BOATS SINK.

Tropical storms continued whirling menacingly about the Southern Atlantic today while reconstruction was attempted in the stricken areas of Trinidad and Jamaica in the midst of the more disastrous rainy season for many years.

Thousands of already distressed Jamaicans faced a water famine, floods having ripped up pipes in the cities of Kingston and St. Andrew, besides taking a toll of 44 lives and causing property damage estimated at nearly $3,000,000.

Governor Sir Ransford Slater was directing a relief fund personally, and supply stations were established in several districts but widespread suffering was reported as gangs of volunteers went about trying to clear debris and others followed in search of bodies of missing relatives who had been trapped by the floods from overflowing rivers and drowned like rats.

Although only the tail-end of the Jamaica storm struck Trinidad it was accompanied by high winds and heaviest rains since 1924. Three rivers overflowed their banks, inundating plantations, highways and gardens in the northern part of the island. Many boats were sunk and laden barges were driven ashore.

The southern section of Trinidad escaped lightly this time but new hardships were encountered in areas ravaged by a hurricane the last of June, when 14 persons died and property damage totalled $5,000,000.

Yesterday midsummer crops were reported as failures in districts where oil had spread over the land from pipes broken in the oil-fields by falling trees during the hurricane. In the Labrea district peasants were facing a shortage of bananas and staple food and planters were in despair.

HURON OFFICIAL FACES CHARGES

Action Against Former Treasurer Follows Audit—Creates Sensation.

$10,000 BAIL GRANTED.

GODERICH, August 19. — Gordon Young, 60-year-old treasurer of Huron County, was free last night on bail of $10,000 following his arrest yesterday on charges of theft, destruction and mutilation of books and records, and failing to account for moneys, the property of the county.

Young was arraigned before William Ballie, J.P., in the absence of Magistrate Reid at the Sarnia convention. He was not asked to plead or elect, but was freed on bail until August 25.

The door of the treasurer's office was padlocked last night and a guard placed outside. Yesterday Young's house was searched by the police and records seized.

Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of York, with her daughters, Princess Elizabeth (right), and Princess Margaret Rose, crossing the bridge at Glamis Castle Station, when they arrived for a mid-summer vacation recently. This is one of the rare pictures of the daughter-in-law of King George and Queen Mary, to be made. Princess Rose will be three years old, August 21.

UNLUCKY ROLE

HOLLYWOOD.—The second reported casualty among the actresses assigned to the leading role of Walter Winchell's movie came to-day when Lilyan Tashman was taken to hospital.

She took Peggy Joyce's place Wednesday after the much-married film player suffered a tonsilitis relapse. Miss Tashman was said to be troubled with adhesions after an appendectomy performed last October.

Blossom Seeley, stage star "blues" singer, stepped into the role.

TORTURE CELLS YIELD BODIES

Cuban Officers Find Remains of 4 Prisoners Taken Under Machado.

Chambers Under Fortress.

HAVANA, Aug. 19. (AP)—Cuba looked back to-day on an eventful week that saw the overthrow of one regime and the establishment of another, and had confidence in the new order.

Before the young administration, however, there remain several irksome problems—a harbor strike, threats of vengeance against Machadistas, and Communist agitation particularly in Santpago in Eastern Cuba, where Ogators attacked the De Oespedes government and clamorel for Communist recognition.

Digging in horse stables under Alares fortress army officers found the bodies of four men, their skulls crushed. Two of them had been missing about a year. At the fortress political prisoners during the Machado administration were confined.

The bodies, buried about four fee; underground were identified as those of a Cuban Negro leader, a 23-year-old student who disappeared from the Havana Emergency Hospital after being wounded in an exchange of shots with police, a man who had been arrested for activities against the overthrow regime, and another who had been arrested for plotting to kill Machado.

A stained iron bar, of about 10 pounds, with a bolt on one end, was discovered nearby.

Gaul Rodriquez Valdes, reputedly a member of the Porra strong arm squad of Machado, was arrested and taken to Principe prison after he fired on officers with a machine gun from a barricade in his home.

Cuban fortress held Colonel Manuel Benitez, Captain Gonzalez Quintana, and other army officers charged with misdeeds under Machado.

N.S. Political Chiefs Making Last Appeals

HALIFAX, Aug. 19. —(CP)— As Nova Scotia's election campaign moved into its final stages, outstanding figures in the electoral battle concentrated their fire on the province's larger centres of population. Premier Gordon S. Harrington spoke at Sydney, in the heart of industrial Nova Scotia, last night while opposition leader Angus L. MacDonald directed his appeal at a Halifax audience.

Election day, August 32, is fast approaching, and large crowds greeted both leaders with renewed enthusiasm.

Premier Harrington expressed confidence of a sweeping Conservative victory in his Sydney address. "The government, on its record and on its program for the future, should carry every seat," he declared. "But perhaps the result will not be quite so emphatic. There are, however, quite enough reasoning and right-minded people to assure us a splendid mandate to carry on the pogressive and useful works we have launched."

Contest Now Open To Campbellford

Campbellford readers will find the prize essay contest most interesting. Starting in this issue it will continue for several days. In The Examiner appear several articles written regarding firms of that section. In the last sentence of each article appears a question, which directly pertains to the firm written about. The contestants must obtain the answer to those questions, gather all available information about the firms' products and service, and write that information correctly and neatly, and send it to the Prize Essay Editor at The Examiner.

Prizes of three dollars in cash are offered for the best constructed essays that are submitted. All papers must be in the office by the third day following publication.

Le Moyne d'Iberville Raids James Bay Post

By J. H. MOSGROVE

FRANCE was making a bold bid for all America, except New Spain. The fur traders and the Jesuit missionaries had pushed westward from the St. Lawrence to the Mississippi, and north to the Arctic regions planting the cross and the arms of France, and taking possession of the vast territory in the name of Louis XIV.

When the fleur-de-lis waved defiantly over all, Quebec learned that the English were establishing fur posts on the Hudson Bay. Though England and France were at peace, the fur traders of New France asked permission for Chevalier de Troyes, veteran of a hundred wars, to raid the Hudson Bay, with the brothers of the family of Le Moyne, fire the forts, steal the furs and massacre the English.

It was a difficult task to undertake. Hudson Bay being many a hundred mile distant, unknown and mysterious. And it was the dead of winter. However, a courageous band of Frenchmen offered their services with only a vague promise of loot from the English posts. No feat of imagination can characterize the hardships of that overland journey from Montreal to Hudson Bay by that dauntless Robin Hood of the wilds, Le Moyne d'Iberville, and his intrepid wood-runners.

With only a blanket, a musket and a war-axe they began their arduous journey of over a thousand miles through a trackless forest. They followed the frozen river bed of the Ottawa, passing the heroic spot where Dollard had made his valiant stand twenty years before. The weather was cold and severe. They had no provisions and hunted as they went. Past the Mattawa, up the palisaded shores of the Temiscamingue to Lake Abbittibbi, the watershed between the St. Lawrence and Hudson Bay.

Then came spring, May, with calmer weather and fairer skies. The snow was honeycombed, making travelling difficult; the ice was leaving the streams. Here, a pause was made to construct canoes to float down the swelling current of Moose River, four hundred miles to James Bay. If the winter march up the Ottawa had been difficult, it was much more dangerous now. Unknown rapids and whirlpools tossed them helplessly about, wrecking them upon unchartered shoals and upsetting them in the icy waters. Still on they went sweeping the streams with death constantly before their eyes.

Then, on a June morning, the river widened into the broad expanse of James Bay, its waters extending ever northward reflecting the light of the summer's sun. On a point of land on the southwest corner of the bay stood the palisaded square of Moose Factory, its four bastions facing the four points of the compass, seemingly impenetrable. The long journey ended, the canoes were beached and hidden. The raiders stretched their cramped limbs and took refuge under the shadow of the gloomy forest, grimly waiting for the word of attack.

As the hours dragged along and it grew darker still, d'Iberville and his blood-thirsty band of Indians and Frenchmen stole silently from under the shadows of the fir and spruce and made their way stealthily toward the unsuspecting fort. Drawing near, d'Iberville halted the party while he and his brother went forward to reconnoitre the fort. With a quick glance they took in every detail, then silently melted into shadows again. A Jesuit priest held a crucifix aloft, absolving all from sin as the bowed worshippers crossed themselves in a sign of humble devotion. Then with an uncanny, blood-curdling yell the raiders swooped upon the sleeping post. d'Iberville and his brothers were over the rear pickets and across the courtyard, sword in hand, before the sleepy gunner at the gate could get his eyes open. The gates were rammed, the defences slashed and before the terrified servants realised what had happened, d'Iberville was the master of Moose Factory.

There was little glory and as little loot in the capture of Moose Factory. Eastward, a distance of 130 miles, was Rupert's Post. Northwest, some hundred miles, was Fort Albany, the citadel of the English fur trade. It was decided to attack Rupert first. Remaining only long enough to build a raft to convey the prisoners and the spoils, d'Iberville set out in advance to the next venture. On July 1, 1686, he caught sight of Rupert's bastions through the woods. Concealing his party, he went forward to survey the situation. To his delight a Company's ship lay at anchor with the H.B.C. ensign flying, signifying that the resident governor was aboard.

Choosing night as usual for the attack, d'Iberville stationed his men where they could fire on the decks if necessary, then glided across the water to the ship. Hand over fist he was up and over the side on the instant, rolling over the sentinel with a quick thrust of his sword. Three of the crew stumbled on deck at the sound of the disturbance, only to be sabered through. The fourth, the governor, surprised at the point of the gory sword, threw up his hands in an unconditional surrender. The din alarmed the fort. Gates were slammed shut. Muskets blazed through the embrasures with a withering fire that kept the raiders at a distance. Valiant, daring at all times, d'Iberville, with the aid of a pole, went scrambling up to the roof of one of the bastions like a monkey, and hacking at the rough thatch made a hole and threw down hand grenades upon the men below, driving them from their posts to the shelter of the main house within the yard. Undefended, the gates were battered down, and in no time d'Iberville was on the roof of the main building dropping bombs through the punctured thatch.

As he cast an ignited grenade from his hand he was horrified to see a terrified English woman rush helplessly into the room below, slamming the door shut behind her. Seeing her dangerous position, d'Iberville cried out a warning. The woman looked up and screamed and hysterically attempted to open the door when a terrific explosion rent the confined space drowning her cries. Dropping to the floor from the hole in the roof, he rushed through the smoke-filled room, and finding a candle in his pocket, dashing along the hallway from room to room, following a trail of blood to a partly opened door. Opening wide the door, he stepped within. The woman, with wide distended eyes, her hair dishevelled, her face cloated with blood, screamed in terror and fell fainting at his feet with a shattered hip. Lifting her gently in his arms, he carried her to nearby bed, calling the priest and surgeon to tend her injuries.

Confusion was now at its height. Blood flowed deep. Blade rang against blade. Knowing the piratical disposition of his band of men and women alike, he drew his sword and barred the doorway against the ravages of fighting horde; while the priest and doctor, under the light of a flickering candle, eased the sufferer's wounds.

Thus Rupert fell and Albany followed, and in no little time by piratical stratagem d'Iberville was the master of the Bay.

Cathedral Musings

AMONG all the fears, born of ignorance, that afflict mankind none has less foundation in reality than the fear of so-called "death." The Master said, "He that liveth and believeth in Me shall never die." That is a cold, sober statement of fact, for such a one, living in the Christ, is already living in two worlds, the spiritual and the material, "death" to him is but the shifting of the plane of consciousness wholly to the spiritual world instead of but in part.

We must remember that the aspect of everything varies with the viewpoint and "death" is no exception. From the viewpoint of the real Self, made in the image and likeness of God, our life here is but a form of death, and what we mistakenly regard as death is in reality birth. Like the two sides of a coin, "birth" and "death" are but the two sides of the unity of life. —The Wisdom of the Rosicrucians, Prater 9.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Religious and Social Questions Answered

By DR. WYLIE CLARK

Is there any possibility of reconciling all the miseries of life with the goodness of God? — J.B.O.

This is a very old problem. It has puzzled the brain of many a thinker. It has distressed multitudes of pious souls. It has written itself into the literature of the ages.

Dr. Wylie Clark

Says one writer: "I should not like to be God and hear the cry of pain from the whole conscious creation, and know that I had called such a rueful world into existence. It would break my heart."

Many a thinker has had his faith sorely shattered by the appearing cruelty of creation. Not alone among the lower animals is the struggle unto death carried out to the bitter end by the strong conquering; but also among men. The inferior races have been abused and enslaved. The innocent have been accused and the accusers have triumphed, and search as we may, it is impossible to find compensating facts such as will satisfy our sense of justice and goodness.

What shall we say to this and much more that has been said and written? We must not confuse the freedom of all life to act for itself and the over-ruling sovereignty of God. In this right of life to act for itself perhaps lies the whole cause for suffering. If this cause were to be removed and freedom withdrawn, life would no longer be life, it would be dead slavery—a grooved monotony. We have also to remember that what we call pain and suffering is greatly magnified by our methods of interpretation. I am quite sure that a very great deal of it is only in the imagination.

Again if life were painless we would be glad to settle down, and be as we are, with no incentive to seek anything above or beyond ourselves. Goodness, we learn, is better than happiness. Suffering becomes the great cleanser which makes it possible to heal the wound and re-lift the whole life.

In Christ we find an orderly purpose running through life which is controlled by infinite love and whose end, in the face of all adversity, is good.

How many women in the New Testament are called Mary and How are they distinguished?— Mary B.

1. Mary the mother of Jesus called the Virgin Mary.

2. Mary Magdalene—the one out of whom Jesus cast the seven devils. This Mary is sometimes held to be the same as Mary of Bethany; but the evidence is not convincing.

3. Mary the mother of James and Joses, wife of Clopas, was at the Crucifixion.

4. Mary of Bethany, sister of Martha and Lazarus.

5. Mary the mother of Mark was the owner of the house where the disciples met for prayer when Peter was cast into prison.

6. Mary the friend of Paul was an active Christian in Rome.

Not In Use

ONE of the bridges that span the river Thames upon which London, the capital of England, is situated is said to hold, buried in a block of granite somewhere, a number of sovereigns, gold coins worth more than $5.00 each, placed there one hundred and twenty-five years ago when the bridge was built. This bridge is about to be taken down to give place to a new structure, and the question has been asked, "What chance will there be of finding this money?" Should it be found each sovereign will be worth about 27s. 9d., nearly $6.00, and if one were to multiply this sum by the number of sovereigns, which at the present time is unknown, he would know the value of this hidden treasure. However, he would find no more coins than were put in.

If, instead of burying this money in the masonry of the bridge, the original owner had put it to use, or as we say, invested it at four per cent. and left it to accumulate, instead of each sovereign being worth 27s. 9d., its value would now be £100 or 2000s.

If a story told by Jesus to a company of his eager listeners, which is recorded in Matt. 25:14-13, has not been fully understood, each of us should read it afresh and then put this story beside it and he will discover how very, very wise and helpful Jesus' message is.—R.

Prosperity is the natural reward of industry.

True Power

KINDNESS wins where coercion fails. Sympathy smoothes out difficulties and disarms antagonism. The supreme qualities of kindness and gentleness can be rapidly cultivated by close attention to little things. They grow through use. It is erroneous to think of gentleness as necessarily weak and timid. In the truest sense gentleness is power and poise. It is positive virtue reaching out to understand, help and encourage. It is eloquent evidence of nobility of soul.

Sympathy and gentleness are safeguards against selfishness. Three valuable personal qualities are kindness, gentleness and sympathy. The time you devote to cultivating these virtues will give breadth to your character, and help to shape your life toward noble ends.—Grenville Gleiser.

A depth of reverential feeling and a solemnity of thought in the presence of great truths are marks of lofty minds.

Christ's simple record of three short years of active life has done more to regenerate and to soften mankind than all the disquisitions of philosophers and the exhortations of moralists.

Thy Will Be Done

SOME people seem to think that they should pray in order to get their desires fulfilled, even their selfish purposes carried out. But prayer is to work the will of man only as it works the will of God. The purpose of prayer then is not first of all to get man's will done, but God's. About the highest conception that some people have of prayer is that it is a means of persuading a reluctant or unwilling God to bestow some special favor on the man who prays.

But evidently Jesus did not think of it that way. He thought rather of prayer as furnishing an opportunity for God's will to be done. In fact, that is the primary purpose of prayer. We are to pray, "Thy will be done." Jesus in the Garden prayed, "Not My will, but Thine be done." The first thing in the Christian life is the will of God. A man is saved when he accepts the will of God. The purpose of the Christian's life should always be to do the will of God. In praying we should pray that God's will shall be done.

This, however, is more than passive submission. The will of God for our lives is not simply something to be suffered or submitted to. It is a program of activity. So in prayer. We are not simply to submit passively in prayer. We are first of all to line our wills up with God and His will and pray with all the energy of our souls for His will to be done. We are to pray for men to be saved, because God wants them saved.

This helps us to understand that God is the origination of all true prayer. What He grants in prayer He desired before we did. Our intercession with Him is the intercession of the Spirit of God in our behalf (Rom. 8:26-27). Because of our ignorance and weakness He makes intercession for us with groanings that can not be uttered. He puts into our hearts the unutterable longings that we try to express in our prayers. This intercession of the Spirit is the only hope of our ever praying according to the mind of God so that He can hear and answer us.

This conception of prayer as the means of getting God's will done in earth removes an objection that is sometimes expressed and perhaps more often felt without being expressed. That objection is that it makes God the puppet of man and man could therefore order God to do anything that he (man) desired. But when we see it as Jesus did, this objection does not hold. Prayer is not a means of satisfying the whims of man or of realizing his selfish purposes. It is a means of glorifying God by bringing to pass His glorious will of good on earth.

This means that, if we want to pray, we must "tune in" with God. If our wills are not in line with His, our wills will only be thwarted and disappointed. If we want God to hear us we must first hear Him. In dealing with God we must listen as well as talk. Some people want to do all the talking. In that case their talking is all in vain.—Rev. Dr. W. T. Connor.

We conquer by continuing.

"Early Leaders of Israel—Samuel" — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—I Samuel, chapters 3, 7, 12.

The child Samuel easily might have been spoiled in the household of Eli just as Eli's own sons, Hophni and Phinehas, who were as wicked as any young men to be found. But he continued the good habits of prayer taught him by his praying mother, Hannah, and grew up to be a good and great man of God.

Samuel's duties as a child in the house of the Lord were very simple. They consisted in opening and closing the doors and caring for the lamps in the tabernacle then located at Shiloh. 2 By faithfulness in these he was trained to become the nation's greatest judge by whom its first kings were appointed.

As a child Samuel was called of God as he slept. At first he mistook the call for the voice of Eli, but at last answered, "Speak, Lord, for thy servant heareth". 4 Then God revealed to Samuel the downfall of Eli's family because of his sons' wickedness. All this Samuel reported faithfully to Eli next morning.

GOLDEN TEXT—I Samuel 12:20.

In his old age Samuel was greatly saddened by the people's demand for a king. But at God's command he acceded to their demand and anointed Saul as their king. His farewell address reminded the nation of his faithfulness and their fickleness. From childhood to old age Samuel "wore the white flower of a blameless life."

Blessings of To-day

IN our anxious care for the morrow, we fail to enjoy the blessings of to-day; we spend our lives anticipating, but not realizing; for as soon as we have reached a desired point, we see beyond us something to reach after which we believe to be necessary to our happiness. If we have not the spirit of contentment to-day, we are never likely to have it. If we pass by the unused resources of to-day we are likely to do the same to-morrow, thus making all our days barren of the joy and satisfaction which come from having made the most of the day's gifts.—Louis Haywood.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 19, 1933

A VETERAN CITIZEN GONE.

Another of Peterborough's old guard passed yesterday in the death of John Nugent, retired druggist.

A resident of the city for close unto half a century, Mr. Nuge nt was widely known here and in the surrounding district. In his many years of business he had established a reputation for the honesty of his dealings, the quality of his products and his skill as a druggist; some of his preparations were and st. are household names in this part of Ontario.

Mr. Nugent was no less widely known for his connection with and interest in Oddfellowship; for over fifty years he was an Oddfellow and played a prominent part in the activities of the order, up to the time that failing health made it necessary for him to leave the task to younger hands.

A genial, friendly personality with a warm interest in those with whom he came into contact, and a kind greeting for everybody made John Nugent a familiar figure in this community, and the community in general heard with regret that he had finally surrendered to death's call.

The ranks of old-time residents are rapidly thinning; Mr. Nugent's passing leaves a conspicuous gap therein.

A PROMISING PLAN.

That New York magistrate who is punishing those who throw litter about the city parks by sentencing them to spend an hour picking up paper in the place where they committed the offence has hit upon an idea that might be profitably employed everywhere.

They are found all over the continent, and we in this district, alas, have our share of them.

The people who leave the remains of their picnic lunch scattered around the grass, who throw banana peels, peanut shells and paper bags round city parks, who carelessly toss empty tin cans and broken glass into lake or river to menace bathers, and who show little or no regard for the property rights of others, particularly when they are enjoying an outing in the country, would be materially improved, it is to be fancied, by the treatment handed out by the New York magistrate to similar offenders.

It would be poetic justice if the law were to step in just as they had finished their litter-throwing task and compelled them to spend an hour or two picking up paper and retrieving tins and glass from the beach.

It is a problem as old as humanity almost, and the New York cadi is about the first to arrive at a workable plan of dealing with the situation; his punishment would seem to fit the crime thoroughly.

A RAILWAY STRIKE UNTHINKABLE.

Most people will agree with the Ottawa Journal that a strike on Canadian railways at this time is unthinkable.

Under any conditions a strike is a losing proposition all round, and in the present financial crisis a railway strike in Canada would be a disaster that would injure the railways, their employees and the whole country.

At a time when the Dominion is exerting every effort to raise herself out of the slough of depression and to work back to normal conditions, the thought that the railway systems of the country may be tied up even for a short time is indeed alarming to those who realize what would be entailed in such a disturbing development.

The Journal points out that the threatened strike in the coal mining areas of Wales furnishes a warning as to the dire results of tieups of this kind.

A stoppage of Welsh mining activity at this time would, among other things, cause the loss of the Canadian market for Welsh coal, which has been developing splendidly and would mean, of course, a permanent loss to both operators and employees.

As the Journal says in reference to the possibility of a Canadian railway strike, "the men may be right or the railways may be right, or both may be partially right—that is not the point. The point is, that no matter which side is the right side there isn't sufficient of right of wrong on any one side to justify a strike."

THE CONSUMER PAYS.

The statement of United States Secretary of Agriculture Wallace that the Roosevelt Government is prepared to subsidize wheat exports if this step is needed to protect the American wheat producers from surplusses that might depress prices, is in line with the Roosevelt program and will occasion no surprise.

At the same time, however, the announcement gives added point to the questions that are being asked as to who will ultimately have to pay these heavy bills that Mr. Roosevelt is ready to run up for the benefit of trade agriculture.

The big feature of the Roosevelt plan of campaign is that commodity prices are to be raised all along the line, and when that is sifted down there is no doubt that the consumer, who apparently is the real "forgott en man," will have to do the paying. That is clear and inescapable.

The New York Times, remarking that the shelling out will have to be done by the consumer, says:

"There is no use of lamenting this. It is simply a necessary result of the emotional campaign for more work and higher wages now going on all over the country. Employers and corporations are asked to take great risks and make immediate sacrifices. They are doing so in a fine spirit of co-operation. But in the end, if the plan succeeds, there must be profits out of which to pay higher wages; these profits must result in increased costs of production, while they, in turn, will inevitably mean higher prices. Then the consumer, with or without larger purchasing power in his pocket, will be, as so often before, the man who pays."

SILOS AND SOUTHEASE.

The traveller returning to England after a voyage of discovery in America is instantly and overwhelmingly struck by the differences between his small, shut country and that unreasonably vast and open continent. This observation, which I have recently had occasion to make for myself, may be trite; it may be obvious, but it is at any rate poignant. The absence of hedges, fences, walls; the disregard for privacy; the consequent lack of intimacy; the absence of an old, mellow and local tradition; the absence, perhaps above all, of aged buildings, whether the lichened barn, the secret manorhouse, or the haphazard village—these things compel the English traveller to look upon his own island with a new and gladdened eye. How can the plains of Kansas compare with Romney Marsh, and who would exchange little Southease for all the silo towers of Omaha?—V. Sackville-West in the London Spectator.

PUNISHING GERMANY.

Mr. Samuel Untermeyer, the distinguished New York lawyer who presided at the recent International Jewish conference in Amsterdam, reveals, on his return, some of the methods by which powerful Jewish interests plan to combat Hitlerism.

"Our campaign is two-fold," he said at New York, "defensive and constructive. On the defensive side will be the economic boycott against all German goods, shipping and services. On the constructive side will be an appeal to the League of Nations to construe and enforce the labor union provisions of the Treaty of Versailles and the written promises made by Germany, while the treaty was under negotiation, to protect its minorities which have been flagrantly violated by a disfranchisement and persecution of the German Jews."

Perhaps the appeal to the League of Nations may be a slender reed on which to rest Jewish hopes, but there can be no doubt about the potential effectiveness of the boycott. There are millions of Jews in the world and, more than that, there are millions of Gentiles whose sympathies are with the Jewish people and against each and every movement of the type launched by Adolf Hitler in Germany. These millions of Jews and these other millions of sympathizers, working with a common purpose, can deal a blow to German business, German prosperity and Germany generally that would be sufficient in its intensity to drive Hitler from power at the hands of an enraged people. All that is needed is a proper form of organization. Its possible effectiveness cannot be a matter of doubt.

If this movement takes world-wide shape—and there are indications that it will—Germany is likely to rue the day that brought Adolf Hitler in from Austria and permitted this fiery, self-seeking political upstart to sweep the German people from their feet and initiate a program which, for sheer absurdity, let alone sadness and cruelty, is about the last word. It will be "curtains" for Adolf then.—Border Cities Star.

WORKING FOR RELIEF.

The test case of a man who had refused to work for the relief provided by the city of Stratford resulted in suspended sentence. There were court costs of $17 connected with the case, and these were assessed against the defendant. Considering that the man did not have $17, and also that he would have plenty of use for any money he might secure, the court very properly deleted that amount.

The charge was brought under the provisions of the Criminal Code, and was one of failing to make provision for wife and family; there is also a clause in that bit of law which makes provision for a man being exempt who can provide excuse for failing to make such provision.

The city took the ground that by complying with the order that men on relief do two days' work per week the defendant would have had placed at his disposal the means for making provision for those dependent on him. The magistrate considered that the way had been opened for the man to secure a livelihood and that he had refused to accept the work offered.

There are those who argue that the city, in normal times, is an employer of labor, and that work done now should be paid for in cash in the usual way. The time will come, and we hope it comes sooner than we expect, when that condition will again be established.

In the meantime the city must make provision for more men than it can engage in the ordinary way. The city has actually to take the place of many other employers of labor who have not been able to keep their men engaged, and that is why there has been a departure from the ordinary methods of hiring men for the Board of Works and other departments in the regular way. If a man is performing useful and necessary work for the city for two days per week for the relief he receives, then he is coming fairly close to paying his own way in a good many cases, and cannot actually be said to be receiving relief in the accepted meaning of that term.

We think that recording a conviction and then granting suspended sentence was the proper course for the magistrate to take. It is well to remember that these are unusual times, and the desire of the citizens is that their City Council should make it possible that none of our people be in want. In order to make any plan operative to cover such a situation there must be mutual understanding between the city and those who are being assisted.

There are many points where the written law does not apply, because there is no written law to cover much of such a situation as we now face. Compared to the experience in other places, there has been comparatively little friction in Stratford, and that is the basis on which we hope to continue until such time as men begin the delightful experience of dropping off the relief list and turning to other forms of employment. We are certain they will need no urging to do this when the opportunity presents.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson is back in Toronto ready, he says, for the Canadian National Exhibition, but so far there is no mention of politics in connection with his visit.

Toronto police have no reason to complain of lack of work. The Swastika movement is the latest thorn in the side of the Queen City's finest.

With the Ontario open championship scheduled for Peterborough, this city is beginning to win a place on the golfing map.

Scanty bathing costumes in several Canadian centres are worrying the municipal authorities—surely not very much to get concerned about.

The West is no longer frontier country. Neepawa, Manitoba, celebrated its one-land jubilee this summer.

VACATION ESCAPADE

By ARTHUR SHUMWAY

CHAPTER 1

"DIXIE FLYER" said the round bull's-eye sign on the brass rail of the observation car. The words, lighted from within, glowed warmly. They were a welcome sight to Sally Gwynne as she passed through the gate of the Dearborn station and felt the chill of the train shed. They were a promise of escape from her cheap room in Chicago, from the raw, slushy Lake Michigan winter, from days of job-hunting in late November with the inadequate protection of a worn brown fall coat. The cheerful sign scattered these considerations and brought in their place pleasant pictures of leaning palm trees, Spanish houses, warm, dreamy rivers and bright sun on foaming white surf.

For the first time in her twenty years Sally was enjoying the train-time excitement that possesses one about to make a rather long trip. She was at once bewildered and stimulated by the hurrying travelers, the blue-uniformed trainmen and the strange sounds of the station. When a red-cap loomed up with a broad, solicitous smile on his friendly brown face she gave an involuntary start.

"Carry yo' bag, miss "

Before her recently engendered instinct of frugality could protest Sally had handed him her inexpensive black suitcase and was hurrying after him as he loped professionally through the confusing jumble of people and baggage.

When she reached the Pullman to which she had been assigned, a tall, unbelievably sooty porter with unbelievably white teeth took the bag and led her to her berth which was already made up. Sitting on the edge of the clean-smelling folding bed getting her night things ready for a trip to the washroom Sally remembered the last and only other time she had travelled on a Pullman. It had been two years before when she and Alice Pearce left their little home twon of Barton, O., to go to Chicago on their own in search of the big job and the bright adventure.

Now Alice Pearce was Mrs. Waldo Beresford of Evanston, the wife of a young bond salesman from an old family, and she Sally Gwynne, who never could rest until she had tried her wings in the big city, was leaving it by herself this November night, going to Florida to a thrilling and vaguely mysterious new job. Sally hunched up her slender shoulders at the thought and smiled to herself.

In the washroom she looked at the frank young face in the mirror and asked herself if all this could be true, if this slim girl en route to Florida on the Dixie Flyer could be Sally Gwynne, stenographer, of whom the 1929 annual of the Barton township high school had said: "For her this life will never grow stale?"

Now at twenty, Sally was as cool and dauntless as the blue lake by the smoky city, and as hopeful, as vital and as competent as that young city itself. And still she was feminine; she was slender; pretty; twenty. She had been called beautiful, yes, by young men who would have been glad to back that praise with their fists, but she always had rather discounted their judgment, deducting a generous percentage of prejudice. She was not beautiful as her favorite movie stars were beautiful, but few men, young or old, failed to take a second over-the-shoulder glance when she went by in one of her few smart outfits.

She lingered with her toilet, enjoying the sensation of being a traveller. Florida was still a fairy-land place of motion pictures and books. All she know was that in her bag was a letter from John Kemble Proctor telling her to report at his home in Daytona Beach on Nov. 27, to begin work as his secretary at a salary of forty-five dollars a week.

It had been hard to believe. Especially these days. Forty-five a week; John Kemble Proctor, the eccentric old millionaire antiquarian, the former "Lion of La Salle street' and political leader!

Sally was still dazed by the suddeness of her good fortune. Two weeks ago on a cold, rainy Sunday afternoon she had sat in her room with a borrowed typewriter writing letters of application. When she was about to quit she came upon one:

Private Secretary—Retired Chicago business man, collector, wants a private secretary willing to travel. Must be 21 or over, well educated, good letter-writer, neat, tactful, well recommended. Tell all in first letter and make it a good one. Address X-475."

She was about to pass over it when she hesitated. She always had been willing to take a chance. Why not now when it meant only another letter, another stamp? She was not a private secretary; she was a stenographer. But it was the sam thing; she could write a good letter, she was tactful and level-headed and a good typist. Well educated? As well as most girls who had gone on reading and studying after high school. Twenty-one? Close to it. She was neat and she was well recommended and the invitation to tell all in first letter and make it a good one" piqued her sporting instinct. More important, she certainly wanted to travel. So she had answered the letter and had promptly forgotten it.

When the answer came at the end of a rainy, disheartening day she had felt giddy. It was from John Kemble Proctor, no less, at his winter home in Daytona Beach, Florida, and she was to report on Nov. 27. He had liked her letter, her frankness in admitting that she did not exactly meet all the qualifications. A ticket would be waiting at the Dearborn street station.

She walked down the soft aisle, back to her berth. Sitting sidewise on her bed, she tucked her clothing into the little hammock-like net hanging by the window, turned on the reading lamp above her pillow and got out a magazine. She noticed that since she had come aboard the berth across the aisle had been made up and now a handsome light-tan English kit-bag stood on the bed. Sally leaned forward and read the little metal initials. The were T. L. C.

T. L. C. A man cerainly; that kit-bag was as masculine and as English as a tweed suit or a briar pipe. T. L. C. Thornwood L. Cavanaugh? Maybe. And the L. was for Laurance spelled with a U. Thornwood Laurance Cavanaugh.

This Thornwood Laurance Cavanaugh was tall and lean like Gary Cooper yet as English as Clive Brook. He wore loose brown tweeds a raglan Burberry coat, Scotch brogues and smoked a mellowly stained briar. He was young, yet not too young to have fought in the Royal Flying Corps. His lean face was browned by the scorching sun of—Egypt? South Africa? No, India where he had been hunting and playing polo.

Now he was on his way to Florida to catch tarpon. Then he would go to Havana and later down to Rio. No doubt, like the Prince of Wales, he had a ranch in western Canada. He would return to it in the spring this Thornwood L. Cavanaugh, a romantic, lonely figure. Of course, he would be lonely. Thornwood L. Cavanaughs were never married. Very much the contrary they were wandering the earth to forget the only girl in the world who had married the worthless son of an earl.

Footsteps were coming down the aisle, distinctly masculine footsteps. Sally gave her hair a pat, drew the curtains back a little, threw the covers over her legs and pretended to be reading the magazine. She looked up. It was he, Thornwood L. Cavanaugh, the world wanderer. His back was to her. She took him in. He was not as tall as she had imagined, but tall enough. His hair was right: dark and curly, kinkly almost. His dressing gown was a shapeless old garment of worn brown flannel. Going down, Sally's eyes encountered the pajamas, or rather the legs of them that protruded below the startlingly abbreviated robe. She swallowed hard. Such pajamas! Stripes, broad vertical stripes of bright red alternating with flagrant pink.

Sally sighed and drew the curtains together. Her lean, bronzed young Englishman never would have worn such pajamas. Nobody would have worn such pajamas.

NEWS OF OUR OWN VILLAGE

Geo. Gimblett, our busy fire chief, will cut quite a dash before the visiting firemen with his new red horseless carriage when the lads convene in this enterprising village later in the month, we opine.

G. Sarazen and J. Kirkwood, 2 golfers from the U.S.A., south of here, did some lively didoes on the Golf and Country Club's links Wed. and many who seen the lads perform predicts a bright future for the same.

Geo. Wade and his musikans from Toronto, west of here, played at a street dance in Lakefield, north of us, Mon. nite, and the doings was a big success, thereby fooling plenty of folks which said that you couldn't find enough level road in Lakefield to hold a hop on.

If they is enough bathers' votes, Fred Tuggey, our worthy alderman, is already re-elected. Fred oughta float in, owing to the diving platform and other fixings he's provided for the old swimimng hole at the Jacks.

Owing to O. Langley, our busy cadi, being away at Sarnia, west of here, this week, justice is being dished out by Vin Eastwood, Bill Bullen and Bob Cotton, and skulduggery is being dealt with as usual, we hasten to warn local and wandering miscreants.

Mitch Hepburn held a birthday party the other day in Elgin county, well to the west of us, but none of the village Tories, so far as your scribe can learn, even sent Mitch a birthday card.

Figger out those Christmas shopping days for yourself this week, some one having pinched your scribe's calendar.

DIGNITY IN ALL HIS SERVICES

Fred Scott of Millbrook is a Most Capable Funeral Director.

Fred Scott may be depended upon to take care of all practical matters when the mind is burdened with grief. There will be not the slightest need for worry if the details are turned over to his establishment. He may be trusted with all the little duties of helpfulness and their services will be more that of sympathetic friends than professionals. They are well versed in all the details of the various funeral services. This, together with their innate ability to grasp each individual case, has made their services indispensable to the people who care.

Every department of their service has been organized with the idea of providing an individual service suited to the requirements of each case. The most personal matters may be trusted with them, and one has the assurance that the confidence will be respected.

It is the aim of Fred Scott to supply the people of Millbrook and environs with all the comforts and conveniences that make for the home ideal. Their stock of furniture represents a complete outlay of everything for the home. They are indeed Millbrook's leading furniture store, specializing in assisting the citizens to furnish their homes in an attractive and up-to-date manner that makes them more contented—and hence more efficient.

The funeral services of this institution are most desirable and complete and their equippage most distinctive. Their equipment also includes a motor ambulance of the latest design. Mr. Fred Scott the owner and manager has taken great pride in rendering a most courteous and satisfactory service. The people of Millbrook and environs are fortunate in having a man of his ability and resourcefulness in this profession. His establishment is worthy of commendation for the admirable manner in which they have served their patrons.

Do you know how long this firm has rendered service to the people of this section?

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

A CAMP MEETING CATASTROPHE

Tomorrow will be the anniversary of one of the most tragic events in the history of the Bay of Quinte district. On Sunday, August 20th, 1819, ten young people stepped into a boat to cross Hay Bay to attend quarterly service at the old church across the lake. They sang hymns as they embarked and as the boat made its way over the water; the craft sprang a leak; it was unnoticed; the thoughts of the travellers were on the religious festival they were to join and their voices were filled with praise of the Redeemer whom they were about to honor. No one observed the leak; drop by drop the water entered; the shore was near, when, suddenly the boat sank under the travellers who went down in deep water.

A prayer meeting had just begun; someone offered a prayer that the day might be long remembered; there was a shriek from a witness of the sinking; prayer was interrupted; the meeting scattered. Some regardless of clothing, dashed into the water to save the drowning; but they were to late. All on the boat perished. Nine bodies were recovered that day after hours of dragging; one body was not found until next morning. Two young men and eight girls had been suddenly summoned to meet their Maker.

The program for the day's religious activities was abandoned; the time was needed to comfort those bereaved and to spread the news of the disaster far and wide. Sorrow stalked suddenly into homes which had sent their young people off with parental blessing to the camp meeting and quarterly service. Ten funerals were held as one the next day. There were two Detlors, Peter Bogert, one Roblin, one McCoy, one Clarke, one Madden and one Cole, and two Germans, Jane and John, descendants of Christopher German an original Loyalist in 1784, the brother being drowned while trying to save his sister who could not swim. Rev. Mr. Puqer, taking for his text: "I know that my Redeemer liveth," stood at the church door striving to preach to those within and without, for all the countryside had assembled, but the spectacle of the line of coffins, the weeping parents and relatives, was too much for him. He could not proceed, and the victims were buried without their funeral orations. Prayers and psalms replaced the sermon. Each coffin was opened so that the parents and friends could take a farewell look at their faces, and then closed with a final prayer. Six new graves were filled; the others were interred in family plots; and the multitude dispersed to their homes, where for generation after generation the story of that tragic August day has been handed down even unto this time.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyist for the Readers of The Examiner.

Jean E. Edwards,
584½ Harvey St., City.

Your handwriting shows a fantastic disposition. You seem to be excitable and try not to appear nervous. Your mind has a tendency to enlarge upon things, till you seem to represent them differently to what they really are.

Your imagination is vivid, and often takes you away beyond realities. You have an artistic temperament which might be developed to advantage, though it does not seem to interest you enough to make it a life work. Cutting and measuring seem to apply to your type. This, of course, might suggest many lines of endeavour, such as interior decorating, window dressing, dressmaking. Then again your faculty for mental measuring could be used to advantage in office rutine, where time is measured for what it is worth.

I have suggested these occupations, as an aid to you in the event of a change of occupation becoming necessary. You do not seem to be afraid to work, but there is a propensity to long for something better. Leadership is noted in the long lower loops, and this should encourage you towards progress. You are a fastidious dresser, and desire colors suitable to your moods.

Miss E. P. Delahaye,
550 Bethune St., City.

Your handwriting shows that you belong to the type of people who know what they want, and you seem to be able to express your feelings in no uncertain terms. As a rule you are happy-go-lucky and humorous. You love change, and should be delighted to engage in social affairs in the community in which you reside.

Your large rounded capital 'A' shows that you are fond of flowers and music. There is a spirit of leadership note in the firm downward pressure in your writing.

You respond to kindness, and would almost anything in the world for someone who has shown you kindness and sympathy. Your nature which, is rather versatile, ingenious and restless, really does require a lot more appreciation and flattery, than mere monetary recompense could bring you.

You are progressive, diligent and very industrious. You appear to desire to fill each moment of the day with more than your share of activity. Your general character is excellent.

Emma M. Johnston,
R.R. 5, Peterborough.

Your handwriting depicts a genial personality. You are a very interesting and versatile lady. You take your time when doing tasks of importance, and exercise the utmost patience, therefore you generally accomplish the work with neatness and to perfection. Dressmaking should appeal to you, or anything in the nature of sewing where infinite patience is required. You like to see the work of your clever hands, grow into a finished product. Perhaps you have not as yet given this characteristic much thought, if not, you will now understand why you feel inclined to fashion new things for yourself every little while. This is a creative instinct, and is of an artistic nature. Although you have the inclination to accomplish, and perhaps have not done so, there is no logical reason why you should not commence NOW and obey that impulse. Practice makes perfect. And it would be a pity for you to let that genuine talent of yours remain dormant. Teaching ability is also noted in the writing, so you may be able to encourage others who are less fortunate than yourself.

Winnifred H. Wallwark,
Western Ave., City.

This writing shows that you are inclined to undertake many projects, but carry out only a few. Your intentions are good, but the round-about way you have of arriving at conclusions is not quite as fortunate as you would like. It appears to me, that you have 'too many irons in the fire' at one time, and often become frantic and exasperated when you do not know which way to turn. People of your type often require a mental rest or vacation in order to allow them to gather up the tangled ends of plans, ideals and broken rest, this usually restores courage.

You seem rather prone to resent harsh words. Your feelings are keenly sensitive. If you make a promise and do not keep it. It is because circumstances over which you have no control interfered and caused you to neglect it. You should be fond of music, but like everything else. Too much tires you.

Loura Davidson, Morganston,
Colborne, Ont.

Your writing indicates that you are kindhearted and very sympathetic. Your mind is clever and alert. The rounded loops in your writing suggest music. Some capitals reveal artistic tendencies. You are sensitive to a degree, regarding refinement and good taste, but you are not aggressive or presumptuous about it. You are modest and unassuming. Your perceptions are intelligent, and you have a natural courteous perspicacity in issuing orders.

You are fond of demonstrating your ability to create harmony through your good taste, either in arranging color schemes, or social events. Household appointments must be exquisite in order to please you. You should be gifted with the power to impart knowledge to others, through the ability you have of retaining thoughts and facts, in your talented retentive brain. You are quite conservative and thrifty. You are industrious and economical gracious and pleasing, a splendid manager, and a delightfully refreshing hostess.

MUCH SELLING CANUCK MARTS IN PAST WEEK

Traders Anxiously Watching Action of Grain Prices at Chicago.

A STEADY DECLINE.

Trading Much heavier During Present Summer Than Other Years.

(By Alex Pringle, Canadian Press Financial Writer)

TORONTO, Aug. 19—Patrons of Canadian and United stock and commodity markets were kept in a jumpy state this week by reports that the national recovery act was beginning to limp badly, presaging another price break and by others, more detailed than ever, that inflation was just around the corner and stocks might go sky-rocketing at any moment.

The fact that Washington is gravely concerned over the action of Chicago wheat prices and that wheat gave the signal for a sharp recovery on Thursday, convinced a lot of people that Chicago had heard something of a reassuring nature from Washington. The fall of the U.S. dollar at the same time in London tended to support the conclusion.

Much Selling

Aside from cause and effect, inflation or no inflation, there seemed to be plenty of stock for sale after prices got up to a fair level in the closing session of the week. Selling orders piled up and the ticker ran much faster on the decline than it did on Thursday on the rise.

The movement of stocks since the break of July 19 has given a remarkable imitation of the market's course following the break of last summer. In the 24 sessions of the New York exchange since the top was reached on July 18 last, the standard statistical averages have suffered a maximum drop of 21 per cent, going from 96.9 to 76.5. That was exactly the percentage of the decline in the first 24 sessions after the 1932 top was reached on September 7, the fall then being from 73.9 to 58.3.

Heavier Trading

Trading has continued in much heavier volume on Canadian exchanges through the summer holidays this year than in the two previous summers. Buying has been good in Base Metal, Oil, Distillery and some of the food shares. Gold stocks have idled along for about two months and silver issues are now back pretty close to their low areas.

Decision Expected Today On Gold Ore

OTTAWA, Aug. 19. (CP)—Official announcement is expected today on new regulations which will permit United States gold ore and concentrates to enter Canada for smelting and refining.

Final touches to amending regulations, it is understood, were being given by the Department of Finance to-day. One of the essential provisions will be to allow the Canadian mint at Ottawa to extend its refining authority to United States, as well as Canadian gold.

The effect of the new provisions probably will mean that the bulk of the United States' annual production of gold amounting to $40,000,000 approximately will be smelted and refined in this country. The smelting would be done in Northern Ontario and at Trail B.C., to a marked major degree. Putting the gold into the purer state would take place at the Ottawa mint.

Sleeping Sickness Alarms St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, August 19 (C.P.).—The epidemic of sleeping sickness, in St. Louis and vicinity, which appeared to have been checked two days ago, has taken a turn for the worse.

Since July 30, nine persons have died of the disease, while approximately 100 others have been hospitalized.

Three of the victims died yesterday. Dan O. Burn, 64, succumbed to strange malady shortly before midnight. Earlier in the day Mrs. Katie Fisher, 54, of Suburban Darstdale, and William Po'ette, of Webster Groves, died.

Seventeen new cases were reported during the last 24 hours. Of there 11 were in the suburban district, which have been hit harder than St. Louis itself.

STOCK MARKETS CLOSED.

TORONTO, August 19 (C.P.).—Canadian stock exchanges as well as the New York Stock Exchange were closed to-day under the Saturday holiday rule that will be effective till September 9, but the Winnipeg grain market conducted business as usual.

Plentiful Market With Fair Prices

Supplies at the famers' market were plentiful this morning and prices were fairly regular.

Broiling chickens were offered at 13 to 15 cents a pound; ducks were 25 cents; butter 25 cents a pound, and eggs 15 to 17 cents a dozen. Cream was 20 cents a pint.

Corn was 15 to 20 cents a dozen; cabbages 10 cents a head; apples 20 cents a basket; beets 25 cents a basket, and green tomatoes were the same price; while potatoes were 30 and 40 cents a peck, and $1.75 a bag.

Green peppers sold at 3 for a nickel; peaches were 40 cents a small basket, plus 15 cents a quart, and crabapples 20 cents a basket.

Little pigs were $7 a pair.

RAPID GAINS CHICAGO GRAIN

Likelihood of Removal of Price Fluctuation Limits Acts as Stimulus.

CORN ALSO HIGHER.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19 (AP)—Grain Values made a rapid early advance to-day after an irregular start. Likelihood of widening or removal of limits on price fluctuations caused some selling at the outset, but then acted as a powerful stimulus to buyers. Opening at 1⅞ decline to ¼ advance, wheat afterwards bounded skyward, with purchasing on a big scale. An extreme jump of almost four cents a bushel from early bottom figures took place in wheat before any recession was witnessed. Similar action was seen in corn and other grains. Corn started unchanged to one cent down, and later climbed nearly five cents above the initial low levels.

GIRLS' DAY HELD BY PERCY BRANCH

Members of Women's Institute Meets at Home of Mrs. Edna Greenley.

WARKWORTH, Aug. 19. (Examiner Correspondence). — The regular meeting of the Percy Women's Institute was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Edna Greenly. It was Girl's Day and proved to be just as popular as former years. After the business was over the rest of the program was in charge of the girls. An exhibit of work done by the girls was also very interesting.

The paper: "The place and power of young womanhood of today" given by Miss Blanche Baker, was very helpful.

The opening chorus "Home Sweet Home" given by all the young girls present was much enjoyed. This was followed by an instrumental solo "The Old Oaken Bucket" by Miss Mabel Brown. Miss Dorothy White contributed a very fine vocal selection and Mrs. Honey gave a humorous reading. A contest, naming the different trees from jumbled words was won by Mrs. Wm. Honey.

A vote of thanks was moved by Miss Louise Brooks to Miss Edna Greenly for her kindness and to all who helped in the program.

At the close the hostess and her assistants served a dainty lunch, and the singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

REFINE U.S. GOLD IN THE DOMINION

Government Permits Ore Shipments to Canadian Smelters.

TO BE SHIPPED ABROAD.

OTTAWA, Aug. 19 (CP) — The Dominion Government has decided to permit the shipment into Canada of gold ore, gold concentrates, gold precipitate and unrestored amalgm from the United States to Canadian smelters, it was announced to-day by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance.

After the gold has passed through the smelters, it will be sent to the Royal Canadian Mint and refined. It will then be shipped abroad by the Department of Finance to the world markets in much the same manner as Canadian mined gold. The department will not buy the U.S. gold but will act as agents, selling the metal on the most advantageous market. The cost of refining, shipping and other necessary expenses will be deducted as well as a handling charge of one per cent. The net proceeds will be paid to the U. S. shippers in New York funds.

The Minister of Finance will have sole discretion as to the market and time of sale of the metal. The action of the Dominion Government is in response to the request of gold producers of the U.S. for permission to ship gold concentrates to Canada. It was explained in the Finance Department that no sales tax, or other charges will be levied against the shipments. The department's only charge above the out-of-pocket costs will be the one per cent. handling charge.

RUSSIA WILL STOP EXPORTS IF GRANTED CREDIT TO BUY

tional trade, the Soviet commissioner held that his country's business was not a menace to anybody. As far as wheat is concerned he pointed out that hardly any wheat had been sold abroad last year and that the Soviets had in fact been compelled to import wheat from Canada and Argentina into the Far East.

Don't want Gold

"We have no desire," he said, "to embarrass other nations with our trade policy. We export solely in order to obtain credits or funds to import machinery and certain raw materials. I am willing to give a guarantee," he went on, "to the whole world that we will stop our exports absolutely and totally if we are given credit facilities in foreign countries. Our object is not to accumulate gold as France or America accumulate it. We don't like gold. We don't want it. We want machinery, nothing else. It is impossible to see how we can be held to be a menace to the world's trade at the present time.

"As to the future," he went on, "there need not be any fear either, but first of all I want to ask why the Soviet government, which participates in world trade to the small extent of three per cent., why that government should be asked to furnish a guarantee and not the other countries, who control a much more perfect industrial apparatus at the present moment.

"When the moment arrives" he went on to say, "that we have finally reached a point where our home market is filled, we will adopt measures to slow down industry. But that is a long way off. With all our factories, mines and steel plants working full blast for the next 25 years, we will succeed in completely modernizing our transportation and road system. This will take a quarter of a century alone under the most favorable circumstances.

Prepared for War

"Interruptions are very conceivable. A war, for instance, would throw our whole plan out of gear. If you consider that the serious threat to Soviet territory in the Far East last year by the approach of the Japanese armies interrupted our whole industrial program for a full three months, you may realize what a real war would do. We had to stop all our tractor factories and steel mills from turning out agricultural machinery and other useful commodities and set them to turning out tanks and aeroplanes and cannon. The little surplus wheat we had last year, owing to a bad harvest, had to be transferred to the Far East to be held in readiness as a reserve for our troops in the event of a war with Japan.

"Our peasants did not have enough to eat. Our urban populations suffered privation. We had no sugar and no meat. We had to send all our available stocks to the Manchurian border. We lost three months of precious time that way, three months that retarded the inauguration of the second five-year plan. It must be clear to the whole world by now that the Soviet Union does not want war, that it has done its utmost to prevent war. We are still the only people who have proposed complete disarmament because we want to live in peace and amity with every nation under the sun. We are willing to do our share, more than our share, in combating the economic crisis which is ravaging capitalist countries. More we cannot do.

Forced to Keep Army

"But we will not permit either that other states solve their economic troubles albeit temporarily by seizing a chunk of Soviet territory and turning it into a colony or a market for capitalist exploitation. They must keep their hands off and they will keep their hands off. For we now have the means to make them stand back. I cannot disclose what our means are, all I can say is that they are sufficient to cope with any eventuality. We do not want an inch of other people's territory but nobody can get a square inch of ours. We are ready to enforce this maxim. It was a colossal waste we admit, the perfection of our war industry. But we had to do it first at the cost of immense sacrifices. We would much prefer to build up a Socialist state without an army. We often sit shaking our heads in the planning commissions over the senseless business of turning out aeroplanes and tanks and all the others uncivilised things of warfare. And we regret that our best material and the energy of our best workers and engineers go into something that we consider unworthy of modern man, but we are forced to do it.

Slow Down Industry

"To come to the question of future relations with foreign countries in the industrial field," went on Mr. Ginsburg, "since we are not manufacturing for profit, but solely for use—and this is the essential difference between Socialist and capitalist production—we will be able to slow down certain industries as soon as the home-market shows signs of saturation in so far as the commodity is concerned which they turn out."

"Then you'll have unemployment?" I asked.

"No, we will shift the released workers to another section of the industrial front."

"But if the general market is becoming totally saturated. What then?"

"Then we will reduce the hours of work to three, to two, or to one hour a day," he answered. "By that time our cultural development will have profressed so far that men and women will be able to devote themselves to whatever study or leisure hobby they like."

"But they will be without money?"

"They won't need it. Their wants will be filled more completely than they are at present. We are supposing a time when the market is saturated, are we not?"

"When will this time come?" I asked again.

"Under normal circumstances we expect to reach that point in 25 years. But we may be delayed. We have many enemies. When we have reached that point and only then will the Socialist era begin. Now we are only building Socialism. And as hard a task as it is, we can see the future beckoning us on. Perhaps we will never see the fulfilment of our dreams, but the four million children who are annually born in the U.S.S.R. certainly will."

MARMORA.

Master Jimmy Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Hughes, North Marmora, entertained about thirty little folks to a most delightful party on Tuesday afternoon in honor of his fourth birthday.

Small World

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 19 (CP)—The world is not so large after all. Mrs. H. O. Brierly and her daughter, while shopping in one of London's larger stores one morning, during a recent visit to England, were greeted with the salutation: "Good morning, and how is Hamilton these days?" The surprised travellers then discovered the salesgirl tending to their wants had served them in one of Hamilton's department stores last year.

FARRELL LEADS CANADIAN OPEN

New York Golfer Has 218 Stroke Total at 54-hole Mark.

IN EARLY FINISHERS.

ROYAL YORK GOLF CLUB, Toronto, Ont., August 19 (C.P.).—Johnny Farrell, great little shotmaker from Mamaroneck, N.Y., took the lead this afternoon among the early finishers at the 54-hole mark of the Canadian open golf championship, with a total score of 218. Farrell was around in par 72.

One stroke behind the New Yorker came Lex Robson professional of the Islington Club, Toronto who kept pace with his noted partner to post an even par. Robson thrilled the gallery by sinking a 40-foot putt over the undulating home green.

Meanwhile Harry Cooper of Chicago, the defending champion was encountering considerable trouble on the greens, but was right with the front-runners, by reaching the three-quarter mark in 75-219.

Ross "Sandy" Somerville, Canadian holder of the United States amateur title, playing with Cooper also came through with a count of 75, giving him a total of 223, well up among the amateurs.

Bridal Party Dodges Friends' Confetti

MORRISBURG, Ont., Aug. 19 (CP)—A wild automobile ride and trip through the dangerous Rapids du Plat were used here yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. William Forsythe to escape the usual confetti-throwing aftermaths of a wedding party. A few minutes after the couple were married at an island camp, they motored over a seldom-used road to a boathouse where a skiff was moored. Piling their bags in the boat, they pushed out in the stream, shot the rapids and landed at Morrisburg without a piece of confetti on their clothes.

The bride, formerly Ruth Deneaha, was an athletic instructor in Detroit, and her husband a Watertown, N.Y., engineer.

SPORT OF KINGS

By ART MURRAY

(Special to Examiner.)

THE FIRST disqualification in many moons on Canadian tracks took place at Fort Erie on Thursday when Flying Sailor after easily winning by a length and a half was set back for cutting across the field shortly after they hit the head of the stretch. Mattioli the leading Canadian jockey was aboard and he was fined $100 and suspended for the balance of the meeting. The public who made Flying Sailor the favorite took it on the chin for plenty as he was easily the class of the race. It was very unfortunate all around but such are the odds in horse racing.

* * *

NEARLY ALL the odd incidents that could happen at a race track occurred at this meeting at Fore Erie. They are still squabbling about the lost daily double ticket for twenty-nine hundred odd smackers. The rightful owner will likely get it eventually.

* * *

DEVONSHIRE OPENS its gates today and nearly all the bangtails that have been performing at Fort Erie are there, plus a few coming over from the Thistledown track at Cleveland. Watergap is back in training again and will make his presence felt before he is much older. Last year the nag was in rare form about this time of year, so don't forget him. Stamford Park at Niagara will also open its second meeting real soon and they tell us there is going to be peaches and cream at this track as there are some sleepers quartered there that are going to resemble the awakening of Mr. Pipp.

* * *

KHORASAN WILL grab off a handicap purse real soon as sure as there is tea in China. This one is just crying to run and right now is in the best shape of his career. We notice where Higher pulled up a little lame after his work-out the other morning at Fort Erie, so he will be on the shelf for some time but when they see fit to start him don't be standing idly by. J. E. Smallman of London is now the owner of Sir Byron and this owner never pays the feed bills for any duds which means that the hide will have nothing but run on his mind when he next goes postward. He is a real honest consistent plater.

* * *

POET'S DREAM was only beaten by a nose on Thursday and will probably make amends on his next appearance. The former Conny Smythe steed is in grand condition right now. Watchlite will graduate from the maiden ranks pretty soon. He finished a fast going second yesterday in the opening race. We look to see Lommern take down a purse in the next few days. He is burning up the track in his trials and all they need to do is give him a hustling ride and he will be money in the bank. Once again don't forget Flying Sailor will not be disqualified every time he starts and next time the owner will want to make up what he lost on Thursday.

14 INCH SKULL FRACTURE.

VICTORIA, Aug. 19.—(C.P.) — William Hitch suffered a 14 inch fracture almost completely about the base of his skull, but it was not revealed until he suddenly lost consciousness 12 hours later and died. He had been struck by a car while riding a bicycle. An autopsy revealed considerable injury to the brain and internal hemorrhage.

SUES CITY OF OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 19.—(C.P.)—Mrs. Glovera Bentley of Niagara Falls, Ont., has opened a $10,000 damage action against the City of Ottawa. She tripped over a projecting street car rail here May 29 and claims she sustained serious injury.

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet,
Or dims the radiant light
No unkind word our lips shall pass,
No envy sour the mind;
But each shall seek the common weal—
The good of all mankind.

WARSAW

Continuing the paper on "Bee Culture" given at an Institute meeting by Miss Valetta Drain.

"Bee culture has made great strides in North America where many millions of pounds of honey are sold annually. The greater part is produced in large apiaries, but many people keep a few to provide themselves with honey, perhaps, make a little extra money by selling small quantities and to have the extreme pleasure of watching and studying the interesting little workers.

The picturesque bee hives shape of hive is a thing of the past, as square boxes with removable frames have been found far more satisfactory. The lower part of this hive is devoted to brood cells and the honey stored by the bees for their use in winter. Above is a shallower storey known as the super into which are fitted section holders, which hold in place the small square boxes or frames in which comb honey is placed on the market. Not until the storage cells in the brood chamber are filled should bees be allowed to begin storing honey in the section boxes. In each of these little squares at the centre of the top as it stands on edge is placed a small piece of comb as a foundation and a suggestion to the bees where to start.

The raising of bees for commercial purposes is not a simple matter of placing a hive in a suitable place and a swarm of bees within it. The bee-keeper must learn innumerable things about the habits of the little creatures, and method of handling them. He must know how to prevent the development of queens and consequent swarming at wrong seasons, how to induce his bees at just the right time to begin storing in the supers, how to protect them from enemies and from the winter cold and much else.

A multitude of books have been written on the principles of bee culture. A smaller one of the less technical sort "Anna B. Comstock's How to Keep Bees," is helpful. Read all you can but if you really wish to know and keep bees you must keep, care for, and study them yourself.

Hives made entirely of glass may be procured, and through the transparent sides the bee student may watch all the motions of the busy socialists and follow a bee from the time it enters the hive through all its varied activities. In winter, when the bees are torped mice sometimes enter the hives and feed upon wax, honey and bees. The worst live enemy is the small inconspicuous larva of the wax moth, which does its work in darkness and silence, digging through the cells, wasting the honey and devouring the young undeveloped bees. Sometimes a whole swarm is ruined by this pest for as the old bees die out there are none to replace them. The only way to guard against the wax moth is to keep the hives in good repair so that the egg-laying females cannot find a way inside.

Disease among bees is more dreaded than any animal or insect pest. Two diseases known as European and American foul brood affect the larvae and do millions of dollars worth of damage each year. The only sure method of dealing with either of these diseases, for they are infectious, is to remove the bees from the infected hive to a new one and destroy or thoroughly disinfect the hive and destroy every bit of infected comb and larvae.

MILLBROOK

Many Institute branches are this month holding annual picnics designated "Grandmothers' Day," with the grandmothers within the membership, or of the community, as guests of honor. One afternoon last week a group of interested young people were seated on the verandah of one of their homes, with an old-fashioned grandmother in a large rocker as one of the party, the subject of parties and party clothes engaging the company.

Appealed to on the subject mentioned during the discussion, the grandmother present, who had passed her 82nd birthday, contributed some very interesting facts for the benefit of the young people. In her day, she declared, no young lady was 'out' until she had reached her 18th birthday, "and was not taken to public dances, and other social events, without a chaperon, though to-day I have seen girls of ten or eleven years allowed to go to dances in homes and in public places because their mothers wanted to go, and must either remain at home themselves or take the children with them. By the time they are eighteen, these girls seem to have been 'out' a long time, and are already showing in their faces and in other ways the result of being too early introduced to events for which they would much better have waited until the proper time."

Balls in grandmother's day were always invitation affairs, and "not open to anybody who could pay the entrance price. We did not speak of them as a dance, but as a ball, and very nice and well conducted affairs they were too. The mothers and others who were chaperons had comfortable seats arranged for them and when a gentleman wished a dance he went to find the young chaperon, and brought her back there when the waltz, or polka, or lancers, or whatever it was, had ended."

The "jiggety-jig" style of modern dancing, was most reprehensible, "neither graceful nor sensible" in the eyes of this white haired old lady, and when she spoke of Sir Roger de Coverly, money musk, quadrilles, and the music for them of her younger years, and there was a happy light of recollection in her eyes that turned to disgust and almost to 'snappiness' as one of her granddaughters said, as she referred tartly to the 'jazz that rules the dance floor to-day.'

The heated atmosphere was cooled by turning the subject tactfully to that of clothes worn "in your day, Grandma?" "Well, we wore clothes, not almost an absence of them," was the reply, and it looked as though the flush of indignant protest was rising in her cheeks again, the hostess hurriedly questioning about "that lovely black velvet evening gown you are wearing in the picture in my room, mother," and so fixing her mind on a more congenial topic.

"It had a train, my dears, lined with white satin, and a hidden loop that let me carry it over my arm gracefully to save too much dragging on the floor, when dancing or walking. Women stood with grace and dignity in those days, and knew how to wear such a dress while standing in conversation with their partner, and how to pick it up and move on when necessary, with absence of clumsiness. I wore two petticoats underneath (it was a good thing grandma did not see the grimace between two of the party), one of them of white with a deep flounce hand embroidered, and the other a shorter one also of white with the edge scalloped and done in buttonhole stitch.

"Then, too, my dress had a back, but was cut square in the front, and with ruffles of the finest creamy lace outlining the neckline; the sleeves were to the elbow and had the 'same trimming. My mother had a wide gold bracelet given her on her 18th birthday, and was I the proud girl when it was mine—presented by my mother with a pretty little ceremony, when I had reached the same age? I wore it only to balls and parties, and before I parted with it to my daughter when she came of age, it was my most cherished possession."

"We had lovely dances and parties in the homes in those days," grandma continued, "something I seldom hear you speak of to-day; entertaining is growing into a lost art, I think; it seems to be too much trouble to prepare for a nice party at home when you can go so often to some public dance or hall, and have what you call a good time. I remember one girl who wore a white organdie evening dress at her coming out party, with a bright red sash of some thin material, and a red band to match in her hair. As she was quite dark, it suited her well, and as she had never heard of this cheap 'costume jewelry' she had a gold necklet with a locket suspended that my mother knew had been passed on from the girl's own mother, much as my bracelet was to me.

"I don't remember what other jewelry she wore, but I can close my eyes and see the locket quite plainly this minute." Evidently grandma was tired and the little group soon afterward dispersed.

ROOSEVELT SETTING UNIQUE RECORD AS PRECEDENT BREAKER

By H. W. L. MAHOOD

To him the breaking of precedent has seemed a necessity. His program was such that he could not do otherwise. The breaking had to take place at the very beginning of his Presidential term. The three months after election and preceding the inauguration were spent in conferences with the wisest and best informed leaders in the Democratic party. He came to his responsibility with a well worked out program.

Washington utterly failed to predict his procedure. His whole program has been interlarded with surprise. His own Cabinet did not know whether it stood on its head or on its heels. Nor has this inner council of the President been sure of itself ever since. A super-council has robbed the Cabinet of its pre-eminence. This super-council has an executive secretary. Frequently he is dubbed the "assistant President." This super-group of men is a more inclusive body than the cabinet. Not one member of the Cabinet feels he is in command of his portfolio.

Notwithstanding, the daring and unprecedented procedure in the inauguration of his program, Roosevelt has in an unusual manner secured the co-operation of the people from all parts of the nation. The secret of this response may not be apparent at first thought. One thing among others is characteristic of the American people. They bank on the man who has the courage of his convictions. Such a man they will follow to the limit. Hoover was hesitant and overcautious. This cost him his leadership. It will that of any man honored with public responsibility.

True there is some drag, among the Democrats, to the methods of the President. This retardment comes not from dyed-in-the-wool politicians in the Democratic party but from the patriotic Democrats. It comes from men who put country before party. One of the staunchest Democrats hits off the situation thus: "We are trying not to rock the boat and to ride along with the President, but we don't exactly know where he is headed. We hope HE knows."

America is the most extensively industrialized nation in the world. The more a nation is industrialized the more difficult it is to correct the wrongs done the weak. Witness the crime of child labor. Wherever permitted child labor has been child slavery. A child should know how to work. The child should know hardness. But child labor should be for the training and development of the child; and not for industrial gain and profit. Child labor has heard its death knell in the United States. Henceforth tender childhood will be in the schools. Factories and mines have dwarfed their hundreds of thousands of children born under the Stars and Stripes. The schools of the nation will for the future surround them with the environment of human values, and culture, and uplifting ideals. State rights it was that stood in the way of the emancipation of the child. Federal action has removed the wrong. To break the child labor precedent has heightened the civilization of our age. This act of Congress was in itself a revolution of magnitude. To the Democratic party credit mut be given for this achievement.

America is in the throes of a widespread and radical revolution. Many are the Democrats who are restless and dubious about the outcome of the Roosevelt program.

The National Industrial Act is studded with teeth. The basic purpose is "To increase the consumption of industrial and agricultural products by increasing purchasing power, to reduce and relieve unemployment, to improve standards of labor, and otherwise to rehabilitate industry, and to conserve national resources. "The codes to be submitted voluntarily must foster fair competition. The first response came from across the Mason and Dixon line. The south is and has been Democratic in politics. Cotton was the first to give a whole hearted and favorable reply. The Republican north has been a bit sullen and stubborn. But it has come across. The North loves to dicker. Roosevelt told the industries to hurry up or he would write the code. Nor did he have long to wait. To the hesitating industries he sent a blanket code. His blanket code was completeness. Even the little industries employing three or more persons received the missive. Roosevelt and his advisers have before them a very long list of submitted codes. Hearings are being conducted at Washington upon the individual industrial codes. The President's blanket code will be of interest to Examiner readers. Child labor is abolished. No person under sixteen is to be employed, except that persons between fourteen and sixteen may be employed (but not in manufacturing or mechanical industries) for not to exceed three hours a day. The hours per week for office workers are set at a maximum of forty, and for factory or mechanical workers and artisans at a maximum of thirty-five, with the privilege of increasing the number to forty during any six weeks within the period to December 31. It is asked that the operating week be not reduced below fifty-two hours unless it was lowered before July 1. This is to provide for a larger number of laborers. These restrictions do not apply to employers who do not employ more than two.

Quilting Bee Held Roseneath Meeting

(Examiner Correspondence.)

ROSENEATH, August 19. — The ladies of St. James' Women's Auxiliary held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Miss Jessie Johnston, and was well attended by the members.

During the afternoon some of the ladies quilted a quilt and others worked quilt blocks.

The opening exercises were conducted by the president, Mrs. Herbert McCracken. The Scripture lesson, Psalm 65, was read by Mrs. M. Johnston. Favorable reports were given by the secretary, Mrs. Frank Brown, also by the treasurer, Mrs. R. B. Nichol.

Mrs. William Houghtalling kindly offered her home for the September meeting when the autograph quilt is to be quilted. The president requests all the members to be present.

Your eyes say
IT'S A BEAUTY
Your Pocketbook says YOU SAVE..

YOU must have noticed what a wonderful way the new Chevrolet has with the ladies. How feminine eyes so often linger long on Chevrolet's trim, sparkling Fisher bodies. How feminine hands take so naturally to Chevrolet's easy handling and control. How fresh-coiffed feminine heads approve of No-Draft Ventilation.

Then there's the matter of economy. Try to find the woman—or the man—who isn't interested in saving money this year, and therefore enthusiastic over the way Chevrolet does it: With the lowest price of any full-size, closed Six! With the lowest cost for gas and oil of any standard car! With the best reputation of any low-priced car for carefree service and freedom from repairs!

All of which brings us to the thing that everybody likes most—Chevrolet's quality! Here is a big, powerful Six . . . with a smooth, snappy engine that has been proved by thousands of owners . . . a wood-and-steel Fisher body, the strongest and safest known . . . a husky frame and chassis that stays sturdy and tight over years of use . . . and upholstery, fittings and interior luxury far ahead of anything else in Chevrolet's field. Chevrolet owners have proved that Canada's smartest low-priced car saves you more on everything. And no doubt that's the reason why Chevrolet leads all cars in sales, from one end of the country to the other.

Friends of the Family

LOOK at the packages on your pantry and bathroom shelves, and see what a multitude of brand names you recognize. Some of them have been familiar for years. You may have made the acquaintance of others only a few weeks ago. But even these are not suspected strangers. You have bought them confidently because they were advertised. And it is the same with your sheets and towels, your shoes and clothes, your electric appliances, the car in your garage—nearly everything you use.

Advertised products have a standing that commands respect. They are not nameless, but vouched for by responsible firms. The fact that they are advertised is in itself an indication that their standards of quality are strictly maintained, that they represent honest value

—As science and discovery go on, newly developed products are constantly being advertised—ready to help you save money and improve your standard of living. Every advertisement of such a product you read in your daily paper is a letter of introduction to a new and possibly useful friend.

It will pay you to read the advertisements in this paper every day. By so doing you will meet many choice products—worthy to become friends of the family.

TO PARENTS

In introducing our New Advanced Courses, we feel that we are assisting you in your problem of "what to do for your boy or girl."

The professions, as they are generally called, are crowded—unemployed school teachers are multitudinous—on the other hand it is generally conceded business is on its way back to normalcy. This means there will be a demand for competent office assistants.

Our aim in all our courses, and in the Secretarial and Business Administration especially, is to provide for the Business Men something superior, something above the average—and graduates of these courses should be the answer.

We shall appreciate the opportunity of giving full particulars of the above courses to any parents who are puzzled regarding what they should do in providing a proper foundation upon which their children may build a successful career.

Our office is open every day—come in and let us talk it over. It would be advisable to do it early, so you can give it the thought it deserves. Phone 589 for appointment.

A PROGRESSIVE STEP IN BUSINESS EDUCATION

IS BEING TAKEN BY THE

Peterborough Business College Ltd.

Commencing with the Fall Term, September 5th, TWO NEW ADVANCED COURSES are being introduced:—

SECRETARIAL AND BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

These two Courses should appeal to Young Men and Women with Junior Matriculation or higher. The scope and nature of the work will challenge the best efforts of those who enroll in either. The standard for graduation is considerably higher than in any other commercial course in this section of the province since several, if not all, of the commercial subjects will be on a par with those given in a commerce and finance course at any Canadian University. FUTURE GRADUATES OF THIS SCHOOL WILL, NATURALLY, BE GIVEN A DECIDED PREFERENCE BY EMPLOYERS.

BROADENING OUT

We have been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. R. R. Reynolds, B.Com., graduate in Commerce and Finance, Queen's University, as Principal of our school and head of the Department of Secretarial Science and Business Administration. Mr. Reynolds is a teacher of ten years' standing and has had, in addition, considerable business experience. He comes to us with the highest recommendation, both from his professors and former employers.

Extra-mural students of Canadian Universities desiring tuition in courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Commerce can make arrangements for such instruction by getting in touch with the college.

An excellent opportunity is now provided for young men and women engaged in offices and banks, to prepare themselves for the higher executive positions, which will, no doubt be open to them as time passes. The majority of subjects outlined in our Secretarial and Business Administration Courses will be offered in our Evening Classes, commencing Monday, October 2nd.

We feel that we are broadening our field of service to the community by our policy of giving advanced courses and engaging a man of Mr. Reynolds' experience and educational standing.

Bishop A. D. Zahniser of Pittsburg, addressed the conference on "The Free Methodist Church—When and Why." The conference continues over the week-end.

A report of the board of examiners, advocating a higher standard in the course for preachers entering the conference, was adopted. Other reports were read by Rev. E. R. Orser, Picton; Rev. C. R. Thatson, Tichburne; Rev. T. W. Kay, Huntsville; Rev. B. A. Sutton, Peterborough; Rev. P. L. Chase of Odessa and Rev. M. Babcock of Brantford.

A statement of the financial condition of the church in general was presented by Bishop Zahniser.

making these experiments and they are very interesting. We examine the haemoglobin of a person upon his arrival in camp. Then, after two weeks in the sun, we examine it again. This phase of sun-effect has never been explored before."

The nudists, men and women alike, love to tell you about their first experience in stripping. All of the stories are alike.

A young woman who used to be book buyer in a New York department store said that when she took her clothes off for the first time in front of the crowd, she thought she would faint.

"But it just wasn't anything at all, really," she explained. "It just seemed perfectly natural. It felt just as natural then as you and I feel, standing here right now without clothes on."

Some of the men are avid pitchers of the horseshoe. It may be said that a ringer is a ringer, clothes or no clothes. The horseshoe courts are back of the dining hall and one may watch the game while one consumes one's vegetables and prunes.

Orthopedic Exercises.

A Miss Peters, who speaks with a German accent is in charge of the orthopedic exercises, which occur each morning in the "rubbing down room." Five or six men and women, all nude, get down on their hands and knees after putting on gloves and drawing half socks over their knees. Then they begin crawling, in the manner of the caterpillar. This presents a very grotesque appearance, with Miss Peters going from one to another, straightening spines and one thing and another.

A special performance of the orthopedic exercise was staged for this correspondent's benefit. Miss Peters tried to talk the visiting reporter into trying a few creeps and crawls. This invitation, however, was turned down on the grounds that the writer's spine felt and acted perfectly normal in an upright posture.

The springs under the diving board at the pier were originally on a hearse, which "Timmy" bought some years ago. And one young man, an ardent nudist, has constructed two catamarans for rowing about the lake, holding that the catamaran shows off the human figure to greater advantage than a mere rowboat. This correspondent can testify, after seeing various nudists at work on the catamarans, that the young man's vision was authentic.

dried figs at their side, covering 25 or 30 miles through the high valleys that cut the difficult terrain.

Fire on French from Ambush

At dawn they would reach the place of ambush. Deployed in the rocky crags, they fired on the advancing column of soldiers struggling up the laborious paths. Then, slipping past sentries, they descended on the pacified tribes, killed the men, razed the villages, stole the flocks and regained the mountain fastnesses. The pursuing troops could not capture the light travelling Berbers.

Gun-running along the African coast was believed keeping the Berbers provided with smuggled weapons.

Women-stealing, slave-trading Moorish and Arabian bandits riding the stretches of sand dunes which with scattered palm trees form desolate Mauritania, were suspected of supplying some of the illicit guns by devious trading across the Sahara.

Rio de Ora, Spanish colony adjoining Mauritania, was suspected of being one spot where the smugglers were operating.

Even if all Morocco is pacified this year, the French have no assurance it will remain so.

A LAMB CHASE

DETROIT.—A real lamb dashed through the heart of Detroit's financial district, and when it was captured its fleece still was intact.

The animal jumped from a car in which it was being taken to the State Fair. It easily outdistanced several score pursuers, tangling up traffic and nearly upsetting a policeman.

MAGISTRATES URGED TO STUDY STERILIZATION MENTALLY UNFIT

A. O. Langley, K.C., Brings Topic Up in Opening Convention in Sarnia.

OFFICERS ELECTED

SARNIA, Ont., Aug. 19 (CP) — Magistrates of Ontario may be questioned on their attitude toward sterilization of mentally-unfit and criminal-minded At yesterday's session of the 11th annual convention of the Ontario Magistrates Association, it was decided to refer the question to the incoming executive with suggestion a questionnaire be sent to magistrates.

The executive was asked to report back to the next annual meeting or to a special meeting. A brief discussion was opened by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., of Peterborough. He referred to a pronouncement of Hon. H. A. Bruce, Ontario's Lieutenant-Governor, on the subject, and expressed the opinion magistrates should take cognizanbe of the proposal in view of its relation to their work.

Magistrate H. A. Burbidge of Hamilton was elected president for the 1933-34 team. Officers elected were: Hon. W. H. Price, Attorney-General of Ontario, honorary president; H. A. Jones, Brantford, honorary vice-president; C. A. Reas, Goderich, vice-president; Howard Gover, Coldwater, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Margaret Patterson Toronto, librarian. The convention concludes to-day.

Foot Troubles Remedied by Shoes And Adjustments

Dr. H. T. Scott, Ph.T.D., Had Years of Experience.

Dr. Scott, a prominent practitioner of chiropractic, whose practice has distinguished him all through this section, and whose excellent training together with his years of experience, has given him a comprehensive knowledge of bodily ills is familiar with the symptoms of various diseases and understands how to cope with them. He knows the science of chiropractic. It is founded upon the principle of spinal adjustments and many diseases are displaced by removing pressure on the nerves. Nature will keep the body in perfect condition if there is no interference with her ways. Through knowledge of this science the interference is removed and nature heals. This is done by this eminent chiropractor in a scientific and painless manner — gradually, until the afflicted part is fully adjusted and health is restored.

His office is moderately equipped with the latest devices to assist in the profession. He has the latest Ellis Diagnosto equipment, which gives instant diagnosis and detects pressure and infection instantly.

This is a modern day science that has met with increasing favor in the last few years. Its development has been rapid and all the new discoveries of the science have been carefully followed by Dr. H. T. Scott, Ph.T.D., of Campbellford. He is pleasant and obliging. His professional services are much in demand as is shown by his ever increasing patronage. If his services will not be of benefit he will gladly say so, and will not accept such cases where he cannot be of assistance.

He is recognized as a pioneer in remedying foot aliments by adjusting the bones of the feet, and specializes in diet and spinal eye ear, nose and throat treatment, as well as taking corrective measurements for the famous Natural Tread Shoes.

He is deserving of the patronage of the people and one might do well to consult him when not in the best of health. Do you know how long H. T. Scott, Ph.D.T., has been connected with th's profession?

TRUTH VERSUS ERROR

False teachers tell us part of man is immortal—undieable; this part they call soul. According to truth and reason, soul means life, means the man himself. God formed the first man, (the progenitor of the human race) of the dust of the earth, that is, all the component parts that go to make up man is found in the earth. God breathed into the nostrils of the man, thus formed, the breath of life, that is, the air we breathe, and men breathing became a living soul. A soul is not some elusive part separate from man's organism. There are other created beings, besides man, who are souls: In the scriptures, we read—"the soul that sinneth, it shall die." The false teacher says—"the wicked die the death that never dies," which is not only false, but utterly absurd. It is like a man, who lives and yet was never known to live, or a fly that flies, but never flies. The false and absurd idea about a soul is only one of the many erroneous ideas propagated by churchianity.

They are expected from as far north as Sault Ste Marie; as far south as New York City; as far east as Quebec City, and west to Windsor.

A service at the War Memorial and a route march through the city will precede the monster banquet at the Armories.

LARGE ENTRIES FLOWER SHOW

W. Wilks is Awarded C. Jay Trophy For Best Gladiolus Spike.

Ten Valuable Door Prizes.

Unique, in so much as it is believed to be the only event of its kind, run in connection with an industrial plant in the whole of Canada, the Fifth Annual Flower Show, held under auspices of the Canadian General Electric Company, Social and Athletic Association (Horticultural Section), to-day attracted considerable interest at the Legion Hall.

Tastefully and artistically displayed in the large hall, the entries, numbering approximately 750, provided a galaxy of colour. Gladiolus—now at their best, were predominant. The C. Jay Trophy awarded for the best gladiolus spike on display, in any class, was won by W. Wilks. He had ten firsts, and four second prizes to his credit in the gladiolus section, in addition to nine firsts and two seconds in other classes.

Winner of the Warne Trophy, which goes to the member obtaining the greatest number of points, will be announced on Monday.

Ten valuable door prizes, are being drawn for to-night, by Robert Haddow, president of the Canadian Legion, to which organization the proceeds of the gate are being donated by the society after expenses have been met. Nine of the prizes are C.G.E. products, the tenth being a handsome Cedar Hope Chest. The prizes have been on display all week at Grant and Loucks electrical store on George street.

Judges of the horticultural exhibits, were Frank Wise (annuals and perrenials); and Harry Carter (gladiolus).

The committee in charge of the show, was as follows: T. McMillan, general chairman; H. Turner, vice-chairman; H. Darling, secretary; A. E. Prest, chairman display committee; W. H. Young, chairman rules and awards committee; A. L. Callander, C. Jay, J. Pilling, C. C. Mowry, A. Kirkcaldy, N. E. Crowe, R. Pilling, F. Dyer, S. Bucknell, W. H. Dowson, C. H. Hotston, E. J. McDonald, W. Wilkes, H. Butler, and George East, past chairman.

Curve Lake Indian Lands Champion Bass

The seasonal bass fishing championship for the district changed hands yesterday when Bill McQue of the Curve Lake Indian reserve landed a small-mouth black bass weighing six pounds in Buckhorn Lake. Measuring 21 inches in length, 7 inches in width and 16 inchees in girth, the fish was the biggest of its kind reported this year.

Ralph Clark of Peterborough held the honors up to yesterday with his catch of small mouth bass tipping the scales at more than five pounds in Chemong Lake last month.

REPEATS HIS OFFER

Peterborough, Aug. 18, 1933

To The Editor, Examiner:

Sir,—I perceive by to-days' issue of The Examiner that Mr. A. Moore, Jr., has condescended to slink behind the protection of Mr. G. N. Gordon, in an effort to secure the ten dollars offered by the Unemployed. When the former has proven, that he put Lawfords out of their home, namely evicted them. The offer still holds good, and was made free of any strings. However, seeing that Mr. Moore desires to set forth his conditions of proof, the Federation will deposit the ten dollars in court, should Mr. Moore be willing to enter the case into court and allow the judge to decide the point from a legal angle. It must also be entered into court for decision within three days.

Yours respectfully,
CHAS. WM. HOLLAND.

Fairbanks No Hero To Gwynne Pickford

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19 — Douglas Fairbanks gets no orchids from Miss Gwynne Pickford, adopted daughter of Mary Pickford, who arrived at San Francisco today aboard the Matson liner Maloio.

Though Miss Pickford remained discreet before inquirers, fellow passengers during the trip from Hawaii had plenty of opportunity to discover where her favor lay.

Movies of Fairbanks were shown on board during the voyage. Miss Pickford announced her intention of going "just so she could kiss him", her companions said. Her running fire of comments during the showing of the film were "not exactly complimentary," they said.

Miss Pickford abandoned her vacation in Honolulu upon hearing the marital rift between her foster mother and Fairbanks. She will depart tomorrow for Los Angeles, where friends say she will manage Pickfair during Mary Pickford's visit to the east.

Mighty Big Bargains for Mighty Little Money

THE MAJORITY OF PETERBOROUGH MERCHANTS once more greet the Public of Peterborough City and County with their ANNUAL AUGUST TWIN DOLLAR DAYS. They are co-ordinating in a united effort to make this community-wide Bargain-Giving Two Days worth coming miles to participate in. NEXT FRIDAY AND SATURDAY the Red Pennant bedecked Stores will be actually teeming with record-smashing values, with prices of every conceivable line of merchandise hammered away down, terribly down—and all purchases will represent SAVINGS GALORE.

Wise Shoppers will Buy Now, as Manufacturers Prices Are Already Taking an Upward Saving.

Bear in mind that such Stupendous Bargains as are being prepared cannot be again repeated perhaps, in years, for the pendulum of deflation is swinging back to old time prosperity costs. So the savings effected by buying now will be like finding money, and no one should miss the opportunity of coming uptown or in to town to spend an hour or two shopping with pleasure and profit.

$136 in CASH PRIZES

These Prizes are given Absolutely Free in this way: At all stores displaying Dollar Day Pennants shoppers will receive one Estimating Blank for every dollar of their purchase. Fill out the blanks as indicated on them, with your name and address and the number of blanks you estimate will be deposited in the box in front of The Examiner office during these Twin Dollar Days. Deposit your own estimating blanks in the same box, which will remain open till ten o'clock Saturday night. Cash Prizes will be awarded as follows to the Eleven Contestants whose estimates come nearest to the exact number of blanks dropped into the box.

First Prize $50, Second Prize $25, Third Prize $15, Fourth Prize $10, Fifth Prize $5, and the Next 3 Prizes $2 Each. Also 25 $1.00 Prizes for the Wrong Price Ticket Hunt.

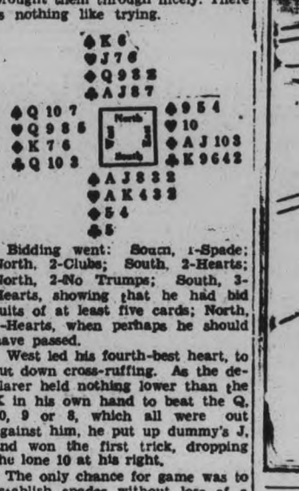
THERE IS NOTHING LIKE TRYING

ESPECIALLY when not vulnerable it pays in the long run to risk bidding an overtrick on the chance to go game. The declaring side went on rather thin ice in trying for game on the hand shown below, but good luck and careful play brought them through nicely. There is nothing like trying.



Bidding went: South, 1-Spade; North, 2-Clubs; South, 2-Hearts; North, 2-No Trumps; South, 3-Hearts, showing that he had bid suits of at least five cards; North, 4-Hearts, when perhaps he should have passed.

West led his fourth-best heart, to cut down cross-ruffing. As the declarer held nothing lower than the K in his own hand to beat the Q, 10, 9 or 8, which all were out against him, he put up dummy's J, and won the first trick, dropping the lone 10 at his right.

The only chance for game was to establish spades without loss of a trick, so that opponents could win only one trump trick and two diamond tricks. Dummy's K of spades was led, followed by the 6. The declarer's Ace won the trick, and dummy ruffed the third round of spades, being fortunate enough to establish that suit because opposing spades were even y divided. Dummy's last trump was led and declarer's two high honors won two tricks, leaving West with the good Q.

South led one of his good spades. West ruffed, winning the first trick for his side. East had echoed in clubs, so West led his Q of that suit. Dummy's Ace won the trick. South ruffed a low club. He ran off his one remaining spade and his one good heart, then he gave the two diamond tricks to opponents, but he had lost only three tricks—one trump trick and two diamond tricks, going game without difficulty.

Of course an opening lead of a spade would have made things equally simple for the declarer. He would have won the first trick with his J, in case a low lead were made, or with dummy's K if the Q had been led. He would not even have had to trump a spade. The lead of one top trump honor, followed by a small heart towards dummy would have given West a single trump trick, and the rest of the hand would have gone as it did with the heart lead.

Before tomorrow try whether an opening lead of either minor suit would have defeated the best play of South for game.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

"Dear Miss Glad: I've just started using perfumes, and really don't know much about their application as yet. However, I find that whenever I put perfume on my frocks, it stains them. These stains, of course, look most unpleasant, so I'd be grateful if you could suggest a stainless perfume for my use.

"MARION."

Gladys Glad

There are many stainless perfumes on the market at present, and all you need to do is to inquire at a good shop. Perfume, however, is not supposed to be applied in dabs to frocks, if a subtle, alluring effect is desired. Fabrics, you know, have scents of their own, and when you wet them with perfume, the odors intermingle, and the final result might be anything but pleasing. Apply perfume always to your skin. The warmth of your skin will hasten the evaporation of the alcohol in the perfume, and bring out the rich, fragrant sweetness of its precious oils.

* * *

"Dear Miss Glad: I've obtained both your 'New Figure' and 'Beauty Culture' booklets, and am glad to say that I look like quite a different individual now. I've lost 33 pounds through the reducing course in your 'New Figure' booklet, and your other booklet has done my hair and skin no end of good. However, I'm afraid of getting a double chin, and was told never to sleep with a pillow. Do you think that sleeping with a pillow has anything to do with a double chin?

"ELINOR."

The practice of sleeping with the head bolstered up by pillows every night is, in my opinion, likely to have a harmful effect on the chinline. First of all, it may result in the development of an ugly, protruding vertebra at the back of your neck. And second, when your head is constantly pushed forward in that manner, the neck and chinline may be marred, and the development of a double chin may even result. If you wish your neck and chin to retain their firm, youthful contours, by all means get into the habit of sleeping without a pillow. And if you feel that you really need one, make sure that it is a very thin, flat one only.

"Dear Miss Glad: I once read in some magazine that cuticle remover could be used to remove small callouses from the hands. I've forgotten the exact procedure, however, and as I'd like to try it, I'd be grateful if you could assist me in this matter.

AMELIA."

The process that you refer to is simple enough. Dip a cotton-tipped orangewood stick into some good cuticle remover, and touch it to the calloused spot. After a moment, make a second application of the cuticle remover, and a bit later, a third application. Then wash your hands in tepid, soapy water, letting them soak for a few minutes, and when drying them, rub the towel briskly over the callous. You will find that this will help to remove all the deadened skin, and will leave the spot soft and smooth. After such treatment, however, always use a good hand lotion, in order to counteract any drying effects and to preserve the satin-smoothness of your hands.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

An artistic tonal harmony in decoration is important.

* * * * * *

This is closely allied with color schemes but is of wide scope. We speak of the color scheme of a room, and also the tonal beauty of a room, but we do not use the term a color scheme of a house, but the color schemes.

* * * * * *

The meaning of the word "tonal" is significant. It indicates shades of colors rather than strong or pure colors. If home decorators would but appreciate the value of making use of this difference, more rooms would be artistic.

* * * * * *

This is epecially true at this period of decorative schemes in which color has been a dominant feature. Tones known as "off shades" are those sought by experienced decorators of true artistic ability.

* * * * * *

These tones are sometimes difficult to classify.

* * * * * *

For example, there is a tone which is so centralized between green and blue that one person may call it green and another blue, and each may be equally correct.

* * * * * *

It has a rare fascination. So it is with other tones. They have fascination as well as beauty. This is part of the charm of tonal effects.

* * * * * *

But apart from the baffling tones, there are so many exquisite tones that a decorator has at her command without resorting to strong colors, that she can work with them easily.

* * * * * *

A room should be graded in color strength, so that it has restfulness. A room may have for its scheme blue, green, yellow, etc., but these colors should be mellow, not crude. They should be tones.

* * * * * *

When the tones of rooms opening off one another are harmonious then the tonal effect of the house is artistic. One room should lead the eye to the other and not with suddenness.

* * * * * *

There can be no clashing, if harmony is the result. The color of woodwork should not be in too decided contrast. The walls should be in sympathetic harmony.

* * * * * *

When papering a room, hang a sample of the paper under consideration by a door opening to the next room or where it can be seen in it. Leave it there for a while, and notice it when passing. See if it pleases when compared with the wall treatment of adjoining rooms.

* * * * * *

If it does, the tonal effect is good. If it fails to please the eye it should not be used, even though it would look well in the room for which it was intended.

* * * * * *

A house cannot be decorated as if it were composed of separate rooms without regard to one another, but as if each were a part of the whole, which of course, is the fact.

Household Hints

MENU HINTS

Beef and Pork Loaf
Scalloped Potatoes Stewed Tomatoes
Sliced Cucumbers
Cream Cheese Dressing
Apple Sauce Cookies Tea

This cream cheese dressing may be used for many salads, so do not lose the recipes.

Today's Recipes

Beef and Pork Loaf.—Two and one-half pounds ground beef and pork, one cup bread crumbs, three beaten eggs, one cup milk, two teaspoons salt, one-half cup chopped onion, peppers, celery, one-half teaspoon paprika.

Cream Cheese Dressing — One package cream cheese (three ounces), eight teaspoons salad oil, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon white pepper. Cream cheese; add sugar, pepper and salt. Add oil a teaspoon at a time and when thin enough beat in rest of oil with a rotary egg beater, being very sure to add it slowly. Chill for one hour before serving. This makes a very thick dressing. If a thinner dressing is desired, add more oil.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Cucumber Boats

Crisp cucumber boats of miniature size on a sea of lettuce or endive make a summery appetizer. Fill with deviled crab meat, with shrimp cocktail mixture or with a minced chicken mixture.

In case you are in doubt as to what to add to the crab meat, add an equal portion of minced celery, a bit of chopped green pepper, a small amount of chopped pimento, moisten with mayonnaise and season with a few drops of Worcestershire sauce.

For the chicken mixture, use mayonnaise, celery, chopped salted almonds and green pepper.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Dr. Clendening

A crisis is at hand. The gent called "Lefty" has presented the opponents with two bases on balls in succession.

The manager motions to the singularly handsome young gentleman at his side, who proceeds to go up against the fence and fling ball after ball to his catching partner. A new pitcher is "warming up."

You go out on the tennis court and your opponent says, "Want to warm up a little first." You do, and proceed to whack the ball around for five minutes before you really get down to playing.

Or at golf you swing a dozen times, to the destruction of the dandelions, before you drive your first one.

Is there anything to it? Does the process of warming up really do any good?

I have been studying muscles lately in the laboratory, and the answer is "Yes, it really does."

The physiologists say that the process of warming up does two things—one is to increase the acuity of the muscle sense and stabilize the nervous processes. The second is to augment the frequency and force of the contractions of the heart, thereby enhancing the circulation of the blood in the muscles.

When you are stale from lack of exercise, you cannot perform even a moderate stint of muscular effort without symptoms of breathlessness. The condition, however, may be overcome with physical training. Provided a person is otherwise healthy, great improvement will be noted from day to day as the heart adapts itself to the more and more vigorous work.

Not only the heart, but the respiration. As the pitcher warms up he breathes more rapidly and deeply, and the gases which are needed by the tissues are thrown into the circulation. The increased demands made on the heart find a response, and in a few minutes the circulation is prepared to respond to extraordinary demands.

Even the preliminary process of warming up may not be sufficient to meet all the demands. Thus the golfer finds at about the fifth hole that he is getting steadier and that his game is improving. The tennis game during the second set is faster and harder than during the first. A newcomer who entered the game then would be badly outclassed. The other players have timed their hearts so that the muscles get a good supply of blood, as well as having the waste products promptly carried away. The muscles, therefore, respond more promptly and accurately.

STAMP CORNER

By M. A. BESSEY

This week, we illustrate six new designs in air mail stamps. All have originated during the past couple of months, thus, if you are anxious to keep your collection up to date, you will find many attractive items among the new air mails to add to it.

In the case of the stamps of Luxemberg and Uruguay, the designs are similar to the previous issues, but the colors have been changed, and one must have these new ones to be complete.

There are, of course, several stamps to the complete set in each case, but I will describe only the individual stamps of Newfoundland, which are the most popular.

Newfoundland Air Mails

The five cent, as illustrated, depicts an airplane, flying low, disturbing a flock of "partridge." The color is an autumn brown.

The ten cent, depicts a trouting scene on the "Grand Banks," off lake, also a seaplane moored near the shore, on which is shown the camp. The scene is certainly interesting and the color is a light orange, which unfortunately does not bring out the details nearly so well as a darker color would have done.

The thirty cent shows an actual sealing scene at the icefields north of Newfoundland. In the foreground the sealers are shown around a hoe in the ice attempting to make a kill. Two sealing steamers are shown, also an aeroplane, fitted with skils, about to land on the ice near the foremost ship. The aeroplane is used to spot the patches of seals. The color is blue.

The sixty cent, shows a fishing scene on the "Grang Banks,' 'off Newfoundland. One banker is shown, lying-to with dories out hawling trawls, while the second is shown under full sail, passing in the background. A seaplane is shown taxiing across the water toward the stationary ship. The color is sea-green.

The seventy-five cent, depicts an alluvial gold mining scene in Newfoundland-Labrador. The miners are shown washing the gold by the ordinary hand method. Rough log cabins are at either side, and several Esquimaux dogs are illustrated. In the background three aeroplanes may be seen approaching between huge mountain peaks. The color is old gold.

This comprises the complete issue of five stamps from this most popular British colony, which, if one may judge from a number of recent editorials, will soon lose much of its following among stamp collectors, unless the quality of its printing and neatness of its designs revert to that of former issues.

The stamps just described are most disappointing in their appearance, especially coming from Newfoundland, whose previous efforts have ranked high in both their quality of printing and designing. The stamps appear at first glance to be more like labels than air mail stamps. The designs are somewhat crudely finished, as if the artist was in too much of a hurry to give them the necessary finishing touches.

But let us wait until next week, when I hope to illustrate stamps of the New Sir Humphrey Gilbert Issue. Perhaps these will be up to the former high quality, at least we hope so.

Cogs Take Second Straight Win from C.G.E. 7-6

CLUBMEN GAIN LEAD ON GAME IN 4 INNINGS

Barry's Flinging Holds Winners in Latter Stages of Battle.

MOORE LEADS BATTERS.

Cashing in on an early lead, Cogs copped their second playoff game in the E.P.L. last night by nosing out a fighting C.G.E. team, 7 to 6, before a large crowd at the Exhibition grounds. The winners got their runs off Dunkerley in the first four frames and were blanked the rest of the way by Barry's superb flinging; and the Electrics gradually whittled down the lead to almost sew it up in an exciting final drive.

It was a good ball game, and the last half had the fans in an uproar time and again as the Barrie clan began to overhaul the sizeable lead of their opponents whom they shut right out the final five frames. Lefty Dunkerley was sent back against Cogs but it was a mistake and he was hit hard in three of the first four innings, being replaced in this stanza by Jack Barry. The slim righthander burned the ball by five batters and held them to two hits and no runs the rest of the game in a fine exhibition of twirling.

Hurls Great Ball

Percy Vannest started for Cogs and threw fine ball till they began with two hits in the eighth. He had allowed but three hits till then and fanned three, his support being wobbly at second to aid the opposition in three of their five runs. Billingsley went in in the eighth and got by till the end, giving two hits one of which scored a run. Both sides turned in some nifty defensive playing and C. G. E., though capitalizing on all the breaks, looked bad a couple of times on base-running.

Moore, with a triple and two singles in five, led the winners at bat. Rooke and Wilson got two hits apiece and Vannest clouted a double. Johnston topped the Electricians with three in four times, while Hollingsworth came through with a triple and single in three. Moore, Johnston, Jones and Hollingsworth figured in smart defensive plays.

Wilson's single, a fielder's choice and Moore's triple gave Cogs one marker in the first. They ran in four in the third on a walk, error, singles by Rooke, Moore and Masterson, and a double by Vannest. Two more were counted in the fourth on an error, sacrifice and hits by Mein, Wilson and Moore. Rooke got a hit in the sixth, and three of them drew walks in the seventh, but the Clubmen did no further scoring.

Scores On Error

For C.G.E., Johnston got a single in the second, stole but pulled a boner to be tagged out a moment later. On a roller to the box, he raced to third but apparently thinking it had been a liner, he ran back to second, being doubled out. Hollingsworth walked in the fourth and stole second. He moved up on an out and tallied on another. In the fifth, Johnston beat out a roller, stole, went to third on an out and scored on an error. Hollingsworth tripled in the sixth and breezed home on a boot at second.

Their fourth run came in the seventh when Dallin walked and tore around to third on a wild heave by Padgett to cross the plate later on an infield out. C. G. E. made a strong bid in the eighth but could get just two more. Hollingsworth led off with a single, stole and scored on C. Corbett's bingle. The latter went to third on an outfield fly. Next man popped out, and Johnston's scratchy hit to short scored Corbett. In the ninth, Jones singled. He was replaced on first by J. Dunkerley who was then thrown out stealing and the next two went out in order.

One Of Canada's Best

Queen of Canada's feminine aquatic stars is Irene Pirie, who has reached a peak in swimming that no other Canadian girl has ever been able to attain. She is the first Canadian girl to secure a place in an American women's championship. She also holds every Canadian record in free style from 100 yards to one mile. Her most recent achievement was the breaking of the 1,000-yard Canadian record. Much of her success is due to the able coaching of Alex Duff, who has guided Miss Pirie since she started competitive swimming. She is a member of the Toronto Dolphineas.

INDIANS GAIN THIRD POSITION

Senators Retain League Lead By Defeating Chicago White Sox 6-4.

New Mark For Washington.

The American League continued to feature Washington Senators and their firm hold on the lead as Joe Cronin's crew came back from the edge of defeat to beat Chicago White Sox, 6-4 in 10 innings and hold their 7½ game lead over New York Yankees. But Cleveland Indians tossed in a little added interest by capturing third place from Philadelphia's Athletics by a single percentage point.

Turn Back Boston 2-1

The Indians turned back Boston Red Sox 2-1. Detroit Tigers staged a four-run rally in the sixth, batting clear around at the expense of Roy Mahaffey and Dick Barrett, and shoved Philadelphia Athletics down with a 7-6 triumph. Jimmie Foxx's 36th home run and Mickey Cochrane's 12th Rept the A's in the game.

The Senators set up a new record for the American League this season as yesterday's victory extended thir winning streak to ten straight. The Yankees had a big inning and a big scare as they defeated St. Louis Browns, 8-3, to square their series. They cut loose against Wally Herbert and Hank McDonald in the fourth, batted round and scored all eight runs. But as Babe Ruth came up for the second time, he was struck on the leg by one of McDonald's pitches and rendered temporarily hors de combat. At first there were visions of a broken leg as the Babe went down, but it was soon to be nothing worse than a painful bruise.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL LOOP PLAYOFFS THIS EVENING

The Girls' Softball League playoffs begin at 6.30 this evening between Keene and Westclox at the East City Bowl. It is best three out of five games for the league title and the Percy Bond Trophy, now held by Keene. The latter team has won it every year since the circuit was organized and have a good chance of retaining the cup in 1933.

Westclox, however, have a bunch of classy girl softballers and will make a determined effort to take this first tilt. The Alarm Maidens won the Autumn Girls' League last Fall and handed Keene its only setback of the season. Mike Latimer, manager of the local crew, feels his team has an even chance of upsetting the dope and grabbing off the silverware. Next game is in Keene Tuesday. The largest crowd of the year will doubtless take in this first fixture tonight.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Mel Harder, Indians — Held Red Sox to five hits for 2-1 victory.

Joe Moore, Giants—Rapped Reds pitching for double and two singles scoring twice.

Solters Clouts Two Homers in One Inning

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Stoney Lake, Aug. 16.

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, last Sat. I give the fish a brake and hiked into town to see the Ponies and Petes clash, and ever since I been trying to think was the trip worth while. After the lads had won so handily in Kingston and figgering they had scalped them Ponies 3 times in a row on the home lot during the season, it looked like they would grab off the Sat. fray and put theirself a mile out in front. Mister Lee's lads looked as if they had that game in the bag, but if they did it didn't takelong for the bottom to drop outa the same.

The battle opened in a shower of rain, a shower of applause for the Petes and a shower of base hits and runs for the Ponies. The rain was all over in 10 mins., and so was the ball game, with the Ponies cashing in with 5 markers in the 1st frame, and although the outfits played out the string, the Petes never did look like pulling theirself back into the running. Little Mister Yammy Jamieson, who only lasted 3 innings of the 1st game and was touched up for 7 runs, had the home lads eating out of his hand Sat., and they couldn't do nothing but pop up or hit anemic rollers back at the Kingston infielders. The brightest spot from the local angle was the mighty smart brand of relief pitching tossed in by Mister Archie Deyell, who stopped the Ponies in their tracks for the 7 frames he worked and should of had a shutout with perfect support.

For the Ponies they was the steady pitching of Mister Jamieson, already decribed, the consistent hitting of Mister A. Joyce, the visiting 1st sacker, and the smart shortstopping of Mister Compeau. Mister Joyce strode out to the plate 5 times during the doings and 4 outa the 5 he laid the old wagon tongue against the horsehide and laced out a perfect hit. Mister Joyce'll never brake any speed records round the bases, but he sure can pour the pine. As for Mister Compeau, a pain in the neck at all times to hostile fans, he had a field day defensively, started 2 double plays that hurt worse than a sore tooth and made one gorgeous play on a high bounding ball that took a bad hop at the last moment.

Outside that 1st frame it was a swell ball game with the biggest crowd in years, swell umpiring and everything hunkydory, except the Petes took it on the chin, which ain't no way to act before a home crowd.

Well, old-timer, 1 game don't mean a serious, and the Petes oughta come through and grab the title. They got a bad game outa their system Sat. and should be better for the resta serious.

Nothing much else to talk about, Mac, except them Washington Senators is beginning to act suspiciously like they was going to cop the American League title. The Yanks seem to be slipping, and the way Mister Cronin has his gang going nobody can expect to do much skidding and stay on the same st. with the Nats.

Well, old-timer, the holidays is all washed up, and from now on the fish in these parts will come back to their usual haunts. The season is gone for another season.

Sportfully yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

DELORO STAYS IN SOCCER LEAGUE

Will Finish Schedule—Dates of Games to be Forwarded.

Local soccer fans will be please to learn that Deloro has reconsidered their withdrawal from the league, and will play the remainder of the games to be played.

Through some unforeseen circumstance, the Deloro club didn't receive a second half schedule and naturally they felt that they had been neglected which entailed a great amount of work on their executive, in arranging with the management, to get the players off for the day on such a short notice.

The Smelters executive claim that they must make exact preparation to meet all emergencies, and it is only through co-operation that such transactions can be completed in full harmony in both sport and business.

They have stated in their note to the soccer association that they withdraw their leter of cancellaion and will play the rest of the games.

The matter will be brought before the board on Monday evening, so that they can arrange the schedule accordingly.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES By ALEX. J. MORRISON

ALEX MORRISON says:

When golfers generally know more about the proper function of the left hand in swinging a club they'll give up the practice of pressing against the shaft with the left thumb.

Even at this time there are quite a few players bold enough to place their left thumb around the shaft.

However, these players seem rather uncertain about letting the thumb go all the way around the club.

Unless all the pressure against the shaft by this thumb is eliminated the left hand and wrist cannot function properly.

The only way this can be done is by letting the thumb encircle the shaft.

BROACA EQUALS RECORD.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, A.P. Sports Writer.)

Julius Solters of Baltimore, rated as about the best major league prospect in the International League this year, has capped his slugging feats with a stunt of record proportions—that of hitting two home runs in one inning.

Solters turned the trick at Rochester last night as he led his club to a 12-3 victory that put the Orioles right back in the race for second place only a game and a half behind the Red Wings. He came up in the fourth inning, found one of Jim Cooney's offerings just to his liking, and crashed it over the centre field fence 410 feet away from the plate for one of the longest homers made in the Red Wing Stadium. The Orioles kept on hammering the former St. Louis southpaw who was making his first stand for Rochester, batted clear around and when Solters came up again he lifted another one out of the park. Altogether the young centrefielder accounted for six of the eight runs Baltimore scored in the one big inning.

Although the record books don't list minor league slugging feats, only eight major leaguers are listed as having accomplished the feat Solters duplicated last night and none ever surpassed it.

Broaca Equals Record.

Solters' hitting wasn't the only outstanding performance in the circuit last night. Johnny Broaca, the bespectacled flinger who is not long out of Yale set a season's mark and came close to the league record as he fanned 16 men in pitching the league leading Newark Bears to a 4-2 victory over Montreal Royals. The league mark is 20 wiffings, made by Dave Danforth of Buffalo two years ago.

The Royals' defeat shoved them down into seventh place in the standing behind Buffalo Bisons and Albany Senators, who went into a tie for fifth.

Bisons Move Ahead.

Buffalo moved ahead by putting on two four-run innings against Joe Bartulis, a recent teammate, and whipping Jersey City Skeeters 8-4 in another night game.

The Senators and Toronto Leafs divided a daylight doubleheader, Toronto winning the first 6-5 when Keith Frazier gave only six hits, although he passed Stanley Hack five times and handed out five other walks. Albany came back against Ralph Birkofer, pitching his last game before returning to Pittsburgh, scored 10 runs in the fourth with the aid of a couple of errors and won 11-6.

REMANDED AT COBOURG

COBOURG, Aug. 19—John Sherrin, a Port Hope stock salesman, was remanded yesterday until Aug 25, when he appeared before Magistrate J. H. Davidson on a serious charge involving a Millbrook girl. He was arrested by Oshawa police and brought here by Provincial Constable W. Carey.

GIANTS FACING CRUCIAL TESTS

Meet Balance of Pennant Contenders in Next Two Weeks.

COP 3RD STRAIGHT 4-1.

New York Giants, having painstakingly built up a five-game lead in the National League pennant struggle and having convinced a majority of the fans that they are "the" team of the circuit this season, are about to put their pretentions to the acid test.

In the next couple of weeks, beginning with to-day's game against Chicago Cubs, the Giants have to take on all of the other pennant contenders, Chicago, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Boston, in rapid succession. When that seige is over, they can be definitely catalogued as either a champion ball club or just a bunch of players who went a lot further than expected on the strength of good pitching and then cracked when the strain was put on them.

Third Straight for Giants

The Giants got themselves "set" for the trial yesterday by knocking off the lowly Cincinnati Reds for the third straight time, 4-1, and adding a half-game to their margin over Pittsburgh, which was idle.

To-day they were to open against the third-place Cubs who, far from being "softened" in their series with the Boston Braves, came back to win the last game 4-3.

So far, the Giants have divided 14 games with Chicago and have chalked up 21 victories to 20 defeats against the three strong Western clubs.

Havelock Team Wins Trent Valley Title

MAMORA, Aug. 19 (Examiner Correspondence).—The championship of the Trent Valley League went to Havelock on Friday in the third game of the play-offs with Deloro, the winners duplicating their performance at Deloro on Wednesday in winning by 5-3 on the Tweed grounds.

For Havelock, W. Sexsmith pitched six innings being relieved by his brother Harry in the seventh. Vincent Callery went the whole route for the Smelters. Havelock scored three of their runs in the first innings. As winners of their loop, they next meet the winner of the East Peterborough League in the O.B.A. semi-finals.

OTTAWA BOWLERS TAKE HONORS IN P.B.A. PLAY

Port Perry Wins Fours in Semi-final Round of Provincial Lawn Bowling Association Play-offs Played on Local Greens Yesterday.

Ottawa bowlers won the singles and doubles and Port Perry the fours in the semi-final round of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association's play-offs here yesterday. The finals will be played in Ottawa September 1.

In the singles competition E. V. Pye of Ottawa nosed out Fred O. Higgins of Kew Beach, Toronto, by twelve points. They were tied on games, each having two wins and one loss, and their aggregate scores against opponents also added up to the same total of 62 points. But in the opposite column, Pyes cards showed 42 points scored against him, twelve less than Higgins' aggregate of 41.

C. J. Peacock of Oshawa and C. P. Shephard of Campbellford were the other contenders in the singles.

The scores were as follows:

E. V. Pye.....21 C. J. Peacock .16

F. C. Higgins..19 C. P. Shephard 21

E. V. Pye.....21 C. P. Shepard .4

C. J. Peacock..12 F. C. Higgins .22

F. C. Higgins..21 E. V. Pye 20
C. P. Shephard..8 C. J. Peacock 24

	For	Ag'nst
Pye, won 2, lost 1	62	41
Higgins, won 2, lost 1	62	53

Summary of the Games

Pye gave the small afternoon gallery a treat in his game with Charlie Peacock of Oshawa. He faltered slightly in the first few ends, but quickly overhauled his opponent. He displayed a fine sense of weight and his smooth delivery was a feature of his style.

C. P. Shephard of the Campbellford club, snatched a tight game from Fred Higgins of Kew Beach, Toronto by placing three shots close to the "jack" on the deciding end that gave him the necessary total of 21. It was close bowling all the way, Shephard clinching it with his almost perfect three. He failed to do anything with Pye, however, and also bowed to Peacock.

Higgins struck his stride in his next game in which he turned Charlie Peacock back by 22-12, and after that come back he went on to defeat Pye by 21-20, the keenest clash of the afternoon. But his card of the Shephard game counted heavily against him when the "round robin" scores were totalled.

The Doubles Competition

"Gibb" Taylor and W. E. Minton of Ottawa qualified in the doubles by defeating Tommy Johns and Ed Goodman of Oshawa 17-13, and then taking Walter Wiggins and Archie Meyers of Campbellford by the score of 33-10. There were only three entries in this competition.

The Ottawa pair were facing two of the veteran bowlers of Central Ontario when they went out against Johns and Goodman. It was a long, carefully played game of twenty-one ends, lasting from one o'clock to until about 4:15. Half a dozen times Minton upset Goodman's promising ends by raising the "jack" or picking out threatening shots. After that "warm up" they were all set for Wiggins and Meyers, and tacked on the second games without much difficulty.

Port Perry Rink wins

The fours competition brought out only the Port Perry and Desoronto rinks. D. Carnegies quartette winning handily from Joe Taman of Desoronto by 29-16.

The personnel was:

Port Perry	Desoronto
W. Graham	A. Rendell
A. McFarlane	C. Rendell
J. Murray	R. Miller
D. Carnegie	J. Taman
Skip.....29	Skip.....16

Jack Mayneord was official umpire.

The visitors were greatly impressed by the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Clubs greens and commodious club quarters.

PRESENT CONDITIONS MAKE IT PAST PHYSICAL FEAT OF MAN

Scoring Much Lower Than It Was Six Years Ago, Says Lamb.

WAS CADDY HIMSELF

(By Ben Goldberg)

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (Special to The Examiner).—Pay more attention to keeping the mind on the shot to be played. Don't concentrate too much on keeping the eye on the ball, is the advice of Willie Lamb, four time Canadian professional champion.

"I use an overlapping grip," he said, "and a fairly open stance for practically all shots. On a short approach shot I keep my stance fairly open and keep the ball placed a little nearer to the right foot, use a slightly upright swing, then hit straight down on the ball and as a final touch flick the hands up slightly as the club head passes under the ball."

Having learned the game of golf through several years of caddying experience, Lamb is of the opinion that this is one of the greatest ways of learning, and he continues with a message to aspiring golfers.

"The first thing to do is to watch good players whenever you have the opportunity and if you have a swing you consider to be along the regular lines you shouldn't be afraid to experiment with different shots. You should consult a professional from time to time to see if you're working along correctly."

Good Caddies

Good caddies, says Lamb, have a great deal to do with the success of the golfer. The caddy sees a diversity of shots in the course of a week. His understanding of distance becomes very keen and his advice on certain clubs is usually very sound. It will be found that he pulls very hard for the player which is also a great stimulus to his efforts.

When Lamb won the Canadian title for the fourth time recently, he accomplished something that only one other Canadian ever did. Back some twenty-five years ago Dave Black of Vancouver, took the Canadian title for three successive years and then won it a fourth time a few seasons afterwards.

As a school boy in Montrose, Scotland, where he was born, Lamb played soccer and started his golfing activities by caddying. Then he graduated and found himself an amat'ur competitor in the finals of the Montrose Club championship on two occasions.

Mainly through the efforts of F. C. Armitage, secretary of the Toronto Golf Club, Lamb was engaged as an assistant professional of the same club, and so he came to Canada in 1924. He served in that capacity for five years and then went to Uplands in 1929 as a professional, where he has been ever since.

"Golf is improving very rapidly to-day," says Lamb. "Scoring is much lower to-day than it was six years ago. But as to seeing scores in the low sixties, that is beyond physical power of man under present conditions."

Golfers Not Born

Golfers are made and not born, thinks Lamb. It is mainly a matter of environment and regular playing habits on the golf courses that count.

Although Bobby Jones is acknowledged the greatest golfer, Lamb thinks Walter Hagen is the best golfer among those he has seen. Andy Kay, in his opinion, is Canada's best.

"Sandy Somerville is a fine player from his record, but I think with more competition of a keener calibre than he has been getting, he'd be on the top of his class."

In 1927 he captured his first victory of note by winning the Mexican professional title. That started him on the road to golfing laurels. During that same year he won the assistant professional championship of Canada, entitling him to participate in the professional championship the following year.

For the next three consecutive years Lamb made history by winning the Canadian professional title. He became the only man to ever win the Quebec Open title for three successive years. To add to these coveted crowns, for the past two years he has taken the Ontario Open.

Why has Lamb never entered into U. S. competition? Simply because his work compels him to stay here. The American championships are held during his busiest months.

"My greatest ambition as a golfer is to go back and play in the British Open,' declared Lamb.

"When Japan, Argentina, Australia and New Zealand send representatives to the British Open, there is no reason why the Royal Canadian Golf Association doesn't send some Canadian representatives. The great boost Canadian golf got this year from the visit Sandy Somerville paid to Great Britain warrants this idea being given serious consideration."

Golf

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (CP) Bobby Alston, who is showing the way to the boys in the Canadian open golf championship will carry a lucky charm as he starts out on the final spurt for the title to-day. Just after he had propelled a difficult 20-footer on the home green yesterday which gave him the lead over the field, the 24-year-old Ottawan was presented with a spray of white heather which he immediately pinned over his heart. "I'm not superstitious" Alston said, "but if anything can bring you luck it's real homeland heather." You've guessed, Bobby is a Scot.

The boys assigned to the only difficult water hazard on the Royal York course, the 13th have been kept busy retrieving balls during the two days of open championship tourney. More than 25 pellets have already failed to carry the burn which stretches across the fairway about 160 yards from the tee. And there are 36 holes yet to play before the championship ends.

Gene Sarazen recently crowned U.S. professional champion and holder of the British and American open titles last year, was busy autographing balls yesterday. As his own supply began to twindle, Gene humorously remarked: "If this keeps up I won't have enough balls to finish out the round, but then probably it won't matter."

The only southpaw in the Canadian open golf championship, E. A. Andrews, of Toronto, passed out of the title chase at the close of the 36-hole route yesterday. He posted cards of 80-90=179, but admited that he had been badly off color "just when I should have been going nicely to uphold the prestige of the portsiders."

Morrison's Mascots Score 25-8 Victory

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 19 (Examiner Correspondence). — Morrison's Juvenile Mascots scored a signal victory over their feminine opponents when they trimmed them 25-8. The boys were in full strength and are undoubtedly a promising team, and could hold their own with any other aggregation of their size. The girls' team was a mixed team of married and single ladies, and while they played a fair game the "men" were too much for them. The game was a six-innings' fixture and was called because of darkness. The score by innings:

Mascots	012 14,8x—25
Ladies'	300 0 33— 8

Line-up:

Boys'.—D. Yale, c; R. Mason, p; J. Morrison, 1b; D. Hurl, 2b; A. Mason, 3b; M. Bullock, ss; D. Remnaud, rf; E. Bell, lf; K. Briant, cf.

The weaker—well, they have their weak moments—sex do their stuff in the Ashburnham Bowl tonight at 6.30, Keene and Westclox tangling in the first of the gals' playoff series. The fair ones dish up some smart softball, these two teams of course being the pick of the league. Keene has a mighty nifty outfit bu the Alarm Lasses are figuring on putting the boots to the shaky old dope-bucket tonight and sending the Keenesters home with the wrong side of the score. Ought to be a huge crowd and a lot of noise around the east end of the bridge along about seven o'clock.

• • • • • •

What to do, what to do? That's the tough problem of a baseball manager in a tight spot in the playoffs. If he guesses right, he's a master-mind; if he makes a mistake, he's a bum. Manager Frank Barrie was on the spot twice in that E.P.L. game last night, and the cards wouldn't come his way either time. He figured Lefty Dunkerley to take the Cogs after pitching a fine game against them a few nights before. But instead of Lefty taking anybody, he was took, and how! Again in the ninth with the tying run on first, he pulled Jones off as he had a bum knee and replaced him with a faster runner. The latter was then told to steal second. Maybe he wasn't cut out for theft, but anyway he didn't make it, and C.G.E. lost, 7 to 6.

• • • • • •

That win gives Cogs two victories, the other game played being a tie. As the O.B.A.A. hadn't stepped in last night and told them to declare a winner, looks like the series will be three out of five. The next game will have to be Monday, and a fourth if necessary, likely on Tuesday. They're waiting for a winner in that Havelock-Deloro series (now tied up) and will probably meet them about Wednesday. Cogs appear to be a good bet for the E.P.L. title this year, but one never knows.

• • • • • •

Jack Barry replaced Dunkerley in the fourth and hurled sweet ball. They just got two scattered singles off him the rest of the way—and don't forget they had been murdering the ball till then—and five saw the third strike whiz by. C.G.E. put up a game battle to overhaul that early lead and came mighty close to it, but close doesn't count in baseball.

• • • • •

Lex Rice, former star catcher of the Kingston Ponies, was drowned the other day in Sarnia in a boating accident. He was a great receiver with the Ponies when they copped the C.O.B.L. title back in '24 and '25, with such players as Batstone, Compeau, Evans, Somerville, Purvis, Cherry, Gallagher and Kelly. In 1925, Compeau and Rice signed with Knotty Lee for the Kitchener team in the Michigan-Ontario loop, Rice going next season to Cumberland in the Mid-Atlantic circuit. He was here last year with Lee's Canadian All-Stars, and has been in active service in pro ball ever since leaving Kingston. Local players and fans of nine and ten years ago will remember Lex and regret his death.

• • • • • •

We've covered briefly the personnel of the Petes' team one by one, and of course cannot conclude without a few words about their coach this year, Knotty Lee. The lively ruddy-faced mentor is the brains and driving power behind the team and largely responsible for pushing them into the playoffs. He had the material but also knew how to use it. There is no smarter coach in the game, nor as great a fighter. Of the Cobb-McGraw-Bush type, Knotty is a grouch during a ball game, hustling every minute and jumping with both feet on any player that shows any sign of dumb or careless playing. He is as fidgety as a rookie till the last out, when he again becomes genial, wise-cracking and relaxed. He bears no grudge after the game, and his players quickly learn that his sizzling remarks to them have no malice.

• • • • • •

One thing that burns the gentle Mister Lee up is the O.B.A.A. ruling that professional coaches must do their stuff from the bench and not on the coaching lines. But his lungs are okay and those fierce hand-waving signals are watched for by his players out on the diamond. However, local fans are missing something by not seeing his fighting figure hopping around in the coaching box, and hearing his colorful commands ringing out, and witty cracks at the opposition. "Up in Sarah's room!" he'll yell when they throw a high ball to his batter; or "put your arm in a sling," he'll crack to Mickey Compeau whom he claims once quit on him in the old days complaining of an imaginary sore wing. One Belleville game here, Sonny Green pulled a nifty on Knotty, but the latter came back fast. "Aw, get yourself an island and a couple of feathers and go home!" he returned, and the Indian grinned and subsided. That's Knotty Lee, a hard-boiled, witty and likeable coach of the old school.

Some mixup or other found the Dinty's Inn-Millbrook lacrosse game last night being played at the latter place instead of here. But it turned out a better gate resulted at the village so that's okay. The Inn lads took a 7-1 decision to capture a playoff berth in the Inter-County loop with Cobourg. The winners opened fast and played a better game throughout, Gardner and Jones getting three goals each and McGregor tallying the other one. The whole team clicked in fine style.

Sport-hash: The E.P.L. playoffs will resume Monday, at least that's the dope today . . . . Havelock won the Trent Valley title from Deloro and will meet the local champs about Wednesday . . . . The bubble bursted with a bang, the one regarding Rye's going to play an exhibition softball game with a Parliament League team in Ottawa today, and the local players—some of whom had got the day off for the trip—are still smouldering . . . . Seems somebody slipped on making arrangements and let the boys think right up till yesterday that the trip was on . . . . Sugar Bowl will probably find Smith-Baldwin's of Lindsay a tough mouthful—one likely to loosen a few molars . . . . Some good local tennis is being dished up in this Open Tournament now going on at Peterborough and Kawartha Clubs.

Omemee Nine Wins Easy 9-2 Victory

OMEMEE, Aug. 19.—(Examiner Correspondence). — The Omemee softball team won an easy victory over Reaboro Thursday evening in a seven-inning game, the final score being 9-2. Parsons, in the box for Omemee, held the Reaboro batters in check at all times and his teammates gave him a nice lead to work on early in the game.

Omemee: Shine, 2b; McQuade, cf; McNeill, 3b; Gallagher, lf; Brooks, c; Rehill, 1b; Parsons, p; Weir, ss; Stevenson, rf.

Reaboro: Calvert, 3b; Pogue, 1b; Reeds, c; Smith, rf; Mackay, p; Morden, 2b; McNevin, cf; Whitmore, lf; Tripp, ss.

Score by innings:

Omemee	4130100—9
Reaboro	1000100—2

Umpires: Hayes at the plate, Smith on bases.

Big Six Averages

(By Canadian Press.)

Julius Solters of Baltimore and Ike Boone of Toronto seem bound that neither of them will hold the International League batting leadership for more than one day. For the fourth time this week the lead changed hands yesterday when Solters rammed out his 29th and 30th home runs of the season in three times at bat to boost his average two points, while Boone dropped two. There was no other change in the standing.

The batting leaders:

BOBBY ALSTON LEADING FIELD IN THE CANADIAN GOLF OPEN

His Second Consecutive 71 Gives One Stroke Margin Over Joe Kirkwood.

COOPER-DIEGEL THIRD.

(By A. E. Fulford, C.P. Staff Writer.)

ROYAL YORK GOLF CLUB, Toronto (C.P.)—Hopes Canadians have held for years, that one of their own would bring back the title to the Dominion, became concrete to-day as Bobby Alston went out to defend the lead he held over a field of invading stars bent on taking the Canadian Open golf championship out of the country for the 15th consecutive year.

The 24-year-old Scottish professional who came here three years ago to join the band of Britons threatening United States supremacy of Canadian golf, led a field of 89 players out to-day on a 36-hole hunt that may produce the first Canadian Open golf champion since Karl Keffer of Ottawa won the title in 1914.

Centre of Gallery

Modest, unassuming, Alston went out yesterday with scarcely the sign of a gallery, wound up with all eyes on the course turned in his direction, and to-day drew a greater crowd than many international stars of the game could interest.

His pair of 71's, made over the tough par 72 Royal York course, gave the Ottawan a one-stroke advantage over Joe Kirkwood, of Chicago, and more than that over the rest of the 88 players who were within 20 strokes of him and so qualified to go into the second 36-hole round of the 72-hole tournament.

"Lighthorse" Harry Cooper, the defending champion, who started off like a whirlwind in defence of his title with a 70, broke ont the last nine yesterday and carded a 74, giving him a total of 144 and placing him in a tie for third place at the half-way mark with Leo Diegel, who had two 72's.

Besides Cooper and Diegel, three other United States stars were threatening the best chance a Canadian has had to bring the title back to native soil in years. Horton Smith, the "Jopling host," banked on a 36-hole score of 145 to steady him as he went out this morning, and Tom Kerrigan and Johnny Farrell were only a stroke behind Smith.

Gene Sarazen, drawer of galleries here, although he has not shown up among the leaders, was five strokes behind Alston. Willie Lamb, Canadian professional champion, and Lex Robson, another outstanding Canadian, were bracekted with the United States pro. champion with 147's.

Alston's 71 yesterday gave new hope to Canadians who had figured the young Ottawan would break under the strain of competing with the continent's best. A remarkable enthusiasm for a Canadian to take the title after such a long American domination has permeated this years' title hunt.

Made "Playing Pro."

Canadians can hardly claim Alston as a native, but he has adopted this country as his home. After three years under Jimmy Clay at the Ottawa Rivermead course as assistant professional, Alston brought the club so much renown he has been made a "playing pro." by Rivermead.

Ownership of the title will not be decided until this evening. Cooper plays his fourth round this afternoon at two o'clock and Alston is not away until 30 minutes later. Half a dozen others with designs on the title and near enough to come through with the winning score go out even later.

AMATEUR STANDINGS

SOUTHEND LEAGUE

With one game left to play in the schedule of the South End League the standing is:

Team:	P.	W.	L.	%
Canucks	9	8	1	.888
Orioles 10		8	2	.800
Rangers 10		7	3	.700
Nationals	9	4	5	.444
A.S.A.A. 10		2	8	.200
Bonnerworth ...10		0	10	.000

The last game of the schedule is between National and Canucks. The Nationals have slipped considerably the second half, while the Canucks have been consistent winners. If the Nationals win it will cause a tie for first place between Orioles and Canucks.

The Canucks and Nationals are sure of play-off positions, as they finished first and second in the first half. The Orioles and Canucks are sure of play-off positions in the second half. If the Canucks lose to the Nationals in Monday night's fixture a sudden-death game or some other way of deciding first and second places will have to be agreed upon.

If the Canucks finish in second place in the second half by losing to the Orioles after the tie, they will have two chances in the play-offs; by first meeting the Nationals and then the Orioles.

A meeting will in all probability be held to decide upon play-offs, etc., in the near future.

BOWLING NOTES

(By Herb Martin)

Believe it or not, the rink skipped by Alderman John McNabb won first prize in last night's tournament. It was the first time that our friend John has ever turned the trick and it certainly gave the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee a good chance to tell the rest of the boys just how good bowlers he and his rink are. Jack became very much excited and started a line of oratatory that was well worth staying up half the night to listen to; but as there is a ime limit of two hours and forty-seven minutes for speech-making, Johnny had to cut his contribution short. Anyway, the popular alderman carried away a nice basket of breakfast fruit for his efforts.

First.—R. Knox, A. Graham, G. Coleman, J. McNabb, skip. 3 wins, plus 23.

Second—W. Jeffries, H. Coleman, S. Lowe, K. Sloane, skip. 2 wins, plus 23.

Third—R. Penrose, C. Taylor, B. Best, R. Dyer, skip. 2 wins, plus 23.

Fourth—G. Solby, M. Roche, G. Gimblett, H. Freeman, skip. 1 win, plus 12.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By the Canadian Press.)

LONG BRANCH, N.J. — Jackie Wilson, 127, Pittsburgh, outpointed Ernie Ratner, 129½, Newark, (10); Billy Wilson, 142, Pittsburgh, won on a foul from Al Pieretti, 141, Bloomfield, N.J., (4).

ERIE, Pa. — Harry Dublinsky, Philadelphia, stopped Frankie Bojarski, Erie, (7).

ST. LOUIS — Allen Matthews, 155, St. Louis, outpointed K. O. Kelly, 154, Akron, O., (10); Steve Marre, 162, St. Louis, stopped Abie Kirk, 163, Carrollton, Ill., (4).

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, August 20

Sunday's horoscope holds an augury of a sudden and entirely unexpected chain of events, with probably radical change of environment, interest and associates. An element of the adventurous and speculative may complexion the affairs and have a far-reaching effect on the future destinies.

Those whose birthday it is may find a year in which sudden and unforseen events may be responsible for changing the entire course of the life, with strange contacts, fresh opportunities and greatly enlarged prospects for progress.

A child born on this day may be adventurous, talented, original, independent and may have a career of great and profitable experiences.

For Monday, August 21

Monday's astrological forecast accents the auguries of Sunday's inauguration of great changes, experiences and adventures in the career, with a sudden and whirlwind rearrangement of the interests, opportunities and prospects. These unite in radically changing the destinies, eventuating in cherished success and progress.

Those whose birthday it is are on the event of a most important year, with a sudden precipitation of fresh openings of far-reaching influence on the life and its interests and contacts.

A child born on this day may be adventurous, independent, modern, brilliant and progressive. It should have a notable and adventurous career.

Ottawa Youth Wins Second Place Money

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 19—(Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Jack Johnston, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ashton won second prize in the men's long distance swim at Presqu'ile Point Regatta this week.

Jack won the junior race last year at the same regatta, but was classed as a senior this year, having passed his fifteenth birthday.

In a field of about thirty contestants, over a distance of one and a quarter miles, he got away to a good start, kept in the forefront, and finished quite fresh. Jack is a student at Glebe Collegiate, Ottawa.

MARMORA, 50 YEARS AGO IS SUBJECT OF PAPER

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, August 18. — The monthly meeting of the Marmora Womans Institute was held on Aug. 10th at the home of the vice-president, Mrs. Frank Sweet. Owing to the holiday season the attendance was not so large as usual but the interest was sustained. Mrs. E. C. Prentice acted as secretary in the absence of Miss F. Sopha.

The two sides of the attendance roll were chosen under the captaincy of Mrs. C Nichol and Mrs. F. R. Wells, and it was evidenced that a freindly rivalry is in store for the year. A splendid demonstration on Resuscitation was given by Mr. J. A. Rice, with his son George, as the patient, and a lively discussion followed. An excellent paper on Marmora fifty years ago, prepared by Mrs. C. A. Bleeker, was read by Mrs. H. W. Sabine. Lunch was served by the committee at the close of the meeting.

The September meeting will be marked as "Grandmothers Night," and the home of the most active grandmother of the branch, Mrs. U. Pinner, has been chosen for the holding of the event

Alfred E. Burgis Plumbing And Heating Expert

Made Close Study of Heating Systems.

The establishment of Alfred E. Burgis of Campbellford is recognized as one of the most expert sheet metal and furnace concerns in this section. They understand and execute all classes of sheet metal work, regardless of the problems one may have in this line. Years of experience together with their knowledge of all the perplexing features of the modern day sheet metal work enables them to overcome practically every difficulty.

One of their specialties is the installation of furnaces and it is their endeavor to install these so as to give the highest type of service. They are installed under a standard code which is the correct guide for securing maximum service and absolute results. Before deciding upon a furnace for the home, be sure to consult them, or 'phone Campbellford 63W. Their experience has proven to them the value of a scientific heating plant properly installed.

They are specialists of the highest order of excellence in all factory sheet metal and heating work. Their experience in this line will prove of great value to any concern that is contemplating having work of this nature done.

Mr. Burgis is a local man who has been serving the people of this section in this line of business for a number of years.

The highest grade of workmanship, together with dependability and prices of consistent modesty, has been the policy of this concern. In fact, they render an indispensable service to the people of this community. It might be well to suggest that whenever one is in need of any work relative to tinsmithing or furnace, metal roofing, flashing, eave-troughing, etc., work that they get in touch with this firm. Plans or estimates are always available and are cheerfully given.

Name three prominent contracts this firm completed.

THIRD LANARK DEFEATED 2-1

Hibernians Battle to Scoreless Draw With Rongers in Senior Company.

HOME TEAMS LOSE GAMES.

GLASGOW, Scotland, Aug. 19. (C.P. Cable)—Queen of the South, promoted from the second division of the Scottish Football League, won their second straight victory to-day defeating Third Lanark on the latter's ground in this city by 2-1.

Hibernians who also moved up into senior company at the end of last season were at home to the mighty Rangers and a hard game resulted in a scoreless draw.

To-day's games were marked by the superiority of teams playing away from home, six winning their games, while three others annexed one point each by virtue of drawn matches.

BETWEEN BOOK ENDS

THE SNOWS OF HELICON
By H. M. Tomlinson. 1933

The first 25 pages of Mr. Tomlinsons novels are notorious for the difficulty they present to most readers; there is in the action of his mind a long Atlantic roll not known except in deepest waters. Some readers, alas, go no farther than the opening pages. However, those who persist are richly rewarded.

THE SNOWS OF HELICON has this same early bewilderment. Indeed, rarely throughout the book does the story achieve crystalline clearness. The vagueness of the dreamer fills it. Space and time are jumped between chapters. It is the mind and not the outward event that is important. The story is exciting in places, but it moves in the shadow of curious thought.

This is the odyessey of one Travers, an absent-minded, beauty-loving architect who looks upon the works of men and finding them unpleasant, sets out on impetuous adventure, expressing thus his rebellion against contemporary forces of ugliness.

The terms of Traver's struggle with society are never reported with cold words in the book. Those you gather for yourself But through many pages of lovely impressionistic prose you form a picture of a distinguished temperament.

This is a poor novel, but a magnificent book After all, it does not greatly matter what thread Mr. Tomlinson's mind follows, whether fiction, travel or a theme, for he is a companion worth going with wherever he goes and for as long as he chooses to go

Reading over THE CHINESE NIGHTINGALE strengthens our belief that with the death of Vachel Lindsay last year the New World lost her purest lyrical poet

Vachel Lindsay was not only one of the most remarkable poets of our day; he was an American Phenomenon He was a large man, with a shrill twang, a great evangelizing zeal He was given to large screams of laughter and had a passionate habit of taking naps on every possible occasion:—he lived at such a high tensity that he would go until there was no more energy in him, and then suddenly collapse and lie either prone or supine for as long as possible Christopher Morley says the only real likeness he ever saw of Lindsay were those lions in the front of the New York Public Library, . . . that curious backward tilt of the head and tawny mane and the eyes screwed upward

Lindsay's three "R's" were Rhythm, Religion and Ragtime For him, poetry was still a chant. He claimed that it was not enough to read a poem; it must be chanted or sung. And preferably by Lindsay, in a sonorous voice, with raised head and drooping eyelids, like a blind Illinois Homer.

He lived to preach and spread the gospel of beauty. Setting out on foot from his Springfield home in 1910, while a young man, he tramped through Florida and the Southern States, singing himself around the countryside and trading his rhmyes for his very bread.

He would approach a farm house and when the door was opened would start gushing poetry. Such was his charm, such was his magnetism that they usually took him in and had a very happy evening together. He would read and recite and give away pamphlets of his own verse, which he also printed and frequently illustrated.

His poem, "GENERAL BOOTH ENTERS INTO HEAVEN," high-spirited and drum-banging, announced the renaissance of literature in America in 1912. Then came the dynamic "THE CONGO," set to the tempo of the heart beat. And then the exquisite "CHINESE NIGHTINGALE" and OTHER POEMS. Meanwhile Lindsay was vigorously crusading all over America. He died suddenly last January at the age of 57.

To-day he is not as well known as he will be. Let us hope that he will not too long "Sleep softly, eagle forgotten, under the stone. . ."

BRIEF MENTION . . . being high spots culled from the Fall catalogues . . . A new novel by Warick Deeping. "TWO BLACK SHEEP" . . . a thriller from A. A. Milne's pen, "FOUR DAYS' WONDER" . . . Dorothy Parker's short stories, "AFTER SUCH PLEASURE" . . . Ernest Hemingway's short stories "WINNER TAKE ALL" (although we have seen it mentioned under two other titles) . . . Archibald McLeish's "SELECTED POEM" which will include, we hope, the 1932 Pulitzer Prize winning "THE CONQUISTADOR . . . that famous artist and playboy, James Thurber's "THE LIFE AND HARD TIMES OF JAMES THURBER" . . . "THE SIXTH NEW YORKER ALBUM" . . . A new novel from Sigrid Undset, "IDA ELIZABETH" . . . Handsome Adolph Hitler's autobiography, "MY BATTLE" . . . Robret Grave's autobiography of an emperor, "I, CLAUDIUS," which should cause some discussion. Mr. Graves, you will remember, has just completed the re-writing of Dickens' "PICKWICK PAPERS," in a modern vein. . . . Louis Bromfield has a new novel "THE FARM" . . . and a travel book we look for eagerly is Charles S. Brooks "AN ITALIAN WINTER." Mr. Brooks' essays deserve much more attention than they receive . . . and here is our choice as the finest publication of the fall . . . "AN OMNIBUS OF PROSE," being the four novels of Elinor Wylie. "Jennifer Lorne," "The Venetian Glass Nephew," "Mr. Hodge and Mr. Hazard" and "The Orphan Angel." This is to be an uniform edition to Miss Wylie's "COLLECTED POEMS," which, if you havn't run across, we can hardly recommend too highly.

League total—678.

City Tennis Tourney

In first round men's singles in yesterday's local Open Tournament play, Louis Chesler won from Art Ward, 6-2, 6-3; J. Donaldson defeated J. Elmslie, 6-1, 6-0; and E. Rigby captured his match from S. Carter, 6-1, 6-3. The second round saw George Nicholls turn back Jack Cowling, 9-7 and 6-2, the first set being a fine battle.

The men's doubles first round went to Sills and Crowe over Benson and Cunningham, 6-0, 6-0; and an upset when J. and G. Kirkwood finished strong to win from Jones and Vincent, 5-7, 6-1 and 6-2, the brother-act, one being a righthander and the other left, crossing the opposition up regularly the last two sets. Miss S. Levine won the first round ladies' singles match from Miss Ruth Sutton, 6-2 and 6-0.

Play will continue at the Kawartha courts over the week-end. Participants in the ladies' events and the mixed doubles must have the first round completed by Wednesday evening.

Martin Barn Burns; Hit By Bolt at Madoc

MADOC Aug. 17. — (Examiner Correspondence.) —At about three o'clock Friday morning the barn on the farm occupied by Mr. Charles Martin and owned by Mrs. Rodgers of Peterborough was struck by lightning and was almost entirely consumed before the Martin family were aware of the fire. The Madoc Volunteer Department were called, but were unable to subdue the blaze.

The barn had only been re-shingled afew days ago, so had not been used for storing the season's crop of hay. The barn is a total loss, and was only partly covered by insurance.

Shades Dash Mark

Mildred Frizzell, outstanding Canadian sprinter, made fast time in the senior 60-metre dash by running the distance in 7 4-5 seconds, but one-tenth of a second slower than the Ontario record, despite a streng head wind. The party of feminine Canadian athletes stopped over at Fort William on their way home from the women's track and field meet at New Westminster to participate in the invitation track meet.

DOCTORS WATCH GANDHI

POONA, India, Aug. 19. (AP)— While official doctors watched the health of Mohandas K. Gandhi to-day, it was considered likely that the India government is determined to allow him to continue his fast unto death without acceding to his demands. Another probability is that he will be released from Yeroda jail when he becomes ill.

C.G.I.T. ENTERTAIN MOTHERS CHURCH LAWN IN SPRINGVILLE

Address By Mrs. McKone, Peterborough, Follows Brilliant Toast List.

W.M.S. SPONSORS PICNIC.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

SPRINGVILLE, August 18. — Springville church lawn was the setting for a very successful Mother and daughter banquet on Friday evening when the C.G.I.T. girls entertained their mothers and a few guests.

The tables were very daintily arranged, each being covered with a white cloth, centered with a bouquet of flowers, and set with four places. The plates were artistically arranged with seasonable vegetables, jellies and cold ham.

The program opened with community singing, followed with a few words from the leaders thanking the mothers for their kind hospitality during the past two years of the C.G.I.T. work in Springville. The toasts were as follows:

Proposed—to the King, by Miss Staples, the reply being "God Save the King."

To the church, by Janet Wilson, the reply being the singing of "The Church's One Foundation."

To our Mothers, by Ruth Hunter, the reply by Mrs. Johnston.

To our Daughters, by Mrs. Hunter, the reply by Mary Staples. A very pleasant number was the singing of that old Irish number 'Mother Machree,' by Mrs. Westington. A reading "That Irish Mother of Mine," was given by Nellie Sheppard, and was very much enjoyed.

The C.G.I.T. Pledge

The main item on the program was the splendid address of Mrs. McKone of Peterborough. She chose as the topic the C.G.I.T. pledge—"As a Canadian girl in training under the leadership of Jesus Christ, it is my purpose to cherish health, seek truth, know God and serve others, and thus with His help become the girl God meant me to be."

She took each purpose and explained it and then told a story which related to that.

At the conclusion of the address Helen Moyer moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. McKone, Mrs. Westington and Miss Staples; this was seconded by Opal Johnston.

The banquet closed with the singing of "Taps."

W. M. S. Sponsor Picnic

A jolly time was enjoyed at Wallace's Point on Wednesday afternoon, when the Springville W.M.S. entertained the Sunday school.

Response to the invitation was good on the part of both children and grown-ups. Fairmount was also well represented.

A short meeting was held in the pavilion with a pleasing program. Solos were contributed by Mrs. M. Westington, Alton Van Allen and Raymond Kelk. Readings were given by Misses Jean Fairbairn, Gertrude Higks, Velma Staples and Ruth Hunter.

Sports consisted of races for all ages with small prizes for rewards to the winners.

After lunch a game of soft ball was played between Stewart's Hall and the Springville girls, honors being carried off by the former team.

Rutherford Dairy Fully Equipped

The Rutherford Dairy is an institution that has been successful to a marked degree. With but a modest beginning they have now progressed to where they have an excellent dairy modernly equipped in every way. The latest bottle sterilizing machines are used. They have today several delivery wagons distributing milk to all parts of this community and the surrounding territory.

By means of skilled workmen and up-to-date machinery their milk is pasteurized. This is accomplished by heating the milk to the temperature of 142 degrees, holding it at that temperature for 30 minutes and then cooling quickly. Through this process of pasteurization the milk from the Rutherford Dairy is rendered free from harmful bacteria, yet the qualities of the milk are fully retained.

Without doubt, milk is nature's purest and safest insurance of health and happiness. Consistently used, milk builds health and vigor in the body, revitalizes wasted nerves and puts color in the palest cheeks. Physicians and health authorities advise serving milk at schools to the children. Order more milk to-day from the Rutherford Dairy of Campbellford by telephoning 381, and serve it to the whole family at meal times and between meals too. One's health depends upon one's ability to earn and enjoy, realizing this and ever endeavoring to better serve with pure products, the Rutherford Dairy has prospered and are yearly enjoying a well deserved increase of patronage.

Mrs. W. W. Rutherford, who is responsible for the success of this Campbellford institution, is deserving of our commendation.

Do you know how many families are served by this dairy?

Weddings

WRIGHT—ATKINSON

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 19 (Examiner Staff Correspondence).—A social event of wide interest took place here on Friday evening, with the marriage at St. John's United Church of Helen Beatrice Atkinson, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Atkinson of town, to William Alexander Wright, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wright of Matheson, Ont. The Rev. A. C. Hie of Bracebridge, performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. H. P. L. Seymour, pastor of St. John's Church.

It is interesting to note that the bride is a graduate of Peterborough Normal School, and taught at Matheson for the past two years. The groom, also a member of the school teaching profession, has charge of C.P.R. school car No. 2, operating between Fort William and Edison. The parents of the bride are former school teachers, Mr. Atkinson having taught at Warkworth for a number of years prior to his retirement.

The bride was charmingly attired in her mothers' wedding gown of embroidered Brussels net, over sunny satin. She carried a beautiful bouquet of yellow roses. Her attendant, Miss Ruth Cairns of Odessa, an old school friend, was attractively dressed in a blue crepe gown, and carried pink roses and cornflowers.

Donald Atkinson, eldest brother of the bride, was the best man.

The wedding music was played very expressively during the service, by Albert Hazel, organist at St. John's. He played Lohengrin's Wedding March as the couple entered the church, and at the close played Mendelssohn's Wedding March. During the signing of the register Mrs. W. C. McBride of Peterborough sang, "I Love You Truly."

Following a wedding reception and luncheon at Clifton Tea Rooms, attended by almost forty guests, the couple left by train for Luminal, in the Lake-of-Bays district. At the completion of their honeymoon, they will take up residence at Fort William, where Mr. Wright will resume his duties as schoolmaster.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAIN

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—Approximate prices track shipping point—Wheat, 64c to 65c.

CHCAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—In a headlong downward plunge the wheat market late yesterday hit the bottom price limit allowed for a single day's fluctuation, five cents a bushel. Numerous bidders quickly came into the market at the limit, but had no time to effect intended purchases, including one order of a million bushels. Disclosure of temporary absence of aggressive buying support appeared responsible for the collapse.

Wheat closed unsettled at the day's lower level, 5 cents under the average of Thursday's finish. Corn, ¾c off to ¼c up. Oats 1⅝c to 3c down, and provisions varying from 32 cents decline to a rise of 5 cents.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Aug. 19. Eggs continued to feature an otherwise dull market on the Montreal Dairy and Produce Market yesterday, with extras holding an advance of another cent a dozen, and other grades of half a cent. Graded shipments in carlots or less became 21 to 22 cents for extras, 16½ to 17 cents for firsts, and 13 to 14 cents for seconds. Extras have advanced two or three cents a dozen since the beginning of the week, with other grades up about a cent. Egg receipts totalled 364 cases.

Shipments of eggs have decreased of late, due in part to the transfer of men from egg collecting to harvesting, dealers declare.

Butter prices continued unchanged at 18¼ to 18½ cents a pound for N. 1 grade in cariots or less. Arrivals amounted to 2,459 boxes.

On the cheese market prices held unchanged at 10 to 10¼ cents a pound for Ontario white and colored cheese, with Quebec white and colored at half a cent less than Ontario. A total of 5,822 boxes of cheese was offered for sale on the market yesterday.

New Quebec potatoes brought 80 to 90 cents per 80-pound bag. Old Maritime potatoes have now completely disappeared from the market.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, August 19. — Beset by selling pressure from various sources, wheat futures prices failed to hold early gains of about 2c on the Grain Exchange yesterday, and finished with net losses of 2¼c to 2¼c, only fractionally removed from the minimum level.

October delivery closed at 70½c, December at 72¼c, and May at 77½c. Prices were given a good start by a litt'e export buying and commission house purchasing, but the advance brought out liberal offerings, and in the late dealings the market looked decidedly heavy.

Much of the selling was credited to Chicago and some belated "hedging" by elevator companies added to the offerings. The Chicago market was weak and did not aid local prices, while Liverpool finished with fractional gains.

There was a falling-off in the demand for cash grains during the morning. Coarse grains, though displaying more strength than wheat futures slipped off from the high points under profit-selling rye falling down to its pegged level.

REPAIRS PLANNED TO SWIMMING POOL

Pleasing Program Presented at August Meeting of Omemee Institute.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

OMEMEE, August 19. — Mrs. A. Rutherford was hostess for the August meeting of the Womens' Institute which was held in her home on Wednesday night. Owing to the absence of the president, the 1st vice, Mrs. Cornwall, took charge of the proceedings. Several hearty discussions took place; the matter of cleaning the swimming pool and adding fresh gravel and sand, being among the most important. The ladies decided that certain men be interviewed and an overseer be appointed to look after the job.

A very pleasing program followed the business, consisting of a vocal solo, by Mrs. H. Laidley, a paper on "The Perfect Institute," given by Mrs. W. McQuade, a piano solo by Mrs. McPhee, a lecture on First Aid by Miss Alta Moncrief, and a reading from Nina Moore Jamieson's book by Miss Helen Rutherford.

The president of the Mount Pleasant branch Mrs. Shields was present and spoke a few words to the ladies.

Following a contest dainty refreshments were served and a social hour was spent together.

The members of this branch are invited to attend the meeting of the Mount Pleasant Institute held in the Institute Hall on the first Wednesday in September at which the members of the Millbrook branch will also be present.

Roosevelt's N.R.A. Effecting Social Revolution In U.S.A. By Industrial Agreements

Extensive Power Placed in President's Hands for Two Years.

LIKE WAR MEASURE.

Steel, Oil and Lumber Codes Signed During Week-end.

(By Ken Clark, C.P. Staff Writer.)

NEW YORK, August 21 (C.P.).—A social revolution, apparent or real, is taking place in the United States.

Essentially it amounts to assumption of control over private business by the Government through regulation of prices and wages under the National Industrial Recovery Act. The Government of the United States has in war times assumed to a degree the same powers, with this important exception—it has not attempted to enforce a spread of profits through increased wages in an endeavor to enlarge markets, or a spread of employment through shorter hours.

Detail of the plans of President Roosevelt and his administration is so complex and developments come so fast as Washington struggles against quiet, yet determined, opposition of some sections of industry, to push organization to completion, the basic implications of the movement are frequently unremembered, if they are not soft-pedalled as likely to cause a'arm.

Provisions of Code.

A recapitulation of the facts shows:

Under the industrial code system all industries which spread over state lines are supposed to get together and draw up a schedule of practice. If they don't, the President can draw up one for them. He can enforce conditions for the workers, wages, and hours; he can make regulations to protect consumers and the employees of competitors. In short, he can control wages, hours, and prices and he can do this for two years.

In the meantime a great number of orgnizations are subscribing to temporary agreements with the President, pledging themselves not to disregard schedules of wages and hours, not to boost prices more than necessary and to trade with people operating under simi'ar agreements. These organizations are under the "Blue Eagle" insignia of the Government's drive for increased employment. There is no compulsion about these voluntary agreements except—and it is becoming an extremely important exception— the force of public opinion.

Week-end Progress.

With the signature over the week-end of the steel, oil and lumber codes four of the "Big 10" industries employing 70 per cent. of the workers of the country are undre agreement to operate in such a fashion as Mr. Roosevelt approves. As an example of the extraordinary power transferred from industry to Government, under the oil code, Mr. Roosevelt is given the right to fix the wholesale price of gasoline.

Despite the efforts of the President and his code administrator, General Hugh Johnson, the soft-coal industry has not been signed up.

Crisis Drawing Near

With new employment "highly encouraging" with production speeding up and with a rise in prices, the administration presses for general organization and increased wages in order to provide a market. The terrific activity of Washington during the last few days indicates to observers there that the administration believes the crisis in the experiment for recovery approaches.

When the mythical "Big 10" have been brought under governmental control the revolution will be on the way to completion.

It is apparent, because it is possibly temporary; it is real because this is the first time in the history of the United States the government has taken to assume general and complete control of industry.

FORBES PRAISES BENNETT'S HELP

Dominions Look Upon Canadian Prime Minister as Their Champion.

ALWAYS PREPARED.

TORONTO, Aug. 21.— (C.P.) — Premier R. B. Bennett to-day was given tribute here by a brother Premier, Rt. Hon. George William Forbes, Prime Minister of New Zealand.

Mr. Bennett had been "a great help to myself at the economic conference," Mr. Forbes stated at a reception in City Hall Square. "At both the Imperial and World Conferences we looked upon him as our champion. He does everything he can to see that whatever we bring before the conference is well backed up."

The distinguished visitor accepted a cenotaph flag from the city to hang in the Memorial Hall of Waitika High School, Oamaru, from which 900 men enrolled to the service of New Zealand during the Great War.

It was an Empire message the Premier from "down under" gave the people that filled the square He expressed the feeling the Empire must grow into an even closer national and economic unit.

Bear Cub Enjoying His Lake Captivity

So tame that he will eat out of his captors' hands, a bear cub is cheerfully settling down to an enforced stag at a Catchacoma Lake summer home, and is apparently not the least concerned about the possible anxiety that his absence might be causing to his parents.—Mr. and Mrs. Bruin.

The trouble all started for the little fellow, when he overcame his timidity and boldly essayed to forage around Webber Turner's summer cottage at the lake.

Warren Turner and a party of his friends spied the cub and gave chase. The nimble little creature of the woods shinned up a tree and stayed there until he considered it was safe to come down. He was outwitted by his hunters, however, and was subsequently lasooed as he vainly sought safety on the top of an eight-foot stump. Ingloriously bundled into a burlap bag, the cub was carried in triumph to the cottage, and was held as a prisoner. He is partial to the kindly treatment and attention he is getting, according to latest reports, and eats resignedly from the hands of his captors.

Pigeon Misses Way On Ottawa Flight

A homing pigeon paid a flying visit to the Card and Paper Works here to-day. In an exhausted condition it was kept at the plant for a brief period, and was later released by James Elliott, sales manager. Rings on the bird's legs indicated that it was from Ottawa.

It is the second homing pigeon that has been found in this district within the past few days from Ottawa—the first one was picked up dead on Monaghan Road by two small boys. It had been run over by an automobile.

The bird probably was one of those released by the local police force on Saturday for the Ottawa Flying Club. Fifty birds were released for a race to Ottawa. A week ago a hundred birds were released here far the Capital and the leaders averaged 45 miles an hour in their long flight home.

Whooping Party

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 21.—(C.P.)— And on his sixth birthday anniversary, Aloysius Martin was given a whooping cough party.

The elders reported a splendid time was had by all, except for time out to cough.

FOUR DROWNED SCORE MISSING IN COAST GALE

Boats Overturn and Waves Engulf Bathers in Sudden Northeaster.

NO RAIN FALLS.

Only Fast Work By Lifeguards Prevents Heavier Loss of Life.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Aug. 21.—(A.P.)—The United States' coastguard feared to-day that a score of persons may have died in a freak northeaster that battered the New Jersey and Long Island coast with giant waves yesterday.

Four persons are known to have drowned, two others were almost certainly lost and at least three boats with perhaps 20 passengers were missing.

At least 100 craft—many of them carrying amateur fishermen—were off this coast yesterday when the storm struck suddenly. With the violence almost of a hurricane, but without a drop of rain, it sent gigantic combers crashing to shore from Absecon Inlet almost to Cape May.

Boats were overturned and bathers overwhelmed in the nashing waves. Heroic rescue work, in which the coast guard took a leading part, prevented a much longer death list.

2 Boats From One Fleet.

Three of the known dead lost their lives off this coast and the fourth, Joseph Muller of Union City, N.J., was drowned while bathing off Rockaway Point, L.I. The boats listed as missing to-day were the Renar, the Irene and the Gertrude, all of the Steelman fleet.

A sailing vessel and a speedboat cooperated to save six passengers of the 30-foot sail boat Ella, but the boat's skipper, Theodore Van Sant, 58, drowned.

Harry R. Smith of Camden, lost his life when the Anna M., capsized, but three others with him were saved by another fishing boat. Ernest Williams, 60, of Ventnor, was the third known to have lost his life, when the Goldie R. was overturned, but there, too, was an example of the heroic efforts on the part of rescuers, as five others on the same craft were saved.

COUPLE HURLED FROM BUGGY BY CAR AT NORWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Colby Suffer Concussion in Accident.

HORSE IS KILLED.

Driver Alleged to Have Been on Wrong Side.

NORWOOD, Aug. 21.— (Examiner Correspondence.)— Two persons were seriously injured here late Saturday night when the buggy in which they were riding was struck head-on by a motor car driven by Charles Payne, of 251 Soudan avenue, Toronto.

The injured are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Colby of Norwood. Mrs. Colby, aged 23, received a double fracture of the collar bone, head injuries and concussion of the brain, while her husband, aged 28, suffered head injuries, concussion of the brain, bruises and cuts.

It is alleged that the Toronto motorist was driving on the wrong side of the road and at a high rate of speed at the time of the crash. Following investigation by Provincial Constable D. Silvester, Payne was placed under arrest and faced charges in police court to-day.

He was arraigned on three charges as follows; wanton or furious driving and wilful neglect under the Criminal Code, drunk in charge of a car, and finally having liquor in a place other than his private dwelling. He did not elect or plead and was remanded for eight days. Bail was fixed at two sureties of $2,000 each.

The motor car drove into the horse and buggy head-on, swinging the vehicle completely around. Mr and Mrs. Colby were thrown out and fell upon the roadway. The horse was instantly killed. The front of the car was badly damaged.

Dr. H. J. Carleton attended the injured, and it is understood that the extent of their injuries is not yet fully known.

NO PROFITS.

NELIGH, Neb. — The American Legion has spurned opportunity to make $900 profit on its garden.

The Legion started a 7½-acre community garden last spring. Although the actual cost has been less than $100, a potato buyer offered $1,000 for the crop, in hte ground.

But the potatoes and other produce are going to the needy.

SUNRISE ASSEMBLY GREETS NOTED WRITER IN LENINGRAD

Henri Barbusse, Anti-Fascist, Organizer, Given Huge Reception.

FURIOUS CACOPHONY.

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

LENINGRAD, Aug. 21.—Can you imagine a political meeting called for sunrise? Can you imagine a group of politicians growing hot under the collar and working themselves up into a furore of passionate excitement in the "wee small hours of the mornin'," by the side of a river which exhales a boreal atmosphere in a stiff northern breeze that would chill the bones of a brisk-walking pedestrian? The Russians don't mind. They revel in such outlandish practices. Far from becoming throughly disgusted, as we would no doubt, they seem to thrive on such uncomfortable arrangements.

Let me relate the circumstances of one such rally which I witnessed to-day. Our ship was slowly steaming up the Neva this morning. It was still dusk when we passed Kronstadt, that revolutionary stronghold of the red sailors, who practically saved Lenin and Trotsky's experiment in the hectic days of October, 1917. Vaguely outlined against the vapor-laden horizon I could see the fortresses and battlements of the town that is the guardian of Russia's front door, the window on the West, as Peter the Great used to say. The red fleet, or at least a good part of it, lay at anchor, cruisers, destroyers, patrol boats, an airplane supply ship and hundreds

Ebony Cat Purrs To Friendly "Cop"

Any midnight pedestrian who may chance to meet an officer of the law accompanied by a coal-black cat need not waste any time shivering over the prospect of bad luck dodging the custodian of the peace.

It is merely the charcoal kitty which has a home in one of the Hunter street groceries and stays out at night, in accordance with an ancient feline custom. Having a friendly outlook, she accompanies the blue-coated officer on his solitary tramp, whenever he arrives at her corner, and cavorts gaily along behind him for a block or more. On one occasion, she went along as far as George street, a distance of several blocks, but most times she confines her companionship to a block or two and then retires, to wait until he comes around again in the dark night hours. And, anyway, black cats are the luckiest things alive, according to a modern idea.

MISSOURI VOTES REPEAL BY OVER THREE TO ONE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 21 (AP)—Missouri yesterday stood as the 22nd State to have voted the United States Prohibition Repeal Amendment.

In an election which aroused little interest and gave the expected overwhelming majority in favor of prohibition repeal, in excess of 600,000 voters Saturday supported the repeal clause by more than 3 to 1.

Tourist Kept Two-Dollar Bill 36 Years For His Second Visit to Canada

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 21. — (CP) — Thirty-mann, Rye, N.Y., visited Canman, Rye, N. Y., visited Canada and when he returned to the States took with him a two dollar bill of the July, 1897 issue. Saturday he returned to the Dominion for the second time, purchasing fishing license from the Ontario travel bureau and paid for it with the ancient currency. "I knew I would be making another visit to your country, so I determined not to spend the bill until I came back," he told Major G. E. Oxley of the bureau.

TRUCKS COLLIDE BOTH TAKE FIRE 4 DIE IN FLAMES

Guncotton Cargo Explodes Injuring Score in Vehicle Picnic-bound.

BLASTS SHAKE DISTRICT.

Victims Trapped in Blazing Straw—Traffic Tied Up For Miles.

WILMINGTON, Del., August 21 (C.P.). — The crash of two trucks, one loaded with picnickers, the other with guncotton, early to-day turned a straw ride into an inferno, killing four persons and injuring a score of others seriously enough to require hospital treatment.

Police said the truck carrying celulose nitrate, part of a freight shipment bound for New York, crashed into the rear of the merry-makers' truck.

Fire followed instantly and a moment later there came an explosion which aroused the countryside.

Young people were strewn over the roadside, but it meant the saving of their lives. The four who burned to death were trapped in the straw-strewn picnic truck. Firemen and State Police braved the peril of more explosions to drag out the bodies, but the fire raged too furiously for them to be brought out alive.

Returning From Picnic.

All of those killed and injured were from Chester and Marcus Hook, Pa. They had been on a picnic to White Crystal Beach, Md., and were on their way home at the time of the collision seven miles north of this city.

Those killed were listed by State Police as: Henry Cummings 27, Daniel Mahoney 20, Francis Gaskil 25, an unidentified woman.

On the Wilmington-Philadelphia Pike, main travel artery, and casting a glare which could be see for miles, the accident caused a traffic jam which blocked cars for miles in both directions. State Police said the truck which carried the guncotton was owned by the Tri-State Freight Corporation of Baltimore, Md. They declared the driver, Henry J. Knott, of Rockdale, Md., who was slightly hurt, told them he saw the other truck too late to stop. He had not heard the noise of the merrymakers.

PARTIES AGREE ON RADIO'S USE

Committee Selected to Arrange Political Broadcasts.

IN GREAT BRITAIN.

(By Thos. T. Champion—C.P. Staff Writer).

LONDON, Aug. 21 (C.P. Cable).—A dispute between the three great political parties over the question of transmitting political opinion by radio has at last been settled after four years of disagreement. A joint arrangement has been reached with the British Broadcasting Corporation.

The squabble was almost entirely concerned over the amount of time which speakers of each party were entitled to take at the microphone.

The Conservatives argued that as their party was the largest in the House of Commons, they would have more time than the others; the Liberals and Laborites reported that numbers gave no true indication of political importance.

It has now been arranged that speakers and topics will be chosen by a committee of the parties. The B.B.C., contrary to usual practice, is not going to censor these political speeches.

Mr. Baldwin will open the series on October 12, and the subsequent speakers, each of whom will be allotted 15 minutes, will broadcast on Thursday evenings.

Fire Water

WELLAND, Ont., Aug. 21 (CP)—Pouring some allegdly bootleg liquor in the floor of the city courtroom and applying a match to it, Constable D. H. Mason watched a deep blue flame rise up and remarked: "That tells the tale—it's just about 80 per cent alcoholic content." Steve Karseg, 50, charged with possession of the liquor was fined $100 and costs, with option of three months in jail.

FENCE HALTED FLEEING DRIVER

Ten Days in Jail for Operating Car While Drunk.

HIT AND RUN CASE.

A wire fence, blocking the north end of Conger street, brought Joseph Woods, 603 Armour road, into police court on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated. The fence did not make Woods intoxicated, but it did prevent him from succeeding in his attempt to speed away from pursuers.

Swerving onto the wrong side of the road near Nassau on Saturday night, Woods collided into the rear of a car driven by Jack Raymore, of Toronto. Woods did not stop but kept on speeding into the city. Raymore turned his car and gave chase. He caught up with Wood near the Waterworks and brought him to a stop on the side of the road. Woods was intoxicated and staggered on the road. Raymore and Douglas Fennell, of Norwood, who was in Raymore's car, told the court.

In this interview Woods promised to follow the Raymore car to the police. He did follow it down Water street to Hilliard street, but there he swung off, pushed over the hill and on to Conger street. Raymore turned and again pursued him. Woods was halted by the fence blocking the end of Conger street, and there they again came up with him.

Raymore called the police and Constables Jack Thompson and George Carey were soon on the scene. They told the court to-day that Woods was drunk, staggering, being glassy-eyed and otherwise showing signs of intoxication.

Woods was given ten days in jail by Vincent Eastwood and Alderman Cotton, Justices of the Peace, who found him guilty.

FELL FROM TRAIN

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 21 (CP)—Steve Sharko, Toronto, is in hospital here to-day suffering skull injuries and numerous lacerations and bruises as the result of a fall from a train near here last night.

VISIT PRINCESS MARY

LONDON, Aug. 21 (C.P. Cable)—The King and Queen left their Sandringham residence to-day to travel to Harewood House, Leeds, for a short holiday with the Princess Royal and her husband, the Earl of Harewood.

WELSH STRIKE SETTLED

CARDIFF, Wales, Aug. 21 (C.P. Cable).—The weeks' strike of anthracite miners of South Wales ended to-day with 17,000 miners back in the pits and 6,000 more, who had contemplated a sympathetic strike, withdrawing their strike notices.

SHOTS HALT SUSPECTS

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (CP)—Five shots fired in the air by a constable stopped two men who early to-day were fleeing, police stated, from a garage. The men, who gave their names as Wilbur Heyd, 20, Toronto, and Reg. Shank, 21, Cooksville, Ont., were charged with shopbreaking.

DIED IN GARAGE

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Aug. 21 (CP)—George P. Empey, 57, was found dead, victim of carbon monoxide poisoning, in his garage near Addison, in Elizabethtown Township, to-day.

Barrie, Windsor, Quebec, Scenes Of Sudden Deaths

Two Die As Speeding Sedan Toronto-Bound From Georgian Bay Resort Is Flung Against Pole Near Barrie —Third Man In Hospital—Hon. D. M. Robb Lends Aid.

MONTREAL TRAIN HURLS CAR INTO CROWD; LAD 16 DIES INSTANTLY IN WINDSOR CRASH.

Four persons were killed and seven injured in level crossing accidents this morning at Windsor and Barrie, Ontario, and Valois, Quebec.

The toll of these three collisions of trains and automobiles was:

	Killed	Injured
BARRIE	2	1
WINDSOR	1	2
VALOIS	1	4
	4	7

BARRIE, Aug. 21. —(CP) —Speeding rapidly up a curve to a dangerous level crossing, a sedan containing three Toronto men failed to clear the tracks and was struck by a Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train early today. Death resulted for William T. Allen, 34, and his father-in-law, J. F. Wilson, while Edward J. Robins, 33, was taken to Barrie hospital, critically injured.

The men were driving with all the windows of the sedan closed and it is believed they did not hear the whistle which, according to the train crew, was blown just before the point where the tracks cross Highway 27 was reached.

Hon. Dr. J. M. Robb, Minister of Health in the Ontario Government, was a passenger on the train and administered first aid, taking care of Robbins until Dr. W. A. Lewis arrived from Barrie with an ambulance.

Hurled Into Pole

Just the bumper of the car was struck by the train. The automobile was hurtled across the road striking a telephone pole. None of the wheels or tires was injured by the impact and the engine was still running when the conductor of the train reached it. He turned off the motor.

Wilson was an employee of the Massey Harris Company and formerly represented that company at Barrie.

Running 15 minutes late, the train which was travelling from Winnipeg, via Sault Ste. Marie, to Toronto, was making speed as it rushed through the early morning. Also going at a fast clip, the automobile was taking the three men to Toronto from a summer resort on the Georgian Bay. The accident took place at 5.10 E.S.T.

Bodies of Allen and Wilson were badly broken by the impact, while Robins was found to be suffering from numerous injuries. Wilson died outright, doctors stated, and Allen only lived a few minutes.

Almost Escaped

An eye-witness, J. Mills, owner of a little farm nearby, said he was about 100 yards away. He held his breath as he saw the automobile dash across the tracks, but believed it would just clear. Suddenly the engine caught the rear of the car, throwing it to one side, where it hit the telephone pole.

"When I arrived," Dr. Lewis stated, "Wilson was already dead. Allen breathed a few times, but regained consciousness. The other man, Robins, has not regained consciousness yea. His condition is pretty serious with injuries to his head and body."

Brakes of the four-year-old sedan were in good shape, Provincial Police reported.

VALOIS, Que., Aug. 21.—(CP) — One man was killed and four injured as an automobile struck by a train at a level crossing here today was tossed into a crowd of people waiting on the station platform to board the train for Montreal.

The man killed was Joseph Legault, 65, driver and sole occupant of the automobile. Those injured were Ivy Anderson, 24, Montreal, severe shock and bruises to legs and shoulders; Joyce Anderson, 14, back and internal injuries; John Anderson, 40, Montreal, shock, bruises and cuts, and Melvin Peddle, 33, of Valois, severe cuts and bruises.

Legault drove his car up to the crossing at the end of the station platform as the Montreal suburban train was pulling into Valois. His car hit the side of the locomotive, and the twisted wreckage was thrown into the crowd of commuters waiting to board the train to go to the city.

Lie in Wreck 2 Hours

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 21 (CP)—Murray Tapping, 16, of Ruthven, was killed and his two companions buried unconscious for two hours in the wreckage of an automobile which crashed into a Pere Marquette freight train near Kingsville during last night.

William Sweet, 17, and Edward Monforton, 24, both of Sandwich, were the injured. Monforton was still unconscious in hospital to-day while Sweet was taken to his home.

The crew of the freight did not know an automobile had been struck until three hours later, when on arriving at Windsor the train was given the usual inspection. An automobile radiator was found hanging on the side of a box car.

About the same time Sweet recovered and found himself caught in the wrecked car with Monforton. He managed to work free and staggered to the highway where he attracted attention of a passing motorist, who called police.

By actual measurement the car was dragged 797 feet down the railway track from the level crossing. The boy killed was at the wheel.

Mixed Foursome "Riding the Rods"

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (CP) — Charged with stealing a ride on a Canadian Pacific Railway train, Emily Mosty, Winnipeg, appeared in police court here to-day, along with James Stewart, arrested in West Toronto.

The young girl testified there had been four members in their "touring" party; but two had missed the train in Port Arthur. There was a woman besides herself, she said, dressed as she was in male attire. She told the court she thought it was better to dress as a man while riding in freights. She was remanded in custody for sentence.

Stolen Chickens Found In Woods

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Aug. 21 (CP)—It's chickens—bags of them —that are worrying county authorities here.

Undoubtedly the chickens were stolen by somebody from somewhere. They were found hidden in the bush in two places. Plymouth Rocks, Barred Rocks, Leghorns, Wyandottes and other breeds all tied up in sacks.

Some have aluminum bands with numbers indicating they are blood-tested and valuable. The county is feeding the birds and searching for owners. Should none appear there will be an auction.

Will Dump Surplus On World Markets If Quotas Rejected

Threat Spurs Action At London As 20 Nations Get Together—Premier Bennett Of Canada Expected To Be Elected Chairman.

YIELDS IN EUROPE, ARGENTINE MAY AFFECT PARTIAL FAILURES IN CANADIAN WEST, U.S.

LONDON, August 21. — Fear of a world wheat "dumping" war unless an international production agreement is reached, hung over the delegates to the Wheat Conference last night, on the eve of their resumption of deliberations here to-day.

The parley was spurred to a desire for swift action, after months of delay and postponed parleys here and in Geneva, by a 72-hour ultimatum from the United States to "agree or we will dispose of our surplus by subsidizing exports."

The delegates indicated they would proceed quickly with the election of Premier R. B. Bennett of Canada as chairman of the conference. The conference meets in Canada House to draw up the terms of a wheat acreage limitation treaty for the next two years as one way of raising prices and assuring the farmer a fair return on grain. Twenty nations are represented, including the "Big Four"—the United States, Canada, Australia, and Argentina.

The delegates held private informal conversations last evening with the experts spending a busy day on the agenda.

The members of the United States group said they regard the chances of an agreement "about even," but foresee a terrific fight on the part of the wheat importing countries.

The Americans are convinced a two-year wheat curtailment period is necessary, but the majority dread the political consequences.

Necessity of Curtailment.

The sharp breaks on the Chicago and Winnipeg wheat markets recently, despite serious crop damage throughout North America due to drought and other natural causes, again were regarded as having emphasized the urgent necessity of curtailment of wheat growing, the experts declared.

During the recent World Economic Conference, the principal wheat exporting countries agreed to regulate their production, but only on condition that the importing nations give their co-operation. That chief points sought at this week's co-operation will be one of the parley here.

Wheat reports from Canada so far indicate that the crop there will be about 250,000,000 bushels this season, compared with 431,000,000 last year. Excessive rain in certain areas and drought in others is responsible for this situation experts

Hon. McGarry's Son Chants First Mass

TORONTO, Aug. 21—Among the large number of persons prominent in public life who attended St. Michael's Cathedral yesterday morning were: Hon. G. Howard Ferguson and Mrs. Ferguson; Hon. W. D. Ross and Mrs. Ross; Hon. Charles McCrea and Miss Helen McCrea. It was the occasion of the celebration of his first Solemn High Mass by Rev. Father James McGarry, the only son of Hon. Thomas and Mrs. McGarry.

Choosing for his religious life the Society of Jesus, Father McGarry was ordained last week in Montreal. As a student, he was widely known as Jim McGarry. Since graduating with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, Father McGarry has completed 12 years of study. While he has been ordained into the priesthood, he still has a final year of theology to meet the requirements of the Jesuit order.

Hon. Thomas McGarry was formerly a member of the Ontario Government and Cabinet.

Treacherous Red River Waters Claims Lives of Three Men.

7 HURT IN AUTO SMASH.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21 (CP)—Four persons lost their lives and seven others were injured in drownings and accidents throughout Western Canada over the week-end.

Treacherous waters of the Red River claimed the lives of three Manitoba men. Warren Cruickshanks, 32; Wilfred Cochran, 22; and Ernest McLennan, 22, of St. Peters, three miles south of here, drowned when a gust of wind upset their canoe.

Uno Sarkalahti, 14-year-old Dunblane, Sask., girl, drowned while swimming in the Saskatchewan River near her home.

Seven persons were injured when two automobiles met in collision near Morden, Man. Norman Cass, of Morden, driver of one of the cars, had an arm torn off at the elbow. The car turned over three times before coming to a stop. Mrs. George McCullogh, of Carman, suffered a broken collar bone, while five others received minor injuries.

DOUBLE DUTY.

CHICAGO.—Floyd Young, director of the Lincoln Park Zoo let his ingenuity solve two problems at one sweep. To prevent flies from enjoying a continuous free lunch at the expense of the animals he rigged up a charged wire in front of the cages. Flies are electrocuted in swarms, scooped up and then fed to the fish.

JEWS IN ORILLIA WARNED AWAY FROM BEACHES

Missives Bearing Swastika Emblem Received by Many Residents.

BOYS' PRANK SUSPECTED.

Parks Are Patrolled But Sunday Passes Without Sign of Trouble.

ORILLIA, Aug. 21.—Fear of possible violence, aroused when members of the local Jewish colony received letters from a mysterious Swastika organization warning them to remain away from the beaches, was dispelled last night when he passed without untoward incident and neither Jews nor Gentiles displaying the anti-Semitic emblems were to be found in the town's parks.

Alarm lest this town might witness riots similar to those in Toronto last week spread Saturday when Jewish residents received through the mails letters surmounted by a large back Swastika and the word "Beware" printed in large letters. The text of the missives were: "You and your family are warned not to appear at any of the Orillia beaches to-morrow, Aug. 20. Signed, O.S.C."

Confirming findings of newspapermen who toured the parks yesterday, John Whitton, Parks Superintendent, stated he had been in the parks the greater part of the day and had seen "not a single Jew" and "no sign of anybody wearing a Swastika."

"Lot of Nonsense"

Mr. Whitton described the letters as "a joke" and and a "lot of nonsense." There was no anti-Semitic feeling in Orillia, he said, and the letters, he felt, must have been written by mischievous boys who did not realize the trouble they might stir up.

Amar Miller, President of the local Jewish Society, denied having received one of the letters, and said he had not seen any of the hands of his compatriots. He could not tell, he said, whether the missives had been sent by a practical joker, or whether some other influence was at work. The less attention the Jewish people paid to the matter, he felt, the better.

Of a large number of Hebrews interviewed, the greater part admitted getting the letters. Some affirmed every adult male Jew had received one containing the same text, while many of them handed the missives over for inspection.

Police Chief Louis Church declared he had heard no more about the matter other than the letters had been received. The police, he said, were not interested, since there had been no violence or other trouble, while Mayor John Good said the matter had been discussed with him by a number of Jewish citizens.

Jews And Royalists Battle In France

BERCH-SUR-MER, France, August 21 (C.P.). — Jews clashed with Royalists in a half-hour free-for-all fight in the Church Square here yesterday over Royalists' objections to the Jews' solicitations for funds for a children's vacation camp.

The fight started with taunts, while both groups were distributing handbills. About 100 persons beat each other until the entire police force arrived.

ANOTHER WIN FOR TOLL GATE.

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 21. — Word was received here that Toll Gate, crack Kingston trotter, scored a three-straight-heat victory at the Gouverneur (N.Y.) fair Saturday in the free-for-all race, a purse of $250, and the track record. He stepped the final heat in 2 minutes 8½ seconds.

In the first two heats, Toll Gate trotted in ahead of Neil Brook, owned by H. J. London of Boston, and took the third in a successful attempt to break the track record over an unusually heavy and slow course.

Any Day Now

NEW YORK, August 12 (C.P.). — Just as the fans are losing patience, the century plant in the Bronx Botanical Gardens is getting ready to oblige. Hundreds and hundreds of people stood around yesterday — as they have for the past three Sundays — waiting for a blossom that did not unfold.

The buds are swelling, however, and attendants expect the fans to get their thrill any day now.

WEEK-END TOLL CLAIMS 3 LIVES

Young Toronto Girl Drowns at Brighton as Two Boats Collide.

CYCLE CRASH FATAL.

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—(CP)—With cool weather prevailing over the week-end the accident toll throughout Ontario was the lightest in recent weeks. One drowning, one motor-car fatality and a single diving accident accounted for the three deaths reported.

When his motorcycle skidded on the highway east of Whitby yesterday, Jack Harvey, 21-year-old Long Branch youth was thrown underneath the wheels of an automobile and killed almost instantly. The machine, purchased by Harvey only a week ago, was undamaged. The motorcar was driven by John Lockhard of Newcastle, Ont.

Diving into four feet of water at Crystal Beach, yesterday, Frank Ransbury, 34, of Buffalo struck his head on the bottom and fractured a vertebra. A pulmotor was used for two hours but failed to revive him.

Six-year-old Dorothy Lewis of Toronto was drowned when thrown into the water after two motorboats collided in Brighton Bay, near Presque Isle yesterday. Of the 13 passengers in the launch with the girl, she was the only one to lose her life.

ORILLIA BLAZE GUTS HOSPITAL DINING ROOMS

Fire Starting in Main Auditorium Does Damage of Over $15,000.

PATIENTS SAVED.

One Fireman Overcome By Smoke—Defective Wiring Blamed.

ORILLIA, Aug. 21.—Fire believed to have been caused by defective wiring destroyed the main auditorium of the Ontario Hospital building, one mile south of here, late yesterday, causing damage estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000. The two large dining halls on the ground floor of the building were also destroyed before the blaze was brought under control.

Investigation conducted by Superintendent Dr. S. J. W. Horne revealed that the fire had broken out on the stage, at one end of the auditorium, and that it had worked its way up the screens to the rafters, then setting the roof ablaze.

All patients were removed without difficulty, Dr. Horne said. Further investigation of the cause of the fire will be made to-day by experts from the Ontario Government.

Wiring Blamed.

Fire Chief Joseph Blackey of Orillia, who hastened to the scene with as many men as could be mustered, said improperly covered electric wires were the probable cause.

Fireman Joseph Gibbons was slightly injured when he was struck by a piece of slate falling from the roof of the burning building.

One patient of the hospital was overcome temporarily by smoke

MACKENZIE KING RETURNING EAST

65 Speeches in Tour—Spoke in Ukrainian Language.

3,000 MILES BY MOTOR.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21.—(C.P.) — Rt. Hon W. J. Mackenzie King, Federal Liberal leader, to-day was on his way back to Ottawa, after a strenuous five weeks' tour of Western Canada during which he made 65 speeches, many of them during a two weeks 'visit to his own constituency of Prince Albert.

Wearied by more than 3,000 miles of motor travel in addition to long stretches on trains, Mr. King spent a very quiet day here Sunday and left for the east in the evening. While he was here he refused to make any more statements. He had said good-bye to Western Canada in his last speech, delivered at Dauphin, Man., on Saturday.

The concluding meeting followed a picnic celebration of the Ukrainian thanksgiving at Broken Pipe Lake, fifteen miles north of here, where he received a round of hearty applause when he spoke for half a minute in the Ukrainian language.

At both afternoon and evening meetings, Hon. T. A. Crerar, a member of the Mackenzie King Government, and Hon. D. G. McKenzie, Minister of Agriculture for Manitoba, spoke briefly.

"I could not commence in five minutes to catalogue the sins of the present Government," Mr. Crerar said, in noting he had been allotted that time. He asserted he had not the slightest doubt when the Canadian people were given an opportunity to express their views they would vindicate policies advocated by the Liberal Party.

Hon. D. G. McKenzie referred to the serious condition of farmers in Southwestern Manitoba. He knew of five municipalities there in which farmers would not harvest any crop at all.

Tariffs Too High

"As a result of my visit and the close contacts which I have made I believe 99 people out of 100 consider tariffs are too high," said the Liberal Leader. The vast majority of people in Canada did not believe a tariff of 100 per cent on certain commodities was necessary.

"I have been asked if I am going to bring up the old issue of tariff," he continued. "We have not brought up the tariff." The tariff had been made an all-important issue by Prime Minister Bennett when he "strangled our trade until men were walking the streets looking for employment and farmers lost their markets." Prosperity could not return to Canada until tariffs were decreased. The Government should

CLAIMS JAPANESE POPULATION WILL HALT AT 80,000,000 MARK

Professor Confident Industrialization, Education Will Lead to Birth Control.

SEES SIGNS NOW.

(By Charles A. Hayden, C. P. Correspondent)

BANFF, Alta., Aug. 21. —(CP)— Japanese people are bearing children at what may be termed an "Oriental birth rate" and the number of deaths is approaching an "Occidental death rate" so the growth of populations is almost limitless, Professor Taijiro Uyeda, of the Tokyo University of Commerce, submits to the Institute of Pacific Relations in conference here.

The population of Japan, now about 60,000,000 would reach 100,000,000 by 1965 if the birth rate of five years ago was maintained, said Professor Uyeda, Professor Takashashi, however, claims this rate will not be maintained, mainly because industrialization and education invariably lead to birth control. They point to the record of births in Japan which has been almost stationary for the last four years while the child-bearing age group has increased, the inference being birth control is being practised.

Professor Uyeda declare the population of Japan will never reach 100,000,000 but will stop at 80,000,000 Members of the Japanese group here state immigration is not regarded by them as a solution of the population problem. They say comparatively few Japanese have emigrated because other climates and other social conditions are not suitable for them.

On the other hand Chinese members are urging strongly they must have room for their increasing population—as one member put it, "torrent of babies"—and no barrier be thrown up at Manchuria's borders to keep out their people.

Bear for Service

SALT LAKE CITY, August 21 (C.P.). — After a "running-board bandit" had relieved a motorist of his car, he found he couldn't start it. So he dashed down the street after his victim, brought him back, and made him start the motor, then he robbed him of $1.50, and sent him on his way.

FIRE IN APIARY.

STRATHROY, Aug. 21.—Two tons of honey, valued at about $400, and a bee colony house, the property of William Benhamin, Egerton Avenue, near the outskirts of the town, were destroyed by an early morning fire. The owner had used the smoker in the colony in the afternoon, and it may have caused the blaze.

FORCING THE DECLARER

OBLIGING the declarer to trump when he does not want to do so, is termed "forcing." Many a contract may be defeated by such tactics. Yesterday we saw how South made 4-odd at hearts, when West made an opening lead of a low trump. Suppose West had led his Q of clubs, forcing the dummy to win with the Ace. Would that lead have defeated the game contract?

♠Q 10 7 ♥Q 9 8 5 ♦K 7 6 ♣Q 10 3	North West East South	♠9 5 4 ♥10 ♦A J 10 3 ♣K 9 6 4 2
	♠A J 8 3 2 ♥A K 4 3 2 ♦5 4 ♣5

Having won the first trick with dummy's Ace of clubs the declarer will at once lead the K and Ace of spades. Dummy will establish the spades by trumping the third round. South will regain his hand by trumping a club. He then must lead a low heart towards dummy. If West fails to put up his Q, the declarer will win with dummy's J. He will lead back a low heart and win two tricks with his Ace and K. Then the declarer will lead a good spade, forcing West to trump with his last heart and South will lose only one trump trick and two diamonds, because West missed opportunity TO FORCE the declarer.

When the declarer leads a low heart toward dummy the Q must be played by West. He must then lead back a club, and force South to ruff with his last low heart. Dummy will have the lone J of trumps; the declarer will have only the Ace and K, but West will hold the 9-8-5. If South leads two rounds of trumps he must then lose one trump trick and three diamond tricks. If South leads a good spade West will trump and dummy will overtrump, but the declarer will have to trump a club or the third round of diamonds to get into his own hand, which will cause the contract to go down a trick. Only poor play by West can fail to put the contract down if the opening lead is a club.

As West doubtless will hesitate to lead a club, after dummy has bid that suit, on account of the danger of giving South discards, West can defeat the contract by leading a diamond, FORCING the declarer on the third lead of the suit. The declarer will have to use another of his own hand after having dummy ruff a third lead of spades. When the declarer leads a small heart toward dummy it will take the last low heart that South has. The declaration will be defeated by an opening lead of diamonds, whether West wins with his Q or not, when a low heart is led toward dummy.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Toast and sandwiches which are out of the usual are in demand especially for summertime teas, refreshments, and picnics.

* * * * * * *

The kinds offered today meet this requirement. The first is one of Canada's varieties and the second tells its origin in its name "Swedish Sandwich."

* * * * * * *

For Orange Toast, cut bread into slices about one-quarter of an inch thick and toast a delicate brown. It is important not to make it too brown as this hardens the slices which are thin.

* * * * * * *

Often toast which would be delicious is spoiled because it gets too brown. Have ready the following mixture to spread on each slice:

* * * * * * *

Cream butter and sugar together in proportions of half as much sugar as butter. Grate orange peel and to each level tablespoon of the creamed mixture add one rounded teaspoon of grated peel, and two drops of vanilla extract.

* * * * * * *

Spread this mixture on hot toast. Cut each slice into three pieces and serve immediately. Orange toast is served at exclusive tea shops.

* * * * * * *

For Swedish sandwiches, gherkins, stuffed olives, capters, cream cheese, chili sauce, sweet pepper and mayonnaise are combined for the filling of thin slices of buttered bread.

* * * * * * *

The proportions are as follows and must be increased in like proportions when numbers of the sandwiches are made:

* * * * * * *

Two small gherkins, one level teaspoon minced sweet pepper, eight stuffed olices, one rounded teaspoon capers, one teaspoon chili sauce and one-third cup stiff mayonnaise.

* * * * * * *

Spread one slice of bread with cream cheese and the other with the above filling, well mixed. Press the slices firmly together. If prepared beforehand, wrap in a slightly damp cloth and set in the refrigerator.

* * * * * * *

Swedish sandwiches are just the kind to serve with plain chicken or other meat sandwiches as they lend zest. Salad sandwiches can be omitted and an undressed leaf of lettuce put with the buttered bread and meat.

* * * * * * *

This does not imply that Swedish sandwiches require other kinds to go with them, but merely that a welcome zest is supplied by them.

Tomato Sauce. — Three slices chopped bacon, one slice onion, two tablespoons flour, one and one-half cups tomatoes strained, one tablespoon chopped green pepper, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon nutmeg. Brown the onion and bacon, add the flour, then the tomatoes and seasonings. Serve with omelet, meat loaf or sphaghetti.

Apple Lime Fluff—One package lime flavored gelatin, one cup warm or boiling water, three tablespoons orange juice, one tablespoon lemon juice, one cup thick apple sauce, dash salt. Dissolve gelatin in warm or boiling water, depending on the type gelatin you are using. Stir until all particles of the gelatin are dissolved. Add orange and lemon juice. Chill until the gelatin becomes thick and ropy. Place in a bowl of cracked ice or in ice water and whip until fluffy and of the consistency of whipped cream. Fold in apple sauce and salt. Pile in sherbet glasses or turn into molds and chill.

To darn table linen use white silk finish darning cotton, splitting and using one thread only. The luster and the size of the thread are so similar to the linen damask that the result is very satisfactory.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

MANY THINGS about a baby that are perfectly normal, nevertheless seem strange and alarm the beginning parents. We mentioned some of the superstitions about teething yesterday.

Dr. Clendening

Don't worry about the baby's legs being bowed. Normal babies have a slight outward curve of the legs. This is partly due to the way the baby lies—with the knees out and the soles of the feet toward each other. For this reason it looks as if the legs were more bowed than they really are. Pronounced bowing of the legs when the baby begins to walk is due to rickets, and should have medical advice.

Most babies have a few birth marks — small red strawberry marks. When these are on the face of a girl baby it causes the mother great concern, but in nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of a thousand, the mark will gradually fade, until it entirely disappears.

The best criterion of a baby's health is the weight. A healthy baby gains in weight, and if a baby is gaining in weight it is almost always healthy, and the food formula need not be changed no matter what digestive disturbances are present.

After the first week, when there is normally a loss, the baby's weight should go up 5 to 7 ounces a week for the first three months, and 4 to 6 ounces a week for the second three months, and 3 ounces a week until the end of the first year.

At the end of the first month the average boy baby weighs 8 pounds 3 ounces; girl baby, 7 pounds 11 ounces. At the end of three months average boy, 12 pounds 11 ounces; girl, 12 pounds 3 ounces. At six months, boy, 16 pounds; girl, 15 pounds 8 ounces. At nine months, boy, 18 pounds 2 ounces; girl, 17 pounds 10 ounces. At one year, boy, 21 pounds; girl, 20 pounds 8 ounces.

The baby should also gain in length. At birth the average is 20½ inches, at six months 25 inches, and at one year 29 inches.

The soft spot on the head (the fontenelle) usually closes at the 18th month, but may vary from 14 to 22 months. The most common cause of failure to close is rickets. This applies to the big fontelle in front. There is a small soft spot toward the back of the head which closes at the end of two months.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

W. H. F.: "You advise rhubarb. All my layman reading is that this fruit is distinctly acid, with prunes and cranberries."

Answer: As is the case with most fruits and vegetables, the mild organic acids present in rhubarb, prunes and cranberries, are converted in the process of digestion to alkali, so the actual effect on the body is either neutral, or the opposite of acid.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

EUROPE seems to be a dangerous vacation spot for gals who wish to preserve their slender figure lines. At least, so the experiences of some of our loveliest screen sirens seem to indicate. When the titian-tressed Clara Bow returned from her latest European trip, for instance, she was 15 pounds heavier than ordinarily. The lovely Ann Dvorak acquired considerable weight, too, during her sojourn in the old country. And 'tis said that even the Great Garbo gained some extra poundage during her recent stay in Sweden.

Gladys Glad

The average American woman, however, doesn't have to go to Europe to gain extra poundage. Unfortunately, she does too well along that line right at home. And it's really a shame. For to-day, a fat, shapeless figure proves neither a thing of beauty nor a joy forever.

However, the problem of reducing sometime does not cause women half so much worry as the problem of how to keep from gaining. If a woman is overweight, she can always send for my "New Figure" reducing booklet, or some excellent reducing routine, and lose that excess poundage that is marring the youthful lines of her figure. But if she has a tendency to gain weight easily, she's likely to have more trouble retaining her slender figure than she had in acquiring it.

If you tend to gain weight easily, and your weight is now normal, the one-day liquid diet routine is the best thing that I can recommend to you for preventing the accumulation of excess fat and for keeping your weight normal. To follow this routine, you must set aside one day out of every week on which to diet. On this day, you must consume nothing but liquids. Begin with a glass of warm, sugarless lemonade when you rise in the morning. Then, consume nothing during the day but orange juice, lemonade, a bit of coffee or tea with lemon, grapefruit juice, and like liquids. And drink large quantities of water.

Of course, this does not mean that on the other six days of each week you can gorge yourself with all manner of fattening foods, and still not gain weight. But if you eat sensibly, and follow this one-day liquid diet routine, your weight should remain normal and your figure youthfully slender.

Feet

Betsy: To soothe tired, aching feet, soak them in a basin of hot water in which a cup of Epsom salts has been dissolved. After the soaking, run cold water over the feet.

Camomile Tea Rinse

Marie: The Camomile tea rinse is used to enhance the color of light hair. Boil a handful of Camomile flower in a pint of water. Strain the mixture, and add enough water to form a quart. Then use the solution as a rinse after you shampoo your hair.

REV. CANON SWAYNE TURNS SOD FOR NEW BONARLAW CHURCH

Anglican Structure Costing $8,500 to be of Stone With Seating for 185. OLD ENGLISH DESIGN.

BONARLAW, Aug. 21. (Examiner Correspondence). The ceremony of turning the first sod in preparing the ground for the foundation of the new Anglican Church at Bonarlaw was performed Thursday afternoon by the Rev. Canon W. G. Swayne, rector of St. Mark's Church.

A number of parishioners and workmen were present and the scene was very impressive as the Canon with shovel in one hand and prayer-book in the other offered prayers for the success of the work about to be done.

The new church wil be a stone structure with a tower and basement, the outside measurements being seventy-five feet over all in length and twenty-five feet in width, with a seating capacity of 185 including the choir, which will be seated in the chancel. It will be heated with a pipeless furnace.

The contract for excavation, drainage, masonry, plastering, etc., has been given to H. Spencer & Son, Bonarlaw, and the carpenter work, painting, etc., to Floyd R. Armstrong, of Stirling, he architect in charge of the work and who designed the building, is J. Arnold Thomson, registered architect of Belleville, who estimates the cost of buiding at $8,500. In a recent interview with the press Mr. Thomson is quoted as saying:

"Church design in the rural districts during the past few years has undergone a noticeable change. The style of the building used in the old days is gradually dying out. Now the buildings are neater. They are in greater harmony with their surroundings. More care is given these days to their outside appearance. They are also planned not only for beauty but for utility and with a maximum seating arrangement. Architects now favour the neatness and rugged simplicity of the old English design. The new church at Bonarlaw will be a splendid example.

A Gift

The church building committee consists of the rector, Rev. Canon W. G. Swayne, the church wardens, Messrs. W. J. Barlow and J. F. Baker, and Messrs. S. S. McComb, Jesse Barow, W. S. Stiles and M. Fitzgerald. The committee are sparing no effort that the money which is a donation to the church by the late Mrs. Mary Ann Cook, shall be spent to the best advantage.

In July, 1921, Mr. Cook, wife of James Cook, placed in the hands of The Incorporated Synod of the Diocese of Ontario the sum of $5,000 which sum together with all the accumulations thereon and the interest thereon was to be handed to the church wardens of St. Mark's congregation upon the completion of a new English church and erecting therein a memorial tablet "To the Glory of God and in the memory of the late George Simpson."

The $5,000, well invested since 1921, has increased to over $9,000 and at a special vestry meeting of the congregation in July of this year it was decided that, in view of the fact that both labor and material are possibly now at their lowest point and are likey to be higher within another year, now is the time to build.

Bishop Chooses Site

At this vestry meeting the site of the new church was discussed. Some were of the opinion that it should be built on the site of the old church on the 12th line of Rawdon, about one half mile from the rectory grounds, and the highway. Others considered the best site to be on the rectory grounds which are on the corner of the 12th line of Rawdon and Highway No. 14. It was decided to leave the selection of the site to the Bishop.

His Lordship carefully examined both sites and selected the site just south of the rectory as the more suitable, and on this ground the church is now being built.

It has not yet been decided what disposition shall be made of the old church, which was erected in 1882. The contractor was Solomon Langman. This church is of brick, forty feet long and twenty-four feet wide. The contractor was paid the sum of 195 dollars and all material was furnished him by the Church Building Committee. This committee was Messrs. James McComb, Thomas McKeown, John Stiles, Henry Brown, William Frost, John B. Russell, and John Webb.

More recently a large shed was built near the church, the disposition or use of which will also need to be considered.

The contractors and architect working on the new church are considered to be experts in their particular fields of labor, and it is hoped that before winter the new edifice will be completed and ready for use.

A WELCOME SIGN.

One encouraging indication of the last two months, that has not been receiving the attention its importance warrants, is furnished by the reports from various parts of Canada of a substantial reduction in relief costs.

This drop is not confined to any one section for throughout the whole country relief lists are decreasing and there is a corresponding increase in employment; the change so far while not spectacular is being steadily maintained it would seem.

Ontario, for example, reports a decrease of 25 per cent. in the cost of relief in the last two months, while in British Columbia there was an increase between March and July of 25,000 in the number of persons employed.

These figures are most encouraging; they show a definite improvement and while it would be foolish to regard them as signs that prosperity is about to return with a rush, they are welcome because they furnish some reason for hoping that the betterment will be definitely maintained.

A glimpse of blue skies after a long period of cloudy weather is always a happy augury and the improvement in the relief situation should be accepted as such.

THE SCOTS GUARDS BAND.

It is in keeping with the traditions of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition that the splendid band of His Majesty's Scots Guards should have been secured as one of the outstanding features of this year's fair.

Two years ago the Peterborough Exhibition gave proof of the enterprise by booking the famous St. Hilda's Band, which was a sensation at the Canadian National Exhibition; last year the fine Besses o' th' Barn Band was the musical attraction.

For this year's Exhibition another great British band, quite different in style and instrumentation from the two all-brass ensembles that were heard at the last two fairs, will delight visitors to Peterborough's big Exhibition.

The band of the Scots Guards, one of the world's greatest military musical organizations, will give three concerts here and music lovers from all over the district will make sure of not missing this opportunity of hearing this splendid ensemble.

It is in the securing of such attractions as this that the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition stands out among the fairs of the province and it is to be hoped that the enterprise of the directors in booking such an organization will be recognized by worthwhile patronage.

A REASONABLE PLAN.

It is not surprising to find that the first announcement in regard to Ontario's return to the former system of municipal works as a relief measure has been considerably modified.

Direct relief, we are now told, is not to be abandoned, although in the case of those municipalities who are able to provide a works program there will be assistance forthcoming from the Provincial and Federal treasuries.

This is a more reasonable program, for while nobody will question the moral value of furnishing jobs rather than direct relief, our experience with this plan has been that it is necessarily expensive and that when large numbers of families have to be cared for relief can be provided directly with much less strain upon the public purse.

To attempt again to look after all Ontario's jobless by means of a public works program would be a mistake in the light or earlier experiments along the same line and the plan now announced by which municipalities which desire to embark upon a scheme of public works will be helped by the two governments, while the direct relief plan will still be carried on for the benefit of other unemployed would seem to be a much more workable and desirable method.

Further details as to the new scheme will be awaited with interest by many municipal governments.

MR. FERGUSON COULD HELP

It is announced that Hon. G. Howard Ferguson will spend a good deal of his time while holidaying in Ontario in fishing.

That is good news if Mr. Ferguson takes his angling seriously and if, while in pursuit of musky, bass, trout or what ever particular members of the finny tribe he prefers, he will keep his ears open to the complaints of other fishermen and guides and summer resort proprietors as to the need of an aggressive protective policy for Ontario's game fish.

The High Commissioner can do his native province a good service indeed if he turns his fishing holiday into a one-man investigation of conditions in Ontario, of the diminishing supply of fish in many sections, of the need of re-stocking, and of the necessity of adequate protection during the spawning season, and of more rigid regulations as to the size of the catch, etc.

We could name certain sections where even the geniality for which Mr. Ferguson is noted would be severely tested were the ex-Premier to drop in in the guise of a summer visitor and undertake to secure anything like a worthwhil bag of fish.

Only our personal regard for the Hon. Howard prevents us from hoping indeed that he will land in one of those places during his contemplated fishing expedition; if he should do so we can picture his arrival back at Queen's Park with a demand that something be done, and done in a hurry to improve Ontario's fishing condition.

CADET TRAINING.

The curtailment of grants for the instruction of school cadets threatens to bring about the elimination of this form of physical training in Chatham.

Cadet training presents many admirable avenues for instilling in the minds of young boys principles which are necessary to their success in life. Such ideals as co-operation, esprit de corps, co-ordination of the mind and body, subordination of the will to reason and authority and the development of discipline are, probably, more easily taught through cadet training than through any other medium of physical drill.

The government of this country is faced with the necessity for reducing expenditures. The great mass of the people are demanding it. There will have to be a curtailment of the least essential services if the saving is to be effected, and it is therefore not surprising that departments of education such as cadet training should be the first to feel the shock. While useful and desirable, this training cannot be classed as the most essential in the educational system.

On the other hand, we would regard the elimination of cadet training as an unfortunate move, and we trust that some arrangement may be made to keep it alive in the schools. The reduction of the pay offered to cadet instructors is the bone of contention; but it would be a splendid thing if these instructors would make a special effort, under present difficult conditions, to give consideration to the beneficial influence which cadet training has upon the youth in attendance at our schools. It may be unreasonable to ask them to continue as formerly without adequate remuneration, but people in all walks of life are called upon to endure unusual hardships in connection with their private and public duties, in the hope that conditions will improve in the near future, and anything that cadet instructors can do to keep intact the splendid institutions connected with our educational institutions would not fail to merit and receive public approval and gratitude.—Chatham Daily News.

PEGGING WHEAT.

Virtually forced into the step by action taken in the United States, Canada has embarked on a radical experiment in connection with her wheat market. Both wheat and coarse grains have been "pegged" at Winnipeg by means of the setting of a minimum price for trading in futures.

It is rather a daring step, one that will be viewed with mixed feelings. Like everything else that is done in the wheat market, its success or failure depends on future events over which man can have little control.

Frankly, the pegging of wheat prices is human interference with the law of supply and demand. Perhaps it would be more correct to say that it is an anticipation of the working out of this law, a gamble, to some degree, that future developments will justify the setting of a minimum rather higher than average wheat prices over the past two or three years.

* * * *

It must not be forgotten that this action has been forced on Canada. It was, in a way, a measure of self-protection, for similar action by the United States at the beginning of the present month resulted in a rush of selling in Canadian markets by Chicago traders, which knocked the Canadian price down. Canada has simply taken steps to prevent a recurrence of this unsettling influence from an outside source.

All this, however, does not alter the fact that the Winnipeg Grain Exchange—which is almost undoubtedly acting at least with the tacit consent of the Government—is taking something of a chance. It is taking it for granted that future price trends will justify the pegging, or at least that it will be able to change front quickly enough should the unforeseen occur and world prices start to slide.

Fortunately, Canada this year has some substantial foundation for the rather confident expectation that prices will stay up. Nature has done much to strengthen this probability. After overloading the world with a surplus of wheat since 1928, she has stepped in to cut down this year's crop in many countries to an extent which brings a balance in wheat stocks at least within view. If the surplus is not dissipated within a few months, at least it is almost certain to be greatly decreased.

* * * *

What the Winnipeg authorities have done amounts practically to "hedging" on a national scale. "Hedging," of course, is, in some of its aspects, gambling, but it is a practice which has come to be almost essential to the successful prosecution of wheat trading. The action now being taken simply removes the process from the hands of the speculators, whose influence on the market is not always benign, and places it in the hands of the authorities which control the market officially.

One of the most significant effects of the pegging of the wheat price will be psychological. This was shown immediately by a rise in the quotations above the new minimum that was set. Whether this increase will be maintained is doubtful, but if the price manages to stay even a cent or two above the minimum, it will inspire confidence, which is just exactly what is needed in wheat trading to-day. The enthusiasm with which the Canadian move was hailed by experienced traders on the Chicago exchange is an evidence of what this pegging means to those who know the ins and outs of the market.

* * * *

There are encouraging features for Canadian wheat, many of them. Chief among these is the manner in which Canada is forging ahead as an exporting country. True, her exports have declined in volume during the past two or three years, but so have those of every other producing country. The encouraging signs are found in the percentage export tables.

It must not be forgotten that, as late as 1914, Canada stood fourth among the exporting nations. During the crop years of 1924 to 1929, she assumed first place, exporting 38.8 per cent. of the entire world export, with an average sale to other countries of 309,500,000 bushels per year.

In the crop year closing July 31, 1933, Canada's exports had dropped to approximately 260,000,000 bushels, but she led the world by an even more formidable margin than before. Her exports were 42.2 per cent. of the total.—Border Cities Star.

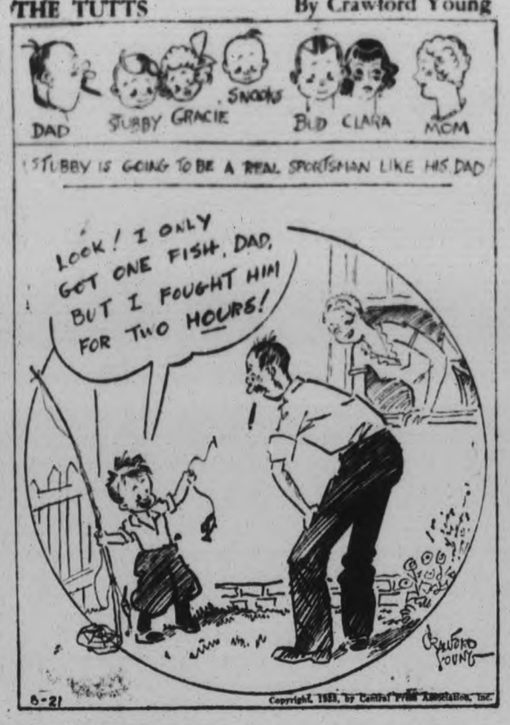
THE TUTTS By Crawford Young



VACATION ESCAPADE

By ARTHUR SHUMWAY

CHAPTER 2

DUE TO her excitement and the strangeness of her sleeping place, Sally awoke early. Faint light was coming in through the little window as she leaned forward lazily to look out. The train was now in the country surely enough, but just where Sally could not tell until she saw a broad tranquil river ahead. It had to be the Ohio. That meant, she realized excitedly, that they were about to leave officially the north and the romantic region below the Mason-Dixon line.

Sally drew back and contemplated rising. She remembered Thornwood Laurance Cavanaugh of the striped pajamas, so, opening the curtain a little, she looked across at his berth. His curtains were drawn and there was no sign of life. But elsewhere in the car some of her fellow passengers were getting up. Sally wondered what they looked like and decided to find out. She slipped into her negligee and got out her toilet things.

She did her hair and made up more carefully than she had in days, then slipped into the little brown sport suit she had brought to wear on the train. Looking at herself in the mirror, truant yellow hair above the brown suit, jaunty face smiling back, she knew immediately that if Thornwood L. Cavanaugh ever would approve of her, it would be this morning. And then she remembered the pajamas. Thornwood L. indeed!

Watching the autumn Kentucky farm land flow by, she ate her grapefruit. There would be plenty of grapefruit in Florida. The trees would be full of them. It seemed silly, almost, but they would, and oranges and cumquats and things.

The observation car was a pleasant place. So far it was meagerly populated. A few men, all of them middle-aged or elderly, and very married-looking, sat smoking cigarets and cigars and reading magazines and the morning papers. All of them looked up at Sally, but she looked straight ahead and chose a seat near the platform door.

She opened the magazine and started to read a Somerset Maugham story about Englishmen in Java. It was so interesting that she soon forgot to keep looking about the car and out at the Kentucky countryside. The first she knew that someone was sitting beside her was when she caught a strong draft of his pipe and gave a little cough. She looked up involuntarily and found that the young man beside her was looking at her.

"I'm awfully sorry," he said apologetically, "There must be a draft that carries the smoke your way."

He leaned down to knock the pipe out into an ash tray.

"No, never mind, Sally said. "Please don't, really. I like the smell of a pipe. It was just sort of sudden and made me cough."

She was studying the young man quickly. He was rather tall, had a lean face a little like Gary Cooper's, except not so stern, and he had dark, curly hair, parted high on the left side. Sally felt weak. It wasn't, it couldn't be, Thornwood L. Cavanaugh. That would be too perfect to find him here, briar pipe, Gary Cooperish face, soft, pleasant voice and all. Then she realized that the picture was not perfect; this young man wore a gray flannel, not a tweed suit, and his accent was much like her own, not at all English. She looked down at his shoes, though, and saw that they were Scotch-grain brogues.

"No, I'll put the incinerator out," he said. "I've had my money's worth out of his pipeful anyway. That's rare old tannery bouquet, you know."

Sally smiled. Then, suddenly, she noticed that the magazine on his lap was the same issue as her own. He must have noticed it, too, for he smiled at her.

"Talk about coincidence," he said. "We're reading the same story."

"I thought so,' Sally laughed. "I like it, too; dont you?"

"You bet. One of my fair-haired lads, old Willie Somerset."

"I'd love to go to Java some time," Sally said. "I guess Florida is as near as I'll ever get."

"Florida? Then you're going all the way down, too? Which side?"

"On the east side."

"So'm I, the east coast."

"I'm going to Daytona Beach. Have you ever been there?"

"Once for a little while."

"This is my first trip."

"Really?" he said, surprised. "Why, I had figured you out as on your way down to your winter home in Palm Beach to join the folks."

"I wish I were," she said.

"Say, you're the girl across the aisle, aren't you?"

She stared at him. She couldn't help it. Pajamas!

"Yes," she said. "What made you think so?"

"I don't know. I just knew is all. You had that girl across the aisle look. I was trying to picture last night what you'd look like. I was right, too, a little bit."

"Isn't that funny?" Sally said. "But go on. How do you mean 'a little bit.'"

"Well, I had you doped out as a blonde all right, but I figured you'd be tall and kind of austere."

Sally laughed. "But now you're disappointed.

"Who said I was?"

"Oh, well that's different. Don't laugh so loud you'll disturb all these old fossils in the car and I'll tell you something funny. Do you know what I think your name is?"

He shook his head, grinning.

"Thornwood Laurance Cavanaugh with a U in the Laurance instead of a W."

He cocked his head and looked at her quizzically.

"All that?"

"Absolutely. I had you pictured as an Englishman—from your kitbag, and I saw the initials. You look sort of like I thought, though, only for one thing—"

"What's that?" he demanded quickly. "Maybe I can rectify my deficiency."

Sally looked at him admonishingly. "You do wear the most goshawful red-and-pink pajamas," she said.

Thornwood Laurance laughed. Aren't they honeys? They were my roommate's and they were all he had in the drawer when I left, the low, suspicious, conniving cheapskate, and him a man with a Midas-like plentitudee of elaborately pajamaed back in Chicago."

"You don't know how you've relieved me."

"Think nothing of it. But I still don't see how I deserve all these names—Thornapple Laurance Cavanaugh or whatever it is."

"T. L. C. Your initials. I saw them on the bag and pictured you as an Englishman who looked like Gary Cooper. You do a little."

"Ah, madam, had I his bucks."

"But you do. And I said, 'His name is Thornapple — I mean Thornwood Laurance Cavanaugh with a U instead of a W. He's just back from the tropics in India and he's wandering the face of the earth trying to forget his lost love. He's on his way to Florida to fish.'"

The young man laughed. And the old men looked over the tops of their papers.

"I'm sorry," he gasped. "Honestly. And I don't mean to insult you at all. The funny thing is that you're almost half right. Thornwood Laurance—" and he shook his head and laughed.

"Then I wasn't wrong?" she demanded, grinning at him.

"Well, you were right about wandering the earth. I never have been anywhere long enough for the mailman to get really used to my name on the box. As for the lost loves, I've lost several. In fact, I've never won any of them."

"I knew you'd smoke a briar pipe and wear brogues."

"Lady, you have second insight. Let me be your manager. I'll make a yogi or something out of you and we'll tour the country. You'll be the making of me."

"How else was I right?" Sally asked.

"Well, Im on my way to Florida —and to fish in a way. But not for the scaly kind. Mine are flat and long and green."

"I understand you perfectly. We're both fishermen."

"You? No! you!"

"I'm on my way to start work as the private secretary of a perfectly good old millionaire named John Kemble Proctor."

"Black Jack Proctor? The dickens you say! Boy, what I haven't heard about that apple."

"He's the apple," Sally said with a little nod.

"Great. Gee that's great," the young man said. He hunched his chair closer. "I thought you were an heiress or something and you'd have me thrown off the train for mashing."

"You weren't mashing."

"Let you know about it. I suppose you think the smoke from my pipe drifted your way by accident?"

Sally's lips parted and she tried to look angry but succeeded only in looking charmingly silly.

"You'd better have lunch with me," he smiled, "at your own expense. You never know what kind of fiends in human form will try to take you into their clutches in a dining car."

"No," she said meekly, giving him a sidelong look. "No, you never do."

NO PROMISES, PLEASE

WHEN I was seven an old lady up the street collected all the neighborhood children into her house and gave them lemonade and cake....Afterward she had all of them sign little cards promising that they would never, never, never smoke a cigaret.

She was a nice old lady, but she had the wrong point of view. She didn't want to smoke cigarets. She thought nobody else should smoke. And she believed in the idea of impressing the filthiness of smoking on children when they were very young, young, young. But she didn't know much about "psychology." She did not know a promise may be an itching, rankling, provocation to disobedience....

She hadn't the slightest idea of how we'd feel afterwards. Instead, she put all her faith in that little bit of cardboard on which we had made our childish scrawls....

We had promised, under the influence of lemonade and cake, and so our promises would be good till the stars grew old and the sun grew cold and the leaves of the Judgment Book should unfold.

But those promises weren't good. ....I didn't smoke when I was a youngster, but I refrained in spite of that nice old lady's device instead of because of it. I never liked her, after that, and I avoided her. And I came to have a shrinking antagonism toward promises. Even when I was married I raised an eye at the promise to "love, honor and obey." But the wise man who performed the ceremony said, "What difference does it make? Where there is love there is obedience, anyway."....

So I made that promise because he so wisely explained its deeper significance.

* * *

But promises are a mistake. Exact a promise and you admit a weakness. You say, "Promise me!" and you admit a certain lack of trust. You try to bind a beloved one in soft and entangling coils. You proclaim your lack of faith, and declare you are not willing to trust as you trust the sun and the stars and the clean strength of life ....Exact a promise and confess a doubt. Leave a man free and you strengthen him against his weakness.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

FIRST ROYAL VISIT TO NIAGARA

On this date in 1792 Prince Edward, Duke of Kent, then officer commanding the Seventh Fusiliers at Quebec arrived at Niagara on a visit to Colonel Simcoe. The governor had barely got settled in his new capital, indeed, he was living in a tent for he wrote to England just about that time: "We are miserably off for accommodation, but I am fitting up an old hovel that will look exactly like a corner ale-house in England when properly decorated." The duke and Simcoe had already met during the winter of 1791 when the new governor was kicking his heels impatiently at Quebec, awaiting the Spring to come up to his new province. The Simcoes had been joint guests of honor with the duke at a grand ball given at the Chateau St Lewis on December 28th in honor of the proclamation of the Constitutional Act, which brought Upper Canada into being.

But Simcoe had already, after only a month's sojourn, begun to feel the effect of the malarial climate and the sting of the mosquitoes, and he was a sick man when he went down to the wharf to meet the royal visitor. It was quite a picturesque sight for the settlers who had come in from the surrounding country to see King George's fourth son. Strange, indeed, the military uniforms, the formal details, the royal landing, the salute by guns on the heights above, must have seemed to those Loyalists who were building up a new Britain in America, as well as to the Indians who were present from both sides of the river to see the son of "Great White Father," to whom they were more loyal than the whites to the south.

Mrs. Simcoe does not give many details of the duke's reception. She was too worried about her husband, for she wrote: "When the first salute was fired he (Simcoe) was seized with so violent a pain in his head that he was unable to see the prince after that day and kept his room for a fortnight. He had had a gouty pain in his head before, and it is supposed the shock of the cannon firing so immediately above fixed the disorder in his head."

Thus it happened that the first Royal tourist to visit the stupendous wonder of this country had to make his inspection of the cataract in company of the governor's lady, who drove over to the falls with him in the calèche over roads that were full of bumps. The duke must have come to the conclusion that the expedition was good for the liver, for in later days he is reported to have recalled that ride as being more effective than a doctor's chest full of calomel. Hon. Robert Hamilton's "Stone house," built in the English style, the backrooms looking on the river" was the theatre of a luncheon to the duke, when loyal toasts were drunk and his Royal Highness was asked to send to his father affectionate tributes of loyalty, which he, of course, promised to do.

That was a meeting with the gentry and had no special historical significance, but after the luncheon an incident took place which brought the prince into touch with the common people. During the hungry year, 1787, when all crops failed and the pioneers faced famine, they were given food from the army stores, supposedly as a free gift. But some of the army officers took the view that the food had been loaned and demanded payment therefore. This placed the people in a predicament. They had no money; they were threatened with lawsuits; and those in the Niagara district combined in a memorial to the duke, in which the facts were set forth and relief was asked. The answer was characteristic of a British prince:

"My father is not a merchant to deal in bread and ask payment for food granted for the relief of his loyal subjects!"

The demands for repayment were forthwith cancelled and the people went home as proud of their prince as we are of our own Prince of Wales. Tradition has it that when the then Prince of Wales visited Niagara in 1860 he was reminded by descendants of those loyalist settlers of the gracious act which had made his grandfather so beloved in Upper Canada, for the Duke of Kent was, of course, the father of Queen Victoria.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyst for the Readers of The Examiner.

L.P.,
R.R. 3, Peterborough.

Your handwriting reveals initiative, humour and genuine good nature. You appear to be easy going, friendly, sympathetic and interested in the affairs of the community in which you reside. The forward leaning letter formations suggest hasty decisions and impulsiveness. The capitals reflect generosity. The uneven shape and size of some of the smaller letters reveals changeableness of disposition, and of ideas. Your imagination is of a sensible type. Your will power is developed to a normal extent, but does not ALWAYS come to your aid in times of emergency. You are perhaps rather prone to commence too many tasks at the same time, and then have to leave one or more incomplete. Your general character is dependable. You seem to be quite fond of new things, and to be able to fashion many objects of charm with your clever fingers. People who really know you, should swear by you instead of at you, for you are worth cultivating as a lifelong friend.

W. M. Mildenhall,
R.R. 2, Hastings.

Your handwriting shows that you are quite persevering and progressive. You seem to have your mind set upon accomplishing just so much each day, and you appear to gain your objective through sheer determination. Those 'I' dots show initiative and intuition, because of their position, which is definitely placed above the letters. This characteristic denotes positiveness also, and it represents a keen mind. As a rule, one of your type of intelligence does not appreciate being told what to do, this is due in part to your inborn desire to 'Rule your own roost' as it were. The manner in which you cross your 'T's' illustrates normal will power. Your 'H' is of the constructive type. This should give you the power to plan things for others, or to impart knowledge.

Mrs. M. A. L.,
137 Benson Ave.

Your handwriting shows that you are generous and kind. There appears to be a tendency towards nervousness at present, this is no doubt due to the state of your health, which does not seem to be quite as strong as you could wish to have it. I hope you will find much joy in its improvement as the days pass by. Your disposition is fine and even. You should be able to do many worth while things, because you are intelligent and clever. The capital 'H' on your envelope shows that you are quite capable of managing the business end of a proposition which requires diligent care and forethought. Your general character is excellent, and you should encounter no great difficulty in making many true and affectionate friends. Dress always in the manner which pleases your individual taste, and do not try to follow the prevailing style if it does not appeal to your personality.

CAMPBELLFORD

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

Word has been received here of an accident sustained by a well known Campbellford resident and outstanding Ontario lacrosse player, P. J. Kelly, who received a severe leg laceration and crushing when rock fell upon it at the trans-Canada camp at Eau-Claire, Northern Ontario, where he is employed on government construction. The accident happened some days ago and was reported from Mattawa. Mr. Kelly, who has a splendid overseas record, was for many years a lacrosse player of note in the province, featuring a position in goal.

Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Vosper and son George of Kingston, called on friends in town on their way back to Oak Lake for the vacation at their summer cottage.

Miss Mary Coxwell is summering at Niagara-on-the-Lake, the guest of Mrs. H. Coxwell and Miss Mona Coxwell of Toronto.

The sale of the house hold effects of Mrs. George Tripp was held on Saturday afternoon at her Campbellford home. It is expected that Mrs. Tripp will in future reside in Toronto.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(A.P.) — The stock market exhibited quiet strength to-day and a variety of groups pushed forward. Early advances of 1 to more than 2 points were extended in the late dealings, particularly in the Alcohol group which showed gains of 2 to around 5 points in National Distillers, Owens-Illinois, American Commercial Alcohol and Schenley Distillers. Other shares up 1 to more than 2 included United Aircraft, Great Western Sugar, American Telephone, Case, United States' Steel, Celanese, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Loews. Transfers approximated 1,500,000 shares.

Object To Holland 'Staking' U.W.F. Fund

Objection to having their funds used as "stake" money in a challenge which their president, Charles W. Holland, threw down to O A. Moore, bailiff, is expressed in the action which has been taken by a section of the Unemployed Workers' Federation.

Through one of their officers, William Smyth, a section of the Federation have issued instructions to the Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C. to take legal proceedings to prevent the use of the organization funds by Holland in connection with his challenge to the bailiff.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21 (C.P.).—Devoid of any feature, wheat prices at mid-session on the grain exchange were ⅝ to ⅞ cents lower to-day.

A disappointing over-the-week-end export business was a factor in the dullness of operations. At mid-session October was quoted at 71, December at 72⅝ and May at 77⅞. The opening showed fractional recessions which were little changed in early trading.

Only a few scattered trades were executed in the pit. Liverpool confirmed the lack of buying interest and the English market was fractionally lower in the early trading. Chicago was conspicuously weak after a firm opening.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—(C.P.)—The following wholesale prices on fruits and vegetables were supplied by White and Co. to-day: Imported fruits: California grapefruit, per case, $4.85 to $5.25; domestic vegetables: Green onions, per doz. 20c; hot house tomatoes, per 11 qt. basket, 75c; hothouse cucumbers, 25c to 30c; Canadian canteloupe 16 qt. basket, 35c to 50c; new cabbage per bushel 75c; spinach per bushel 75c to $1.00; Lawntonberries per pint 7c to 8c; good dry blueberries, per 11 qt. basket, $1.25; wet blueberries, per 11 qt. basket, 75c to 85c.

N.S. CAMPAIGN IN FINAL DAY

Major Parties Go to Polls Tuesday With 30 Candidates Each.

KEEN BATTLE.

HALIFAX, Aug. 21 (C.P.)—Nova Scotia's political campaign entered its last day to-day. With Balloting to-morrow, candidates in the general election are making their last minute speeches to-day.

Government and Opposition alike are confident of victory Premier Gordon S. Harrington had announced his expectation of a sweeping Conservative victory, while placards throughout the Province hailed Liberal lead Angus L Macdonald as "Nova Scotia's next Premier"

Each side has 30 candidates in the fight for the 30 Legislative seats left the province under the last redistribution In addition, there are six Laborite, C.C.F. and United Front candidates seeking election in Cape Breton and Halifax. Joseph Wallace is contesting Halifax Centre under the banner of the United Front Party and with the alliterative slogan, "Wallace, Work and Wages."

In the other ridings, it is a straight fight on party lines. The Conservative Government is appealing to the people on its administrative record; the Opposition charges extravagance, and pledges itself to a "new deal" for Nova Scotia. Chief among the Liberal party's promises is the immediate payment of Old Age Pensions.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

TORONTO LIVESTOCK'

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—(CP)—Cattle trade continued very dull on the Toronto Livestock Market today with only 1200 head sold. Prices were 10 to 15 cents lower on weighty steers and butcher cattle, but held about steady on other grades.

A few choice steers brought $4.75 to $4.90. Butcher cattle sold mostly at $3.50 to $4.50 with a few at $4.60. Good cows brought $2.50 to $2.90 with canners at $1.00. Good butcher bulls sold up to $3.00. Bolognas ranged from $2.00 to $2.25. Choice fed calves were steady at $6.50 to $7.00. A few good stockers sold at $3.00 to $3.25.

The calf market was strong at $6.00 to $6.50 for choice with a few tops at $7.00.

Hogs were steady at $6.25 f.o.b. for bacons, at $6.50 off truck and $6.75 off car.

A few lambs sold at $6.50 per cwt. but the general market was 50 cents lower at $6.00 for good ewes and wethers and at $4.00 to $5.00 for culls and bucks. Sheep were steady at $2.00 to $2.50 for good light ewes.

CHICAGO GRAINS

CHICAGO, Aug 21. —(A.P.) — Grain opened comparatively steady to-day, in the absence of any news affecting the market. Some weakness at Liverpool was generally ignored here.

Wheat started steady to 1 cent higher, but later a wave of selling carried prices down more than 2 cents a bushel below Saturday's close. Corn was steady to 1-2 cent lower and later declined with wheat.

Revived Poison Plot

CLYDE COLLEY

This is Cyde Colley, three-year-old son of Alvin Colley of Akron, Ohio, whose father, mother and two brothers were poisoned at a picnic dinner near Malvern, Ark., and who told police that Mark. H. Shank, Akron lawyer, "put something in ur grape juice." The boy was the only member of the family to survive the death plot, to which Shank assertedly confessed, because, he said, Colley "knew too much about him.

WOODMEN HOLD ANNUAL PARADE

Visitors Parade With Sherwood Camp to Little Lake.

With a number of visiting brethren present from the district camp at Toronto and other outside points, the annual decoration services of Sherwood Forest Camp No. 50, Woodmen of the World, was held yesterday afternoon to Little Lake Cemetery.

Members of the Order, including the ladies' and children's branches of the organization leaving the W.O.W. Hall on George Street for the cemetery at about two o'clock, combined to form one of the most impressve gatherings of the Order, which has ever been held in this city.

The services, favored with beautiful weather and held in the verdant surroundings of the cemetery, were strikingly beautiful in their simple tribute to departed Sovereigns of the Order.

Arrangements at the cemetery were in the capable hands of local officers of Sherwood Forest Camp of which the C.C. is Sov. M. Wells. The officers of the day included: C.C., C. V. Shea, district, Toronto; P.C.C., J. F. Sutherland, Centre Toronto; Ad.L., A. E. Leadbeater, Excelsior, Toronto; Banker, Geo. Durrant, Excelsior, Toronto; Clerk, Harvey S. Lloyd, District Toronto; Reader. Miss M. Coone, District Toronto; Escort, T. Hoey, District Toronto; Wat'n., James LeGier, Prosperity, Toronto;; Sentry, W. J. Needham, Hamilton; Managers: T. J. Foreman, Hamilton; J. Jackson, Milton; Director of Ceremonies, H. H. McHattie, Head Manager, Toronto; Marshal, H. W. Dummitt, Peterborough; Ladies' Guard of Honor, Toronto.

The members of the Order proceeded to the cemetery gates in procession, and re-assembled there with Sovereigns of subordinate camps leading, with executive officers and officers of the day, at the rear of the line.

There was a counter march with the ladies' guard of honor of Toronto, escorting members of the executive and officers of the day, followed by ladies' degree team of Hamilton escorting members of subordinate camps and visitors.

After the singing of the hymn, "Jesu Lover of My Soul," brief and appropriate addresses were given by executives, which included: Clair Jarvis, H.C.C.; John Manning, H.C.; D. Cinnamon, P.H.C.C.; Dr. J. L. Huffman, H.P.; H. Durrant, H.E.; Nelson Stauffer, H.W.; S. Bradford, H.S.; H. H. McHattie, Chairman of Board of Managers; John S. Clouston, H.M.; Henry Haas, H.M., and Harvey S. Lloyd, District Manager.

Delegates of the main body arrived in the city on Saturday evening and were warmly welcomed at a meeting in the lodge rooms. After the meeting an enjoyable corn roast and dance was held.

LADY PEEL BEREAVED.

LIBURN, Northern Ireland, Aug. 21.—(A.P.)—John Lillie, 72, father of Beatrice Lillie, actress, widely known in Canada as well as in London and New York, died to-day at Corcreevy, near Lisburn.

Centennial Plans Outlined To Rotary

Colonel H. R. Alley, Director of Toronto Centennial, Gives Interesting Talk.

A brief historical sketch of Toronto at the time of its incorporation as a city on March 6th, 1834, and a skeleton outline of the proposed plans for the Centennial celebrations to be held in that city next year, provided the basis of an interesting address delivered at the Rotary Club luncheon at Empress Hotel to-day, by Colonel H. R. Alley, Director of Toronto Centennial 1934. The speaker was introduced by Ross L. Dobbin.

The program Colonel Alley said, was being based on the fact that "the citizens are the city." It was a celebration in which the citizens themselves would be asked to take part.

While the actual date of Toronto's incorporation as a city was March 6th, 1835, weather conditions made it out of the question to consider outdoor celebrations at that time of the year. There would, however, be dignified service of thanksgiving and prayer, on the evening of March 5th, in which each of the seven major religious denominations would take part.

The closing of Toronto's first century of progress and the birth of a new century was to be celebrated in the presence of God Almighty, said Colonel Alley.

He added that a choir of 2,000 voices was being selected to render the specially prepared sacred music.

The outdoor celebrations of Toronto's Centennial were scheduled to commence on May 24th next, Colonel Alley said. On that day an old French fort, built in Toronto in 1750 and which is now being restored, was to be re-opened. It was a program which he thought would porvide full scope for color and military ceremonial.

On July 1st, the second part of the Centennial outdoor celebrations would be observed. The keynote of the second series of celebrations would be "The Province." He was hopeful that at least two representatives of every city and town in Ontario would be represented, and that "the Lord Mayor of the Mother City of the Empire" would also be present.

Civic Holiday would see the opening of the third series of outdoor celebrations when "a real effort to fire the consciousness of Toronto in the greater number of persons" would be made. The celebrations on this occasion would take the form of community efforts to be staged in each of the twenty parks in the city.

Colonel Alley was tendered a vote of thanks by President Dr. A. Moir on motion of Rotarian John F. Reed.

50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Northcott Were Married in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Northcott, 217 Barnardo Avenue, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding on Saturday, August 19. It was at St. Peter's Church, Marlborough, in Wiltshire, on August 19, 1883, that Mr. and Mrs. Northcott were wedded. They have resided in this city for the past 24 years and are both in splendid health.

Jackson Park was the beautiful setting for their happy celebration on Saturday. Relatives and friends of this city and from distant points were present to add their congratulations on the great occasion. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Northcott and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. Day and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Davies and family, Mr. A Hempstead and son, and Mr. V. Montgomery. Grandchildren present numbered 15.

Supper was served on tables decorated with flowers of gold and ribbons with golden effects. Many congratulatory messages were received, and also gifts from the family. Gifts included a lovely clock and many baskets of flowers.

The party returned in the evening to Mr. and Mrs. Northcott's home on Barnardo Avenue where a pleasant and happy evening was spent.

THE STORK'S RACE.

CHICAGO.—The stork and Mrs. Myrtle Kreman had a race and the stork won— all because of a flat tire.

Mrs. Kreman raced toward a hospital in the family car, but a blowout halted the automobile. A police patrol r hed to the rescue, and sped Mrs. Kreman toward her goal. Before she reached it the patrol wagon had a new passenger, an eight pou- girl.

NO ELECTION THIS YEAR SAYS HON. G. H. FERGUSON

OTTAWA, Aug. 21. (C.P.) — "There will be no Ontario Provincial election this year" said Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, at the opening of the Ottawa Exhibition this afternoon.

"I don't know when an election will be held, but I do know when it is not going to be held," he said.

WE DO NOT wish to pin bouquets on ourselves but just wish to remind you that we called the first three consecutive winners at Fort Erie on Saturday. This also included the daily double which is on the first and second races. Friend Charley must be in the proverbial pink as he not only beat horses like Khorasan and Clotho but also equalled the track record at the border plant which has stood for a good number of years. It will pay to string along with this one as when right he is very consistent.

• • •

WE HAVE BEEN telling you that Bold Bendigo would do the needful one of these days and on Friday at Fort Erie we suppose you noticed where he won and paid off at forty-seven for two. He will also repeat before long. Top Hattie is one which has not clicked yet but it won't be long now and the pay-off will stagger you. He is a standout in muddy going but can also travel along on a fast racing strip

• • •

CONNY SMYTHE has Ladder all ready for another winning effort. This is one of the classiest sprinters doing business at any track. If you notice Flying Sailor among the entries this week at Devonshire it will be the signal to climb on board. This one is as fit as hands can make him and is just raring to go. Stealingaway which has enjoyed a short rest at Windsor came back at Devonshire and won the feature event, leading from barrier to wire.

• • •

ROY WALDRON who is always successful at Windsor tracks started off on the right foot on Saturday when he copped the first two races on the card. It will pay you to consider anyone this young gentleman starts this week as at the border he is almost unbeatable. Corbeau is a plater that has been resting at Windsor for the last few weeks and when asked to do his stuff will not be found wanting. He came originally from Ohio and will sure earn oat money before they return him across the border. We also want to remind you that Uppity is ready to earn a set of brackets at any distance and in any kind of going.

SWASTIKA LEADER BEING DEPORTED

Otto Becker Leaves Kitchener With 18c in Pockets.

KITCHENER, Ont., Aug. 21.—(C.P.)—With 18 cents in his pocket, Otto E. Becker, self-styled leader of Kitchener's alleged Swastika movement to-day prepared to leave the city to-morrow as a deportee, bound for his native Germany. He sails from Montreal on Friday.

As he packed the man said he was leaving his "work" in the hands of a capable successor, "a Canadian, not a foreigner," but did not name him. On Saturday Becker sold his furniture on the local market for about $5 and used the proceeds to take his family to Toronto on an excursion.

CHILDREN AID IN HARVESTING RUSSIAN GRAIN

Regimented Into "Light Cavalry Detachments" For Wheat Fields.

100,000 CALLED OUT.

Prevent Grain Thefts and Act as Little Gleaners.

MOSCOW, Aug. 21 (A.P.).—Approximately 100,000 children, ranging from kindergarten age to 16 years, are being used for the harvest in the North Caucasus, Ukraine and mid-Volga regions to "protect the Socialist crop."

The children, a Kharkov despatch said to-day, are being organized by the Communist political sections, which now exercise rigid control over all agriculture, into "light cavalry detachments."

Both boys and girls are called on to watch sharply to prevent grain thefts and other depredations in these troublesome areas and also to retrieve grain left in the fields by the harvesters.

Thousands of them have built huts in which they live in the fields of the collective farms. They are fed by the Government.

Virtually all of them are children of collective farmers belonging either to the Octobrists, and young pioneers or the young Communists.

To the Octobrists—children from six to 10 years of age—falls the task of picking up stray kernels of grain lost by the reapers.

FLAMES SWEEP GROCERY STORE

Damage Estimated at $1,500 to E. G. Johnston's Store.

ORIGIN UNKNOWN.

Damage estimated at $1,500 was caused by early morning fire at the Red and White Store at Lock and Lansdowne streets over the week-end. The loss is covered by insurance.

The fire had its origin from some cause at present undetermined in the rear of the store. It occurred some two hours after the proprietor of the store, E. G. Johnston, had closed up the premises at midnight on Saturday, according to Fire Chief G. Gimblett.

Responding to an alarm rung in by some unknown person from the alarm box, the brigade made a speedy response. The fire-fighters arrived to find the rear of the store a mass of flames. A line of hose was laid and the chemical extinguisher was used to good effect. The major portion of the damage was caused to the stock by smoke.

Early on Saturday evening the brigade turned out to a chimney fire at Mark and Hunter streets, and on Sunday afternoon responded to a false alarm from a box in the vicinity of the C.G.E. plant.

Obituary

CAPT. W. J. WEBBER

OTTAWA, Aug. 21 (CP)—Captain William J. Webber, steward at Rideau Hall during the term of Earl Grey as Governor General, and for many years on the staff of the Dominion Archives, died at his home here over the week-end. He was 65 years of age.

MRS. CATHERINE SIMPSON.

The death occurred on Tuesday last, August 15th, in Toronto, of Catherine Wand, beloved wife of James Simpson, of 169 Perth avenue.

The deceased, who was born in Rippingale, Lincolnshire, England, came to Peterborough at the age of fifteen years and lived here until 1910, when she moved to Toronto to reside. She was an active member of the Women's Association of Perth avenue United church and also of the Davenport W.C.T.U.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, also three daughters and a son by a previous marriage, Mrs. B. Cameron and Mrs. F. Stephenson, of Toronto; Mrs. H. Tanner of Windsor, and Harry Weir of Toronto, and a brother, Harry Wand, of Ripingale, England.

The funeral was held on Saturday, with interment in Mount Pleasant cemetery, Toronto.

R. H. KELLS.

The funeral of Richard Henry Kells, who died Saturday morning at his residence, 118 Pacific avenue, Toronto, was held this morning from St. Thomas' church, Millbrook, to St. John's church cemetery, Cavan township, for interment. Mr. Kells was formerly a prominent business man of this city, being the proprietor of a dry goods store under the name of R. H. Kells and Company, Ltd.

J. W. CRANFIELD

The death occurred yesterday of Joseph William Cranfield, aged seventy-seven, at 27 Nelles Avenue, Toronto, following an illness of eight months. He is survived by his widow; a daughter, Mrs. George Johnston, of Toronto; and five sons, Bert of Fort Arthur, Roy of Limerick, Saskatchewan, Howard and Baden of Oshawa, and H. A. Cranfield of Peterborough. The funeral will be held at two p.m. Wednesday from 27 Nelles Avenue to Mount Lawn Cemetery, Oshawa.

BURTON H. BROOKS

PLATTSBURG, N.Y., Aug. 21—Burton H. Brooks, assistant division manager of the New York Telephone Company, died here Friday of heart trouble. He was an American citizen by birth, but his father was a native of Peterborough, Ontario, the late Thomas Brooks, formerly manager of the Peterborough Lock Company, who married Eva Wrighton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wrighton of Peterborough.

Mr. B. H. Brooks was 56 years old. He came to Plattsburg from Columbus, Ohio, in 1931, to become vice-president and general manager of the Northern New York Telephone Company. He had been engineer of the Ohio State Telephone Company previous to his coming to Plattsburg. Surviving are the widow; two sons, T. Wrighton and Donald H., and two sisters, Mrs. A. Brown Miller and Miss Grace J. Brooks, both of Columbus.

BIRTH.

BULLIED. — At Nicholls Hospital, on August 20, 1933, to Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bullied, 162 Albertus Street—a daughter (June Noreen).

Sense and Nonsense

A smart man admits his mistakes. Some time ago, Bill Powell refused to play a political boss in "The Dark Horse." Warren William took the part and it made him a star. Now Bill has consented to play a similar role in "The Gentleman from San Francisco."

William Powell

This picture will be Powell's next after he finishes Philo Vancing in "The Kennel Murder Case." It will show him as the power behind the throne in the political affairs of a modern city—not, however our northern neighbor.

There's still no getting Bill to talk over his marital troubles with Carole Lombard. After a few quiet days at Arrowhead Hot Springs, he returned to Hollywood and plunged into work.

Meanwhile, Carole continues to establish residence in Nevada. Mrs. Zeppo Marx has just returned from there (her trip had no legal motive) and reports that Carole is looking swell.

Odd coincidence, Johnny Weissmuller has a religious medal with the Saint Guadelupe on it. He carried it before he met Lupe Velez. And incidentally, Johnny says his religion would not prevent a marriage with the Mexican star. He and Bobbie Arnst were not married by the church.

It's a good old motto: "To them that hath." Several nights ago, Bill Candy, local socialite and owner of yachts and things was dancing in the Cocanut Grove. A scout from the Fox studio spotted him, asked him to make a screen test. Now he's working in a picture and playing, of all things, a bartender.

Crooning is not good enough for Russ Columbo. The singing star is aiming at grand opera. Pietro Cimini is helping develop his voice. . . . Greta Garbo who hates changes, must get used to a new maid. Her old one, the dusky Alma, has had to retire on account of ill health. . . . Ben Lyon writes from London that he has just received a British pilot's license—making him the only Hollywood actor to hold both an American and a British certificate.

After "The Late Christopher Bean,' you'll not be seeing Marie Dressler on the screen for quite a while. Even the three hours a day on the set are too much for the grand old trouper. She's going to take an extended vacation— three or four months. For the time being at least, she will remain in Hollywood or close by. "I'm too tired to think of plans," she says.

She stepped off the curb in Hollywood and a squash-and-run driver ran over her foot, breaking the middle toe.

Little Jane Harding, daughter of Ann, is minus her tonsils. Ann was with her at the hospital and though considerably shaken, came to the studio later and made a test. . . . And the phony travel writers can look out. W. S. Van Dyke is to write a book, "Debunking Adventure."

Warner Bros. who took the amusement world by storm some months ago with their sensational success called "42nd Street" have come forward with a new accomplishment even greater in scope and promise. It is "The Gold Diggers of 1933" which opens at the Capitol on Monday night for a four day engagement. It is amusement spelled with capital letters. It is new and it is beautiful, with 200 or more of georgeous Hollywood girls. The brilliance of the cast assembled for this picture is a fair gauge of its extra-ordinary entertainment value and includes Warren Williams, Joan Blondell, Ruby Keeler, Aline McMahon, Ginger Rogers, Dick Powell, Guy Kibee and Ned Sparks.

HAIL DAMAGES ALBERTA CROPS

Swept Across Centre of Province in Wide Swath.

HEAVY WEEK-END RAIN.

CALGARY, Aug. 21 (CP)—Central Alberta farmers over the week-end suffered heavy damage to their crops from the season's worst hailstorm. Carbon, Bowden and Airdrie reported damage, in some cases farmers' crops being totally ruined by the hail stones, described as large as hens' eggs. Several persons were injured.

Between Carbon and Craigmyle, hail raked a four-mile-wide strip, destroying grain stands, breaking windows and the accompanying wind tearing a roof off a barn. A granary on one farm was flattened. Bowden area reported a number of farmers hailed out with damage on other farms as high as 75 per cent.

Heavy rain occurred in Calgary district, 1.12 inches of moisture falling Saturday and Sunday.

PAINFUL PILES

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

Itching, bleeding or protruding piles go quickly and don't come back if you really remove the cause. Bad blood circulation in the lower bowel and hemorrhoidal veins causes piles by making the affected parts weak, flabby almost dead. Salves and suppositories fail because only an internal medicine that stimulates the circulation and drives out the impure blood can actually correct the cause of piles. Dr J. S. Leonhardt discovered a real internal Pile remedy. After prescribing it for 1 000 patients with success in over 900 cases he named it HEM-ROID. McDermid & Jury and Scott's Drug Store and druggists everywhere sell HEM-ROID Tablets with guarantee they will end your Pile misery or money back.

Seniors Win Third Game 2-1 to Lead Play-Offs

PETES TAKE ADVANTAGE OF KINGSTON'S ERRORS TO COP, C.O.B.L. VICTORY

Kitchen and Jamieson Hook Up in Great Pitching Duel, the Locals Scoring Runs for Win on Miscues in Ponies' Infield.

RED HOLLINGSWKORTH STARS AT SHORT, PETES PLAY BETTER BALL ON DEFENSE

The Petes advanced to within one game of the C.O.B.L championship here on Saturday by taking the third play-off contest from Kingston, 2 to 1, in the most exciting game of the year. A crowd of twenty-three hundred wild-eyed fans—the largest number in many years—howled themselves hoarse as Knotty Lee's players, taking advantage of Kingston errors, squeezed out the win. Both teams had taken one victory before this.

It was a great pitching duel between Russ Kitchen and Yammy Jamieson, but numerous miscues by the Ponies' infield gave the homesters the close verdict. Not a run was earned by either side. The short Kingston right-hander hurled a classy game to let the locals down with three scattered singles as he fanned one and walked two. Big Russ Kitchen also showed swell form on the homesters' mound to give the other side but five hits, no two to an inning. He struck out three, but was a trifle wild to walk five. His support was much better than Jamieson's.

Red Hollingsworth starred for the victors at short, handling eleven of twelfe chances perfectly and being pivot-man for two smart double-plays. The other infielders clicked in good sty'e, too, and Foley and Whatley pulled off fine catches. Vince and Jamieson were the best of the Limestone players in the field, with Compeau kicking in with three errors, Quinn three, Smith two, and Yammy one — mostly ground balls which they booted.

Hollingsworth, Whatley, and Batten were the only Peterborough hitters, but Whatley had two sacrifices, and Batten, Burton and Calladine one each. Vince led the Ponies at bat with two in four, McQuaide hit a fluke double, and Compeau and Quinn were the other hitters. The lucky two-base blow dropping in short field with three players looking on but not trying for it, figured in the lone Kingston run in the ninth. The Petes got theirs in the fourth and seventh.

Both teams wore black bands on their sleeves in memory of Vern Beavis and Lex Rice, two former teammates who died in the past week; and the players and fans stood for a minute of silence before Babe Sheppard cried "Play ball!"

Score in Fourth.

Vince singled to short with two out in the first, but died on the initial sack. Batten did the same in the Petes' half, being forced at second. Two were out in the second when Kitchen walked two, but nothing came of it. Hollingsworth hit safely for the locals, but was cut off at the keystone cushion. The Ponies were retired in order in the next two frames, while a walk in the fifth did no damage. The Lee squad got its first counter in the fourth, Hollingsworth being safe on Compeau's error, getting sacrificed down, moving to third on an out, and running home on a doube error by Vince, who booted one and then threw wild.

Second Marker for Petes.

Both sides got a hit in the sixth, Compeau and Whatley doing the bingling, but they came to naught. With two out for the visitors in the seventh, Quinn singled but got no farther. The Petes got their second marker in their half, Kitchen reaching first on Smith's bobble, being sacrificed, and striding right around on Compeau's wild heave of Batten's roller. Vince threatened in the eighth, singling and stealing. Hollingsworth failed to hold Whatley's wide throw and Vince raced to third, but was caught off by Batten and thrown out. Kingston got one in the ninth on McQuaide's soft double, Rose's error, and an out. A snappy double-play finished it up.

TO-NIGHT'S GAME MAY SETTLE TITLE

Victory For Cogs Over C.G.E. Will Give Them E. P. L. Championship.

The championship of the East Peterborough Baseball League may be settled tonight when Cogs and C.G.E. meet at six down at the Exhibition Grounds. If the Clubmen capture this contest, it will be all over as they have already taken two of the three games played in this series, the other being a tie. C.G.E. players are desperate and will doubtless put their hardest fight of the year to stay in the running. They made a grand showing in the last title but were nosed out.

Jack Barry, who had then handcuffed for five frames in that exciting game Friday, may be sent right back at the Cogs, while Ralph and Dunkerley are also available for pitching. The Davismen may start Lefty Billingsley, slowball artist, again or Casey Masterson. Lefty swamped C.G.E., 13-0, in the first playoff fixture and should be ready for another fine flinging performance. Masterson pitched a fine 2-2 tie game after that, so either one is a good choice.

Fans will likely be out in force for this important and promising game. It may be the last appearance of these two battling clubs, and at any rate it is sure to be an interesting playoff setto. Both squads expect to be a full strength and are determined to win.

Clerks And Saints Play To 10-10 Draw

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 21 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Playing the second game in the play-offs of the Campbellford Town Softball League, the Clerks and the Saints played nine innings of fast and keen ball, ending in a 10-10 draw. A large crowd lined the tape on Friday evening to see these two fast aggregations battle for supremacy. This is the second of the series; the Clerks taking the first game.

Taking an early lead, the Clerks looked as if they were going to run away with the play, but the Saints stopped that when they knocked up four runs in the fifth and counted another three in the seventh.

The teams:

Clerks.—Hendy, lf; Bush, 3b; Campney, ss; MacArthur, c; Holmes, p; Upton, cf; Reynolds, 2b; Gillessie, 1b; Atkinson, rf.

WESTCLOX TIE KEENE 8 TO 8 IN FIRST GAME

Clockmakers Put Up Great Battle Although Handicapepd by Poor Base Running.

CALLED IN 11TH.

The East City Bowl was taxed to capacity on Saturday when a crowd of more than ten hundred eager softball fans gathered to see the Westclox Girls tangle with the classy Keene team, twice league champions of the City and District loop. With darkness gathering at the start of the eleventh innings and both teams tied by a count of 8 apiece, the game was called; and the feud will be continued on Tuesday next, when they hook up in the village of Keene.

The orange-clad Clockmakers, who were conceded little chance against the visiting team, stepped into the game with a will to play their best ball of the year and almost cop the first game, which they would have done except for some poor base-running. Mildred Mortimer started on the rubber for the locals and pitched for three frames when she retired in favor of Barabara Blade, who restricted the Rurals to five hits in seven innings and sent seven of the opposition out swinging. She showed splendid control and was at her best in the pinches. Mortimer, who was forced from the rubber through illness, finished the game in right field.

Mary McCarthy pitched the whole game for the Keene Girls and was just as effective as ever, but her team-mates were below par in their fielding and made their errors at critical moments. She fanned twelve batters, sending the team out in order in the fifth, after walking the first one. The locals stepped into her slants for ten singles, but lost a real opportunity in the second when they loaded the sacks only to die there. Irene Short clouted a homer for Keene while the pitcher secured the only other extra base hit when she socked a triple.

KIRKWOOD HAS LOW 282 SCORE FOR 72 HOLES

Canadian Title Returns to U. S., Were it Has Been Held Since 1919.

Somerville Leads Amateurs.

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (C.P.).—Canadian ambitions of bringing the open golf championship back to the Dominion had suffered a setback to-day but there was consolation in the knowledge the new champion, Joe Kirkwood, is a Briton.

The Australian, a masterful exhibition player but never before winner of a major crown, Saturday led a field of international stars to the wire at the Royal York Golf Club with a score of 282 strokes, eight better than his nearest opposition. The title goes back to the United States, where it has been held since 1919, for Kirkwood has made his home there since he came from Australia in 1921.

Kirkwood's 282 for the 72-hole test was the best score in the Canadian open since Tommy Armour won it in 1930 with 277. Harry Cooper, of Chicago, winner in 1932 at Ottawa with 290, finished Saturday with the same title to share the runner-up position with Lex Robson, of Islington, Toronto.

Rounds of 71, 72, 70 and a course record equalling 69 gave Kirkwood the title, the Rivermead Trophy and $500 in cash.

Sandy Somerville, of London, Ont., United States amateur champion, and leading Canadian Simon Pure for years, led amateurs at the finish with 296, five better than Fred Hozlitzel, of Toronto.

FOSTERS WINS MAJOR HONORS AT BAILIEBORO

Defeats Elizabethville 9-6 and Home Squad 4-3 in Ball Tournament.

OVER 200 SEE GAMES.

BAILIEBORO, Aug. 21 (Examiner Correspondence).—Over two hundred fans attended the local baseball tournament on Saturday afternoon and witnessed three fast games of baseball, and the Foster's team of Peterborough carrying off the honors of the day by defeating Elizabethville, winners of the Durham League, and again defeating the Bailieboro club, who were winners of the Harwood, Bailieboro game.

All three games were closely contested and provided plenty of thrills for the fans present. The local crew, however, offered the greatest opposition to the visitors and quite easily defeated the well-balanced Harwood nine to the tune of 11 to 6. The Foster crew won from Elizabethville, 9 to 6; and again from Bailieboro, the score being 4 to 3, to take home the beautiful silver torphy.

Lucky tickets were given at the gate and were drawn by Miss W. Watt, who received a change of oil for her motor, donated by Mr. G. Fletcher; Mr. G. Armstrong, three pounds of tea, given by Mr. J. W. White; Miss Anderson, a side of bacon, by W. S. Plews.

M. McIntosh of Coldsprings and K. Halstead of Plainville umpired all three games, and altogether the annual tournament was considered one of the most successful yet held on the local ball park.

BRAVES BEAT PIRATES TWICE FOR VIRTUAL 2ND PLACE TIE

While Cleveland Indians Advance From Fifth Place to Third in American League Race, Winning Last Six Games.

GIANTS AND SENATORS RETAIN LEADS.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., A. P. Sports Writer)

Although they haven't yet caused any qualms for New York Giants and Washington Senators, who built up their leads to 7½ and 8½ games respectively over the past week-end, Boston Braves and Cleveland Indians appear to be the teams to watch at the present stage of the big league pennant races.

Beat Pirates Twice

The Braves inflicted painful damage upon two western challengers for the Giants' lead last week and finished off yesterday by climbing into a virtual tie for second place as they trounced Pittsburgh Pirates in a doubleheader. Cleveland, which has been showing steady improvement under Walter Johnson's guidance, found the batting range a little over a week ago and has stormed up from fifth place to third in the American League, winning its last six games in a row.

Retain Leads

Despite the wholesale shifts in the ranking of the lower clubs in both leagues, Washington and the Giants have steadily improved their positions. Going out 8½ games in front of New York Yankees Saturday, they held that lead yesterday by whipping the peaky St. Louis Browns in two close games 2-1 and 4-3. Earl Whitehill outpointed George Blaeholder in the opening slab duel, giving four hits, while Walter Stewart scored two of the runs that won his own game. The double victory extended Washington's winning streak to 13 games.

Double Win for Yanks

The Yankees acted like their old selves as they overwhelmed Chicago White Sox 14-3 and 11-3 with the aid of two homers by Lou Gehrig and five hit pitching jobs by Johnny Allen and George Ugle, but they couldn't gain an inch.

The Giants, with Hal Schumacher winning his 14th game, trounced Chicago Cubs 6-1 as their share in a big improvement in their standing.

Boston, meanwhile whipped the second-place Pittsburgh Club 5-4 in an 11-inning clash and 8-1, and St. Louis Cardinals bounced Brooklyn Dodgers around twice, 6-2 and 5-0 to gain a third interest in the second place deadlock, two percentage points behind the Pirates and one behind Boston.

Paste Red Sox Offerings

Cleveland held third place in the American safe from Detroit's bid by pasting Boston Red Sox 14-6 and 9-4. The sixth inning settled the opener as the Indians smacked Lloyd Brown for 10 runs. A four-run sixth clinched the second argument behind the seven-hit flinging of Wesley Ferrell, who won his first game since June 21.

Detroit Tigers broke their fourth-place deadlock with Philadelphia Athletics with a double victory 5-4 and 4-1. They beat Lefty Grove in the ninth inning of the opener while Elon Hogsett pitched three-hit relief ball, then breezed in behind Carl Fischer's brilliant hurling.

WINGS LENGTHEN GAME LEAD OVER THE BATTLING ORIOLES

Rochester Has Narrow Squeak in Taking 10-9 Victory on Saturdya.

REDUCE NEWARK'S LEAD.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON
(A. P. Sports Writer)

Rochester Red Wings have few, if any, hopes of overtaking Newark Bears, especialy now that the International League leaders have finished their final and rather painful northern excursion, but at least they have held second place safe from the assaults of Baltimore Orioles.

After taking a terrific whipping in the series opener Friday night, the Red Wings came back to win the next two and gain a 3½ game margin. They had a narrow escape in the fina clash yesterday, going into the ninth inning three runs behind after the Orioles had routed Jim Lindsey in the eighth and scored six runs but they banded on Harry Smythe, Baltimore ace, for the second day in succession, put over four runs and won by a 10-9 count.

Reduce Newark's Lead

The Rochester victory reduced Newark's lead a trifle more but the Bears still were 7½ games ahead after splitting a pair of mound duels with Montreal Royals.

Newark copped the opener 4-3 as big Jim Weaver gave seven hits and fanned nine in chalking up his 22nd victory of the season.

Buffalo Bisons managed to hold their tie with the idle Albany Senators for the fifth place although were left at a technical disadvantage after dividing a doubleheader with Jersey City. They still had the same percentage but the Bisons were credited with one more victory and charged with one more defeat, Albany had a day off, bracketed with Toronto.

With their line-up badly damaged by injuries, the Bisons couldn't hold their own in opening slugfest and went down 9-5, but they made a fine comeback in the second game, 3-2.

SOMERVILLE HAS LITTLE USE FOR LARGER AMERICAN PELLET

But Larger Ball Compulsory For United States' Amateur Competition.

ON SEPTEMBER 11TH.

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (C.P.).—Ross Somerville, who will defend his United States amateur golf title at Cincinnati next month, apparently hasn't a high regard for the larger ball which will be compulsory for competitors in the title hunt.

In leading the amateurs in the Canadian open championship concluded here Saturday, "Sandy" had the option of using either the large ball, approved by the United States governing body of golf, or the smaller British pellet. He elected the latter and then proceeded to give the reason for his choice by posting four steady rounds of 73, 75, 76, 72.

But then Joe Kirkwood, the Australian trick shot artist, who romped home eight strokes ahead of the field to win the title, used the official U.S. ball, except for a time on his second round in the high wind, and he quickly discarded the smaller ball after it had ploughed deep into two successive bunkers, where he had trouble finding it.

Somerville seldom was in trouble during the open tourney, but admitted his putting had been "atrocious." He did not blame it on the ball, however. "Just one of those lapses we all have from time to time," he said. And "Sandy" will have plenty of time to experiment with the larger ball for the U. S. amateur does not start until September 11.

Both balls are identical in weight, 1.62 ounces, while the approved U.S. ball measures 1.68 inches in circumference, against 1.62 for the British product.

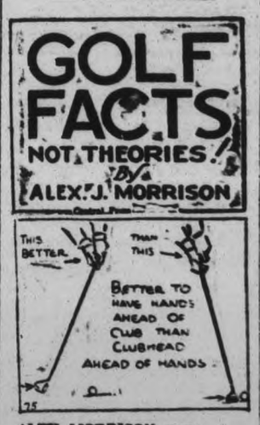
Kenilworth Track Running Is Changed

TORONTO, Aug. 21.— (C.P.) — Meeting of the Kenilworth Jockey Club at Windsor, planned for Aug. 30 to Sept. 6 will not be held on these dates, A. M. Orpen, president of the club, has announced. There is a possibility a meeting will be held later in the season.

Mr. Orpen made the announcement after conferences with officials of the Provincial government. His Decision he said, was due to inability of the government to extend what officials of the club felt was appropriate relief to the situation created when Detroit interests were given permission to race at the State Fair grounds on dates clashing with those Kenilworth chose last April.

It was understood the Kenilworth club was prepared to alter its dates from Aug. 28 to Sept. 4. The change was conditional on the possibility of the Detroit Association agreeing to start its meeting on Labor Day. The Detroit interests answered they would race on Saturday, Sept. 2, as well as Labor Day.

The loss to the club, it is reported here, will be $20,000 and the Provincial government will lose $30,000 in revenue.



ALEX MORRISON says:

Any player who worries about getting his hands in ahead of the club doesn't stand much chance of hitting a good shot.

His worry causes him to turn his hands forward so that the club head gets to the ball before his hands.

Of course, the hands and the clubhead should reach a point directly opposite the ball at exactly the same time, and they will in a well-timed swing.

But, the average player's timing is off so much that he despairs of attaining the correct position at the moment of impact.

He seeks only to avoid being early with his hands. If he would actually try to lead with his hands and just keep his chin pointed properly he'd be able to time his swing properly.

BOWLING NOTES

(By Herb Martin)

This week's program out on the greens is somewhat varied. These are a few odds and ends to be cleared up before the play-offs for the Central Ontario games commence:

To-night will see the finish of the Leads and Seconds.

Tuesday night Howden and Cullen will play to break the tie in Group No. 2. And then also on Tuesday evening the committee has ordered— Hooper vs. Girven; M. Millan vs. Taylor.

These games to be replayed, and as an added attraction Geo. Coleman, Sr., who now holds the Tip Top Tailor Challenge Cup, will have to defend it against Martin's rink.

The draw for the club doubles is now made and players can see who their partner is and arrange for a game with their opponents any time. It will be straight elimination and each game will be 16 ends.

To-night's draw appeared in Friday's Examiner.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball—Softball—Lacrosse Soccer—Wrestling, and Others

(By C. J. P.)

Things are liable to happen this evening down at the Ex. at six when Cogs and C.G.E. do their tangling act again. If Dorsey Davis' boys come through with another victory tonight, the E.P.L. title is lifted from its long-accustomed place on the C.G.E. mantel. But we imagine those fighting Electricians will throw a monkey-wrench into Cogs' machinery this time, or make a mighty effort to do so. Should be a lot of good and exciting baseball in the old southend horsehide orchard once the umps gives 'em the gun.

• • • • • •

Two and a half pounds, and it could scarcely be spared—that's what we lost over at Stevenson Park Saturday; and it is rumored that Knotty Lee shred poundage like a hen losing its raiment at moulting time But the Petes won, and what's a little avordupois or a bit of hoarseness when we beat Kingston? It was 2-1 and should have been 0-0 till the cows come sauntering home, the way Kitchen and Jamieson were pitching. One sweet exhibition of righthand gunning with hits scarcer than hiccups at a Prohibition rally. Russ threw more balls than Yammy but both turned in a star display of twirling.

• • • • • •

But the Kingston infielding was bad. They blew up like a kite in a windstorm and booted no less than nine! The incomparable Mickey Compeau had one of his off-days, and it was awful. Quinn, who is a good second-sacker acted as if he were in love or just plain goofy And Hewitt Smith slipped on two. The Petes were on their toes to take advantage of everything and grabbed their two counters before the raring Ponies quieted down. At that, a flukey double and a local miscue gave the Limestone clan their run on a platter in the ninth. "Heart failure," Knotty Lee said afterward, "just heart failure, that game!"

• • • • • •

Red Hollingsworth cavorted around short like Cherrett used to, handling eleven of twelve tough chances perfectly. And he looked swell in the middle of those two life-saver double-plays. They all played fine ball in the field, the battery, infielders and gardeners. And was that a cowd? Just twenty-three hundred for the best attendance figures in probably a dozen years! There were two thousand and sixty adult paid admissions, and the rest kids—a much better mob than we figured on even such an important playoff game.

• • • • • •

Well, they got the worth of their two bits, and maybe just a little bargain for their dough, at that. Knotty decided to send Kitchen back, and keep Calladine for Kingston Wednesday. His judgement was okay as Russ was in fine form—despite a little wildness—and he had to be the way the cocky Yammy was dishing them up. Two smart teams, the Ponies and Petes, even if Kingston did look bad for once in the field; and the C.O.B.L. pennant is still anybody's, though we've taken two out of three games. The teams wore black bands in memory of Vern Beavis and Lex Rice, and a minute's silence was observed. Ernie Fowler made a good cheer-leader, though the crowd didn't need much encouragement.

• • • • • •

Tomorrow gloaming at 6.30 at King Edward Park, C.G.E. soccer players meet Canada Packers in an exhibition contest. Proceeds go to St. John's Ambulance Corps as a token of appreciation since the Corps always has an attendant present at games in case of injury. And this should be appreciated by the various sporting organzations this season in particular—owing to so many minor mishaps on the field of play.

• • • • • •

Must have been at least a thousand fans strung around the Bowl Saturday eve for the first gals' softball play-off game. And it was the nertz, with Keene and Westclox sewing it up tighter than a banker's loan at 8-8 in ten frames. A classy start between two good teams, the next fixture being in Keene Tuesday. It's a five-game series and the betting is very light. Some nifty underhand twirling was dished up by the fair damsels and some of the people were so thrilled they dropped a dime into the coffee-pot on its trip around.

• • • • • •

Westclox are somewhat handicapped with just nine players and that's not so good. For instance, Mildred Mortimer fainted at second from running, but she was revived at the end of the inning and went out to the field to continue playing. And Dot Webb was hurt in a collision at the plate, but had to carry on. The new grandstand was much appreciated, and the umpiring was oke, also. It's just possible that Thursday night's fixture may be changed in order to let fans see the Lindsay-Sugar Bowl softball playoff that evening.

• • • • • •

Up and down Sports Rialto: Lindsay finished just ahead of Quakers Sat'day in the final standing of the Kawartha Tennis League . . . . Mixed doubles, ladies' singles and doubles, first round, in the local Open Tourney must be completed by Wednesday p.m. . . . . A fifth C.O.B.L. game, if necessary, will be played at 5.15 in Belleville Thursday . . . . Exhibition gals' games at the Bowl are C.G.E. vs. Port Hope Tuesday, and Brintons vs. Maple Leafs tonight . . . . The spoils of victory: Sugar Bowl players were entertained by Sam Montgomery of Auburn Sat'day eve, and are invited to a Capitol Theatre party by Jack Stewart . . . . It's Orde's 'gainst Selkirks in city lacrosse tonight at the Bowl rink . . . . And that'll be about enough for Blue Monday.

PORT HOPE BLANKS COBOURG NINE 3-0

Takes Game Lead in Finals for Lakeshore League Championship.

PORT HOPE, Aug. 21—In the first game of the finals for the championship of the Lakeshore Intermediate Baseball loop, Port Hope defeated Cobourg 3 to 0 here on Saturday afternoon and the second contest will be played on Wednesday in Cobourg.

The game was a pitchers' battle all the way, Gibson for Cobourg allowing four hits, while Wakely for the winners was touched for only a pair. The latter fanned seven and the former five. Gibson, the Cobourg twirler, got both hits.

PACKERS BEAT LINDSAY IN PHELAN TROPHY

H. Downer and H. O'Toole Are Packers' Marksmen—Lindsay Misses Penalty.

PETES 2, LINDSAY 0.

Canada Pakers will meet the Canadian General in the final of the Father Phelan Charity Cup (soccer) as the result of the elimination of the Lindsay aggregation by the score of two goals to none in the semi-final of the cup competition in Lindsay on Saturday afternoon.

First Half.

Both teams were very cautious in the opening exchanges with Lindsay being more aggressive around goal where Green, Petes' goalie, made some spectacular saves from all angles. The Buchan relieved the pressure by sending D. Downer away on the wing, but his parting shot was wide of the mark and it was evident that he was being watched as a marked man. Lindsay retaliated with nice combination that brought them time and again within scoring distance to miss the objective by inches. Eventually the visitors settled down to their general routine to test out Lindsay custodian after breaking through the defence. While O'Halloran, on the Scugog attack, kept feeding his wing men with accurate passes that caused the Petes' defence a lot of worry. At this point, Keith Lindsay retired with an injured ankle when he ha dthe misfortune to get his foot caught in a hole. The visitors found the Lindsay halves conceding nothing and the first half ended with the teams being on the same level—Lindsay 0, Canada Packers 0.

Second Half.

On resuming, Lindsay broke away with clever combination to test Green, visitors' custodian, who had been the outstanding player with his clever exhibition of goal tending. Seige after seige contin ued in the visitors' goal to be finally c eared by Brom'ey when a scoring tally looked promising. A. Downer and Hakin tackling and punting at the opportune moment. From a break away by Foster, and a nice pass along the ground to his wing man, Downer, he evaded the backs on the run to centre the ball into goal, where N. Downer connected with a rasping drive that the goalie never saw. Exchanges continued even for a while with Lindsay endeavoring to get the equalizer but their sting was taken out of them when Mayetee sent a pass along the wing to O'Toole who sent a long drive into goal. The custodian expected the ball to go over; instead, it found the inside of the cross-bar to give the Packers a two-goal lead. A visit to the Packers' goal by Lindsay brought them a penalty kick for Hakin handling. Art O'Halloran was trusted with the kick and he hit the cross-bar to rebound back into play where Latham drove hard and fast to pass. Canada Packers 2, Lindsay 0.

Goal scorers—N. Downer and H. O'Toole.

Canada Packers— D Green, goal; A. Downer and E. Hakin, backs; J Mayette, J. Buchan and A. Bromley, halves; H. O'Toole, T. Wilson, N. Downer, T. Foster, and G. Downer, forwards.

Lindsay — J. Bacon, goal; J. Springhall and D. Wilson, backs; T Dobie, G. Munt, and H. Latham, halves; H. Keith, A. Moir, Art O'Halloran, G. Dobie, and Jack Springhall, forwards.

Referee—W. Harrington, Peterborough.

68 Bowling Rinks In Toronto Tourney

TORONTO, Aug. 20— (C.P.)— Competition for the Eaton gold cup, primary event of the 41st annual Dominion Lawn Bowling Tournament, began here to-day with 68 rinks in the draw. A rink, skipped by Harry Salisbury, of Toronto St. Matthews, won the cup last year.

Among the 14 out-ofq-town clubs competing were rinks from St. Catharines, Ottawa, London, Hamilton, Waterloo and Peterborough. Play will continue throughout the week with the rink trophies, Gold Cup, Ontario Cup and Toronto Cup being played off in that order. Doubles will play for the Ellis Trophy and Willison Trophy and singles for the Rice Trophy.

TENNIS POSTPONED.

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., August 21 (C.P.), — The remaining semi-final matches of the United States tennis championships at the West Side Tennis C'ub to-day were postponed until 2.30 p.m. (E.S.T) tomorrow as a steady overnight rain which soaked the courts gave no signs of abating.

"THE NARROW CORNER"

"Short, therefore, is man's life, and narrow is the corner wherein he dwells." That sentences supplies the title for the feature picture at the Regent Theatre, to-night and to-morrow night.

Somerset Maughan, author of the book of the same name, excels in types, and the strange characterizations in this picture will be remembered long after the actual story has faded from the mind. Douglas Fairbanks, Junior, is Fred, the temperamental, emotion-ridden youth who causes the death of two men; Patricia Ellis is Louise, the English girl gone native on an island in the Southern Seas; Ralph Bellamy is Eric, the idealistic man who lives in a marble palace on that queer island, and Dudley Digges is the remarkable Dr. Saunders, the tired old physician with the cynical mind and good heart, who smokes opium: "six pipes, no more, no less." and gives utterance to such weary remarks as Disraeli's: "Youth is a blunder, middle age is a struggle, old age is a regret."

There are also in this picture two queer men, whose names escaped the attention. One is the strange old grandfather, senile and dangerous, and the other the beach-combing Englishman, down-at-heel, literary, wine-bibbing, lazy. They are products of the lazy sun of the Pacific and they fit in admirably with an exotic story that centres about an elemental girl and a weak youth.

Those who enjoy subtle irony and the picturization of character on the screen, will like "The Narrow Corner."—Jeanette.

Don't be a Sucker.

HOOPLA

(The operator of a crooked carnival game is called a "grifter." Although the sucker—the paying customer—doesn't know it, practically every game of skill and chance at the average traveling carnival or resort can be fixed by the operator so that the player can't win.

This is not usually true, however, of legitimate amusement parks, which have large investments in permanent equipment and are interested in keeping the good will of their patrons. Such places do not permit grifters. But beware the fly-by-night joint!)

By HERSCHEL DEUTSCH
Central Press Canadian Writer

HOOPLA

THE SUCKER STARES at the valuable watches nestling on their blocks behind the counter. "Try your skill," the grifter says. "Win a genuine gold watch for a dime! Three hoops for a dime. Ring a watch and it's yours." This is one of the oldest games on the midway, but it continues to get the suckers year after year.

"Look," says the grifter, "see how large the hoops are?" He passes one of them over a block to convince the hesitant sucker. At last the temptation of those costly watches becomes too strong. The sucker pays his dime and gets three hoops.

He tosses. In vain. He buys three more, with no more luck. He does not realize that while the hoop may readily pass over the block straight up and down, it can't get by the slanted face as easily, and that the slant is fixed at the same angle as that at which the thrown hoop flies through the air.

How do the grifter and the shill, his confederate, demonstrate it? Well, under the drapery of the shelf is a concealed bump on which the grifter tips the block when he demonstrates the clearance of the hoop. With the angle of the face changed, the hoop can be tossed over the block much more readily.

Tomorrow: "Big Tom."

ARNOLD FAMILY HOLDS RE-UNION

Three Arnold Brothers Came From Scotland in 1844, Landing at Belleville.

Hector Arnold on Homestead.

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 21. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — In 1844 ancestors of the Arnold family sailed from Scotland to make a home in a new world, settling in Seymour Township and last Friday over sixty descendants of those old pioneers met at Crowe River Bridge in a family re-union, observing this event which gave them Canadian citizenship and rooted them in the soil of this progressive land.

The afternoon was spent in convivial intercourse, short speeches being given by John Arnold of Campbellford who gave a short history of the family; Thos. Weatherill, Miss Mary Scott of Pittsburg, who, although an American citizen, was born in Ayrshire, Scotland; T. J. Craighead, Andrew Thompson and Miss Ada Arnold. Sports and games of all kinds were enjoyed and a delightful lunch served.

The original settlers of the Arnold family consisted of three brothers, William, John and Thomas, who came over the seas in a sailing vessel, landing at Belleville in 1844, taking up land and settling on the homestead in Concession 9, Seymour East, now occupied by Hector Arnold.

Those attending were: John Arnold, Mr. and Mrs Hector Arnold and family, Andrew Thomson and family, Mrs. Geo. Barnum and Dorothy, Mrs. Cecil McLean, Mrs. Cecil McCulloch, Mrs. Geo. McComb, Mr. and Mrs. T. Weatherill, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Petherick, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hay and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hay and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Massie, Mr. James Alexander, Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reid, Belleville, Miss Mary Scott of Pittsburg, Penna.; Mr. John Thompson, Mrs. Grant Kerr, Mr. Alfred Simpson, Mr. Allan Simpson, Mr. Fred McMullen, Miss May Hubble, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hay and family, Miss Ella Hubble, Miss Grace McMullen, Mr. Albert Gifford, Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Grills, Mr. Ross McMullen, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Craighead.

SUNBURN?

End pain instantly as Beach Hospitals do

IN his 28 years of service, John McMonigle—head of Coney Island's 85 life-guards—has tested sunburn remedies by the dozen. "But we haven't found one yet to compare with Noxzema," he declares, "for relieving sunburn instantly and healing quickly."

Other big beaches say the very same. They, too, have adopted Noxzema as official sunburn remedy after testing it on their worst cases. If you are sunburned and want sure relief, get Noxzema—end pain instantly. Greaseless—won't soil clothing or bedsheets. At all drug and department stores. Get a jar today.

HATE RAMPANT IN HAVANA CITY

Mob Take Machado's Police Chief From His Grave and Mutilate Body.

TORTURE VICTIMS BURIED.

(By JOHN P. McKNIGHT

HAVANA, Aug. 21 (AP)—Punishment for leaders of a hate-crazed mob which took from its new grave the body of Gerardo Machado's police chief and burned and mutilated it was demanded to-day by several departments of the week-old Cuban government.

And, as the cabinet of Carlos Manuel de Cespedes tried to sove the hard probems of economic peace, there were other evidences of continuing hatred of the previous regime.

A manhunt for the few remaining Machadistas went on; leaders of the opposition who had been forced into exile were coming back, and soldiers and members of the A.B.C. Society began digging agai nin Atares Castle for bodies of those who died because of opposition to the Machado regime.

Antonio B. Ainciart, villified as the director of bloody and repressive measures under the deposed president, committed suicide Saturday night while soldiers and A.B.C. men closed in on his hiding place.

As soon as soldiers left his place of burial 2,000 shouting persons opened the fresh grave, took the body in a truck to Havana University, mutilated it, and hoisted it to the cross bar of an electric light pole.

Remains Burned

Thousands watched the mob pour gasoline over it and apply a match. Finally the crew of an ambulance scattered the crowd and took the remains to a morgue.

Also fanning popular indignation over the regime against which they rebelled a week ago was the funeral yesterday of four men whose remains were found Friday in a stable at Atares Castle. Tens of thousands attended the impressive ceremony.

A.B.C. members and others whose bitterness lingered have only one or two of Machado's alleged gunmen to account for, them police officer Rafael Castro and Juan Penate, who were said to have been with Ainciart just befor his death.

All others of the strong-arm Porra squad are dead, imprisoned, or out of the country.

Gandhi Is Removed, Prison To Hospital

POONA, India, Aug. 21.—(A.P.)—Mohandas K. Gandhi grew weaker to-day during the sixth day of his fast in protest against the Government's refusal to grant him privileges to carry on his campaign for the untouchable class.

He was taken from Yeroda jail to the civil hospital still in custody because of his one-year jail sentence for civil disobedience. It was believed an acute attack of kidney trouble brought about the removal.

The Nationalist had a good night's rest, but nevertheless he was sinking to-day. He now weighs only 93¼ pounds.

He was able to read newspapers, but received no visitors this morning. His wife, who was arrested with him and 32 others at the start of a new disobedience movement, was released from jail and was free to go to her husband.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

ELECTRICS WIN GORDON TROPHY FROM SCOTSMEN

Winners Play Good Combination While Losers Lack Finish Around Goal.

C.G.E. 5, CALEYS 0.

The Caledonians were blanked by the Canadian General to the tune of five goals to none, in the final of the G. N. Gordon Cup, on Saturday night, before a good attendance of spectators. The winners' combination was clicking to perfection; while Ben McMaster made the game spectacular with his snappy scoring. The Scots failed to penetrate the full backs and when around goal lacked the necessary finish.

After the game, the cup was presented to Captain Ben McMaster of the C.G.E. with the hearty good wishes from the opponents of the evening.

Port Hope were the holders of the silverware last season.

Opening Tactics Keen

The Caleys were forced to face the sun after the spin of the coin went against them. Give and take tactics prevailed in mid-field with the halves controlling the issue to the forwards' discomfort. When an attack was contemplated through combination, it was spoiled with their over-eagerness in front of goal. After the Scots had repeatedly broke through the defense, they found Bolton, custodian, unbeatable, although Dyer should have tallied when he had an open goal in front of him, but the sun spoiled his view, while Bolton touched it out of danger. The continued seige by the Scots brought them nought except direct drives on goal. Ultimately Jones transferred the ball up-field, where the C.G.E. centre man shot it out to Quinn who was lying uncovered, met the ball with a first timer that beat the Scots' goalie. On the next visit, McMaster was adjudged offside when he ran in behind the full back to bulge the net from a rocket drive by Quinn.

Beautiful combination enlivened the tussle in which the full backs were main factors in holding the dangerous onslaughts of the attacker's lines, outside the shooting one. From a well planned move by Jones, the C.G.E. forwards introduced the triangle play to baffle their opponents and McMaster uncovered and an open target in front of him, found the net. The losers retaliated with greater energy than ever but their efforts were hopeless around goal. A break away by the C.G.E. left winger took the Scots by surprise when Burgess headed the ball into an open goal when Scots goalie ran out to meet him. Canadian General 3, Caledonians 0.

Scots Fall Away

In the second half, the C.G.E. forwards altered their style of play to offset the close checking half line of th eScts. The wing men were left too much scope through the losers' halves concentrating on the opposition pivot man. Repeatedly they broke away on the wing to swing the ball from one end to the other until they were within shooting range. On an individual run McMaster made the total four. But the finest counter of the game was the clever display of the dribbling code by Mitchell when he beat man after man, with the ball at his toe, until he was right upon the custodian who was helpless as the forward picked the far corner of the net. No matter what the Scots tried to do, the movement went the wrong way. With five minutes to go, McMaster broke away on his own to register a clever oblique shot to make the count, Canadian General 6, Caledonians 0.

C.G.E.—J. Bolton, goal; J. Mitchell and G. Blowers, full backs; S. Clark, E. Jones and B. Bolam, halves; J. Quinn, H. Hotston, B. McMaster, A. Mitchell and A. Burgess, forwards.

Caledonians—W. Curtis, goal; S. Agnew and E. Denesen, full back; R. Whatman, E. Adkinson and W. Rankin, halves; A. Downer, W. McCracken, J. Leggett, F. Dyer and T. McPhate, forwards.

Referee — A. McKinley. Linesmen, W. Anderson and J. McMaster.

VALERA MAY BAN DUFFY'S GUARDS

Blue Shirts Defy President's Orders and Parade Sunday.

MINOR CLASHES FOLLOW.

(By Michael Rooney)

DUBLIN, Aug. 21 (AP)—President Eamon de Valera was expected to-day to issue a decree banning General Eoin O'Duffy's Blue-shirted National Guard, storm centre for weeks of a tense political situation.

The President declared in a party rally in Thurles that if reports were received that the Blue Shirts had violated a rule against uniformed parades, the executive council of the Free State would declare the organization illegal.

Ample evidence was provided by nearly 100 small parades in all parts of the Free State yesterday. Police aparently had instructions not to interfere with them but to report the number of uniformed men participating.

Earlier prophecies of strife and turmoil were again confounded, however, and the week-end passed peacefully enough, although two scuffles occurred. At O'Connell Bridge a small crowd attacked a man said to sympathize with the Blue Shirt movement. Police intervened, and no one was hurt.

Mean wearing Irish Republican Army badges marched to National Guard headquarters in Cork and tore the National flag from a window. National Guardsmen appeared and a short-lived disturbance followed. The raiders burned the captured portion in the streets.

General O'Duffy maintained that his Blue Shirts are legal and if the Government declares them otherwise "the Government shall be guilty of a positive act of tyranny."

"The National Guard," he added, "will neither dissolve nor allow itself to be driven underground."

ANNUAL COUNTY ORANGE GATHERING ON LABOR DAY

The annual county orange picnic will be held on Labor Day at Nicholls Oval with the usual varied program of sports. The ball will start off with a bang at 1.30 o'cock in the afternoon when two teams from outside and county lodges will tangle in baseball games to be followed later in the evening with a girls' softball fixture. There will be a program of field events for the children.

In ancient Greece, Horae were goddesses of the seasons of the year, at first with special reference to the farmer.

ST. CATHARINES WAR VETERAN FATALLY STRICKEN IN WOODS.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 21. — Stricken while strolling in Burgoyne Woods here, Earl Harris, 39-year-old St. Catharines resident, died before aid could reach him on Saturday afternoon. Coroner Dr. A. R. MacDonald, Port Dalhousie, decided that an inquest is unnecessary. Harris, a war veteran, had not been in good health, and it is reported that he endeavored to make an appointment with a doctor on Saturday morning for an examination. Harris is reported to have said that he didn't feel well, and decided to lie down on the grass for a rest shortly before he died.

FAMILY REFUSES TO QUESTION FREEBURN REGARDING ACTIONS

Cause of Young's Point Farmer's Disappearance Still a Mystery.

REGAINS HIS SPEECH.

KAWARTHA PARK, Aug. 21. — (By Staff Reporter.)—A mantle of silence has been spread over the strange behaviour of James Freeburn, aged 34, Young's Point farmer, who late Friday night returned to his father's home after spending seven days and nights in the bush while neighbors vainly dragged Clear Lake for his body. During the last two days of Freeburn's escapade it became known by neighbors that he was alive and was hiding in the woods, but he eluded all efforts at capture.

Freeburn was not able to speak when he walked into his anxious home circle Friday night, but yesterday it was learned that this power had come back to him, but he is maintaining a strict silence as to his behaviour and experiences during his long stay in the bush.

Fearing that he is mentally unbalanced, his father, wife and brothers refuse to quest ion him closely as to his strange conduct of the past week. They fear that such discussion may have a bad effect upon him and might send him away again on another wild excursion. Not only will they not question him, but they are not desirous of anyone else discussing the matter with him.

A Closed Chapter.

Apparently this chapter in Freeburn's life will remain closed until he chooses to speak of it himself, or until his moodiness has lifted and his family feel that they can safely question him. Yesterday he did a little work about the farm, but stared about him as though he was still doubtful about where he was.

"We are trying to treat him just as though nothing had happened," his father has informed neighbors.

Provincial Constable D. Silvester is not considering any further action in Freeburn's case. "We have no charge against him," the officer said, "and I think quiet is what he needs."

ORILLIA BLAZE GUTS HOSPITAL

when he was working n the building as a volunteer of the squad which was fighting the flames. He was aided by firemen and other patient-volunteers to a fire escape and thence to the ground, and revived soon in the open air.

None of the patients who were moved at the outbreak of the fire were housed in the building. There were about 200 in the two nearoy dormitory buildings, separated by distance and thick brick walls from the structure in which the fire occurred. Hospital officials, however had the 300 moved to other buildings on the hospital grounds until all possible danger was ended by the extinction of the fire.

Pressure Good.

"There was plenty of water pressure from the outset, and very little danger to anyone," stated Fire Chief Blackey. "No one was more than slightly affected by smoke or any other manner. With the prompt action of the hospital staff and officials the flames were under control quickly."

The building which was affected by the flames houses the dining-halls and the auditorium. The latter is upstairs and is used for concerts and plays put on by the staff and patients. It was badly gutted by the fire.

Chief Blackey paid tribute to the patients who assisted the hospital staff in handling the situation prior to and after the arrival of the fire department. There was no trouble, he stated, in moving the patients to other buildings, all marching quietly from the dormitories.

Hastings Bowlers Win At Warkworth

HASTINGS, Aug. 21 (Examiner Correspondence).—Keeping up the fast pace they have been travelling in the Trent Valley Bowling League, Hastings won three out of four games on Warkworth greens on Friday night. Huycke and Allan fought a nip and tuck battle before the latter won out 13 to 11. In the other game Dingman won from Lynch 11 to 5.

WILL DUMP SURPLUS WHEAT

pointed out and likewise in the United States—where the yield is estimated at 496,000,000 bushels as compared with 727,000,000 bushels last year.

In other parts of the world, however, figures available at the conference here indicate bumper crops. Home reports of a wheat shortage notwithstanding. For example, harvest prospects in Europe are good. A record crop is promised of about 193,000,000 bushels as compared with 186,000,000 last year. The Argentine crop is reported good.

Soviet Russia, always the "mystery" in the world wheat situation, is expected to export wheat in heavy quantities, despite preliminary reports to the contrary. Soviet experts predict an exportable surplus in Russia of between 75,000,000 and 90,000,000 bushels will be available this season.

The "big four" producing 90 per cent. of the world's export wheat, have already agreed tentatively to reduce their acreages or exports by 15 per cent. a year for the next two years. The four Danubian countries— Hungary, Jugoslavia, Roumania and Bulgaria — tentatively agreed to a quota among themselves of 54,000,000 bushels for the first year and 50,000,000 the second.

Soviet Russia originally asked for a quota of 90,000,000 bushels for each of the two years, but it is expected to be content with about half that amount.

HASTINGS TAKES SECOND STRAIGHT

Scriver Strikes Out Twenty-two as Trent Village Wins 7-6 Victory.

HASTINGS, Aug. 21 (Examiner Correspondence). — Hastings took their second game in a row in the East Northumberland League when they won a scrappy battle from Grafton on the latters' diamond, 7 to 6. "Spook" Scriver, on the mound for Hastings, pitched great ball, having twenty-two strike-outs to his credit and holding Grafton to nine hits. With the score 7 to 6 in the eighth, Grafton got two men on, but the "Spook" put on the pressure and pitched himself out of the hole. Reymes, on the mound for Grafton, was touched for 12 hits.

Lloyd and McGregor handled the games very satisfactorily. The game, which was played on Grafton diamond, drew a big crowd.

Hastings—D. Lemoire, 1b; P. Lemoire, 3b; C. Scriver, c; S. Scriver, p; Stevenson, 2b; Gilliespie, ss; Sargent, lf; Bond, cf; Radford, rf.

MACKENZIE KING

be told in resolutions passed by the people that the imposition of prohibitive tariffs must cease.

"Can any one in this audience or in Canada tell me where Mr. Bennett stands on reciprocity with the United States?" asked Mr. King. "Nobody knows." The Liberal Party stood foursquare for reciprocity with the great country to the south. He insisted Mr. Bennett should have done everything he could to secure reciprocal agreement with the United States as soon as President Roosevelt intimated such was a possibility."

SUNRISE ASSEMBLY GREETS NOTED WRITER IN LENINGRAD

of small craft. A grey fleet wrapped in sleep!

Ships From Many Nations

Then came an endless array of shipyards with merchantmen in various states of construction, lumber mills, factories, warehouses and depots. Now and then a big boat loaded with timber glided by noiselessly, heading for the open sea. I noticed three boats flying the Dutch colors and several others of German, British and one of Portuguese nationality. But there was no stir of life anywhere on shore with the exception of a lonely individual here and there who waved his hand in salutation to the lone figure on the deck that was I, and whom I took for night watchmen. It was only five o'clock and business for the day had not yet started.

Interesting and varied though the scene was that unfolded itself before my eyes all those giant cranes stretching their steel arms into the sky; the piles of merchandise heaped up in blocks and squares on the quays, the hundreds of ships and piers and wharves, it grew too chilly and I decided to go below to pack up preparatory to going ashore.

I was interrupted in this weariesome but necessary task by the strains of music—a band was playing. I don't need to say what tune it was playing. There is only one tune in Russia, which they never weary of repeating: The Internationale. They are as full of it as Fascist Italy is of "Giovinezza." After adjusting the last straps on my satchel, I went back on deck. And sure enough there they were: a whole crowd of people and a band playing for all it was worth.

Is Noted Writer

We were steaming right into town by this time. To the right I discerned the towers of the Peter and Paul fortress, a little ahead loomed the mighty Viborg bridge and beyond appeared the graceful outline of the Winter Palace. But the band crashed on, demanding all my attention as it were. What was it all about, you might ask. We had on board the distinguished French writer Henri Barbusse, who has lately been active, along with Lord Marley in organizing a world-wide movement against fascism. He is of course also a great writer, the author of books as "Under Fire," "The Balkan Terror," "Jesus," and many others. The band and the crowd were there to welcome Barbusse on his fourth visit to Russia.

But Barbusse, who is a very sick man and who nevertheless worked fifteen hours a day on a new book during the five days it took us to cross from London to Leningrad, remained invisible in his cabin. This served to spur the band on shore to redoubled action. The fellow who was operating the big drum took off his coat in order to make still more noise. And as if that was not enough a second band presently hove in sight at the head of a long procession of women and girls to join its efforts to the first. Join is a relative term in this connection. The second band took up a position on the outer edge of the crowd and joined in the music. The Internationale was coming from two sides. But the two orchestras did not play simultaneously. They were sadly out of rhythm and so were their respective big drums. It was a racket fit to raise the dead—but not Henri Barbusse.

Tremendous Reception

During a short interruption in the cacophony, some fellow shouted from the quay to get Barbusse up on deck. And as I happened to be the only one on board to speak French —Barbusse, like a good Frenchman, knows no other language but his own. I was preemptorily delegated by the other passengers to waken Barbusse and bring him out on deck. "Go," someone said, "before they burst our eardrums!"

"What's this I hear?" asked Barbusse as he rubbed his eyes.

"Music." I said.

"Music?" he looked up in surprise.

"Yes, two groups of musical stockbrigades are holding a socialist competition, all in your honor!"

Finally he came on deck and immediately a thunderous ovation went up, camera-men came into action and although the ship wasn't quite moored, one fellow began to make an address to Barbusse from the wharf. The one speech followed the other. And after each speech the two bands duly came into action, with the same bewildering effect.

The captain came to lead Barbusse on shore. And then the meeting started only in earnest. Speech after speech. Several hundred passengers had their passports verified and their baggage examined by the customs officers—a slow procedure anywhere—and we drove off to our hotel, but the Barbusse meeting with red banners of welcome flapping aloft, was still going on.

I saw Barbusse later at his hotel. The speechmaking had lasted one hour and fifty-five minutes, he told me. The French writer was in bed, exhausted and with a high temperature. Another band was playing outside his window.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—Prices on the Montreal Dairy and Produce Market during last week were irregular, with eggs displaying large gains, butter easing fractionally and other lines holding unchanged. The egg market ended the week ½c to 3c a dozen higher, with graded shipments in carlots or less bringing 21c to 22c for extras, 16½c to 17c for firsts, and 13c to 14c for seconds. Weekly receipts totalled 5,030 cases, as against 5,692 cases the previous week.

Number 1 grade butter in carlots or less ended the week at 18¼c to 18½c a pound, ¼c to ½c less than the previous week. Arrivals amounted to 17,835 boxes, nearly 1,000 lower than a week ago. A thousand boxes of Canadian butter were shipped to England last week from Montreal, the first export shipment of the year. This is more or less a trial shipment and more will follow if it brings a good price. Production of Canadian butter this year has been so light as to leave very little for export. The same week last year 1,300 boxes were exported.

Cheese prices were the same as at the close of the previous week. Ontario white and colored bringing 10c to 10¼c a pound, with Quebecs ½c less. Receipts were 31,886 boxes, while a week ago receipts were 32,724 boxes. Cheese exports for the week were 14,797 boxes, all going to the United Kingdom, British West Indies and St. John's, Nfld. During the corresponding week of last year 49,318 boxes were exported.

The potato market ranged from 85c to 90c per 80 lb. bag of new Quebec stock. New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Green Mountain potatoes are now entirely off the market.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Prospective to abolition of daily limits on price changes electrified grain markets Saturday, and brought about huge buyin that made wheat skyrocket 4¼ cents. Corn went whizzing up 44 cents. The extreme rise permissable at present.

Immense profit-taking sales led to many reactions during the upward sweep of values, but big concentrated buying of wheat developed on setbacks, and proved too powerful to be overcome, one broker alone purchased upward of 5,000,000 bushels, and there was talk that his operations represented part of a possible deal with the Orient through financing from the United States Government.

Wheat and corn both held most of the day's rise, closing unsettled, wheat 3 1-8c to 3¾c above Saturday's finish; corn, 3 1-8c to 3¾c up, and oats, 1⅝c to 1¾c advanced. Provisions showed a rise of 15 to 30 cents.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, August 21. — Early gains of about 2 cents, engendered by omderate exvport buying and the strength at Chicago, were only partially maintained on the Grain Exchange on Saturday, and at the close values were only 1 to 1¼ cents above the previous finish.

Late session easiness, attributed largely to a report credited to the Institute of Agriculture at Rome suggesting world wheat requirements would be only about 460,000,000 bushels for the current crop year pared advances.

A sharp upswing at Chicago was a strengthening factor, while most of the early buying was credited to houses with seaboard connections. Volume of trade was small.

Cash grains' demand was indifferent. Coarse grains showed advances, but trading was dull and featureless.

Obituary

DR. T. C. LAPP

COBOURG, Aug. 21—From the effects of a stroke, Dr. T. C. Lapp died at his home in Cobourg early Sunday morning. Dr. Lapp had been ill for about three weeks. He was born north of Grafton, 76 years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Lapp, members of an old pioneer family. He graduated in medicine in 1885 from Trinity College, Toronto, and after practising in Roseneath came to Cobourg. Surviving him is his wife and a brother, Frank Lapp of Toronto. Two brothers, Willis and C. A. Lapp, died several years ago. Dr. Lapp was coroner and jail surgeon.

MRS. THOMAS BENNETT

HAVELOCK, Aug. 21 (Examiner Correspondence). — Mrs. Thomas Bennett of Toronto, formerly of Havelock, died at her summer home Trent River, yesterday (Sunday) morning, at 6 o'clock.

The late Mrs. Bennett had been ill for a number of months, but critically ill only for the past month. Besides her husband, who is a retired railway engineer, she leaves to mourn her passing, two daughters, Mrs. McGiverin of Hamilton and Miss Julia at home, and one son Thomas of Ottawa. A daughter, Vera Bennett died in January last.

The remains were conveyed to Toronto by motor hearse on Sunday, where the funeral will be held Tuesday morning, with burial in Mount Hope Cemetery.

FOUR GIRLS DIE VICTIMS OF FIRE IN CAMP CABIN

Taking Afternoon Nap as Hostess Prepared Evening Meal.

OIL POURED ON FIRE

Woman Enveloped in Flames Flees Into Open—Victims Fail to Heed Cries.

SALAVANCA, N.Y., Aug. 22 (AP) Gasoline poured on a stubborn stove fire in a cabin in Alleghany State Park, was blamed for the fire which last night fatally burned four Buffalo girls.

The dead girls are Eileen Deinhart, 11; Catherine Frank, 18; Gertrude Sexton, 10, and her sister, Margaret, 20. Mrs. Bernard Sexton was badly burned about the face and hands.

The four girls were resting on cots in the cabin as Mrs. Sexton prepared to cook the evening meals. She poured the gasoline into the smouldering fire and a sheet of flame enveloped her, forcing her to drop the can to the floor. She ran screaming from the cabin calling for the girls to follow her but there was no response and it was believed the other occupants were overcome immediately.

The cabin, a small frame structure, was a mass of flames in a few minutes and the heat held rescuers back. When fire rangers arrived nothing was left but blackened ruins. The bodies of the four girls were found huddled together near the remains of the cots.

Miss Frank, a cousin of the Sextons, and the Deinhart girl, had been staying in neighboring cabins and were visiting the Sextons.

WELLAND MAN'S SON-HUNT FAILS

Lad Living on Ohio Farm Spots Father's Car and Disappears.

TROOPERS ENGAGED.

WELLAND, Ont., Aug. 22 (C.P.). — Returning home after a disappointing trip to Valley City, Ohio, where he had a glimpse of his son, Douglas, who disappeared from Welland about June 30, J. C. Street stated he had asked State troopers of the vicinity of that town of 1,500 population to scour the district for the boy.

Douglas recognized his father's automobile in the Ohio town on Saturday and fled, all trace of him being lost. "If State police find my son I have asked them to turn him over to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Baumann and family, who live near there. They are fine people and have been very kind to Douglas, and if he would rather remain with them than come back to school here I shall let him do so," the father declared.

The boy had been staying with the Baumanns for some weeks before spotting his father's car. Baumann, who owns a 200-acre farm on which he farms and raises cattle, took the boy in when he knocked at their door one afternoon to ask for food and work. The farmer and his wife had been much attracted to the lad, and after weeks of association had come to love him almost as one of their own, they told Street during his visit.

Your Evening Smile

ANTICIPATION

The young wife had been sent to buy some seeds. The florist showed her several packets.

"Are you sure these will grow into big, strong trees?" she asked.

"Yes, madam," replied the assistant. "I guarantee them."

"Well, in that case I'd better have a hammock as well."

Secret of Detective Yarns Leaks Out; Nerve Soothing, Student Test Reveals

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The psychological reason why great men and others like detective stories is out — the tales are soothing.

They cut the pulse rate lower blood pressure and steady motor nerves. Furthermore women re-act to them like the men.

These experiments are published by Ray Mars Simpson, psychologist at the Institute for Juvenile Research, Chicago. His test readers were 40 university students, 24 men and 16 women. Their ages were 18 to 41.

While wearing attachments to record their physical status, they read detective stories, history, psychology and geography, in 15-minute periods, for six successive days. The first, third and fifth days were devoted to detective stories.

The instruments showed that the rate of breathing was consistently faster while reading detective stories, and deeper during exciting than less-exciting sleuthing tales.

DREAD DISEASE TAKES 15 LIVES ST. LOUIS AREA

149 Persons Are Reported Suffering From Sleeping Sickness.

3 DIE IN 24 HOURS.

Medical Men Admit Disease Little Known to Science.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—The epidemic of "sleeping sickness" in this vicinity was described here today by Dr. J. P. Leake of the United States Public Health Service as being by far the most serious outbreak the country has ever known.

Three deaths during the last 24 hours have brought the number of victims of the strange malady of encephalitis to 15, while 149 persons were reported ill with the disease.

Dr. Leake, who was despatched here from Washington when the outbreak first became serious, said there was no reason to fear the epidemic would resume proportions of a plague, however, and that there should be no undue alarm.

"The situation in St. Louis nevertheless, must be regarded as serious," he said, "as science knows little about the disease.

"Next in seriousness to the St. Louis and St. Louis county epidemic," Dr. Leake added, "was the one in Spokane, Wash., during the

EIGHT FARMERS CRASH VICTIMS

Their Tobacco Truck Hit By Train at Crossing.

THREE OTHERS MAY DIE.

LUMBERTON, N.C., Aug. 22. —(AP)— Eight farmers were killed and three critically injured here today when their tobacco truck crashed into a Seaboard Airline gas-propelled passenger train running from Hamblet to Wilmington.

The truck, loaded with tobacco for the Fairmont market and occupied by a group of farmers from Deep Run, 10 miles from Kingston, crashed into the side of the train. Bodies of three of those killed were strewn along the tracks in pieces for 300 yards.

CONDITIONS IN LENINGRAD SHOW VAST IMPROVEMENT

Business is Brisk—Modernize Women's Clothes—Motor Traffic Increases.

FOOD STILL SCARCE

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

LENINGRAD, Aug. 22.—This city looks a hundred per cent. better than it did last year. Hundreds of shops have been opened. Buildings have been repaired and streets paved anew. For the first time since 1914 the paint-brush is being applied. It is doing wonders. Only now one is able to see what a beautiful city this is. They are doing in Leningrad what I have always wanted to see them do in Warsaw and Versailles. Both towns have a sorry dilapidate appearance and yet both are magnificent metropoles with majestic avenues and full of palatial dwellings. Circumstances have given them that gray neglected appearance.

Walking along the Oktober Prospekt, from the Moscow station to the Admiralty and later across the Neva River on the Viborg side the first thing that struck me was the improvement in the dress of women. They had new gowns and frocks and the new clothes looked more becoming also. I mean they were less awkward and had more grace. The clothes I saw were no longer the serially-manufactured dresses of last year, but they carried a note of originality and individuality. The shoes were daintier. There were far less headkerchiefs and more hats than last year.

Motor Traffic Increases

Curious to note also was the greater use of hats among the men.

TWO KILLED IN FACTORY BLAST

Explosion in Newark Celluloid Plant Also Injures Three.

BLAZE EXTINGUISHED.

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 22.—(AP)—An explosion in one of the buildings of the celluloid company killed a man and a girl today and seriously injured three other workers.

The dead are: Susie Calabrese, Newark and Christian Jedle 45, Union township.

Their bodies were burned almost beyond recognition by the flames that enveloped them. The three men who were injured were removed to a hospital in a serious condition.

Fire broke out in the building, but the blaze was quickly subdued by firemen who responded to the alarm.

INTENSIVE PLAN OF PROPAGANDA SUPPORTS N.R.A.

"Selling" Idea That State May Interfere With Man's Business.

NATIONAL HULLABALOO.

Stir Popular Sentiment Against Any Business Not "Blue Eagle."

(By Ken Clark, C.P. Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (CP)—Accompanying the phenomenon of the "New Deal" in the United States—a brand new deal since it involves interference with private enterprise by the Government to a degree and extent not before attempted—is a tremendous hullabaloo.

This hullabaloo is important because it operates as an agent of President Roosevelt and his National Recovery Administrator, General Hugh Johnson, a former cavalry officer, in "putting across' 'an idea not easily swallowed by the individualistic citizen of the United States—the idea that a man cannot do exactly as he pleases with his own business.

Support Blue Eagle

At the moment General Johnson and his aides are engaged in attempting to formulate a code for the soft-coal industry, but when this is put through they will turn their attention directly to a campaign in support of those who have "voluntarily" signed agreements with the President concerning wages, prices and hours of labor, and who now display the Blue Eagle insignia on their premises and products with the slogan, "We do our part."

A campaign to check up on business men who have signed up to see whether or not they are playing fair has already begun, and a campaign to throw the business of the country to those under the Blue Eagle is also underway.

Every disseminating agency in the country, press, movies, radio, women's organizations, is being organized or is operating to press home to citizens the desirability of using every means to make the National Industrial Recovery Act a success.

The danger of an over-stimulation of the popular mind, for four years discouraged by increasing unemployment and demands for relief, now fastened with desperate hope to the Rooseveltian organization in its continued activity, is remarked by the Liberal Baltimore Sun. Commenting on the case of a man who threw stones through a window which did not display the Blue Eagle, the Sun remarks the handiness of such Johnsonian phrases as "a sock on the nose," and supports the judge who sentenced the disturber of the peace.

Public Sentiment Strong

But General Johnson has said, "Once the Blue Eagle flies away it never comes back."—and if the observer may judge by popular sentiment, woe-betide any business man who is discovered to be without the folds of the Blue Eagle's wings.

The way the public mind works is illustrated by the attitude of Rev. W. S. Johnson of the Northwest Christian Church in St. Louis.

Deploring that "There is painful evidence the man appointed to enforce the National Recovery Act is more proficient in profanity than prayer." Mr. Johnson saved the day by adding, "however, it is better to have good enforcement by a sinner than poor by a saint."

Hon. A. Henderson By-election Candidate

DERBY, England, Aug. 22.—(C.P. Cable)—Seeking re-entry to the House of Commons of which he was a member for nearly 30 years until his defeat in the Labor Smash of 1931, Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, former parliamentary leader of the Labor party, was among three candidates today nominated to contest the Clay Cross by-election.

The others are John Moore, National Conservative, and Harry Pollitt, Communist, who has made several unsuccessful attempts to enter parliament.

STARLINGS STRIP RICE BEDS LEAN LARDER AWAITS DUCKS

Great Flocks of Birds Seen on River and Lake.

INCREASE RAPIDLY.

Starlings in sufficient numbers to offer a serious threat to grain crops of the district and to the rice beds in the Otonabee River and nearby lakes which are the principal attraction for fall flights of ducks in the region, have put in appearance in several sections of the County, according to reports secured to-day. Although the starling has not been unknown in the district during the past two years, the influx during recent weeks is considered alarming in its extent.

Lawrence P. Campbell, 75 Ware street, reports sighting great flocks of the voracious starling during trolling trips through the rice beds between Bensfort Bridge and Rice Lake during the past week. On pushing his canoe through the rice, clouds of the birds would rise into the air only to settle down nearby unintimidated, he states. He reports that they have stripped the rice beds in that section clean and have done serious damage to the grain crops which have not yet been harvested in surrounding fields.

Chris. Graham, secretary-treasurer of the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association, reports that great flocks of starlings are to be seen on the Trent Canal and the Otonabee above the city, and states that minor flocks have been reported in other points of the district. He expressed the opinion that the present appearance of unusual numbers of the birds is the result of a gradual migration toward Eastern Ontario during recent years rather than a sudden influx. Reports of extensive grain damage by the birds have been heard from Smith, Ennismore townships and the northern section of Dummer.

Despite the fact that the starling and the grackle have similar eating habits as far as grain crops and rice beds are concerned, the presence of the starling offers a more serious threat because of its highly prolific nature and its greater hardiness. While the grackle migrates to escape the cold weather in winter the starling merely takes shelter in the cities and the more wooded section of the country.

A Recent Arrival

The bird was practically unknown in Ontario until recent years. It is believed that they entered the Pro-

ORILLIA, Ont., Aug. 22 (CP) —One of Orillia's best-known citizens and a former Mayor today announced he would contest the mayoralty "this year and every other year until I am 75 years old."

During his long career in municipal politics, Mr. Johnston has been three times mayor, four times reeve, twice deputy-reeve, and twice councillor. He represented East Simcoe as a Labor-U.F.O. member in the Ontario Legislature during the regime of E. C. Drury. Mr. Johnston said he would begin his campaign at once.

SCREAMS, CRASH LEAD TO WRECK

Car is Found at Foot of Cliff Near Hamilton But No Sign of Injured.

MACHINE STOLEN.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 22 (C.P.) An all night search of the mountain side above Grimsby for victims of a spectacular car crash proved fruitless to-day when dawn revealed no trace of any injured.

About midnight people below the Woolverton Mountain heard screams and the sound of a crash. A car left the road on the brow and plunged 100 feet downward. A search party was quickly formed and wreckage of an automobile was discovered lodged against a tree at the foot of a cliff.

The car had been torn to pieces in the fall, the body being scattered and only the twisted chassis remaining in one piece.

A taxi tariff card of 1932 found in the car bore the name of Olmstead. No other identification could be discovered and police had no report of a car being stolen.

The license number of the car was in the name of Keith Olmstead, Hamilton.

It was learned later Olmstead had driven the car to Port Dalhousie where he had taken a girl to a dance. Although he locked his car carefully when parking it outside the dance hall it was gone when he returned shortly after midnight.

Olmstead secured a lift to St. Catharines where he reported the theft. Later he returned to Hamilton to learn of the destruction of the automobile which he operated as a taxi.

It is believed the thieves in driving swiftly along the Mountain road lost control and leaped to safety when they realized it was about to crash down the side. A theory the robbers might had deliberately destroyed the car after they had used it for whatever purpose they had in hand, was also being considered.

ACCIDENT TOLL ACROSS ONTARIO CLIMBS TO EIGHT

St. Michael's College Priest Held After His Car Kills Lad on Cycle.

ONE DROWNING.

Young Man and Girl Die Instantly as Car Hits Train Near London.

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—(CP)— The spectre of death rode through Ontario yesterday in the form of level-crossing accidents and today six persons were dead as a result of crashes between trains and automobiles. The accident toll was raised to eight when a 14-year-old boy was fatally injured by an automobile and another youth lost his life by drowning.

Priest Arrested

THORNHILL, Aug. 21. — Rev. Peter J. Bart of St. Michael's College, Toronto, was charged with manslaughter here late yesterday afternoon after his car had struck and killed 14-year-old Fred Rose of Stop 24, North Yonge Street. With Father Bart at the time was Rev. Father W. J. Storey of Detroit.

Early today Traffic Officer Harry Lemon of Richmond Hill will confer with the County Crown Attorney regarding possible additional charges, following the alleged finding of a broken whiskey bottle in the car. A search of the car was made by Lemon after he thought he detected the odor of liquor from the two priests.

In the fatality Father Bart's car turned over. Lemon said he was unable to tell whether the bottle had contained liquor, owing to the fact the smashed bottle was mixed up with oil and gasoline.

Boy on Bicycle

The fatality occurred about a quarter of a mile north of here. Rose was riding his bicycle north on Yonge Street and the Bart car was travelling in the same direction. Father Bart claimed the Rose boy turned out in front of him just as he got behind the bicycle.

The speed of the car was not determined. Rose was unconscious when picked up. He was rushed to Grace Hospital, Toronto, where he died 15 minutes after admission.

Dr. Julian Loudon, coroner, who investigated the case for the coroner's department, reported the boy's injuries consisted of a fractured skull and laceration of the brain.

After the accident Bart was taken by Chief Constable Sydney Barraclough of Richmond Hill, to the Municipal Jail Farm at Lansing and held under $5,000 bail. Father Storey went to Toronto to arrange the bail for Father Bart through T. N. Phelan, K. C.

When their automobile was struck by a Canadian Pacific Railway train half a mile east of Monkton in the London district yesterday, Miss Alice N. Golightly of Monkton and Hector McMillen, 23, Mount Forest salesman, were killed almost immediately. The car, struck in the middle, was dragged 15 yards and wrecked completely.

Another double tragedy occurred at the Midhurst crossing near Barrie, where two Toronto men were killed and another seriously injured. J. F. Wilson, 76, and his son-in-law, William T. Allen, 34, lost their lives, and Edward J. Robins was injured. Their car, a light sedan, was struck by a C.P.R. passenger train.

At Arnprior, Ont., C. Pendlar of Amos, Que., was killed and two women companions slightly injured when their automobile plunged into the side of a Canadian National Railways train.

Cook's Lake, near Midland, claimed the life of Albert Chapman, 13, of Weston. The youth, playing with a number of others in a punt, jumped into the water under the impression it was shallow, and drowned.

Two Children Die Of Baffling Malady

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Aug. 22 —Niagara Falls physicians admitted to-day that they were baffled in attempts to diagnose a malady that took the lives of two young children of one family. Autopsies failed to disclose the nature of the disease, and Buffalo specialists have been called in to work on the case.

The children were Barbara Jane Rudd, two years old, and her sister, Geraldine, four. The former died Sunday and the latter late yesterday. The children had been ill since Wednesday. A symptom of the malady was acute nausea. Two children are said to have died recently in Buffalo under similar circumstances.

EARLY RETURNS SHOW HEAVIEST VOTE IN HISTORY

Battles Lead to Two Arrests and One Penitentiary Sentence.

IMPERSONATION TRIED.

Excitement High in Ridings Where Three Candidates Seek Seat.

HALIFAX, August 22 (C.P.). — Two arrests, one penitentiary sentence, and numerous fights marked the Nova Scotia provincial elections today as voters went to the polls to choose between the Conservative Government of Premier G. S. Harrington and Liberal Party seeking power under the leadership of 43-year-old Angus L. Macdonald.

The most exciting disorder occurred in the Capital when two enthusiastic voters dubbed their bulldogs "Liberal" and "Conservative." The animals clashed on a street and attracted large crowds. Richard Moffatt struck Archibald J. Rasley in the eye. Pleading guilty to a charge of causing actual bodily harm he was sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary, the Magistrate recalling that Moffatt had spent 13 years in prison since 1915, although he was only 32 years of age.

Bill Cruikshanks, owner of one of the dogs was locked up on a charge of drunkenness and owning a vicious animal.

Youth Warned.

Several attempts at impersonation were reported, but no arrests had been made at noon. A Halifax youth under voting age, had received a severe warning for attempting to vote.

Reports from the constituencies at mid-day indicated the largest vote in the history of the seaside Province, with both big parties making unprecedented efforts to get the voters to the polls. Excitement was particularly marked in ridings where there were three-cornered fights.

WORKERS FIGHT LONGER HOURS

Storm City Hall in Quebec Town Threatening City Officials.

EXTRA POLICE CALLED.

JONQUIERE, Que., Aug. 22. — (C.P.).—Between 500 and 600 angry municipal workmen stormed into the City Hall of this small Lake St. John district town to-day, protesting against proposed lengthening of the working day. Fearing serious trouble might develop as a result of the widespread discontent, Mayor P. Simard sent a hurried call to the Quebec Provincial headquarters at Quebec City for reinforcement for the local police force.

No damage to property occurred to-day from the demonstration. The workmen, all engaged on public works being financed by the town, paraded en masse to the City Hall to demand that the work be halted until the old working hours are restored.

The demand was made, spokesman said, as a result of the decision arrived at last night by the City Council that working hours should be increased.

PROVINCIAL BANK GROUPS URGED AS APPEAL BOARDS

EDMONTON, Aug. 22 (C.P.).—A plan for the establishment of Provincial bankers' committees to act as appeal boards from the decisions of banks in matters of credit, to-day had been proposed to the Royal Commission on Banking by A. D. Martyn, Edmonton. Mr. Martyn presented a brief to the commission during its one-day sitting here yesterday. The commission was sitting in Saskatoon to-day.

Mr. Martyn suggested the Provincial committees might be able to eliminate the disadvantage of what he called "remote control" in Canadian banking. He cited to the commission instances from his personal experience in which loans had been refused by eastern head offices of banks, even though good security was offered.

ZURICH VILLAGE SWEPT BY FIRE, LOSS OF $50,000

Three Store Bulidings Razed and Half Dozen Others Damaged.

OUTSIDE AID CALLED.

Telephone Operator Sticks to Her Post Till Last—3 Men Hurt.

ZURICH, Aug. 22—Fire which destroyed three buildings in the business district, and damaged half a score of homes and stores, threatened complete destruction of the police village of Zurich, Ontario, late yesterday afternoon. The loss was estimated at $50,000. More than 150 men, including members of Hensall, Clinton, Dashwood and Zurich Volunteer Fire Departments, and hastily-formed bucket brigade, battled for nearly three hours to bring the flame under control.

Eighteen-year-old Anna Overholt, telephone operator, stayed bravely at her switchboard to flash pleas for aid to neighboring village fire departments, though the building in which she worked was threatened by the fire.

Three people were injured during the battle with the fire. Mervyn Stelck, aged 19, of the Fourth Concession of Hay Township, had a leg broken when he fell from the Zurich fire truck while laying hose. Gordon Howard fell from the roof of his home while trying to extinguish sparks which were alighting on his roof. His wrist was fractured. Leroy Thiel was run over by a wagon in the height of the excitement, but escaped with a badly bruised back.

Rattling Issue

CHICAGO, August 22 (C.P.).—The question was what the Cook County Board should do about a reported invasion of rattlesnakes into the forest preserve near Wheeling, but their origin bothered the commissioners most. Said Board member Homer Byrd, "They're born." "Such ignorance," quoth Commissioner Dan Ryan, "They're hatched."

"Nonsense," put in Commissioner Charles Weber, "they just come from cabbage patches. But the Comptroller settled it all by saying there wasn't any money to exterminate them, anyway, no matter where they came from.

Campbellford Store Broken Into Monday

(Examiner Corresepondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 22.—Gaining entrance through a cellar window and forcing a door leading to the shop of John A. Irwin, Front Street, early yesterday morning, thieves secured about seven dollars in silver from the cash register. Apparently money was all the intruders wanted, as no merchandise was missing. Constable G. Hardy is investigating.

REDS ORGANIZE CHILD SPOTTERS

Lad of Nine Reports on Own Father For Grain Theft.

SMALL REWARD GIVEN.

MOSCOW, Aug. 22 (AP)—About 100,000 children are being organized in "light cavalry detachments" to guard against grain thefts and retrieve stray kernels dropped by harvesters in the North Caucasus fields.

The government is providing shelter and food on the collective farms for these youthful organizations charged with protecting "the Socialist crop." Rewards of 1,000 suits of clothing are to be distributed to the more energetic.

Children from the ages of 10 to 16 years are to guard against depredations by kulahs (propertied peasants) or other dissident elements and report such actions. Other children from six to ten years old, are to pick up stray grain lost by the reapers.

One nine-year-old boy, Mischa Soroken, has been awarded a new set of text books and stationery for denouncing and causing the arrest of his own father. The elder Sorokin, the child charged, took more grain than was due him from the common store.

An eight-year-old girl discovered a Kulak woman in possession of a bucketful of grain and a 12-year-old boy is credited with trapping three grain thieves in a collective farm field.

A boy who helped organize the grain retrieving campaign was presented with a six-volume set of Lenin's works.

The Last Laugh

CHICAGO, August 22 (C.P.).—Jocko, one of the Lincoln Park Zoo monkeys, had the last laugh on Joseph Volck, 44.

Yesterday, police charge, Volck tossed a piece of butterscotch candy at Jocko, and then enjoyed a hearty laugh at the monkey's frantic efforts to open its mouth after its jaws became stuck.

He was held for hearing today on a charge of feeding the animals, which is against park rules.

COOKE REPLIES TO CRITICISMS BY M. F. HEPBURN

Says Beauharnois Bond Price Shows No Excessive Profits.

"CONTRARY TO FACT"

Hydro Chairman Declares Derogatory Assertions Are Unfounded.

TORONTO, Aug. 22 (CP)—The Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission, through its chairman, Hon. J. R. Cooke, to-day had answered criticisms of Mitchell F. Hepburn, M.P., Ontario Liberal Leader, with the assertion "All of the derogatory assertions Mr. Hepburn has made respecting the work of the commission are of an unfounded character."

"His allegation that the Hydro contract for Beauharnois power gives the latter company enormous profits is seen to be absurd by anyone who consults the current price of Beauharnois securities, that have stood at about 50 per cent of par," the Commission said. "His charge Ontario taxpayers would bear $100,000,000 of costs of the proposed St. Lawrence power development, is similarly without foundation; power users can carry the whole power investment and still continue to receive cheap power.

"His assertion the Hydro Commission receives from the Chats Falls Power Company only one-third of its output in return for contract payments is contrary to fact. The statement reported as having quite recently been made by another speaker to the effect that but for the Commission's actions in the last three years power would now cost in Ontario but $8 per horsepower is also absurd.

"The Commission's cost three years ago, low as they are universally acknowledged to have been, nevertheless aggregated on the Niagara system alone $20,428,200—as anyone can ascertain who covets accuracy of statement and looks up the Commissions' annual report for 1929. It is indefensible to assert in effect that actual costs of $20,428,200 originating over three years ago would, but for the Commission's recent actions, in 1932 be less than $8,200,000."

Referring to the Liberal leader's statements the Commission declares: "Mr. Hepburn's remarks on other Hydro matters seem to have no more reliability than his assertions in regard to power surplus."

CUBA SETTLES HARBOR STRIKE

Consider Means of Paying Salaries Overdue Four to Fourteen Months.

ARRESTS CONTINUE.

HAVANA, August 22 (C.P.).—After settling a three-weeks' strike of Havana harbor workers, the Cuban Provisional Government to-day scrutinized other problems handed down by the deposed Machado regime as well as Gerardo Machado and his followers.

These had to do with mob activities against the persons and property of Machadistas, payment of salaries overdue four to 14 months, pressing financial problems, and records of the overthrown administration.

Stevedores, longshoremen, and other workers to the number of 3,000 were ready to return to work to-day after their employers had granted demands for recognition of their union and for rotating the work.

The strike had nearly paralyzed harbor activities and cut down customs revenues, but now, it was pointed out, the government will have these badly-needed revenues for meeting pressing payments.

Members of the ABC Secret Society, soldiers, and police continued rounding up former Machado followers, while the War Department held to a policy that all in hiding should surrender to authorities lest they be victims of mob violence.

Hiding in Germany.

Such a fate befell Julio Heredia, former associate of Major Arsenio Ortiz, who was killed in Santiago, and Luis de Spayne, a policeman, who was shot in Palmo Soriano. Major Ortiz, who was accused of several political killings, is now in Germany.

Former Secretary of War Alberto Herrara cabled Provisional President de Cespedes asking guarantees for his property, but ABC members searched his home for documents relating to the Machado regime.

They claimed they found papers indicating the fallen government planned to issue paper money to supplement Cuba's metal currency, ostensibly for paying governmental employees back salaries.

An effort to extradite Machado from the Bahamas was considered imminent.

British Speed-Boat Challenger Arrives

Hubert Scott-Paine and Mrs. Soctt-Paine arrive in Canada on their way to Detroit where the British speed-boat driver will race Gar Wood for the Harmsworth Trophy, emblematic of the world's speed-boat supremacy. The race will be held on the St. Clair River early in September. Mr. Scott-Paine is owner and designer of Miss Britain III., a boat radically new in design. Not a quarter of the power and less than a third the weight of Gar Wood's defender, Miss America X., he had nevertheless travelled at a speed of 107 miles per hour in tests, with the use of only 900 horse-power of his maximum 1,375. Wood's boat develops 8,000 horse-power.

SEEKING HOOVER IN BANK PROBE

Action Follows Day of Startling Charges by Senator Couzens.

WANT HIS TESTIMONY.

DETROIT, Aug. 22. (AP)—Plans were being completed here to-day to obtain the testimony of Herbert Hoover for the open grand jury investigation of Detroit's banking difficulties.

Prosecutor Harry S. Toy and Circuit Judge Harry B. Keidan, the latter sitting as the one-man court of inquiry, decided last night to ask the former President to accept a subpoena after United States Senator James Couzens had wound up a day of startling charges with the suggestion that Mr. Hoover be requested to testify.

Senator Couzens testified yesterday that the Federal Government knew of "deplorable conditions" in the now closed First National Bank, Detroit, almost 10 months before the Michigan banking holiday' He also asserted that, had not "the powers that be" been reluctant to start "an epidemic of bank closings during a political year" they would have required a more drastic write-down of losses brought to light during examinations of the books of the First National and the Guardian National Bank of Commerce.

The Guardian National, like the First National, failed to re-open after the conclusion of Michigan's banking holiday.

Whether Mr. Hoover will be asked to come to Detroit to give his testimony was not decided to-day. It was expected that the more likely course would be the taking of his deposition at Palo Alto.

(Efforts to reach Mr. Hoover for a moment regarding the decision of the investigation jury were not immediately successful. At his Palo Alto home he was said to be on a fishing party in Oregon or Northern California).

Senator Couzens will make his final appearance before the jury to-day.

FOUR MONTREAL NUNS SUCCUMB FEVER EPIDEMIC

Typhoid Outbreak Strikes 20 Others in Quebec Convent.

INVESTIGATION ON.

Suspected to Have Originated By Sister Swimming in St. Lawrence.

MONTREAL, Aug. 22 — Four deaths have resulted from twenty-four cases of typhoid which broke out at the mother house here of the Sisters of the Congregation of Notre Dame. Three victims of the disease are: Sister Jean-Robert, Sister Sainte Minian, and Sister Sainte Madeline de France. The name of the fourth fatally stricken nun, who died over the week-end, has not yet been announced.

Couse Unknown

Cause of the outbreak is not known, the result of an investigation now being conducted by the Montreal Health Department not yet being announced. It was learned, however, that one of the nuns stricken with the disease had shortly before been swimming in the St. Lawrence River while in residence at the congregation's island estate, off Verdun, Que.

She is said to have swallowed a quantity of water, which is polluted at that spot. Although the theory has received no official confirmation, it has been reported that this may have been the cause of the outbreak.

The Director of the Montreal Health Department, Dr. S. Boucher, is personally conducting an investigation to determine the cause of the outbreak and has been in constant attendance at the convent since the disease began to make serious inroads. Dr. Boucher stated to-day all precautions have been taken to prevent spread of the disease to the city.

ASSOCIATION FORMED

WINNIPEG, Aug. 22 (CP) — A Western Canada Junior Soccer Association has been formed, it was announced to-day, and all provinces between the Great Lakes and the Pacific will be asked to send delegates to a meeting in the near future for further organization.

Officers pro tem elected at a meeting here last night include Ted Stevens, Manitoba, president; J. Ritchie, Saskatchewan, secretary, and Don Grant, Manitoba, and H. Strange, Saskatchewan, delegates.

Friends of the Family

LOOK at the packages on your pantry and bathroom shelves, and see what a multitude of brand names you recognize. Some of them have been familiar for years. You may have made the acquaintance of others only a few weeks ago. But even these are not suspected strangers. You have bought them confidently because they were advertised. And it is the same with your sheets and towels, your shoes and clothes, your electric appliances, the car in your garage—nearly everything you use.

Advertised products have a standing that commands respect. They are not nameless, but vouched for by responsible firms. The fact that they are advertised is in itself an indication that their standards of quality are strictly maintained, that they represent honest value

. . As science and discovery go on, newly developed products are constantly being advertised—ready to help you save money and improve your standard of living. Every advertisement of such a product you read in your daily paper is a letter of introduction to a new and possibly useful friend.

It will pay you to read the advertisements in this paper every day. By so doing you will meet many choice products—worthy to become friends of the family.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

IN THE LAST "Follies" produced by that well-loved theatrical genius, Flo Ziegfeld, there was a young showgirl who was always late for performances. This lovely lass would rush into the theater at the last minute, do a hasty strip act, and hop into her costume. And then she'd spend the remainder of the performance complaining about how hot and sticky she felt, and how she wished she'd had time to take a refreshing bath.

Gladys Glad

One day this tardy showgirl dropped into my dressing room and started her usual line of complaint. She really looked so hot and uncomfortable, that I asked her why she didn't try taking a French bath before slipping into her costume. She replied that she'd never heard of a French bath, so I promptly explained the procedure to her. And she's never uttered a complaint since!

You'd be surprised at the number of showgirls who now take French baths when they are late for performances or for after-theater dates. And these baths should prove just as much of a boon to the average non-professional woman. For they are most effective for cleansing, cooling and refreshing the body when time is limited.

If you feel hot and worn after working all day, and haven't time to take a regular bath before stepping out with the boy-friend or spouse, try a French bath before you dress. First strip yourself of the clothes you've been wearing all day. Then take a large bath towel, and a bottle of eau-de-cologne. There are special toilette waters now on the market made for this purpose. Or you can make your own, if you wish.

An effective one can be made of one pint of alcohol, one ounce of violet ammonia, half an ounce of spirits of camphor, and half an ounce of rosewater. Saturate part of the towel with the chosen solution, and rub your entire body with it. Continue moistening the towel and rubbing your body with it until your entire skin surface has been covered.

This will not only cleanse your skin, but will cool and refresh your body immeasurably. Then slip on fresh undies, don a clean dress, apply your make-up, arrange your coiffure, and zip!—in no time at all, you're as fresh as a daisy and ready to step!

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Superfluous Hair

Felice: An excellent bleach for superfluous hair can be made of two teaspoons of peroxide and one-half teaspoon of ordinary household ammonia. The ammonia removes the oil from the hairs, and allows the peroxide to penetrate more effectively.

Henna

Ruth: The pure, Egyptian henna made of the leaves of the henna shrub is not injurious to the hair. The chemical henna, however, contains metallic salts, and may be harmful to the hair health.

Reducing

Marge: You should indeed be able to lose those 28 pounds satisfactorily from your bust, waist, hips and thighs by the time your vacation arrives, if you start now. The reducing course outlined in my "New Figure" booklet takes off eight to ten pounds in two weeks.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Those who are considering food problems for a trip of two or more days may find the following suggestions helpful.

• • • • • • •

Even those who do not have vacuum containers can have meat supplied for the longer trip, and fresh vegetables and fruits, with or without replenishing.

• • • • • • •

A vacuum bottle for hot or cold beverages is a great convenience, but if you do not own one, try the following: Wrap an icy cold or a very hot preserve jar, of quart or larger size, in very cold or hot newspaper, using many thicknesses.

• • • • • • •

Wrap in other newspapers having all sheets of paper come beneath and on top of the jar in every instance. The contents will keep hot or cold for a long time.

• • • • • • •

For the first day fresh meat can be included even in the hottest weather. It should be kept on the ice until just before leaving. It may or may not be put into sandwiches.

• • • • • • •

Plain cuts served with potato salad are advised. All food should be kept in refrigerator until just time to start. It depends upon the temperature whether or not fresh meat can be provided for a second day.

• • • • • • •

Home cooked corn beef is recommended for the next day or so with ham, for later, or as a substitute for the corn beef. For the last days take along a jar of dried beef. To make a change from cold meats, heat milk and put a piece of butter in it, and, when boiling hot, pour over thin slices of dried beef.

• • • • • • •

If the milk is boiling hot it would steam the dried beef and a delicious dish be ready to eat.

• • • • • • •

Some kind of stove should always be included in the outfit. It may be little more than an alcohol lamp, but for hot coffee, boiling water, cooking eggs, etc., the stove will be needed.

• • • • • • •

Evaporated milk can be used instead of fresh, in case of necessity. For desserts take along a few tarts and unfrosted sponke cake. The latter can be cut in layers and filled with sliced oranges or other fruit of some sort and be eaten with or without cream, when available.

• • • • • • •

Take along some hard boiled eggs. Also mayonnaise, lettuce and celery, the last two being well washed before leaving.

• • • • • • •

Eggs can be devilled by using the mayonnaise. If wrapped in wet cloth the lettuce and celery will keep for two days at least.

Boatmen's Blockade Broken By Marines

CONFLANS - ST. - HONORINE, France, Aug. 22 (AP)—Marines, armed policemen and mounted guards broke up a blockade of striking boatmen's barges in the Seine River at dawn to-day by routing the bargemen with streams from fire hoses.

The strikers, who seek shorter hours and other concessions, wielded boathooks and, encouraged by cries from their wives and children, stood off attempts to board the craft.

Thirty men, most of them Belgians, were arrested and charged with rebellion.

Gendarmes, aided by marines, thereafter maintained a virtual siege along the river 15 miles north of Paris, to prevent boatmen from forming another blockade.

WIFE WITH GANDHI

POONA, India.—M. K. Gandhi grew weaker to-day and continued to lose weight as his latest "fast unto death" entered its seventh day.

His wife, recently released from jail where she was held following her arrest with Gandhi and a number of others when they were about to start a new disobedience campaign, was at his bedside in the civil hospital.

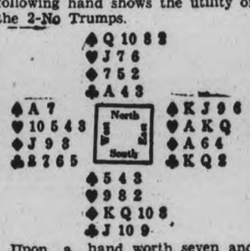
THE OPENING 2-NO TRUMPS BID

ONE OF THE best opening bids is 2-No Trumps, provided the bidder's hand is guarded in all four suits, with not more than one suit having a single guard. Such a bid encourages partner to support or shift upon anything better than an Ace. The bid makes it both difficult and dangerous for opponents to overcall. The opening 2-No Trumps indicates more than seven probable tricks. With double stops to each suit 3-No Trumps may be bid upon a safe eight tricks. The following hand shows the utility of the 2-No Trumps.



Upon a hand worth seven and one-half probable tricks, East made an opening bid of 2-No Trumps, which his partner raised to 3-No Trumps upon a bare one and one-half probable tricks, when he would have passed a lower declaration, and game would have been made but not scored.

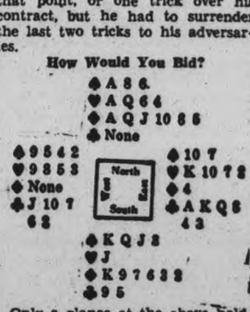
On an average it does not pay to make an opening honor lead against no trumps from four cards, so South led his 8 of diamonds. Dummy's 9 held the trick. The declarer ran off three heart tricks, establishing a long card of the suit in dummy.

Dummy's Ace of spades gave entry to the boarded hand, and the fourth heart was led. The declarer discarded his low diamond. North let go a diamond and South discarded his 10 of diamonds. The 7 of spades was led from dummy. North's 8 covered. Declarer's 9 won the trick.

To make certain that he won a club trick the declarer led his K. North's Ace won, and North led back his last diamond. The declarer's Ace took the trick.

The declarer ran off his K of spades and his Q of clubs, giving him 10 of the 11 tricks played up to that point, or one trick over his contract, but he had to surrender the last two tricks to his adversarles.

How Would You Bid?



Only a glance at the above holdings shows that North and South must make a grand slam at diamonds. But both sides are vulnerable, and the grand slam must be bid only upon a certainty of its fulfillment. How may this be made plain to the partners? See tomorrow's article for answer.

Household Hints

MENU HINTS

Casserole of Chicken
Baked Potatoes
Buttered Peas
Molded Tomato Salad
Lemon Sherbert Ginger Cookies
Tea

The chicken casserole will serve six. This menu is planned for a guest dinner, and all the dishes may be prepared well ahead of time, allowing the hostess to appear unflustered by last minute duties in the kitchen.

To-Day's Recipes.

Casserole of Chicken—One four-pound chicken, one-fourth cup butter, one tablespoon chopped onion, one tablespoon chopped carrot, one tablespoon chopped celery, one-fourth cup flour, two and one-half cups boiling water, one teaspoon salt, black pepper, eight mushrooms, one-half cup cream. Dress, clean and cut up chicken. Dredge with salt, pepper and flour and fry in salt pork or bacon fat. Arrange in a casserole and cover with a sauce made as follows: Cook the chopped vegetables in butter about five minutes. Add flour and seasonings and cook until well browned. Add the water and cook until smooth and pour over the chicken. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit) until the chicken is tender, add the mushrooms cooked in a little butter, and the cream. Serve.

Lemon Sherbet—One pint milk, one cup sugar, juice of one lemon, and some of the rind, whites of three eggs. Squeeze the juice from the lemon, mix with the sugar; beat the whites to a stiff froth and stir into mixture. Have milk ice cold. Add the mixture to the milk and freeze the same as ice cream.

Ginger Cookies—One cup sugar, one cup butter or other fat, one egg, one cup molasses, one tablespoon of ground ginger and cinnamon, one-half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon soda dissolved in one-half cup hot water, flour to make a soft dough. Roll out and bake in a moderate oven.

To Launder Organdie

To launder organdie, first squeeze it out several times in lukewarm water and mild soap suds. Do not twist, rub or wring it, lest the fine threads break and cause holes. No starch is required. After laundering, roll the damp garment in a bath towel and let it stand an hour. Then iron with low heat, laying a damp cloth over the unironed parts. Hang up at once after ironing.

THE NOVA SCOTIA ELECTION.

The attention of politically-minded Canadians in all parts of the country will be turned tonight on the results of today's provincial election in Nova Scotia where the government of Premier Harrington is appealing to the people for a new mandate.

No great issue is at stake; the government asks for renewed confidence on the strength of its performance in office and the Liberal opposition charging the administration with extravagance promises a new deal for Nova Scotians if it should be placed in power.

It is virtually a two-party fight for the Government and Liberal parties have candidates in each of the thirty ridings and only a handful of independent aspirants—six in all—have entered the fray.

As to the outcome it is difficult at this distance to make an accurate prophecy; the record of the Government has been good and its administration free from scandal and under ordinary conditions might look forward with confidence to endorsation from the electorate; on the other hand economic conditions are a valuable ally for the opposition and the people of Nova Scotia may decide that a change is worth attempting.

Ontario is more than usually interested because of the feeling that a defeat for Premier Harrington today may cause Premier Henry to drop any thought of an election in this province until next year.

THE HYDRO STATEMENT.

The Ontario Hydro Electric Commission has today taken the somewhat unusual step of issuing a statement for the purpose of "examining" and "correcting" "misleading assertions that have been made relative to the power situation in the province of Ontario."

In other words the Commission has seen fit to officially take notice of and deny a number of statements in regard to Hydro and power matters made by Mitchell F. Hepburn, the Liberal Ontario leader, in the course of some of the many speeches he has delivered up and down Ontario this year.

In doing so, Hon. J. R. Cooke, the Hydro chairman, declares that the Commission has always endeavored to keep Hydro affairs free from party politics but he submits that the Hydro body should not be precluded "from making a statement to correct misrepresentations made by those active in political affairs when such representations are grossly incorrect and a menace to the welfare of the citizens of Ontario, especially to those who are directly financially interested in the Hydro undertaking.

If the matter were to end with this statement there would be no serious objection to it, but it is not to be imagined that Mr. Hepburn would calmly accept the Hydro assertions and withdraw all that he has said; on the contrary he is more likely to renew the attack, in which case another Hydro bulletin will no doubt result and in short the whole Hydro business will be definitely and permanently in the political pot—and one of the big issues in the next election.

KEEP POLITICS OUT.

Although Mr. Justice Kingstone, in his finding in regard to the Dorland inquiry, made the suggestion that police magistrates should not be allowed to sit as members of police commissions, and there are obvious objections to their so doing, at the same time those who give any thought to the matter will want to know what is proposed as an alternative plan before they will accord whole-hearted approval to Mr. Justice Kingstone's proposal.

Certainly if it should be urged that instead of appointing police magistrates to sit with the Mayor and County Judge as a police commission, the third member should be elected, there will be strong opposition from citizens who realise the danger of mixing municipal politics with police administration.

The experience of American cities where the police force is tangled up with politics has not been of such a nature as to encourage a demand for the launching of a similar system in Ontario.

It may be that the close connection that often exists between a magistrate and the police is not in the best interest of effective control over police departments, but at least that condition is to be preferred to plunging police administration into politics, a path that could not fail to lead to dire results and one that few people who stop to think would care to see followed in this province.

WHAT BUYING NOW WILL DO.

From time to time The Examiner, in common with other Ontario newspapers, has endeavored to impress upon its readers the fact that a buying campaign on the part of those able to make purchases now would be a valuable contribution toward restoring better conditions.

In addition to this much-to-be-desired result there is the undoubted truth that it is possible to buy at greater advantage now than will be the case in a comparatively short time.

The desirability of a buying drive as an aid in recovery is being recognized across the border and the American people are being pressed to purchase freely now as a means of assisting President Roosevelt's recovery plan.

Here is a typical bit of propaganda along that line that appeared recently in the Portland Press Herald:

"Buy something. If 1,000,000 persons will buy one handkerchief, one pair of stockings and cloth for two pillow cases, it will help some. Multiply this by $10, and the help the President is expecting will become a fact. You'll never get things so cheap again; money invested in useable goods now will bring bigger interest than if laid away either in the old stocking or in the bank. If everyone who could had bought a barrel of flour when it was around four dollars, there would be no need of a tax now, and even if flour had soared those who had a barrel would feel pretty good. If we all buy something now it will help others to get money so they can also become buyers and this will help the farmer. There are a lot of people who would have starved before they would complain; help these people to become buyers. Buy the products they make, help make a demand for their work, the goods they produce. Buy something. The common people must get the country out of the mess it is in."

CHILDREN OF THE U.S. AND WAR

What sort of jingoistic teaching goes on in United States school is illustrated by a survey made by two professors of Columbia University in a test made of 370 pupils in elementary schools, the pupils being from ten to fifteen years of age.

Nearly sixty per cent. thought that foreigners are less intelligent than Americans. More than one-third believed the United States would be attacked by some unnamed country within one year. Nearly half thought nobody should be allowed to criticize any acts of the government. The same number felt that the United States should take no part in a disarmament plan. One-third thought the greatest honor a citizen could achieve was to wear military or naval uniform. Forty-six per cent. favored compulsory military training, and over seventy per cent. suggested every public park should have a statue of some military hero of the past.

None of them could name any agency of world peace. One pupil thought the Kellogg Peace Pact was a breakfast food firm, and half said the United States should collect every dollar of war debts.

Probably most of this is due to the militaristic tendencies of text books wherein economic advance and achievement obtains only casual mention. Behind it also is the fear of teachers that if they teach children anything that savors of pacifism they will be considered undesirable.

Yet it is quite possible that similar results would be obtained in any other country.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

THEY PUT THEM IN PRISON.

There are writers who seek to tell us much about Russia after they have been there a short time. There are others who write in a learned way about conditions there without ever having entered the country. A good deal of all such material can be safely discarded as not presenting an accurate picture of conditions in Russia.

Walter Duranty, correspondent of the New York Times, has been in Russia nearly eleven years, and he seems to tell of things as they exist. His last despatch deals with an amnesty for prisoners who had been employed on the White Sea Canal, which has been completed by the Ogpu (secret police) and finally inspected by Stalin himself. The project, apart from the engineering and management, was the work of prisoners.

Upon the completion freedom was granted to 12,484 prisoners, and 59,516 sentences were reduced. Mr. Duranty writes "there has never been an amnesty on this scale in Russia"

A report of that kind gives one a correct idea of the way in which the Soviet Union has been built. Those who opposed it have been placed in prison, and they have been forced to do manual labor for those in authority over them. Their numbers must run into thousands. The fact that on the completion of work on that canal 12,484 were released, and the sentences of 59,516 others were made shorter gives an idea of the number which must have been arrested by the Soviet. It is not unfair to conclude that the Russian system of government is one which is built on force, and that much of the public work done there is the result of prison labor.—Kingston Whig-Standard.

MOST HEAVILY TAXED COUNTRY.

Which country "boasts" the heaviest taxation?

There is a widespread impression that the "honor" belongs to Great Britain, yet a very meticulous survey, compiled by United States, British and French economists, awards the ribbon to France.

The total is more easily arrived at in the case of Britain and France because they have no state or provincial taxes. There are only the national and municipal taxes, and most of the money goes to the central governments. In the United States nearly two-thirds of all taxes are collected by state and municipal authorities.

Figures arrived at by statisticians are dizzying in their size and variety, but in the final analysis they show these facts:

Aggregate taxes in the United States in millions of dollars are 10,277; in Great Britain 3,625, and in France 2,623. Per capita the American citizen pays $83.70; the Britisher $79.05, and the Frenchman $62.75. That looks as if the American is the champion taxpayer of the world. But, of course, the relative size of incomes has to be considered—in other words, capacity to pay. On that basis the American pays 14.5 per cent. of his income for taxes, the Britisher 21.8, and the Frenchman 26.8. Put another way the American has to set aside one-seventh of his pay for taxes, the Britisher one-fifth, and the Frenchman one-fourth.

And still, in spite of this terrible drain on industrial and individual incomes, the combined nations of the world are spending billions of dollars on armaments for "security"—or for the next war.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Joe Kirkwood, after trying fifteen years, has captured a major golf title, which may or may not be encouraging news for some of our local golfers.

Premier Henry may probably be waiting to hear what the wild waves say down in Nova Scotia today before deciding upon an election date.

Only two weeks remains in which to buy advance tickets for the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. Better secure your strip now and be ready for the big fair.

Four killed and eleven injured was yesterday's level crossing toll. The old advice: Stop, look and listen, has apparently been forgotten.

The British challenger for the Harmsworth trophy is only a small craft, but it may furnish a surprise for Gar Wood and his big defender.

VACATION ESCAPADE
By ARTHUR SHUMWAY

READ THIS FIRST:

Sally Gwynne is headed south from Chicago to take a job as secretary to a Florida millionaire, John Kemble Proctor, at Daytona Beach. She spends her first night on the train. The next day she makes friends with a young man who is sitting opposite. He is also Florida bound.

(No go on with the story)

CHAPTER 3

LUNCH TIME came quickly as they sat watching the southern countryside flow past. Thornwood L. Cavanaugh proved to be an interesting and well informed guide. He pointed out scenes of Civil war engagements, tobacco fields, old landmarks, and prepared Sally for what lay ahead.

"This afternoon we'll be in Chattanooga, Tenn.," he said. "Then you'll see the Tennessee river at famous old Moccasin bend, and Lookout mountain where the big battle was fought. "The battle above the clouds."

"And to-night," said Sally, brightly, "we'll be in Atlanta, Ga., and tomorrow morning we'll wake up in Florida. I can't imagine it. I'm really getting scared. I'm afraid Florida won't be what I've been expecting."

"It won't when you first see it," he agreed. "I'll never forget my first glimpse. I looked out and saw all those skinny yellow pines and the clumps of palmetto stretching over miles of flat, soggy land with the buzzards coasting above it and I was ready to take the next train home. But you soon get over that. Five minutes in the Jacksonville station and you'll begin to feel the real Florida."

"I hope so," Sally said, sighing contentedly. "You seem to know all about it. Have you been there often?"

"Just twice. Once, when I was a youngster and ran away from home one winter. I found that you can't lie under a palm tree with your mouth open and expect oranges to drop into it. Then I went again during the big real estate boom. I went down in '25. I felt I had to make my million like everybody else."

"Did you make it?"

"Like everybody else," he said dryly. "Oh, a few of the smart ones made it. But it's a grand old state to starve in, Florida. Once you go you can't stay away. They say—"

"I know what they say," she interrupted. "They say that once you get the Florida sand in your shoes you'll always go back—just like the lotus eaters."

"You've been reading books."

She nodded.

"That's right, though. I don't know why I'm going now except that I felt it was time something happened to me and that's the pleasantest place I know of to have it happen."

"Are you going into business?"

"Business? Well, the newspaper business. I'm a reporter, one of those improvident gentlemen you're always seeing in the movies with h's feet on somebody's desk."

He looked thoughtfully out the window, becoming more serious.

"I'm crazy, I suppose. Always wanting to be somewhere else. I had a job. Not so hot, but a job and it fed me. I could have hung on till I worked into something better or bounced into another shop for more money, but no—not me. I had to be off—off for the sunny south. I quit yesterday, just like that, and bought a ticket to Jacksonville."

"Then you're going to Jacksonville?"

"To start with. I'm a little in the sock and I'm going to start looking around. First, Jax, then down the east coast. If nothing turns up, I'll swing around and come up the west coast, St. Pete and Tampa, great towns both of them, and if nothing turns up at all, I can always slide out on a boat for New Orleans or somewhere."

Sally's eyes were shining and she looked at him with frank, open-mouthed admiration. "I wish I were a man!" she exclaimed.

He looked at her quizzically. "You're better off," he said. "You'll get along."

"What makes you think so?"

"I know so. You've got what it takes."

"But all the travel and fun and adventure."

"You don't seem to be at home with your knitting. How do you know what's ahead? You may marry your old millionaire or his son, if he has one, and start around the world. Your private yacht may be wrecked in the South Seas and you may discover a lagoon full of pearls and ukuleles."

"You ought to write a book," Sally said jokingly.

"That's what I tell myself," he said. "I'll write one about you. The Adventures of—" And he began to chuckle.

Sally looked at him quickly. A smile began to spread over her face.

"I was just thinking," he said. "It's funny, but we don't really know each other's names yet. We know about everything else."

"Then yours isn't Thornwood Laurance Cavanaugh?" she sighed.

"I can change it to that, if you insist, but it happens to be Theodore L. Chandler." He grinned. "The kids in our block all call me Ted, ma'am."

"What's the L. for? It isn't Laurance with a U?"

"Nor any other way. That L., my child, is a dark secret that I guard with my life. You'll have to know me better than you do now before you know what that stands for."

"I'll bet it's Lucius."

He shook his head. "And you?"

"Sally Gwynne. It used to be Sarah-Ann after my grandmother, but I soon fixed that."

"You did nobly. I'm delighted, Miss Gwynne. I trust we shall spend many happy hours together," he said facetiously.

"Nearly twenty-four more on this train," said Sally. She found herself wishing the trip were never going to end.

"Twenty-four," he sighed, heavily.

Sitting out on the observation platform, they talked on into the dusk as the train sped steadily out of Tennessee and on down into Georgia, into the Deep South. Sally was sure she never had seen anything so beautiful as the autumn dusk coming down to meet these blue hills.

After dinner they went again to the observation platform and sat without talking, enjoying the soft coolness of the southern night. Ted smoked his pipe and Sally watched him thoughtfully.

"You know," she said, finally, "the south isn't just a part of the country, is it? I don't know if I can express it, but what I'm trying to say is that it's kind of a romantic state of mind, too. It's something that closes in all around you and takes you into its arms."

She gave a little laugh. "Oh, I can't express it," she apologized.

Ted nodded solemnly. "You have, though, he agreed, puffing his pipe in contemplation. "It just takes you into its arms—"

He looked quickly at Sally, leaning as if he was going to follow the example of the southern night. Then he seemed to check himself. He got up, knocked the ashes out of his pipe and sat down again nervously. Sally sighed.

Finally Ted spoke. "Listen, Sally, I think we ought to write to each other."

"I'd love to. It won't be so strange down there."

"Wouldn't you think we'd always known each other?"

"That's the way I feel," she agreed.

He reached over and put a long brown hand over Sally's small white one.

Soon they were entering Atlanta. Ted prepared to stretch his legs on the platform.

Atlanta. The name always had meant romance to Sally. When she had given her face a last inspection she hurried out to find Ted. Tall buildings rose on either side of the sunken station which was below the street level, not like Chicagos sky-scrapers, but tall buildings nevertheless. The station was full of ringing noises above which came the solemn, low-pitched wail of a newsboy.

She couldn't find Ted. Had he got lost or kidnapped? She wanted to laugh when she realized how silly these thoughts were. But it was a good feeling. It had been a long time since she had had anybody to worry about but herself.

She found him safe on the train. She looked at him carefully; his face seemed to have changed.

"Why—what's the matter, Ted?" she asked. "You look as if somebody had stolen your taffy apple."

He smiled. "They better hadn't. I'll tell my big brother." His playfulness seemed forced.

"I'd like to go out on the platform again," she said. "I'd like that night air."

"All right." Ted said absently. Then he turned to her and paused. "Sit down," he said.

Smiling with good-humored perplexity, she sat down.

"I've some bad news for you, I'm afraid," he said.

"For me? Why—what's the matter?"

He produced a copy of an Atlanta newspaper and handed it to her, pointing to a headline:

JOHN KEMBLE PROCTOR
DIES SUDDENLY AT HIS FLORIDA WINTER HOME

Sally felt her stomach sink. She plunged quickly into the story.

Ted leaned over and took her hand. "Don't let it get you down, Sally," he advised, softly. "I'll see what can be done."

As she looked up gratefully into his anxious eyes, the tears started in her own. She tried to check them.

Voice of the People

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People column must be received at The Examiner Office by 5 p.m. on the day before insertion. All letters must be signed by the writer although a pen name may be used when inserting non-controversial subject matter.

To The Editor of The Examiner:

Sir.—In Thursday's issue, at the request of unemployed workers, you reprint a letter clipped from The Toronto Telegram, signed "W. I., Ukrainian," who seemingly has no use for British rule or The Toronto Daily Star and its friends who prate about "free speech." Also the C.C.F. and its leader come under the disapproval of this ancient Roman magistrate.

In opposition to W.I.'s views, let me quote in part from the Presidential address of Magistrate S. Alfred Jones, K.C., of Brantford, to the Ontario Magistrates' Association.

He says it is absolutely illegal for police interference provided the speech is kept within bounds. Apart from the legal question, there is the common sense view. By such interference police officials furnish the anarchists and communists with the very food and drink on which they thrive. The psychology of the situation has long been recognized in England by the officials of the finest police organization in the world, the Metropolitan Police, which does not tolerate interference, but allows the fullest liberty in free speech.

In the defence of the C.C.F. and its leader, Mr. J. S. Woodsworth, M.P., I quote from extracts of the speeches of J. S. Woodsworth, M.P., in the House of Commons, 1930-1933, compiled and selected by Grace MacInnis:

"In the 1931 session the one member of Ukrainian extraction of the House of Commons, Mr. Luchovich, brought up the question of the alleged inhuman treatment by Poland of her minority peoples, especially of the Ukrainians. Mr. Woodsworth supported him in urging that the matter be submitted to the Council of the League of Nations in order that the League might investigate the whole situation. Mr. Woodsworth remarked, "Why should a matter of this kind be discussed in the House of Commons? I think we have the best answer in the fact that we have in Canada some 300,000 Ukrainian-Canadians. Let me remind the committee that that number is almost four times the population of Prince Edward Island. Few people in Eastern Canada recognize how important that population is to Canada and how necessary it is for us to see that they have no grievance. There is a possibility that this discussion may tend to intensify the racial feeling which exists already between the Ukrainian and Polish communities in Canada."

It seems to me that in our inter-related world, every one of us is responsible to a certain degree for whatever goes on in any part of the world.

Trusting that Mr. W. I. and Unemployed Worker will weigh up the situation more carefully, that they may in the future be able to recognight a friend from that of a foe.

—Alex. Murray.

ON THIS DATE
A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY
By Fred Williams

NEGRO COLONIES IN CANADA

On or about this date, in 1820, Western Ontario was the theatre of a colonization experiment which, if successful, might have given Canada a negro problem to solve. In 1829 Wilberforce colony for negroes was founded near London largely through the practical sympathy of the Society of Friends. Its foundation was a sequel of the enforcement in Western Ohio of laws relating to the presence in that state of free negroes. Threatened with ejection, a number of families crossed into Canada and entered into an agreement with the Canada Company for possession of a tract of land. Before coming to Canada (which it should never be forgotten was the first to abolish slavery) they had been promised protection by Sir John Colborne, then lieutenant-governor. This colony grew by the coming of additional individuals and families from other states, outstanding among them being a negro from Rochester, Austin Steward, a man of initiative and ability, who came to Wilberforce in 1830 and remained until 1837, for a part of that time being president of the little council which administered the settlement's affairs. By 1882 there were 32 families, averaging about five each; a very much larger number had visited the place, but not finding employment had gone elsewhere. Twenty-five of the families had already purchased land, cleared a few acres each and erected log homes. A wide road had been built for several miles, mills were available in or near the settlement, schools and churches had been opened, and the settlers in general appeared to be sober, industrious and thrifty.

But quarrels and dissensions weakened the colony, as did also the dubious business practices of an agent sent out on its behalf. Too ambitious plans were formed, while the important duties of clearing the land and increasing the colony's resources were neglected. After less than a decade's existence, Wilberforce was on the downgrade and soon ceased to be a distinctly negro settlement. Ten years later a more ambitious colonization scheme was launched at Buxton in Kent County, practically the only survival to-day of the many projects to create fugitives' homes in Upper Canada. There was a very large negro colony in and around Windsor and there was also the Dawn settlement near the town of Dresden with which the name of Josiah Henson is associated. This figure of history, generally supposed to have been the original of Uncle Tom in Harriet Beecher Stowe's immortal book, was born in slavery in 1789, escaped to Canada in 1830, and became both teacher and preacher. The Dawn enterprise disappeared eventually, as did most of the other negro colonies. Bad management, dissensions, and a constantly shifting population weakened effort, and when the civil war ended slavery in the United States the whole character of the Canadian situation was changed. To-day, as Prof. Fred Landon tells us, a few negro families around Dresden and the gravestone of Henson, covered with the flag under which he found freedom, are the only surviving reminders of the ambitious schemes of a century ago and of the 30 years that followed.

Character From Handwriting
By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyist for the Readers of The Examiner.

Opal Johnston,
R.R. No. 5, Peterborough.

This handwriting delineates you as a person who is energetic and industrious. You are persevering and seem to be trying to better yourself in every manner possible. Of course you may be satisfied with your present position, in a general sense, yet I feel sure that with more careful attention to detail, you will progress step by step till you reach the goal which you have set for yourself. Sometimes you do not estimate your own possibilities high enough, but if you carry out the promise which I see in the formation of the capital 'D', you should begin at once to tell yourself how much more you CAN do than that which you are accomplish'ng now. The manner in which you 'chop' off your 'T' strokes, denotes reticence, it shows that the will power is there, but not the executive ability to carry out in a determined manner as much success as destiny meant for you. You are good hearted and humorous, and seem to enjoy social events. Travel should interest you. You are diligent and intuitive, and so I see no logical reason why you should not reach the top. Keep smiling and your friends will love you and respect you.

Florie Mildenhall,
Indian River, R.R. 2.

Your writing illustrates a pleasant and friendly nature. You do not seem to be physically strong. The light even pressure throughout the handwriting shows that you are inclined to have a rather placid disposition till you are roused, then you can flame up and say what you think, but you soon forget the incident. You do not give up very easily once your mind is set upon something and you usually manage to obtain your desire, though you do so in a quiet manner. Your capital letters suggest a romantic turn of mind, and I think you are somewhat of an idealist. One of your type should appreciate music and the cultivation of flowers. You should derive much benefit from pleasures to be obtained out of doors. You should NOT be shut up in an office. Teaching might appeal to you.

Edwin J. MacDonald,
277 Reid Street, City.

This handwriting reflects definite likes and dislikes, it also shows that you are a conservative person. The slightly back-hand, half printed letters reveal a secretiveness which is peculiar to you. You see, you can keep secret what you really want to, and yet you can tell other things if you feel that there is no necessity of keeping secrets from them. The writing shows much initiative, and reveals many artistic tendencies. You should at least be able to draw, or print as in advertising, or publishing. Your capitals as depicted on your coupon indicate nervousness, due in part no doubt to the fact that you detest being criticized. Your will power is normal and should assist you greatly in obtaining your objective. Your type, as a rule will not argue, but yet deep down within you there remains a hurt, if this condition is allowed to persist, it might cause mental strain, and thus have the actual power to deter you from releasing the reserve supply of energy endowed upon you by nature, and so be the means of making you more shy and reserved than you are at present. Assert yourself. You have talent, vitality and an interesting, discriminating personality.

POLICE OBSERVANT BUT NOT 'SNOOPING'

Not "Checking Up" On Late Motor Parties.

Peterborough's streets are still safe for young couples who cannot remain at home these warm, romantic summer evenings. Police positively deny the report that they they are checking up on mixed motoring parties which are abroad on the city streets after one o'clock in the morning.

It was rumoured that the officers were stopping these late motoring couples and asking such embarrassing questions as "Where have you been?" "Where are you going and why aren't you home?" Police say "taint so," and that the motoring lovers are not being questioned any more now than usual.

"Of course, we keep a weather-eye open" one constable explained. "But what with Daylight Saving and late dances it is just about impossible for the kids to get home early."

If you buy out of town, and I buy out of town and all our neighbors buy out of town, what in thunder will become of our town? Ever think about it?

BANK OFFICERS ARE INDICTED

Grand Jury Names Six of Akron's Former Officials.

FUNDS MISAPPLIED.

AKRON, O., Aug. 22 (A.P.).—The Summit County Grand Jury to-day indicted six former officers of the First Central Trust Company for misapplication of funds. The First-Central was Akron's largest bank at the time it failed to receive a license to reopen after the United States banking holiday last March.

The seven indictments named men who have been leaders in both Akron and Ohio banking circles. Sterling B. Cramer, who was president of the First-Central from November, 1932, to June, 1933, was indicted in connection with the alleged withdrawal by the B. F. Goodrich Company of $294,600 and by the Enterprise Manufacturing Company of $69,700 after restrictions had been placed on withdrawals last February. Cramer now is executive vice-president of Cincinnati's Fifth-Third Union Trust Company.

George H. Dunn, former vice-chairman of the First-Central board and former president of the Ohio Bankers' Association, was named with George W. Metz, Charles and Walter Herberich, and William J. Ruof, for alleged substitution of trust department securities for other collateral in a loan of nearly $1,800,000 to the First Central by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company.

Ruof now is serving a term at Atlanta Penitentiary for embezzlement.

COMPLAINTS OF NOISE

If there is a by-law prohibiting unnecessary early morning noises local truck drivers have not learned of it yet, according to residents of some of the city's chiefly - travelled streets. These residents today complained that heavily-loaded trucks traversing the streets make a great deal of unnecessary racket adding to the difficulties of those who find it difficult to woo Morpheus.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mrs. Martha Silvester was today the recipient of a shower of congratulations from her many friends, on the attainment of her 87th birthday anniversary. Enjoying a remarkable degree of health and strength, Mrs. Silvester held a celebration of the event at the home of her son Provincial Constable David Silvester, 585 George street, south. She came to this country half a century ago from London, England.

WHEAT PARLEY SOLUTION NEAR

Agreement Calls on Importers to Reduce Barriers to Grain Exports.

INCREASE CONSUMPTION.

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
(C. P. Staff Writer)

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 22. (C. P. Cable). — "Considerable Progress" was reported by both committees of the World Wheat Conference this evening after a day of deliberation on subjects sent down from the World Conference proper. The Wheat Conference resumes tomorrow afternoon to hear the replies of the importing nations to proposals by the exporters towards restoration of world markets.

The committees worked all day on the assumption that an agreement between the exporting and importing countries will be reached shortly. Various delegates have expressed the opinion an agreement will be achieved this week and the replies of the importing countries' governments to the draft agreement submitted by the exporters to-morrow will probably tell the tale.

This agreement would call on the importers to reduce barriers to wheat exports, to prevent increase in their domestic consumption, to maintain the quality of their bread and to reduce customs tariffs accordingly as the world price rises. In turn, the exporters are ready to restrict production and stabilize exports on a quota plan.

Your Health
By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

IN SOME ways the baby which is born at such time that it goes through its first summer during its first months, is luckier than the one who does not reach the summer months until the end of the first year. This is on account of the opportunity to get sunshine and manufacture Vitamin D in its own factory.

Dr. Clendenins

"It is hardly necessary to emphasize the value of fresh air and sunshine," says Dr. Frederick P. Tisdall's excellent book on "The Home Care of the Infant and Child." But my experience teaches me that many parents do not yet understand the exact functions of sunshine as a preventive of rickets, that most serious disease of childhood.

I do not know whether there are any statistics to show that rickets is less common in the babies who go through their earlier months during the summer, but we are certain that it is commoner in northern, cloudy climates than in the year-round sunshine of the south.

The cause of rickets is lack of the calcium and phosphorus deposit on the bones. And this lack of mineral deposit is not due to lack of these substances in the food, but to lack of the body's ability to utilize them. The substance which activates the bone cells to deposit calcium and phosphorus is called Vitamin D. It is manufactured in all higher animal bodies to some extent—but better in some than in others, apparently. In human beings it is manufactured in the skin when exposed to the direct rays of the sun, and carried from the skin to the liver, where it is stored as a deposit and drawn out by the body as needed.

Sunlight, indeed, has the power to produce this substance in many articles (milk, for instance), when they are exposed to its effects. Sunlight produces this chemical change as it produces many chemical changes, such as the change in a photographic plate.

Rickets is a winter disease, or, rather, a spring disease developing after the sunless months of the winter.

See to it, then, that your baby gets its good quota of sunlight during the summer. This quota need not be excessive—no rule of hygiene should be overdone. Two hours of sunshine from 8 to 10 in the morning when the heat is not great enough. On very hot days even this is too much. Start exposing the baby to sunshine at about four weeks, with not more than a five-minute period of exposure of face, arms and legs. The time of exposure should be increased two minutes a day until the baby is receiving one-half to an hour exposure a day.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

TORONTO, Aug. 22 (CP) — Wholesale prices on fruit and vegetables as supplied by White and Co. were reported unchanged today with the exception of outdoor tomatoes, No 1, per 11-qt. basket which were quoted at 25 to 30 cents. Peaches, No. 1 per 6-qt. basket were quoted at 40 to 45 cents, and No. 2 were quoted at 30 to 32½ cents.

Victor Wishes Vanquished Good Luck

Fred Perry, No. 1 ranking English tennis star, hero of the British Davis Cup victory and conqueror of Ellsworth Vines, is shown here (left) wishing Vines good luck before the latter enters his match at the Newport invitation tennis tourney in which Perry did not take part. It is expected that Perry and Vines may meet again in the United States national championship.

New Zealand Content With Empire Status

BANFF, Alta., Aug. 22 (C.P.).—Up to the present New Zealand has taken no steps to adopt the statute of Westminster, according to a paper presented at the fifth biennial convention of the Institute of Pacific Relations by W. A. Curzon-Siggers, lecturer in public international law at the University of Otago.

According to Mr. Curzon-Siggers it is doubtful if the New Zealand Government will proceed any further with the statute of Westminster which gives greater independence to the Dominions. New Zealand is satisfied with her present position within the British Empire and will not become "an independent sovereign state."

It is hoped, the paper adds, the genius of British and Dominion statesmen will always find a way to prevent any breach of the Empire's unity, despite the different ties which bind the various sections together at present.

Fears Threats

LUPE VELEZ

Living in constant terror of kidnappers, extortionists and bandits, Lupe Velez, Mexican film actress, has surrounded herself with three armed guards, besides sleeping with a revolver under her pillow at night. She has sent her adopted daughter, Joan Del Valle Velez, to Mexico for safety. The star revealed she had received three recent extortion and kidnap notes, one demanding $35,000 on a threat against the child, and the other two for $15,000 each.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Aug. 22. (CP)—Trading spread from a few specialties to the general list on the Standard Mining Exchange this afternoon and the whole board was lively and higher at the close. Some of the senior gold shares, after moving sluggishly through the early part of the day, became active and strong while base metal and silver shares were under accumulation.

Heavy buying of Macassa carried that issue up 9 cents to 88 but it settled back under profit taking to 85. Reno, Siscoe, Sylvanite, Granada and Howey all made headway on the upside. Teck Hughes was the most active of the high-priced group and small gains were recored by this issue, Dome and McIntyre.

In the base metals Noranda held a narrow gain at $54. Nickel closed unchanged at 21.10 and Sherritt, Base Metals Corporation and Falconbridge registered small gains.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Aug. 22. (CP)—Accumulative buying carried the Toronto Stock Exchange along to a strong close to-day after it had appeared somewhat draggy in the early trading. The gradual development of strength on the New York market imparted a buoyant tone to Toronto listings through the distillery and motor shares, Ford A advanced to 15⅝ and the liquor stocks recovered the recessions recorded around noon, and added some gains.

Nickel turned over in fair volume within a narrow range and closed up 5 cents at 21.15. Smelters lost a half point, C.P.R. gained a fraction to 17¾ and Brazilian was unchanged at 14.

RETAILERS' CODE MAKES HEADWAY

Agreement Under Discussion Covers All Store Sales Except Food, Drugs.

COAL COMES NEXT.

(By James Cope, A. P. Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. — The retail trade's code of fair practice, affecting more employers, workers and communities than any compact yet taken up by the Recovery Administration, entered today the stage of public hearing while officials sought to complete a new agreement to cover the entire Bituminous coal industry.

There was hope, after late night conferences, that the latter task would be done speedily so this basic industry could join steel, oil, cotton textiles and lumber under codes promulgated by President Roosevelt.

Hugh S. Johnson, N.R.A. administrator, concentrated almost his entire attention on ending the weeks of negotiation between N.R.A. numerous dissenting coal operators, and labor. The president, at his Hyde Park home, was expectant of being able to sign the compact tomorrow, after Johnson last night telephoned he was making progress.

Once coal was out of the way, it was Johnson's intention to go after a solution of issues surrounding the pay and hour fixing code of the automobile industry.

The retail agreement on today's hearing docket covered virtually all store sales except food and drugs. The code was presented by the National Retail Furniture, Hardware, Shoe, Clothier, Dry Goods, and Mail Order Associations. Some of its terms already are in temporary effect through substitution of wage sections for provisions of the president's re-employment agreement.

URGE BEER TAX BE CUT 50 P.C.

U. S. Importers Claim Reduction Would Not Hurt Domestic Trade.

"FRIENDLY GESTURE."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—Importers of foreign brews to-day appealed at a hearing before the Tariff Commission for a 50 percent slash in the tariff on beer that would bring the duty from $1 a gallon down to half that figure.

Coupled with an assertion that the present tariff was intolerable" the Commission heard pleas based also upon taste and sentiment.

Harry S. Radcliffe, representing William L. Howitz Company of New York, said domestic brands might well be preferred by those who had not cultivated the "foreign tang." He sontended the two were not in competition.

Radcliffe asserted the domestic trade would not be jeopardized by even a 75 percent reduction. He added that such a reduction would be a 'friendly gesture' to 25 foreign countries now in the beer market.

All these countries, Racliffe said, had over-estimated the American taste for high prices foreign beer immediately after beer was again made legal.

STARLINGS STRIP

vince by way of the Niagara Peninsula, coming from New York State and Pennsylvania. During the last two years farmers in the Niagara district have suffered countless thousands of dollars crop damage by the birds, and apparently the plague has been moving eastward.

Mr. Graham was inclined to minimise the danger to duck hunting offered by the influx of starlings. There has been no falling off in the numbers of ducks apparent in the region as yet, he said. He expressd the opinion that the shortage of wild rice food will not affect the duck situation seriously, as it is only the black duck which depends on rice for its sustenance. The rice beds are one of the best attractions for ducks, but if there is any shortage of rice they will get their food by dipping, he said.

Mr. Graham mentioned that starlings offer one good service in as much as they generally succeed in driving out the sparrow population from any district in which a flock settles. The birds have the custom of driving sparrows and other birds from their nests and seizing the nests for their own uses, he said.

A difference of opinion was manifest locally in regard to the palatability of the starling which has appeared in this district. A number at whom inquiries were directed stated that they had heard of starling pie, but showed no enthusiasm over the thought of the dish. At least one farmer in Western Ontario is reported to be trapping the birds and selling them for food.

WE HAVE Devonshire as the only track holding forth in Eastern Canada this week. They got away to a good start on Saturday and with the closing of Fort Erie a lot more horses arrived at Windsor over the week-end. We told you last week that the Smallman string were in grand shape and to bear this out they won the first two races on Monday with Hereward and Watchlite and also finished second with Sir Byron. They have a few well charged guns to shoot yet and it is not too late yet to climb on the band wagon. Powder Monkey has been knocking at the door in last few starts and is due to crash in any day now.

* * *

DON'T FORGET that old saying, horses for courses and courses for horses still holds good and that Devonshire track is the course for Toy Town. He invariably wins at this track and always at a good generous price. Another one that likes this track is George E. Miller, the western Canada horse who won at Windsor about a month ago. Tarnish, fresh from Chicago and running in the silks of Art Halliwell looks like a lead pipe cinch to cop a heat before long. We also want you to remember Ed Seagram's Candy Feast in one of those juvenile dashes. The hide leaves the gate like a bullet out of a shotgun.

LLOYD GENTRY, the well known trainer took a special trip to Chicago and claimed French Lass and had her shipped direct to Windsor. This one was a consistent winner under Gentry's wing for a long time and about two years ago she was claimed and had not been at all successful under her new owner but now that Gentry has her back she will certainly click as he seems to have her hole card and remember she will take the topnotchers too. And here is a real one in Ladfield. They have had him in hiding for about a month at Windsor. He comes from Chicago and means business. Don't let anyone or anything chase you off him. He is a natural.

Claim Italy Ready To Support Austria

VIENNA, Aug. 22 (A.P.).—Interest was manifest generally to-day in the week-end conference between Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss and Premier Mussolini at Riccione, Italy, on international matters.

A semi-official statement said the Chancellor was satisfied that the Italian Premier had a full understanding of Austria's situation.

The newspaper Extrablatt, however, printed an interview with a friend close to Dollfuss, who said: "The Riccione negotiations have given the Chancellor assurances that Italy is backing Austria and its present Government through thick and thin. Mussolini is ready for anything to defend Austria's independence."

The Chancellor said the idea of an agreement by Italy, Great Britain and France for military action if Austrian or German Nazis attempted to overthrow the Dollfuss Government was not discussed. Reports of such a discussion were published abroad.

Alderman Stocker stated that "There are some things that need investigating." The committee will get down to the job some time next week, it was learned.

AVOID THE DANGER OF CONSTIPATION

Delicious Cereal Overcomes This Condition Safely and Pleasantly

The first signs of constipation may be headaches, tired feelings, sallow complexions, sleeplessness, loss of appetite. If neglected, constipation may seriously impair health.

Today, you can banish constipation by simply eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also a good source of iron for the blood.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action similar to leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, and gently clears out the intestinal wastes.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of common constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

FENELON FALLS APPROVES GRANT FOR TRENT WATERWAY PUBLICITY COMPLETION OF CANAL IS URGED

W. M. Fowlds, R. R. Hall and T. A. Coughlin Appeal For Aid.

BENEFIT TO BUSINESS.

Mr. Hall Comments on Recent Criticism of the Canal.

FENELON FALLS, August 22 (By Staff Reporter). — "The adverse criticism of the Trent Canal which has appeared in the press during the past few weeks has been decidedly unfair," Walter Fowlds of Hastings, president of the Trent Waterway-Iroquois Trail Association, declared in an address to the Fenelon Falls Council in Fenelon Falls yesterday afternoon. "The Canal is yet uncompleted, and until it is completed it cannot be expected to provide a return on the money which has been spent on it."

Mr. Fowlds appeared before the Council with a plea for a contribution to the Trent Waterway-Iroquois Trail Association. He was supported in his request by addresses also from R. R. Hall, K.C., of Peterborough, and Timothy Coughlin of Hastings, and business men of Fenelon Falls. A grant of $50, the sum requested, was agreed upon by the Council at the conclusion of the hearing.

"Until the Trent Canal is completed we cannot expect any direct return from its commercial use on the $20,000,000 which it has cost, yet we are realizing a huge indirect return on the Canal every year," Mr. Fowlds continued. "Millions are being spent in the Province every year by American tourists and it is the Trent Waterway system between Trenton and Georgian Bay which is attracting to Central Ontario its share of this business. That the return which the Trent Waterway is making through its attraction of tourists has been underestimated can be realized when you remember that American tourists spent $165,000,000 in Canada last year and a large portion of that went to Ontario. The figure $165,000,000 is only half that spent by tourists in 1929."

Advertising.

Urging support of the Association, Mr. Fowlds pointed out: "If any of you men had a business with a turnover of $165,000,000 a year, you would be ready to spend huge sums in advertising, endeavoring to increase that turnover. The object of the Trent Waterway Association is to advertise as widely as possible in the United States and bring steadily-increasing numbers of tourists through the Trent Waterway section of Ontario. We have attracted large numbers in past years, but, without your assistance and the assistance of all the municipalities which are benefiting along the route, we cannot continue. The contribution for which we are asking you represents but a small trifle as compared even with one day's tourist business in your town."

Mr. Fowlds explained the scope of the publicity work which the Association has been carrying on. For several years, booklets, advertising not only the waterway system but also the system of highways paralleling the waterway which have been marked out as the Iroquois Trail, have been distributed throughout the United States, he said. The Ontario Government showed its appreciation of the Association's activities by financing a joint exhibit of the Association and the Ontario Department of Highways at the New York Motor Boat Show last year. That the Americans welcome information about the playgrounds of Ontario indicated in the highly-valuable exhibit space at the show last year was loaned free of charge, he said.

Ordered Yacht.

At both New York and Cleveland hundreds of tourists have been directly induced to tour this section each year that the Association has exhibited, Mr. Fowlds said. The motion picture of the waterway system made by the Ontario Government and displayed under the auspices of the Association in many American cities has been responsible for a very profitable volume of business, he asserted. After seeing the picture in New York last year, he reported, one man went out and ordered a fifteen thousand dollar yacht specially designed for cruising on the Trent system.

"We have given one hundred cents on the dollar for every dollar contributed to the work of the Trent Waterway Association," he concluded. "Without your assistance financially and your moral support our work cannot go on."

Mr. Hall, taking the floor, declared: "Plainly the Trent Canal must be finished. It is an enterprise in which a great deal of money has been spent, and to get that money out the enterprise must be carried through to an end."

Answering recent criticisms of the Canal, particularly the criticism in an article by Hugh C. McLean in the current issue of The Canadian Magazine, Mr. Hall charged that $1,000,000, representing the interest on the investment of $20,000,000 in the Canal, has been misleadingly used to swell the annual cost figure for the Canal.

"The water power provided along the system is too often overlooked by critics," Mr. Hall declared. "Sixty per cent. of the cost of maintaining the Canal is inescapable by reason of the necessity to regulate the water levels. Are we to take away the dams and allow the water to run free as it did in the days of Champlain? If we are to do that we might as well go back to the birch-bark canoe also."

Duty To Help.

Speaking on behalf of the Association's cause, he pointed out that it is the duty of all the communities from Trenton to Georgian Bay which benefit from the Association's work to help pay the way. The only way the task of advertising the route can be put across is by united effort, he said.

"Short-sighted and stupid." With these words he characterized the Government's intended course of closing to traffic early this year, on September 30. "Our members of the Government are asleep on the job," he said. "It is up to the municipalities to make representations to their members to keep the Canal open. I should suggest that a deputation with men from Trenton to Orillia be organized and sent to see the Government about it."

"A great number of merchants along the Trent Waterway system would be in the hands of receivers if it were not for the tourist business," declared Mr. Coughlin in an address. He urged that money for continued advertising of the district be provided in order that the present tourist traffic may be maintained and increased.

One-Third of Business.

A. J. Gould, a druggist in Fenelon Falls, asserted that the business he gets in July and August each year has constituted one-third of his total yearly business. He said that he was amazed to find out that Fenelon Falls had not been contributing to the Association during the past several years.

Mr. Fowlds and his companions had made arrangements to address the Council of Bobcaygeon with a similar plea for funds, but, on arrival, found that a quorum for the meeting had not been secured. An informal conversation with Reeve Roy Bottom and other members of his Council was held, and, although Councillor Robert Henderson voiced strong opposition to the proposal that Bobcaygeon should pay its share, the Reeve, with more appreciation of the cause, promised serious consideration at the next Council meeting.

SEARCH WRECK FOR TRANSIENTS

Two Found Injured, Others Believed in Debris of 20 Freight Cars.

TRAFFIC TIED UP

LENEY, Sask., Aug. 22, (CP)—Wrecking crews to-day were busy searching the wreckage of 20 Canadian National Railways freight cars piled up in a derailment which injured two transients near Normanton, a mile and a half west of here last night. Other rod-riders were believed buried in the debris.

Although it was surmised they had not been seriously hurt, neither the names of the injured persons nor the extent of their injuries could be learned early today. Ties were torn up for 200 yards and several cars of wheat, fruit and coal were strewn along the track as all box cars in the train ploughed down an embankment.

East and west bound passenger service was temporarily disrupted and trains were re-routed to Edmonton and Saskatoon via North Battleford instead of via Biggar. It is believed a broken axle on one of the leading cars was the cause of the derailment. None of the train crew was hurt.

THE MARKETS

ONTARIO GRAIN

TORONTO, Aug. 22. — Ontario grain, approximate prices track shipping point—Wheat, 64c to 65c; oats, 33c to 35c; barley, 38c to 40c; rye, 45c to 46c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Aug. 22.—Firmness was displayed by the egg market on the Montreal Dairy and Produce Market yesterday, while butter was quiet and easy and cheese and potatoes held unchanged. On the egg market, graded shipments in carlots or less ranged from 21c to 22c a dozen for extras, 16½c to 17½c for firsts, and 13½c to 14c for seconds, unchanged to ½c firmer than last week's close. Receipts were light, totalling 344 cases for the day.

The butter market was generally quoted at 18¼c a pound for No. 1 grade in carlots or less, ¼c less than Saturday's final price. Demand was quiet and receipts amounted to 466 boxes.

Ontario and Quebec white and colored cheese failed to register any change, with Ontarios bringing 10c to 10 1-8c a pound and Quebecs ½c less. A total of 1,183 boxes was offered for sale.

New Quebec potatoes in 80-lb. bags continued to bring 89c to 90c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 22—Grain prices moved erratically yesterday, but wheat and corn recovered the major portion of a three-cent decline before the close.

Private reports from Russia that inclement weather indicated harvest delays and a smaller harvest, were ignored as were official reports from Argentina telling of urgent need of rains. A prediction by the International Institute in Rome of a shortage in world wheat and a consequent advance in prices also was passed by.

Wheat closed fairly steady, unchanged to ⅝ cent lower than Saturday. Corn steady to ½ cent down. Oats steady to ¼ cent off and provisions steady to 10 cents higher.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, August 22 — Absence of any export demand and a decided lack of interest in operations on the part of traders sent wheat futures fractionally lower on the Grain Exchange yesterday, and at the close values were ¾c to ⅞c under Saturday's finish.

Final quotations showed October at 71c, December at 73c, and May at 78c. Though some recovery was made from the low points, the market showed very little buoyancy. A little selling pressure from Chicago, combined with limited hedging sales, gave the Pit all it could handle.

Export trade over the week-end was extremely light, and no sales developed during the session. Liverpool wheat was fractionally easier, due to lack of demand on the part of importers. Closing quotations showed net losses of ⅝d to ¾d.

Last week's world shipments of wheat and flour were placed at 9,622,000 bushels, with most of North America's share of 3,436,000 originating in Canada.

EXCESS FAT DUE TO RHEUMATISM

One Remedy for the Two Troubles

Having rheumatism so badly that she could scarcely walk, this woman began to put on a load of superfluous flesh. In a letter just received, she writes:—

"I had a severe attack of rheumatism in both knees. It was so bad that for three weeks I could not put my feet to the ground. I was also getting terribly fat—through not getting my usual exercise. I started taking Kruschen and persevered. The first thing I noticed was the tonic effect it had: the next that my rheumatism went, and—better than anything—I lost the wretched fat. I am a woman of 50, and when I tell you I do exactly the same work as women half my age without the least difficulty, I think you will understand why I swear by Kruschen Salts and recommend them wherever I go."—M. E.

The six salts of Kruschen assist the internal organs to throw off each day the wastage and poisons that encumber the system. Then little by little, that ugly fat goes—slowly, yes—but surely. The rheumatism and headaches disappear. You feel wonderfully healthy, youthful and energetic—more so than ever before in your life.

NOVA SCOTIANS POLLING TO-DAY

Conservative Government Seeks New Mandate—30 Seats in House.

VOTERS' LISTS LARGE

HALIFAX, Aug. 22.—(CP)—From homes in city, town and countryside, Nova Scotians began converging on the polling booths today. It's election day in this province and before night all the electorate will have registered its choice between the Conservative government of the Hon. Gordon S. Harrington and the Liberal opposition led by Angus L. MacDonald.

All signs pointed early today to a record turn-out of voters in this first election in which Premier Harrington has led the Conservative forces to the polls. Voters' lists were largest in the province's history, and unusual interest in the campaign was expected to swell the vote considerably.

In all constituencies except five it is a straight party to party fight between Conservatives and Liberals for the 30 legislative seats left Nova Scotia under the last redistribution. Labor and C.C.F. nominees are out in four Cape Breton ridings and in Halifax Centre.

Both party chiefs wound up their campaigns in addresses last night in their constituencies. Premier Harrington appealed to the province of his government's record; the opposition leader charged governmental extravagance and reviewed phases of the "new deal" he promises Nova Scotia.

IMMIGRANT LAD SOUGHT BY BOSS

Young Saw Mill Hand Missing Since Monday Seen Heading for Norwood.

BEEN IN DOURO 2 YEARS

Fears for the safety of William Trigg, 19-year-old mill hand, who disappeared last evening from the place of his employment in Douro Township, have been partially allayed by reports that he was seen walking towards Norwood on Highway 7.

The youth, an English immigrant, had been employed by Clarence Staples as a helper in the saw and shingle mill in Douro Township for the past two years. He was apparently satisfied with conditions under which he worked, a fact which led his employer to believe that some harm may have befallen the youth, when he failed to return home on Monday evening.

He was last seen by his employer on Monday, when after supper, he went away. He was attired in his work clothes. The youth was seen walking along Highway 7 in the direction of Norwood, by Michael Clary. This morning, Mr. Staples went to Norwood in an endeavor to locate the wandering youth.

EATON CUP NARROWS.

London Thistles Only Outside Four to Remain in Competition.

HIGH PARK BOWLING CLUB, Toronto, Aug. 22 (C.P.).—The London Thistles' four, skipped by P. C. Wilson, were the last of the out-of-town groups to remain in the Eaton Gold Cup competition of the Dominion bowling tournament here today at the conclusion of the third round of play. They rolled up a score of 17 against the strong St. Matthew's rink under the leadership of Norm. Richardson, who brought in a 9.

Wilson's group were the second highest scorers on the High Park greens, being three points behind W. E. Miller's Rusholme team.

Harry G. Salisbury, present holder of the golden trophy, was still in the running to-day when he edged out P. J. Lightburn of the Victorias with a score of 18-10 over the lawns of the Rusholme Club.

W. E. Power and the ptecise Vermont Park four tied with Miller for high score honors when he chalked up an even 20 against Dr. Johnston's Grimsby contenders.

PEACE BRIDGE TRUST MOOTED

Fort Erie Fears $70,000 Taxes May Be Lost.

MAKE BRIDGE FREE.

PORT ERIE, Ont., Aug. 22 (C.P.).—A plan to turn the Peace Bridge between Fort Erie and Buffalo, N.Y., over to a joint commission which would operate it in trust for the Government of New York and the Canadian Government is worrying the city fathers of Fort Erie.

The municipality has at stake $70,000, in annual taxes, collectable on the assessed value of the bridge, while Buffalo collects about $50,000 annually from the bridge. Fort Erie fears that an attempt will be made to evade taxes by having the bridge declared Government property while it is being operated as a trust.

Under the plan the bridge would remain in trust until its bonds and other indebtedness were paid off, after which it would be made an international free bridge, rather than a toll bridge as at present.

Both houses of the New York State Legislature at Albany have passed a bill granting the appointment of a commission which would take over refinancing of the artery and set toll rates and it is understood a move will be made to have the Ottawa Government follow the same lines. G. H. Pettit, member of Parliament for Welland, to-day stated notice had been filed at the Dominion capital asking method of procedure.

HELPING HAND LENT AUSTRIA AS NATIONS READJUST QUOTAS

Dollfuss to be Allowed to Meet German Threat by Increasing Army.

LOAN ARRANGED.

PARIS, Aug. 22 (AP)—Immediate aid to depression-stricken Austria by lifting the restrictions against Austrian exports is being arranged by the United Kingdom, France and probably Italy, it was learned on high authority to-day.

France proposes to remove or readjust her quotas on goods from Austria pending consideration of a vast economic reorganization of Austria and Hungary and the Little Entente nations, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania.

The French plan, officials said, contemplates prompt aid as esesntial to remedy Austria's grave situation, and it is believed here that the United Kingdom and Italy take the same view.

In the meantime German threats are to be met by authorizing Austria to increase her armed forces by 8,000 men to the treaty figure of 30,000. These new men will be used as gendarmes to guard the frontiers against the activities of German Nazis.

Difficulties Over Nazis

(Relations between Austria and Germany have been troubled recently because the Australian Government headed by Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss has set itself resolutely against the Nazi movement within Austria. Several controversial incidents have occurred, particularly centering about the dropping of Nazi anti-Dollfuss propaganda from planes flying over Austria and about the broadcasting of similar propaganda from radio stations in South Germany. These German activities have caused Great Britain, France and Italy to make investigations through their diplomatic representatives at Berlin.)

Austria has, or will soon get, the proceeds of a loan of 300,000,000 schillings (nominally $50,000,000 Canadian funds) from the League of Nations. But the French consider this credit useless unless Austrian economic conditions are improved by facilitating the nation's trade abroad.

The recently-signed four-power peace pact is not likely to be invoked in the present difficulty. It is specifically provided that this pact applies only to the four participants and it is therefore unnecessary to call Chancellor Hitler of Germany into conference in trying to save Austria. The parties to the four-power pact are Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany.

JAPS READY TO MODIFY SHIP LAWS IF OTHERS DO

(By Charles A. Hayden, C.P. Correspodent.)

BANFF, Alta., August 22 (C.P.).—Japan, which, with other countries, denies privileges of coastwise trade to foreign ships, would modify these regulations if other nations would do the same, it was intimated during discussions at the fifth biennial conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations, which concludes at the end of the week. Discussions continued to-day.

The Japanese contended it was not fair to infer Japanese subsidies to shipping gave her undue advantage over competitors. In a world which denied privileges of coastwise trade, it was difficult for Japan to compete, it was argued. The trend away from free trade towards increased restrictions was also referred to.

OSHAWA TO PAY HYDRO ACCOUNT IF SUFFICIENT FUNDS REMAIN

F. L. Mason Says Other Bill Will Be Paid First.

OBJECTS TO INCREASE.

OSHAWA, Aug. 22. (Special).—In a recent announcement by the Hydro Electric Power Commission, Oshawa was informed that an increase in the cost of power of $3 per horsepower has been made, the increase dating from the first of the year. This increase means that the Oshawa Commission will have to pay at least an additional $25,000 for power during the year, although the H.E.P.C. recommends that there be no advance in the rate charged to the consumers.

Frank L. Mason, chairman of the Oshawa Utilities Commission, discussing the situation in regard to the new rates, said: "I know the stand I am going to take. Hydro is putting an extra charge on us of about $25,000, but do not apparently approve of the local commission taking any steps to increase its revenue by increasing the local rates charge to the consumer. All right then, the solution is very simple:

"We will collect what revenue we are allowed to collect under existing rates as approved by the H.E.P.C. Out of this revenue we will pay our legitimate accounts as they fall due, but we will leave the account of the H.E.P.C. until the last. If there are any funds left they will get paid. If there are not enough funds to pay them then they will have to whistle for it."

Mr. Mason explained that this was his personal plan but might not be adopted by the Oshawa Commission. However, he stated. "I have been accumulating a vast amount of interesting information on the whole subject of power rates and I will have this information for the Commission's next meeting."

HON. N. D. BAKER NEW CHAIRMAN

Presides Over Council of Institute of Pacific Relations.

IN WILSON CABINET.

BANFF, Alta., Aug. 22 (C.P.).—Hon. Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War in the Wilson administration of the United States, has been appointed chairman of the Council of the Institute of Pacific Relations, succeeding Jerome D. Greene, Wilson professor at the University College of Wales.

Acknowledging the honor which had been conferred on him, Mr. Baker told a general meeting of conference members most of the troubles in the world came from misunderstanding and, therefore, the Institute had a high duty for understanding through approaching, in a hopeful and scientific way, the great international problem which had come to be the world's chief preoccupation and concern.

There should be a spreading of knowledge. The world was coming to be governed by public opinion which was the result of two forces. One was accuracy of knowledge and the other character. He emphasized importance of adult education and urged adults to re-learn even the most elementary things.

HELEN HAYES QUITS HOLLYWOOD TO REQUITE DEBT TO THEATRE

Stars Owe Fame to Stage Now Needing Them.

SACRIFICES SALARY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. (AP)—Helen Hayes has renounced Hollywood, at least temporarily, and in doing so has issued a challenge to all other theatre-trained movie stars to do the same.

"Hollywood should be made to pay its toll to the theatre," Miss Hayes said.

"There are I don't know how many actors, actresses and authors in Hollywood who owe their expensive contracts to the success they received in the theatre. They have cashed in on that success in motion pictures.

To keep the scale balanced those people should voluntarily pay a tax to the theatre, by returning to it regularly, even at the cost of high Hollywood salaries. Citizens pay a tax to the government to maintain schools, and the theatre has been our school—our mother—everything. We shouldn't let it struggle alone, now that death threatens it, without us."

Miss Hayes' decision to end her two-year desertion of Broadway cost her a bonus of four week's salary—a sum which runs into four attractive figures—which was offered her to return to Hollywood immediately.

The loss of that bonus is part of my tax" she said, "I hope to be able to make Hollywood pay the rest of its toll by using the 'movie name' Hollywood has given me to lure into the theatre many people who will attend a play only out of curiosity to see a 'movie star' in the flesh.

"Then they may go to see other plays even though movie stars are not in them. If the George Arlisses, the Ann Hardings and the Lionel and John Barrymores should do the same thing, there would be no need of worrying about the rejuvenation of the theatre. In a year it would be completely rejuvenated."

Motor vans can never satisfactorily replace horse rigs on city delivery routes.

Such is the mutual opinion held by James Dutton, manager of Stocks Bread, Limited, and G. A. Gillespie, manager Silverwood's Peterborough Dairy, Limited. And who should be in a better position to know?

For years past now the two firms which the men in question represent have set the standard in the commercial and heavy horse classes at Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. They intend to provide stiff competition in these classes again this year.

Mr. Dutton was recently overheard discussing the prospects for the forthcoming show with his friend, Mr. Gillespie. The former was deprecating the fact that horses of the type used by Stocks and Silverwood's, are not bred in this district. He considered that a good field lay open to breeders of medium-heavy commercial horses in Peterborough, contending that a demand would always exist for that type of animal.

Motor vans could not begin to compete with the horse for use on city delivery routes, he maintained "You can train a horse to know a route, but you can't train a motor truck."

Mr. Dutton remarked that it was surprising the degree of intelligence that a horse possessed. After a few times over a route, a horse got to know every stop which its driver was rquired to make, he said.

The conversation took place around the luncheon table at a recent club meeting, and criticism was playfully offered from a certain quarter, of the early morning noises that were made by the iron-shod hoofs of the milk delivery horses.

Mr. Gillespie hinted at the possibility of something being done by his firm, in the near future, to eliminate unnecessary noises, and explained that the use of rubber hoof pads had not been adopted by his firm, because they had the disastrous effect of ruining a horse's feet.

"Gossip and Such"

AFTER HAVING watched Mr. Connie Mack's Athletics perform for two-thirds of a hectic season it does not necessitate a keen sense of baseball values to determine that all the Old Man needs is pitchers.

Pitchers, good pitchers, would have made the Athletics pennant contenders this year, quite likely, champions.

Saving but one really dependable flinger, the Philadelphia Americans have maintained themselves in third place. Two or three able assistants to the great Lefty Grove would have easily made a difference of 15 games or so in their standing.

Fifteen games switched from the A's losing side to the winning column would put the Philadelphia club on a par with Washington and ahead of New York.

THESE MUST be bitter days for Connie. He has a club that is as strong—save on the mound—as several Athletic teams of the past, teams that virtually walked into pennants.

Mickey Cochane and Eddie Madjeski give the A's plenty of power behind thep late. Jimmy Foxx, Dibrell Williams and Frank Higgins are star young infielders. The outfield of Bob Johnson, Roger Cramer and Ed Coleman will stack alongside most others.

"But," as Connie, himself, recently said, "what the Athletics need are some star pitchers. Young pitchers. And we've got to develop them quickly."

Otherwise all this power and strength in other departments will be wasted.

IT IS A PARADOX that Connie Mack, of all managers, should be bemoaning the fact that he has but one real pitcher.

Mack probably has developed and managed more great pitchers than any other pilot in major league history.

From 1901 to 1914 Connie has had such aces as Eddie Plan, Rube Waddell, Hooks Wiltsie Chief Bender, Jack Coombs, Dave Danforth, Reb Russell, Herb Pennock, Bullet Joe Bush—on his teams.

During the great pennant days of 1929 to 1931 Mack had the best pitching staff in baseball.

HOWEVER, if Connie wants to get away from sad thoughts of his present pitching staff he can think about the fact that two-thirds of all the great southpaw hurlers of the century were developed by him.

Baseball men usually agree that the six greatest left-handers include Waddell, Plank, Pennock, Grove, Nap Rucker, the Brooklyn star of many years ago and Rube Marquard, the one-time Giant sce.

Four of the six—Waddell, Plank, Pennock and Grove—were developed and managed during their years of greatness by Mack.

That IS something to think about.

CHEMONG PARK OUTFIT DEFEATS EXAMINER 15-8

Harry Forler's Chemong Park softball team defeated The Examiner outfit, 15-8, at Chemong Park last night.

The game was well played up to the seventh inning when the Park boys ran in nine runs on a series of hits, and a few misplays by the Newspaper boys.

Jopling threw them in for the Chemong team and pitched good ball all the way, showing a nice change of pace. Butcher and Scates split the twirling duties for The Examiner and both were hit hard.

The line ups:

Chemong Park: R. Jopling, p; E. Connors, c; F. Jopling, 3b; Kelly, 3b; A. Clarke, ss; Hardill, 1b; R. Clarke, 2b; B. Jopling, lf; D. Jopling cf; E. Wright, rf.

Examiner: Glover, ss; Wyllie, 3b; Butcher, p, 1b; Board, c; Scates, 1b, p; J. Cullen, 2b; Johnson, lf; A. Butcher, cf; McCurach, rf; P. Cullen, rf.

BARRY HOLDS DAVIS' COGS TO SIX HITS

Errors and Bunched Hits in Fourth and Fifth Frames Give C.G.E. 6-4 Victory.

JOHNSON LEADS BATTERS.

C.G.E. kept themselves in the E.P.L. championship running last night by turning back the Cogs, 6 to 4, in an exciting ball game. A huge crowd of fans cheered the battling Electrics along as they fought hard to save themselves from elimination. Good twirling by Jack Barry and Cog errors held the Clubmen back from the title, almost within their grasp.

Barry returned to the mound and held the others to six hits, five of them coming in the last three frames as Cogs threatened to pull up on even terms. The C.G.E. righthander fanned five and issued the same number of walks. Billingsley started for the losers, but teammates' errors the first four frames and bunched hits in the fifth got him the hook, Masterson finishing up in strong style, giving C.G.E. one lone bingle the rest of the way. None of the twirlers received good support.

Big Hitter for Winners

Johnston was the big hitter for the victors, clouting out three in four trips. Hope came through with a triple and single, while Hatton drove out a two-bagger. Padgett was the only Cog sticker to get two safe raps. The fielding of Johnston, Corbett and Barry was a big factor in their teams win, while Hollingsworth and Saunders also figured in a few good saves. Padgett turned in a fine defensive effort for the Davismen, Wilson also going good in the garden.

The C.G.E. crew started early and tallied one in the first, Hope tripling and running in on an out. They counted three cheap one in the fourth, Hatton's double, three errors and a couple of stolen bases being responsible. A miscue in the fifth and hits by Johnston, Saunders and Dallin shoved the last two across and meant a change of pitchers for the other side.

Score First In Seventh

Barry had Cogs handcuffed with but one hit till the seventh when they got a run on hits by Padgett, Wood and Mein. Two walks, an error, balk and Moore's single gave the rallying Davis" team two more in the eighth, and they pushed their final one over in the ninth, Masterson walking, stealing and getting around on two outs.

1933 World Series

The sports desk of a newspaper is the recipient of many odd contributions. But one of the strangest packets to be received by The Examiner sports editor arrived a few days ago. After perusal, it was promptly dubbed the "Hunch Series" and following some discussion, it was decided to publish it. The "it" is a set of six World Series games for 1933, a forecast of what the diamond classic holds in store for the Fall. It might be interesting to see how close the long-distance prophet comes in his predictions. Anyone who has made a box score from an actual ball game will realize the amount of work that must have been involved—all for the sake of a hunch—in scoring six imaginary games! Following is the letter from the unknown dopester (whose name we would like to know confidentially) and the first series box score:

Aug. 18, 1933.

Examiner Sporting Editor,

Dear Sir: Regarding the coming World Series (1933) how do the enclosed box scores, which I have forecast, shape up in your opinion?

While neither designed teams are yet in the money, I am just playing hunches as to the starting pitchers in each game, etc.

Thanking you for the great sporting interest The Examiner has, I await to be criticized.

Peck Soccer Cup Draw Is Selected

In one hour last night, the Peterborough and District Football Association transacted all their business for the week and arranged the schedule along with the referees and linesmen.

Peck Cup Draw

The Peck Cup draw resulted as follows: On Tuesday, August 29th, Canada Packers versus Lindsay.

On Thursday night, August 31st, C.G.E. versus Caledonians.

Lindsay's request for a game with the C.G.E. on Saturday afternoon could not be granted, owing to the Electric playing the Packers in the final of the Father Phelan Cup.

Permission was given an unorganized club to play against teams in the city or outside the city. Perhap, it may be possible for them to be seen in action this Thursday night.

To-night, the Packers meet C. G.E. in an exhibition game on behalf of the St. John's Ambulance. Kick off at 6.30. Referee to be selected by teams or Ambulance executive.

On Wednesday night Lindsay is here in quest of league points against the Scotsmen on King Edward Park. Referee. A. Prick.

On Saturday afternoon, Canada Packers meet the Canadian General in the final of the Father Phelan Charity Cup. Kick off at three. Referee—A. McKinley.

YANKEES BATTLE 18 INNINGS WITH CHICAGO SOXMEN TO SET ENDURANCE MARK FOR SEASON

Teams Score in Same Innings and Each Make 11 Hits and Use Two Pitchers—Boston Braves Threaten Giants in National League Race.

(By Herbert W. Barker, A.P. Sports Writer.)

All but hopelessly outdistanced in the pennant race, New York Yankees still hang on to their knack for setting up new records of one description or another.

This time, though, it's only a new seasonal endurance mark for the American League which they established with the help of Chicago White Sox yesterday in an 18-inning battle that wound up in a 3-3 tie and left the Yankees still 8½ games behind the idle Washington Senators.

Called for Darkness

Darkness finally broke up a duel which the Yankees twice apparently had won—first in the ninth and again in the 11th. Through eight innings, Charley Devens of Havard fame and Milt Gaston pitched scoreless ball and when the Yankees pushed over a run with a three-hit attack in the ninth, it seem to be all over. Devens had allowed only two hits, but Al Simmons started the ninth with a single, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a long fly by Red Kress off Herb Pennock who had relieved Devens.

In the 11th the Yanks scored twice on hits by Dixie Walker and Ben Chapman, a pass and an infield out, but the Sox came back again to tie the score when Evar Swanson singled with the bases filled. After that it was a scoreless duel between two of the league's oldest twirlers—Pennock and Red Faber, who relieved Gaston at the start of the 12th.

Equals July 2 Mark

The 18-inning tussle equalled the major league high mark set up by New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals of the National League on July 2 and eclipsed the 17-inning game the White Sox played with Detroit Tigers August 13.

Meanwhile the third-place Cleveland Indians stretched their winning streak to seven games, downing Boston Red Sox 10-1. Monte Pearson and Bob Weiland waged a tight duel for seven frames but in the eighth the Indians broke loose for seven hits, which with two passes and an error gave them eight runs.

Detroits' pitching staff collapsed in the other American League game of the day, and the Tigers dropped a 12-7 decision to Philadelphia Athletics. Three Tiger hurlers gave up 17 hits and walked ten men.

Not a wheel turned in the National League.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

Central Press

Number 76

ALEX MORRISON says:

Among the things outside the game itself which can handicap a player are, over-eating, drnking too much and sitting down too often during a round.

Anything more than just enough food to keep up one's strength for the game is bound to be a drag on the mind and body, both of which must be at their best to produce the right swing.

Even drinking too much water during a game will affect your play. And your body balance will be affected if you sit down too often or too long between shots.

All of these things bring about a decided change in your vision on which you depend so much in judging distance and direction. Therefore they are worth considering if you want to play well.

Marathon Entrant

Ruby Prouton, 18, long distance champion swimmer of Ottawa for the past two years and only Ottawan entered in the marathon swim to be held at Toronto during the Canadian National Exhibition. Miss Prouton has been training in Ottawa since May 3rd, swimming an average of four to five miles every day, except Sunday, against a four-miles-an-hour current. Rain or shine, she can be seen training daily, only a few days ago she was caught in the middle of the Ottawa river during a severe thunderstorm with rain and wind churning the course into a miniature gale-swept sea, but she kept on with her training. She has the stamina of a real champion and is quite confident of classing herself amongst the winners at the end of that trying swimming contest of Lake Ontario this month.

TORONTO SQUAD SPLITS PROGRAM WITH SENATORS

Albany Trims Leafs 9-5 in First Contest, But Lose Second 3-1.

BOONE GETS 3 HITS.

(By Drio Robertson, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

Buffalo Bisons' drive to get into the International League playoffs to-day had carried the team managed by Ray Schalk within 2½ games of fourth place, a position held by Toronto Leafs.

Yesterday the Bisons accounted for their sixth game in the last seven starts, defeating Jersey City 11-6. The victory, coupled with the Leafs' split of a double-header with Albany Senators, allowed Bufaflo to gain a half game.

Albany trimmed Toronto 9-5 in the first game, using four pitchers to stop the Leafs' attack, but fell before the two-hit hurling of Charlie Marrow in the seven-inning night-cap and lost 3-1.

The Leafs outhit the Senators in the first contest, but two big innings, in which the boys from the New York State capital piled up eight runs proved sufficient to win the game.

George Miner, the second of the Albany pitchers, received credit for the victory while Orlin Collier, the first of three Toronto hurlers to get into action, was charged with the defeat.

A Close Contest.

Stanley Hack and Gus Dugas connected with the ony hits of Marrow in the second contest. Both were singles and came in the first inning, when the Senators scored their only run.

The Leafs bunched their blows off Edwards in the third inning to score all of their runs. Ike Boone, recovering his batting eye, connected safely three times in six trips to the plate in the two games.

Ottawa Victorias In The 2nd Round

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (CP)—Play in the third round of the Eaton Gold Cup competition and second round of the Ontario Cup resumed here to-day as the 41st annual Dominion lawn bowling tournament went into its second day. Singles competition for the Rice Trophy also got under way.

George Hunt of Ottawa Victorias advanced to the second round of the Ontario Cup with a 17-10 victory over W. B. Cowan of High Park, with two victories. The St. Matthew's rink, skipped by Harry Salisbury, present holder of the Gold Cup, the primary event, continued in competition.

Lorne Reburn of Runnymede, president of the D.B.T., was eliminated from the Gold Cup by M. Richardson of St. Matthew's.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By the Canadian Press)

Evar Swanson, White Sox— His single in 11th drove in two runs and enabled White Sox to tie Yankees in 18-inning game.

Monte Pearson, Indians—Stopped Red Sox with nine scattered hits and won, 10-1.

Frank Higgins, Athletics—Drove in three runs against Tigers with double and two singles.

TITLE BATTLES LOSE INTEREST

Barney Ross and Tony Canzoneri Signed for Next Title Go.

ON SEPTEMBER 12.

(By Edward J. Neil, A.P. Sports Writer.)

NEW YORK, August 22. — The flatic flowers that bloomed so nobly in the spring have gone definitely to seed, leaving the most promising outdoor season since the heyday of Tex Rickard to fade away in one lightweight title duel and bits of assorted minor milling here and there.

Barney Ross, the 22-year-old Chicago boy who edged out Tony Canzoneri for the lightweight title two months ago, risks it for the first time against the former champion over the 15-round route in the Polo Grounds here on September 12.

With little hope of success promoters are trying to lure Maxey Rosenbloom into an outdoor ring with John Henry Lewis, the Western negro who recently bounced the light heavyweight champ on all over the carpet, or Lou Brouillard, the chunky French-Canadian southpaw, who won himself the middleweight recognition and quite a following here by bolting out Ben Jeby in seven rounds.

But beyond this, and even these possibilities are weak; promoters here see nothing, hear nothing, and know not a thing.

The marvellous set-up that sprung up overnight among the heavyweights in June when Max Baer knocked out Max Schmeling in ten rounds and Primo Carnera flattened Jack Sharkey to take the big title in six has been neglected until now promoters feel the enthusiasm and interest resulting from these upsets will have to be stirred up all over again.

The crowning "natural" of the summer was a title battle between Carnera and Baer, and there were visions in promoters' eyes of a return of the $1,500,000 gate, a dear dead memory like the bowler hats, choke collars, and peg-top pants of another day.

Schmeling Coming Back.

To add to the exciting possibilities, Schmeling left for Europe muttering that it was all a mistake, that he'd be back in six weeks, ready to fight anyone, anywhere, for the right to regain his title. Sharkey glowered back to Boston demanding a fight a month through the fall in his comeback campaign. There has been nothing but silence from them since.

Schmeling returned to Germany, married Anny Ondra, German actress, and seems content to remain in the Black Forest, far from punches on the chin, independently wealthy. Sharkey's lust for battle has cooled. There have been five postponements of the first comeback bout he sought, a match with King Levinsky in Chicago next month. It is doubtful whether he or Schmeling will ever fight again.

As for Baer and Carnera, instead of mouthing defiance, heading into training, they're in motion picture together preparing for scenes in which they box a draw for home consumption in one bout, while in the other Carnera, for the foreign trade, knocks out the challenger. Then Carnera will go to Italy to nudge over Dan McCorkindale of South Africa, in October.

NEW MEASURES MUST BE TAKEN TO REVIVE THE FANS' INTEREST FOR 1934 MAJOR BALL SEASON

Bill Veeck Favors Mid-summer Inter-league Series as an Attraction.

COUNT IN STANDINGS.

Only One Big League Club Out of the 16 Made Money Last Year.

(By Alan Gould, A.P. Sports Editor.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Major league baseball, still struggling to climb "out of the red," must adopt the proposal for a mid-summer series of inter-league games or do something equally drastic in order to revive interest in 1934, is the belief of William L. (Bill) Veeck, President of Chicago Cubs.

"There is no use kidding ourselves any longer," Veeck told The Associated Press to-day. "Only one big league club out of 16 made money last year. Some of us have hopes of breaking even this season, unless the pennant races continue to fall out from under us.

"We can't go on operating on the same basis as we did twenty-five years ago. If we don't cut admission prices or make the game more attractive, we certainly will be up against a further loss of patronage.

Create Wider Interest

"I can speak definitely for the Chicago Cubs when I say we are heartily in favor of helping solve the situation and create a wider interest by arranging a series of inter-league games in mid-season.

"It is a fact now, undisputed by any club owner who studies the returns, that from July 5 to the middle of August, major league baseball is in the doldrums. These five or six weeks are the game's "dog days," so far as public interest in a sport that runs for so long—too long if I may express another conviction of mine.

"What then is more natural than to break up this monotony of mid-season by scheduling a series of games between clubs of rival leagues? Let the Yankees and Athletics play the Cubs and the Giants; the Tigers play the Pirates; the Chicago White Sox meet the St. Louis Cardinals, and so on.

"I don't mean exhibition games, either, but games that will count in the standings of the clubs. They wouldn't be worth three loud cheers unless there was just as much at stake as there is in a regular league game. The whole sport would be refreshened and livened. Don't you think Giant rooters would flock to see their favorites try to flatten the Yankees now or vice versa?"

Moguls Turning to Idea

Veeck's attitude toward the necessity of a radical prescription for baseball's health is well known, but the Cub President's emphasis upon the inter-league proposal was accompanied by indications that the magnates seriously are turning to the idea. If it isn't adopted at the league meetings this winter, Veeck thinks the "split season" schedule will be considered.

"Just because the minor leagues have tried the split season successfully is no reason why the majors could not do the same thing," Veeck said.

Jack Sharkey Signs To Fight Loughran

BOSTON, Aug. 22. — Another step in Jack Sharkey's comeback campaign was taken yesterday when articles were signed for a 15-round bout between the former heavyweight champion and Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, at one of the Philadelphia baseball parks the night of Sept. 27.

The fight will be only 12 days after Sharkey's bout with King Levinsky at Chicago, Sept. 15. Johnny Buckley, Sharkey's manager, said that the former champion planned an arduous comeback campaign.

He will box for the New York Madison Square Garden in late October and in Boston in November, Buckley said and then hopes to meet Max Baer at Miami, Fla., during the Winter to earn the right to fight Primo Carnera again for the heavyweight crown.

The contract signed to-day guaranteed Sharkey $25,000 or 40 per cent. of the gate.

Rudy Fried and Morris Fishman represented the Arena Corporation of Philadelphia at the signing to-day. Fried said he expected the fight, the first 15-rounder to be staged in Philadelphia, to draw $200,000.

Home Run Kings

(By The Canadian Press)

Home runs yesterday—Carnegie, Buffalo, 1; Crouse, Buffalo, 1; Phelps, Albany, 1; Gallivan, Buffalo, 1; Rosenfeld, Jersey City, 1.

Home run leaders: Arlett, Baltimore, 35; Solters, Baltimore, 31; Carnegie, Buffalo, 27; Tucker, Buffalo, 24; Shaver, Montreal, 19; Winsett, Montreal, 19.

League total—636.

Breaks Own Record

Bert Pearson, blond Canadian Olympic flash from Hamilton, ran the 220-yard final dash with a heavily taped ankle and lowered his own Canadian record one-fifth of a second, winning in 21 1-5 seconds. Agnes Morris also clipped one-fifth of a second off the 220-yard dash, of which she holds the Canadian record. The meet was held at Thorold, Ont., recently, where competitors from several American cities met against their Canadian rivals.

BOWLING NOTES

(By Herb Martin)

The Dominion Lawn Bowling Association commenced their annual tournament yesterday at several of the bowling clubs in Toronto. This tournament is looked upon by bowlers as the outstanding bowling event in the Dominion of Canada. Not many years ago the entry for this tournament was well over two hundred but for the past few years it has dwindled down till this year only sixty-eight rinks are competing. In order to have support at these tournaments, it is necessary for the Toronto clubs to support outside events, and this, the writer thinks, is the main reason for the falling off in attendance. Speaking for the Peterborough Club, up until this year we have had very little support from Toronto at our tournaments, but some of our boys go to the Dominion every year, and if it was not for the support this event gets from the smaller and outside places the tournament would be a failure. It is just as far to go from Peterborough to Toronto as from Toronto to Peterborough, and often costs a lot more.

Peterborough is represented this year by a rink skipped by George Cairns, who is supported by H. Freeman, B. Chesler, and J. D. Fitzpatrick.

Any of the bowlers who wish to play off their game of doubles may do so by reporting to R. Hendry, and he in turn will allot greens.

E.P.L. Doubleheader Played This Evening

An E.P.L. double-header, consisting of two five-inning games, is slated to start at five o'clock—though it will likely be some twenty minutes later—to-night at the Exhibition Grounds. Cogs and C.G.E. will wind up their titular series and the winner will journey to Havelock to-morrow (Wednesday) in the first O.B.A.A. playdown game. C.G.E. must win both games th's evening to retain possession of the loop championship. A large crowd is expected.

Manager Frank Barrie will likely start Lefty Dunkerley, and have Harold Ralph in reserve. The Cogs may send Masterson back in, though Vannest is the logical starting choice. Four games have been played in this series to date, Cogs winning the first easily, being tied in the second, squeezing out a win in the third and being nosed out in the fourth. Anything may happen to-night in the final drive toward the title.

BERT PEARSON MAY NOT COMPETE AT THE C.N.E.

TORONTO, Aug. 22 (CP)—Announcement that Bert Pearson, Hamilton's 19-year-old sprint star, may not be a starter in the Canadian National Exhibition Athletic Day Meet, Saturday, Sept. 2, has dampened the hopes of those who expected to see him clash with Harry Coleman of Winnipeg.

In the recent Canadian championships at Fort William, Coleman sprang a surprise when he defeated Pearson in the final of the 100 yards. Then when Coleman filed his entry for the Exhibition Meet it was expected the two would meet again, but it is understood Pearson is considering an invitation to participate in a meet at Halifax on Labor Day, Sept. 4.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball—Softball—Lacrosse Soccer—Wrestling, and Others

(By C. J. P.)

Two abbreviated E.P.L. playoff games are on the books tonight at the Exhibition Grounds, starting at five bells. C.G.E. and Cogs will play a double-header, each game going five innings, with points to count in case of a tie. In other words, the Electrics must win both games to gain the title. If Cogs win the first, a second fixture will be unnecessary. This was decided at a meeting after last night's game, as the winner must play its first playdown round game in Havelock Wednesday.

* * * * * *

The officers of the loop figured this was the fairest way to settle the issue, since the three-out-of-five E.P.L. playoff series has dragged to a point where it would be bucking the O.B.A.A. if they didn't have a winner for Wednesday. Cogs have won two games and tied one of the four played so far. So the two short tilts this evening will clean up the whole affair and see the league champion crowned. Another huge crowd will doubtless be on hand, and we imagine Frank Barrie will pin his hopes for that important first game on Lefty Dunkerley. Remember it's at five bells.

* * * * * *

The Electrics showed they are not out of it yet by taking Cogs, 6 to 4, last night before a big crowd of fans. It was a lively affair, with both sides booting the ball around enough to make it interesting. Jack Barry again hurled fine ball, though they were beginning to get to him in the later stages. Lefty Billingsley, he of the slow, tricky bender and the unexpected snaps to first when runners are catching up on their beauty naps, failed to get by—due chiefly to errors by his fellow players. Masterson finished it up strong.

* * * * * *

Johnston, at second for C.G.E., went nice defensively as did Padgett at the keystone cushion for the other bunch. But some of the others looked like the Kingston infield last Saturday. They'll have to be on their toes this evening, and the winning crew will have to keep right on playing snappy ball as the competition gets plenty keen in the O.B.A.A. playdowns.

* * * * * *

The Sugar Bowl softballers had a keen workout at Central last p.m. in a final preparation for their game against Smith-Baldwins in Lindsay tonight. Lefty Sturgeon will start on the mound for the Dormer crew and they'll try hard to cop their first contest. We understand the Scugog outfit is stronger than the one Sugar Bowl saw and conquered in the first O.A.S.A. round last season. Next game will be here, at Stevenson Park, Thursday.

* * * * * *

We've been informed that there will be no gals' playoff game at the Bowl Thursday, so as to give softball followers a chance to see the men's O.A.S.A. contest here that night, without having to miss the next Keene-Westclox sparring match. Good stuff, that—was running two games, important tilts too, the same e'en, would hurt both gates, and at the same time force some fans to miss one when they might want to get an eyeful of both fixtures. While sordid coin is always an unpleasant subject to discuss—unless you're bragging about having a carload—still, dough is very necessary for expenses in amateur sports, also.

* * * * * *

If the weather's halfway oke to-night, quite an exodus of Westclox rooters is expected to ankle down to the village for that second game—8-8 was the first in case you were away fishing somewhere. The Little Bens (you hesitate to say "big" when speaking of the fair ones) may be shorthanded to-night, three or four being on the injured list. Barb Blade injured the ligaments of her pitching arm, Dot Webb twisted her leg in Saturday's game, Laura Chartren has been out with a cracked rib, while Mildred Mortimer fainted running the bases the last fray. Tough on the team, particularly as it is weak on reserve strength. This is the worst season in softball for injuries since hoop skirts were quite the thing.

* * * * * *

This dot on the map comes into its own in the world of sports along about hayfever time, and we're right smack in the middle of it now. Seems to be playoffs, baseball, lacrosse, softball, and an etcetera or two, almost every night—but does that slow the fans up? Not on your tin-type. They simply flock out for every game of any importance, and very few towns this size and considerably bigger in Ontario—and this isn't baloney—can boast of such consistently good crowds over a lengthy period of semi-final and final games every August, and part of September. Yeah, Peter Robinson's borough is a hot spot for sports.

* * * * * *

Grab-bag: Maple Leaf lasses play Bethany at the Bowl Wednesday p.m. . . . . Brintons were unable to field a team at the last minute for last night's setto . . . . Dozens of rabid fans here are going around praising the almost-perfect and the impartial umpiring of Sheppard and Oswin in the C.O.B.L. series (it's a pleasure to watch two umps of their calibre and in complete control of the game at work) . . . . Petes' Juniors, lacrossers, practise at the Bowl rink tomorrow at 6.15, and play a postponed game Thursday in Port Hope . . . . Bheuler's and Examiner All-Stars play one of those softball spasms at seven Wednesday at Central . . . . Next gals' playoff here will likely be Sat'day.

CLIFF DWELLER DIES

PITTSBURGH.—A man known only as "George the Cliff Dweller" died suddenly from an attack of epilepsy.

So steep was the Duquesne Heights hillside where his shack was perched, the coroner couldn't get his body to the morgue ambulance.

Friends of the dead man formed a human chain and passed the body, bound to a stretcher, down the declivity.

Jack Patte defeated Ches Richmond in the first round of men's singles in yesterday's local Open Tennis Tournament play, 4-6, 6-2, and 7-5; and Jack Kirkwood won from Louis Chesler 6-1 and 6-2. Cowling and Donaldson won the men's doubles, first round, by default; and the second round play saw Cotton and Wilson defeat F. D. Kerr and Dr. Hewitt, 6-1 and 9-7. G. Kirkwood took the junior men's singles first round by default.

In the ladies' singles first round, Grace Caddy took a hard match from Ann Macdonald, 6-8, 6-4, and 6-1. Miss K. Benson and Miss M. Benson won the first round ladies' doubles by default. The second round saw Misses Pickering and Dixon defeat the Misses Benson, 3-6, 6-2, and 6-4.

The quarter-final singles must be under way by Wednesday evening. Following is the draw: Cotton vs. Freemantle; Kirkwood vs. Patte; Nicholls vs. Rigby; Scott vs. Donaldson. The men's doubles should be into the semi-finals by Wednesday night.

Holds Amateur Title

Staging as theatrical a finish as ever won the Quebec amateur golf championship, Jack Cameron of Laval retained his Quebec amateur title recently by outscoring a field of 56 players over the course of the Islemere club, shooting rounds of 73 and 76 in the 36-hole medal play event. The victory gave Cameron the honor being the only player to hold the Quebec title for two successive years.

DOROTHY ROUND IS THREAT TO MOODY

Singles and Doubles Matches Will Likely Be Played To-day.

FOREST HILL, N.Y., Aug. 22.—(A. P.)— Dorothy Round, young English star who took a set from Helen Wills Moody in the 1933 Wimbledon finals, to-day remained a real threat for the United States' tennis title as better weather was awaited to clean up the two remaining semi-final matches—one in singles and one in doubles—and thus pave the way for the finals, now scheduled for to-morrow.

Mrs. Moody reached the singles final Sunday but only after she had surrendered a set to Betty Nuthall. Mrs. Moody, still troubled with a back injury was far from the invincible Helen of other years, and either Miss Round or Helen Jacobs, the defending champion, was conceded at least an outside chance of beating her. Miss Round and Miss Jacobs were slated to play their semi-final match to-day, weather permitting. An early rain, however, made a start look unlikely.

The other duel on the program, in doubles was a match between Mrs. Moody and Elizabeth Ryan, and Miss Round and Mary Heeley, the winners to face Miss Nuthall and Freda James in the final round.

"HIT HIM OFF and win a prize!" says the carnival grifter. "Knock the cat off the fence and take home a baby doll!" The local ball team star pitcher decides to get one for his girl friend. "Okay!" he says. "Let me have those balls!" "Don't forget," reminds the grifter, "you've got to knock him off the shelf...." The sucker smiles confidently, and pitches.

"Ooops! Too bad buddy," says the grifter. "Pretty close, though. A little more steam on the ball and you'd have had it. Try it again?" The sucker hesitates, and the grifter signals his shill—his confederate—and sets the cat up again.

The shill pitches. Boy! What a pitching arm that man must have! See that cat go off that shelf! The sucker, encouraged by the demonstration, tries again....and again, and again. He doesn't know that he can't win!

And here's why: Inside the cat there is an S-shaped tube, holding enough mercury to weight it down and keep it from sliding on the shelf or doing anything but tip over when it is hit. Before the grifter sets it up for his shill he runs the mercury into the top chamber, raising the center of gravity so that an easy tap will knock it off the shelf.

DOUG TOWNSEND IS RE-ELECTED

President of Kawartha Park Cottagers' Association Annual Meeting.

HAVE CREDIT BALANCE.

KAWARTHA PARK, Aug. 22. — The annual meeting of the Kawartha Park Cottagers' Association was held on Saturday evening, the chair being occupied by Charles Stanton, vice-president, owing to the inability of the president, Doug. Townsend, to be present on account of illness. The financial report of the treasurer, Frank Adams, showed a satisfactory balance on the right side.

The report from Harry Rogers, covering the community picnic and the annual regatta, showed a surplus of $6.20 to be turned into the treasury.

The generous offer of Ed. Ship, of Ryrie-Birks-Ellis, jewellers, of a championship cup to be donated by the firm for the winner of the greatest number of points in each annual regatta was accepted.

This cup was won this year by Miss Madeline Charlton. A miniature cup will also be presented by the association for permanent keeping.

A vote of appreciation was heartily carried for the generous donations from the following firms of prizes for the regatta: Ryrie-Birks-Ellis, jewellers; Peterborough Canoe Co., Gray Copping, Johnson Engine Co., Warne Bros., jewellers; Mr. McColl, Geo. Robertson and W. Richardson.

A lengthy discussion followed on the present condition of the concession road leading into the park, and a committee appointed to petition the road inspector for assistance and much needed repairs.

The election of officers for the coming year resulted as follows:

President—Doug. Townsend.
Vice-President—Charles Stanton.
Secretary (pro tem) — Harry Rogers.
Treasurer—Frank Adams.
Road commissioner—J. V. Williamson.

MISERY, POLITENESS, GOOD RESOLUTIONS

ARE YOU POLITE? Can you do the self-forgetting thing?....A doctor told me that once, in a hospital delivery room, while she was helping another woman to bring a child into the world—and the mother was suffering agonies—she looked up at the doctor and said, "You look terribly tired, doctor. You ought to go somewhere and get some sleep. I can stand this for a few more hours, and you come back in the morning and I'll have the baby then."

Can you imagine a man being so polite, in pain?....I can, but only if I try very hard.

• • •

Do you know the story of the waiting father who paced up and down, up and down, in the hall, worried, suffering, haggard and moaning, "I hope it's a girl. I hope it's a girl—then she'll never have to go through what I'm going through now!"

• • •

Misery, they say, loves company. ....But I've yet to see that proved. The miserable one may love company but only the company of the miserable, and then only so that they may swap comparisons of their misery....If the miserable fellow fails into the company of the gay and the optimistic then he hates all humanity from the depths of his heart and flees from it to the depths of some far and lonely cactus thicket.

• • •

If you want to change your ways, make a public announcement of your good resolution. Put yourself on record....Then if you fail, you are condemned as a weak fellow whose backbone is formed of putty and rubber....But if you promise only yourself, you can easily explain away your failure. It wasn't your fault at all, not at all.

• • •

I heard a young fellow say: "I intend to live my own life."....I hope he does. I know he will.... Because, in fact, you cannot live any other life than your own. If you try, you will mess it up.

Infantile Paralysis Cases at Bowmanville

Infantile paralysis is again breaking out in several sections of Central Ontario, Dr. N. H. Sutton, District Officer of Health for seven counties, said yesterday. This outbreak has culminated in a death over the week-end of a child at Bowmanville and it is reported that another child in the same town probably has the disease.

Cases of infantile paralysis have also been reported recently in Prince Edward County and in North Hastings, Dr. Sutton stated, in admitting that the situation had serious features. However, he stated, all the medical men in the district were co-operating fully with Provincial Health authorities here in controlling its spread. Serum has been sent out regularly wherever the dread disease was suspected.

Except for infantile paralysis, Dr. Sutton said, the whole district is remarkably clear of all communicable diseases.

Lead Ireland's New Blue Shirt Organization

Leaders of the Irish Blue Shirts in Dublin—the organization is reported to be the Free State branch of the Fascists. In centre is General Eoin O'Ducy, chief of the group, who was recently attacked by a mob while returning home from a meeting of the Army Comrades' Association. He was saved, however by members of the Civic Guard. Not long ago a projected parade of Blue Shirts was called off in Dublin after orders against it were issued by President Eamon De Valera. Left to right—Commander Cronin, E. Blythe, General O'Duffy, Colonel J. Ryan, and Dr. T. O'Higgins.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL

"GOLD DIGGERS OF 1933"

There is plenty of fun in this feature, also a line-up of well-known actors and actresses and some spectacular sequences. Large crowds, matinee and night, greeted its opening here yesterday for four days' entertainment, and the audience appeared to greet it like an old friend. Apparently, the picture didn't have to sell itself to them. They were warmed up, right at the start, to think it a marvellous piece of fun, and greeted it with enthusiasm, accordingly.

"Gold Diggers of 1933" has a little bit of everything—excitement, fun, romance, backstage stuff, trick dancing—those "precision patterns" that have made such a hit recently, with a sky view of dancing maidens in geometric formations — and wise-cracking. Aline McMahon, as Trixie Lorraine, does her stuff in the 'gag' line, and Guy Kipple plays opposite her, as 'Fanny' Peabody, an elderly solicitor who goes haywire among the chorus girls.

Then there is Warren William, in a not-so-suave-as-usual role, making love to another chorus girl, the blonde and pretty Carol (Joan Blondell), the large-eyed Ruby Keeler has the main feminine part, as Polly Parker, an Dick Powell, with the nice singing voice, is the hero of the play, 'Brad.' And don't forget the icy-faced Ned Sparks, as the producer of the play which forms the background for the picture, for a "play within a play" makes the setting for the "Gold Diggers."

The picture has much the same idea and cast as "42nd Street," with a farcical element to the story of the making of a Broadway production. The music is entertaining and easy to listen to, with rather more melody than most of the modern songs. Ginger Rogers opens with "We're in the Money" and "In the Shadows" and "The Forgotten Man" make the big musical moments of the entertainment.

There are several very amusing moments: one with the naughty baby on roller-skates chased by cops; another with Kibbee recalling his 'fluffy' and chorus-girl ycuth; and the third when the 'gold diggers' try it out on Kibbee and William.

The show proper, as pictured within the picture, has some extremely beautiful episodes of the extravaganza type, in which an illuminated viol dancing number is extraordinarily good.

The picture gets in a bit of propaganda, as so many of the talkies do now. It ends up with a picturization of the sufferings of the 'forgotten man,' otherwise the man of the trenches and the firing line, in a rather curious finale to a farce-extravaganza-girl show.

The short reels also follow out the entertainment flavor of the entire program. They include a farcical presentation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "Betty Boop's Birthday" in which the sad-eyed baby doll gets gay with the father of his country.

80 RICHMOND ST. WEST LIMITED

NOTICE OF MEETING OF HOLDERS OF FIRST MORTGAGE (CLOSED) TWENTY YEAR SINKING FUND BONDS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That The Royal Trust Company (hereinafter called the "Trustee") as Trustee for the Holders of the First Mortgage (Closed) Twenty Year Sinking Fund Bonds issued under Mortgage Deed of Trust dated as of May 1st, 1929, made between 80 Richmond Street West Limited (hereinafter called the "Company") and The Royal Trust Company, has called a Meeting of the Holders of the said Bonds to be held at Dining Room No. 10, Royal York Hotel, Toronto, on Wednesday, the 13th Day of September, 1933, at the hour of 11 o'clock in the Forenoon, for the purpose of considering and if deemed advisable passing an extraordinary resolution or resolutions:

(a) To confirm and ratify generally actions theretofore taken by the Trustee and in particular the action of the Trustee in negotiating an option to buy in all mechanics' liens against the Mortgaged Premises for a total purchase price of $25,000.00 as of June 29th, 1933, plus interest on such amount at the rate of Six per cent. per annum from that date up to the date of exercise of the option;

(b) To consider and if thought fit to sanction the payment by the Trustee of the sum of $912.62 to the agent who negotiated the said option for expenses incurred and services rendered in the obtaining of such option, such payment to be made only out of the proceeds of any sale of the Mortgaged Premises but irrespective of whether or not the option is exercised;

(c) To consider and if thought fit to sanction the payment by the Trustee of a further commission of $7,500.00 to the said agent for his services in securing the same, such commission to be payable only out of the proceeds of any sale of the Mortgaged Premises, and then only in the event of the exercise by the Trustee of such option;

(d) To consider any offers to purchase the Mortgaged Premises received by the Trustee and if thought fit to authorize the Trustee to accept any of such offers;

(e) To authorize the Trustee to enter into an agreement with the Company to give effect to the modification of the Trust Deed proposed by the Company whereby the provisions as to giving notice of Meetings of Bondholders by advertisement are altered so as to require publication of such notice once only in a daily newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Toronto;

(f) Generally to instruct the Trustee with regard to its further actions in the premises.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN, That pursuant to the powers contained in the said Mortgage Deed of Trust, the following regulations have been made for the purpose of enabling the holders of Bearer Bonds to be present and vote at the Meeting, without producing their Bonds and enabling them to be present and vote by proxy:

A holder of Bearer Bonds desiring to be present and vote without production of such Bonds shall first deposit such Bonds with any Trust Company or Chartered Bank or Department of a Provincial or the Dominion Government or any other depositary satisfactory to the Trustee, and a certificate of such deposit, signed by the Depositary and stating the amount and distinguishing numbers of the Bonds and that the same will remain so deposited during two calendar months ensuing from the date of such certificate or until the final adjournment of the said Meeting whichever shall be longer shall be produced at the Meeting by a holder of Bearer Bonds desiring to vote in person without production of such Bonds at the Meeting, or be attached to or produced with any proxy executed by the holder of Bearer Bonds. Any such certificate shall be satisfactory evidence for the purpose of action by the Trustee on the faith thereof.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN, That the said Mortgage Deed of Trust provides in substance as follows:

That holders of registered Bonds may, by instrument in writing under their hands, and stating the numbers of the Bonds regarding which they are entitled to vote, appoint any person as their proxy to vote at the Meeting for them, and that save as aforesaid and as provided by the above regulations, the only persons who shall be recognized at the Meeting as the holders of Bonds or as entitled to vote or be present at the Meeting in respect thereof, shall be the persons who produce unregistered Bonds at the Meeting and the registered Bondholders.

Bondholders are requested to make every effort to attend the Meeting in person or by proxy as the questions to be considered thereat are of great importance to the Bondholders, and it is necessary that Bonds to the face value of Two Hundred and Seventy-Three Thousand Five Hundred Dollars be represented thereat in order to constitute a quorum.

DATED at Toronto the 14th Day of August, 1933.

THE ROYAL TRUST COMPANY, Trustee for the Bondholders.

Suitable forms of proxy and certificates of deposit may be obtained at the office of The Royal Trust Company at Toronto. The Royal Trust Company cannot undertake to act as proxy, and proxies should not, therefore, be executed in its favour.

BATTERED COAST COUNTING LOSS

Toll by Drownings Reaches Nine—Tide Does Heavy Damage.

ALL PLANES GROUNDED

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. (CP)—A whiplash gale that has taken at least nine lives still stung part of the eastern seaboard to-day. Rain, driving down in record-shattering volume, increased damage done by waves and tide.

New Jersey, battered by freak winds that overwhelmed boats and bathers in giant combers, counted perhaps a score still missing, and braced itself to withstand the lash of a tropical hurricane's tail.

The centre of this second disturbance, sweeping from the general direction of Bermuda, was described as diminishing in force as it bore down on the eastern seaboard.

In southern New Jersey, where a northeaster scattered 100 boats Sunday and capsized at least nine, record rains fell early to-day. At Atlantic City 2.25 inches—the average for a whole month—fell in a single hour. Streets were flooded and the morning high tide, it was feared, would inflict great damage.

Planes Grounded

Aeroplanes in the metropolitan area, and as far north as Albany were grounded. Planes returning to New York from the Canadian air pageant at Montreal were forced to put in at Albany for the night.

To the seven dead definitely counted on Sunday, two more were added yesterday. Harold Lichten, 40, of Germantown, Pa. drowned when a pleasure boat capsized Sunday. His wife and two small sons were rescued.

Dr. Charles McArthur, 57, a well known physician and amateur artist of South Orange, N.J., was torn by the waves from the deck of a fishing boat off Beaconhen Inbet N.J., and drowned.

Three small pleasure boats were still officially missing and coast guardsmen at Cape May feared that others might be out in the gale, or perhaps sunk by its force.

BURNBRAE CONGREGATION HONOR REV. AND MRS. D. A. McKENZIE

Purse of Money And Floor Lamp Given to Popular Minister And Wife On Departure.

IN CHARGE NINE YEARS

CAMPBELLFORD, August 22 (Examiner Staff Correspondence).—Completing nine years' good and faithful ministry at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Burnbrae, the Rev. Donald A. McKenzie and Mrs. McKenzie were remembered and honored by their congregation last Thursday evening, when, meeting in a body on the manse lawn, Mr. McKenzie was presented with a well filled purse of money as an appreciation of his faithful ministrations to his flock, and Mrs. McKenzie was the recipient of a handsome electric floor lamp, a token of esteem and appreciation of her work in the community and in the church. The presentation to Mr. McKenzie was made by William Bennett, and that to Mrs. McKenzie by Mrs. George Craighead.

Mr. McKenzie will retire from the active work of the ministry of the Presbyterian Church, and will preach his last sermon at St. Andrew's Church on Sunday, August 27. He will live in retirement south of Peterborough. Ill-health necessitated this step on the part of this active and well-reasoned minister of the church, and his departure will be a loss to the whole community. He and his devoted wife will carry with them the well wishes of all classes and creeds in the Campbellford district.

Accompanying the presentation an address of appreciation was read to Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie by Alexander Milne, Clerk of the Session, as follows:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie,—

Your many friends at Burnbrae have gathered together tonight to express to you their heartfelt appreciation of your faithful service during the nine years you have ministered to this congregation. It was with deep regret we learned of your decision to retire from active service in this place.

You both have been very active in every department of church work and we know your labor has not been in vain. The sermons you have preached, the kind words spoken, and the good deeds done will still be bearing fruit long after you have gone.

While you were laboring for the good of all, you were also laboring for the Master, to the end that souls might be born into His Kingdom. We are sorry that your condition of health has caused you to take this step. I can assure you that wherever you may go you will leave behind you a large number of true friends, whose prayer for you will be that God's richest blessing may be with you.

On behalf of your many friends, we ask you to accept these gifts, and as you use them from time to time, may they bring to your remembrance many pleasant days spent at old Burnbrae.

Signed on behalf of the congregation and friends: Alexander Milne, Clerk of the Session; William Bennett, Chairman, Board of Managers; Mrs. A. Pollock, President, Ladies' Aid Society.

Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie were both taken by surprise, and thanked the congregation for their address and gifts, and wished St. Andrew's Church, Burnbrae, great success.

A social evening featured the occasion, Mr. McKenzie welcoming the many friends to the manse. Items on the musical program included: Music and encore, Miss Pauline Ingram and brothers Douglas and Clare; solo and encore, Miss Susie Atkinson; duet and encore, Messrs. Malcolm Hutcheon and Alfred Taylor; music, Miss Susie Atkinson and Miss Grace Ingram; duet, Messrs. Malcolm and Howard Hutcheon; solo, Alfred Gifford; music, the Ingram Orchestra.

When Mr. McKenzie's resignation as minister at Burnbrae was considered by the Presbytery of Kingston, the following resolution was unanimously passed:

"Moved by the Rev. S. M. Scott B.A., Picton, and seconded by Rev. A. G. Cameron, B.A., Descronto, that we accept with sincere regret the resignation of the Rev. D. A. McKenzie from his charge at Burnbrae, and we place on record as to Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie's faithful and effective ministry throughout his nine years at Burnbrae, his zeal and ability as a Presbyterian and his inherent work as a Christian minister. We wish Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie God-speed wherever they may go."

FARM PROPERTY SWEPT BY FIRE

House, Barn, Crop Reduced To Ashes—Partly Insured.

MARSH IN FLAMES.

LINDSAY, Aug. 21.—Early Sunday morning a disastrous fire occurred on the farm of J. Henderson, near Sunderland, when the barn, residence and large kitchen house were completely destroyed. The Henderson family was in Orillia at the time. All the farm machinery, the household furniture and entire crop went up in smoke. The loss is a heavy one and only partly covered by insurance.

Big Marsh Blaze

This afternoon fire of a mysterious origin broke out in the huckleberry marsh on the farm of J. Harcus, two miles north of Oakwood. The fire covered a stretch of marsh about a mile wide and a mile long, and the flames licked it up like matchwood. The whole countryside turned out to battle the blaze, and the smoke was carried in dense volumes for many miles. The fire fighters succeeded in keeping the blaze from spreading to other farms and destroying dwellings.

Moving to Peterborough

Mr. T. J. Carley, well-known Fenelon Falls lawyer, is leaving that village on September 1st to become associated with his uncle, Mr. R. R. Hall, K.C., Peterborough. Mr. Carley took a deep interest in the affairs of the village, being a member of the Board of Trade, Library Board and other organizations. He contested the riding of Victoria and Haliburton as Liberal candidate at the last Federal election.

William Best Buried

The funeral of the late William Best of Ops, a former member of the township municipal council, took place on the week end from the family residence to St. Mary's church and thence to the parish cemetery. The deceased leaves to mourn his loss three sons, Thomas, of Peterborough, Joseph of Port Arthur, Fabian of Lindsay; three daughters, Teresa of Peterborough, Catherine of Chicago, Ellen of Port Arthur, and one sister, Mrs. Chas. Collins of Lindsay.

New Soviet Envoy

Viscount Chilston, who recently was appointed British Ambassador to Moscow, succeeding Sir Esmond Ovey, who was withdrawn several months ago as an outgrowth of the trial of British engineers in the U.S.R.R. on espionage charges. The Viscount is shown walking in Pall Mall, London, en route to his office. Resumption of full diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia followed the recent signing of a commercial treaty.

WHEAT DUMPING IS NOT PLANNED BY AMERICANS

Deny All Such Reports and Stress United States' Desire to Co-operate.

DRAFT AGREEMENT.

Hopeful Outlook Prevails at Great World Wheat Conference.

LONDON, Aug. 22 (C.P. and A.P. Cable)—Reports the United States would resort to dumping its wheat on the world wheat markets to get rid of its surplus were authoritatively denied yesterday, while the resumed World Wheat Conference adjourned until Wednesday after receiving the draft text of a proposed agreement between the leading exporting and importing countries for stabilizing the world wheat market and raising the price of wheat.

Delegates were hopeful of reaching an agreement shortly. The conference is adjourned until Wednesday when, it is expected, representatives of the importing countries will have received instructions from their governments on the draft text.

Not to Dump

Frederick E. Murphy, American wheat delegate, said that even if no agreement was reached, the United States would not resort to dumping.

The United States, Murphy declared, would try to maintain the wheat price at a reasonable level in the event the nations represented at the conference failed to get together on a program.

America would consider means of getting rid of the surplus, he explained, but there was no idea of upsetting the market by dumping.

Submit Draft

Hopeful of reaching agreement shortly for stabilizating world wheat markets and raising the price, the chief wheat exporting countries of the world yesterday afternoon submitted the draft of an agreement to the principal importing countries, as the World Wheat Conference resumed deliberations at Canada House.

This draft runs as follows: "The wheat importing countries being desirous of co-operating with the wheat exporting countries in order to establish a balance between production and consumption of wheat and bring about a rise and stabilization of prices at a level remunerative to the farmer; and in accordance with the principles approved by the Economic Commission of the World Monetary and Economic Conference in the report of the subcommission for the co-ordination of production and marketing:

The Proposals

"1.—Agree henceforth not to encourage any extension of the area sown to wheat, and not to take any governmental measures the effect of which would be to increase the domestic production of wheat.

"2.—Agree to adopt every possible measure to increase the consumption of wheat, and are prepared to bring about progressive removal of measures which tend to lower the quality of breadstuffs and thereby decrease human consumption of wheat.

"3.—Agree that a substantial improvement in the price of wheat should have as its consequence a lowering of customs tariffs, and are prepared to begin such adjustment of customs tariffs when the international price of wheat reaches and maintains for a specified period an average price to be fixed.

"It is understood that the rate of duty necessary to assure remunerative prices may vary for the different countries but will not be sufficiently high to encourage their farmers to expand their wheat acreage.

CONDITIONS IN LENINGRAD SHOW VAST IMPROVEMENT

The proletarian cap is no longer universal and well-cut business suits have come in the place of the formerly ubiquitous peasant-shirt. The motor traffic has increased considerably in Leningrad and I saw hundreds of people on brand-new bicycles, with here and there a motorcycle with side-car. On the Champ de Mars, facing the old quarters of the czar's guard regiments, a score of individuals were executing their first hesitating manoeuvres on the new Soviet cycles, with many a fall and many a hearty laugh from the bystanders to encourage and discourage them.

Dropping in the blue-porcelain mosque built by Nicholas II., I was suprised to see workmen buisly repairing the mosaic in the ceiling and I was informed by the Mohammedan iman that the sixty thousand Moslems in Leningrad are filling this place of worship more than ever before. "In the old days," said the iman, "this mosque was used almost exclusively on gala occasions when some Oriental potentate was visiting the Czar; now it is a truly popular gathering place and we are crowded every Friday" (the Moslem holy day).

Scarcity of Food

Things that were virtually absent a year ago now abounded. Animated crowds filled the stores. Buying was brisk. I saw kodaks for sale and women's handbags, perfumery, necklaces and other trinkets of that kind, fancy lamps and furniture, blankets, carpets, table ware, not the old material from the palaces of the aristocracy but newly manufactured stuff, and plenty of wearing apparel of all kinds. The light industry of Russia must be picking up, for there were scarcely any empty stores on the boulevards and on the side streets.

There is still a scarcity of food, however, meat principally, but dainties and delicatessen can be had in abundance. Grocery stores, many, many new ones, had large stocks of canned goods I noticed. They were jammed with people. Of vegetables there seemed no lack, for while the shops closed at four o'clock last year, because the supply ran out at that time of day, this year they were still open at nine in the evening and crowded with buyers. This would tend to show, I should think, that there is a far greater supply on hand. Of course I cannot say whether this applies to the whole country, and it is a well-known fact that Moscow and Leningrad lie both in an area rich in market-gardening and dairy farms. Hence the plentifulness of vegetables, butter and milk, as I saw it here, may not apply elsewhere.

Citizens More Optimistic

What struck me with particular force was an announcement of a forthcoming dog show and the report in the papers that 60,000 people had that day witnessed a football match between an All-Russian and an All-Turkish team. Such things were practically unthinkable a year ago. On all sides I heard reports of a bad winter just behind. Things had been tight owing to the failure of the harvest the year before. People said that although they had not suffered themselves, there had been extreme hardship in the Ukraine and in the Northern Caucasus. I am going down there to see for myself and talk with the peasants and see something of the harvesting of the crop, I hope, which is reported to be far above the average.

On the whole I received a favorable impression of this visit to Leningrad after a year's absence. The feeling of anxiety has unquestionably subsided. There is a spirit of optimism abroad—in this city at any rate. There must be a sound basis for it. Optimism does not drop out of the sky without any reason or cause. As one interested in the welfare of his fellow-human beings everywhere, regardless of the form of government in practice, I could not feel otherwise than happy about the change for the better, which I noticed distinctly. Poverty and squalor are bad and ugly to contemplate wherever they may appear.

Housing Shortage

In the afternoon I took the road that leads to the Putiloff works. An entire new district had grown up there of apartment houses; solidly-built and comfortable looking places. I dropped in here and there but found that the housing shortage persists. They cant' build fast enough apparently. Families seldom had more than two rooms. On the other hand near the Arch of Triumph, erected by Alexander I., on the occasion of Napoleon's defeat, an immense department store had been built and opened. Across the street a club, housing a theatre with 5 000 seating capacity, two movies, libraries, reading rooms, baths and rooms for physical exercise had come into being. Another clubhouse of the same sort and dimensions was under construction about a quarter of a mile up the road. So that even if the housing shortage remains acute, there are places for the workers to spend their leisure hours in pleasant and inspiring surroundings.

LIBERALS REGAIN POWER IN NOVA SCOTIA

N.R.A. PROTECTS LABOR IN PLANS FOR RECOVERY

Automobile Leaders Ordered to Omit Open Shop Clause.

FAITH IN ROOSEVELT.

Holding Balance of Wages and Prices Complex Problem.

(By Ken Clark, C. P. Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(CP)—Operating under the National Industrial Recovery Act in the interests of the "new deal" and supported by powers reaching the bases of the economic structureof the country, President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States has adopted tactics well-tried in the history of Anglo-Saxon peoples. The criterion of the continued and continual activity at Washington in organisation of industry to spread employment and buying power is "does it work?" If it doesn't, Mr. Roosevelt has indicated something else will be tried.

The problem of rendering to the 130,000,000 people of the United States a degree of comfort and security to which they believe they are entitled by the wealth of the terrain they occupy, is rendered inconceivably complex both by the elaborateness of the economic structure they have set up and by the belief of every American that given a chance to match his wits against the next man he will become a millionaire.

To Think Collectively

To overcome the first difficulty General Johnson, administrator of the National Industrial Recovery Act has a staff of experts to assist him as well as the various departments of the government dealing with domestic economics. The administration is assisted in its attempt to make the average citizen think collectively rather than individually, by the facts of the situation—four years of depression, 12,000,000 unemployed, bread lines, municipal and state relief, bank closings and all the other attendant ills of an unhealthy economic state.

As an instance of the complexities facing the administration in the formulation of industrial codes under the N.R.A., some industrialists have objected to the recognition given under labor in the codes. The automobile people proposed a clause which read they "might" continue to favor the open shop policy. They were told to strike it out.

Wages and Prices.

Another example of the technical difficulties encounteree by the National Recovery Administration is the necessity of maintaining the balance between rising prices and wages. The success of the drive for a spread of markets and employment naturally hinges upon the nice adjustment between these matters. In New York a well-known chain of restaurants has raised its prices but has not so far increased the wages of its employees.

Behind this question of money.

REDS RUMORED ACTIVE IN CUBA

Handbills Claim Communists Will Seize Palace, Set Up Proletarian Head.

DRIVE SET FOR TO-DAY.

(By John P. McKnight).

HAVANA, Aug. 23 (A.P.)—Reports of further Communistic activities in Eastern Cuba were watched with increasing concern to-day by Government officials.

Almost daily since the downfall of the Machado regime demonstrations have occurred in Santiago, the capital of Oriente Province, and latest despatches told of addresses being made before large crowds by Communist leaders.

Speeches against the Provisional Government under President Carlos Manuel De Cespedes were made to groups, composed largely of working men. Strikers have held on most tenaciously in Oriente, and employers' fears of Communist influence among workers delayed until this week the solution of a harbor workers' walkout here.

Handbills said by police to be of Communist origin were distributed in Havana. They charged Dr. De Cespedes with "Imperialistic tendencies," and said Communists would march on the Presidential palace to-day and set up a "proletarian president."

Conquers Octopus

FLORENCE DOUGLASS

Here is a new photo of Florence Douglass, 17-year-old society girl, who engaged a giant octopus in an underwater battle at Monterey, Calif., so that her father, Leon F. Douglass, inventor and scientist of Menlo Park, Calif., could test an inverted periscope camera he designed to take movies of underwater scenes. The girl was uninjured, but emerged from the fight with marks of the fish's tenacles on her body.

GANDHI CEASES HIS DEATH FAST

Gives Up in Eighth Day After Unconditional Release From Jail.

IN WEAK CONDITION.

POONA, India, Aug. 23 (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi broke his fast, which was in its eight day, shortly after he had been unconditionally released from custody today by the Government.

Gandhi was very weak and it was believed his fast had resulted in minor complications in his physical condition. He betrayed no emotion but merely asked a friend to say prayers, in which he joined in a low voice.

Mrs. Gandhi, who had not been informed of her husband's release, met the ambulance which took him to the villa. She stepped within the vehicle and they had an affectionate reunion.

Speck In Queen's Eye Mars Visit To Leeds

LEEDS, England, Aug. 23 (C.P. Cable).—Queen Mary was caused considerable pain to-day when a piece of grit got in her eye while she was accompanying the King on a ceremonial visit here for the opening of the new civic hall.

The departure of Their Majesties was delayed for an hour while the Queen was attended by Lord Moynihan, of Leeds, president of the Royal College of Surgeons. Lotions were procured from the Leeds Infirmary and the offending grit was removed.

Seeking To Unionize Ford Company Plant

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 23.—(AP)—An attempt to unionize the Ford Motor Company plant at Edgewater was launched today with at least partial success indicated.

After some 300 of the 2,000 employees at the plant had listened to three American Federation of Labor organizers here last night, it was announced that about 75 per cent had signed union pledges.

One of the speakers, Charles Jennings of Jersey City, said that a number of open shop auto plants in Detroit are becoming unionized and that unions are recognized in Ford plants in foreign countries.

Liner Madison, 90 Aboard, Sends Out Calls for Help.

COAST GUARD ON WAY.

Communication Lines Down, and Damage Toll Mounts in 80 Mile Wind.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(A.P.)—Caught between a raging northeaster and a tropical hurricane blowing up from Bermuda, the Atlantic seaboard found no respite to-day from five days of storms and gales which already have wrought death and destruction over a wide area.

The coastal steamer Madison, with more than 90 persons aboard, sent out calls for help off Cape Charles, Va., shortly after 7 a.m., E.S.T. to-day.

Less than an hour later the coast guard cutter Carabasset reported itself on the way to give assistance.

Signals Weak.

Thirty-seven of the ship's complement were passengers. In its first SOS call the steamer reported its entire forward house had been carried away. Its radio signals were weak, indicating that it might be resorting to an auxilnary wireless below deck.

The Madison cleared from the port of New York for Norfolk, Va., yesterday.

The vessel is under command of Captain William Heath. Officials of the Eastern Steamship Lines, owners of the ship, said the only passenger list was on board.

The Madison has not been in the news in connection with any trouble at sea since 1917 when it was caught in the war-time submarine net stretched across the entrance to Hampton Roads, Va. A wrecking tug went to the rescue and divers finally released the Madison's propellor from the meshes of the wire gate.

A second SOS distress call was sent out by the coastal steamer Madison shortly before noon, E.S.T. to-day.

The message, picked up by Mackay Radio at 11.30 a.m., and by the United States Coastguard at 11.58 a.m., gave the position at 20 miles northeast of Chesapeake Lightship, off the coast of Virginia, and said: "Housing breaking."

The first distress signal at 7 o'clock this morning, which was followed by five hours of silence, said that the entire forward deckhouse had been washed away.

The Coastguard intercepted an answer to the second SOS from the S.S. Emilia, which did not give its position. The Emilia reported itself on the way to give assistance.

Reports from along the Eastern seaboard told of thousands of dollars' worth of damage by the hurricane and the possible loss of life.

80-Mile Gale

At Norfolk winds of 70 and 80 miles velocity, accompanied by heavy rain, marooned vacationists and flooded low-lying sections.

The North Carolina coast also was being pounded by mountainous waves and an unknown four-masted schooner wallowed helpless off the shoals near Maneto while Coastguard craft stood by unable to give any assistance.

New Jersey, which received the brunt of the storms of the past four days, continued to be buffeted, the 300-foot municipal pier at Cape May was washed away and telephone and electric lines were torn away.

The body of one of seven known victims of Sunday's storm washed up on the shore near Atlantic City.

New York missed the brunt of the gale for yesterday, but heavy rains continued.

Along the coast the heaviest rain for August in many years was reported.

VESSELS STAND BY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.— (A.P.)—A wireless message intercepted by the coast guard this afternoon said that two coast guard vessels, the Upshur and the Carabasset, were alongside the liner Madison, in distress off the Virginia Capes.

NO PRICE AGREEMENT.

LONDON, August 23 (CP. Cable)—With the committee it sent up on Monday still unable to reach an agreement on definition of a world price for wheat the World Wheat Conference to-day postponed its reassembling until to-morrow.

Close Friends

BUDAPEST, Aug. 23 (CP)—Joseph Vizkelety and Joseph Nyikus, farmers, were born on the same days, betrothed on the same day and married on the same day. Recently they died on the same day and were buried in a common grave. For almost all their 83 years they had been inseparable companions in the village of Sarny.

POWER CHARGES UNCHANGED FOR CITY THIS YEAR

Definite Statement From Hydro-Electric Commission Silences Rumor.

STREET LIGHT RATES.

Increase Proposed Two Years Ago May Be Made Effective.

No increase in electrical rates to consumers will be made this year by the Peterborough Utilities Commission, Gordon S. Matthews, chairman of the Commission, told The Examiner yesterday.

Putting an end to rumors that the Hydro Electric Power Commission had increased the rate charged to the local Utilities Commission for power supplied this year to Peterborough, as is the case in Oshawa and several cities of similar size, Mr. Matthews stated, "The Hydro has not increased our rates. They remain the same as last year."

Letter From Commission

Dealing with electrical rates, a letter from the Hydro Commission was shown The Examiner. The letter said, in part: "I am instructed to advise you that after investigating the operating conditions on your system during the year, the Commission has determined an interim rate of $32 per horsepower per year for power supplied to your municipality during the year commencing January 1, 1933." The interim rate of $32 per horsepower is the same as that charged Peterborough last year.

"Based on an analysis of the cost of operation of the various services in your municipality which has been made by the Commission, it is recommended that the following schedule of rate for power and lighting services be adopted, same to be made effective at the next billing period," the letter continued.

These new schedule of rates for domestic, commercial and power users are also unchanged from last year, Mr. Matthews explained.

Street Lighting

However, the Commission does recommend an increase in the rates for street lighting, which if put into effect will cost the city $3,000 more this year than the $19,532 paid for street lighting last year.

The rates are increased for each lamp, being graded as to size. The increases are: from $43.45 to $45 per 400 candle-power lamp; from $9 to $12 for each 60-watt lamp; from $10 to $13 for each 100-watt lamp; from $18 to $30 for each 300-watt lamp.

These increased rates for street lighting are the same as those recommended for Peterborough by the Hydro Commission two years ago, Mr. Matthews explained. When the new rates were first introduced two years ago, the Commission had been successful in having them held back for a year. Last year the City Council had interviewed the Commission, when it was again apparent that the new rates for street lighting would be put in effect, and had succeeded in having them again withheld.

"The Commission will probably do nothing about these increased rates for street lighting until the first of next year," Mr. Matthews said.

See Larger Deficit

"Although the Peterborough Utilities Commission had a deficit in 1932 and will probably have an even larger one this year, the Commission does not intend to increase rates during 1933," stated Mr. Matthews. "We believe that an even slight business recovery will give us sufficient revenue to balance up our receipts and expenditures."

BENNETT IS MUM

LODON, Eng.—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, who is chairman of the World Wheat Conference and expects to return to Canada shortly, was asked to-day if he cared to offer any comment on the defeat of the Conservative Government by the Liberals in Nova Scotia yesterday.

"No" was Mr. Bennett's brief reply.

Not a Lost Art

CHICAGO, August 23 (C.P.).—The Siebel Institute declares that 32 per cent. beer has not completely ousted home brewing—far from it. May taxes paid by malt syrup manufacturers totalled $624,000, or more than half as much as in the four previous months.

"Price and not taste preference accounts for its continuing popularity," said the Institute, referring to home brew. It blamed "exorbitant local taxes" on the legal brew dealers for keeping the home-brewers busy.

Port Perry Citizen Surprises Pair in Store and Gives Chase in Bare Feet.

STOLEN CAR FOUND.

PORT PERRY, Ont., Aug. 23.—(C.P.).—Caught in the act as they were carrying groceries from a store here early to-day, two men fled as Donald Anderson surprised them and fired his revolver.

After one shot was fired the weapon jammed, and Anderson, bare-footed, gave chase after the fleeing pair. After following them for several blocks he injured his foot on a stone and was forced to give up. The men escaped.

Outside the store, operated by T. J. Widden, a car, said to have been stolen in Toronto, was found partly filled with merchandise.

One of the men was believed to be injured by Anderson's bullet. Police started an intensive search for the pair.

Mystery Wounding Case Found Attempted Suicide

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., August 23 (C.P.). — Mystery to-day was removed from the wounding of Hendrick Oja, whose first name is Andrew Ayought, found lying unconscious on the railway tracks near the Provincial Air Service Camp at Mile 210 on the Algoma Central Railway.

Oja told Provincial Constable Gibson he had attempted to commit suicide by cutting off his hand with an axe. A blood-stained axe was found at the spot. The injured man was taken to hospital at Horne Payne.

W. J. Hughes found the man when he went to a spot where he believed he heard quarrelling in the Finnish language. Oja, according to his own story, laid his wrist over a stone and struck it with an axe in his other hand.

OAKWOOD MARSH FIRE CONTINUES MENACING AREA

Light Rain Helps Check Blaze But Fails to Extinguish It.

EATS WAY UNDERGROUND.

Farmers Plow Furrows Around Whole Swamp—May Burn Months.

LINDSAY, Ont., Aug. 23 (C.P.).—A light rain early to-day helped check, but not extinguish, creeping menace of a fire that has been burning for two days in dried muck of a large huckleberry marsh near Oakwood.

The fire has eaten its way some feet underground into the natural fuel the ground provides, and there is no known method of putting it out. Farmers have taken the precautionary method of plowing up long furrows to keep the fire within the limits of the marsh.

Started possibly by a cigarette dropped by a berry picker or by a neglected camp fire, the blaze quickly spread over the top of the marsh and ate its way down. Past experience has shown the only thing to do is to let the fire burn itself out, meanwhile seeing it does not spread to valuable farm property.

In 1888, it was recalled, 600 acres of the marsh were burned, and again in 1911 the whole marsh was swept by fire. It smouldered all through the winter, until extinguished by the spring thaw.

Lad Shot In Abdomen By Young Playmate

BARRIE, Ont., Aug. 23. (CP)—A bullet wound in the abdomen, inflicted by a young friend, to-day had brought the summer holidays to a close for Ralph Nicholson, 13, son of Rev. W. G. Nicholson.

The boy was rushed first to Barrie Hospital and then to Wellesley Hospital, Toronto, where early to-day his condition was reported as good.

Relatives were reluctant to discuss the shooting which occurred on Monday at the Nicholson summer home and was reported to Provincial Police last night. It was learned the boys were some distance apart and that in some manner the other boy, eight years of age, who was handling the rifle, caused it to discharge, the bullet entering Ralph's stomach.

Penalties Imposed In Traffic Charges

In traffic court to-day, John Thompson, this city, was fined $10 and $4.50 costs for using markers on a truck other than that for which they were issued. Charged with speeding at 65 miles per hour, Arthur E. McGill, of Toronto, was fined $15 and $3.75 costs. For cutting off another car on the road, Robert Anderson, of Toronto, was fined $7.50 and $3.75 costs. Charged with speeding, William C. Mitchell, of Toronto, was fined $7.50 and $3.75 costs.

LIBERALS ELECT 22 MEMBERS CONSERVATIVES 8 IN UPSET OF HARRINGTON GOVERNMENT

Only Three Cabinet Ministers Survive Tuesday's Decision of Nova Scotia Electors—Tories in Power Since 1925—Angus L. Macdonald New Liberal Premier, Youngest in Canada.

THIRD PARTY CANDIDATES IGNORED
RADICAL GROUPS FAIL AT THE POLLS

HALIFAX, August 23 (C.P.). — A rousing, old-fashioned Liberal victory was recorded in Nova Scotia to-day and Angus L. Macdonald was hailed as Canada's youngest Provincial Premier.

The 43-year-old former law professor was commanding 22 seats of the Legislative Assembly's 30, as a result of yesterday's elections, and Premier Gordon Harrington's defeated Government forces had eight.

Last night the Conservatives were given only eight seats, but Victoria was added to-day when it was reported that F. W. Casey Baldwin, Conservative, had defeated the veteran Liberal member, D. B. McLeod by 175 votes.

The Liberal majority was increased to 14 today when the returning officer for Cape Breton East announced the election of L. D. Currie, Liberal, over D. R. Cameron, Conservative, by a slim margin of four votes.

Premier's Own Victory.

Mr. Macdonald won a personal victory in the constituency of Halifax South, where he defeated Hon. G. H. Murphy M.D., Minister of Health in the Harrington Government, by a majority of 615, with totals of 4,945 to 4,330.

Premier Harrington, after a brisk three-cornered fight in Cape Breton South, received a majority of 170 over M. A. Patterson, the Liberal candidate, 4,775 to 4,605. D. McKay, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation candidate, received only 1,437 votes.

The only other successful Cabinet Ministers were Hon. P. C. Black, Minister of Highways, and Hon. Joseph MacDonald, without portfolio.

Defeated Cabinet Ministers are: Hon. O. P. Goucher, Agriculture, in Annapolis; Hon. John Doull, Attorney-General, in Pictou; Hon. J. Fred Fraser, Provincial Secretary, in Halifax East; and Hon. Albert Parsons, in Hants.

Mr. Parsons, a Minister Without Portfolio, was defeated by A. S. MacMillan, opposition House leader, during the last two sessions of the assembly.

Some Close Battles

While the Liberals had substantial majorities in some constituencies, there were several close battles. In Halifax East, Hon. J.

Rev. C. E. Coughlin At Bank Enquiry

DETROIT, Aug. 23 (A.P.).—In the presence of a crowd which jammed the court room and overflowed into corridors, Father Charles E. Coughlin, critic of Detroit banking, began his testimony to-day before the one-man grand jury investigating bank closings here.

The Canadian-born priest indicated he intended to discuss economic and financial systems from a philosophical standpoint before reaching the situation in Detroit, which precipitated the Michigan and National Bank crisis.

"I have brought with me," he said, "a whole portfolio of photostatic copies to back up every statement I make."

"As much as I sympathize with the depositors," he said, "I also sympathize with the stockholders who were inveigled into purchasing dropsical stock by these highbinders."

Declaring that "the banks were wrecked before Roosevelt took office," Father Coughlin exclaimed, "They were wrecked by the philosophy that money in the hands of the masses was a menace. These white-carnation bankers and stock market gamblers were not to blame. They had been brought up in the school of Ricardo and John Stuart Mill, and more latterly Mr. Herbert Hoover."

PHILPOTT HERE IN SEPTEMBER

Will Speak Under Auspices of Peterboro C.C.F. Club.

TUESDAY'S MEETING.

Last night's regular meeting of the Peterborough C.C.F. club held in the Bell block, President Joseph Bell presiding. In introducing the speaker of the night, Mr. R. McCulloch, the president expressed his appreciation for the way members were turning out to these meetings and was very optimistic in the club's future success, announcing that Captain Elmore Philpott would be paying them a visit in the near future, probably Sept. 19.

Mr. McCulloch in addressing the audience confined his remarks to the fourteen point of the C.C.F. manifesto, principally on the socialization of all industry in which he compared the benefits the worker had on the other side of the line under President Roosevelt's National Industrial Recovery Act with that of the worker here in Canada under the old party system.

Several speakers from the body of the hall voiced their approval of the way Christianity was being preached and practised in the ranks of the C.C.F. movement. Alex Murray enlarged on the speaker's address on the old age question and socialization of health services.

Singing of the National Anthem brought to a close an enthusiastic and well attended meeting.

Query Government Re Taxes On Homes

STRATFORD, Ont., Aug. 23.—(CP)—A deputation will be named by the Stratford city council to wait on the Ontario Minister of Labor and the secretary unemployment committee to discuss the matter of tax arrears of home owners for the next fiscal year if was decided at a meeting of council Tuesday.

At present the council will take no action towards payment of taxes of home owners on relief under the homeowners' relief legislation, it was agreed. Some consideration was given the possibility of having relief legislation extended to persons not on relief as well as to those who are.

YOUNG PREMIER OF NOVA SCOTIA A WAR VETERAN

Enlisted With Cape Breton Highlanders on Graduating From University.

BORN IN INVERNESS.

Angus L. Macdonald Has Distinguished Himself as Lawyer.

HALIFAX, Aug. 23 (C.P.).—Nova Scotia's electorate heralded the returned of a Liberal Government to office to-day, and Angus L. MacDonald stepped into Premiership. The 43-year-old leader of the Liberal forces was making his first bid for election to the Provincial Legislature when he entered the fight in Halifax South as his party's candidate for the Premiership.

His only previous venture into active politics had taken place in 1930 when he contested his home county of Inverness in the Federal election of that year. Although defeated by his Conservative opponent, Mr. MacDonald was named head of the Provincial Liberal Party almost immediately.

Led Group From Gallery.

A life-long study of political, economic and social conditions had fitted him for the job in hand. He immediately assumed direction of the party's fight for power, directing the Liberal Opposition from the gallery of the Legislature in the last three sessions in conducting an intensive speaking tour in behalf of his "Nova Scotia first" platform.

Through the final stages of the contest, he was in the thick of the fight. Although he sought election in Halifax South, he spent much of this time in other parts of the province, campaigning vigorously and, as he often repeated, with confidence in the election's outcome.

Enlisted as Lieutenant

The new Premier was born near Inverness and was educated in the public schools of that town, and at Port Hood Academy. He taught school for several years before entering St. Francis Xavier University. War broke out as he graduated, and he went to France as a lieutenant when the 185th Cape Breton Highlanders were broken up in England. He had advanced to a captaincy when severe wounds put him out of the fight just before the armistice.

On returning to Nova Scotia, he entered Dalhousie Law School, and graduated with a doctorate of Laws in 1921. He returned to the university three years later as professor. He made special studies in law at Columbia and Harvard Universities. In 1929 Harvard conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of the Science of Jurisprudence—a degree held by only four Canadians.

ITALIAN BONDS STOLEN ON SHIP

Two Arrested Charged With Rifling Pouch of $131,000 Worth.

ABOARD LEVIATHAN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23 (AP)—United States authorities revealed last night that two men are under arrest here charged with rifling a registered mail pouch on the steamer Leviathan several months ago. The pouch was reported to have contained $131,000 in Italian Government bonds.

The men were arrested in Kansas City and gave their names as James Mitchell and Al Harris. Postal inspectors refused to reveal details of the case on the grounds it might make apprehension of other suspects more difficult.

The bonds, reportedly consigned to the Italian Government were reported missed when the Leviathan was in mid-Atlantic on one of its trips from New York to Paris. Whether other valuable mail was taken was not disclosed.

Kansas City police were reported to have arrested the men on secret orders from the postal department here.

TWO OFFICERS TRADE WIVES

Unique Marital Situation Sets Kansas Military Circles Buzzing.

GET DIVORCES TOGETHER.

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Aug. 23. — Military social circles buzzed last night as sophisticated West Pointers and their wives discussed the strange marital situation in which two officers legally exchanged wives.

"It is perfectly natural for a man to fall in love with another man's wife," said Captain William B. Bradford who traded his blonde wife for the brunette spouse of Major Stuart G. MacDonald. "It's just as natural," the captain continued, "for a woman to fall in love with another woman's husband."

Last night the Bradfords were back in Leavenworth and the MacDonalds were in Berwin, Pa., where Major MacDonald is stationed at a civilian conservation corps camp.

Mrs. Bradford, whom the post formerly knew as Mrs. MacDonald, smilingly declined to pose for photographers and eluded interviewers by saying, "Captain Bradford can do the talking."

Nothing to Say

But the captain didnt want to talk about the unique romance revealed in despatches from Bentonville, Ark., where Mrs. Bradford and Mrs. MacDonald divorced their husbands and were remarried, each to the other's former mate.

Friends recalled that the wives went together to Bentonville, for a "vacation," and hired the same attorney to obtain divorces for them. They used the same grounds, incompatibility.

After the divorces were granted the women were joined by the men. Together they went to the license bureau and later to the office of Justice of the Peace Frank Floyd who formally sealed the exchange by marrying the major to the blonde Mrs. Bradford and Captain Bradford to the brunette Mrs. MacDonald.

O'DUFFY'S GUARD STANDS BANNED IN FREE STATE

Dublin Sets Up Military Court to Enforce Public Safety Act.

DEATH FOR BLUE SHIRTS.

"People of Ireland Will Judge" is Comment of General—100,000 in Army.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Aug. 23.—The Irish Free State Government last night banned the Blue Shirt National Guard organization of General Eoin O'Duffy by proclamation, and set up a military tribunal to operate under the Public Safety Act.

This action was in line with predictions which followed a number of parades throughout the Saorstat last Sunday, when President de Valera declared that demonstrations by uniformed men would be followed by an outlawing proclamation.

The military tribunal has Colonel Francis Bennett as President, and a personnel the same as when it operated during the administration of former President William T. Cosgrave.

O'Duffy, who had declared previously that the National Guard "will neither dissolve nor allow itself to be driven underground" said, when informed of the proclamation: "I have nothing to say, except that the National Guard awaits the verdict of the people."

Members of the National Guard will be liable to arraignment before the tribunal unless they resign. The tribunal may pass any sentence, including death.

P. J. Rutlege, Minister of Justice, referring in the Senate last night to the circumstances which led to the ban against the Blue Shirts, said the Government had information that the group was a heavily armed force and that it was importing arms into the Free State.

The Blue Shirt National Guard of General O'Duffy, dismissed recently as Commissioner of the Free State police, has claimed that its members number 100,000.

FIVE ALBERTANS DIE AT CROSSING

Woman, 2 Children and Her 2 Sisters Hit by Speeding Mail Train.

ON WAY TO CHICAGO FAIR.

CHESTERTON, Ind., Aug. 23 (CP)—A mail train speeding at 75 miles an hour brought death yesterday to a holidaying party of three Alberta women and two children.

The train struck the automobile of the vacation party at a crossing two miles west of here, scattering wreckage far along the track.

The victims were identified as: Mrs. A. F. Catharine Mary Masson of Ponoka.

Marie and Kenneth Masson, respectively the 10 and 8-year-old children of Mrs. Masson.

Miss Christina MacDonald of Winnifred, Alta., and Miss Mary MacDonald of Magrath, Alta., sisters of Mrs. Masson.

Investigators said the light sedan apparently had halted near the crossing as a freight train went by. The Flying Mail train of the New York Central Railroad, running on another track at the crossing, was not noticed as the driver of the auto started the car moving across the track.

The party was believed to be en route from the Alberta homes to the Chicago World's Fair.

Identification was made through papers found in the purses of the women. A school teaching contract found in the purse of Christina MacDonald had been issued at Ponoka. Another, issued at Edson, Alta., was found in Mary MacDonald's purse.

LIBERALS ELECT 22 MEMBERS

Fred Fraser and Geoffrey Stevens ran together until the last few polls when Stevens pulled ahead.

Lindsay Gardner had the greatest majority, 2,163, over A. L. Chipman, Conservative, in Yarmouth.

Third party candidates were never in the running. James B. McLachlan, stormy Cape Breton radical, was considered the only one of the six who might save his deposit. McLachlan and two other candidates represented the United Front party. There were two Co-operative Commonwealth Federation candidates and one Labor.

"Personally I am quite satisfied," said Premier Harrington when the results were known. "I shall resign as soon as Mr. Macdonald can form his Government. Already I feel 10 years younger."

Macdonald's Statement.

Mr. Macdonald hailed the return of the Liberals to power as "a triumph for responsible government." He said he expected to take a brief rest before assuming his new duties. He hoped to form his Cabinet "within the accustomed time—possibly three weeks."

When the Cabinet is formed the Liberal Party will control the affairs of the Province for the first time since 1925, when they were swept from the office they had held continuously for 43 years.

The vote then was 40 Conservatives to 3 Liberals. In 1929 Hon. E. N. Rhodes, then Premier, led the Government forces to the country and had his majority whittled to three members. The number of seats in the Assembly was reduced from 43 to 38 in 1929, and later to 30, although the actual reduction could not be made until yesterday's election. The standing of parties in the House at dissolution was 20 Conservatives to 16 Liberals.

SEE RED ACTION IN MANCHURIA

Chinese Claim Russians Will Not Stand Back and Take Present Situation..

URGE QUICK SETTLEMENT.

BANFF, Alta., Aug. 23 (CP) — Russia was mentioned as a party in the Manchurian dispute between China and Japan, as viewpoints of delegates on the Far Eastern situation were expressed at the fifth biennial convention of the Institute of Pacific Relations here.

A Chinese member, in the discussions yesterday, suggested the trouble in Manchuria was not alone a conflict between his country and Japan. He was certain Russia would not stand by and accept the present situation. It was merely a matter of time before Russia would take action.

For this reason the Chinese member urged a settlement should be brought about by peaceful means, and he believed this would be possible if Chinese and Japanese would attempt a greater understanding of their respective problems. Only a mere start had been made in this direction, he contended.

The Chinese member also challenged Japan's ability to develop Manchuria. The pressure of Chinese population would be too great in Manchuria. He urged every step possible to effect a peaceful settlement.

Manchuria as a buffer state between China, Russia and Japan is what the majority of the Japanese people would hope for, according to one spokesman. There is no thought of annexation.

Chinese spokesmen stated there was no hope of political integration in China until the Manchurian question had been settled. The matter, therefore, should be discussed before any other object.

TOURISTS' VISIT ENDS IN DEATH

Aged Insurance Agent Dies Instantly as Car Skids Into Ditch.

THREE OTHERS HURT.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Aug. 23 (CP)—A holiday jaunt into Canada ended in death for a Shinglehouse, Pa., family. When their motor car skidded on the slippery highway near Princeton last night, Walter T. Palmer, 72-year-old insurance agent, was killed almost instantly, while his wife and son, Walter T., Jr., suffered injuries which necessitated their removal to hospital.

The fourth member of the party, Mrs. Palmer, Jr., received a slight cut on the wrist and was treated at hospital for shock.

Mr. Palmer, Sr., suffered a compound fracture of the skull. His wife received a broken nose and a bad cut over the left eye. The son was badly cut about the face and lost three teeth.

The automobile, driven by the younger Palmer, after it left the road, tore along the ditch for 100 feet, struck a Hydro pole and turned turtle, coming to a stop upside down.

An inquest will be held at a date to be decided upon.

"A box of Muffets is a sound investment. It yields big dividends in nourishment and health. And its low cost means real saving."

"Muffets bane one swell breakfast. No cooking—yoost serve them from the box. Ya—Mr. Yonson, Mrs. Yonson, and all the Yonson's love Muffets."

"Muffets are an odds-on favourite with me. They give me the drive I need for a tough finish. Yet they let me keep down my weight."

A new improved "WHEAT RIBBON"

Muffets are ribbons of all-Canadian whole wheat . . . wound round and round . . . then toasted to a rich-flavoured crispness. A new process has made possible these new improved wheat ribbons that crumble easily . . . break readily.

An extra Muffets feature

Muffets are the only whole wheat biscuits irradiated for Sunshine Vitamin "D" (Parent No. 291,138). Sufficient quantities of this vitamin are essential to health. Ask your doctor.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Some stains are sure to get on linens during the ripe fruit season which we are now having here in Peterborough.

• • • • • • •

Fortunately most of them can be removed although certain fruit stains are stubborn. The essential thing to remember is that the stains should be treated immediately.

• • • • • • •

If boiling water, or even very warm water is poured through them while they are still damp, the coloring matter becomes so weakened by the stream of water that it eventually goes entirely.

• • • • • • •

It is the coloring agent in fruits which makes the stains, and, as we all know, the composition of some colors is more indelible than others. Hence the difficulty of taking out some fruit stains while others are easily removed.

• • • • • •

The homemaker can scarcely leave the table to remove stains from napery before they get dry, unless those at the table are of the home circle. Even then she is not likely to interrupt the meal to do this for any but very bad stains, or those which come on costly linens.

• • • • • •

So the stains are generally dry before they are treated, but they are so fresh, if she tends to them immediately, that the spots come out almost as readily as if treated when damp.

• • • • • •

The force with which water runs through stains aids in their removal. So pour the boiling or hot water from a height through the spot. Do not have any other part of the cloth under the spot through which the water is poured.

• • • • • •

This would mean that the coloring matter would pass through a spotless part of the textile as it went through the stain, and thus make a secondary spot of lighter hue beneath.

• • • • • •

In fastening the stained portion over a bowl, so that one thickness only will be treated, be sure that the container is large enough to hold the water poured into it through the textile.

• • • • • •

It is annoying to keep adjusting the material over the bowl and constantly rewinding the tying string about it and the bowl, as will be needed, if the bowl is small.

• • • • • •

It is advisable to treat fruit stains with clear water only, without soap. There is apt to be a chemical reaction when soap is used. The alkali in it frequently changes the tone of the stain from red to green or blue, and sometimes almost black, and then the stain is doubly difficult to take out.

• • • • • •

After treating the stained napery to the boiling water from a height, hang the article in the sun for its rays to bleach the spotted place. In the hot water treatments given above, white linen or cotton goods only are included.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

OF ALL the erroneous ideas about the development of the baby, more are centered around the eruption of teeth than any other one part of the subject.

Dr. Clendenina

It is NOT true, for instance, that teething is very hard on the baby. It would be a great deal harder on the baby for the rest of its life if it did not teeth.

It is NOT true that teething is a particularly dangerous time, or that the baby is liable to be sick all through the teething period. If that were true the baby would be sick a long time, for the teething period lasts from the age of six months to two and a half years.

It is NOT true that the eruption of a tooth is apt to be accompanied by fever. It is even a very dangerous doctrine to hold, for the mother is likely to be satisfied with that explanation when the baby is sick and a really serious disease be overlooked. I remember once being in consultation with a very famous doctor who made that diagnosis on our infant patient and proceeded to cut through the gums to relieve the condition. As the baby still had a fever the next day we carried our investigations further and found that there was an infection of the pelvis of the kidney—pyelitis—which accounted for the fever.

Nor does summer heat bring any more serious aspect to teething than winter. Since the first teeth come in at six months, nearly every baby has some of its teething during the first summer.

The two lower central teeth are the first to appear. If they are a little later than six months it is no cause for alarm. Sometimes they do not appear until the ninth month. At the end of the first year most babies have four teeth below and two above. An old rule to calculate how many teeth a baby should have is to subtract six from the baby's age in months.

When the teeth are actually breaking through the top of the gums there may be a day or two of discomfort and baby may be cross and irritable. Also there may be a loss of appetite. Under such circumstances it is wise not to try to force it to eat.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

M. E. D.: "(1) In the case of thickening of the gall, is there anything that will thin it that will not also cause physicing the bowel? (2) I have heard that asparagus was bad for the liver and kidneys. Is this true?"

Answer: (1) Nothing will thin the bile, but fats have a tendency to drain the gall bladder and thus get rid of the thick gall. (2) No.

Mrs. L. E. D.: "What can I use to remove hairs from my upper lip?"

Answer: The best treatment is by an electric needle. In some cases the X-ray is effective.

F. D. A.: "What is a good diet for stomach acidity, gas on the stomach and heart burn?"

Answer: It depends on the cause. In simple increased acidity of the stomach the diet generally advised is that which avoids the three S's: sweet, sour and spiced. White bread and many vegetables, such as tomatoes, are also troublesome. Any starchy foods, such as pancakes, soggy desserts, cause discomfort. Toasted bread or bread crusts or stale bread, however, are well tolerated. Lean broiled meat, vegetable purees, milk and cream, sea food, and fats are also acceptable. Often the diet should be supplemented by the use of alkalis such as sodium bicarbonate (baking soda) and milk of magnesia.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

A MAN IN Singapore, who has been married fourteen times, claims that all fourteen of his wives were very beautiful. This male Peggy Joyce also says, however, that if you don't give a beautiful woman the world with a fence around it, she gives you the gate. And so he's determined never to choose any except a homely spouse in the future.

Personally, I don't believe him for a moment. For beauty has a way with it. The mere fact that he himself fell for the wiles of fourteen lovely women is proof enough that beauty does count for something. And history gives us many examples of women who actually ruled empires, because of their alluring loveliness.

Most women of the past, however, who became famous because of their flawless beauty, were careful never to permit themselves to be seen by their admirers, unless they were at their best. And that's something that the modern Miss sometimes forgets—especially when at the beach.

It certainly must be somewhat disillusioning to a man to have his best gal emerge from the water after a swim looking like a colorless, mascara-streaked replica of her former self. The average male likes to feel that at least a part of his gal's delicate coloring is Nature's handiwork. And he can keep this illusion, too, if a girl uses the proper sort of make-up before she goes swimming.

If you intend going swimming, and wish to make your face up to withstand the water, try using a paste rouge. Paste rouge tends to shed water, and is therefore quite waterproof. First aply this type of rouge to your cheeks, and tint your lips with a permanent lipstick. Then aply a powder base. Not a very greasy one, but the sort that comes in cake form. This makes powder more adherent than usual. Next, apply a waterproof mascara to your lashes, and brush a bit of cream, mascara over it. If the cream mascara is applied sparingly, it will not smudge, yet will tend to shed the water.

Eyeshadow is not essential in bright sunlight, but if you must have it, use it sparingly, and pat a bit of powder over it so that it won't run. Then apply a coating of loose powder over your entire face. This sort of a make-up, if properly applied, will leave you looking quite presentable after a vigorous swim in the briny.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Gray Hair

H.M.: If you can't afford to have your hair dyed by an expert, you can try using sage tea. Make a rather strong solution of the tea and brush it through your hair after the hair has been shampooed and dried.

Teeth

Gloria and Georgina: If you have the tartarous and calcareous matter removed from your teeth by a good dentist, proper cleansing with a reliable dentifrice will keep them white and sparkling.

MENU HINTS

Spanish Stew — Boiled Potatoes
Sliced Cucumbers With French Dressing
Cantaloupe Sundae — Iced Coffee

This simple and economical main dish meal is topped off with a fancy dessert. But does said dessert taste good for hot weather?

To-day's Recipes

Spanish Stew—Cut one pound of neck of lamb in small cubes, roll in flour and brown in drippings. Add one chopped onion, three tomatoes, three green peppers, chopped, and one tablespoon sugar. Saute for 10 minutes, turning often with spatula. Then add four cups hot water, salt to taste, one-fourth cup uncooked rice and pepper to taste.

Cantaloupe Sundae — One-half tablespoon gelatin, two tablespoons cold milk, two tablespoons finely-cut candied ginger, one-half cup scalded milk, one-third cup cream, whipped; three cantaloupe halves. Soften gelatin in cold milk. Stir with ginger into scalded milk. Chill until the mixture starts to thicken, then fold in whipped cream. Turn into molds and chill until firm. In serving fill center of cantaloupe halves with the ginger cream. This recipe serves three.

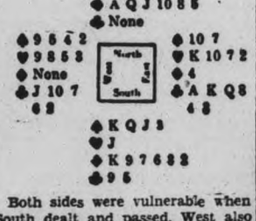
CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

SMART CONTRACTING

FEW PLAYERS in this country have played contract for more than five or six years, and even the best of them are in most cases woefully uninformed concerning bidding grand slams with safety. It happened by a lucky incident that I have been teaching contract nine years, and that my instructors were skilled slam bidders. There are many ways of bidding grand slams without risk, one of which is shown in the bidding of the hand given to day.



Both sides were vulnerable when South dealt and passed. West also passed. North made an opening bid of 1-Diamond. Of course East overcalled with 2-Clubs. As South would expect to be ruffed as declarer his support of diamonds appeared better than showing his short spades, so South bid 2-diamonds. West passed, but North saw an almost certain game, with slam possibilities, so he gave the slam signal, by bidding 3-Clubs, showing no losers in opponent's suit, and requesting feature showing, although he knew that this partner held no Ace, unless it was in clubs. Some players bid opponent's suit to show the first trick winner, but better posted bidders know that practice is dangerous. This bid always should mean entire absence of losers in opponent's suit.

East passed. He dared not put in a nuisance bid of 4-Clubs, lest he be doubled and heavily penalized. South was wise in the ways of bidding slams without risk. He bid 4-Clubs. This was meaningless except as a means of keeping open the bidding, to show that he really wanted to hear partner's details, and that South also thought that a slam loomed large. It was a perfect response to North's slam signal.

North bid 4-Spades, to show his Ace. Of course South now saw no losers in an suit except possibly hearts. He had to know whether his partner held the Ace of hearts before deciding what the final bid should be. South knew that a response of 5-Diamonds would in all probability cause his partner to end contracting with 6-Diamonds. A response of 5-Spades would scare North from showing his Ace of hearts, if he held it, as he would force South to bid 7-Diamonds, whether or not he wanted to do so. South bid 5-Clubs, asking further information. North bid 5-Hearts, which enabled South to bid 7-Diamonds, knowing now that a grand slam could not be missed except through a ruff of the opening lead. Of course the contract was fulfilled.

Facts And Fancies

Parker House Rolls

Two cups hot milk, two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons sugar, one teaspoon salt, two eggs, well beaten, one cake compressed yeast, flour enough to stiffen. Pour the milk in mixing bowl. Add the fat, sugar, salt. Stir to mix. Let cool. Mix all together with three cups of flour. Beat well. Then add sufficient flour to make a dough. Let rise until light. Roll out with rolling pin to three-fourths inch thickness. Butter half, make a dent in middle, turn over, let rise until light. Cut into individual rolls. Bake at 425 degrees, 20 minutes.

Goodies

Marlow cream goodies can be made very easily by children. Toast marshmallows on sticks and heat sweet chocolate until soft. Place both between graham crackers, press together sandwich fashion. Good for picnics.

"Summer Complaint"
A THREAT TO EVERY BABY

Even an ordinary attack of "summer complaint" weakens and pulls a baby down, while a severe, prolonged attack is dangerous. To guard your precious baby against this menace, make doubly sure that the milk is fresh, pure and sweet; try to prevent baby getting overheated or chilled; see that the bowels, liver and kidneys are working properly.

At the first sign of coated tongue, bad breath, fretfulness, loss of appetite, give your child BABY'S OWN TABLETS, a skilled physician's special prescription for babies and children. These Tablets stimulate the child's liver, cleanse the kidneys and move the bowels and, if taken in time, are a preventive of summer complaint.

If "summer complaint" develops despite your precautions, there is all the more need of BABY'S OWN TABLETS. When Mrs. Hazel Allard's baby, of Whitby, was so bad that they despaired of saving her, Dr. Wilhams' BABY'S OWN TABLETS were tried. "After the third dose baby fell asleep; by noon the next day she took the usual bottle feeding"—so writes this grateful mother, who is only one of countless others who have found BABY'S OWN TABLETS invaluable for summer complaint, teething troubles, simple fever, colic, upset stomach and children's intestinal disorders.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS are as easy to take as candy and are absolutely SAFE—see analyst's certificate in each 25-cent package. Over one and a quarter million packages sold in one year. Don't be without a package on hand in the summer or any other time.

CHEAP ORIENTAL LABOR PACIFIC COAST PROBLEM

BANFF, Alta., Aug. 23. (CP)—Labor's vital interest in proceedings of the conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations here was voiced by Percy R. Bengough, Vancouver vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, who arrived to-day to attend the sessions.

"In some parts of Canada, particularly on the Pacific Coast" said Mr. Bengough, "the workers are face to face with the problem of cheap Oriental labor as well as with competition from their products."

Japanese in Vancouver, he said, were anxious to raise their standard of living and it had been found an easy task to organize them along trade union lines. Chinese, however, did not take so rapidly to such organization.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 23, 1933

THE NOVA SCOTIA RESULT.

The decisive nature of the defeat of the Conservative Government of Premier Harrington yesterday at the hands of the Liberal party, under its new leader, Angus L. MacDonald, was a surprise, even making allowances for the historic fact that most governments that have to face an electorate during a period of economic distress fare ill.

On the whole the Harrington administration had a good record and in the campaign its leader confidently made his appeal for endorsation on the achievements of his party in office.

The answer has been a definite refusal, for according to the returns at hand when this was written only half a dozen Government members have been returned out of a House of 30 members, and while Premier Harrington won a personal triumph in his own constituency, his colleagues in the cabinet had to accept defeat.

It is worthy of note that in the sixteen previous elections in Nova Scotia since Confederation the Liberal party was winner on thirteen occasions.

The Conservatives had been in opposition many years when they finally won a complete triumph in 1925 under the leadership of Hon. E. N. Rhodes, now Minister of Finance, and carried 40 out of the 43 seats.

Three years later, however, when he again appealed to the country, the Government majority was almost eliminated, Mr. Rhodes attaining power by only three seats.

Yesterday's election was the first to be fought under the reduced Legislature plan, there being only 30 seats as compared to 43 in the last House.

There is every reason to believe that the crushing defeat of the Conservative Government in Nova Scotia will make it certain that Premier Henry will defer his appeal to the people of Ontario until next year.

Certainly the figures from the Maritime province give the administration in Ontario no ground for confidence.

People have a habit of voting for a new deal when economic conditions are bad, as the verdict in Nova Scotia undoubtedly proves.
